Port Arthur, May 16.—There has been a story going the rounds of the eastern papers, which has gained some credence in England, that a party of 24 Englishmen from Ipswich had been refused work in Port Arthur entirely on the ground that they were Englishmen. It is true that a party of men came to Port Arthur from England under promise of work on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but on arrival it was found that they were not capable of doing the work the company wanted them to do, which was rock work, under contract to Foley Bros. & Larsen. The matter was taken up by Immigration Agent Burriss, and work was found for every one of the 24 men. Representatives of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and of Foley Bros. & Larsen both emphatically deny that the men were refused work because they were Englishmen, or that they were refused work at all, and say that they would have been given work as common laborers, but they preferred to remain as such in Port Arthur.

Arnold said he believed it was a deadly sin to play baseball on Sunday.

WAS INJURED IN TORONTO

Mr. John R. Laing Was Caught in Machinery of an Engine

A former Peterborough man, who has many relatives here, Mr. John R. Laing, met with a serious accident in Toronto yesterday and is laid up at his home in that city as a result. Mr. Laing has been employed as assistant engineer at the Mercer reformatory, and was engaged in his duties around the engine when the mishap occurred. He was standing on a step ladder, putting a belt on a wheel when the ladder slipped and Mr. Laing was caught in the machinery. He had his left arm badly lacerated and several of his ribs broken. It is feared that one of the ribs may have pierced the lungs, but complete details of the accident have not yet been received here. However, the assurance has been received that Mr. Laing's injuries will not prove fatal.

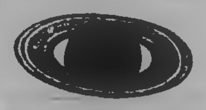
The Universe; How Big is it?

Rev. Dr. Marsh Will Discuss This Subject To-morrow Night

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society, Friday evening in the Y.M.C.A. Hall the president of the local section, Dr. Marsh will deal with a most interesting subject, "The Universe; how big is it?" The topic is suggestive of its importance to every student of astronomy, and every member of the society is urgently requested to attend.

To deal with such a subject scientifically, means that no guess work is permissable, and only proven facts may be presented. Modern astronomy, through careful observation, with the assistance of marvellously accurate instruments, has placed the subject on a scientific basis.



THE PLANET SATURN
Showing Its Wonderful "Rings"

Dr. Marsh for many years has made a special study of this feature of astronomy and he is recognized as an authority on the subject. He has taken special care in the preparation of this lecture so as to present the matter in a form, ready grasped by the most amateur.

The executive of the society are very anxious that every member shall attend this meeting, owing to the importance of the topic, as it embraces somewhat of a summary of the entire study of astronomy.

This meeting will be open to the public and all who are interested in this study are cordially invited.

Timbers in Bridge Gave Way And Rail Was Badly Bent

Peculiar Accident When G. T. R. Train for Lakefield Was Crossing Bridge Over Creek Between Brock and Murray Streets—Might Have Been Serious.

Two or three broken timbers, a badly bent rail and a part of the bridge alongside the twisted steel, torn and slivered—these are the after effects of an incident which might have proved a serious wreck on the Grand Trunk at noon today. The mixed train, which pulls out for Lakefield at 12.20, nearly broke through the bridge which spans the creek on Bethune street, between Brock and Murray streets, and it was indeed fortunate that the result was not more serious. The train consisted of about ten cars. There was a baggage car, two express coaches, two or three box cars, and four or five coal cars, heavily loaded. The coal cars were in the rear of the train and each one contained about 25 tons of coal. When passing over the bridge the second last car broke through. The supports under the rail on the east side broke, and the weight of the car bent the rail down as if it were a small piece of steel. About twelve feet of the rail was affected, and it was bent over a foot out of line when the train was passing over. After the cars had passed by it remained about six inches out of line. The underwork of the bridge is constructed of timbers about six inches square. Two of these broke under the weight of the coal cars and allowed the rail to drop. The timbers have been in the bridge for several years and are rotted to a considerable extent.

The rail dropped to such an extent that the bottom of the last car dragged on the bridge and put deep scratches in the planking. It was lucky that the car that went through was near the rear of the train or it would likely have jumped the track. The train was travelling at a fair rate of speed at the time.

It is likely that extensive repairs will be made to the bridge as a result of today's accident. It is not improbable that a new bridge will be built as apparently, the present structure is none too strong.

With One Exception Policy Of Government is Endorsed

Resolution Passed at Annual Temperance Meeting of Charlotte Street Church—Strict Enforcement of License Law is Very Gratifying.

Resolved.—That we express our appreciation and hearty approval of the Government's policy of strict enforcement of License and Local Option Laws, and

That we commend the policy of no issue of licenses where Local Option Bylaws have been quashed on technicalties.

That we heartily endorse the intimation of Premier Whitney that legislation be enacted preventing the quashing of local option bylaws on trivial technicalties, and that the expressed will of the people be maintained.

Resolved. — That effective law enforcement removes all necessity for a three-fifths majority, and that we respectfully urge our representative, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, to assist the Government in every way possible in the removal of this objectionable and unnecessary clause.

The above resolution was unanimously passed at the annual temperance meeting of the Charlotte street Methodist church last night. It will be seen that the policy of the Whitney Government regarding the regulation of the liquor traffic, is strongly endorsed, with the exception of the three-fifths clause in connection with local option bylaws.

The resolution was brought in by Mr. A. B. Cunningham, chairman of the Temperance Committee, and it was passed unanimously. Mr. A. Brown is secretary of the committee.

Despite the unfavorable weather there was a large number in attendance and much enthusiasm for the temperance cause prevailed.

Mr. Cunningham gave an address enlarging on the different clauses of the resolution which had been presented, and commended the policy of the Government, with the exception of the three-fifths clause. "The Government and the Temperance Question," was Mr. Cunningham's subject.

Mr. A. Armstrong denounced the liquor traffic as an economic, physical and moral evil.

Rev. Mr. Manning, who presided, also dealt with the liquor traffic. He declared that it was wrong to legalize the sale of liquor, and that the voters were to blame for the continuance of the traffic. In dealing with this subject, principle should be put before party. It was the duty of church members and temperance workers to vote against the evil regardless of their party leanings.

In the course of his address, Mr. Cunningham declared that if the three-fifths clause was eliminated, the policy of the Whitney Government regarding the regulation of the sale of liquor, would be supported by the temperance people as no other Government had ever been in the past.

Another Will be Held in Hastings May 28—Congregations of Bethesda, Alnwick and Steelton Cited to Appear—Induction of Rev. Mr. Currie on May 23

Toronto, May 16.—A special meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held in connection with the Synod of Toronto and Kingston in St. James Square Church, Toronto, yesterday. Rev. J. Skene presided, and with him were Revs Messrs. MacLennan, Reeves, Marsh, D. Sc., Burns, McLeod, Potter, Abraham, Camp and Dr. Sinclair, with Messrs. Fowler and Cullen, elders.

Rev G. A. MacLennan, of Norwood, was elected a commissioner to the General Assembly, instead of Rev A C Reeves, who intends taking a special course in Post Graduate Theology in McCormick Seminary, in June and July.

Rev W. R. Johnston, B.A., resigned the pastorate of Bethesda and Alnwick, and the congregation is cited to appear for its interests at a special meeting of Presbytery to be held at Hastings, Tuesday, May 28th, at 10 a.m.

The call to Rev. A. E. Camp, B.A. from St. Paul's church, Steelton, Sault Ste. Marie, was presented. The call is very largely signed and is most unanimous. The Presbytery decided to cite the congregation to appear at the meeting in Hastings on 28th inst., when the call will be considered. Mr. Camp has given no hint as to his decision regarding the call.

Springville congregation were granted permission to expand territorially, and the congregation of Pontypool and Janetville were encouraged in their determination to arrange for a manse for their minister.

Rev Mr. Currie, recently called to Warsaw, notified Presbytery of his acceptance of the call and arrangements have been completed for his induction on May 23rd, in the afternoon. The clergyman who will take part in the exercises will be Rev. S. S. Burns, Rev. H. J. Keith, Rev. D. A. Thomson, Rev. G. A. MacLennan and Rev. D. D. McDonald.

HAS NEW BATON.

P. C. Adams is carrying around with him these days a new baton. It is certainly a rather dangerous looking weapon. It is larger than the ordinary policeman's club and is about a foot and a half long and three inches around. Anyone who gets a crack from it will never want another. P. C. Adams said that this baton is made out of wood from an old apple tree, which grew on the court house property. This tree sprang from a seed planted many years ago.

Lakes are Still in Winter Garb

Mr. J. S. Knapman Returns From Trip up the Ottawa

Mr. J. S. Knapman has returned from a two week's trip to the Gatineau Valley and Upper Ottawa river. He was arranging for the supply and delivery of poles for the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Knapman states that the lakes up the Gatineau district in Quebec, are still in the embrace of King winter, the ice not having broken up yet. At Waltham which is 80 miles up the Ottawa river, there were two inches of snow on Saturday last. Mr. Knapman reports that the season all over is very backward. He was in Brantford, London, Hamilton and other places and says says that vegetation is very little further advanced in these districts than right here in Peterborough.

While in Ottawa Mr. Knapman heard Rev. Dr. MacDougall, government commissioner to the Doukhobors, lecture in the Dominion Methodist church. He also had a long conversation with the commissioner, who asserts that as the Doukhobors positively refuse to become British subjects, recognizing no sovereign, either earthly or divine, except God himself, they will be kept in communities and given fifteen acres of land each. There are 61 Doukhobor villages in the west, and between 9,000 and 10,000 of these people.

Owing to their releasing their homesteads, 250,000 acres or 1,680 homesteads will shortly be placed on the market by the federal government, and it is expected that these tracts will be rapidly taken up by other settlers. These homesteads are located in different parts of the west.

Clothing Now Made of Paper; Complete Suit for One Dollar

It is Equal to Woollen Goods and Material Can be Woven Into Hats, Shoes and Other Articles—Invention of Saxony Man and Has Been Patented in All Civilized Countries of the World.

A Washington despatch says;

Secretary Straus, of the department of commerce, has dug a sensation out of Saxony. He noticed a brief description in a German paper of garments made chiefly out of paper and asked the United States consular officers to look the matter up and let him know if the paper clothing amounted to anything. The result has been startling. He has been informed that a man in Saxony, who has been at work on the invention for years, has finally completed a process by which he spins a yarn out of wood fibre that is woven into cloth, rugs and other things that are both beautiful and durable.

And what impresses the secretary as much as anything about the new invention is that material for a three-piece suit of clothes, made from this paper cloth, can be obtained for $1.

The inventor of the process is a man named Emil Claviez. He has patented it in all the civilized countries of the world, and has already arranged to build mills in the United States. The manufacture of the paper yarn and the weaving of various products from it appears to have gone beyond the experimental stage since last year 7,000,000 pieces of it were made and sold for towelling, for which purpose it is said to be well suited, not one buyer in a hundred being able to tell it from fine linen. The towels are wholesaled at 24 cents a dozen pieces. A linen that is used for weaving linen or cotton fabrics can take the paper thread, which is not brittle, does not have a hard surface, and neither shrinks nor stretches to any appreciable extent. Moisture has practically no effect upon it and when bleached the yarn is of snowy-whiteness. In short, it combines the good qualities of cotton and linen at one-third the price of cotton, and one-tenth that of linen.

TAKES DYE EASILY.

Another point on which it has caught the favorable attention of Secretary Straus is that being paper it can be more readily dyed in delicate shades, far outmatching the range of colors in which cotton and silks are susceptible. The process of dyeing is also patented, and appears to be of such perfection that no colors, from the palest to the richest hues, are affected by strong light.

The factories so far started are in Saxony, England and Bohemia, and they are devoting themselves entirely to the production of the paper thread and yarn, to which the inventor has given the name, "Xylolin." It will be left for other factories to weave the yarn and thread into the multitude of articles of which it is capable.

The rugs and carpets are made of the heavier yarns, and are woven in designs that are described as beautiful in the extreme. They can be made in any weight and thickness, are elastic to the tread, do not retain dust readily, and are easily cleaned, either by beating or washing, and without injury to the fabric. They are unpalatable to moths and consequently are not eaten by them. Another use to which the yarn has been put with success is in the manufacture of bagging, two threads of paper being used, with one of jute, and the result is something closer woven and equally as strong as jute, and at half the cost. Sacking made of this combination is already commanding a large market in Europe, and considerable has also been sent to the United States.

CAN BE PUT TO MANY USES.

The paper fibre has likewise been woven into outing hats for men and women. It has been found to make excellent "canvass shoes" and slippers. For wall hangings and furniture coverings it has been found wonderfully successful. The delicate colorings of the paper fibres make it exceedingly effective when used as tapestry and for upholstering verandah furniture it has the advantage beyond its decorative effect because it is not subject to injury from light, dampness or even rain.

The readiness with which the yarn can be woven into cloth of any shade or design makes its use for clothing easy and successful. When woven into cloth of medium thickness, it is light, airy and yet very warm. It has sufficient porosity to make a hygienic garment, and it is well suited for underwear, being fine and soft and delicate enough to be worn by the youngest babe. Yet its wearing qualities are so superior that it is said to make very best kind of blouse and overall material for workmen. It is also made into imitation of duck and is highly suitable for wear in the tropics.

Village Does Not Like His Visits

Lakefield Thinks That Sanitary Inspector Ball Should Stay at Home

Lakefield, May 14.—Division Court, was held here last Thursday in the town hall, before His Honor Judge Weller. One jury case was tried, which occupied nearly all day, being Pearson vs. Guthrie.

Sanitary Inspector Ball of Peterborough, was in the village again last week. Some people consider it an insult to Lakefield to have Peterborough's health inspector come up to inspect Lakefield, which is noted as being one of the cleanest villages in Canada. He might do more good if he would look after the back yards in the City of Peterborough, if those we view on the train are any criterion of the rest of the city. Would Peterborough like our sanitary inspector to come down, and spy on its sanitary condition?

Mr Williams Morrison of Pullman, Ill., was here last week on a visit to his father, Mr. Hugh Morrison.

Mr. Morley Sellins of Bruce Mines, was in the village last week, visiting his grandmother, Mrs. P. Baptie.

Mrs. Hubbard, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. R. Tate, left on Friday, for Regina, N. W. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Payne spent a few days at Stony Lake last week.

Mrs. R. Henderson and Miss Grace of Toronto, were in the village last week.

Mrs. Rathbone of Toronto, spent a few days in the village last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherin and family, went to Toronto on Monday for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews left on Wednesday for Peterborough, where they will make their future home.

We were glad to see Mr. Dela Fosse down town on Tuesday, and to know that he is getting better and will soon be like himself again. He had a very bad shake up.

One of our oldest and best known residents in the person of Mr. Samuel McKibbon, passed away at the advanced age of 77 years. He had been ill for a long time.

The Lakefield Cricketers under the captaincy of Mr. R. N. Stuart, will visit Port Hope Hope on Wednesday and play the Trinity College School Club. The Lakefield players are, R. N. Stuart, J. H. Jones, Mr. Pratt, Thomas Allen, Chas. S. Tanner, Evan Atwood, Mr. McLaren, and the balance to be reinforced by stalwarts from Peterborough.

Mrs. O Cooper of The Pure Gold Manufacturing Company, will be in R. Graham & Son's store until Tuesday next, demonstrating the good qualities of the Pure Gold Quick Puddings, Salad Dressings and Jelly Powders, and invites everyone to come in and try their delicious flavors.

The Citizens Band will give a concert in the town hall on Friday evening, May 17, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., by the best local talent.

The Oddfellows will attend divine service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening next, when the Rev. S. S Burns will deliver the annual sermon.

Riverside Park Will Undergo Many Improvements This Year

New Walk From Hunter Street Into the Grounds—Big Five Ton Roller Will be Put on the Green and Will Put it in Fine Shape.

Riverside Park, which has been the scene of many hard fought battles, is to be put in the very pink of condition this year. The boys interested in the different ball games are determined to make the athletic grounds in Peterborough a beauty spot and a credit to the city.

During the five years this pretty little place place has been used for ball games of all kinds, a lot of time, money and labor has been placed upon it, and it has always been kept in pretty good shape. This year, however, the executives of the baseball, lacrosse and football clubs are going to roll over all little knolls and fill up the little hollows, and make the green as level as it is possible to be.

Last night Messrs. R. M. Glover, Chris. Graham, Dr Morgan and E. Best waited upon the Board of Works, and sought the assistance of the city in fixing up the park. They asked for a board walk from Hunter street into the park grounds, a distance of 400 feet.

Ald Wilson thought a petition should be sent in by the owners of the land in question.

His Worship remarked that the walk is badly needed, and it is highly in the public interest to have these grounds developed.

Ald Johnston suggested that the city gave to the sporting clubs sufficient material for the sidewalk asked for, in sections, and let the clubs lay the walk themselves. This would avoid the city being held responsible for constructing a walk on private property.

This was perfectly satisfactory to the representatives present, and the engineer was instructed to leave a number of sections of sidewalk on Hunter street, near the Rapid Tool Co., for the use of the clubs.

The deputation also asked the Board for the loan of the five ton horse roller for a couple of days to roll the athletic grounds. This roller is just the thing to use on the park, and it will put the grounds in better shape than they have been for many years.

After considering the request, the Board granted it, on condition that the clubs take it across the bridge or pay any charges connected therewith. This was satisfactory to the boys and the work will be done at once

Teamsters Receive $3.65 a Day; Strike Was Settled Last Night

Deputation of Fifteen Teamsters Waited Upon the Board of Works and Offered to Go Back to Work for $3.65—Board Granted the Request.

The teamster's strike is settled and the men are all back to work today. They are receiving $3.65 per day, and are drawing a yard and a half of gravel. This is the teamster's own proposition, and it was accepted by the Board of Works last night. It gives the men 5c. a day more than the city offered, and 10c a day less than the men asked for. But rather than allow the trouble to continue, the Board of Works granted the five cent increase.

About fifteen of the city teamsters waited upon the Board of Works. The city had previously offered them $3.60 a day, an even 40c. an hour, an advance of 10c. over the $3.50 tendered them at the incipiency of the dispute. The teamsters had last evening taken a vote as to whether they should come back to the Board for $3.65 or $3.75, which resulted in a tie—6 for and 6 against. They then decided to wait on the Board and His Worship, with a view to reaching a settlement.

Ald. Duncan assured the men that there existed no hard feelings whatever on the part of any city official, towards the men, and no man will be refused employment on account of the trouble that had arisen. He also offered that had the men formed a union, and made their demands to apply all over the city generally, the matter would have assumed a different complexion altogether. The city would not then have been put in the position of setting the pace for private citizens work.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by the Mayor, that the Board settle the controversy and give the men $3.65 a day, they to draw, one and a half yards gravel for load.

Ald. McIntyre moved in amendment that the men get $3.75, but he got no seconder.

Ald. Johnston's resolution was then carried, and the teamsters will return to work today. The men guaranteed that although but 12 or 15 of their body were present, they represented those who were absent, and who would act in conjunction with them.

Ald. McIntyre objected that the salaries of the city officials could be raised, but when the poor teamsters asked for a living increase, they were refused.

His Worship replied that the city had now raised the teamsters' pay 12 or 13 per cent. and he knew of no official who had received as big an increase.

THE GASOLINE CAUGHT FIRE

KING HELD UP

Stopped by Policemen at Entrance to Hyde Park

A slight accident happened aboard Mr. W LePage's gasoline yacht. It had just been launched and a party were seated on board. One of them lit his pipe and threw the match in the bottom of the boat. This ignited some gasoline that had leaked out of the holder, and a great blaze went up. The occupants of the boat made a hurried scattering, some of them jumping into the water. The blaze was put out, however, without any material damage being done, except to the nervous systems of the scared inmates.—Lindsay Post.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Refers to Book on "The New Theology"

The 'New Theology' of the Congregational Minister, Mr. Campbell, of the City Temple, London, England, has made a great stir in the religious world. What will the outcome be? —Will it unsettle the minds of Christian people? As I said, it will make a stir; people will read Mr. Campbell's book; they will wonder at it, and rightly so; but after an intelligent study, they will feel relieved and be glad to go back to the old path, the 'faith once delivered to the saints.'—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt in St. Luke's Parish Church Work.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Many Sports to See King's Plate

The excursion to Toronto on the C.P.R. on Saturday promises to be a big success. A large number of the boys have signified their intention of going up to see the King's Plate run. The wise ones have picked the winners and they are going to back up their opinions. The railway company has made things as light as possible for the sports so that if they want to bet all their money they will still have their return ticket which only costs $2.05.

The St. Thomas Car Company has been organised, at St. Thomas, with $400,000 to build freight cars.

AMUSEMENTS

THAT IRISH BOARDER

"That Irish Boarder," an amusing Irish comedy drama, was put on by Marks Dramatic Company at the Grand Opera House last night, and the big audience was thoroughly pleased. Every part was splendidly taken, and the irresistible wit and humor of Tom Marks kept up a continual round of merriment. Mr. Marks has a better company this year than ever before, and they have had a most profitable season.

The programme of specialties is completely changed each night, and they are always of a high order of merit.

RESPECT FOR LAW

If there is law it must be respected. Every one is amenable to all enactments, and no exceptions should be made.

A prominent Toronto business man has just been fined in the police court of that city for refusing to move off a street corner when told to do so by a constable. The offender was talking to several other well known gentlemen and probably thought that the authorities would not dare take him in hand.

But he was mistaken in his calculation. Loitering on street corners should not be encouraged, and, if a resident is requested to move on by a policeman, he should do so. Officers of the law may at times exceed their duty, but it is better that they should err on the side of a too strict interpretation of the law rather than on the side of laxity. More complaints are made in every municipality about the laches of officials than there are about them being too officious, or zealous. If there is to be a general observance of a by-law against standing or hanging around street corners, every one must assist in living up to the measure. It does not matter in the least whether the conversation is about business affairs, personal matters, social engagements or sporting events.

"Move on." It is the spirit of the age, the drawing force and impelling power in any progressive community.

What every centre wants is more of the move-on, keep-a-going spirit. It engenders life, bustle and activity and keeps a place to the forefront. We do not want laggards, drones, loiterers or hangers around. You can find plenty of these in every dead village, town or city. Street corners should not be decorated with humanity. The tide of mankind must be kept moving—even if it takes a minion of the law to do so. We must respect authority and those who uphold it. If a business man in Toronto is fined for hanging around a corner, what a field for operation there is in Peterborough if the police will only keep everybody "going." If a citizen refuses to step ahead, let him have an interview with the Magistrate. The payment of a few fines will soon result in absence of complaints and loiterers and talkers will disappear as if by magic.

There is altogether too much corner loitering, loafing, hanging around—call it what you please—in any city—and the officials who have the courage to see that the practice is stopped should be commended and upheld rather than berated and criticized.

RAILWAYS VS. CANALS

Somebody has figured out that freight moves more slowly on the railroads of today than it did on the canals of the last century. This is not unlikely when one takes into account the weeks and months of delay on sidings.

Of course this is a temporary condition, due to the almost continuous freight blockades. But what is the cause of these blockades? Are they not due to the efforts of the railroads, in competition for business, to carry goods at too low a rate to furnish funds to keep track and equipment up to the demands of increasing traffic?

You cannot have your cake and eat it too. You cannot get the best service at the lowest cost. When competition to sell pushes the price of any commodity continually down the commodity is bound to deteriorate in quality. This is as true of transportation as of any article of exchange. American railroads carry some kinds of freight at the lowest rate of land transportation known in the world. It would be strange if the transportation were of the highest quality.

The very economies and profit-making devices with which railroads have tried to meet the steady decline of freight rates, have continually diminished speed of ordinary traffic. Common freight is side-tracked and delayed to allow fast freight and passenger cars to earn an extra rate. The principle of getting the maximum of work out of every unit of rolling stock, saves money, but it makes constant delay to fill cars and complete trains.

The natural tendency of this policy is to avoid excess of rolling stock, lest careless employees should use more than is needed. It is no wonder that, when a season of unprecedented traffic crowds tracks and terminals and overworks rolling stock, some freight should be carried at a lower rate of speed than that of the canals before railroads were built.

Undoubtedly it is carried more cheaply for long distances, but it pays for cheapness with reduced speed.

PEN POINTS

The man who has a granary full of wheat may consider himself lucky. It may be as valuable soon, as certain Cobalt stocks.

It is said that money talks, but it is not speaking very loud at present in Toronto—so far as champion Tom Longboat's educational campaign fund is concerned.

The teamsters' strike has been settled. The Peterborough Baseball Club will have its opportunity to strike on May 24th, when they open the season with that chilly aggregation, the Arctics, of Toronto.

There is no danger of Sir Wilfrid Laurier starting on a campaign tour—accompanied by Lavergne and Bourassa. The trio could scarcely be described as "one harmonious whole," although they once were.

It is easy for some persons to criticize the newspapers. It is a favorite pastime with a few, and if the practice amuses certain detractors, it does not in the least injure the daily exponents of public thought and opinion.

What is the use of going around wearing last winter's heavy clothing, when, according to the recent invention of a Saxony man, you can get a serviceable three-piece suit of paper for one dollar. Such a suit is bound to displace the shirt waist and ice cream trousers.

An Iowa lady at fifty years of age is still beautiful, although she has not washed her face in fifteen years. A despatch says: 'Her face is as free from wrinkles, and her complexion as faultless as the skin of a baby.' Indeed! and how much some people do abhor soap and water. It is not advisable for the ladies of Canada to follow such a freak notion.

A ready and witty retort often gets a man out of many an unpleasant predicament. Starting with his bride on their honeymoon, a Lindsay man entered a railway office, and, as always in the past, bought only one ticket. The bride noticed the oversight at once. 'Why you bought only one ticket, dear,' she said. 'That's so, dear,' he answered, 'I forgot all about myself.'

The Lindsay Post makes the following sensible suggestion; "If our council would follow the example of Orillia and some other neat towns, and place receptacles for waste material at sundry points on our main streets, our people and visitors would speedily get the habit of depositing paper bags, fruit peelings, etc., therein, instead of littering the pavements and roadways with them."

Several long delayed matters have now been settled and the query naturally arises, What next? It is as true as ever, that 'everything comes to him who waits,' and Peterborough citizens by waiting long enough have once more realized the correctness of this apothegm. Work is now under way on the new Collegiate Institute, the Armories, and the Normal school; the firemen have moved into their handsome new quarters and the objective point of the annual outing of the 57th Regiment has been definitely decided upon.

The response made by the citizens to the request of several local ladies for old rubbers, etc., in order to aid financially the Muskoka Free Sanitarium for Consumptives was generous and spontaneous. Some 1,000 pounds were received at the local depository and it is said, that the sale of the rubber at 10 cents per pound will realize a sum of $100 which will be handed over to the Gravenhurst institution. The ladies deserve much credit for their enterprise and forethought, and those residents who hunted up such articles as were desired, have the satisfaction of knowing that they have assisted in a worthy and most commendable object.

Not many years ago the editor of the Toronto News wrote a biography of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which he said "his attitude was frankly, one of admiration." Now here the same party criticize Sir Wilfrid in connection with the recent Colonial Conference; "Altogether Sir Wilfrid Laurier will gain nothing in personal prestige, and reap nothing in direct political advantage from the conference, and in so far as he disappoints the expectations of the Imperialists, the advantage will go to his opponents."

The Galt Reporter (Cons.) asserts that Barrister Crothers of St. Thomas, who refused to accept $2,000 for acting as chairman of the School Book Commission, was simply playing to the gallery. The charge is no credit to the Galt newspaper. It simply shows that the sentiment of public duty has become so atrophied in Canada that a reputable newspaper cannot conceive of a man making an honest and disinterested sacrifice for his country, from a purely patriotic motive. The Toronto Telegram told an unpleasant truth the other day when it said that an act of patriotism like that of Mr. Crothers would occasion no surprise in Japan, though it made a tremendous sensation in Canada.

During the last year or two Canadian Clubs have been formed at Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Victoria, Halifax, St. John, Montreal, and at many of the smaller centres throughout the country. In the main, these clubs consist of young and aggressive Canadians, and, while they have no fixed policy, they have become formidable forces in the making of public opinion, and in the expression of an aggressive Canadian feeling. They are developing a stalwart Canadian spirit and a temper, says the Toronto News, which is keenly intolerant of political rascality at home, or of neglect of Canadian interests abroad. There is no Canada First movement in the sense of political independence, but there is a movement of steadily increasing proportions, which makes the character of the nation, the development of its resources, and the protection of its territorial interests, questions of supreme concern in Canadian politics.

Notes of Interest In St. Luke's Parish

St. Luke's Parish Church Work this month contains the following items of live local interest,—

We shall miss from our church and parish very much our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Warde, who expect to spend the summer in Calgary.

It is a matter of great delight to their many friends, to have Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rogers, and their family, again in our midst. We give them a very hearty welcome to their church and parish.

The rector has received an invitation to the graduating exercises of the Jackson Sanatorium, Danville, N. J., at which Miss Addie Armstrong will graduate as a full fledged nurse. Her many friends will be delighted to hear of her success in her chosen profession.

The Rev. Messrs. Wm. Burns of Hastings, and E. W. Pickford of Norwood, and J. H. Teney of Omemee, very kindly supplied the pulpit of St. Luke's during the rector's absence through sickness.

Mr. Langfeldt is also indebted to his faithful Lay Reader, Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., who on several occasions supplied the services of the church in Hastings and Omemee. Mr. Kingdon very kindly took the cottage meetings for the rector, and thus added his share in lessening the responsibilities of parochial work.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

COULD ALMOST SEE GRASS GROW

"When that rain started to fall yesterday," said a citizen today, "you could almost see the grass grow in the city parks. In a half an hour a big change was noticeable in the color of the sward along the east bank of the Otonabee River, just opposite Riverside Park. The transformation was wonderful, as the warm rain just seemed to make everything grow at a surprising rate."

Mark St. Sidewalk Settled; Part Inside and Part Outside

Board of Works Met on the Street Corner and Then Adjourned to Committee Room to Take Up Regular Business—Sewers and Drains.

It took a long time to satisfy the people on Mark street, but the Board of Works did the trick last night. Some of the people wanted the new granolithic walk laid inside the street line, and others wanted it outside. To have satisfied the people the walk would have twisted and turned in and out all along the street. The Board of Works met at the corner of Mark and Hunter-sts last night at half past seven o'clock when they took one last long look at old walk and at the street. The result is as follows, although it was not accomplished very soon;

Mark street sidewalk, north of Hunter street, will be constructed inside the tree line, to meet the wishes of those residents; on Mark street, south of Hunter, and on the east side, the pavement will go outside the tree line, while the west side will be laid inside the tree line. The committee decided to stand by their original report, and construct this section of the walk inside the tree line; this action is supported by the city engineer who advised that owing to the high planks at the school and other natural drawbacks this pavement should go inside the tree line to avoid future trouble.

Petitions for granolithic walks on west side Bethune, from London to Dublin street; on west side of Aylmer, from Wolfe to Townsend, were received.

The Board decided to adhere to the rule adopted and advertised at the beginning of the year—That all sidewalks and sewers petitioned for after May first cannot be undertaken this year.

PETITIONS FOR SEWERS

A petition for a pipe sewer on Townsend, from Stewart to Rubidge, received April 9th, was granted.

A. E. Elliott asked for a sewer into 421 Bethune street, north from Hunter. This was not properly signed and consequently no action was taken.

THE WATER TROUGHS.

Superintendent Henderson, of the water works, reported that the outlet from the water trough at corner of George and McDonnel streets, was blocked and should be attended to. The trough, in east ward, Hunter street, in vicinity of Lipsett's hotel, needs the flooring upon which it stands, repaired. The Board of works will attend to these matters.

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

Mr. Head applied for connection with the new outfall sewer now being constructed from Smith to Aylmer street. The rule governing such connections is that a fee of $25 be charged as for similar connections with the other trunk sewers. This will, it is understood, apply to all such connections, the fee to be paid in a lump sum at time of connection. Mr. Head's application was referred to the engineer.

ROAD MAKING.

Reeve Moher and Councillor M. Welsh, of Douro, waited upon the board with a view to getting the city's aid in fixing up the roadway between the city and Douro, a thoroughfare very heavily travelled. The roadway in question is just the other side of the oval from the finger post to the canal, which it is claimed, is in a wretched condition. Mr. Fitzgerald will be instructed to investigate this locality and report on the necessary repairs and cost of same, and also as to what work has been done there the past seven years.

QUESTION OF DRAINAGE.

Mr. Irwin waited upon the council with the information that the Park street drain, from King to Bolivar street is blocked; he asked that it be opened so as to benefit property in which he is interested. Mr. Irwin claimed that the drain has been blocked as the effect of excavating for cellars.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the engineer examine and report on the condition of this drain at once.—Carried.

Ald. Wilson stated that contractors and others have not complied with the city's instructions to leave the streets in good condition after excavating thereon. The authorities are determined to push this matter.

The engineer, on motion of the mayor and Ald. McIntyre, was instructed to grade Hunter street east from the hill to the lift lock to the level of property at time the thoroughfare was purchased.

TO LAY SEWER.

The board will go ahead with constructing the sewer on King street, from Bethune to Stewart, when authorized by the council, to whom this work will be recommended on Monday week.

The chief and deputy chief of fire brigade will be invited to meet the mayor and Ald. Johnston with regard to arranging for some sort of entertainment after the new fire hall is formally opened.

Plot Concocted Against the Emperor Nicholas of Russia

Russian Terrorists Plan to Murder the Czar.

Conspiracy Unearthed at Tsarskoe-Selo—Soldier Arrested on Suspicion—Confessed He Had Been Offered Large Sum of Money to Help In Assassination—Instigators Not Yet Apprehended.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—A terrorist conspiracy, directed against the life of Emperor Nicholas, the existence of which has been suspected for some time past, has been revealed by the arrest at Tsarskoe-Selo, of a soldier of the guard regiment. Yesterday the man confessed to the acceptance of a large money bribe to assist in the murder of his Majesty.

According to the details of the plot, the existence of which has been confirmed by one of the highest officials of the court, suspicion was directed to the soldier by the fact that he was seen to have in his possession considerable sums of money. He was at once placed under observation. When he noticed that he was being shadowed he became panic-stricken and sought the authorities. He then broke down and voluntarily made his confession, after which he begged for protection.

All the threads of this conspiracy, which is radically different from former attempts of this nature, are not yet in the hands of the secret service men. A few underlings have been apprehended, but the real instigators of the crime, and the men who furnished the blood money, have not yet been identified. It is thought that the money used is part of the proceeds of several political robberies committed during last fall and winter. Many of the participants in these so-called expropriations have been arrested and executed, but the loot was never located.

The police officials maintain a mysterious silence when questioned regarding this conspiracy. They refuse to either affirm or deny the story, and limit themselves to stating that there is indication that the men arrested last week in this city were connected with this conspiracy.

This statement coincides with information obtained in revolutionary circles, where it is declared that the men apprehended last week were occupied with the reorganization of the fighting bands of the revolutionists, which the police succeeded last year in breaking up, and that the authors of the present conspiracy must be sought outside of St. Petersburg.

Drumhead Bill Rejected.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The council of the empire or Upper House of Parliament yesterday rejected the bill of the Lower House abolishing trials by drumhead courtmartial, which was passed by the latter body April 30.

Rev. J. G. Shearer Predicts Rush For Restuarant Licenses

Writes on Judge Morson's Decision in the Sunday Selling Test Case—Sees the Effect of Judgment Through Lord's Day Alliance Eyes.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, makes the following reply to Judge Morson's decision yesterday in which he allows the Sunday sale of candies and ice cream in restaurants.

"The decision will be thoroughly satisfactory to Mr. Jas. Haverson, K. C., and to Jewish, Greek, Italian or other restaurant keepers who want to do the most possible business on Sunday. It will assuredly not be satisfactory to the great majority of the citizens of Toronto and York, which for the time being are affected by it.

"It is doubtful if Judge Morson realizes how sweeping his judgment is. He says that a restaurant keeper may sell the food either for consumption on the premises or to be carried away. We presume he means food that is ready for consumption. If he is using food in the broader sense still, then the judgment is so much more sweeping. Taking the narrower meaning of the word, the effect of the decision is that any restaurant keeper can sell ice cream, soda, soft drinks, candy and all confectionery, all varieties of fruit, all sorts of bread, cakes and all pastry, biscuits, the ready-to-eat cereal foods, cheese, butter, eggs, canned meats, canned vegetables, canned fruits, cooked spiced and dried meats, dried fruits, dried fish, raisins, maple sugar, maple syrup, and a host of other things, either for consumption on the premises or to be carried away. If they can be carried away, then they can be carried to the homes of the city. It means, therefore, in short, that a large part of the business of the grocer, the confectioner, the fruiter and the provision dealer can be freely and legally carried on on Sunday providing it is done in a restaurant.

"We may expect a rush to the City Hall for restaurant licenses by Jews, Greeks, Italians, Chinese and Canadians, who are unscrupulous enough to want to use Sunday for money making.

"It will be manifest how unfair such a law would be to grocers, fruiters, etc., who find themselves in competition with restaurant keepers who also carry on the other lines of business. If such a decision were left unchallenged and the law similarly interpreted throughout the country, it would result in thousands of employees in restaurants being deprived of their Sunday rest beyond the limits of those now on duty in most cases, we regret to say, seven days in the week, and that to serve no necessary or important end and other than money making. The decision, however, is limited to this city and county, and we venture to believe there are few judges anywhere in Ontario who would follow such a remarkable judgment.

"Of course a remedy can be found, and will be found. A stated case can be taken over Judge Morson's head from the Magistrate Court to the High Court, or the Shops Regulation Act of the Province can be amended, and though the case was not a Lord's Day Alliance case, the public may be assured that no stone will be left unturned to have the mischief this decision would do adverted, and that at the earliest possible time."

Six Teams Are In the League

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night—Umpires Appointed

An enthusiastic meeting of the intermediate baseball league, was held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening. The president, Mr. Jas. T. C. Lang, was in the chair. There was a large number of representatives present, and an interesting discussion took place on the prospects for the coming season. The names of the players of the different teams were handed in and objections to certain ones playing was taken. There are six teams in the league and they were all represented at the meeting. They are the Strathconas, Karenots, West Ends, Lakeviews, Excelsiors, and Lillies.

The following umpires were appointed to officiate, — Messrs. W. Stacey, H. Campbell, Leo. Derocher, F. Craig, H. Burridge, Chris Graham, and Joe Picard. Before a ball can be used it was decided that the umpire must be satisfied with it. The umpire's decision must be final and he will have the power to rule any player off the field if he sees fit to do so.

The entrance fee to the league will be one dollar.

It was moved by Mr. H. Campbell, and seconded by R. Staunton, that a single schedule be played, and the games will take place at the driving park, Nicholls oval, and the Charlotte Street Guild field, on Patterson, street.

Messrs. H. Campbell, C. Curtis, and C. Ray, were appointed a committee to draw up the schedule. They will meet on Saturday night. The league games will most likely be commenced next week. It is desirable to start as early as possible, as the schedule will likely be a long one.

Centrals Beat The Separates

Exciting Baseball Match at Central Park Yesterday Afternoon

An interesting baseball match was played at Central Park yesterday afternoon, the competing teams being the seniors of the Separate School, and the senior nine of the Central Public school. Victory rested with the latter team after an exciting contest, in which honors were about even. Seven innings were played and the score at the finish was 13—12. For the Centrals H. Munro got four runs, Hawkins 3, Boradale 2, and Burritt, Wilson, Freeland and Lees, one each. On the opposing nine, Hickey, Dunn, Cassidy, and Quinlan got two each, and Hayes, Sheehy, and Heffernan, one each.

The teams were as follows,—

Mr. G. B. Long made a satisfactory umpire.

Two Mile Jog For Harriers

Going Was Hard Last Night Owing to the Rain

Despite the rain and heavy going about a half dozen members of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club turned out last night and had a two mile jog towards the north end of the city. "Pete" Wallace, who has been running well since the opening of the season, set the pace and led the bunch at a good stiff pace. The mud made the going of a tiring nature, but all the runners finished comparatively fresh. Another run will be held next Wednesday night.

Athletic Notes From the Y.M.C.A.

The Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club will run on Friday night of this week, instead of last night. As many of the members as possible are requested to be on hand sharp on time.

Any who purpose entering the Y.M.C.A. sports on the 24th of May morning are requested to send in their names to the Y.M.C.A. as soon as possible. A number of men have already entered. This meet is open to any amateur in the city. Besides the Howden trophy for first place there will be beautiful medals presented as prizes to the second and third men. Every young man in the city is cordially invited to take part.

BASEBALL

The meeting to organize a city baseball league, which was to have been held last evening at the Oriental hotel did not materialize. It was postponed until a later date when all representatives of teams wishing to enter are asked to turn out.

LACROSSE

THE NATIONAL GAME

"Games which require quickness, decision and speed are games that colonials excel at. They learned rugby football very quickly and very proficiently, as shown by the recent visits of the New Zealanders and South Africans. Now we have the Capitals, from Ottawa, showing us the fine points of lacrosse. The sinuosity, the suppleness of the Canadian athlete, and, above all, his fine speed, fit him peculiarly for this grand whirling game. Lacrosse originated in the Dominion; it has developed in its national home until today it is a fine science."—London Sportsman.

THE TURF

Mr Bert McCollum and Mr. Wm. Whittom are trying to arrange a matched race between their two horses. McCollum is confident that his black pacer can throw dust in the face of Whittom's Silver Queen. Both horses are in the green class and their owners are giving them a workout every day or two. The black pacer stepped a half-mile on the outside of the track and against a strong wind the other day in 1.30. This was done with a four-wheeled bike. The chances are the two owners will put up $100 and give the boys an exhibition in the near future.

Who Will Donate Suitable Trophy?

Since a good intermediate baseball league has been formed, it is up to some generous hearted baseball enthusiast, to donate a cup for competition among the teams. If the players thought there was something to win they would work harder and greater interest would be taken in the games. The winners of the cup for two successive seasons, would become the owners of it. It is not necessary that the trophy should be expensive.

It is hoped that a cup will be donated by some citizen.

ROLLER HOCKEY

There will be no hockey practice at the roller rink tonight, owing to the skating contest.

FOOTBALL

HASTINGS' TEAM.

The Hastings Football Team has entered the Midland League and placed in group 4, with Campbellford and Warkworth. The first game of the season will be played here on Saturday next, 18th inst., against Campbellford.

The locals have been practicing every evening for the past two weeks and are getting into good shape.—Hastings Star.

GAME POSTPONED.

The football match which was to have been played last night between the Quakers and the Norwood team did not take place, owing to the rain. The visitors did not make the trip to Peterborough, but it is likely that they will come some evening in the near future.

CRICKET

LAKEFIELD WAS DEFEATED.

The Grove School Cricket Team of Lakefield journeyed to Port Hope, yesterday, where they played the Trinity College School aggregation. The Lakefield bunch were badly beaten, Port Hope winning by a big score. Messrs. Gordon and Allan Campbell, sons of Mr. Peter Campbell, bowled a great game for Port Hope. The Grove boys were completely outclassed and Trinity team are looked upon as the best school cricket aggregation in Ontario.

Mr. Hugh C. Hill was in Port Hope yesterday and witnessed the match.

The pathetic side of the Thaw-White Case will be shown in magnificent moving pictures, at Scott's Colloseum 432 George St. All parents should make an effort to be present to see these pictures and learn the moral necessity devolving on them, to enlighten their children as to what they may have to encounter in life so that the may be prepared to resist the temptations that may beset them. Special effort has been put forward to get themoral effect of this great case and indoing so, greatexpense has been incurred, but admission price will be usual five cents. Thursday, Friday and Saturday only, so come early.

Performances, 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

A Few Good Things Said by Women

About Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets

We wish every run-down woman and every woman suffering from some disorder peculiar to her sex could read the letters we have from grateful users of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets.

They would never afterwards doubt our statement that "They make Healthy Women."

We never violate confidence. We never yet published a letter without permission. There will be nothing wrong, however, in giving the following snatches from letters recently received.

"I think they are just wonderful."

"In less than a week I could see good results."

"I couldn't have got more good if I had gone to see Dr. Hugo himself."

"My physician gave me the first box."

"I am feeling now like a new woman, have better color, eat better, sleep better, feel better."

"Health Tablets have done for me what my physician seemed unable to do, i.e., made me a healthy woman."

These few abstracts show the appreciation in which these tablets are held by those who have used them.

If you are sick or not feeling as well as you would like to, we want you to take a box of these tablets.

They Make Healthy Women.

Told Weather By Goose Bone

Man Whose Predictions Usually Came True is Dead

Philadelphia, May 15.—Elias Hartz, who enjoyed a national reputation as a "goose-bone" weather prophet, and was for years one of the most unique characters of Reading, is dead, in the Friends Asylum here, at the age of ninety-two years.

When a young man he learned the science of reading the markings on the breastbone of a goose and foretelling the weather for the winter months. It was his custom to take a healthy, well-fed goose of the spring hatching, and have it served for his Thanksgiving day dinner. The breastbone was then carefully cleaned to show all the markings and fine lines. From his readings of these, Hartz foretold the weather from that day until Easter, and strange, as it may appear, about 90 per cent. of his guesses were good. Owing to ill-health he made no predictions during the last two years of his life.

PREDICTS HARD WINTER.

In the fall of 1904, after examining the bone, he shook his head and said,—

This is going to be one of the severest winters that this section has ever experienced.

He then picked up the bone and remarked: "You see that black ridge running through the entire length of the bone? Well, that is the first one of that kind I ever came across. The winter will open suddenly and it will continue cold all the way through. The ice will be very heavy and the cold intense and continuous. There will not be so many storms. The bone does not show that. There will be a slight breakup during the middle of the winter, but it will be of very short duration, when we will have another cold spell, which will continue until late in March.'

PROPHECY COMES TRUE.

He advised people to fill their coal bins. These predictions were borne out, and no one was more gratified than Mr. Hartz himself. He said that he did not love cold weather any too well, but he was proud to say his predictions could not be questioned.

He did not think much of the weather bureau, regarding it as a useless expense. "Why spend millions on working out foolish theories, when a goose bone costs a dollar or so?" he declared. He was genial and cheerful and ever ready to tell his neighbors about the coming winter when he had eaten his Thanksgiving goose. He usually refused to diagnose any other goose bone.

Wheat Again Took Strong Advance

New York, May 16. — The stock market was very dull and somewhat irregular today. The fluctuations were chiefly fractional. The buying orders that were reported upon the market kept the room from doing much raiding, although it tried several times to break the market. The list is evidently liquidated, and purchases when soft ought to return fairly well to patient traders. The developments of the day show that the market will respond to really good developments.

The sensational advance in wheat caused some selling of stocks in the last hour, and brought a decline of about a point all around. The close was dull and irregular.

BOYS ANNOY A CHINAMAN

Since preparations have been started for the opening of the Chinese restaurant at the corner of George and King streets, a number of small boys have been loitering around the premises and annoying the celestials. They take delight in hammering on the door and windows, and making themselves obnoxious in numerous other ways. If the youngsters persist in the practice they will likely find themselves in trouble, as the police will not tolerate such conduct.

Stock's New Bakery Will Have Capacity of 30,000 Loaves a Day

Building Permit Taken Out Yesterday—Will Cost $2,500—Most Modern in Ontario—

Work has started on the new bakery for Mr. Wm. Stock, Sherbrooke street. The building permit was taken out yesterday, and the building will cost about $2,500. Mr. R. J. Marsh of Deer Park, Toronto, is contractor and architect. He is an expert on this kind of work, and is the owner of the very latest style of oven, known as the Marsh oven. It is especially designed for quick work, and it has proven exceptionally satisfactory in other places.

The new building will be 63 feet long, 34 feet wide, and two stories high. The walls will be of solid brick fourteen inches thick. There will be two large Marsh ovens which are made of No. 1 Milton pressed brick, made especially for ovens. Each oven will have a capacity of 350 loaves every twenty minutes, or 30,000 loaves per day. This is very much larger than any bakery in this part of the province, and will supply, itself, enough bread to feed the whole city.

The bakery throughout will be furnished with the very latest and fastest machinery on the market, and Mr. Stock will be able to turn out bread of the highest quality, when his new premises are completed. The Marsh Oven Co. of Toronto, are doing the work and they expect to have it completed within three weeks.

Three More Dogs Victims of Poison

More dogs poisoned! Every day one hears of two or three canines falling victims to the dog poisoner. The dog poisoner's work must be unceasing for scarcely a day passes by without its list of poisoned canines. The residents of Perry Street are now receiving a visit.

Mr. Wm. Drake, 198 Perry street, lost his valuable collie dog yesterday. Mr. M. Halpin also lost his collie dog by poison. The dogs were too far gone when noticed and nothing could be done for them.

Mr. Richard Harris of Perry St. is mourning the loss of his water spaniel. It was a valuable canine and Mr. Harris regrets its loss very much.

The Style of Hair Worn

Is an important factor to produce a younger and refined face, and a well shaped head to any lady or gentleman. Prof. Dorenwend, who will be at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Monday, May 27, can demonstrate this to anyone calling on him at his show rooms. He has Ladies' and Gents' Wigs, Toupees, Bangs, Wavy and Plain Fronts, Switches in every length and shade, that he will gladly adjust on any Lady's head, free of charge to prove this. Don't fail to see him. 4d.—2w.

The board appointed Mr. John S. McDonald, whose application has been mentioned, to the force, to act until such time as Policeman McGinty is able to resume his duties.

24th F.B.C.A. Had Good Drill

In Sheds of 57th Last Night—Recruits Doing Well

The 24th F.B.C.A. had a drill in the drill hall of the 57th Regiment last night and it was in every way very satisfactory. The raw recruits did remarkably well and Sergt-Major Fox is a very popular and capable instructor. Major Young expressed himself as well pleased with the result. The battery will drill every Monday and Thursday at 7.30 o'clock in the drill hall at Central Park and the officers and non-coms are specially requested to attend as it will be a good object lesson for them. Next Monday night new recruits are requested to meet at the east city drill hall at half past seven when Sergt.-Major Boyle will issue clothing. They will proceed from there to the 57th hall for instruction.

The old nine-pounders at the drill hall will be shipped to Ottawa shortly and a couple of twelve pounders will be brought over from Ashburnham and the boys given the gun drill.

Strikers at Montreal Refuse To Even Consider Arbitration

Longshoremen Refuse to Accept Advance Offered.

Federation of Shippers Would Give Two and a Half Cents an Hour More—Men Are Firm for Five Cents—Freight Handlers Also Go Out—350 Leave Work and Join the Teamsters.

Montreal, May 17.—The federation of shippers and the C. P. R. offered the longshoremen an advance of 2 1-2 cents per hour yesterday, but the men, after due consideration, not only refused to accept the advance, but also declined an offer to arbitrate, and the following is the document:

"The shipping federation of Canada and the C. P. R. Co. submit offer without prejudice of an increase in wages to the longshoremen of the port of Montreal of 2 1-2 cents per hour worked day and night on the understanding that these rates are to remain in force till the last ocean vessel sails from Montreal season of 1907.

"If this is not acceptable then they are willing to arbitrate the question of wages, provided the workmen resume work forthwith, in which case the decision of the arbitrators will date from Friday, May 17, 1907, it being understood that the rates fixed by the arbitrators are to remain in force until the last ocean vessel sails from Montreal season of 1907, these two offers to remain open for acceptance till Friday, May 17, 1907, at noon.

A further complication was added by the freight handlers to the number of 350 "resigning" their various positions and leaving work. To signalize the occasion the men formed in parade order in front of the longshoremen's headquarters and marched westward in Commissioners street to cast in their lot with their fellow workers, the Shedden Co.'s teamsters, who had previously "resigned" Wednesday morning. These men held forth at Nault's Hall in Guy street, and their action added to the general holiday aspect of the situation.

Miners to Test Act.

Vancouver, B. C., May 17.—Behind the miners of Marble Bay Island, in their fight with the management of the mines, stands the Western Federation of Miners, which, since March 25, the date on which the men quit work, has been supplying them with strike pay. The men declare that the fight is practically out of their hands, and that any settlement reached will have to be negotiated through the Western Federation.

The decision of the mine owners to commence criminal prosecution of the men under the provisions of the Dominion Industrial Investigation Act, will bring all the power of the Western Federation to bear to render the act imperative in this case.

NO WHEAT IN RUSSIA.

Prices Are Now Higher Than For Several Decades.

Odessa, May 17.—The European wheat situation is regarded by competent grain merchants here as being most unfavorable. The present prices are the highest the experts on the Bourse can remember to have been quoted in Russia for decades past. The provinces of Bessarabia, Poltava, Kherson and Podolia are gravely affected. Seventy-five per cent. of the winter crops have been damaged by the cold weather and dry spring. Owing to the sudden rise in temperature a fortnight ago the entire spring crops will be lost unless rain falls within a week, in which case possibly 85 per cent. of the spring crop will be reaped.

About Kishiney the farmers are reploughing their fields, the first sowings having been ruined by drouth. At Kelzabethgrad the winter wheat crop is a total failure, and the spring crops are threatened with destruction owing to lack of rain.

Submarines Stand Test.

Newport, R. I., May 17.—With all hands well and contented, with a bountiful supply of fresh air, and with records of submergence broken, the submarines, Actopus and Lake, rose to the surface of Narragansett Bay at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, ending a test of 24 hours under water.

The Octopus rose first, and the members of the naval trial board crowded about her as the conning tower hatch flew open. The members of the board at once went below to note conditions on board, and to test the air supply. Samples of air were bottled every two hours throughout the test for analysis by the board.

The Octopus blew out foul air only twice during the twenty-four hours she was at the bottom of the bay. It was computed that only one-forty-fifth of her air supply was exhausted. If these figures are correct they tend to show that the boat could main submerged 45 days, provided the food and fuel supply was sufficient.

Fatal Draught Before Husband.

CHANGE CONGO STATE

Earl Grey Says Present Rule Cannot Much Longer Continue.

System of Government Must Be Radically Altered—Present Irresponsible Rule Must Come to an End—Belgium to Be Given Chance to Reform—Suggestion That the Powers Combine.

London, May 17.—In winding up the animated but resultless debate on the Congo question in the House of Commons Wednesday, Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, said that those interested in the matter would naturally wait to see what the conditions of the plan of annexation proposed by the Belgian Parliament were to be.

Belgium should be allowed to act in the matter without interference or pressure of the outside. The British Government must wait a reasonable time, but it could not indefinitely. In case of a breakdown and the passing of the Congo State into other hands the Government would share with the other powers in the resultant responsibility.

There must, however, be a change in the system of governing the Congo, Sir Edward declared, it being impossible for the state to continue under its present irresponsible rule.

In the course of the discussion Sir Charles W. Dilke, advanced Radical, and other members of the House expressed the belief that a conference between the United States, Great Britain, Germany and France might result in forcing Belgium to take some action.

CANADA'S PROSPECTS

Rt. Hon. R. B. Haldane Peers Into the Future.

Macaulay's Vision May Be Realized—Population of Dominion Will Be 80,000,000 Before End of Century—Britain's Naval Policy — Fiery Speeches at Navy League Meeting—Archbishop Pleads for Workers.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—Professor Leacock spoke to the Victoria League on the question of Canada. Mr. Haldane, moving the vote of thanks, said it had been calculated that Canada, before the end of the century, would possess a population of 80,000,000. What a power!

It might be that Macaulay's famous vision would be realized and the centre of empire be transferred elsewhere, but if development went on the right lines it would be the development of the same empire by the same people, permeated with a deeper sense of unity.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has again drawn attention to the immense and grave problem of Canada. The men undertaking spiritual work going there are quite inadequate in numbers. The difficulty was as great as any church had to contend with. The Bishop of Montreal said all the wit and wisdom of England would be needed to solve the problem how to perpetuate the magnificent loyalty now animating Canadians.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—At the annual meeting of the Navy League it was decided to abstain from appealing to the country to protest against the present naval policy of the Government charges and countercharges, fiery speeches and angry interruptions were the features of the meeting.

H. F. Wyatt moved an amendment deeply deploring the diminution of naval strength involved in the reduction of the naval estimates. The amendment mentioned the abandonment of the Esquimalt and other naval stations. Mr. Wyatt told of the differences between himself and the majority of the committee.

Admiral Freemantle disagreed with the amendment, which was rejected by 44 to 27.

WALKED INTO THE LAKE.

Body of Young Englishman Found In Water Near Grimsby.

Hamilton, May 17.—The nude body of Howard Boyd, a young Englishman, was found on the lake shore near Grimsby yesterday. It is supposed that he was drowned during the night, but whether it was a case of suicide or a case of a man walking into the water in his sleep is a question that a coroner's jury will have to determine. The young man was employed by James Smith of Grimsby, with whom he resided. He was apparently all right when the family retired Wednesday night, leaving him in the kitchen. When the family arose yesterday morning the kitchen lamp was still burning and Boyd's clothes were on the kitchen floor. He was seen wandering through the village in scant attire about midnight.

SQUAWS TELL STORY.

Say Rancher Plied Indian With Liquor and Attacked Them.

Nanton, Alberta, May 17.—The inquest to enquire into the death of Jake Dixon, an Indian, who died from the effects of drinking whiskey to excess on the C. C. ranch on April 20, was opened here. Squaws belonging to the same band as Dixon testified that a rancher named Dan McDonald induced him to drink until he was helpless, and then attempted to assault them, but was beaten off. They fled, leaving Dixon in the rancher's house. They went back next day, and got him in an unconscious condition, and carried him to the camp, where he died. McDonald was arrested, and is now in jail in MacLeod. He claims the Indian stole the whiskey.

Government Will Protect Publishers.

Toronto, May 17.—A rumor has got out with reference to the tenders which are being called for the printing of school readers, to the effect that legal proceedings will be taken to prevent the publication of such books by successful tenderers under the advertisements.

A statement, however, was issued yesterday by Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, assuring tenderers that under the present act of the Legislature the province assumes all rights in copyrights connected with these publications and the Government will feel bound to protect any successful tenderer who may publish books against litigation which may be brought for the reasons stated above.

Miners Will Eject Japs.

Vancouver, B. C., May 17.—Angered at the introduction of Japanese into the Atlin district by J. M. Ruffner, the miners have determined to force the Orientals out of the camp. In their fight against the Japanese the miners have the merchants behind them.

The miners declare that the Japanese will be forcibly ejected this week if they do not move immediately.

Yardman Badly Hurt.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 17.—Harry Thomas Gard, aged 23 years, lies in the general hospital with both feet off and his chest, right shoulder and arm crushed and broken. That he still lives is marvelous.

Gard was employed as a yardman in the Montrose yards of the Michigan Central. While making up a local freight train he was caught between the buffers.

Thousands Being Fed.

Shanghai, May 17.—The thousands of women, children and aged persons who were dying of starvation in the streets of Singkiangpu were placed Wednesday in a camp outside the city and are being fed by the relief organization.

Because of the teamsters' strike over 100 C.P.R. cars are in the Ottawa yards awaiting unloading.

BOND MADE PROTEST.

Premier Deakin Gives Account of What Happened at Conference.

London, May 17.—(C. A. P.)—The Mail obtained the following statement from Premier Deakin: "The report of Bond's remarks in The Mail correctly summarized his speeches and general attitude. Bond certainly protested emphatically on behalf of his colony, both against the treatment to which its Legislature had been subjected, and against the refusal of the Imperial Government to reverse."

Deakin, however, believes that Bond did not leave the conference room till the conference closed.

Churchill, in the House of Commons, said The Mail's statement that Bond admitted its report of the incident at Tuesday's conference to be substantially correct, is, in his opinion, another misrepresentation. Churchill explained that the summary of Bond's speech was not given in the precis because it was very long and complex, but would be published in extenso shortly. The part of the debate on the fisheries question which related to foreign affairs this conference decided should be secret.

The News, which describes The Mail report of Bond's speech as a malignant invention of journalistic thugs, and hopes that Bond values his reputation more highly than to leave his word in an equivocal position. An explanation is all the more necessary in view of the way the concession of Newfoundland territory to the Harmsworth syndicate was rushed through, which has not been forgotten.

Sir W. Lyne, who expresses disappointment at the results of conference where colonials have been unfairly treated in more ways than one, says that Canada seems to be the only country in the King's dominions spoken about here.

SOCIALISTS SUCCESSFUL.

With Anti-Semites Will Be Powerful In New House.

Vienna, May 17.—The returns from the elections held Tuesday throughout Austria are not yet complete, but show conclusively that the most powerful parties in the Lower House of Parliament that will assemble June 12 will be the Socialists and anti-Semites.

The success of the anti-Semites has not been so remarkable, but still it is great. They numbered twenty-six representatives in the old House, and they have already fifty-nine seats in the new, with thirty candidates in the re-ballots.

Consequently, there are two distinct features to be seen in the coming House—a Socialist party, possibly 70 strong, and an anti-Semitic clerical centre, numbering perhaps 80 or 90, as the German clericals, who secured 26 seats, always make a common cause with the anti-Semites. Herr Von Machet, the Minister of Public Instruction, has resigned in consequence of his defeat at the polls.

BLEW SAFE AND GOT $2,000.

Burglars at Alexandria Made a Big Haul of Jewellery.

Alexandria, Ont., May 17.—Burglars Wednesday night entered the jewellery store of H. R. Cuddens and, blowing open the safe, carried off a lot of watches, diamonds and other jewellery.

Persons living near heard the explosion and came to their doors, but were ordered back and shots were fired to intimidate them.

Cuddens' loss is thought to be over two thousand dollars. His valuable showcases were wrecked also.

IRISH TROUBLES AT HAGUE.

Suggestion That the Dispute Go Before the Peace Conference.

Dublin, May 17.—The executive committee of the Sein Fein Society, representing advanced Irish Nationalism, considers Mr. Birrell's Irish bill to be an insult to Ireland and wants the Nationalist members of Parliament to withdraw from the House and demand a settlement of the "international dispute between Ireland and England at The Hague conference."

To Discipline Pastor.

New York, May 17.—The trustees of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn, the pastor of which, Rev. Dr. John L. Clark, recently officiated at the marriage of Wm. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, after a meeting Wednesday night, announced that another meeting will be held to-night at which some action regarding the matter will be taken. The meeting Wednesday night was behind closed doors. One of the participants, according to a published statement yesterday, said that Pastor Clark had placed his resignation at the disposal of the board of trustees.

Two Years for Assault.

Brampton, May 17.—At the Spring Assizes here yesterday the trial of Jerry Long of Port Credit, charged with indecent assault on Mrs. Perry of Port Credit, was concluded. The prisoner is only 22 years of age, and although the jury brought in a recommendation to mercy and a strong plea was made in his behalf by Lawyer Hearn of Toronto, Chancellor Boyd regarded the case as a very serious one and, but for the recommendation, would, he said, have imposed a heavier sentence.

Noah Remanded For a Week.

London, Ont., May 17.—Thomas Noah, the Muncey Indian charged with the murder of Absolem Fox at an Indian dance a short time ago, came up for preliminary hearing before Squire Glass yesterday. After several witnesses had been examined, the case was adjourned for one week.

Fatal Automobile Accident.

Boston, May 17.—One person was killed and four others injured in an automobile accident in Somerville yesterday. The dead man is James Broadley of Salem. The injured include two unknown men, one of whom is seriously hurt.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, May 16.—Receipts of live stock at the city market since Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 138 car loads, consisting of 2059 cattle, 2343 hogs, 441 sheep and lambs, with 450 calves.

Exporters.

Prices ranged from $5.15 to $5.50, one load having been sold at the latter figure by Wilson, Maybee & Hall, the bulk selling at $5.20 to $5.30 per cwt. Export bulls sold at $4 to $4.50 per cwt.

Butchers.

Butchers' cattle sold at lower prices in all different classes, excepting those of good to prime quality—for the simple reason that there were too many cattle on sale. Everything being considered, there was a fair trade, however. Prime picked lots sold at $5.10 to $5.25; loads of good at $4.85 to $5; medium at $4.50 to $4.75; common light stuff at $4.25 to $4.50; cows at $3 to $4.60; canners at $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. Murby reports a limited amount of business this week in the stocker and feeder line. The demand was chiefly for thin steers, from 800 to 1050 lbs. The demand seems principally for something that will make a big increase in weight. There were a few loads of short-keeps sold at pretty high prices, but the majority of them were practically shippers.

Mr. Murby bought about 150 head this week at the following prices:

Best short-keeps, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $4.90 to $5.10; fair short-keeps, 1100 to 1200 lbs., $4.75 to $4.90; best feeders, 1000 to 1050 lbs., at $4.25 to $4.60; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $4.10 to $4.40; best feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., at $4 to $4.25; best stockers, 500 to 700 lbs., at $3 to $3.50; common stockers, 500 to 700 lbs., at $2.50 to $3.

Receipts of veal calves were large. Prices ranged from $3 to $6 per cwt., the bulk of the best selling around $5 to $5.50 per cwt.

Streams of White Flowed Along North End Streets

Horse Attached to Metcalfe's Dairy Waggon Ran Away and Caused Considerable Damage—Cats Had Great Time.

There were lively doings in the north end of the city this morning, the cause of the commotion being a runaway which differed to a considerable extent from the ordinary dash for liberty made by the average equine. Gallons of milk spilled along the highway, a milk waggon smashed to pieces, and a man badly jarred as a result of trying to stop the runaway—these were some of the unusual features.

The horse that ran away was attached to Metcalf's dairy waggon, and the man had just started to deliver the lacteal fluid this morning when the trouble occurred. He was filling up his customers' pitchers in the vicinity of Nicholls Oval, when the horse took fright at something and dashed along the road towards the Smith street bridge. Paying no heed to the notice which says that vehicles must not cross the bridge at a pace faster than a walk, the animal came tearing along at a John Gilpin clip, followed Inverlea street to Water, then along Water until Barnardo avenue was reached, along Barnardo to George street, and then up the lane to Mr. A. E. Dixon's property. The horse made a sharp turn in the lane and the waggon was thrown violently against the side of a building and smashed to smithereens. The frightened brute was just turning out on the street again when he was stopped by Mr Wm. Burrell, one of the drivers of E. F. Mason & Co., who was in the vicinity at the time. In stopping the horse Mr. Burrell was thrown to the ground and badly shaken up, but he succeeded in accomplishing the object he had in view— that of stopping the horse, which was just about breaking free from the waggon when he was brought to a standstill.

In the flight of the milk waggon along the streets, the cans of milk were thrown out, and several gallons of the six-cents-per-quart fluid were spilled. Streams of white flowed along the highway, and the cats in the neighborhood, coming to the conclusion that there is no use crying over spilled milk, gathered in force, and licked up as much milk as they could before it sunk into the ground. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good—at least that's what the cats in the north end are meowing today.

The loss, as a result of the runaway will be considerable, as the waggon is practically new and a large amount of milk was spilled.

MORE BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Yesterday six more building permits were issued, including five houses and the new furniture factory. The total amount of the new permits is $9,225. They were as follows,—

Edward Cook, double house on Cricket Place, cost $2,000. Contractor Edward Cook.

Wm. Saxby, summer kitchen and woodshed, cost $125

W. H. G. Armstrong, dwelling on Margaret avenue, cost $2,000.

A. W. Tamblin, dwelling on Edinburgh Street, cost $1,400.

Improvements at City Hotel

Numerous improvements have been made to the City Hotel and this popular hostelry now presents a most attractive appearance. The walls have been re-papered in a most artistic manner, and the painter's brush has brightened things up generally. The "City" is now one of the neatest hotels in the city.

Result of Cow Test at Keene

Interesting Announcement by Department of Agriculture

The work of the testing associations in Canada is steadily on the increase; over fifty, mostly in Ontario and Quebec, will be in operation this year under the direct charge of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa. About eight thousand individual cows are under regular test, the milk being weighed every tenth day, and the composite samples tested every month. Reports are sent monthly to each farmer detailing the total estimated yield of milk and butter fat of each cow whose milk he has weighed and sampled, whether he sends records for five or fifty cows.

At the Spring Creek Association, near Woodstock, Ont., for the thirty days ending April 1st, 75 cows were tested, averaging 688 lbs. of milk testing 3.7 per cent. fat. The lowest yield was 335 lbs. milk, and the highest, 1160 lbs., testing 3.0.

Dixville, Que., month ending April 20, had an average from 116 cows of 372 lbs. milk testing 3.7, the highest yield of any one cow being 750 lbs. testing 3.2. At North Oxford, Ont., 106 cows gave an average yield of 726 lbs., testing 3.2, the most from any single cow being 1725 lbs. testing 3.3. This cow as a two-year old gave over ten thousand pounds in twelve months. She is owned by the secretary of the association there.

St. Prosper, Que., had only 22 cows for the first period ending April 26, with an average of 361 lb. milk, testing 3.5. The number of cows will be largely increased next month.

The first test at Keene, Ont., for the thirty days, ending April 25th, showed an average from 56 cows of 679 lbs. of milk, testing 3.0. The lowest yield was 209 lbs., and the highest 1120, testing 3.4.

The members of the association at East and West Oxford sent in records from 104 cows; average 769 lbs., testing 3.3. The best individual cow here gave 1560 lbs., testing 3.7. One good herd record shows an average from eleven cows of 1124 lbs. milk, testing 3.1, or 35.7 lbs. of fat each.

The Cottagers at Stoney Lake

Mr. R. H. Jackson and Mrs. Wm. Stroud Left for Eel's Creek for the Summer

Mr. Robert H. Jackson, formerly proprietor of the Crown Hotel, and his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Stroud left yesterday for Crow's Landing. They have gone for the summer, and will be the first cottagers to strike the Kawartha Lakes this year. They took with them a large store of provisions, etc., to keep them supplied for several weeks, and as transportation at this time of year, has to be done by horses, it is no easy matter to make many trips. Mr. Jackson will open up his own cottage at Eels Creek and will paddle his stores across the lake. Mrs. Stroud has not been well for a long time, and it is hoped the bracing air of Stoney Lake will soon restore her to her usual good health.

OBITUARY

MISS CREWS.

On Tuesday morning, May 7, 1907, there passed away the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crews of Trenton, Ont. She was born in the township of Murray, Oct. 25th, 1874 where the family lived until April of 1900, when she, with her parents, retired from the farm to live in Trenton. On Dec. 26th of the same year, she married Mr. Sheldon Moran, of the 8th con., Murray, where she resided until her death.

The funeral took place on Thursday at 1.30 p.m., from her late residence to Stockdale Methodist church, where Rev. W. J. Cragg, preached a thoughtful sermon on the subject of "Death." Her body was laid to rest in the Mt. Evergreen cemetery, at Trenton in certain hope of resurrection glory. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides a sorrowing husband, her parents, one brother, J. W. Crews, on the old homestead, and one sister, Mrs (Rev) Geo. Nickle of Warsaw.

Trouble at Fire Hall is Settled

Ald Johnston, chairman of the fire water and light committee, has arranged for caretakers for the firemen's bed rooms. For a day or two it looked as if the boys would create trouble, because no one had been appointed to make the beds. Ald Johnston has, however, arranged with the drivers, who are always around the hall to look after that work.

Freight Sheds for Grand Trunk

Will be Erected in the Near Future—Lower Grade on Lakefield Line in the Fall

It was rumored on the street last night that the Grand Trunk Railway Co. was about to call for tenders for new freight sheds to be erected here. It was stated that the company had purchased more land on Aylmer street, south of King, and would put up big sheds close to the street.

Upon making enquiry at the G.T.R. offices this morning it was learned that there was nothing in the rumor. So far as is known by the officials here, the company has no thought of purchasing anymore land and there is no talk yet of calling for tenders for the sheds. The company does intend building new and larger sheds for the accommodation of the increasing freight traffic, but the sheds will not be moved down Aylmer street. At present it is intended that the J. J. McBain warehouse be removed, and the new building put up there.

Asked about reducing the grade on the Lakefield line at the north end of the city, the G.T.R. official stated that it was not likely anything would be done until fall. The work has been under consideration for more than a year, and when it is completed it will mean a saving of several minutes in the time going to the village on the lake. But the company has many large contracts ahead of it, which must be done before touching the smaller ones.

Western Harvest Will be all Right

Winnipeg, May 16.—Senator W. D. Perley, Wolseley, Sask., one of the most successful farmers in Western Canada, does not believe that the backward season gives any cause for uneasiness. In a letter to the Telegram, he says;—

"I know on the Perley farm, we will seed the last acre we intended to, in wheat, having an abiding faith, based on experience and observation of 47 years of farm life, that the harvest will come off all O.K.

"I have always noticed that we have had a growing season of sufficient length to ripen the crop, provided the farmer was ready, as they are this season, to seed the land as soon as the natural conditions were favorable.

"Some of the wheat is now well sprouted, and will be as far advanced as that sown in former years at a much earlier date."

VISITING FEMALE GOT ON A SPREE

And Created Some Excitement at the G.T.R. Station

Two drunk and disorderly cases were tried by His Worship at the police court today.

Mary Slattery of Ottawa, who accompanies her husband around the country repairing umbrellas, was arrested last evening. She was drunk at the G.T.R. station. Boys and girls in that vicinity were teasing her and she was using profane language. His Worship allowed her to go, and the last seen of her, she was searching the city for her husband.

Robert Morrison, who was fined yesterday morning for being drunk, appeared again this morning. He was found intoxicated last evening. He felt pretty "sore" to think he had to spend another night in the cells.

"You here again!" asked His worship. "You will have to pay five dollars this time."

Morrison had lots of money and handed out a five, but His Worship replied that for cash down the tax would only be two dollars. Morrison said the city would never get any more of his money.

PICTURES NOT OBJECTIONABLE

Those Depicting Thaw Case Pass Police Censor Without Trouble

Pictures of the famous Thaw case are now being shown at the Colloseum on George Street. Owing to the interference of the police when the pictures were exhibited in some other cities, the management of the Colloseum invited Chief Rozzel and Mayor McWilliams to see them before they were shown to the public. Accordingly the Chief and the Mayor saw the pictures thrown on the canvas yesterday afternoon, and were agreed that there was nothing objectionable in them, and that they might be shown the public. Had either the Chief or the Mayor been doubtful of the advisability of allowing the pictures to be exhibited they would not have been put on. So the management of the Colloseum make it their policy that the tone of their entertainments shall be above reproach.

RECIPROCITY THE THEME.

Hon. R. F. Sutherland Takes Issue With Ex.-Sec. Shaw.

New York, May 17.—In an extemporaneous address delivered last night at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club of New York Hon. R. F. Sutherland, Speaker in the Canadian House of Commons, took issue with Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury, who had preceded him as a speaker, and declared substantially that Canada had determined upon a tariff policy that would be of a nature retaliatory toward the United States. Mr. Shaw had addressed himself to the subject of "Reciprocity." His remarks were listened to by more than three hundred guests present at the banquet, which was held in the great ball room of the Hotel Astor. He had declared in effect that reciprocity between Canada and the United States was impossible and undesirable. He had stated further that he believed Canada and the United States would "settle down to the policy of maintaining one-priced markets"; that they would maintain such tariffs as would best conserve their own interests, but would then treat all outsiders with equal consideration.

It looks as if the Government intends to spend some of the $740,000 of the appropriation made for the canal around Campbellford this summer, remarks the Despatch. On Monday a party of surveyors arrived in town and have been staking levels above and below the town. The citizens have been most anxious to have the dam constructed at Crow Bay and in order to secure this Mr. A. A. Mulholland went to Ottawa on Tuesday to interview the Government. REV. J. G. POTTER READ REPORT

On Young People's Societies—Address for Rev. Peter Duncan

Toronto, May 16.—The Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston concluded its annual session in St James' Square church yesterday, and adjourned to meet in the same place on May .., 1908. Suitable recognition was given at the closing to the fact that the moderator, Rev. Peter Duncan, had completed 60 years' service in the Presbyterian ministry, and a committee was appointed to prepare an address, which will be engrossed and presented to him at the meeting of the Peterborough Synod in September.

On motion of Principal MacLaren the following committee was appointed to prepare an address for the moderator, congratulating him on his 60 years' service in the ministry. Rev. Dr. Turnbull, Rev. J. G. Potter, Peterborough; Rev. J W Mitchell, Bancroft, and the mover. The address will be engrossed and presented at the meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery, when the latter body will also take action to commemorate the occasion.

WORK OF YOUNG PEOPLE

The report of the committee on Young People's Societies was presented by Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough. It showed the existence of 76 Christian Endeavor Societies; 95 Young People's Societies and Guilds; 10 Young Men's Brotherhoods, and 35 in other forms. About 70 per cent. of the young people contributed to missions, and in many cases they supported local interests or philanthropic movements. Rev. Dr. D. McTavish suggested that the work of the Young People's Societies should be amalgamated with that of the Sabbath schools as has been done in the Methodist church, and a motion by Rev. J. B. Fraser, commending this idea to the favorable consideration of the General Assembly, was carried. Rev. Dr W. S. McTavish, thought, however, it was only a matter of organization and unification, to bring the Presbyterian young people to the high position occupied by the Methodists.

Granted Salvation Army Band $150 and 57th Regiment $500

Upon Same Conditions as Last Year—License Given Merry-go-round for Four Months for $40—Finance Committee Met.

There should be no lack of band music in the city this summer. If money will pay for it, there should be all kinds of band concerts, as the Finance Committee last night decided to recommend the council to grant $650 for this purpose. The Salvation Army band, which asked for a grant of $200, was given $150, the same as last year and under the same conditions. The 57th Regimental band received its usual grant of $500. In return it is to give thirteen concerts at least during the summer. If on Friday night they have to postpone the concert, it will have to be given another night.

The next matter taken up, was in connection with providing amusement for the children. An application was sent in for a license for a merry-go-round on the market square. The bylaw calls for $20 the first week, and $10 a week thereafter. This the applicant considered far too much, and requested that it be reduced to a reasonable amount. The committee considered it carefully and then decided to recommend the Council to amend the bylaw so as to make provision for a license for a merry-go-round for four months for forty dollars.

Some time ago, a small boy was sent to the Industrial School at Mimico, and he has been at the expense of the city. The committee thought, however, that the lad's father was able to pay for at least part of his maintenance. The City Solicitor's opinion was sought in the matter and his answer was received last night. Steps will now be taken to collect all or part of the cost of keeping the boy at the school, from his father.

Jos. Gray Bought Property; Will Erect a Shingle Mill

Land Lies Back of Green Foundry and Fronts on Donegal, Park and Gilchrist Streets—Will Manufacture Lath and Shingles, etc.—Building a House Now.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago Mr. G. Walter Green asked for the privilege of building his new machine shop on a portion of Gilchrist street and Mr. Quinlan fought the request, and the council did not grant it. Mr. Quinlan has sold the property to Mr. Jos. Gray the deal going through yesterday, and Mr. Gray paid a good price for it. The property fronts on Donegal street, Gilchrist street and Park street, and contains 11 building lots, and the old dam, known as White's dam. Part of the property is where Mr. Gus Sawyers woollen mills stood years ago.

Mr Gray has taken possession of the land and has started excavation on the north east corner for a residence. He will also put up a good substantial building, to be used for the manufacture of laths, shingles, etc. and it is rumored that eventually a coal and wood yard will be added.

At the present time Mr. Gray anticipates reconstructing the dam and utilizing the creek to furnish power for his mills.

Lemon Club is in Full Swing in Peterborough

Are you a member of the Lemon Club?

If not, be careful, for in all probability some of your friends will entice you to join. There is no riding of the goat or going through the mill as an initiation. The proceedings are quite simple. This is ceedings are quite simple.

This is how it is done; Your friend meets you on the street, or perhaps your office boy comes in about noon hour, with a woebegone expression on his face.

"Say have you ten cents on you, or if it is the office boy, "Mister can you spare ten cents?"

The desired piece of coin is produced. Your friend puts it in his pocket and forthwith you are made a member of the club in the following words;

"You are now a member of the Lemon Club, and the password is 'Stung.'"

You then have the privilege of getting others to join.

The club has only been in existence in Peterborough a few hours but the membership is going up in leaps and bounds. A Hunter street business man was working hard to increase the membership today and as high as 25 cents was paid for the privilege of joining.

But few of the members have made a howl about joining. Nearly everyone joins in good humor and immediately sets about getting his ten cents back and stinging some one else.

The officers are to be elected shortly and the following certificate of membership given.;

"You are now a member of the Lemon Club. The password is stung. "'Tis better to give than to receive".

Lacrosse Team for Australia May Play in Peterborough

On the Day Before Starting—June 4th Day They Leave—John C. Miller Received Fifteen Tickets Around the World—Trip is Assured.

Yesterday Mr. Miller received a cable from Australia, cabling him the funds for fifteen tickets around the world. The arrangements made provide for the leave-taking on June 4. On the day previous the team will play its first game and their opponents may be either Peterborough, or Newmarket, or Beaverton.

The list of players which Mr. Miller gives out as likely to take the trip is as follows: Jack Kearns, Arthur; Bobby Gilbert and Atton, Toronto Junction; Doc Campbell, Fred Coombe, and Vic Graham of Bradford; Arens and Jack Curren of Orillia; Bill Hanley, Stratford; Tommy Doyle, Newmarket; Tom Hanley, Midland; Frank Grace, Arnprior; Sport Murton, Tecumsehs; Gordon McDonald, Port Arthur; and Leslie Backus, Shelburne.

It is just a question whether Murton will not choose rather to cast in his lot again with the Tecumsehs.

The team will be well supplied with goal-keepers. Atton of the Junction, Arens of Orillia, Bill Hanley, formerly of Toronto, and Backus, of Shelburne, are in the list. Most of these chaps though, can do stunts out in the field as well as in the nets.

They leave Orillia on June 4th, on the 4.10 train, play at Port Arthur, on June 6, arrive in Winnipeg, on June 7, and play the Winnipeg team on June 8. They leave Winnipeg, at 9.30 p.m., June 8, arrive in Regina June 9th, and play there on the 10th. On the 11th they play Moosejaw, and Calgary on the 13th, New Westminster on the 15th, Vancouver on the 18th and Victoria on the 20th. They sail from Victoria on the 21st of June, arriving at Honolulu on the 29th where a day will be spent. The next call will be Suava, Fiji islands, on July 9, where another day will be spent there seeing the natives.

The tourists will arrive at Brisbane, Australia, on July 14. Fourteen games will be played in Australia, the principal ones being with Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Perth and Hobarttown.

BURNING RUBBISH

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I saw by your yesterday's paper that a correspondent asks why the police do not stop the nuisance of burning rubbish in our back yards. A more serious reason why it should be stopped is that it attracts children who take great risks in piling on paper and rubbish to see the blaze. Only this forenoon I saw a child narrowly escape from his little inflammable shirt waist taking fire, which would have resulted in his being seriously if not fatally burned.

Yours, etc.,
CAUTION

THE TURF

The owners are to drive their own horses, half-mile heats, best three in five. The race will be run Saturday afternoon at the Driving Park at two o'clock. Great interest is being taken by the horsemen in this race, and it should prove very exciting.

RACE WEEK ATTRACTION

The Toronto Press Club Has a Strong Production at the Princess.

The theatrical attraction which will draw most attention in Toronto during the spring race meet is the production of "The Importance of Being Earnest," an English comedy that is to be seen at the Princess Theatre on May 30, 31, and June 1. The Toronto Press Club is producing the play with Mr. Douglas A. Paterson and Mr. Robert Stuart Pigott as the leading men. Both are seasoned actors of prominence on the American stage, and are supported by a very competent cast, including Miss Berneice Parker, a well-known artist. The play will be preceded by "Gringore, the Ballad Monger" a clever playlet illustrating the times of Louis XI. of France. The Press Club's annual theatrical performance has become a social function of great importance in Toronto, and the coming production promises to exceed its predecessors in artistic quality. On Friday night, the officers of the Canadian Press Association will receive their fellow craftsmen from all over the province.

Birrell Bill an Insult to Ireland

Sein Fein Society Wants Irish Troubles Referred to Hague Court

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—You are always fair to everybody, Mr. Editor, or try to be, and I want you to publish this account of "Birrell's Blunder," as it is called in Ireland. Ever since Mr. Gladstone became a champion of the Irish cause, we have all expected help from the Liberals in getting Ireland's difficulties settled fairly, but as you see by this extract, it has all come to nothing. The Liberals after getting Irish support for twenty-one years have betrayed the trust put in them. The Tories never promised more than they intended to give, and if Ireland had accepted Balfour's measure, she would now be just so far ahead, instead of being in despair. Bannerman and Birrell got frightened and their names will go down to history for what they are worth. Yours, etc.,

JUSTICE.

Dublin, May 16.—The executive committee of the Sein Fein Society, representing advanced Irish Nationalism, considers Mr. Birrell's Irish Bill to be an insult to Ireland, and wants the Nationalist members of parliament to withdraw from the House and demand a settlement of the "international dispute between Ireland and England," by the Hague Arbitration Court. It is also suggested that the programme published today by the organ of the Nationalist party be placed in the form of a resolution to be adopted by the executive committee of the Irish National Council. In it the Irishmen "Who have attended the British parliament for the past twenty-one years to support the British Liberals," are invited to return to Dublin, and devise measures for the material betterment of Ireland, and securing international recognition and support of Ireland's political rights. As the first step towards, which she should claim representation at the coming peace conference and a settlement of the international dispute between Ireland and England by the international court of arbitration."

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Mr. Aylesworth and Port Hope

"Has it ever occurred to you," said a prominent Liberal to the Port Hope Times, "that Mr. Aylesworth's injustice to Port Hope may be due to reasons other than the miserable spite that is usually attributed to him?"

The Times confessed that it had not, and the Liberal went on to expound the following interesting theory.

"Well, at the next Dominion elections, if the constituency had been fairly treated by the Government it seems to me that the Liberal party would have had little difficulty in electing a Liberal member for Durham. It was reported that Mr. Ward would not be the Conservative candidate at the next election. In that case the chances of the Liberals would have been enormously increased, for undoubtedly, Mr. Ward is the strongest candidate that could be produced in Durham. He is known everywhere, and even we Liberals admit that he is justly popular and has made an able and worthy representative of the riding. With Mr. Ward out of the way, with the addition of new voters that have recently come into the constituency, with the prestige of the Government and with the enthusiastic work and general gratitude that would have resulted from fair treatment of the constituency by the Government, a Liberal victory would have been easy. But it is my opinion that a Liberal victory in Durham is just what Mr. Aylesworth did not want. He is a conceited man, and he probably does not want any other Liberal to carry a constituency where he was defeated himself. It would reflect upon him. And so Mr. Aylesworth has made a Liberal victory in Durham impossible for years to come. The disgraceful treatment of Port Hope by the Government has disgusted the party, and instead of a Liberal victory it is very doubtful whether any leading Liberal will now consent to be a candidate. Mr. Aylesworth has certainly had his revenge upon Port Hope, and he has also made it certain that the constituency that defeated him will not elect any other Liberal. That is probably what he wanted. What is your opinion?"

The Times agreed that the theory was not unlikely.

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M. J. Dabbruzz

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary J. Dabbruz, of 150 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had hot flushes, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart; in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

"I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; but I date my relief from the time I took the first bottle. I gradually improved, nature took her course painlessly, and in due time I was a well woman."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

CAPT. HURD WILL GIVE ADDRESSES

At S. A. Barracks To-morrow Night and on Sunday—Brig. Hargrave in City

Brigadier Hargrave, of Montreal, is at the S. A. Barracks today, on his way to Campbellford, where he gives an address tonight. He came here from Tweed, where he was conducting meetings. The brigadier says the steamship "Southwark" is on its way out from the Old Country with 1,200 immigrants. They nearly all have situations awaiting them and will go to work on their arrival.

Capt. Hurd, the financial secretary of the Army in Ontario, arrives here tomorrow. He will give an address at the Barracks tomorrow night on "A Father's Care," illustrated with 50 stereopticon views. He will also give addresses at all meetings on Sunday.

Bridge Works for Campbellford

On Monday, May 27th, Campbellford ratepayers will vote on a bylaw to authorize the corporation to issue debentures to the amount of $15,000 for the purpose of granting a bonus by way of a loan to James Dickson and George T. Dickson, of the town of Campbellford, manufacturers, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, to aid them in the erection of suitable buildings for the manufacture of steel bridges and other structural work.

A Magistrate Investigates Zam-Buk

SAYS IS A WONDERFUL HEALER AND DOES MORE THAN IS CLAIMED FOR IT.

Probably no household remedy in existence has won such glowing tributes from people in high places as has Zam-Buk. Mr. Roger F. Perry, Justice of the Peace for British Columbia, recently tested this famous balm, and this is what he says of it;

"The Pavilion,
"Goldfields, B.C.

"To the Zam-Buk Co.;

"Gentlemen.—After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for.

"I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in their home. It truly does even more than you claim for it. For my own part I would not now be without it in the house.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Roger F. Perry.
Justice of the Peace for B.C.",

Zam-Buk differs from ordinary salves and embrocations, for while these mostly contain animal oils and fat, Zam-Buk is purely herbal. It closes and heals cuts, festering sores, ulcers, eruptions, boils, eczema, chafing sores, etc. In the household it is the handiest possible remedy for burns, scalds, and children's injuries. It instantly cleanses any wound to which it is applied; prevents festering, inflammation or blood poison. It cures piles, varicose ulcers and fistula. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

Quebec is to have a visit this summer from Prince Fushimi, of Japan, a cousin of the Mikado.

Havelock Boy Had Accident

Ladder Fell and Broke His Leg—Court Case Thrown Out—Sporting Notes

Havelock, May 10.—Oscar Cole, the five year old son of Mr. William Cole, Alexander street, met with a very serious accident on Friday last. He was playing with some other children, when one of them ran into a ladder which was placed against the house, and being in a very loose position, it fell over, striking the unfortunate lad on the leg and breaking it in two places. The little fellow will be laid up for some time, although he is doing as well as can be expected.

WEDDING BELLS

CROUKE—ENGLISH

A Caughnawagha correspondent writes:—On Tuesday the home of Mr. Ed. English was visited by a very pleasing event when his sister Margaret was united in matrimony to Mr. William Crouke, of Ennismore, by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, in St. Paul's church, Norwood, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Father Conway, and Rev. Father Bretherton, of Hastings. The bride was assisted by her cousin, Miss Julia O'Bonnell, of Peterborough, while Mr. Richard Hickson, of Ennismore, filled the position of best man. The wedding party which consisted of only the immediate friends of the contracting parties drove to Mr. Ed. English's to share in the elegant repast which was prepared for the occasion. The presents were both costly and numerous, among which was $50 from her mother and $60 from several others.

EMPIRE DAY

Next Thursday, May 23rd, will be Empire Day.

Too little attention has been given in the past to our national holidays such as Empire Day, Victoria Day and Dominion Day, and consequently our boys and girls have not today the enthusiastic appreciation of the great events which these days commemorate, that they should have, and that would be of lasting advantage to our country. Canadians generally have up to the present time allowed their minds to become so fully engrossed with their own private affairs and other things that comparatively little time has been given by the great body of the people to the study of the extent, the history, the possibilities and the need of the Dominion. The effect is apparent in the wonder expressed whenever some one who can speak with authority on such matters furnishes new information about some hitherto very meagrely known portion of our country. Not having the necessary knowledge of the vast extent of the Dominion and its wonderful resources and untold possibilities, there is not to be seen among the people the intelligent and robust type of patriotism which makes a country great in the eyes of the outside world, because the citizens can give a good and sufficient reason for the faith that is in them.

Much of this is because our boys and girls leave the public schools and higher educational institutions without the knowledge they should possess of the history and geography of their native land.

PEN POINTS

The broken rail which caused the wreck near Guelph a few weeks ago has so far cost the Grand Trunk Railroad eight thousand dollars cash in settlement of damage suits. Eight thousand dollars would go a long way toward securing rigid track inspection and probably prevent loss of life and injury to limb.

Judge Winchester suggests that that clergymen who wished to perform marriages should register with the Provincial Secretary after satisfying himself of their qualifications and ordination. Then he could issue a certificate to each preacher, and so there could be no confusion or misunderstanding.

With the position taken by the Toronto News last week, in heartily congratulating the Ontario Government for its attitude touching local option, and its general enforcement of the Liquor Law, we are in entire sympathy. In many ways of late that Government has shown a strong desire to give a just and reasonable interpretation and enforcement of the law, and has revealed a spirit quite amenable to the wishes and convictions of the better portion of the community.—Christian Guardian.

The Toronto man who would not move on because he happened to be talking to a bank president, probably made one of the mistakes of his life. A well known and deservedly esteemed clergyman once made the same mistake there. It was the patrol wagon for his, and conviction in court, even though it was admitted that the policeman had taken him for a priest and not for a parson. Respectable members of the community may have to swallow their pride occasionally, observes the Ottawa Journal, in presence of the over-bearing police officer, but while he is on his beat he is properly its master. To question this theory in practice, is to set a bad example to the "lower classes" and to invite humiliation for yourself.

Speaking of the necessity of dairy inspection and a pure supply of milk the Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:—The Board of Health recently inspected 19 dairies in this vicinity, having 168 cows, and on the whole reported favorably. Yet reading between the lines it seems as though the Board has not gone far enough. We must have the utmost cleanliness and ventilation. Milk is a general household necessity, and is one of the most dangerous things that can be taken into the system. Disease and death lurk around its trail and for this reason the utmost care should be taken. We are pleased to know that our dairies are well kept. The Provincial Board of Health is active and passing more stringent laws every year, and giving instructions that must be carried out. We think the local Board should make more frequent visits and at irregular times, so that at all times the places from which we receive our milk may be kept scrupulously clean and well ventilated.

The nominal Minister of Public Works is described as a nervous wreck. But he will soon have the editors of Government organs as much a nervous wreck as he is. After three alleged attempts Mr. Hyman has got himself out of Parliament, but the Government, which was in a great hurry to call on the bye-election in the middle of the winter, is now in no hurry at all. Mr. Hyman, a few months ago, desired to be a candidate. He wrote to his friends in London to have everything ready. Now there is a change of programme, and Mr. Hyman, who once started for Canada, turned back at the frontier. Some say he is going to England, and one report had him already on the other side of the Atlantic. Some say he is off for Japan. Others insist that he is still in California. Meanwhile Mr. Fisher has been acting for Mr. Hyman as Minister of Public Works. Now he, too, has gone, and the job is farmed out to Mr. Aylesworth.—Kingston News.

Mr. Fielding, explaining the iron and steel bounties which he increased and continued, argued that a larger part of the $8,000,000 in the last nine years came back to the treasury through customs and other taxes. He showed that the revenues greatly increased in the iron and steel towns and ports, and this increase he attributes to the growth of manufactories under bounty encouragement. It is familiar protection argument, but strongly condemns Mr. Fielding's financial statements. Few people know that Mr. Fielding's statements of current public expenditure do not include bounty payments. Mr. Fielding's defence of this suppression is that the bounty is an extraordinary expenditure. So he charges it to capital as though the Government were buying a railroad or some other asset while he admits that the late Government charged this expenditure as regular current outlay. Now Mr. Fielding contends that he is getting back into the treasury through the customs and excise departments about all he pays in bounties. He claims these proceeds as regular revenue, while refusing to charge the bounties as regular expenditure. It is a "heads I win, tails you lose" programme, and has added a bogus $8,000,000 to the alleged surplus.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Peterboro' as Seen by an Old Boy After 20 Years Absence

A Reminiscence of By-gone Days by One Who Spent His Boyhood in This City—The Changes That Have Been Wrought by the Flight of Time.

Readers of the Review will read with interest the following racy article written by Mr. A. D. Browne, of Chicago, an old Peterborough boy who visited here for a few days a short time ago:—

Years are so long and changes so certain that the writer naturally was prepared for some of the transformations that presented themselves to view on his arrival in this grand old town on May 4th, after an absence of twenty years, but time had worked such marked and pronounced wonders that at first it was hard to realize that this really was the "home sweet home" of his earlier days. Here and there on the way up town from the depot an old land mark was visible, the old creek was still flowing, a face that seemed familiar yet changed, would appear standing in a doorway—yet it did not seem like the old place. A new generation had sprung up; once familiar signs over the stores were now replaced by others not known to the visitor, and when the corner was turned and the carriage headed up George street, the transformation was almost complete. While there is always cause for rejoicing at the onward march of progress in the mercantile world, yet the giant strides that have been made in Peterborough were almost enough to cause a pang of regret, for dear old associations have ever and always will have a place in the heart of every Canadian who loves the land of his nativity, no matter where he may roam, and I must confess that for the moment I was sorry they were gone. But they were not all gone, for on looking out of the window on my journey up the old familiar street where I spent so many very happy hours, I saw a few old names over the door lintels that brought me back to the unforgotten past. These were Ben Shortly, C. B. Routley, John Nugent, Adam Hall, Wesley Miller, John Howden, Robert Fair, Morning Times, Examiner, China Hall—that's all.

A carriage ride on Monday morning was really the awakening of airy day dreams I may have had as to the rip van winkle stories that had lodged in my brain about the lack of a progressive spirit amongst the people. Almost on every side were evidences of thrift and broad, grand commercialism. Large and costly manufacturing industries had sprung up giving employment to hundreds of skilled and unskilled men and women, houses had been erected, schools theatres, the cereal mills, Edison works, old places remodelled—yes, even the the birds that carrolled their songs from the trees of your Canadian woodland seemed to have caught the inspiration and sung the same old songs in a sweeter strain.

I had almost forgotten to say that you were to be complimented on the determination you have manifested in so many ways to make your city a shining light in the Province of Ontario by the commencement of the new Collegiate Institute and the armoury. The old drill shed naturally belongs to the past, although it served its purpose in its day. Here is the spot that at one time I thought was the home of all that was grand and noble in military life. If its old walls could speak they could tell some great yarns. In walking over the grounds I had the pleasure of meeting my old captain, Mr. William Langford, who is now retired with the rank of Major I believe. He told me that he had quit militia life some four years ago, and was at present engaged in erecting the new institute. I noticed at the time that while he was engaged in building a hall of fame where future generations will be taught wisdom, that he still was very close to the old army home and was practically "tenting to-night on the old camp ground." If he succeeds (and I believe he will) in putting the same disciplinary care into the erection of the school as he did in his duties as captain in the old shed adjoining when the "frost was on the pumpkin," the citizens will have nothing to fear, and will surely have a structure that will stand for ages.

I would like to go on indefinitely and tell you further of my impressions, but knowing that space is valuable I will have to cut out any additional "reminiscences" of my pleasant visit at least for the present. In closing I simply wish to say that as years go on and time wings her way in the flight to eternity, I will always look back on the "dear old friends of yore," and ever keep the fires of comradeship burning as long as the woodbox of memory lasts.

AN ATTRACTIVE GOWN FOR A MISS.

The popularity of the guimpe and over-blouse costume extends to the young girl as well as to the little maid and perhaps is quite as charming on the young mademoiselle as upon her younger sister. The gown shown is of very simple style without other adornment than two outward-turning tucks at the shoulder which broaden the shoulder line and increase the front fulness, but the unusual outline of the neck and the sleeve caps to correspond give the gown an individual style. A choice of two lengths are allowed in the sleeve and the band flounces on the skirt may be used if desired. The skirt is a three-piece one fitting the hips smoothly and rippling widely about the feet. For serge, mohair, pongee or brash the design would prove pleasing and smart. The medium size calls for 3 7-8 yards of 44 inch material without the skirt flounces; the guimpe needing 2 1-4 yards of 36 inch goods.

Y.W.C.A. Gymnasts Gave Exhibition

Closing Exercises Again Greeted by Large Audience—An Interesting Programme

The Y.M.C.A. gymnasium was again filled last evening on the occasion of the second presentation of the closing exercises of the gymnasium classes of the Y.W.C.A. A great many people who were unable to attend two weeks ago, availed themselves of the second opportunity and turned out in large numbers. That they were pleased was amply proven by the applause which greeted each number on the programme. Every seat was taken, and some were forced to stand throughout the performance. The great interest which the citizens have shown in the work of the Y.M.C.A. must indeed be very gratifying to the management. It must also be encouraging to the physical directress, Miss Coventry, to see that her work has won much admiration from the friends of the institution. The excellent manner in which the drills and marches were given, and the graceful movements of the members of the different classes reflect credit on the instruction imparted by their instructress. Miss Coventry was again made the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of carnations.

The programme was the same last night as at the initial performance with the exception of the musical part. Miss Rannie acted as accompaniste in her usual excellent manner. Mr. Hague Sawers' splendid baritone voice was heard to excellent advantage in a well rendered solo. He was compelled to respond to an encore. Miss W. Gumpricht favored with a well rendered piano solo. Miss Manning contributed a most enjoyable vocal solo, and the Misses Wallis and Burnett, who are always favorites with Peterborough audiences, gave a pleasing vocal duet, which was well received.

The drills and exercises were the same as given before. In addition to these Miss Coventry and Miss Hamilton, physical directress of the Kingston Y.W.C.A., gave a fencing act. This was the feature of the evening's proceedings, and was loudly applauded. The different movements were performed very gracefully and are above criticism. The senior class were seen in dumb-bell and wand drills, club swinging and fancy steps, all of which showed the result of careful, faithful training. The lantern drill by the senior class, who carried lanterns, was exceedingly well given. Particular mention must be made of the Japanese fan drill. The ladies attired in Japanese costumes, and carrying large fans, presented the prettiest scene on the programme. The twenty froggies, who sang in chorus, created much amusement. The junior classes also presented many interesting exercises. In fact all the events were exceptionally good and were well worth seeing.

The following is the programme;—

Dumb Bells—Seniors.
Sailor Drill and Chorus—Juniors.
Vocal Solo, selected—Mr. Sawers.
Wand Drill—Seniors.
Twenty Froggies and Chorus—Children.
Piano Solo, selected—Miss Gumpricht.
Fencing—Miss Hamilton and Miss Coventry.
Lantern Drill—Seniors.
Wand Drill—Juniors.
Club Swinging—Seniors.
Fancy Steps—Juniors and Seniors.
Vocal Solo—Miss Manning.
Dumb Bells—Juniors.
Violin Duet—Misses M. Burnett and K. Wallis.
Japanese Fan Drill—Seniors.
God Save the King.

The management of the Y.W.C.A. are again indebted to Mr. G. H. Williamson for kindly allowing the use of the gymnasium.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE WIFE."

"The Wife," a novel comedy drama, was presented at the Grand Opera House last night by the Tom Marks Dramatic Co., and pleased the large audience. The story differed from that ordinarily told on the stage, inasmuch as there was no dyed-in-the-wool villain, no rival lovers, no jealous sweethearts, no shooting, and no rough stuff generally. The plot was a simple one yet its unfolding involved many humorous situations, many bright remarks that linger with the auditor, and a moral that has often been brought out before—that a person should not marry out of his or her station in life. Tom Marks as Josiah Hedges, a typical backwoods farmer, was all to the good, and was given an enthusiastic reception. He is a comedian of more than average ability, and always seemed to fit in to perfection. The support from the other members of the company was excellent and the specialties, were exceedingly entertaining.

Tonight the attraction is the new Irish play "Shamus O'Brien," and a rare treat is promised. There will be a matinee tomorrow afternoon, the play being "Little Red Riding Hood." The company closes its engagement tomorrow night.

Hamilton laborers are to receive 20 cents per hour.

Honest People Tell Their Experiences. Spring,—the Time to Cure Catarrh.

Mr. J. Q. Craig, a well-known athlete, whose home address is Bridgeton, N. J., writes from the Hotel Donavin, Delaware, Ohio, as follows:

"I can say of Peruna that, as a tonic for the spring of the year, it is the best for athletes, and as such I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Peruna does not fail to prevent the lassitude and languor incident to the approach of warm weather, if taken in time.

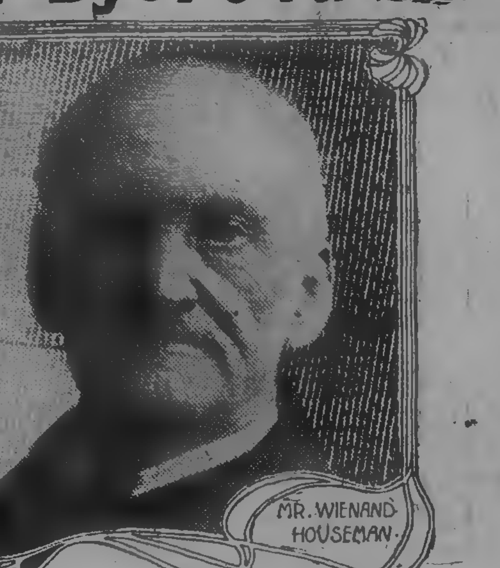
Mr. Wienand Houseman, a prominent and aged citizen of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is the inventor of a number of implements of modern warfare. He writes:

"For several years past, I and my family used your Peruna as a tonic and for the purification of the system in general and find that it is an excellent medicine to restore weak nerves to a healthy condition."

MRS. JOHNIE MILLS

MR. J. Q. CRAIG

MRS. A. S. RUCKER



MR. WIENAND HOUSEMAN

Mrs. John E. Mills, 36 Mulberry St., Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh since I was ten years old. At times my head troubled me so that I was obliged to stay in a dark room. Nothing helped me and my physician said I could never be cured.

"I began taking Peruna this spring and find myself greatly benefited by it. I have not had an attack since I took my first bottle. I think in time it will cure me. It has already improved my appetite and my general health and I have gained twenty pounds, in three months.

"I have recommended it to several of my friends, who also find it very beneficial. I advise any one troubled with catarrh to use Peruna."

Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 1824 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I wish to tell you what Peruna has done for me. In the spring of 1902 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up. I was alarmed at my condition.

"I had a bad cough for some time and I tried several cough medicines, but grew worse all the time. I knew if I did not get relief, I would soon go into consumption.

"So I decided to try Peruna. I had confidence in it before I took it and found it was just the medicine I needed, for in a short time my cough ceased and my strength returned.

"I have enjoyed better health since taking it than I had for several years previous."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Correct Remedy.

Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring

This course of treatment is no experiment. It has helped thousands. Why should it not help you?

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mr. Warren M. Taylor, 1216 8th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who, in a recent letter, writes:

"I suffered from a general feeling of lassitude, with occasional creeping chills, followed sometimes by fever and billousness.

"I suffered this way for about seven years.

"Last spring I began using Peruna and followed the instructions as set forth in one of Dr. Hartman's booklets which I picked up in a drug store and to my great joy I noticed that within a week I was nearly cured.

"At the end of two months I was entirely cured and feel as though I have a new lease of life."

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective.

A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will often relieve old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease.

It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now Is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, lest her struggles be in vain.

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly 1st Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I brought forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peruna.

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peruna and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peruna for catarrhal affections and as a tonic for their weakening effects."—Geo. M. Fillmore.

A short course of Peruna now will be just in time. During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments.

After you have tried it you will say Peruna is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

A great many years of extensive trials of this remedy in this class of derangements have demonstrated its efficiency.

Numerous Testimonials.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh, and put them on a good, solid foundation of health.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

FIGHT RESULTED IN BROKEN LEG

Harry Raymond Alleged to be Assailant of Charlie Stevens

A fight, which was rather serious in its results occurred last evening, between seven and eight o'clock at a junk yard in east city. As a result of the scuffle one young man is now confined to his bed with a badly broken leg, and will not be able to be around for about six weeks.

It appears that Charlie Stevens, the sixteen year old son of Mr. Geo. Stevens was driving into the junk yard off Hunter street with a load of rags and Harry Raymond, who, it is alleged, committed the trouble grabbed the whip from Stevens' waggon and hit the horse a crack. Young Stevens knowing that his horse was a rather spirited animal jumped out to seize it by the neck, in order to prevent a runaway. He also hit Raymond a slap in the face for striking his horse. Raymond, it is said, then knocked Stevens down and jumped on him, bearing his whole weight on his limb and breaking it badly between the ankle and the knee. Mr. Geo. Stevens, on finding out what was the matter, hurried to his son's assistance. Seeing the seriousness of his son's injuries he went quickly to telephone for Dr. Bradd, who soon arrived and the injured boy was taken to his home on Douro street, where his injuries were attended to. The police were also notified and a policeman was soon on the scene and Raymond was arrested and brought to the police station. It is said that Raymond went at the injured man again while his father was away telephoning and but, for a man who was standing by, would have likely added to his already serious injuries. Mr. Stevens stated this morning that had his son had a fair chance he could have whipped his opponent.

Harry Raymond, in the police court, today, pleaded not guilty to the charge of assaulting and inflicting bodily injury to Charlie Stevens. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the prisoner. In this case he will have to make an election as to how he will be tried. He did not elect this morning. Raymond was remanded for one week. The Crown was not ready to proceed with the case as Charlie Stevens is the chief witness, and he will not be able to be out for some time.

Bail for Harry Raymond was fixed at $500, two sureties of $250 each. No one as yet has offered to go bail for him.

Enormous Trade Done in Wheat

New York, May 17.—The stock market was again quiet today, watching the wild movements in wheat, which caused short selling and some liquidation and also deterred investment to some extent. The street is in a waiting position, where it will probably remain until something definite and important gets the market out of its rut. Developments indicate that the trading position should be maintained along the lines heretofore recommended.

A drive at the shorts in C.P.R. carried that issue up from 170 3-4 to 175, but part of the gain was lost later. Copper acted very well in the early trading only to reaction later with the general list.

There were some more sensational doings in wheat with advances of 5 to 6 cents a bushel. July was shoved over a dollar to $1.02 5-8. It was the biggest wheat market seen in recent years, and trade was on an enormous scale. It looked as though every man in the country had in orders to buy wheat, and "at the market," too. Heavy profit taking toward the close carried prices back a couple of cents from the highest. Corn and oats were very strong in sympathy with wheat and on stories of bug damage to these crops.

Review Gives Trophy for Intermediate City League

In order to encourage the players and increase the interest in the intermediate city baseball league, the Review will donate a handsome silver cup for competition. The trophy has already been ordered from Mr. C. E. Frost and is a handsome specimen of the jewellers' art. It stands over twelve inches high, is of artistic design and will be suitably engraved.

The cup has been accepted by the officers of the intermediate league, but as was decided upon at the meeting of the executive a few days ago, the framing of the conditions to govern the trophy has been left with the donors of the cup.

Accordingly the Review has decided that the cup must be won three years in succession by any one club before passing into its permanent possession. It may not be out of place to explain why this stipulation has been made. If the cup could be secured permanently by winning it two years in succession, the club winning it the first season would make a strong effort to capture it a second time and would likely spare no endeavor to secure the strongest players to join their team in order to accomplish this purpose. By having the three year rule all the clubs are given a fairer showing. A team that might be weak in the first and second years the cup was offered might be much stronger in the third season and would have a good chance of winning the trophy for one year at least. The Review believes that the three year rule will result in increased interest and the greatest good being done.

The trophy will be known ast he

The trophy will be known as the "Review" cup and will be on exhibition in a few days.

The intermediate city league consists of six teams, the Strathconas, Karenots, Lilies, Lakeviews, West Ends and Excelsiors. The schedule for the season will be drawn up at a meeting on Saturday night.

Constable Had Dog Poisoned

Yesterday afternoon, one of P. C. John Meharry's valuable hounds, succumbed to poisoning. It had just been out of the house about fifteen minutes when it died. Dr. Poole was called but arrived too late to save its life. The dog poisoner is becoming bolder every day, especially when he is getting after those in authority. P. C. Meharry should not be content to let the matter drop, but should make investigations. The animal was only a young hound and P. C. Meharry was anticipating having a good hunting dog.

Zutoo

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

Why is Empire Day Overlooked?

No Arrangement for its Observance in City Schools

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—It is very regrettable that the Teachers' Institute should choose Thursday, May 23, for its convention. I learn that the intention is not to have any school on May 24 so that the scholars will have holidays from Tuesday until Monday. The regrettable part is that thereby the intention of Empire Day, May 23, is neglected, and no opportunity given to celebrate with the children the significance of May 23rd. Surely the inspector should look into this matter and veto the apparent neglect of so important an event as Empire Day.

Yours, etc.
PATRIOT.

Must Remove all Boxes and Barrels

Chief Roszel Says That By-law Must be Observed

Chief Roszel desires that the following clause of the building by-law be taken particular note of, especially by some merchants, who have their back yards full of old rubbish. The old boxes are liable to take fire and might cause a serious conflagration. The chief intends to strictly enforce this bylaw and all offenders will be dealt with severely.

Clause 23a of the amendment to the building bylaw reads;

That no person shall place, or shall have or shall allow, suffer or permit to remain, or be in any yard or near any building within the fire limits in the city of Peterborough, any boxes, barrels, paper, straw or other inflammable waste or refuse material.

Concert Held at All Saints' Church

Woman's Guild Scored a Success—Proceeds for New Church

The Woman's Guild of All Saint's church held a very enjoyable concert last evening. The affair was most successful. The object was to raise funds for the new church, and about thirty dollars was realized. A good crowd was present, and an interesting programme was given. Mrs. D. J. Lundy, president of the Society had charge of the concert.

Rev. Wm. Major occupied the chair. In his opening remarks, he said that the women were always to the front with their assistance when the church required it. The young men too, were doing a great deal to raise funds for the new church. The rector added that the time was not far distant, when they would be able to begin work on their new House of Worship. He congratulated the Woman's Guild upon the success which had attended their efforts.

The programme last evening was as follows,—

Piano Duet—Misses Gladman.
Song—Mr. A. E. Wilson.
Mandolin Sextette—Mandolin Club.
Recitation—Miss Montgomery.
Song—Miss Edwards.
Comic Song—Mr. Coleman.

Poor Cattle in North Country

School Inspector Lees Says Season is Very Backward and There is No Pasture

School Inspector Richard Lees returned yesterday after a two weeks' tour of the north country, where he inspected the different schools. Mr Lees reports the season very backward there, and says the farmers are suffering as a result. There is as yet no pasture, and nearly all the fodder has been used up. The cattle are very poor, and pasture is their only salvation. There are whole herds of cattle so thin that they can hardly walk. It is the worst spring for cattle he has seen for twenty years.

SALVATION BAND SECURES HALL

Will Hold Two Public Services on Sunday May 26

Mr. M. T. Butcher, secretary of the Salvation Band, writes the Review as follows,—

The Salvation Band have secured a small hall on Simcoe street, which will be used until larger premises can be obtained. This hall will be open to the public, Sunday, May 26, 1907, 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. Further announcements will be sent later.

The Salvation Band is a number of men and women who have received the Salvation of God, and are banded together for the purpose of lifting up the Lord Jesus Christ to the world as the only Saviour from sin. The band is entirely non-sectarian and heartily extends the hand of fellowship to all who love the Lord Jesus Christ, irrespective of creed, name or color. Part of the special work of the Band will be to visit the sick and needy, holding meetings in private homes for prayer, praise and exhortation, and conducting salvation meetings in the open air and other places. The Band is free to give any help they may be able to give to other Christian workers, who in sincerity, are endeavoring to lead men and women to repentance of sin and a life of holiness. The expenses connected with the work of the Band shall be met entirely by free will offerings.

OBITUARY

SAMUEL GILLIES.

The C.P.R. noon train today brought home the remains of the late Samuel Gillies, who died in Toronto yesterday. The deceased was visiting with relatives there for a few days, in hopes of the change improving his health. He was 68 years of age and was born in the township of Manvers, Durham county, where he resided until three years ago, when he moved to Peterborough. At that time he made his home at 170 Perry street where he has resided since.

The late Samuel Gillies leaves a loving wife, one son, Robt. of Port Hope, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Henders, of Yelverton, Ont., to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence on Perry street, to Little Lake cemetery.

Five More Homes Will be Erected

The following building permits for five more new dwellings were issued yesterday;

Arthur Wood, dwelling on Romaine street, cost $1,500.

CONTEST AT THE ROLLER RINK

Misses. Graham & Brooks Won in Skating Competition

A large crowd was in attendance at the roller rink last evening and enjoyed a good skate. The interesting feature was the ladies' contest. The ladies skated in couples. First there were eight couples picked out and then four, and lastly the winning couple was selected from the four. Misses Nellie Graham and Annie Brooks were the successful ladies, and were presented with beautiful gold rings. The ladies who officiated as judges of the contest were Mrs. Barber, Miss King and Miss Whitcroft. Their decision won the approval of the large audience.

Thieving From Gardens Exists

Flowers are Also Being Purloined—Work of Boys

Many complaints are being heard regarding the purloining of garden stuff and flowers in the city. Those who have gardens, and they are quite numerous, especially in the outlying parts of the city, have been much annoyed and put to pecuniary loss by the depredations of the long-fingered fraternity. Many fine flower beds have been depleted of their choicest blooms and tender young onions and radishes have also come in for considerable attention. There is a suspicion that the thieving is the work of boys, and they had better be careful of what they are doing.

HAS RETURNED FROM MONTREAL

Mr. R. J. Winch is Enthusiastic Over Recent Revival Services

Our respected townsman, Mr. R. J. Winch, and Mrs. Winch, have just returned from Montreal, where they spent several weeks visiting their son and daughter, Mr. C. H. Winch, and Mrs. F. W. G. Johnson. Mr. Winch is quite enthusiastic over the evangelistic services which have just closed, and which were conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrey, of Philadelphia. These meetings were attended by great crowds, and were held in St. James Methodist church, of which Rev. Dr. Young, formerly of this city, is now pastor. The building will seat over 3,000 and was crowded every night, many being unable to gain admission. On Sunday nights the main building was reserved for men, while the lecture room, seating one thousand, was crowded with women. Miss Parker, Dr. Torrey's secretary, addressed the latter. A very attractive feature of the services was the music. A large choir, led by Mr. Butler, gave a song service before and after the meting each evening and resulted in much good. Something over 2,000 conversions were reported. The meetings were union services and a large number of the ministers of the city were in attendance.

Peterborough Man Talks About the Montreal Strike

Mr. R. J. Winch, Who Has Just Returned From the Metropolis, Says That a Great Amount of Freight is Tied Up—Serious Matter.

Mr R. J. Winch, who has just returned home from Montreal, gives an interesting account of the conditions brought about by the strike of the longshoremen, teamsters and freight handlers in that city. Mr. Winch spent considerable time along the wharves and says it is a great sight to see the tremendous amount of freight that is received and loaded on the great ocean vessels. At present, however, everything is tied up owing to the strike and great difficulty is being experienced in having the ships loaded and unloaded. As the longshoremen are not working the crews of the boats are paid extra to load and unload the vessels, but the work is not done nearly so quickly as when the longshoremen are on duty. Tons of freight are held up in the big warehouses and cannot be moved until the strike is settled and the men have resumed work. Freight traffic is tied up on the railways generally and great loss is being caused. As an example of the delay in railway traffic it might be stated that Mr. Winch had some eggs shipped from Peterborough to Montreal on May 7th and 11th and they had not reached the metropolis when Mr. Winch left there Friday morning. He could secure no information about the shipment in Montreal other than that eggs had been shipped from Peterborough. This is only one case and there are hundreds of others of the same kind. Thus it will be seen that the strike is not local in its influence, but affects the shipping interests all over the country. Mr. Winch says that the average person has no conception of the amount of freight handled along the wharves at Montreal. The shipping done is of immense proportions and a strike like the one that is on at present is a very serious matter.

Mr. Winch greatly enjoyed his stay in the commercial metropolis. He was much interested in the spring horse show, and was present at the Arena, where the show was held on several occasions. Many fine specimens of horse flesh were shown and the show was a great treat to horse lovers. Mr. Winch also saw the opening of the Eastern League in Montreal.

Premier Whitney to Open the Big Peterborough Exhibition

Will be Accompanied by Hon. Nelson Monteith—Prize List in the Hands of the Printer—Many Special Valuable Prizes—Marathon Road Race—Carters' Race

The Bank of Montreal Chambers is where the directors of the Peterborough Industrial exhibition met last night. Nearly all the members were present, and President R. H. Leary occupied the chair. It was first intended to meet in the office of the president, but Mr. Montizambert, manager of the local branch of the bank, very kindly offered the use of the bank chambers, and a resolution of appreciation was passed by the board.

There was a lot of business before the directors and it was put through in good order, although it took some time to do it. One of the important features was the decision to request Hon. J. P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, and Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, to be present on the second day of the fair to formally open it. The Society is to be congratulated upon its decision, as there is no man in Ontario who would prove so popular with the masses as the Premier of Ontario. He will undoubtedly draw a very large crowd, and he will be very glad to come if he can possibly arrange his business affairs to suit. It will be his first visit to this riding since he became premier, and he will no doubt have many important things to say. The Minister of Agriculture is also a valuable man on an occasion of this kind and the farmers will be glad to meet him.

MARATHON RACE.

Another feature of the big three day exhibition on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 26, 27 and 28, will be a five mile Marathon race. This will be open to all comers and will be run on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, as an opener for the afternoon's sports. The prize will be a gold medal. There is no entry fee, all that is required is that the entry be fyled with the secretary, Mr. F. J. A. Hall, not later than Friday, September 27.

PRIZE LIST.

Tenders were received for the printing of the prize lists, and the contract was awarded to the Review. The copy is now in the printer's hands, and will be issued in two or three weeks. This will give intending exhibitors lots of time to figure on their exhibits.

The prize list this year is somewhat different to what it has been in years past. It contains many advertisements of local business firms, and there has also been several changes in some of the classes, and in the cash prizes offered. The effect it is believed, will be more generally satisfactory as the prizes are more equal. Among other things noticed is a special cash prize of $10 offered by Mr. D. Hughes Charles, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, for the best team of agricultural horses. This prize is in addition to the society's cash prize of $10, making a total of $20 for first prize.

Another special prize of a suit of clothes is offered by the Grafton Co., for the best team of general purpose horses. This is also in addition to the society's cash prize of $10. There are also many other special prizes offered by business men and the prize list will be a valuable one this year.

DOG RACE AGAIN.

Mr. Wm. Yelland, who last year, introduced the dog race at the fair, has again put up a purse for the race. He is an enthusiastic lover of dogs and thoroughly enjoys a race. The boys are also out for the fun and there will undoubtedly be a good list of entries.

CARTER'S RACE.

A purse of $25 is hung up by the Society for a quarter mile dash by the carters. Only licensed carters in the city are eligible to enter and there will be only one heat. Full particulars can be secured from the secretary.

NEW MEMBERS.

The following list of new members has been handed in by Mr. Dawson Kennedy, which brings the total up to over 200,—

Fire Insurance Conducted With Very Little Profit

In Fact Many of the Big Companies Have Lost Money—The Gains and Reverses Reviewed—An Interesting Article on an Important Subject.

The Norwich Union Bulletin says:

During the decade ending with 1906, sixty millionaire fire insurance companies' transactions netted premiums aggregating $1,349,904,096; but in that time their net losses amounted to $838,452,536, and their expenses to $489,341,178, while their liabilities increased to the extent of $93,356,172, so that the net result of their underwriting operations for ten years was a loss of $71,245,790, or 5.28 per cent. of premiums. The requirements of their business expressed in percentages of premiums were as follows;

	Per Cent
Losses	62.11
Expenses	36.25
Increase in liabilities	6.92

The above statistics indicate that although the sixty companies received about $1,350,000,000 of premiums for the assumption of many billions of dollars of risk, the conditions of the business have been so unfriendly that the outcome of ten years' work is a net underwriting loss of over $70,000,000. The decade under consideration included the vast losses occasioned by the San Francisco conflagration; but such losses are among the risks always assumed by the fire insurance companies, and experience shows that the companies are inadequately paid for carrying such risks. And there is no guarantee of immunity from further similar losses, even for a period sufficient to permit, under favorable circumstances of a reasonable recuperation from the debilitating effects of the San Francisco catastrophe; for who can say that there will not occur another terrific conflagration in one of our large cities next year, or next month, or tomorrow!

Even without such exceptional and tremendous losses as those occurred in 1906, the fire insurance business is conducted upon a very narrow margin of profit; for the tabulation similar to that herewith, but covering the decade ending with 1905, showed a net underwriting profit of less than three per cent. of premiums. It may be mentioned also that few, if any, of these prominent companies have drawn a dollar from their underwriting earnings, in the last ten years, wherewith to pay dividends to their stockholders; indeed, not only have their dividends been paid from their investment earnings, but the latter have contributed some $25,000,000 to the surplus funds, which have now been disbursed to San Francisco policy-holders. When the great hazards incident to the business of fire insurance are considered, together with the scant remuneration, if any for their acceptance, and the constantly attaching risk of the loss of all assets in a single fire, it is safe to say that there are few merchants or manufacturers who would be willing to draw capital from their businesses to invest in fire insurance companies' stocks, though some are prone to criticise premium rates as being "outrageous," "unreasonable," and the like.

Business men should heartily co-operate with the municipal officials and underwriters in endeavoring to bring about improved conditions and thereby to minimize the danger of destructive conflagrations. With the experience of San Francisco fresh in mind it is easy for each of them to imagine some of the losses and perplexities to which they would be subjected, other than those for which he might be indemnified by the fire insurance companies, in the event of his own city being overwhelmed by a disastrous conflagration.

In the last few years many fire insurance companies have been forced to retire by heavy conflagration losses, while the stockholders of many others have contributed scores of millions of dollars in order that their institutions might pay the losses sustained by policyholders. The continued existence of numerous companies is owing to the surplus funds accumulating during better years, which have enabled them to withstand the sudden and terrific shocks of the Baltimore and San Francisco disasters, which forced weaker companies to the wall. The survivors must, in the interests of both policyholders and stockholders have an opportunity,—barring further conflagrations in the near future—to re-establish their surplus funds, which have proved themselves to be the greatest protection afforded to the insured, in times when protection is most needed; and the only way in which this can be accomplished is by the collection of fair premiums.

Samuel Vance Fell on the Walk

And Cut His Face so Badly That Medical Assistance Was Called

Samuel Vance, of Bethany, a man between 60 and 70 years of age was in the city yesterday and he will not forget his visit for some time, probably for the rest of his life. He got "out with the boys" and took a few sips too many of "the cup that cheers." He started across Hunter street, apparently heading for the American hotel, and as he went to step up on the sidewalk he fell, striking his face upon the walk. He was soon picked up and taken to the back of the hotel and Dr. Leach was summoned. After washing the wound on the right cheek it was found that there were two gashes and his eye swelled until it was closed. His forefinger on the left hand was also badly torn.

Vance was cleaned up and his wounds were dressed, and he was allowed to go, the doctor thinking he would go home. Instead, however he went out on the street and fell again striking his face in the same place. The doctor then took him in charge and put him to bed at Kelly's hotel where he stayed until this morning.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE

The Imperial Conference closed on Tuesday. It will not meet again for four years. It is believed that the Colonial Premiers would willingly have adjourned for forty years. Just what the Home authorities were thinking when they said good-bye, it is difficult to say. They are so studiedly polite don't you know.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

Dog Owner Got the Wrong Tag

A dog owner, who had secured a tag for a male dog instead of a female, was in the police court this morning.

The defendant said that he did not buy the tag, but the one who did got the wrong one.

His Worship said that he was not going to have any nonsense about these things. He imposed a fine of $2 and costs, amounting to $5.35, to be paid in ten days. He hoped this would be a lesson to others. Those who have not yet secured tags had better do so at once, or they will have a like amount to pay.

Fruit Cures Constipation

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation because they are Fruit Juices in Tablet form.

Constipation means a disordered liver. When the liver is weak, bile is lacking. And it is the bile—which the liver excretes—that flows into the intestines and moves the bowels.

Fruit is the great liver tonic. It invigorates the liver and causes more bile to flow into the bowels.

Purgatives, powders and purging mineral waters, never reach the liver. They irritate the bowels and FORCE them to move. They generally do harm. They NEVER do any PERMANENT good.

"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices—in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the wonderful change which takes place when the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are combined.

"Fruit-a-tives" have already proved a cure to many thousands of people in Canada.

"Fruit-a-tives" are free from calomel, cascara, senna and other bowel irritants. They are concentrated fruit juices with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics added.

CHAPTER XXIX.

HEFFELBOWER insisted that we join him in an appetizer; he had evidently jumped to the conclusion that Godfrey was a famous New York detective, and he gazed at him with respect and a little awe. He wanted to discuss again all the details of the tragedy, but we got rid of him after awhile and went in to dinner. Then we started toward the jail for a final talk with Drysdale. Another jailer had come on duty, but he made no difficulty about admitting us.

"Well?" asked the prisoner, as soon as we were alone.

"Oh," said Godfrey, regarding him with a good humored smile, "you won't be electrocuted this time—though I must say you deserve it!"

"What," cried Drysdale, coloring suddenly. "You don't believe"—

"That you killed Graham? Oh, no; but you've made an unmitigated ass of yourself, my friend. Did you have a pleasant time Monday night kicking your heels by the hour together out at the pergola?"

Drysdale flushed again, but this time it was with anger.

"Oh, so she told you, did she?" he asked between his teeth. "I dare say you had a good laugh together over it!"

"Jack," said Godfrey calmly, "I protest you are becoming more and more asinine! Haven't you sense enough to see that that note—by the way, how was it delivered to you?"

"I found it on my dressing table when I came back from New York Monday evening. What are you driving at, Godfrey? If you've discovered anything, for God's sake, tell me straight out!"

"I've discovered an unusually large consignment of humble pie awaiting your consumption. You don't deserve a magnificent girl like that, Jack; I swear you don't. Do you remember your last words to her?"

"Yes," answered Drysdale, with a sudden flushing of the cheeks. "And she deserved them. She got me out of the house and spent the evening with Tremaine. It was an indirect way of telling me that she was tired of me. I'd suspected it before."

Godfrey looked at him pityingly.

"Really, Jack," he said, "I'm half inclined to think the coroner's right in his theory, after all."

"What is his theory?"

"He thinks you're crazy."

Drysdale laughed a little, mirthless laugh.

"Perhaps he's right," he said.

"You'll be sure of it in a few minutes. It's inconceivable that any man in his right mind should suspect a girl like Miss Croydon of such a thing."

Drysdale turned to him with eyes bright with emotion.

"See here, Jim," he said, "you've had your fun; you've tormented me long enough. Do you mean that Miss Croydon didn't write the note?"

"I mean just that."

"Then who did?"

"Tremaine!"

The word brought Drysdale to his feet like a thunder-clap.

"Do you mean," he demanded, gripping his hands tight behind him, "that Tremaine wrote the note and placed it in my room in order to get me out of the house?"

"I do."

"And that Miss Croydon knew nothing about it?"

"Not a thing. She was waiting for you in the house. She thought you'd deliberately broken an appointment you'd made with her."

"Good God," he groaned. "What a fool! What a perfect, muckle-headed fool!"

"[illegible]," laughed Godfrey. "Don't again—sackcloth and ashes; you deserve it all."

"Deserve it! Do you think she'll ever forgive me?"

"I shouldn't if I were in her place," Godfrey assured him. "I'd think myself well rid of you. I shouldn't want to marry an idiot."

Drysdale cursed dismally to himself.

"Still," Godfrey added, "there's no accounting for the whims of women—there's no telling what they'll do. Maybe, after this, you'll come nearer appreciating her as she deserves."

"Appreciating her!"

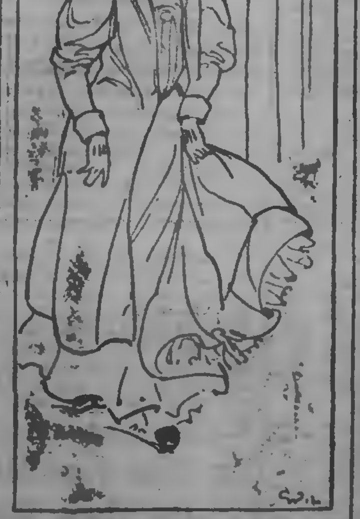
"You don't seem to have any curiosity as to how we're going to save that precious neck of yours," Godfrey observed.

"Oh, damn my neck! What do I care? Godfrey, I've got to see her right away. I've got to get down on my knees—crawl in the dust"—

"That's it!" nodded Godfrey approvingly. "You've caught the idea. You ought to feel like an insect—a particularly small one. But I hardly believe the jailer will release you on your own recognizance. Maybe tomorrow, after the inquest, if everything goes well"—

"Oh, tomorrow be hanged! I've got to see her right away, Jim! Isn't there any way?"

He was pacing furiously up and down the cell, biting his nails, tearing his hair. Could Tremaine have seen him then he might have modified his estimate of him.



There came a rush of feet down the corrider, a swish of skirts.

"There's no way," said Godfrey, "unless Miss Croydon herself should commit the inconceivable folly—hello, who's that?"

The outer door had been flung crashing back. There came a rush of feet down the corridor, a swish of skirts.

"Grace!"

It was Drysdale's voice and he stood there like a man struck suddenly to stone.

And she? I turned a little giddy as I looked at her, at the shining eyes, at the quivering, smiling lips.

Godfrey had sprung instantly to his feet.

Offer to Supply Power to Kingston

Port Arthur is Also Asking the Commission for Supply

Toronto, May 17.—At a meeting of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission yesterday an offer was received from the New York and Ontario Power Company for a supply of electrical energy which would serve Kingston and many points from there eastward. The company has a plant at Waddington on the New York side of the St. Lawrence River capable of producing about 33,000 horse power, and they have received permission from the New York State authorities, to export to the Canadian side. Up to the present the commission has not received any formal applications from municipalities which could be served with power from this source.

The commission has also received from the town of Port Arthur a request for 3,000 horse power of electrical energy. Negotiations are, it is understood, now in progress between the commission and private concerns whereby it is hoped this can be supplied to the municipality almost immediately at satisfactory rates.

On Monday a conference of solicitors will be held here prior to the meeting of the Western Ontario Municipalities Niagara Power Union which will be held on Tuesday at the city hall. Mr. A. F. Lobb, for the commission; Mr. T. G. Meredith of London, Mr. S. H. Blake for the Ontario Power Company and Corporation Counsel Fullerton will take part. Mr. Meredith, on this occasion, will act for the Government. The proposed contract between the commission and the power company named for the supply of power at the Falls, will be carefully scrutinized, as will also the form of the proposed formal contracts between the municipalities and the commission, and on the following day these and other matters will be discussed by the power union meeting, which will commence in the City Hall at 11 o'clock and close with a dinner at the Parliament buildings at 7 o'clock, at which the delegates will be the guests of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Hon. Mr. Beck, chairman of the commission, sails for England on Wednesday. During his absence Mr W. K. McNaught, M.P.P., will be acting chairman.

Flour Advanced In Winnipeg

Some Grades 60c and Others 50c—Price of Wheat the Cause

Winnipeg, Man., May 17.—The jumping wheat market has had its inevitable effect of still further raising the price of flour. To-day at noon a further advance of 10 cents a bag on all grades of flour took effect, and this is the third advance in price in less than a fortnight, making an increase altogether of 60 cents on some grades of flour and 50 cents on others. The poor consolation is offered the Winnipeg public of knowing that so far the price of flour has not been increased by the mills in proportion to the advancing prices of wheat.

Now comes this latest addition to the prices and the consumers of bread can apparently make up their minds that flour will ascend still higher, and that they will not decline for a long time ahead. The two first advances have not resulted in the bakers raising the price of bread, but with to-day's advance it is a foregone conclusion that the consumer must pay more for his bread.

BAD FIRE AT ST. JOHN.

Girls Have Narrow Escapes—Damage to Stock $150,000.

St. John, N.B., May 18.—Fire broke out about noon yesterday in the basement of McAulay Bros & Co.'s large dry goods store on King street, the second largest establishments of its kind in the city, and damage to the extent of $150,000 was done.

Cotton and other heavy goods were stored in the basement, and from these immense columns of smoke poured through the building.

Girls on the second, third and fourth floors had to be taken out on ladders.

Pastor Begs Forgiveness.

New York, May 18.—Rev. Dr. John L. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn, who officiated at the marriage in this city of W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Miss Mabelle Gilman, submitted to the credentials committee of the church, at a meeting Thursday night, a letter in which the minister begged forgiveness for having performed the marriage ceremony in question. He also said that he had returned the fee he received for his services.

The committee decided to recommend in its report to the congregation that, in view of the pastor's integrity and righteousness and his letter of apology, no further action in the matter be taken.

Dr. English the Choice.

Toronto, May 18.—Dr. Walter Murray English, of London, Ont., has been appointed medical superintendent of Hamilton Asylum in succession to Dr. James Russell, resigned.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, officially made this announcement yesterday.

In so doing the Minister intimated that Dr. Russell had resigned on Jan. 19 last, and his resignation had been accepted on Jan. 27. Dr. Russell, however, was asked to continue in the position, without further change or announcement until notified otherwise. No reason for the resignation was given.

Found on the Prairie.

Battleford, Sask., May 18.—Rev. A. Rapson, a Presbyterian missionary in the Swarthmore district, was found in an unconscious condition on the prairie and brought to the hospital here Thursday.

As he is still unconscious little is known of the circumstances of the case.

NO TROUBLE NOW FEARED.

Accused Miners Will Be Given a Fair Trial.

Boise, Idaho, May 17.—There is still every reason to hope that the jury will have been selected before court adjourns on Saturday afternoon. Haywood has changed greatly in his demeanor within the last two days.

At first he left his counsel severely alone and appeared to be taking little or no interest in the selection of the jury. Now, however, he scans each talesman closely and is almost continually in conference with his counsel.

It would appear from interviews with the best informed persons here that any fear of trouble caused by the more radical element has now disappeared. The belief is expressed that the representative men of labor union circles throughout the country fully realize that the State of Idaho proposes to give the men a fair trial.

Harry Orchard, the prisoner witness upon whom the State of Idaho chiefly relies to prove its charge that an inner circle of the Western Federation of Miners planned the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, broke his long silence yesterday.

Orchard denied that force was used to obtain the statements he made, and denied that state officers promised him immunity for his confession of crime or reward for the value of his alleged confession. Orchard's manner and conversation tended strongly to confirm the assertion that he has been converted to Christianity, which statement he made himself.

As a precautionary measure, the actual place in the penitentiary where Orchard is confined is kept secret.

LIQUOR SELLING ABOLISHED.

Toronto, May 17.—Instead of cutting off only eight liquor licenses in the Rainy River district, between Fort William and Kenora during the double-tracking of the C. P. R. those points, the Government will close out thirteen. This action has been prompted by the desire of the Administration to protect the thousands of navvies, who will be employed on the work, from the evils of indiscriminate liquor selling.

Kenora being an incorporated town will not be affected, but every other settlement in the prescribed territory will be left dry. The licenses to be cancelled are: Keewatin, three taverns, one shop; Wabigoon, two taverns and one shop; Dryden, two taverns; Vermilion Bay, Dinorwic, Gold Rock and Ignace, one tavern license each.

Eudo Saunders left the city last night for Ottawa, where he will appear before the license commissioners to present the desire of the Ontario Government that no license shall be issued in Nepean Township in the County of Carleton. Nepean voted on local option last January, and carried it, but the bylaw was set aside by the court. The commissioners have entertained a doubt as to whether the case was the kind from which the Government desired to withhold licenses.

The temperance and moral reform committee will also wait upon the commissioners in support of the prohibition.

COLLISION AT MIMICO.

Engineer Stuck to His Post and Was Badly Injured.

Toronto, May 17.—George Shields was seriously injured by a railway accident at Mimico yesterday morning and is in the Western Hospital, suffering from severe scalds and burns.

The C. P. R. train, of which Shields was driver, left the Union Depot at 9.45 a.m. yesterday for Hamilton. Passing through the Grand Trunk yards at Mimico his engine collided with a G. T. R. freight, which was standing on a siding, but with engine pilot and cylinder projecting over the main line.

The smoky atmosphere prevented Shields from realizing the position in time to entirely avert an accident, but when he saw the danger he pluckily stood by his engine and applied the emergency brakes. This doubtless saved the lives of many passengers, as all the coaches were filled. Only the smoking car left the tracks.

The impact threw him over the cab to the track and scattered live coals and scalding water over him. The fireman jumped from the engine and saved himself.

Both engines were derailed. That of the G.T.R. was almost demolished, while freight cars blocked the adjoining tracks.

An Italian Boycott.

Winnipeg, May 17.—It is reported that the Italian fruiters have decided to boycott all the wholesale houses who refused to sign their petition to the Government asking permission to remain open on Sundays. An interesting situation has arisen following the Government's pronouncement, and the Retailers' Association will likely combine with the Lord's Day Alliance in an effort to compel the enforcement of the law. The Secretary of the Alliance had a long private interview with the Premier yesterday, when, it is understood, the situation was generally discussed.

Sultan Yields to France.

Paris, May 17.—The Sultan of Morocco has decided to comply entirely with France's demands for reparation as the result of the murder of Dr. Mauchamp.

The Ministers decided to await the receipt of the full text of the full letter before arriving at a decision as to whether it is satisfactory.

In any case, the occupation of Oudja will continue until an absolute settlement has been reached.

Bridge Almost Went Down.

Peterboro, May 17.—A peculiar accident occurred yesterday at the Lakefield branch of the G.T.R. As a mixed train was crossing the bridge on Bethune street, spanning the creek, some of the timbers broke. The bridge did not give way, however, and a new one will be built at once.

Fort William and Port Arthur harbors are free of ice and navigation started with a rush.

FIND HIDDEN TREASURE.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 18—Erie Railroad bonds worth $116,740 and $575 in blackened gold coins were found Thursday when the rusted tin box which Contractor B. W. Hollingsworth recently unearthed in the ruins of the century-old Ohio City Inn at 2,811 Detroit avenue, was forced open. The original owner of the treasure was George U. Moran, who mysteriously disappeared in 1874. A heap of charred bones found several days before the box was dug up by Hollingsworth in a bricked-in fireplace now seems to substantiate the theory then held that Moran was murdered.

The Erie Railroad Co. made a systematic effort to locate the bonds between 1876 and 1879. Practically every newspaper in the country carried advertisements of the lost bonds, which were of the issue of 1859. Originally they had a par value of $40,000. Accumulated interest, dividends and market rises have brought their value up to $116,740.

Because he was to have all the material in the building as compensation for tearing it down, Hollingsworth claimed the entire contents of the box. He finally compromised with the present owner of the property, and divided the gold with him. The bonds have been placed in the custody of United States Judge Taylor. The latter will hold them for five years. During that time a search will be made for Moran's heirs, if any are living. If none are found the bonds will revert to Hollingsworth. If a claimant turns up the contractor will get one-fourth of their value.

WILL BE TOTAL LOSS.

Steamer "Saxon" Stranded In Fog at Caribou Island.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 18.—The steel steamer Saxon, owned by the Pittsburg Steamship Co., stranded Wednesday during a fog on the north side of Caribou Island, Lake Superior. It is said she will be a total loss.

"We were running a short distance ahead of the Saxon," said Captain Brown of the steamer E. W. Oglebay, "and my steamer must have missed the reef which the Saxon struck by only a few feet. The Saxon was going along at full speed and struck the rocks with terrific force. I tried to get near enough to take the Saxon's crew aboard my own ship, but was unable to do anything because of the danger of running my own steamer on the rocks in the storm. The Saxon's men were able later to reach the island in small boats."

The wrecked steamer registered 2,348 tons and was valued at $110,000. She was built in 1890.

AUTOMOBILIST KILLED.

Was Having Preparatory Run For Grand Prize Races.

Dieppe, France, May 18.—Albert Clement, son of the well-known automobile builder, was killed instantaneously yesterday during a run in preparation for the auto clubs' grand prize, which is to be competed for July 2.

Clement was thrown out of his automobile at a sharp turn and sustained a fracture of the skull. His chauffeur escaped with comparatively slight injuries.

Clement was well known among automobilists in America. He finished second in the first race for the Vanderbilt Cup in 1904, over the Long Island course.

TWO FIREMEN INJURED.

Five Manufacturing Plants Destroyed at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, May 18.—Two firemen were injured, five manufacturing plants destroyed and a number of small residences badly damaged yesterday by a fire of unknown origin, which started in the Brush & Stevens Co. pattern and model plant, 106-108 Penn avenue. The loss was $100,000.

Price of Flour Up.

Winnipeg, May 18.—The jumping wheat market has had its inevitable effect of still further raising the price of flour.

Yesterday a further advance of ten cents a bag on all grades of flour took effect. This is the third advance in price in less than a fortnight, making an increase of 60 cents on some grades of flour all told, and 50 cents on others.

The poor consolation is offered the Winnipeg public of knowing that so far the price of flour has not been increased by the mills in proportion to the advancing prices of wheat.

Chief of Police Shot.

Monessen, Pa., May 18.—Thomas Guest, chief of police of Bellevernon, three miles from here, was fatally shot Thursday night by William Cates, his predecessor.

Chief Guest arrested Cates on a charge of disorderly conduct. While searching him at the jail Cates suddenly drew a revolver and fired a bullet into Guest's forehead. Threatening James Frost, another officer, Cates escaped from the jail to Main street, where he began firing at everybody he saw.

Men in the C.P.R. shops at Winnipeg, object to the new rules, and it is possible they may strike to-day.

Some Interesting Stories as Told by Mr. D. Hughes Charles

In Connection With His Experience as a Banker—How He Managed to Sell Tickets for a Charity Concert in Collingwood—Method an Irishman Employed to Pay His Men.

The paper prepared and read by Mr Hughes Charles on "Banking," at the recent meeting of the Board of Trade, was of such general interest, and replete with information put in a concrete form, that it has gained general attention and approval. As banking has its lighter side, as well as the strenuous one of business, it is suggested that Mr. Hughes Charles prepare another paper, giving facts and incidents from his long experience and dealing with happenings and details of life in the financial arena. There is no doubt, such a paper would be very interesting and without disclosing the secrets of the craft, much could be written and said that would not only instruct, but entertain.

"It was when I, was teller at Collingwood. I was younger than I am now, and I had a reverence for the traditions and usages of the craft, that I endeavored to live up to. Banking in those days was a profession apart from others, and was generally looked on as a sort of science that held the doctrines and affairs of the country in its hand. The bank manager was not only a leading citizen, as he should be, but there was not so many of them, as now, and what he did in the community was closely regarded. He would not, and should not do anything infra dig.

One day a committee of ladies waited on the manager of the bank, and asked his interest in the sale of a lot of tickets for some local object. I believe it was a concert for the benefit of the church with which he was connected. He consented and assured the committee that the bank would do the best it could. The tickets were given to me and I was told to sell as many as many as possible, but I found few takers, and at any rate I was diffident about pushing the sale, and those I came in contact with during banking hours, were men who passed it off as a joke. On the merits of my work as a seller of concert tickets I would have lost my job

A day or two before the concert, an accomplice of the committee, called to see how the tickets were going, and I told the manager that very few had been taken. He assured the lady that it would be all right and that we would make a second sale, though how it was to be done was not clear to me. That was explained when the manager said, "Those tickets must be put out. We have a reputation to keep up. If we don't sell them we shall lose something in the impression that will go abroad that this institution is lacking in sand and grit. Just you hand out those tickets a few at a time to everyone who comes in, as change."

"By george," said Mr. Charles, "it worked. The first customer who came in, wanted a check cashed, and the manager said to give him two tickets instead of fifty cents. He took the tickets like a man, never a squeal. This braced me up and I handed them out, every time, putting aside the equivalent in cash for the committee. Do you know, at the end of the second day after the scheme was started we had cleaned up nearly two hundred tickets and the bank was ready for the committee. Great scheme! And we got credit for our work, and were commended all around. Of course the object justified the scheme, if it needed any apology, but that was not thought of."

"Another party was a customer we had, an elderly Irishman, who took contracts to shovel grain. This was before the days of elevators, when hand shovelling was an important industry. He engaged his men at 25c per hour, and invariably on pay day, came to the bank and drew enough money to pay the hands and himself, all in silver quarters. When paying off he used to get the men all in a line, deal himself a quarter, then one to each man, at the end another quarter for himself. If a man had shovelled sixty hours, he got sixty quarters, if there was enough to go round. If not he would remark, "Boys there does not seem to be shillings enough, but settle it among yourselves" and so left them to fight it out.

Negotiations Will Proceed With the Light and Power Co.

Hydro-Electric Commission Will Not Interfere With Any Reasonable Bargain Made Between the City and the Peterborough Light and Power Co.

Last night the special power committee of the city council returned home from Toronto perfectly satisfied with the result of their conference with Hon. Adam Beck and the Hydro-Electric Commission in Toronto. It will be remembered that when the city's bill was being considered by the Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature, the committee inserted a clause providing that whatever agreement the city council might make with the Peterborough Light & Power Co. it was subject to the approval of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

After the bill was passed, the Peterborough Light & Power Co. took exception to that particular clause claiming that it would be unfair to them to make a full disclosure of their business to the city, in good faith, as they have already agreed to do and then after they have satisfied the city, to be thrown down by the Government's commission, of whose wide powers the company, like many other companies, is not enamored The company asked for an understanding with the commissioners before negotiations went any further.

The council's committee therefore, met the Hydro-Electric Commissioners in their offices on Toronto street yesterday morning and discussed the situation with them.

The city's representatives were assured that the commissioners did not feel that they were in any sense the guardians of the municipalities, and they would not disapprove of any bargain made by the city unless it was manifestly an extravagant bargain, or was a bargain injurious to the city, which has been lobbied through the council as has happened in other cases.

In the face of this assurance it is likely that the Peterborough Light & Power Co. will be satisfied and negotiations will proceed.

Annual Concert a Great Success

Given Last Evening by Junior W. A. of St. John's Church —Prizes Presented

The annual concert of the Junior Auxiliary of St. John's church was held last evening in the school room and was a decided success from every standpoint. An exceedingly large number were present and judging from the hearty applause which greeted each number, the programme was much enjoyed. The success of the evening was largely due to the efforts of the president of the society, Mrs. W. R. Morris and Miss Hazel Dean, who trained the children for the concert. The programme was given entirely by children. Particular mention must be made of the pretty May cantata given by all the members of the Auxiliary. The girls were dressed as fairies and sang songs of spring. Miss Dean had charge of the cantata and she deserves credit for the splendid manner in which it was presented. During the evening prizes were presented to nine members of the Auxiliary for faithful attendance and good conduct at the meetings during the year.

During intermission candy was disposed of at good prices. The booths booths were in charge of Misses Ola Cavanagh and Gladys Roy, Idy Dutton, Ada Graham and Daisy Mills.

The programme was as follows, Rev. Canon Davidson acting as chairman:—

PART I.

Concertina Solo.—Roland Palmer.

Vocal Solo.—Master Arthur Horsefield.

May Cantata.—Members of Jr. W.A.

PART II.

Violin Solo.—Edwina Palmer.

Club Swinging.—Lillian Dean.

LEADING ACTRESS PASSES AWAY

Death of Daughter of Sergt. Major Billings Formerly of Peterborough

Miss Ada Alexandra Billings, daughter of the late Sergeant-Major Billings, for many years prominently connected with the 57th Regiment died recently in London, Eng. Many of the old residents of Peterborough will remember Miss Billings, who was possessed of much ability and versatility as an actress. She appeared on the stage for many years and won distinction as a delineator of German dialect and character. Her stage name was Miss Ada Alexandra, and in private life she was known as Mrs. Chas. E. Laverly, her home being in London, Eng.

The announcement in our columns a fortnight ago that Miss Ada Alexandra was lying at her residence, 20 Carlton mansions, Malda Vale, N. W., in the last stages of that dread disease, cancer, must have prepared our readers for the news of her death which mercifully released her from her sufferings at midnight on Friday the 15th, inst., her devoted husband and her sister, Mrs. G. M. Polini, having remained in continuous attendance for seven days and nights. Only members of the family were invited to the funeral which took place on Tuesday at new Willisden cemetery, and among the many beautiful wreaths from private friends and relatives, one magnificent tribute bore the inscription—"With deepest sympathy for their dear old friend."—Mr. and Mrs Alex. Hurley.

Miss Alexandra had been ailing for some time past and had resided in Brighton for some months in the hope of recruiting her health; but on the advice of Dr. Bland Sutton she was brought to London last month and it was then found that her case was quite hopeless. Her wonderful vitality was the source of great surprise to her physicians.

Born at Hounslow, Ada Alexandra, was at an early age taken to Canada. Her theatrical career dates back to 187? when, as a young girl she returned from Canada and immediately bounded into public favor as a German dialect commedienne. Associated with the late Jas. Taylor, she was seen to great advantage in the drama, "Simon; or a Dutch Girl's Trials." Returning to Canada and America she toured those countries with enormous success and eventually came back to the Old country and produced one of her successes, "The Mason," in which the cheery Dutch girl scored heavily as the vigorous German wife, her breezy manner and her inimitable accent marking her, as the New York Herald declared, "the foremost German dialect actress of the day."

After a number of years she again visited America under the auspices of Messrs. Hyde and Behman, and eventually joined Mr. Edward E Rice's forces. As showing Mr. Roei's Rice's forces. As showing Mr. Rice's farsightedness in theatrical matters he, having seen Miss Alexandra, made up his mind that she should play the important role of the German servant in the comedy drama, "The Globe Trotter." Mr de Lange the author, had already fixed upon a well known American star to play the part; but Mr. Rice declared "My money only backs the show, if Ada Alexandra plays the "Dutch girl." His ripe judgment was proved by the fact that, although the company included Maurice Barrymore, William Hoey, of Evans & Hoey; Mrs Dion Boucicault, Aubrey Boucicault, and other theatrical celebrities, she, as the veteran critic Stephen Fisk declared, made "the hit of the piece." Despite handsome offers from Mr. Rice and other American managers to remain, Miss Alexandra once more came back to England and had another seven years' phenomenal run with her sketch, "The Mason."

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Millbrook Will Guarantee Revenue

To Any One Operating Electric Light Plant in Village

A public meeting of the Millbrook ratepayers was called for Monday evening to discuss the lighting of the town. Quite a number attended and considerable discussion was entered into by many of the citizens, including Messrs, Collins. Leach Steele, Needham, Kells, Rev, Mr. Allen, the Reeve, the Clerk and others. It was finally decided advertise in the Mail and Globe, and guarantee a revenue of $2,500 a year to an experienced man who would operate a satisfactory plant.

KINDLY LOAF IN ANOTHER PLACE

Is a Sign Tenants Have to Post in Their Street Doorways

It is quite evident that the people living and having offices over the stores on George street, are thoroughly disgusted with the common loafers, who "pitch their tent" every day at evening in the street door ways. It is a wonder that action has not been taken long ago, and it is certain that if circumstances did not compel them to rent upstairs rooms and offices, the second flat of many buildings would be vacant. The great complaint is of men and boys standing in the doorways, very often two and three deep, crowding the people who have business upstairs out, spitting tobacco on the floor and stairs, smoking vile cigars, tobacco and cigarettes and using all kinds of foul language. Many people, rather than force their way through such a mob pass by, and the professional man, dressmaker, or other occupant of the second floor loses a customer.

At the south west corner of Hunter and George streets, the office holders upstairs have the following notices tacked up in the street doorway.—

On the south side is, "Read notice on the other wall."

On the north side, "Kindly loaf some place else for a change. This hall is intended to be a passage way With baby carriages, bicycles, bad tobacco smoke, and expectorations, this place has become an intolerable nuisance.

By order of the Ladies of the building and those doing business here

There is now a bylaw which prohibits spitting on the sidewalks and in public hallways. This is a case for the police to start on. Any evening and any afternoon they can find fellows loafing and spitting in the doorway leading up to the County Magistrate's office, and in many other hallways, as well. People are not allowed to loaf on the streets or in hallways at any time, and the new anti-spitting bylaw should make it doubly necessary for the police to get busy.

FOUND GILL NET

The Lindsay Post says, — Fifty feet of gill net was found up near Ball Point on Wednesday by Fishery Inspector Bradshaw and Game Warden Parkin of Ball Point. No clue was found as to the owner of the net which had unmistakeably been used for illegal fishing and was destroyed.

Mr Bradshaw told a Post reporter the prospects for the propagation of fish in Lake Scugog are good. He notice several large maskinonge and other fish. The officials of the vicinity are, Messrs Watson of Caesarea, and Parkin of Ball Point—are keeping a strict lookout for offenders.

New Lift Lock is Not Nearly Ready

Opening Not for Several Weeks Yet—Painting is Not Done

Mr Frank Fairen returned to the city last night after spending ten days at Kirkfield where the new lift lock is being completed. The opening will not take place for some weeks yet, as the work is not nearly done. There is a force of men at work painting, but progress is very slow. It is hoped, however, that in a week or two the canal people will be able to get a supply boat over the lock as there is a great deal of work on the other side to be done yet.

Many Peterborough People Went to Toronto

Over one hundred and fifty Peterborough people are in Toronto today taking in the numerous attractions which include the King's Plate at the Woodbine, the Eastern League baseball match, between Toronto and Jersey City, Tecumseh-Hamilton Lacrosse match, and several other events.

About seventy went up on the G. T. R. train at 7.20 this morning and the C.P.R. special which pulled out shortly after ten o'clock, was patronized by about ninety. There were quite a number of ladies among those who went to the Queen City.

Much interest centres in the King's Plate and considerable money will change hands in Peterborough, over it.

As the continuance depends upon the traffic, it is hoped that the patronage will be all that is required. The boat leaves Gannon's every Wednesday morning at 9.15, and returning leaves Bobcaygeon at four.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

He was chosen from 41 applicants to fill the leading tenor roll in "L'Opera Comique, the home of grand opera in Paris. By Mons. Mercier's special request Mrs. W. J. Morrow, will accompany him, as well as contribute two piano solos. Two of Peterborough popular vocalists, Miss Levina Hallihan, soprano, and Mr. John King, basso, will contribute numbers. 30

Heavy Downpour This Afternoon

A very heavy rain storm, accompanied by severe thunder and lightning, set in this afternoon shortly before two o'clock, and continued for nearly an hour. The downpour was terrific, and for some time the streets and sidewalks were flooded.

For some time hail stones fell and there was scarcely a person to be seen on the street.

The rain will do a great deal of good and will cause the growing crops and pasture lands to take on fresh life.

Pennsylvania State Legislature, at its session, appropriated $15,000,000 for public schools.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

OUR BRITISH EMPIRE

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I read with interest your remarks on Empire Day, which falls on Thursday next. I hope that the children will never forget to honor the day, and also Victoria Day. We cannot pay too much respect to, or have too great a veneration for, our King, our country and our flag. Long may British right and might, honor and freedom prevail.

Yours, etc.,
DEVOTION.

Peterborough, May 18, 1907.

ABOUT BONFIRES

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Notwithstanding the publicity given to the burning of rubbish in the back yards of the business portion of the city, by your two correspondents of yesterday and the day before, the police have not awakened to their duty of stopping the nuisance and the consequence is the perpetrators, feeling their immunity from punishment, are encouraged in the continuance of the wrong doing. What do we pay the police for if they do not perform so obvious a duty?

Yours, etc.,
MERCHANT.

A DIFFERENT VIEW

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—It has occurred to me in reading the letters from your two correspondents regarding the burning of rubbish in back yards that they are making much ado about nothing, and if the police are possessed of the wisdom which I think they are they will let the wailing of "Caution" and "Enquirer" end up like the rubbish—in smoke.

The rubbish has to be destroyed and if proper precautions are taken there is no reason why it cannot be burned in the yards without putting the city in flames or setting fire to the children. There have been comparatively few cases of children having been seriously burned by playing around bonfires and the number does not appear to be increasing. By all means however, let such fires be properly guarded by those who start them.

Yours, etc.,
COMMON SENSE.

THE WRONGS OF IRELAND

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—A writer in your paper of yesterday under the misnomer of "Justice" comments upon the wrongs of Ireland, and encloses a clipping from Dublin in the same strain, which you publish. It proposes with the coolness of a midwinter day, that the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland should relegate its internal legislation, respecting home rule or separation for Ireland to the Hague Arbitration Court, which has no jurisdiction, except in international matters between sovereign states, and that merely of a limited character. This preposterous request is made because, forsooth, the Sein Fein, Clan Na Gael, Fenian Brotherhood, dynamiters, boycotters, moonshiners, cattle hockers, or other secret treasonable society demands it. If anyone were so silly as to make such an application to the peace conference, over which it has no jurisdiction, just imagine the smile it would evoke from the judges that would laugh the applicant out of court. It would need to have a perennial sitting with a lot of business in arrear were its jurisdiction so comprehensive. Our teamsters on strike could with as much propriety apply to that tribunal for an increase of wages. Although the imperial parliament has extended to Ireland exceptional treatment and legislation, it is the only part of the kingdom that shows the cloven hoof. You do not find Scotland, Wales, Cornwall, or any other part of the kingdom spouting treason, or threatening and taking life, nor do they ask for preferential treatment. Not only does Ireland want to cut loose but it wants to take with it loyal Ulster and other parts against their wishes, and protests to be subjected to its tender mercies. How absurd it is to cite Canada as a precedent, which is only a colony, three thousand miles distant, while Ireland lies in the heart of the kingdom, and is an integral part thereof. It would be just as reasonable for the township of Douro to ask for home rule and separation from the rest of the Province of Ontario, and that too against the protests of Lakefield, and the northern portion of the township, for the same reasons that animate Ireland. If the people of Ireland are are in poverty or misery, as its advocates for mercenary motives, represent, it is because of the exactions of a foreign potentate who working upon their credulity, superstition and bigotry is responsible for the conditions that beset them. They are a warm hearted people and if let alone would become prosperous and loyal to the core.

Yours, etc.,
FREEDOM.

Japan Troubled Over China; Struggle When Empress Dies

Treaties are Violated—Press Regards Conditions as Serious and Warns China Against Pigheaded Attempts.

Tokio, May 17.—Japan is considerably concerned about the recent attitude of the Chinese newspapers on dynastic matters. The Mainichi Shimpo, an excellently informed journal, interprets the comments of these newspapers as foreshadowing the beginning of a struggle for the succession, the Dowager Empress of China, who is the virtual ruler of the empire, being now 77 years old. The civilized world, the Mainichi thinks, may expect an upheaval at no very distant date.

The Jiji, regarding the matter, from Japan's viewpoint, points out that China's pigheaded attempts to enforce the new policy due to China's so-called rights and recovery of spirit, of no concessions to Japan, have already nullified an important provision of the Treaty of Pekin, namely the exploitation of the forest of the Yalu River, negotiations as to which, between China and Japan, were recently abruptly broken off at Tien-Tsin. This action, the Jiji holds, threatens the stability of all treaties. It warns China that Japan was prominent in promoting the programme of the powers for the preservation of the integrity of China, but should treaties be deliberately ignored, the attitude of the powers may suddenly change the regard to her. Telegrams say that the Japanese Minister at Pekin has vigorously rejected China's demand for the restoration of the Manchurian mines, appropriated by Japan during the war.

The Kokumin, in a leading article, that is supposed to reflect official opinion, urges united action by the powers to enforce the open door as the only hope of preserving peace in the Far East. Japan, it says, is ready to co-operate to prevent present conditions in China from running their course.

Gen Terauchi, the Japanese minister of war, left today upon a pleasure trip to Manchuria, which is regarded as an interesting fact at the present juncture.

Thunder Scared Minister's Horse

Rev. J. G. Lewis' Animal Did Lively Stunt in East Ward

As a result of the first heavy clap of thunder, which occurred early this afternoon, a runaway was caused and considerable damage done to a buggy.

Rev. J. G. Lewis was the owner of the runaway horse. The animal was standing in front of Mr Lewis' residence. He and his children were going to drive out to the woods to gather some wild flowers. The sudden peal of thunder frightened the horse so badly that it started off, and tore down Mark street to Hunter by leaps and bounds. The spirited steed turned the corner and in doing so, struck a post in front of Mr. Jas. McDonald's and broke the shaft of the buggy Here the horse gained its freedom and ran on up the street but did not get a very great distance when Mr. F. Hamilton succeeded in stopping it. The buggy was somewhat damaged by colliding with the post. The children's trip to the woods had to be cancelled as a result of the runaway.

New Arrivals From England

Nine Men Will Reach Here Monday to Engage in Farm Work

Mr. Geo. H. Howson, immigration agent has received word that nine men from the Old Country will arrive in Peterborough on Monday and will engage in farm work. The men sailed from Liverpool on the Lake Champlain on the 8th inst. The new arrivals are all good, healthy specimens of humanity. Their names are R. Heitmon, G. Cooper, H. W. Brooker, A Lock, E J Lock, F Saunders, F Coleman, A Brown, and A Hackinsal.

FACTORIES OPEN IN CLEAN STATE

Are in a Better Sanitary Condition Than Ever

Chief Instructors G. G. Publow and Frank Herns (successor to Mr. G. H. Barr) are authority for the assurance that the cheese factories and creameries of Ontario will open this year in cleaner condition than ever before in the history of the trade. While improvement has been steady of recent years, there is a special reason for the marked betterment this spring, and the reason is the change in the system of dairy instruction, by which the inspectors are given authority to insist on sanitary conditions at factories and on farms. As a matter of fact, there is no compulsion being exercised, because such is not required; the fact that they have the necessary authority in reserve is sufficient. They are going on much as in previous years all they could do was to visit such as were able to pay the instruction fee. Now the Provincial Government stands the expense and sees that all are looked after. This insures two things: (1) that every factory and creamery in the Province will have the benefit of expert advice; (2) that every factory must be made and kept clean. As Mr. Herns puts it, all they require is that the factory must be clean inside and out, and supplied with utensils necessary to make finest goods.

MARKET CLERK COMPLAINS

Thinks He Has Not Had a Square Deal in Merry-go-round Matter

Market Clerk McIlmoyle says that he considers he has been given a raw deal in not being allowed the privilege of having the merry-go-round on the Market Square. He stated to the Review today, that the council was going to receive $10 a month from the owner of this amusement, and that an alderman, on whose field the merry-go-round is situated was going to receive $10 a week rent from it. Mr. McIlmoyle considers that he has been done an injustice. He rents the market and market square and says that the city could have allowed him the merry-go-round the proprietor paying the same license as he has to now. Others years medicine men with their medicines have been allowed on the market without paying a cent.

CUTS DOWN CIRCULATION

Eastern Townships Publishers Protest Against Postal Regulations

Sherbrooke, Que., May 17. — The Eastern Townships' Press Association has passed resolutions protesting against the new postal regulations. The reasons given are that it affects about three per cent. of their circulation in the border towns of the New England States, and among the former Canadians, who are scattered throughout the Republic. They complain of insufficient notice, injurious effect upon the repatriation movement, and the discrimination it creates against country readers, who cannot, like those in the cities, obtain their publications through news dealers.

Green Stuff on To-day's Market

Vegetable Truck Sold Readily at Good Prices

Today's market was well attended by both buyers and sellers and a large amount of produce changed hands. The feature was the offering of considerable green stuff, which met with a ready sale at good prices. Green onions, radishes, and lettuce sold at 5c. per bunch, while tomatoes, turnips, and other vegetable plants sold at ten cents a small box, or three boxes for 25c. There would be about two dozen plants in each box.

Eggs were the same price as last week, selling at 15c and 16c per dozen, while butter was also in the old groove at 25c and 26c per pound.

Potatoes were plentiful and changed hands at 85c and 90c per bag. Very little meat was offered for sale. A small amount of beef sold at 5c and 6c per pound.

Offerings of poultry were few. Chickens went at from 60c to 80c per pair, while in many cases the quality was not such as to command high prices.

Wheat Weaker on the Market

Market To-day Reacted Six Cents —Below Yesterday

New York, May 18.—The stock market was weak from start to finish today and suffered declines of from 1 to 3 points all around. The weakest issues were St. Paul, Ches. & Ohio, Interboro, the Hill stocks and Southern Railway. Good resistance was shown in the Harriman issues, Reading and the Copper stocks. The professional element was bearish to a man and were disposed to sell those issues which had been bulled of late. The bank statement was a favorable one and the market rallied a trifle toward the close.

Wheat was weaker on profit taking sales and good weather reports. Opening prices withdrew from 1 to 2 cents, and later the market reacted to about 6 cents below yesterday's close. Snow's estimate of the Kansas wheat crop says sixty per cent of the wheat crop damaged and the oat crop entirely destroyed. Corn and oats were weaker in sympathy with wheat.

The Review is prepared to publish scores by innings together with the batteries of all amateur baseball games, and score by quarters with the line-up of all lacrosse matches, played by Peterborough teams in this city or elsewhere the approaching season. No matter of how little importance the game may be, if the score is authentic it will be printed by the Review.

Scores must be sent in on the day on which the games are played. They may be mailed to the sporting editor or left in the main office, thus assuring their publication, the following day. Be sure that the scores are absolutely correct with names properly spelled, and figures clean and correctly totalled.

Secretaries of all leagues and clubs are requested to send to the Sporting Editor the names of the members of their teams, schedules of games and such items of interest as they deem worthy of publication. Communications may be sent as often as desired, and will receive prompt attention.

The Review has on hand a supply of score cards to record runs by innings, hits, errors, batteries and the features of the game. The cards can be procured by club captains and secretaries at any time, free of charge

Call at this office and as many as required will be furnished gratis. Every club in the city should secure a supply. Junior teams will be given them just as gladly as their elders.

Quakers Were In Fine Form

And Had no Difficulty in Defeating Norwood Team

In a fast game of football at the exhibiton grounds last night the Quakers defeated the Norwood team in an exhibition match by 4 goals to 1. The homesters played fine football and demonstrated their superiority at all stages. The Norwood boys struggled gamely, but were up against a better team. The half time score was 2-0 in favor of the Quakers. The teams lined up as follows:

Norwood		Quakers
	Goal
Rodgers		McFadden
	Backs
Rattan		Archibald
Kidd		Deforge
	Halves

Mr. M. Kennedy of Norwood, made a satisfactory referee. The Quakers showed fine form and will be in great shape when the Midland league opens.

THE TURF

Wm Leach, of Millbrook, a well known horse trainer arrived in the city yesterday and brought with him Billy C., a fast little horse, which will be entered in the 2.30 class on May 24th. Mr. Leach has taken up his quarters at the driving park where he will train all summer. Besides Billy C. he will have a couple more outside horses in a few days and expects to get several from the city.

Lady Gothard, Harry Direct and Nellie Keswick, three of the horses for the free-for-all on the 24th, had a good workout yesterday afternoon and stepped along at a lively clip. The three horses are going pretty fast for this time of the year.

Mr. Richard Kelliher, of Hastings arrived in the city yesterday with his fast black colt, known as Black Mac. He has put him in Dr. Johnston's stables and the doctor will get him in shape for the named race on the 24th.

A large crowd of interested horsemen are down at the track this afternoon to see the matched race between Bert McCollum's black pacer and William Whittom's Silver Queen

ASKED TO PLAY THE TOURISTS

Secretary Regan, of the local lacrosse club, has received a letter from John C. Miller, of Orillia, asking the Peterborough team to play his Australia team in that town on June 3rd. It is not yet known whether the invitation will be accepted. Mr. Miller asks the local club to name its terms, and this will be done.

BASEBALL!

A despatch from Athens says:—Because he whipped his 12 year old son for playing baseball on Sunday, J. H. Arnold, a travelling revivalist, was sentenced to six months on the rock pile by Mayor Dorsey. Physicians testified that the boy was lashed until his flesh was pulp, and that he might not recover. Arnold said he believed it was a deadly sin to play baseball on Sunday, and that he had ordered his son not to play, but the latter disobeyed, and was even captain of the team.

FOR THE FANS

You'll seldom here the rooter root when his team is on the bog.

S-t-r-i-k-e! called Umpire O'Loughlin at the ball grounds. "Did you hear that!" said the gentle longshoremen peacefully at work on the wharf—and they promptly truck.

Mrs. Kelley, wife of the Toronto manager, with her three sons, will take up her home in Toronto after the Torontos return from their next trip. The boys are aged 9, 7 and 5 and the elder chap is one of the greatest fans living. "He knows baseball as well as I do and after a game often roasts me for mistakes made on the field," said Manager Kelley.

ROLLER HOCKEY FRIDAY NIGHT

There will be a roller hockey match between two local teams at the Charlotte street rink next Friday night between nine and ten o'clock. There will be skating until nine o'clock and the band will remain until the finish of the match. Those who have seen the practices state that the boys are becoming quite expert at the game and can handle themselves almost as well as on ice. There will be a treat in store next Friday evening.

McCollum's Pacer Won Matched Race

In a matched race for $100 at the exhibition grounds this afternoon, Bert McCollum's black pacer defeated William Whittom's Silver Queen, two heats out of three. Silver Queen took the first heat, but the McCollum horse showed great form in the second and third heats and won both of them. A large number of horsemen witnessed the race.

CLOSE SEASON

Mail and Empire; Representatives of the Lindsay branch of the fish and Game Protective Association of Canada who interviewed Hon. Dr. Reaume, the Minister of Public Works Wednesday, asked that a close season for frogs be established. This they wished to apply to all the waters of the Trent Valley during the months of May, June and July. They pointed out that young frogs were food for the fish, and the matured frogs for mink, raccoons, bitter and skunk. The capture of the frogs and their use for human consumption was working a serious injury to the fish and game of the province. The deputation suggested that, if the close season could not be made to apply to the territory mentioned, it should be put in force in Victoria County. Consideration was promised.

At a meeting of Toronto barbers it was decided to charge fifteen cents for shaves.

INSTITUTE FOR DEAF AND DUMB

Desires Names of all Mute Children in the Province

The Canadian Mute, of Belleville, says:

"We have reason to believe that there is a considerable number of deaf children in this Province, of school age, who are not attending our Institution, but who should be doing so. We are desirous of obtaining the names and addresses of the parents of all such children, and we earnestly appeal to the readers of these lines to assist us in securing this information. Clergymen of all denominations, physicians, assessors, inspectors of schools, and public school teachers, are in an especially favorable position to assist us in this direction, and by so doing they would be conferring an inestimable boon to these silent members of the community. Our desire is to enter into correspondence with the parents of all deaf children with the hope of inducing them to send them to our school at Belleville, where they may receive such training and instruction as will fit them to become useful, self-supporting and respected citizens. It is a lamentable thing that any deaf boy or girl should be deprived of the advantages of such an education when it is freely provided for them by the people of the Province. We earnestly hope the newspapers throughout Ontario will call attention to this matter as emphatically as possible, and thus aid in this good work.

New Safety Signal On the Railways

It Tells of Open Switches, Broken Rails or Extra Trains

Philadelphia, Pa., May 13.—Reduction to a minimum of railway collisions and wrecks from broken rails is what Dr. Benjamin F. Saurman, for years a practising physician of Philadelphia, claims his new automatic invention, the "safety signal," will accomplish. Not only will it warn the railway engineer of impending danger, he says, but in case the man at the throttle does not heed, or is injured, it will automatically stop the locomotive to which it is attached, in time to avert accident.

Dr. Saurman today gave a demonstration of his invention at a shop on North Marshall street, and a number of railroad men and practical engineers who saw it, pronounced the invention a success.

The safety signal is a device which is installed in the locomotive cab and operated by electricity, or by a mechanical tripping device attached to the rails. It is set inmotion by the flange of the wheel. By it the engineer is warned by lights and by bell of the proximity of a train either in the block ahead or the block behind. If he fails to heed the signal the appliance automatically shuts off the steam and sets the brakes without human aid.

The breaking of a rail, the removal of portion of the track, or the opening of a switch is also automatically recorded by the device, and by means of a clock movement and dial, the hour and minute of the warning is recorded for future reference in case of inquiry.

Dr. Saurman has been working on his invention for several years. The idea was suggested to him by the great wreck at West Plainfield, N. J., several years ago, when many lives were lost.

King Edward early one morning this week surprised the royal household by ordering one of his mail phaetons to be harnessed and setting off for a drive around the west end accompanied by only a couple of grooms. The King, who is a very fine whip, though not perhaps as good as the Duke of Connaught, handled his rather skittish pair in thoroughly workmanlike fashion.

I am told that throughout the drive, which lasted about an hour, the King was quite unrecognized even by a police constable who calmly and somewhat summarily, held him up, just as he was about to enter Hyde Park at the Marble Arch. The King smiled pleasantly as he obeyed the constable's signal. Indeed, he seemed to, as no doubt he did, enjoy the novel experience of being treated like one of his own subjects, and waited patiently behind the outstretched hand of the law, until several omnibuses had passed in front of him on their way along Oxford street.

Convention of City Teachers

Will be Held in Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday and Thursday Next

The City Teachers' Association will hold a convention in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, May 22nd and 23rd. A good programme has been prepared and paper on timely topics will be read. Mr. H. W. Auden, principal of the Upper Canada College, Toronto, will deliver an address on Wednesday evening, May 22nd, on "Tendencies in Education." The lecture will be open to the public.

CRITICISM OF CHURCH CHOIRS

Is the Singing in the Churches Deteriorating?

"I wish to know whether this is the proper place to introduce a motion strongly endorsing the Government's action in refusing to allow the courts to defeat local option upon a technicality, also to condemn most emphatically its attitude in demanding a three-fifths majority?"

This was the question asked by a member at this morning's meeting of the Presbyterian Synod, says the Toronto Star.

The Moderator ruled that it must first be placed upon the docket before discussion.

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon introduced an overture asking the General Assembly to appoint a committee, with a secretary in charge, to advance the interests of moral and temperance reforms, particularly in the West.

The report on Church Life and Work by Dr. Farquarson, called forth some sharp criticism on the part of members of the Synod. The singing by the choirs was especially attacked.

"The singing in our churches is degenerating," said one grey-haired old minister. "The choir gets up and sings and no one knows the word of what is sung. Such words should be given out from the pulpit, or posted up where the people can see them."

At 12 o'clock a telegram was received from the General Moderator, Rev Peter Duncan, saying he expected to be present during the afternoon's session. A paper was then read on French evangelization work. This afternoon's programme deals with home and foreign missions, and a public meeting will be held this evening.

EAST DURHAM LICENSES.

The East Durham License Board met in Millbrook on Saturday last, but only attended to some routine business. The sale of the Dominion Hotel by Mr Ross being off, was as great a satisfaction to the Board as it is to the general public. Those present were Mr. John Kennedy, Inspector; S. O. Taylor, Chairman, and Robert Vance.

INJURED BY FALLING TREE.

On Monday last William Anderson, son of Mr. Geo. Anderson, who resides about three miles from Campbellford, met with a serious accident. He was driving when a tree blew across the road, the limbs striking him and injuring him severely. He received injuries about the legs and arms, had several ribs broken, was cut about the head, and hurt about the back. Medical aid was at once secured, and there is every hope that he will recover.

ALMOST DROWNED.

On Wednesday afternoon last Mr Isaac Denike's little boy and another little child, both four years old, were playing around the cellar of the old cheese factory in which there was about three feet of water. Mr. Denike's child fell in. The other child ran for help and Mr. Jas. Anderson reached the little fellow, he being the first to get there. On his arrival life seemed extinct. Dr. Richards, who was called by 'phone, was in attendance in fifteen minutes, and was successful in restoring consciousness. We are glad to say, that the little fellow is all right again.—Warkworth Journall.

TURNED OUT ALL RIGHT.

A stranger came to this neighborhood one day last week, and drove out to the home of a prominent farmer in Dairyworth neighborhood, where he bargained for one of his drivers and paid for the same in American currency. After the stranger had left he grew uneasy, lest the greenback should prove a gold brick and he forthwith hitched up and drove to town. He tried to exchange the money at the bank for Canadian currency, but the teller was not quite sure about the genuineness of the bills and refused to take them. thereupon the farmer got after the stranger and forced him to leave the steed behind until he could pay for it in more acceptable currency. The stranger bought a set of harness and paid for same, and also purchased a cart, intending to drive the animal to Peterborough. Contrary to expectations of many, the man returned on Tuesday and made satisfactory settlement with the parties concerned, and left the same afternoon for Peterborough with the outfit.—Norwood Register.

COBOURG'S WANTS.

Cobourg is somewhat premature in announcing that it is to have a union C.N.R. and G.T.R. station. The town has asked that the Canadian Northern run parallel with the Grand Trunk instead of north of it, and that the two roads unite in building a depot. The C.N.R., however, has not as yet consented.—Toronto Star.

TEACHING IN CALGARY.

Five graduates of Norwood High School are now teaching in the city schools in Calgary, Alta., viz., Miss Minnie E. Howson, Miss Clara Sanderson, Miss Maggie Fraser, Miss Jennie Calder and Miss Annie E. Howson. The city is growing very rapidly. The report of the superintendent, which appeared in the Calgary papers the other day, shows that the public school population increased from April 1905 to 1906, 15 per cent. and from April 1906 to April, 1907, 33 1-3 per cent. The pupils now number 1596 and there are 38 teachers on the staff.

VILLAGE WANTS LIGHT.

The meeting of our citizens on Monday night to discuss the lighting situation, was not as well attended by our people as the importance of the question demanded, although a number were present. After general discussion a resolution was submitted and carried, asking the council to make further attempt to induce a competent man to come in and light the village. The general feeling seemed to be that electricity was the most desirable lighting.—Millbrook Mirror.

DISTRICT MEETING.

The annual meeting of the clergymen and laymen representing the several Methodist churches, included in the Campbellford district, will be held in the Methodist church, Norwood, on Wednesday, May 22nd. The Ministerial session will be held in the morning and the general session in the afternoon. Rev. William Johnston of Warkworth, will preside. The principal business of the meeting is to receive the circuit reports and general matters in order for the annual meeting of the Conference in June.

A CLOSE CALL.

A fatal accident was narrowly averted at Jack's Creek last Wednesday as Mr. Dwyre's men were breaking a jam of logs on one of the high banks. Mr. David Drain, jr., was in front of the jam trying to start some logs when the jam gave way suddenly and the logs came down on Drain and he had to take into the water. About 50 logs went over him and he had to dive three times to save himself, and only for Thomas Puffer being an expert with his peavy there was a big log coming right on Drain that would have killed him, but Puffer seeing the danger sprang with his peavy and caught the log and stopped it. He received some bad bruises, but is now able to walk about.

A Nova Scotian Indian knocked down a white man, a teetotaler, who refused to drink with him.

OBITUARY

MR. S. McKIBBON.

After a lengthy illness Mr. Samuel McKibbin, one of the oldest residents of Peterborough county, passed away on Monday at his home in the village where he had lived for the past twenty years. The late Mr. McKibbin was born in the township of Smith seventy-seven years ago, and lived there for fifty-seven years until his removal to Lakefield, on his retiring from the farming occupation. It will thus be seen that the deceased may well be looked upon as one of the oldest settlers in this county. Not only was he one of the oldest, but he was also most highly respected, and took a prominent part in all the movements inaugurated for the benefit of the community. He was at one time county valuator. The deceased had been ailing for some time from a complication of diseases which finally resulted in his death. He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name is Bessie Garbutt, also of Smith, and one brother, James, and one sister, Mrs. Shields, both of Peterborough. Two children were born to the union, but both of these have since died. The late Mr. McKibbin was a staunch Baptist, and was one of the most prominent members of the church in Lakefield. He was born about four miles from Peterborough, living there until he became of age and married, when he removed to his own farm about two miles from Lakefield where he lived until he retired. — Lakefield News.

HAD DISAPPEARED

Last evening two of the police force were called to a certain residence in the city to arrest a drunk who was near the house. When the officers arrived the bird had flown or else he had never been there. The lady of the house knew nothing of the message sent in. She said that some one must have come into the hall and telephoned while she was upstairs.

The Officials Were Shot Down; Stirring Incident in Poland

Infuriated Cossacks' Revenge For Losing Their Comrades.

Attack Mill Hands Killing Fifteen, and Wounding Thirty — Victims Had No Connection With Robbery of Mail—Plot to Kill Czar Nearly Succeeded—Soldier Was In Personal Escort.

Lodz, Russian Poland, May 18.—Because a band of terrorists attacked a mail wagon in the neighborhood, killed a Cossack guard, and wounded another Cossack and two postoffice officials, 45 officials and workmen of Kuttner's spinning mill were shot down yesterday by a patrol of Cossacks.

While the wagon was passing through Lonkowa street, the terrorists suddenly appeared from a side street, opened fire on the Cossack escort, whom they shot, seized $1,000 from the wagon, and escaped.

A moment later a patrol of Cossacks arrived on the scene, and, infuriated by the fate of their comrades, the soldiers rushed into the Kuttner factory, which was near the spot where the robbery occurred, and began firing indiscriminately, killing 15 and wounding over 30 persons.

Another Band Gets $5,000.

Warsaw, May 18.—A band of terrorists held up the city office of the Vistula Railroad in Dluga street yesterday and got away with $5,000 after a severe fight, in which four persons were killed and nine others wounded.

The soldiers fired a volley at the fleeing terrorists, but only succeeded in hitting some bystanders, two of whom were killed and five wounded.

Russia's Jesse James.

Moscow, May 18.—Belezoff, the man who carried out the great Moscow bank robbery on March 20, 1906, when a band of terrorists secured $27,500, and who made an alleged sensational escape from a train while being extradited from Switzerland, died in the prison hospital here Thursday of consumption.

Great Strike Will Continue; No Settlement in Sight

Business in Montreal Is Being Completely Tied Up.

Longshoremen Again Turn Down Offer of Advance—Grain Trimmers Now Quit Work—Steamers Sailing With Light Cargoes—Nearly Three Thousand Men Are Idle—Mr. Lemieux Will Not Come to Montreal.

Montreal, May 18.—The longshoremen met last night and for over five hours discussed the offer made by the shippers in the afternoon to grant an increase of two and a half cents an hour and leave the rest to arbitration board.

The result of the meeting was that the men again turned down the offer of the shipping companies, although they were strongly advised to accept it.

G. W. Stephens, president of the harbor commissioners, suggested that the strikers should appoint a committee of three to meet him and two others to see what could be done, and the men agreed to this.

The result of last night's decision is that the strike will continue, unless some other efforts at conciliation succeed.

This is the fourth day of the longshoremen's strike in the port of Montreal, and it has already tied up the business of the port so effectively that it will take many weeks to straighten things out, and every day is making it harder for the shipping companies.

Experiencing Difficulties.

The steamship companies are still trying to unload and load their steamers, but are experiencing greater difficulty, as the members of the crews, who were willing, even if inexperienced workers, every day in the week finding they have made quite a little money, are laying off from work. Steamers due to sail to-day and Sunday will now have to be content with very light cargoes.

A despatch from Ottawa states that Hon. Mr. Lemieux will not come to Montreal unless his presence is absolutely necessary.

Mr. McNicholl, vice-president and general manager of the C. P. R., is disappointed in the attitude of the men, and sees no other way out than to let the matter take its course.

Grain Trimmers Quit.

The grain trimmers stopped work yesterday, and they were followed by a series of resignations from men who load and unload the craft engaged in inland navigation. This made four hundred more to add to the idle wharf laborers, and made a grand total of almost three thousand men out of work as a result of the longshoremen's demand for increased pay. The number of longshoremen who originally quit work amounted to 1,800. Their ranks were afterwards swelled by 300 teamsters of the Shedden Company, 350 freight handlers, and yesterday 200 grain trimmers and 200 men employed along the canal basin and at St. Paul to handle the cargoes of vessels plying between Montreal and interior ports.

CZAR WAS IN DANGER.

Conspirators In His Personal Escort—Plot Deep Laid.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Further details of the plot at Tsarskoe-ye-Selo against the life of His Majesty the Emperor indicate that his escape during Passion Week was very narrow.

The plot was deep laid, and the conspirators were members of the Emperor's personal escort. The arrest of one man, a Cossack sergeant, has made it possible to trace the conspiracy back for four months, and shows that preparations were being made on the second of February.

Wheat Nearly All In.

Brandon, Man., May 18.—Reports from various points in the Brandon district, the most important in the province, indicate that the wheat is practically all in.

About 50 per cent. of the farmers have completed their wheat seeding and have been putting in oats.

In localities where the land is low-lying, the seeding is well advanced though not finished.

It is reported, however, that 1907's crop of wheat in the Brandon district will be entirely seeded by Monday at the latest.

Dynamited the Wall.

Oakville, May 18.—Some time ago a fire destroyed Oakville's opera house, but the walls stood intact. W. S. Cummings was often requested to raze the walls. Thursday night, shortly after midnight, and after the lights went out, a gang of men attacked the wall facing Dundas street, and cutting a hole in it blew it up with powder. Cummings says he will find out those who took the law into their own hands if it costs him a small fortune.

It will cost the town a neat sum to remove the debris from the corner.

Killed by Fall From Bed.

New York, May 18.—Alonzo J. Jones, a well-known retired architect and yachtsman, died at Bellevue Hospital Thursday night as a result of injuries sustained in falling from his bed.

A piece of a broken china cuspidor was imbedded in his side, and he had lost a large quantity of blood.

New Governor on Deck.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 18.—The steamer Port Kingston arrived here Thursday from England, with Sydney Olivier, the new governor of Jamaica, on board.

There was a great gathering of officials and the populace at the wharf to welcome the new administrator.

Winnipeg's Loan.

Winnipeg, May 18.—The city treasurer has completed a statement showing that the loan secured by the city from the Bank of Scotland cost within a fraction of eight per cent. The amount secured was $1,314,000.

PRINCE FUSHIMI'S VISIT.

Royal Jap Will Be Received With All Ceremony.

Ottawa, May 18.—Prince Fushimi of Japan, who is expected to arrive at Quebec on June 7, will be royally received and entertained by the Canadian Government while in Canada.

In Quebec the prince will be entertained by Lieutenant-Governor Jette, in Montreal by Sir Montague Allen, in Toronto by Lieutenant-Governor Mortimer Clark, and in Winnipeg by Lieutenant-Governor Sir Daniel McMillan.

At all points there will be military guards of honor, and all the detail of ceremony which was carried out when Prince Arthur was in Canada. The Dominion Government will provide a special train for Prince Fushimi and his suite.

It may be noted as one reason for Canada being especially gracious to Prince Fushimi that there is a very good chance of Prince Fushimi being Emperor of Japan some day. The only person between him and the present occupant of the throne is a delicate boy.

The present visit of the prince may have considerable influence in promoting good trade relations between Canada and Japan. Prince Fushimi is accompanied by four members of the Japanese aristocracy.

Mr. Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, will be at Quebec to meet the party and will accompany them across the continent.

Earl Grey is so much impressed with the importance of this visit that he is cutting down his stay in England to a bare fortnight that he may accompany Prince Fushimi to Canada and entertain him while in Ottawa.

CALL IT HOMICIDE.

Jury Pass Severe Strictures on Scientists Methods.

New York, May 18.—A recommendation that a law be passed in New York State subjecting to prosecution on a charge of homicide all persons responsible for failure to provide proper medical attendance for children suffering from dangerous diseases, was made by a coroner's jury yesterday.

The jury heard the evidence in the case of a girl four years old, who died without medical attendance on May 4.

The verdict also censured the father of the child, and charged him with criminal negligence.

According to the evidence, the child died of pneumonia. Her father testified that the treatment consisted of prayer. He said that before four other children of his died he called in physicians, but did so simply to comply with the law. He did not administer prescribed medicines as he thought nothing could serve better than prayer.

GROWING CURSE IN COUNTRY.

Workhouse Officials Are Jailed for Receiving Bribes.

London, May 18.—With a single exception all the members of the West Ham board of guardians and the workhouse and infirmary officials whose trial began at the central criminal court April 24 on the charge of receiving bribes, were found guilty yesterday and sentenced to prison.

In summing up, Justice Jelf characterized the practices disclosed in the evidence as being a curse to the country. He added that he was afraid it was a growing curse, and that the people were losing their hold on all that was best in the civic life of the country.

Guilty of Perjury.

Toronto, May 18.—Mrs. Jessie Alexander of Holland Landing was found guilty of perjury and remanded for sentence at the Court of General Sessions yesterday. At a case of a domestic quarrel heard before Magistrate Woodcock of Newmarket, prisoner swore that defendant had never beaten his boy, knowing same to be untrue.

Mrs. Alice Taylor will also be tried for perjury in the same case.

The following true bills were returned by the grand jury yesterday: Pauline Pavie, theft, on three charges; Herman Benda, abominable crime; William Lount, theft.

France Will Be Safe.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—The Paris correspondent of The Russ, in a despatch to his paper, published yesterday, announced that he had obtained information from alleged authentic sources to the effect that the Franco-Japanese agreement, now in course of negotiation, will contain conditions applying to the eventuality of a European war, and binding Japan to place at the disposition of France 300,000 men, while the British will land a contingent of 100,000 to 150,000.

Chinese for Railway Navvies.

Mexico City, Mex., May 18.—A despatch from Guaymas says that the steamer Maori King has arrived here with 1,200 Chinese and 300 Russians brought to this country to work on the Guadalajara extension of the Southern Pacific.

During the trip across the Pacific 20 Chinese were killed in a riot on the vessel.

Crushed to Death.

Lucknow, May 18.—Yesterday morning James, the eldest son of Peter Torrance, was engaged in rolling in a field, when the horses, frightened by a passing train, became unmanageable and ran away, crushing him to death. He was 24 years old.

Ravages of Plague.

Simla, May 18.—The Government returns published yesterday show that the deaths from the plague throughout India for the six weeks ending May 11 reached the appalling total of 451,892. In the Punjab alone 286,777 deaths occurred.

Eruption In Sicily.

Messina, Sicily, May 18.—A violent eruption of the Stromboli volcano occurred Thursday. It was preceded by a tremendous detonation, and followed by continuous less violent explosions.

New permanent cavalry corps are to be established in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

STRIKERS FIGHT FIRE

Work Hard to Extinguish Big Blaze at Docks.

$500,000 Damage Done By Flames—Piers of Morgan Line Destroyed—Ships Have Narrow Escape—Freight All Burned—Tragedy As Result of Strike—Bystander Shot By Detective.

New York, May 18.—Fire last night destroyed the piers of the Morgan Line, owned by the Southern Pacific Railway, on the Hudson River, at the foot of Canal street, Manhattan. A large quantity of the freight stored on the pier and in the sheds, was destroyed, and several ships which were berthed there narrowly escaped. The loss will reach $500,000.

The firemen worked shoulder to shoulder with hundreds of striking longshoremen from other piers, who did all that was possible to save the freight stored under the sheds. The Morgan Line was the first of the lines reaching New York to grant the demands of the striking stevedores.

Longshoremen Make Gain.

New York, May 18.—Joseph Cuneo, stevedore contractor for the Cuneo Steamship Company, the Trinidad Steamship Company and the Donald Steamship Company, whose vessels dock in Brooklyn, yesterday granted the demands of the striking longshoremen.

President Conners of the Longshoremen's Union, announced that the joint Executive Council of the United Teamsters of America had decided to support the longshoremen.

The Cederic, of the White Star Line, sailed on time yesterday with a light cargo.

SHOT AT BYSTANDER.

Strikers Threaten to Lynch Detective Who Used Revolver.

New York, May 18.—A fatal shooting and an attempt to lynch the man who fired the shot marked the strike of longshoremen in Hoboken yesterday.

The man who lost his life was an innocent bystander, Harry Marshall. He was struck by a bullet fired by Benj. Vincent, a private detective, who had been employed on one of the docks affected by the strike. Vincent shot at some strikers with whom he had quarreled and by whom he was being pursued.

The trouble began when Vincent entered a saloon near the docks and asked for a drink. As the bartender passed the bottle to him, one of several striking longshoremen, who were in the saloon, shouted, "Don't give it to him; he's a scab." Vincent denied the charge, but the bartender refused to serve him.

Just what happened then is not known, but a moment later Vincent dashed into the street with a revolver in his hand, and a crowd of strikers at his heels. As he reached the street he turned and fired. Marshall was standing on the sidewalk, and the second bullet from Vincent's revolver struck him in the head and killed him instantly.

When Marshall dropped to the sidewalk the strikers started toward Vincent with cries of "Lynch him, lynch him." Vincent sped down the street with the revolver still clutched in his hand, and the angry crowd only a few feet behind him.

When a policeman barred his way the fugitive brandished his revolver as if about to fire, but the policeman was too quick for him and sent him rolling into the street with a bullet in his leg.

When the furious pursuers came up and demanded that the man be turned over to them, the policeman held them back with his revolver. He stood over the prostrate detective and held the mob in check until several other policemen arrived.

Fort William Crowded.

Fort William, May 18.—During the last 24 hours the greatest fleet that has ever gathered in a Canadian port has been tied up in the local harbor. Although the number of vessels have been somewhat lessened by the departure yesterday morning of 11 vessels, which have been tied up since Monday, the docks yesterday still present a busy scene and there is still a formidable array of lake carriers in port.

At the sheds one would almost think that the fall rush was in full blast and the men are all working at a fast clip to keep up with the demands.

E. T. Press Association Protest.

Sherbrooke, May 18.—The Eastern Townships Press Association has adopted resolutions protesting against the new postal regulations.

The reasons given are that it affects about 30 per cent. of their circulation in the border towns of the New England States, and among former Canadians scattered throughout the republic, that insufficient notice was given, that it has injurious effect upon the repatriation movement and discriminates against country readers, who cannot, like those in the cities, obtain their publications through newsdealers.

Just Tired of Life.

New York, May 18.—Surrounded by every evidence of luxury, Edwin M. Bidwell, aged 60 years, a photographer and publisher, well known in New York's exclusive circles, ended his life yesterday by taking poison.

He left a note "To whom it may concern," which read:

"My mind is sound, but my body is weak. I am no longer capable of making a living." It was signed E. M. Bidwell.

Two Men Fatally Hurt.

Evansville, Ind., May 18.—During an attempt here yesterday to break a street railway employes' strike, a street car, manned by a non-union man, jumped the tracks, dashing into a corner building and wrecking the entire store front. Two men and a baby were fatally hurt.

The project of building a $60,000 hotel at Prince Rupert has been entirely dropped.

SALARIES OF MINISTERS

The salaries of Cabinet Ministers in both the Provincial and Federal Parliaments have been raised, but how about the stipends of ministers of the gospel? Are they receiving what is their just recompense? To be sure some of them are, but others are not. The clergymen have not, as a rule, shared to any great extent in the general prosperity of the times.

If the members of a congregation desire brains, eloquence and thought in the pulpit, they must pay a liberal stipend. The people cannot expect culture, judgment and intellectual attainments of a high order unless they are prepared to give liberally. It is said that the people expect too much—more than they are prepared to pay for. If congregations must have "top notchers," they should be prepared to offer generous monetary inducements. This may be an apparently cold, hard commercial proposition, but nevertheless it holds good.

Commenting upon the subject the Canadian Courier has the following sensible observation:—

A few days ago a Baptist minister of England proposed that the Osler chloroform doctrine should be applied to the ministers of his church, reasoning that a quick, easy death is preferable to a long drawn out struggle against starvation. The suggestion serves to remind us of the pitiably small salaries paid the Protestant ministers. Probably these salaries are no smaller than they were ten years ago, but they certainly purchase less. The wages of laborers and artisans of every class—mainly through the influence of trades unions—have been increased in recent years to meet the cost of living. The minister has no trade union to protect him, his income is dependent upon the spirit which moves his congregation, and in the matter of increasing salaries the spirits have not been working overtime. Preaching the gospel is undoubtedly a divine-called mission, but when the salary attached to the mission is barely sufficient to keep body and soul together, and leaves nothing for books, travel or the proper education of children, the likelihood is that young men who are worth while will be hard of hearing when the call comes. As a matter of fact, the pulpits of our churches are being replenished with men who in learning and culture are scarcely the equals of the members of their congregations. The influence of the church is diminishing in proportion to the deterioration of the clergy. There is many a collection taken up to proselytize the Buddhist of far-off India which would not come amiss in the parsonage at home. All speed to the movement for church union, which it is hoped will give us fewer ministers, better supported and of higher calibre.

PEN POINTS

Prepare to stay at home for Victoria Day. There will be plenty of attractions in the city.

Next Thursday will be Empire Day but there will be no special exercises in the city schools owing to the teachers being engaged in convention proceedings.

The King and Queen of Spain have received over eight thousand messages of congratulation upon the birth of an heir to the Spanish throne. Reading and replying to the telegrams must cause the royal couple more trouble, than even the care of the baby.

Some days ago it was asked, which was the larger, Canada or the United States. The various authorities varied so much that appeal was made to the two Governments. The Secretary of State for Canada reported the area of this country at 3,729,655 square miles. The director of the bureau of the census, to whom the letter of the United States Secretary of State was referred, reports the area of the United States as 3,026,789 square miles; United States with Alaska and Hawaii, 3,624,122 square miles. Canada has consequently the most territory.

Commenting upon the anti-spitting by-law in this city the Lindsay Post says:—At the last session of Peterborough Council the following by-law was adopted: "It shall be unlawful for anyone to spit on the sidewalks or pavements of any streets of the city of Peterborough, or in the passageways, stairways, or entrances to buildings used by the public in the said city, or in any rooms, halls, buildings or places to which the public resort in the said city, or in any street car or public conveyance in the said city. Any person guilty of a violation of this by-law shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a fine not exceeding $50 and costs and in default thereof, the said fine and costs, six months in the county gaol."......In Lindsay the minimum fine for the offence is $1, and the maximum $10. The by-law has brought about a great improvement, but frequently the condition of the pavements where knots of people do congregate would seem to justify either a higher penalty or a more rigid enforcement of the one existing.

Many people in Peterborough will cheerfully concur in the views thus expressed by the Kingston News:

"Something ought to be done to check the indiscriminate use of fire crackers. It is some two weeks before Victoria Day, yet the crackers are being let off daily, and sometimes they explode under circumstances creating a danger to life and property. Complaints have reached this office showing that the explosives were thrown among groups of people and placed where women about to pass. No doubt those who engage in this practice do so without any intention to harm any person or thing. But real injury is, at times, done. Women and girls receive a shock to their nerves, have had their clothing burned, and their limbs injured by the thoughtless practice. Every season brings its grist of fires, the result of the explosion of fire crackers in the presence of combustible material. Boys have their faces and hands injured by carelessness in the use. The police will perform an appreciable part to society, by placing, as far as possible, a restraint on the lads, who, regardless of others rights and feelings make fun for themselves by exploding the cheap red covered explosives."

In a concise review of the Colonial Conference, which has just closed, the Christian Guardian says: Opinions differ as to the actual outcome of the conference of the Colonial Premiers in London. The matter of a British preference for colonial goods seems to have been pronounced by the British Government as impossible; and will not likely find any favor with the present Government. But while the Government felt that it could not go to the length that the Colonial Premiers desired, there is a possibility that it will enter most heartily into a scheme for liberally subsidizing lines of steamships that shall in no small degree facilitate inter-empire trade. On the other hand the Colonial Premiers were not prepared to accept any definite scheme by which they should contribute to the vast war-burden of the Empire, or the maintenance of its huge navy. That this will come in time we do not doubt, but at present the colonies (some of them, at least) look askance at it. The idea of an Imperial Council, also, where all the colonies should be represented and have a voice in Imperial affairs is as yet a dream, but there can be no doubt, but that the imperial bond is strengthening, while the misunderstandings and mutual jealousies that formerly may have existed, are slowly being dissipated. These things cannot be hurried, but there seems no reasonable ground for doubt, that the imperial idea is slowly capturing both the colonies and the home land; and the Colonial Conferences have been an important factor in the accomplishment of the much-to-be-desired end.

Many Canadian Delegates Will Attend Big Telephone Convention

Which Will be Held in Chicago on June 4, 5 and 6 Under Auspices of the Internationtal Independent Telephone Association—Represenative Gathering

A Chicago despatch says:—Development of plan to cement 7,000 telephone companies of the United States and Canada into one gigantic organisation is expected to follow the gathering in Chicago, next month of 1000 managers and presidents of the interested companies. The men will come as delegates to the convention of the International Independent Telephone Association to continue three days, from June 4th, at the Auditorium hotel. Independent telephone associations of thirty states, with approximately $350,000,000 invested, are to send delegations to the convention to urge forward the movement to unite.

Success of the movement inaugurated means the building of long distance telephone lines throughout the country giving unified toll service to more than 3,000,000 users of independent telephones. Ohio is leading the agitation for consolidation, with 300,000 independent telephones in use. Indiana with 200,000 is second. Other states having complete organizations are: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Kentucky, Maine, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Noth Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, New Hampshire, Virginia, Tennessee and Vermont.

The call for consolidation has come at the close of the most prosperous year in the history of independent telephony. Starting as a rural departure the independent telephone growth first included only the smaller cities. Now it is seeking entry to the large centres of population. Within the last year nearly $100,000,000 was expended in independents plants Denver, Omaha and Milwaukee in the west granted franchises, while Boston and Providence stand out as the leading eastern cities giving the new system admittance.

Delegates to the convention will hear reports that the independent organizations now practically control the Pacific coast and that all the principal cities of Oregon and Washington have adopted the new system within the last few months. Southern delegates will report that all the independent plants in Alabama have been enlarged, and that half a score of Tennessee cities, including Nashville, are having exchanges constructed.

Canada is expected to send 150 delegates to the convention. The high points of interest in Canadian affairs centre in Ontario, where scores of new companies have been organized. Manitoba voters have obtained power from the government to build a complete long distance system, and sixty municipalities will construct local exchanges. The independent systems in Manitoba and Alberta are to be connected soon by long distance lines through Saskatchewan.

Work on New Park St. Church Will be Started at Once

Enthusiastic Meeting of Building Committee—$1000 Raised Last Night—Site of New Edifice Will be on Present Lot.

It was a history making occasion last night at the Park Street Baptist church. It was the first meeting of the Building Committee. Rev. A. H. Brace opened the proceedings with prayer. There were present Frank Coon, T. G. Gillespie, R. F. Buntin, W. C. Barrie, Jos. Johnston, R. Inkgin, Wm. Kemp, H. Jewett, Jas. Tranter, Geo. Hayward.

Mr. T. G. Gillespie was appointed secretary, and Lorne Hicks, his assistant. Frank Coon was chosen chairman, and W. Kemp, treasurer.

A lengthy discussion on the best location for the new church followed, resulting in a resolution to build on the lot the church now occupies, with the fifty feet to the north. That the building shall be proceeded with immediately. It was the opinion of the committee that the limit should be $15,000. That the seating capacity should be for five hundred at least without gallery.

The committee then went into ways and means. The scheme outlined by the pastor was accepted and before rising, those present subscribed $1,000 for the undertaking. This was a marvellous move on the part of the committee and will be a great inspiration to the church and congregation to follow their example. The plan being entered into keenly, and the members none of whom, but will respond liberally, a committee of eight were appointed to receive subscriptions and report at next meeting.

First Accident at New Armouries

Jos. Ryder Struck by a Falling Pulley Which Severely Injured His Side

The first accident at the new armories happened yesterday afternoon and Mr. Jos. Ryder, of 35 Chambers street, was the victim. He is a comparatively young man and was assisting in rigging up a derrick on the grounds. He was putting the pulley up when he saw it slipping. He ran to get out of the way but tripped over a block of wood and fell. Before he could move the pulley dropped and struck him on the hip. Dr. Leach was called and the unfortunate man was removed to his home. Upon examination it was found that his right hip was badly injured and he will be laid up for a couple of weeks.

THE EXTENT OF THE UNIVERSE

Edifying Lecture by Rev. Dr Marsh at Astronomical Meeting

"The Universe, how big is it?" the subject dealt with by Rev. Dr. Marsh at the fortnightly meeting of the Astronomical Society last night, proved exceedingly interesting and edifying, and those present enjoyed a rare treat. The lecture took place in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, and there was a large attendance of members of the society and citizens generally. The deepest interest was manifested in the lecture, and it was plainly evident that Dr Marsh had given great study to his subject. The lecture might almost be described as wonderfully interesting, and those who heard it were furnished with much food for thought.

Dr Marsh presided at the opening of the meeting, but when the lecture proper commenced, Mr. W. H. Collier took the chair, and presided until the close of the meeting.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mr. W. H. Collier, who acted a secretary in the absence of the regular secretary, Dr. Neal. They were adopted without discussion. Several new members were admitted to the society, the membership of which now numbers over sixty.

Dr Marsh's lecture was couched in beautiful language, and opened up many new avenues of thought. In commencing his lecture he referred to the infiniteness of the universe. The mind, which was finite, could not conceive infinity, and as a result man could have no idea of the boundless space of the universe, of the magnitude of the star studded dome of heaven, and the myriads of worlds that move on their lonely way through space. Looking at the sky with the naked eye between 4,000 and 6,000 stars could be seen, but with a telescope the number was increased many fold, the more powerful the telescope, the more stars were brought into view.

In order that they might obtain some idea of the extent of of the universe, the speaker took his auditors on an imaginary trip through space, and in describing the journey many interesting, if not startling points were brought out. The starting point of the trip would be the sun, as it was the centre of our planetary system. How would the journey be made? A railroad train travelling at the rate of 60 miles an hour took 17 1-2 days to make the trip around the earth. Travelling at the same rate of speed it would take it 166 days to travel from the sun to the moon, and 176 years from the sun to the earth. It would take it 5,000 years to cover the distance between the sun and the planet Neptune. Travelling at the same speed as a cannon ball, it would take 15 years to reach the earth from the sun, and 415 years to reach the little planet Neptune. At the same rate of speed as a telegraph message travels it would take six hours to span the distance between the sun and Neptune.

These means of locomotion were too slow to travel the distance that had to be covered in exploring a little piece of the universe, said Dr. Marsh. The quickest means of transportation was to take a car of light, which travels at the rate of 186,000 miles per second. Travelling at this wonderful speed it would take eight minutes to reach the earth from the sun, four hours to reach Neptune and 4 1-2 years to reach the nearest fixed star. It would take 37 years to reach the north star, 3,000 years to reach some of the more distant fixed stars, and 10,000 years to reach the milky way. The distance was inconceivable. The milky way was only the beginning of the universe. Worlds and systems of worlds existed beyond that, and no one knew where they were bounded, if bounded they were. Man could not grasp the infinity of God's universe; it was something greater than the human mind could conceive.

In addition to the lecture there was a musical programme of much merit. Miss Molly Meldrum contributed a brilliantly executed piano solo, and Mr. Leckie sang a bass solo in fine voice, Miss Clarry playing the accompaniment.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

How Women Contract Head Aches; Should Relieve Strain on Eyes

It is a well known fact that no muscle in the body can endure continuous contraction except for a very short time. Yet all near work requires the contraction of the ciliary muscle, say for from eight to twelve hours daily. The result is eye-strain.

Persons whose work necessitates much ocular labor should vary their duties with intervals of rest. In continued reading or sewing, it is well to desist at short intervals and fix gaze on some distant object and close the lids repeatedly.

The habit of wearing veils is responsible for some detoriation of vision particularly if they are very thick or dotted. The best veil for the eyes is one with a single large mesh either without dots, or the dots so far apart that none shall come over the eyes.—Anna M. Galbraith, M.D.

South American Nervine

begins at the beginning to prevent and eradicate disease—it acts on the nerves that control the vital organs of the body, gives strength to the whole nervous system, fills the blood with that richness and purity that is so essential to health—because, remember this, that when these nerves become weakened and exhausted it means indigestion, torpid liver, stagnant kidneys, the heart flutters and becomes irregular and weak, the lungs fail to have the nourishment and weaken, and the climax, naturally enough, is debility—and the, next stage may be consumption. All such dire consequences may be saved by the wonderful potency of South American Nervine.

A Shelf for Everything

"OH, YES, I tried the formula for cold cream; it turned out excellently. And by the way, Beth, I made a little jar of it especially for you. Just open that closet-door, and rummage around on the middle shelf."

"You're a dear," declared Beth, "and, yes, well—yes, I see I'll be forced to take your advice about rummaging around," laughed she, with a glance suggestive of, dismay at the curiously littered shelf. "There, now, I wonder if this isn't it—smells like it," taking off the lid; "it's delicious."

"That shelf must seem like a contradiction to you, after all my theories about keeping everything in its place. But you see, I had to have a shelf for 'everything'."

"I see," assented Beth, in a tone which clearly implied that she didn't.

"Open the door again," said Laura; "see that good-sized package there? That's a bundle of towels I promised to hem for Mrs. Allen; she has too much to do, poor soul! And that little parcel contains something I promised to give to Annie Whitton the next time she comes here. Those books in the corner are some I borrowed from Elizabeth Withrow, and being on that shelf reminds me that I have read them and must return them at my first opportunity. That little pile of rags I shall give to Mrs. Canning—I give her all my old things for carpet-rags; and so on, and so on. My shelf is a first aid to memory, you see."

"Indeed, I'm beginning to see now; and it's a good scheme, too. Now that reminds me that I should have brought those books that I borrowed of you. Dear me! how long ago has it been, anyhow? I've come here a dozen times since, and always left home without them."

"Yes, I've found my shelf a pretty good scheme," Laura went on; "and I make it a rule to glance over its contents every time before leaving home to call on any one. If I've borrowed a magazine, there it lies staring me in the face, appealing to be taken back to its owner. And I'll tell you what first put the idea of my place for 'everything' into my head. I had promised one of my old winter gowns to the woman who calls for the wash and I forgot all about it until the warm weather. And I know that poor soul was in actual need of a respectable garment for Sundays. You see, I have so many similar things to think of, and I had forgotten so many similar promises, that I became actually ashamed, and had to think up some memory-jogger. So, I allow nothing on that particular shelf but borrowed articles, or things that I mean to bestow on some one."

A Receptacle for Bottles

"IT'S really vexatious!" exclaimed Doris, peering into the little closet-like compartment at one side of her chiffonier. "I simply can't find it."

"Can't find what—your hat? Isn't it in your wardrobe?" inquired Margaret, indolently, and glancing no further than the tiny door which was being impatiently held open.

"Hat! of course not," was the petulant reply. "I'm looking for my new bottle of skin lotion. As if anybody ever did keep hats in those things!"

"It's what they're made for at least, I always supposed so, though mine, too, was given over to toilet and medicine bottles long ago," volunteered Margaret.

"And a more unhandy little hole couldn't be contrived," commented Doris to the accompaniment of an ominous little crashing sound. "There! I've found it at last—and I do wish I owned a regular medicine closet—my pompadour's a sight—my! those bottles went down like tenpins!" concluded she, irrelevantly.

"H'm! let's see," said her companion, with some approach to energy, "no wonder you can't find anything," she continued, as she went to the pains of inspecting the incongruous mixture of bottles. "I never could, either, until George was good enough to construct the little staircase for me. You see—"

"Staircase!" interrupted Doris, frowningly.

"Yes, that's what it looks like, exactly like a miniature stairway, and it fits right inside that closet arrangement. Thus each succeeding row of bottles is higher than the other, and it's no trouble in the world to select the particular bottle that I want."

"Oh! I know what you mean," said Doris, with a brightening countenance. "I've seen 'em in drug stores—in the perfumery cases."

"Exactly."

"And I'll have Alf make me one in short order. He's never happier than when he's mussing around in shavings and sawdust. He'll just be tickled to do some whittling, without—"

"Without being scolded for it," finished Margaret.

New Use for Old Washstands

PERHAPS there's an old-fashioned washstand with a marble top which has been banished from the bedchamber to give place to an all-wood article of handsomer and up-to-date make.

But the old-time stand is not past its usefulness yet, by any means, so pull it from its cobwebby corner down to the light of outdoors for a general overhauling. If in good repair, merely treat the shelves and drawers to a generous application of warm suds, clean off the marble with some whiting and a cloth dipped in alcohol, finishing the woodwork with a kerosene-moistened cloth, and leave for a good sunning and airing.

It is now ready for a place in your kitchen, where it will fill a long-felt need, for the marble surface is far superior to the ordinary board for the rolling out of pie dough; because it is cold, for one reason. Should the top be furnished with tiny shelves, all the handier, then, for accommodating the vessel of ice-water and other articles.

Besides its uses as a "baking board," it is just the thing upon which to slice down vegetables for soup, or cutting cabbage for slaw, or trimming the steak for the evening meal. It requires next to no work to keep it clean, and is so sanitary, its smooth surface affording but scanty lodgment for the ubiquitous microbe. Then, there is the drawer, for dish towels; and there are the shelves, for the stowing out of sight and dust of the homely kettles and pots and pans, the presence of which should never be too conspicuous in a well-ordered kitchen.

The Housemothers' Exchange

PLEASE tell me how to raise Chinese "sacred lilies." I have had a present of a dozen. I was going to set them in earth, as I did with my hyacinths, but a friend tells me they are grown in water, and that they will not bloom if planted in soil like other bulbs.

RITA (Pittsburg, Pa.).

The friend is in the right. I once made the experiment of setting the capricious bulbs in moist, rich earth and giving them the advantages of a sunny window and daily care. They grew apace like young bulrushes, or cat-tails—but I had never so much as a bud! Since when I have obeyed orders and been rewarded by plentiful flowering.

Put a layer of pebbles in the bottom of a bowl or a deep dish. I use dishes with straight sides, of "Yorkshire" ware. They are serviceable and ornamental. Set the bulbs in order upon the pebbles, roots downward, and fill the dish with water. Keep it in a dark closet for ten days. This is to allow the roots to get a fair start before the leaves have had a chance to exhaust the strength of the bulbs. When the upward shoots are four or five inches high, and the roots are thick and strong, take the dish out of darkness and into light, but gradually.

Begin with a dark corner remote from the window, and bring it nearer daily until you advance the eager plants to the dignity of a place in a sunny window. They need no culture beyond a supply of water every day. Do not change the water. Simply fill the dish to the brim.

The Chinese call them "Good Luck Lilies," and contrive to have them in their prime at New Year's. Hence, they are sometimes known as "New Year's Lilies." If they grow and blossom luxuriantly, the happy owner anticipates prosperity throughout the coming year. Should they die or be spindling and barren, it is an evil omen.

Failures Brought Success

I read with interest your advice to the "typist" who does not wish to learn housekeeping, preferring life in a boarding home.

No one could have known less of the art than I did when I married, but my young husband was good and patient and laughed over my mistakes, saying brightly, "Oh, you will do better next time" until I did.

I wonder if the readers of "The Corner" know what a nice breakfast may be made of hominy grits? Sometimes they are called "granulated hominy." Cook it as you would rolled oats, and serve with butter and salt. If any is left to get cold, it may be fried in slices like mush.

Is it too late to ask for the recipe for the gasoline soft-soap compound referred to by "S. D. K."? I had not heard of it until her mention of it, as I have recently removed to the city.

Mrs. R. H. O'F. (Chicago).

This is the compound to which you refer:

Shave a pound of good, rye soap into two quarts of hot water. Boil gently until the soap is like a soft jelly. Turn into a large kettle, take this out of doors or into a fireless room, and add a cupful of gasoline while the mixture is still boiling. It will foam up violently, filling a two-gallon kettle. Leave to cool to blood-heat. When the clothes have been soaked, put into suds made by adding a cupful of this compound to a tubful of warm water. You may also quite safely put the same quantity into the boiler.

An Exterminator.

Please insert in the Exchange the following, which will, I think, be of service to the member who wrote for an exterminator of bedbugs. There is no need for any one to be troubled by the pests. Get at a drug shop 15 cents' worth of corrosive sublimate and dissolve it in half a pint of wood alcohol. To this add one gallon of naphtha. Apply the mixture to walls and furniture. As it is poisonous, it should be kept in a covered jar. Apply in the morning, and shut up the room for some hours. Be careful to have no artificial light near while using it, and air the room all night before taking a light into it.

A. M. H. (Cambridge, Mass.)

Of Value to Mothers

What I feel impelled to write may be of value to some other mother in the dreaded winter, when colds, coughs and croup—the three terrible C's of the nursery—are imminent.

My boy, 1½ years old, was a large, healthy child, weighing 17 pounds at eight weeks, and growing at the same rate for some months. He had bronchial pneumonia in March, and had repeated attacks of the disease until, in December, I appreciated that something must be done.

I proceeded thus: Every morning I bathed his throat and chest with warm water, following this with cold salt-and-water, applied with the hand, not to produce a shock. Then I rubbed warm olive oil in well, and covered throat and chest with old silk. He had a nap at 9 o'clock A. M. and a second at 1.30 P. M.

Young mother, let me impress upon you that if you want to have your babies sleep well, put them to bed at regular hours. I let nothing except Santa Claus, or something of equal importance, interfere with sleepy time, and my friends all say they never saw such children as mine for sleeping.

To return to my boy: While he slept I covered him up well and opened wide the window in mild weather—a little way in extremely cold. I am very careful to keep him out of direct draughts. He usually slept from 1½ to 3 hours. If he were wakeful, I put on his coat, cap and gloves and romped in an airy room with him for half an hour before supper and bedtime at 7. I was careful to keep all the functions of the body regular, and was watchful of his diet. He grew well and strong, and now he has nearly overcome the tendency to bronchitis. Some children may be toughened to all sorts of exposure and changes of weather and others cannot. I have three, and feel that I can speak knowingly on the point.

I make my children's "panties" out of stockings, but I put in a diamond-shaped seat and reinforce them where the legs join the seat by another gore running the other way, allowing the points to lap on the seam of the leg. In winter, try pinning the outside drawers with safety pins to the inner in the back. That leaves but one pair to be buttoned.

Mrs. E. M. S. (Cedar Rapids, Iowa).

A wise mother and a good letter! The writer adds another to the many witnesses to the truth that no two children have constitutions—or characters—precisely alike. The observant mother studies idiosyncrasies and modifies her management to suit them. None but bigots and fools insist that one set of rules will apply to all. Many a fine nature has been warped, and health that might have been made firm has been ruined, by the determined efforts of parents who fit all their children to one standard of mental and physical training.

Coffee Making

You were kind enough lately to tell us of the best way to make tea. Will you not tell us as much of the proper method of making coffee?

A KENTUCKIAN

There is but one right way of brewing tea. All the rest are mistakes. Of making coffee there are several ways. I may have my opinion as to the comparative merits of these. In fact, I have! To my taste, the best coffee I have ever drunk and I have tasted it in the native land of the aromatic berry is the French "drip," the beverage that has percolated slowly through a wire or cloth strainer into the lower vessel. Yet I do not forget that one eminent housewife boiled her coffee for two hours and cleared it with isinglass; that a second brought hers to a rapid bubble, checked it with ice-cold water, let it settle upon its lees for one minute, and poured it off, hot, clear and fragrant; while a third, who lived in Turkey, made black coffee at her own table with precision and gravity befitting a religious rite, and gave us to drink tiny cups half filled with fine coffee dust, with an inch of liquid, "in color like a beryl," on the top.

I can, and I do, tell you how "we" make breakfast and, also, after-dinner coffee. For the first, allow a cupful of freshly ground coffee to a quart of boiling water. Put the coffee in the strainer and add the water from the boiling kettle, a little at a time, until it has dripped through. Pour off into a heated pitcher, and return the liquid to the strainer. If not strong enough to please you (and weak coffee is an abomination to the educated palate), repeat the process. Pour off gently into a hot coffee pot.

Black coffee, the epicure's delight, and a capital digestive agent, is made in the same manner, allowing, however, but three cupfuls of boiling water to one of freshly ground coffee. Run it three times through the filter. It can hardly be made too strong. Pour out and drink at once.

Serving Bread

Please tell us soon what disposition must be made of one's bread at table if, as we are told, butter plates have come into fashion again and bread-and-butter plates must be set aside. We have been so long accustomed to laying the bread on the small plates that it is hard to know where to put it if they are to be relegated to the top shelf of the china closet.

And won't you kindly give directions for cooking rice as the Southern cook prepares it, so that every grain stands by itself? It is difficult not to have it soft and sticky, and harder still to find the reason for the latter condition when one has followed faithfully the instructions of the aforesaid Southern cook.

CANDID INQUIRER (Ann Arbor, Mich.).

When the convenient bread-and-butter plates "go out" we must do as we did before they came in—lay our bread upon the cloth beside our plates.

I fancy that the sensible fashion will die hard. It will probably be kept up in the family long after it is banished from dinner and supper parties. A less comfortable custom of leaving off butter entirely at dinner parties has not been adopted by many who conform to Fashion's decrees in most respects.

The way to boil rice so that each grain may set up business on its own account is so simple the wonder is that so few out of sight of the rice fields ever learn it.

Wash and pick over a cupful of raw rice. Have on the fire a saucepan containing two quarts of boiling salted water. This must be at a furious boil, so that the rice, sifted slowly through the fingers into it, tosses and swirls incessantly. Keep up the boil for twenty minutes, or until a grain fished up with a fork and bitten is found to be tender. Do not put a spoon into the saucepan to stir, or to dip. Shake up the rice with one vigorous movement and turn it out into a heated colander. Toss gently to insure the passage of the water through it and to aerate the grains, and set the colander in the open oven to dry off the rice.

If these directions be obeyed you will have a loose heap of tender, unbroken grains, utterly unlike the adhesive mess, more like library paste than a vegetable fit for the service of man, which is all the average cook knows of the incomparable cereal.

The Ideal Bathroom

THE importance of having an attractive, comfortable and sanitary bathroom is being more and more appreciated, and the clever housekeeper curtails the expense of every room in the house rather than that of the bathroom.

A bathroom should, above all, be light and airy; every one must realise this, but how often do we find dark, stuffy bathrooms, even in the well-appointed houses!

The ideal bathroom is tiled throughout, and fitted with a large, snowy porcelain tub, a porcelain wash basin, a shower bath and innumerable little fixings for soap, sponges and towels; but such bathrooms do not fall to the lot of many of us, although model bathrooms, on a much smaller scale, are within reach of most of us.

To those who live in the old houses and who do not wish to replace the old-fashioned plumbing for the more modern improvements, I would like to offer a few suggestions as to how to make the most of what they already have.

TREATMENT OF WALLS

We will first consider the walls, which are probably either painted, papered with a tiled paper or left in the rough plaster. If paint has been used, another coat or two will be all that is needed; if paper was adopted, it will probably be coming off the wall, if it has been up any length of time, as the steam of a bathroom does not permit paper to remain long on the walls, as a rule. This can either be repapered or it can be scraped and painted, which would be the most serviceable and the cheapest in the long run. If the walls have been left in the rough plaster, a pretty effect could be obtained by having them calcimined with a soft shade of apple green, or else they could be stenciled in paneled effects, with a suitable design of little fishes or water lilies.

The floors of an old bathroom are invariably of wood, and these are best covered with linoleum or cork carpet. On this should be thrown a washable rug. Fortunately, there are several good bathroom rugs on the market today; the hand-woven rugs which are so much in vogue are much used for bathrooms, and besides being dainty and artistic, are reversible and washable.

The old-fashioned metal bath tubs need to be constantly enameled. This can easily be done by the housewife. The old paint should first be removed with a solution of caustic soda, then the bathtub should have two coats of white paint and a third coat of white enamel. Using white paint for the first two coats is cheaper than using three coats of the enamel.

If a curtain is needed, nothing is nicer than the madras curtains sold for hall and bathroom windows. They are made to look like stained glass, and pretty touches of color can be introduced into the bathroom in this way; besides, they are not easily seen through, and yet keep out very little light. This madras has no dressing, and therefore is not affected by steam.

A bathroom should be cleaned each day, the floor wiped and the basins and fittings rubbed. A clean and well-appointed bathroom is a luxury that one never grows tired of.

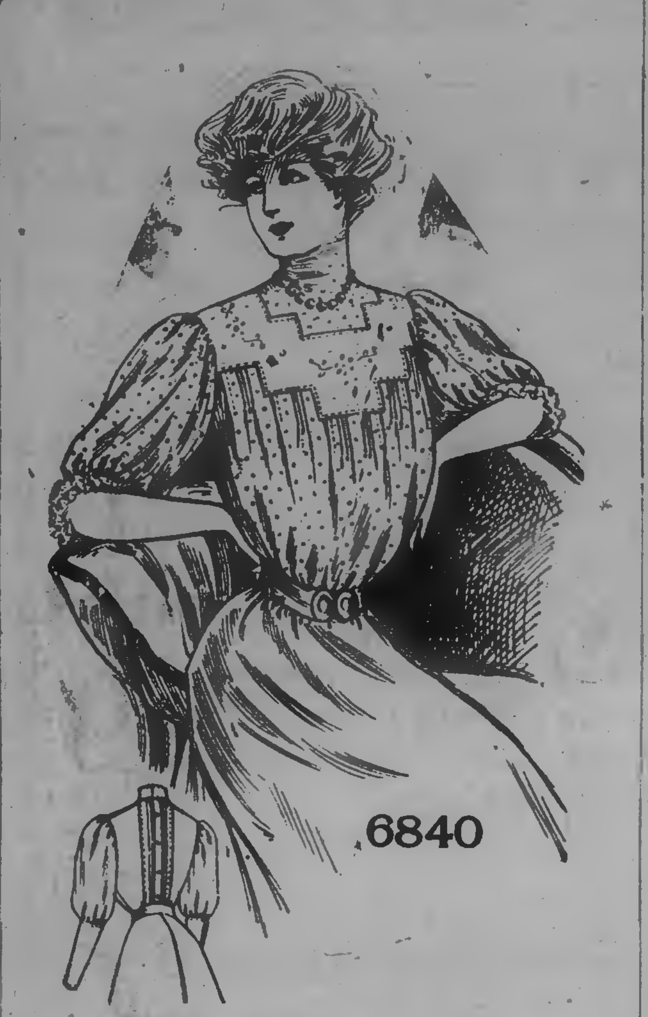
The Latest Ideas in the Dean Patterns



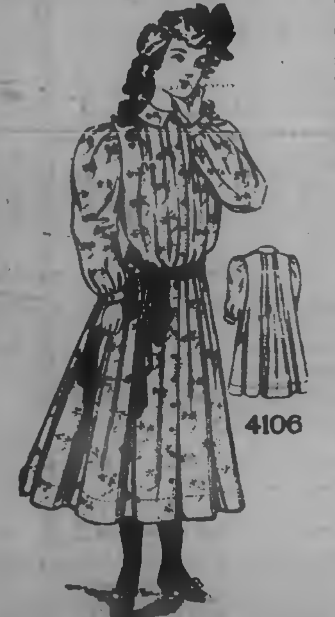
A CLEVER WAIST DESIGN

The charm of harmony and contrast is effectively brought out in this waist of silk with its unique yoke of dark color and inner one of light, further emphasizing the tones of the waist material. This fashion for two yokes is new and very fetching if cleverly realized. The tucks which extend from the yoke edges are distinct in groups and provide an ample fulness for the front. The back is tucked at either side of the closing, but is without further ornamentation. The sleeves may be finished at the elbow or long to the wrist as shown, while they may be elaborated with narrow folds if desired. The waist is suitable to development in any of the seasonable waistings, a light cloth or silk being suggested, while any amount of originality may be shown in the trimming. The medium size calls for 3 1-8 yards of 27 inch material.

6840.—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



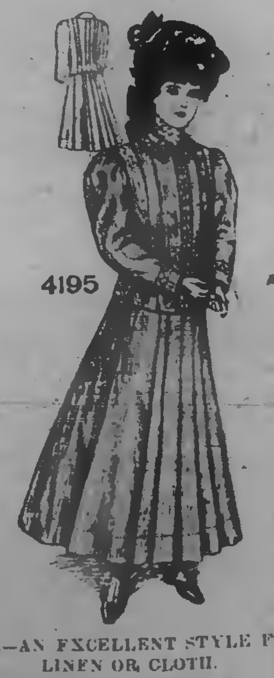
4106.—A SENSIBLE WRAPPER FOR A GIRL.

The young girl enjoys a loose, comfortable wrapper quite as much as older maidens and a wrapper is sketched here which is simple enough for the girl to fashion herself. Tucks simulating double box pleats at each side of the front and in back provide fulness for the skirt and they may be made quite attractive with feather stitching. The sleeves are long and loose, while the flat collar relieves the neck from all restraint. Lawn, percale and challis are suggested, but any seasonable fabric may be used, of which 3 3-4 yards 44 inches wide are needed.

41066.—Sizes, 4 to 14 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



4195.—AN EXCELLENT STYLE FOR LINEN OR CLOTH.

The semi-fitted coats worn by girls and women this year are not only becoming, but practical for home making. Here is a suit in panamas showing applied box-pleats on the coat and the skirt laid in pleats. The trig little vest which closes the coat in front is attractive and not elaborate, giving an opportunity for using some pretty trimming. The pleats need not be used on the coat unless desired, but they are wonderfully becoming. The skirt is in seven gores and laid in pleats after the newest mode. A cloth, worsted, linen or silk might serve as material, 7 1-8 yards of 50 inch material being needed in the medium size.

4195.—Sizes, 14, 15, 16, 17 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Some Suggestions for New Spring Neckwear

If the prevailing styles in neckwear had been expressly designed for the benefit of the woman who makes these small frivolities for herself they could not have suited her better. The season shows a marked preference for combinations over a single form of trimming used exclusively, and there is hardly an end of lace or embroidery left over from a dress, a shirt waist or even a fine bit of lingerie that will not come into play in skillful fingers, while fine hand work embellishes everything.

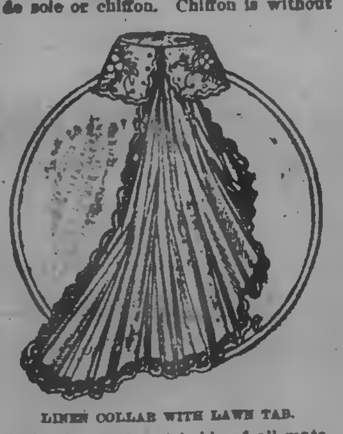
Even the stiff brim collars show hand embroidery. Even the cobwebby laces which are lavished on the dressier forms of neckwear are embroidered.

A charming stock that admirably illustrates the prevailing trend in fancy neck garnitures is built on a foundation of tucked chiffon. It is cut with a long tab that hangs down quite over the front of the bodice and is decorated with pieces of lace shirred on down the center, with a lace medallion to cover the shirrings. The stock itself is boned and is finished off with turnovers of chiffon. At each point is placed a small lace medallion.

Fine valenciennes lace, eyelet work and French embroidery combine to make a linen collar a work of art, and it illustrates capitally the passion for combination. This collar has a tab of finely plaited Persian lawn, the center of which is embellished with embroidered leaves and eyelets, while the outer edge is finished off with a row of the finest val. The edge of the collar proper is buttonholed in tiny scallops.

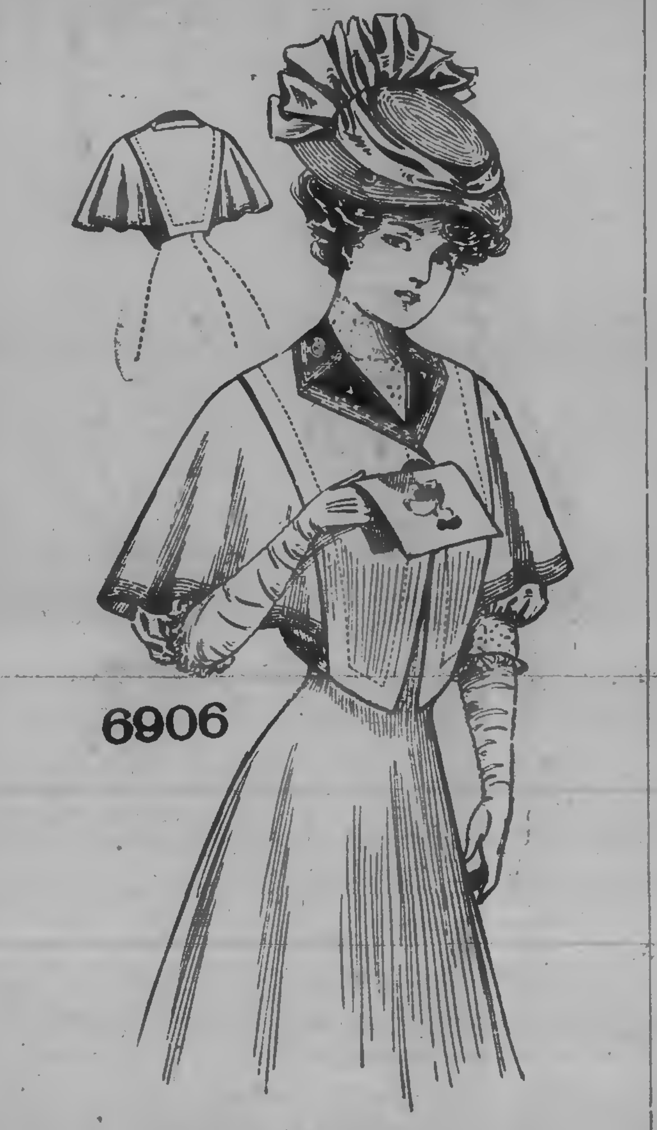
Collars of this description are worn mostly with tailor made blouses. Some of them emphasize the note of tailored severity by having the lawn of which they are built made up into a little bow, with just the ends trimmed with val edging.

As for the "dressy" stocks, they are nearly all made either of mousseline de soie or chiffon. Chiffon is without doubt the most perishable of all materials for such a purpose, but it is by far the prettiest, besides being such a soft, pliable fabric that one can do all manner of things with it.



LINEN COLLAR WITH LAWN TAB.

An extremely pretty effect is produced where the chiffon is tied in one bow and two ends, one of which should be much longer than the other.



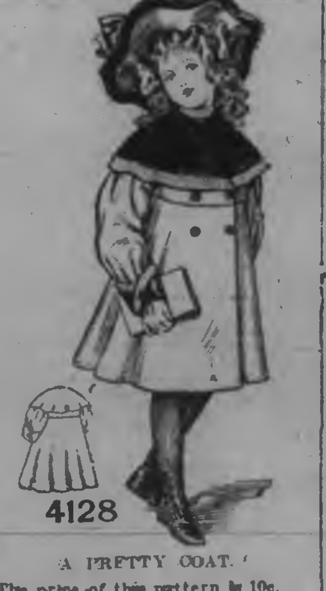
An Attractive Coat With Cape Sleeves

The fashions in coats are distinctly novel in many ways and one which proves most graceful and becoming is sketched. The deep tuck over the shoulder is excellent style this year, while the cape sleeves sewed along the underside of those tucks are new and pleasing. The coat may be developed in cloth, worsted or linen, while silk is a favorite for these small wraps when they are to be worn with separate skirts. For the medium size 2 5-8 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6906.—Five sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

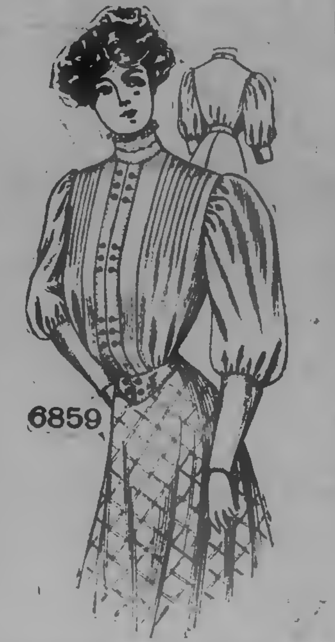
Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



A PRETTY COAT.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

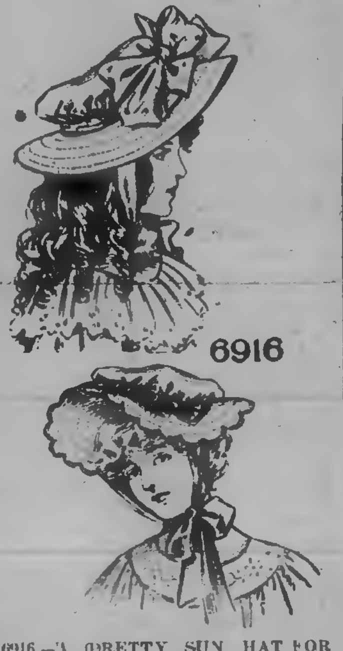
Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6895.—A WAIST OF NOVEL DESIGN.

The fashion of trimming cloth or silk with lace has been reversed and now it is lace which forms the body of the prettiest waists and the material adorns it. Here is a waist showing the style very prettily, the waist proper being of figured net and the bolero of silk. The waist is very unique in style and wonderfully fetching. Long and short sleeves are provided for, the latter being the more attractive because of the natty little cuff bands which finishes them. Such a waist is smart in white cloth or pongee and may be developed at home without difficulty. For the medium size 3 yards of 27 inch material are needed for the waist and 1 1-8 yards of 18 inch goods for the bolero.

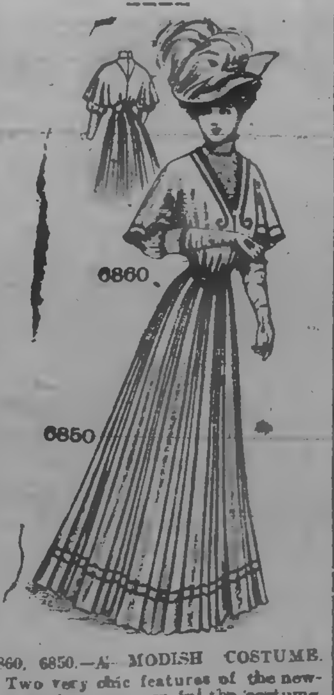
6895.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure.



6916.—A PRETTY SUN HAT FOR SUMMER DAYS.

The washable sun hat is not only a most becoming accessory, but serviceable and practical in many ways. Such a hat as the one sketched may be made with little difficulty and tubbed as frequently as desired. The brim is stitched to increase its stiffness and the crown is a full round one. Mull or silk bows may trim it and tie it under the hair or chin. Linen, percale, Madras or pique may fashion the hat, 1 1-8 yards being needed for the ladies' size and 1 yard for the smaller sizes.

6916.—Sizes, ladies misses', girls' and child's.



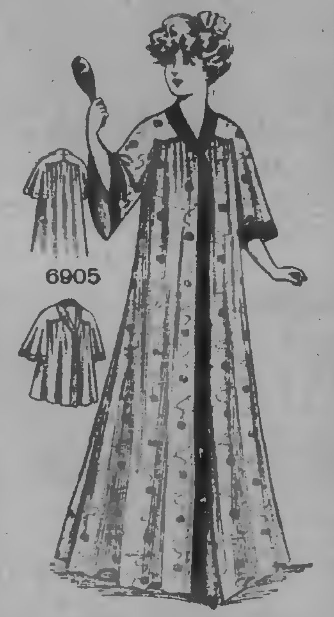
6860, 6850.—A MODISH COSTUME.

Two very chic features of the newest waists are seen in the costume shown, namely the over-blouse effect and the drooping shoulder here realized by the kimono sleeves which end at the elbow. The waist is made on a lining and the outer portion has its sleeves cut in one with the front and back, the seam being on the shoulder and extending their entire length. The V yoke is quite a la mode and may be of any washable lacey or silken fabric. The sleeves may be of elbow or longer length and of the material of the waist, or yoke. The style of the whole is peculiarly graceful and becoming. The skirt is a double box pleated one, built after the latest models. It consists of a straight piece of material shaped to the hips by the pleats. Any of the light-weight cloths or novelty goods or Rajah may serve for the dress, while taffetas or a similar silk is perhaps best suited to a smart development. The medium size calls for 7 1-2 yards 44 inches wide.

Two patterns.—6860—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6850—6 sizes, 20 to 30 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6905.—A MOST GRACEFUL KIMONO

The kimono may be finished in wrapper or dressing sack length and may be developed in any lawn, washable silk or Japanese stuff. For the medium size 8 1-2 yards of 27 inch material are needed for the wrapper and 3 1-4 yards for the dressing sack.

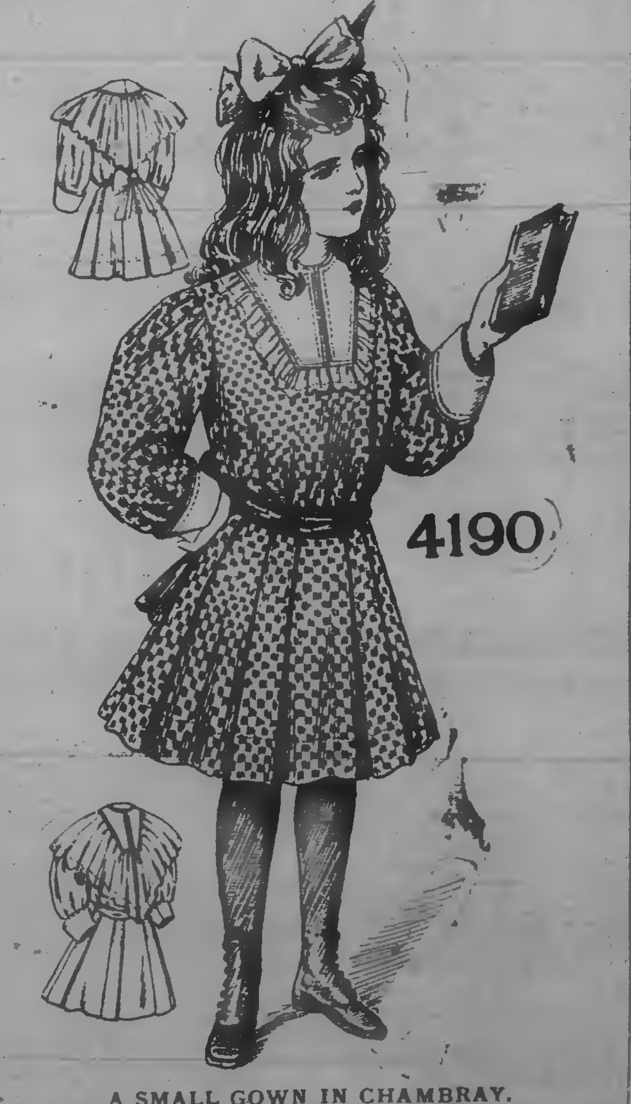
6839.—A CHICK COAT IN BROADCLOTH.

Now and then one sees a garment which though plain, even to severity, has an air of elegance which places it in a class by itself. Few realize what the reasons are for this condition of affairs and the artist will tell you that it is the lines and contours which render it out of class with all mediocrities. There has been much favor bestowed upon closer fitting jackets with cutaway fronts and these are seen in all degrees of extravagance. A very attractive coat of this style in moderate outline is sketched and will not fail to please the woman who likes to suggest the best of the modes in her season's gowning. The fronts are double-breasted the buttons being arranged so as to suggest the tapering waist. The back is closely gored so as to assume a perfect fit. The sleeves are the regulation mutton leg and very smart. Velvet collar and cuffs are optional. The new fabrics may any of them be suitable to this style of coat, broadcloth, cheviot, panama and serge being suggested. Two lengths of coat are provided for in the pattern and the most becoming one should be chosen. For the medium size 2 3-4 yards of 54 inch material are needed for the longer outline.

6839.—Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



A SMALL GOWN IN CHAMBRAY.

The fashions in tub gowns for small girls are very practical and attractive and one which is a bit unusual is shown for the benefit of the home dressmaker. The waist portion is a round one finished with a fanciful yoke of plain material which may be elaborated with a deep bertha ruffle of embroidery or lace if the dress is intended for nice wear. The skirt is laid in box pleats and of excellent shape for washable materials. Turnback cuffs of the yoke material finish the sleeves attractively, the latter being in three-quarter length. Madras, chambray, pongee or linen may serve as material of which 2 1-4 yards 44 inches wide are needed for the medium size.

4190.—Eight sizes, five to twelve years.

The price of this pattern is ten cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Mr. Lemieux on Postal Agreement

Refusal to Agree to Wait Six Months to Enforce Postal Pact

An Ottawa despatch says:—Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General denies having ever stated, as has been alleged, that the United States post office department refused to grant a delay of six months for the coming into effect of the new Postal Convention. The Postmaster-General of the United States, he says in view of the great advantage which the United States has been reaping ever since the inception of the convention, was naturally in favor of continuing this. It was because of this one-sidedness, however, that Canada abrogated the treaty, and the same reasons that led her to abrogate the treaty also led her to wish the amendment to go into immediate effect.

Replying to the contention that a postponement should have been made to January, Mr. Lemieux points out that this would be as unjust to those whose subscription ended in the other months of the year as the present arrangement is to those whose subscriptions end in January.

MUNICIPALITIES AND THEIR LIABILITIES

Among the most debatable sections of the Municipal Act has long been the one which seeks to determine the liability of municipalities, for the upkeep of highways. An attempt was made during the recent session of the Legislative Assembly upon the representation of the Municipal Union, to limit the liability of municipalities for damages to cases where specific notice had been given of the defective condition of the roadway. This, of course, would mean that no casual user of the road would have any chance of obtaining redress, while even a resident of the municipality would be debarred unless he had taken the trouble to give the notice required by the term of the Act. This was felt to be stripping of all responsibility, and after various modifications had been suggested, it was finally decided to leave section 606 undisturbed. This section reads as follows;

"1 Every public road, street, bridge or highway shall be kept in repair by the corporation, and on default of the corporation so to keep in repair the corporation, besides being subject to any punishment provided by law, shall be civilly responsible for all damages sustained by any person by reason of such default but the action must be brought within three months after the damages have been sustained.

"2 No municipal corporation shall be liable for accidents arising from persons falling, owing to snow or ice upon the sidewalks, unless in case of gross negligence by the corporation.

"3 No action shall be brought to enforce a claim for damages under this section, unless notice in writing of the accident and the cause thereof has been served upon or mailed through the post office, to the mayor, reeve or other head of the corporation, or clerk of the municipality, within 30 days after the happening of the accident, where the action is against the township, and within seven days, where the action is against a city, town or village.

"Provided that in case of death of the person injured, the want of notice shall be no bar to the maintenance of the action."

The municipal councillors have found this legislation to be stringent and to invite actions for damages, but the disposition of the Assembly seems to be to make the liability of councils for the upkeep of highways rather too rigid than permit such relaxation as might invite negligence.

The dreaded Terrapin scale pest has appeared throughout the United States and Ontario.

$480,335 HAVE BEEN INVESTED

In Building Operations in Peterborough so far This Year —Permits Issued

The building permits issued up to the hour of closing on Saturday night amounted to $480,335. The city clerk's file shows 97 permits issued altogether. To this must also be added six or eight issued by the city engineer, before the bylaw came into force. On Saturday the largest permit taken out was for the Canadian General Electric Works, for the new factory, which was started last fall. This amounted to $70,000 alone, the other permits were all for houses. It is not likely that many more large permits will be issued. Nearly all the big jobs in sight so far, have been started. There are, of course, the new mills for the Colonial Weaving Co., the new R. C. Church, the new Charlotte street church, and the new Park Street Baptist church. The building operations, however, should reach close to the million dollar mark, before the year closes. The permits issued Saturday were,—

Jas. E. McIntyre, two dwellings, on Gilmour street, cost $2,000 each Contractor, Thomas Houlihan.

Jos. Gray, dwelling on Park street, cost $900.

D. Guthrie, dwelling on Elm street, cost $400.

Canadian General Electric Company, new factory on its property, $70,000. Engineer A. R. Leicester, C.E. Eng., contractors Dominion Construction Co., expect to be completed by the 30th of June.

W. J. Lundy, dwelling on Pearl avenue, cost $1,950.

W. J. Lundy, dwelling on Margaret avenue cost $1,950.

W. G. Freeburn, dwelling on Maitland avenue, cost $2,000.

INDIANS AND THE LAW

High Court Will Decide Their Responsibility.

Toronto, May 19.—Is an Indian subject to an Ontario law? That is the question to be placed before the High Court at Osgoode Hall by J. B. Mackenzie next week. Mr. Mackenzie is solicitor for Chief Hill, of the Six Nations reserve, in Brantford.

Chief Hill played the part of "heap big medicine man" by the sale of remedies in Hanover, it was alleged. He was prosecuted for practicing medicine without a license and was acquitted. Among other grounds that will be advanced on the defence is the fact that as wards of the Federal Government, an Indian is not subject to a Provincial statute. The Medical Council, who are pressing the appeal from the acquittal, are a body organised under the Provincial Medical Act.

Young Girls

Many a girl who graduates from high school or female college with a brilliant record and high standing is broken down before she is twenty.

Avoid The Dangers and Sufferings of Womanhood

Nowadays girls are pushed to the limit of their endurance both in school and society.

They must make a success—even if they are forever unfitted for the larger school of life and debarred from the happiness of motherhood.

At this time of life, when just entering upon womanhood, nature makes heavy drains upon the vitality, especially at each monthly period,

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

the most wonderful of all tonic restorative medicines for women, will tide a young girl over this trying time and bring her safely into strong, noble, beautiful womanhood.

Experience of a Beautiful High School Girl

Her First Letter.

MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to see if you can suggest some means to cure me. A little more than a year ago I was unwell for the first time and since then I have been sick all the time in some way or other and suffered with painful and irregular periods. I went to a summer resort for my health and was doctored all summer, but to no effect. I have not been unwell for two months and thought I would see if you could do me any good. I attend High School and would not like to miss any time if it is possible. MARION BARBER, North Adams, Mass.

Miss Barber writes again after two years

MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you for advice, being troubled with irregular and painful periods and female troubles. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and using the Sanative Wash, and I am glad to say I am completely cured and have not had any sickness since. I wish to thank you for your kind advice and shall recommend your medicine to my girl friends. MARION BARBER, 101 Bracewell Ave., North Adams Mass.

Free Advice for Young Girls

All young girls are earnestly urged to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for twenty-five years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge. Thousands of women are well, strong, and beautiful to-day because they made a confidant of Mrs. Pinkham and followed her instructions at this critical time of their lives.

Heir to Spanish Throne Was Baptised on Saturday

Is Showered With Names 'Mid Booming of Artillery.

Heir to the Spanish Throne Is Christened in Royal Chapel With Great Pomp and Ceremony—Kind Edward Represented by Prince Arthur—Little Prince Receives Ten Names—Was an Imposing Function.

Madrid, May 20.—The baptism of the heir to the Spanish throne, Prince Alfonso of Asturias, who was born May 10, took place in the private chapel of the palace here at noon on Saturday.

The ceremonial at the baptism was even more imposing than that connected with the first presentation of the royal child. The chapel of the palace had been richly decorated.

In the centre was the famous baptismal font of Santo Domingo de Guzman, and before the high altar were two benches covered with gold embroidered tapestries for the sponsors. The walls were hung with tapestries and decorated with the banners and insignia of the various royal orders of Spain.

Royal Salute.

The starting of the procession from the royal apartments to the chapel was announced by a royal salute, fired by a battery of artillery stationed in the courtyard of the palace.

The royal babe was carried in its nurse's arms, accompanied by the mistress of the robes, and escorted by Cardinal Rinaldini, representing the Pope, and was followed by the royal household, the King and the members of the royal family and the representatives of the foreign powers, including Prince Arthur of Connaught, representing King Edward; Prince Frederick Leopold of Hohenzollern, in behalf of Emperor William; Archduke Eugene of Austria, representing Emperor Francis Joseph, and the Duke of Oporto, representing King Charles of Portugal. Then came the ambassadors and ministers to the Court of Spain, the Cabinet Ministers and the great state functionaries and others.

Receives Ten Names.

The ceremony of giving the names to the royal child, Alfonso Pio Cristino Eduardo Francisco Guillermo Carlos Enrique Fernando Antonio was only of short duration, and after the usual prayers the procession reformed and returned to the royal apartments, the child being taken back to Her Majesty.

AUSTRIAN ELECTIONS.

Result In Lower House of Parliament on Racial Lines.

Vienna, May 20.—The Austrian elections, which have occurred during the past week, are of far reaching effects.

The elections were the first under the new law giving equal and universal suffrage, a reform brought about after a protracted struggle. Even more important than this is the change which the law brings about in the political strength of the various mixed races — Germans, Czechs, Bohemians, Poles, Italians, Ruthenians—making up Austria's population.

The Lower House of Parliament is practically reconstructed, on new radical lines, and from now on it will consist of 516 members, of which there will be 233 Germans, 107 Czechs, 82 Poles, 33 Ruthenians, 24 Slavendians, 13 Serve-Cretians, 19 Italians, and five Roumanians.

Emperor Francis Joseph was well pleased with the result of the elections in spite of the victory of the Socialists.

LEGREE IN REAL LIFE.

Millionaire Slave Owner Accused of Ill-Treating His Men.

San Antonio, Texas, May 20.—A special to The Express from Vera Cruz says:

Charged with subjecting peons in his employ to such cruelties that some of them died from the effects. H. Miller, a millionaire American, has been arrested in the Town of Acayucan in this state and is being held in jail pending an investigation. Miller is general manager of the Miller Plantation Company, in both of which concerns he is heavily interested.

He threatens to make an international question of the matter and prosecute the authorities responsible for his arrest.

Buffaloes For the West.

Calgary, May 20.—A train load of the buffaloes, which the Dominion Government have purchased from Montana will pass through Calgary within the next week. There will be eighteen cars in the train and about 200 head of the old prairie kings on board.

The second train will leave some time in August, and will take more animals than the one coming through this week. It is expected that there are nearly 500 head in the entire herd, which is being shipped to Canada.

The buffaloes will be shipped to Lamont on the Canadian Northern, near which place their range will be.

THREE MEN SAVE GIRL.

Had Jumped Into River—Rescuer's Coat and Boots Stolen.

New York, May 20.—A spectaculer searchlight rescue was affected in the swirling waters of Hellgate on Saturday, when Frances Horr, aged 17 years, was saved from suicide by drowning by three young men, after a hard struggle.

The girl, after brooding long over her troubles, threw herself into the river.

Then the love of life temporarily overcame her desire to die and she screamed lustily. Joseph Lazarus, Michael T. Flynn and Valentine Zealander heard her cries and ran to the water's edge. They sought the source of the appeals for help. They could see none and were about to leap blindly into the river, trusting to chance to direct them, when the searchlight of a passing steamer revealed the struggling woman.

They dived in the direction of the light. Lazarus reached the girl first and was nearly throttled by the would-be suicide, whose desire to die had returned with the prospect of rescue. His companions reached them just in time to save the pair from drowning, and the girl was borne ashore and removed to a hospital. She will recover.

While the men were in the water, some one stole Lazarus' coat and shoes which he had cast off on the shore before plunging into the water.

Foul Play Suspected.

Albany, N. Y., May 20.—With a gash over the right eye and the pockets of his clothing turned inside out, the body of Charles Dawson, aged 30 years, was taken from the Hudson River in front of the dock of the People's Line, at Albany Saturday night. Foul play in connection with Dawson's death is suspected by the police.

Dawson lived with his parents on Chapel street in this city. He has been missing since last Thursday. An autopsy will be held to determine the cause of death.

Lineman Electrocuted.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 20.—James Holland, a lineman in the employ of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Co., was killed Saturday while at work on a pole.

He came in contact with a live wire, and his body hung on one of the crossbars of the pole, 35 feet from the ground, for some time.

Lamp Explosion Causes Panic.

Fort Gibson, I. T., May 20.—At the graduation exercises of the Fort Gibson colored schools Saturday, a lamp on the stage exploded, causing a panic among the 300 negroes present. The audience stampeded, trampling to death three persons. A score were seriously injured.

Barn Destroyed by Lightning.

Omemee, May 20.—The barns of John McCarrill, a farmer living a few miles east of here, were struck by lightning on Saturday and burned to the ground, with all the machinery and contents. Albert Stinson's barn was also struck, but not much damaged.

SIR WILFRID SATISFIED

Comments on Proposed Supreme Court of Appeal.

Thinks Colonial Legislatures Should Hesitate Before Changing Present System—Australia Disappointed In Regard to Preference — Churchill Will Fight—Government Has Locked the Door.

London, May 20.—(C. A. P.)—Messrs. Laurier, Brodeur and Lord Strathcona paid a private visit to the Duke of Sutherland at Trentham Hall, Staffordshire.

Commenting on Jameson's resolution at the conference re the establishment of a supreme court of appeal. The Yorkshire Post says: "Let us by all means reform in any way that seems desirable the machinery by which the crown exercises the right of doing justice to any subject of His Majesty, who may wish to make a final appeal, but the Parliament and Colonial Legislatures should hesitate long before they weaken this golden link of common citizenship."

A correspondent of The Birmingham Post credits Laurier with saying "more was not to be expected at the present time," and says, judging from his conversation with friends, Premier Laurier is well satisfied at the results achieved.

Government Locked Door.

London, May 20.—(C. A. P.)—The speeches of Deakin, Lyne and Jameson since the termination of the conference are keenly criticized by the Radical press.

Winston Churchill, in making a strong speech at Edinburgh, referred to these efforts of the protectionist press, and said the sacred laws of hospitality imposed obligations upon guests as well as hosts.

The Government not only banged the door against the imperial taxation of food, but locked, barred and bolted it.

The Liberal party stood like a rock between the hard-working masses and all who would exploit their food supply to squeeze some shameful profit out of a scanty pittance of the weak and poor.

EARL GREY DELIGHTED.

Thinks All-Red Route O.K.—Fielding Will Not Talk.

London, May 20.—(C. A. P.)—Earl Grey, interviewed, expressed himself delighted with the prospect of the all-red route. Hon. Sydney Fisher also considered the scheme the finest thing that could be done, and expressed gratification at the cold storage provision being made here for Canadian produce. He stated that he was still endeavoring to remove the cattle embargo. Hon. W. S. Fielding declined to say whether he was en route to Berlin on fiscal matters, but said he was over here for a lot of things affecting the Dominion, none of which he could discuss.

Canada's Contribution.

London, May 20.—While neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier nor any of his colleagues would say what Canada was prepared to pay as a subsidy to the all-red mail route, it is understood from other sources that the Canadian Premier has suggested that the annual Canadian contribution for a 20-knot Atlantic service and faster trains across the continent be $1,000,000.

Sir Joseph G. Ward, Premier of New Zealand, has placed his colony's share of the subsidy at $500,000, but Alfred Deakin, the Australian Premier, has not committed himself.

With a strong element in the Liberal party opposed to subsidies of any kind, it is considered doubtful whether the all-British scheme will be carried out, despite the saving of time which it would make It is possible, however, that Canada may, by using the Cunard subsidy as an example, induce the British Government to assist in improving the Atlantic service to Canada. It has already been pointed out that if the Canadian lines only had the subsidy given by Great Britain for the New York service they could successfully compete with those lines running to the United States.

AUSTRALIA DISAPPOINTED.

Preference Regarded as Only Way to Preserve the Empire.

London, May 20.—A gentleman who for many years has been in close touch with Mr. Deakin, the Australian Commonwealth Premier, both in public and private life, in an interview with a representative of The Pall Mall Gazette, said it had been hoped that the Government would view the preference resolutions not as a question of party, or even of national politics, nor wholly or even primarily as an economical problem, but in the broader light, as an Imperial issue. It was in this hope that Australia sent Mr. Deakin to the Imperial Conference. Should he return without this hope being in any way realized the universal feeling will be one of disappointment that another great opportunity for the consolidation of the British Empire has come to naught. What people seemed to find it difficult over here to realize was that to the Australian, preference in the sense of free trade within the Empire, is not in the first place even mainly a business proposition. It is to him primarily a factor, and in the opinion of many the most important factor, in the great work of consolidating the Empire.

Garland Badly Injured.

Washington, May 20.—Alajandro Garland, the attache of the Peruvian legation, who, it is charged, was stabbed early Thursday morning by Chas. A. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic congressional committee, has taken a turn for the worse.

His physician refuses to give any specific information to his patient, but stated to an Associated Press correspondent, that while his condition was serious, he did not think he would die.

The project of building a $60,000 hotel at Prince Rupert has been entirely droppped.

The Marathon Mystery

A Story of Manhattan

By BURTON E. STEVENSON

Author of "The Holladay Case"

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt and Company

"Come, Lester," he said, in a voice very gentle, as the jailer opened the cell door, "we must catch our train; we've business in New York."

Perhaps it was only my fancy that his step was not wholly steady as he went before me down the corridor.

CHAPTER XXX.

NOT until the regular click click of the wheels told me that we were well under way did I open my mind to Godfrey; then I spoke with what I deemed a necessary frankness.

"My dear Godfrey," I began, "I've watched you all day, smelling bottles, examining scratches, trying to read faint ink marks on a blotter, puzzling over a broken cane and doing various other eccentric things from which you seemed to draw conclusions utterly invisible to me. I've heard you assure both Drysdale and Miss Croydon that the former will be cleared of suspicion at tomorrow's inquest and that the real culprit will be pointed out. You'll pardon me if I confess to some curiosity as to how all this is to be accomplished."

"Did you see her face as she came through that door, Lester?" he asked, staring absently at the seat in front of us. "I tell you, it warmed the heart of even an old reprobate like me! And to think that we did it!" he added. "To think that we did it!"

"You did it," I corrected. "I was in the chorus today—you had the center of the stage."

"But you don't mind, Lester? I couldn't help it, you know."

"Of course you couldn't—that's where you belong. But now that the curtain's down and we're alone together with plenty of time to talk, I'd like to understand"—

"And you shall—down to the minutest detail. Let's see—this is the smoker, isn't it? Well, suppose we light up—I can think more clearly when I'm smoking."

"All right; fire away," I said, as soon as the cigars were going.

"Well," began Godfrey, "as I pointed out to you this morning, for good and sufficient reasons, I started out in this investigation with the assumption of Tremaine's guilt."

"Of course," I observed, "you know it is the duty of every jury to start out with exactly the contrary assumption."

"Certainly. I know that, but a detective has to work with some definite end in view or he never gets anywhere. In other words, a detective, after carefully studying the details of any crime, must form a theory concerning it and must work along that theory. As soon as he discovers any fact that fails to fit with his theory he must modify it or form another, and he must keep on doing this until he finds the theory which agrees with all the facts—not all but one or two, but with every one. A good many detectives fall into the mistake of being satisfied with the theory which fits most of the facts—a serious error, for the right theory must, of course, inevitably fit them all. That's the scientific method and the only safe one. When a detective hits upon a theory which fits all the known facts he's got as much right to assume it's true as an astronomer has or a physicist, who builds up the universe in just the same way."

"But that's a difficult thing to do," I remarked, "to find a theory that fits all the facts."

"Exceedingly difficult sometimes," assented my companion, "because the facts often appear to be entirely contradictory. Really, facts are never contradictory—truth is always truth—the trouble is we can't always tell what is fact and what is fiction. The hardest part of a detective's work is to sift the wheat from the chaff—to get at the meaty, essential facts.

"Well, as you know, I started out with the theory of Tremaine's guilt. More than that, I was morally certain that he was guilty, knowing what I knew of the man. And first of all it was evident to me that no criminal as careful as he is would run the risk of going through that boathouse and committing a murder on the pier outside with young Graham sleeping on a cot a few feet away. I therefore deduced this bottle. Smell of it."

He uncorked it and held it under my nose.

"Chloroform!" I said.

"Precisely." And he corked it carefully and returned it to his pocket. "The boy's story helped me to arrive at it. He had been awakened by that violent thunder clap, but for the first moment he had found himself unable to move—dizzy, as he explained it."

"But how did you know where to look for it?" I asked.

"Well, I knew that no experienced criminal would keep about him any such important evidence as a bottle that had contained chloroform. The odor clings to it for a long time. I committed the mistake at first of supposing that he had hidden it in the boathouse. I should have known better. Naturally he would throw it into the bay. There was a single chance against me. If he had thrown it in uncorked it would probably have sunk. That was a point he didn't think of, and by just that much he fell below perfection. I think he probably administered the chloroform by pouring it upon one corner of the sheet and throwing it over young Graham's face. No doubt the odor would have been perceptible next morning had any one thought to look for it. There was only one point in the whole case," he added thoughtfully, "that was utterly at variance with my theory—and it worried me badly for a time."

"What was that?" I asked.

"That was the story the jailer told us—that Miss Croydon believed Drysdale guilty. But you have seen how naturally that was explained. I knew then, in that instant, that I was on the right track—that nothing could defeat me. But let us go back to the beginning—and I'd like you to point out any flaws you see in the story."

"Very well," I said and settled back in the seat to listen.

"Tremaine had two very powerful motives for the commission of this crime," began Godfrey. "He needed money and could take no more from Miss Croydon, since he was trying seriously to win her affections. He was determined to get Drysdale out of the way under circumstances as discreditable as possible, confident that in that case he would himself win Miss Croydon. Which," he added in a thoughtful aside, "from what you've told me of him, I don't think at all impossible."

"Not in the least," I agreed. "I believe Tremaine could win any woman he really set his heart on."

"At any rate, he learns of Drysdale's jealousy and of Miss Croydon's promise to explain things. He sees that at any hazard he must prevent that explanation. Monday morning he comes to town with Delroy, and the latter tells him that he intends giving the necklace the salt water treatment. You'll remember it was Tremaine who originally proposed this, though he could scarcely at that time have foreseen what would come of it."

"Mere chance," I nodded.

"Well, Tremaine takes the early train back to Edgemere and lays his plans. He writes the note"—

"But you really haven't any evidence that he did," I objected.

For answer Godfrey took from his pocket the blotter he had found in Tremaine's room.

"I told you that these letters aren't in Tremaine's hand," he said, "but if you'll compare them with the note you'll see how nearly they resemble Miss Croydon's. Again, they are only capital B's, G's and I's, which are the only capitals used in the note. That's pretty good circumstantial evidence. Tremaine, of course, burned the piece of paper he practiced on, but he didn't think to burn this blotter. It was only the freshest line at the bottom of the paper that left these marks."

"But did Tremaine have a sample of Miss Croydon's writing?"

"There's no reason to think he didn't have, but if he didn't he could no doubt have found plenty of samples among Drysdale's things. He's probably an adept at forgery as well as at most other branches of crime."

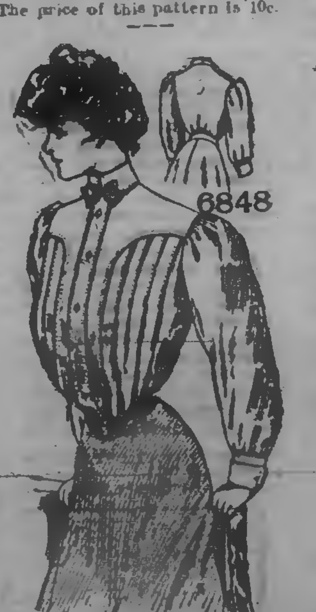
4167.—A SMALL DRESS OF PERSIAN LAWN.

We find the bolero in little folk's dresses as well as in those of grown-ups and pretty gown in which this is very pleasing is shown. Here it serves the purpose of a yoke and from it depends the full skirt portion. The dress is intended for development in washing stuffs, but a supple cloth might be used with success. The sleeves may be long or in short puff style, the latter being appropriate for party frocks. Bands of insertion adorn the dress shown as well as allover embroidery which forms the yoke and collar and a ruffle to match finishing the bottom. If greater simplicity is desired, the latter may be plain material hemstitched on machine stitched. The pattern calls for 2 3-4 yards of 27 inch goods.

4167.—Sizes 1-2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.



6848.—ONE OF THE NEW SHIRT WAISTS.

A shirt waist of smart style which is trig and not elaborate is shown and will please the amateur dressmaker because of its ease of making and unusual becomingness. The stole yoke lending breadth to the shoulders and slenderness to the waist is one of the nicest finishings of the newer waists. The tucks at either side of the front remove the fulness from the yoke line and thus assist the becoming result. The sleeves are of the regulation shirt style having the plain straight cuff or the double turn back style. For silk, cloth or linen this waist is excellent in style and requires 3 3-8 yards of 27 inch material in the medium size.

6848.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

UNION NOT RECOGNIZED

Shipping Federation Refused to Consider the Demand.

Longshoremen At Montreal Would Accept Increase of 2 1-2 Cents An Hour—And Submit Further Claim to Arbitration—Proposed to Return to Work To-Day—Negotiations Failed.

Montreal, May 20.—The strike came near being settled yesterday, but it was not, for the reason that the Shipping Federation refused to acknowledge the union.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30 the acting deputy Minister, Mr. Acland, visited the union and addressed the members on the question of arbitration, after which he received a letter from Local 313 of the International Longshoremen and Transportation Workers' Association, authorizing him to inform the Shipping Federation and the C.P.R. that the longshoremen were willing to accept an increase of 2 1-2 cents per hour by day and night, and submit a claim of a further increase of 2 1-2 cents per hour to arbitration on the lines proposed.

The longshoremen agreed to return to work on these terms on Monday May 20, at 1 p. m., provided no discrimination was shown against those who have ceased work.

This letter having been communicated to the Shipping Federation, the latter held a meeting and decided they could not recognize the union, hence the failure of the negotiations.

TO FIGHT THE STRIKERS.

Shippers Spare No Expense to Defeat the Longshoremen.

New York, May 20.—Announcement was made on Saturday that the Finance Committee of the International Mercantile Co. has approved every act previously done by its officers, and has ordered that the strike of the longshoremen be fought to the end.

The committee has also taken from every officer the power of compromise or arbitration, and has authorized the expenditure of any amount of money to carry out the agreement entered into with 35 other deep sea lines to fight the strike.

Among those at the meeting of which this action was taken were J. P. Morgan, Jr., and Charles Steele, and J. Bruce Ismay.

The strikers show the same determination as the companies do to fight it out and the prophecy in some quarters that they would be starved into submission has not materialized. The men generally are orderly.

Tanners Strike.

Quebec, May 20.—A number of tanners employed in local tanneries were on strike Saturday asking for an increase in wages of about 20 per cent. The strikers are union men.

Although the present immigration season to this port is but about two weeks old, almost 20,000 immigrants have arrived.

Lockout of Bricklayers Causes Trouble In Germany.

Berlin, May 20.—The lockout of bricklayers and other employes of the building trades began here Saturday, the attempts of the past few days to effect a settlement having proved fruitless.

A committee, representing the Berlin mercantile trades and manufacturing societies offered a compromise, which both parties were disposed to consider favorably, but it came too late to check the lockout, which had already been ordered.

The proposal embraces the maintenance of the nine-hour day, but provides for increased wages upon a two-year contract. Both sides evidently are anxious to avoid a struggle, which must mean a heavy loss to each, and it is believed that negotiations on the basis of a compromise proposal will be resumed after the Whitsuntide vacation, with good prospects of success.

The lockout affects directly about 60,000 men, and indirectly some 40.000 more. It is the most serious labor difficulty in Germany since the great coal strike of 1905.

Blown to Pieces by Dynamite.

Belleville, May 20.—An accident occurred Saturday afternoon near Hallowell, in the County of Prince Edward, when Elisha Huff was blown to pieces by dynamite. A hole for a telephone pole was being blasted out, and Huff, who was engaged in the work, did not get away from the blast in time.

Injured By Firecracker.

Hamilton, May 20.—Hugh Patterson, 46 1-2 North James street, bent over a giant firecracker Saturday evening to see why it was so long about exploding. It exploded in his face, and his eyes were so badly burned that he had to be taken to the city hospital. He is 13 years old.

A South African Hero.

Saskatoon, Sask. May 20.—Joseph Slack is in receipt of a letter from the War Office, London, conferring the rank of honorary lieutenant. Slack was sergeant in the C. M. R. Regiment and served in South Africa. The honor is the result of work at the battle of Hart's River.

Winnipeg, May 20.—W. F. Luxton, former editor and proprietor of The Free Press, was stricken with paralysis yesterday and is in a critical condition.

He lay for three hours in his bath tub, where he was stricken for three hours before being found.

AFTER ORCHARD FOR NEWS.

Prosecuting Attorney Completes His Investigation.

Boise, Idaho, May 20.—Prosecuting Attorney Koelsch on Saturday completed his investigation of the circumstances under which Harry Orchard, the principal witness for the state in the Stuenenberg murder case, was interviewed, and presented to the district court a report exonerating from the charge of improper motives all persons connected with the incident.

He found that the only motive the newspaper men had in interviewing Orchard was to obtain news of him. In announcing the report, Judge Wood said that it called for no action, and directed that it be filed.

Progress toward the completion of a jury is being made by expending the peremptory challenges allotted by law to state and defence, if by no other means. Up to adjournment the state had used five of its ten challenges, and the defence four of its ten, so that there remain unexpended only 11 peremptory challenges.

The special venire of 100 talesmen that reported in court last Monday was, at the close of Saturday's session, reduced to 26 men, and it is predicted that another special venire must be called about Tuesday in order to complete the jury.

The proceedings showed a sharpening of the contest between opposing counsel. Differences will be fought out and left to the court for decision.

CAB DRIVER WAS SHOT.

Hackman Dies In Hospital and Slayer Is Arrested.

Washington, May 20.—Frank Macabey, a local hack driver, was shot Saturday at the Harlington Hotel by Gaston P. Philip of this city, and Cloverock, N. Y. He was removed to the Emergency Hospital, where he died.

Philip, who is well known in social circles here, was placed under arrest immediately after the shooting.

While there are no eye-witnesses to the affray, there are two versions, Macabey made a statement at the hospital, in which he is reported to have said that because of his refusal to take a drink with Philip, the latter shot him; that there was no quarrel whatever between himself and Philip.

The other version gives as the cause of the trouble the refusal of Philip to pay a $150 cab fare bill he is alleged to have owed Macabey. At first Philip maintained that Macabey tried to collect the bill from him, and that he was endeavoring to explain to Macabey that he would pay the bill in time.

Later, Philip said that at the time in question, there was no dispute in regard to the bill for $150.

ENGINE DEMOLISHES BUILDING.

Took Wrong Track and Plunged Through Roundhouse.

Amherst, N. S., May 20.—The most serious accident that ever occurred on this division of the Intercolonial Railway happened here on Saturday, when a special freight train turned to the wrong line and took a siding at the west side of the station and crashed into the roundhouse, near the Robb Engineering Co.'s works.

Both ends of the building were demolished, while the timbers at the sides were forced from the foundation, and the forward end of the building was carried a hundred yards.

The engine turned over after passing through the building, and is a complete wreck.

Wheat Practically All Sown.

Winnipeg, Man., May 20.—It is surmised, from reports coming in from all over the country, that from 85 to 90 per cent., or practically all of the wheat is sown.

A decrease of from 10 to 15 per cent. of the amount sown last year is estimated, but it is thought that the decrease will not materially affect the farmers, as it has been proven in former years that, with good weather, the crops that were late sown turned out an average yield.

Many farmers were through seeding a couple of days ago, and though others have not been as fortunate, the general opinion amongst them is that the outlook is very satisfactory.

Seeding has been completed on Portage Plains, and the acreage will be the same as last year in wheat, but considerably more barley will be sown.

Body Found In River.

Guelph, May 20.—The body of Michael Hart, a well-to-do farmer, about 58 years of age, residing two and a half miles from the city, was discovered Saturday floating in the River Speed in front of the C. P. R. passenger station. This was in the opposite direction from his way home.

He leaves a widow and a son. They took no notice of his absence from home, as he often stopped away. He was soon in the city two nights ago.

Girl Terribly Burned.

Port Arthur. May 20.—Lillete Thompson was almost burned alive Saturday evening. She was playing at a bonfire when her dress caught. A man passing by saw her and went to her assistance. He had to cut her clothes off and with her clothes came almost all the skin on her body. She is not likely to live.

DOWNIE STREET CREEK FLOODED

Saturday Afternoon Storm Washed Out Gardens and Damaged a Bridge

Saturday afternoon, the residents along the banks of the Downie street creek, had another experience, which caused great inconvenience. The very heavy downpour of rain converted the usually quiet brook into a raging stream, which swept along without regard for any person or their property. The banks were overflowed, and many gardens which had just been newly planted were washed out, and the residents are blessing the weather man. The bridge at the corner of Downie and Edinburgh street, was also damaged and Saturday night, when some men went up to repair it, the water was too high, and the work had to be postponed.

The Council is not at all to blame for the flood. The Board of Works last year, and the Board of Works this year, both promised that the course of the creek would be changed to its original course, the moment the property owners, through whose property the creek would then run gave their consent. There are only two or three men who have not given their consent, and they are endeavoring to hold the city up, by asking a big price for the land, and asking for all kinds of fancy work along the bank of the creek. The Board of Works, of course laughed at such an idea, and the creek runs along in the same course.

Offer Made to The Shareholders

Peterboro' Sugar Company Will Meet on June 4th to Consider it.

By direction of the Local Master, a meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Sugar Company Limited, has been called for Tuesday morning, June 4, at 11 o'clock in the Foresters' Hall, No 408 1-2 George street, for the purpose of considering an offer of Mr. T .E. Bradburn to compromise the claims made by liquidator against the provisional directors and charter members of the said company, and to settle the rights of the shareholders.

Mr. Frank Adams is liquidator of the company.

The assets and liabilities are as follows;

Unpaid stock, considered good	$23,975.00
Cash in bank	12,011.24
Unsold chattels estimated.	250.00
	$36,236.24
Liabilities	$24,565.62
Interest	3,788.50
Costs and liquidator	2,500,00
	$30,854.22
Estimated surplus	$ 5,382.02
Amount of stock entitled to share in distribution of surplus	$51,820.00

This would pay the shareholders in the neighborhood of ten cents on the dollar.

Mr Bradburn has offered to take the assets of the company and pay all creditor's claims as settled by the Master and pay five cents on the dollar to the shareholders.

The Master at Peterborough has placed the original shareholders on the list of contributories for $35,000.00 part of which cannot be collected, and in addition the directors and original subscribers have appealed, and the appeal stands for argument. If appeal should be decided in their favor, there would be nothing for the shareholders and the meeting is called to consider the offer of Mr Bradburn.

BIG TRAFFIC ON GRAND TRUNK

Thirteen Double Headers Passed Through Peterborough in Few Hours

An indication of the traffic in freight being done on the Midland-Belleville branch of the Grand Trunk is furnished by the fact that thirteen "double-headers" passed through Peterborough between Saturday night and this morning. Seven went east and six north to Midland. Each train had a long string of cars, and those going east were heavily loaded, hence the necessity for two engines on each one. Grain and lumber is being carried principally. Traffic on this branch of the Grand Trunk has been exceedingly heavy since the opening of navigation on the great lakes. Hundreds of cars of wheat are being brought down, the grain being brought from the west by the steamships on the upper lakes.

Farmer's Barns Destroyed In Severe Electric Storm

Mr. McCarrell Who Resides About Eight Miles Out of the City Suffered Severe Loss—Omemee Football Players Assisted in Saving Property.

Considerable damage was done in the country surrounding Peterborough during the severe rain and electric storm on Saturday. The lightning struck in several places, but as yet only one fire is reported in the neighboring district. The barns of a farmer named McCarrell, who resides on the road to Omemee, about eight miles out of the city, were struck and completely destroyed. The buildings burned were a large frame barn and a shed attached to it. The barn was a mass of flames after the lightning struck, but by hard work those who had gathered, succeeded in getting the horses out of the stable and saving nearly all stored in the barn. Some grain was also got out.

The members of the Omemee football team, who were coming to Peterborough to play a league match against the intermediate Quakers, assisted in saving the horses and implements. The boys noticed the fire when they were about two miles distant and drove with great rapidity to the scene of the flames. Here they were able to render material assistance in saving Mr. McCarrell's property.

The loss will amount to about $1,000. It is not known whether there was any insurance.

The heavy rain which was falling at the time prevented the fire from spreading.

Mat Armstrong Was Stabbed In the Neck in Eureka, Cal.

He Played With the Quaker Football Team Last Year—Was a Pattern Maker at the C.G.E.—Went South in the Fall.

Mat. Armstrong, who played with the Quaker football team last year, is now lying in a very serious condition in the hospital at Eureka, Cal., as a result of being stabbed in the neck.

Armstrong is a Scotchman and soon after coming to Canada he accepted a position with the Canadian General Electric Company as a pattern maker and worked here for about eight months. He is twenty-two years of age and unmarried. He resided at 46 Aylmer street and was a stong man on the football team. He was prominent in many games and was very popular with all the boys

He left Peterborough last fall and went south, finally locating in the town of Eureka. Nothing was heard of him by his friends here until the other day. Fred Doidge received a letter from his sister, who is a nurse in the Eureka Hospital, telling of the accident.

It appears, according to Doidge's story that Armstrong was out with some of the boys, and got into an argument with one of them. After some words, the two went out into the yard, and there the fellow drew a knife and stabbed Armstrong in the neck. The wound was a deep one and the injured man suffered greatly from loss of blood. He was removed to the hospital at once where every attention was given him but when the letter was written he was still in a serious condition.

Armstrong's many friends here will regret very much to hear of his unfortunate mishap and will anxiously look for news of his recovery.

Colonial Weaving Co. Want Fixed Assessment and Free Site

For the New Factory They Intend Building This Year—Capital Increased From $60,000 to $110,000—Capacity of the Mills Will be Doubled—Special Meeting Held.

A special meeting of the shareholders of the Colonial Weaving Company was held at the head office of the company on Saturday, the 18th day of May, for the purpose of taking into consideration, the sanctioning of a bylaw passed by the Directors, providing for the increase in the capital stock of the company from $60,000 to $110,000, and further providing that such new issue be created as 7 per cent. cumulative preference stock.

A very large number of the shareholders attended the meeting which represented about 80 per cent. of the paid-up capital of the company. Among the shareholders present were noticed, Messrs. Walter Fowlds, Andrew Hall, Samuel Edwards, Henry Edwards, Robert Tudhope, E. C. Howson, F. J. Jamieson, Mrs. Howie, John Wason, M. Robinson, J. G. Armstrong, R. R. Hall, John Hutchison, Dr. Carmichael, R. H. Kells, A. E. Coulthard, A. Robinson, William Harstone and others.

The directors recommended to the shareholders the passage of this bylaw for the purpose of providing funds with which to erect a new building, and for the purpose of installing additional new machinery.

The directors further reported that they contemplated making application to the City Council to obtain a free site and fixed assessment on the same terms and conditions as had been extended to the Canadian Cordage Company, the Shovel Company, The Rapid Tool Company, and other factories, which have recently located in Peterborough. The directors have reasonable grounds to believe that the City Council will give their application, when it is submitted to them, fair and reasonable consideration.

The shareholders, after learning full particulars in regard to the prospects of the company, unanimously ratified and approved of the bylaw, and intimated their willingness to subscribe for a very large block of the new issue.

Just as soon as the proposed bylaw is passed by the City Council, the plans and specifications of the new building will be in shape to commence operations. The company now employs upwards of 45 hands and it is contemplated that the capacity of the mill will be doubled.

GATEMEN ASK FOR INCREASE

G.T.R. Employees Petition for Higher Wages

The gatemen and bridge and semaphore watchmen of the Grand Trunk in Peterborough, have petitioned Superintendent Tiffin for an increase in wages. In the letter sent to Mr Tiffin the watchmen point out that the higher rent which has to be paid in Peterborough, and the increased cost of living generally, make it necessary that higher wages should be paid. The section men and baggage men have been recently granted an increase in wages and it seems only fair that the gatemen and semaphore and bridge watchmen should be treated similarly. It requires considerable skill to operate the gates, semaphores and bridges and only an experienced man can attend to this work properly

Big Celebration in Omemee Village

In Honor of Village Being Port of Call on Trent Canal System

Special to the Review.

Omemee, May 20.—One of the largest celebrations that has ever taken place here, it is expected will be held on Friday next, Victoria Day. The great feature of the demonstration will be the formal declaration of Omemee as a port of call on the Trent Canal system.

It will be remembered that the citizens of this village some time ago petitioned the Dominion Government to have Pigeon Creek, dredged and made navigable.

Pigeon Creek, a few years ago, was navigable for large size boats, but weeds have grown up in the stream which will need some dredging. This work it is understood will be carried out this year. The growth of weeds, has, of late years, as stated, impeded traffic on this stretch of the canal.

The water this spring is higher than usual and one of the government boats will in the morning of the 24th go up Pigeon Creek. Several of the canal officials from Peterborough will be on the boat. Mayor Beattie and several members of the Board of Trade, will, on the morning of May 24th proceed down Pigeon Creek in a gasoline launch and will meet the Government boat and party. The latter will escort and pilot the Government party to the village. A reception will be tendered the canal officials on their arrival in the village and Omemee will be declared a port of call on the Trent Canal system.

There will be several athletic events in the afternoon, including a football match and other sports, and aquatic contests, and the citizens are looking forward to a gala day on May 24th.

A great deal of the success in having Omemee declared a port of call on the Trent Canal system, and the work of dredging which will be carried out, is due to Mr. J. D. Thornton and others, who have been most enthusiastic over the scheme.

Purse Snatcher In Police Court

James Belleghem Accused of Stealing Miss Hagarty's Purse Saturday Night

Purse snatching is a form of making a livelihood not very often indulged in in Peterborough. But Saturday evening about 9.30 o'clock, when Miss Bridget Hagarty of 91 Elm street, was returning home, she was stopped on Hunter street at the corner of Park street by a young man, who enquired where a Mr. Bond lived. The lady replied that she did not know. At that moment the young fellow snatched the leather chatelaine she was carrying with such force that he got the purse and the chain and handle was left in the woman's hand. He immediately made off towards St. Peter's Cathedral, at a lively pace.

The woman screamed for help, and for some one to stop the man. She was very badly frightened, and as she saw a young lady with her mother, she went across the road to them, and asked them to call up the police. The two ladies upon learning the facts called up the police station and notified Constable Newhall, who was on duty at the time. They also saw the man running up the street, but were too far away to identify him. Miss Hagarty was taken into the house of her new friends, and after she recovered from the first shock, she said that she had had a large sum of money in her purse but had taken most of it out, but how much she could not say.

Constable Newhall got Constable George Meharry, who was on street duty at the time, and they went out Hunter street after the thief.

At the corner of Hunter and Stewart streets they met a young man coming down Hunter. They stopped him and asked a few questions He, of course, knew nothing about the affair, although he appeared to be slightly agitated. The cops let him go, but P. C. Meharry was suspicious of him and the police watched him. The fellow turned around twice and when he got to Dr. Scott's corner he turned and went north. The cops still kept an eye on him, and before he got into the dark, he turned twice more and then started to run. The officers took after him and caught him at the next corner, placing him under arrest. He gave his name as James Belleghem and his residence on Brock Street, near St. Andrew's church.

The police took their prisoner back to where the woman was, to have him identified. He had no money on him at the time, and as the woman did not see his face, she could not positively identify him, although he was the right height and build, as far as she could say. To make sure of their man the police locked him up in the police station, where he remained until Sunday morning, when he was allowed to go without bail.

At the police court this morning Belleghem appeared for trial before Magistrate Dumble and pleaded not guilty. The evidence of Policeman Newhall and Meharry, and a couple of the ladies connected with the case was taken, and then the defendant was heard. He said he left home about ten minutes after nine and went up to Rubidge street, and around the Catholic church, to Hunter street, and down to the corner of Park and Hunter street, where he stopped until a car passed. He then went down Park to Simcoe street, up Simcoe to Reid, and along Reid to Brock, where he saw two drunken men, who were singing. He then walked along Brock to Rubidge street and crossed to Hunter street, where he met the two constables.

His Worship after hearing the evidence reserved judgment until next Monday. In the meantime, Belleghem, was allowed out without bail.

ENTHUSIASM FOR THEIR NEW CHURCH

Pastor's Evening Sermon Was in Line With Recent Development.

The enthusiasm for the new Park street church manifested on Friday night, is spreading. Sunday evening's sermon by Rev. A. H. Brace was in direct line with recent developments. David's charge to Solomon, "Arise, therefore, and be doing, and the Lord be with thee." First it was a call to service, "Arise, therefor." Second, there was the distinct character of the work in verse 19, "Arise therefore, and build," and thirdly, there was the vision of the future. At the close of the service a member voluntarily handed in his name for $100.00, making $1,100.00 since Friday.

Meetings for the week are; B. Y.P.U. tonight.

Tuesday, annual meeting of Mission Circle, with an address by Rev. J. R. Webb. Refreshments and programme provided.

BUSY DAY WITH SALVATION ARMY

Meetings Yesterday in Charge of Capt. Hurd—Address To-night.

Yesterday was a busy day with the Salvation Army, special interest being lent to the meetings by the presence of Capt. Hurd in the city. On Saturday night the captain gave an address before a large audience on "Our Father's Care." The lecture was illustrated by over fifty limelight veiws and was greatly enjoyed by those who heard it. The address dealt with the life of a little girl whose parents are both sick and who was compelled to support herself and her father and mother. Her struggle with the world and the hardships undergone were told in beautiful language and made a deep impression.

Capt. Hurd had charge of the services all day yesterday. The open air meetings attracted a large number of people and proved most helpful and inspiring. At night the service at the barracks was a memorial one for the young son of Swene MacDonald, who passed away a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, both spoke, and the latter contributed a solo. A solo was also given by Bandsman Pearson.

Tonight Capt. Hurd will have charge of a song service, entitled "In Danger's Hour." The service is based on the drowning of 10 Swedish-American Salvation Army officers who were on board the steamer Larchmont when it was wrecked and many lives lost.

WENT ON WITH THE SHOW.

The Hanover Post is authority for the following: "It is said that a marriage was celebrated at Walkerton recently, at which the bridegroom was very hard of hearing. Everything went well until the officiating clergyman asked him for the ring. The bridegroom saw something was wanted but could not make out just what it was. Finally he dived down in his pockets and handed out a $5 bill with the remark, "Well here's your money, so go on with the show." He got married all right.

MEMBERS OF BAND SPEAK

Yesterday's evangelistic meeting for men at the Y.M.C.A. was a very interesting and impressive one when the members of the Evangelistic Band took the subject. There was a fair attendance of men. The theme was "The Great Storm," the incident in the life of Jesus in the storm on the Lake of Galilee was taken to illustrate the storm on the sea of life. Miss Grey and Mr. J. F. Thornton, sang a duett, which was most appropriate to the subject and appreciated by those who heard it. Those who attend the meetings are always glad to hear the members of the Band, which has recently been strengthened by two new members.

HANDSOME PICTURES

In the window of Mr. H. LeBrun are four attractive and handsomely framed illustrations of "the first steeple-chase" held in England. This series of pictures is most interesting, showing the steeple chase from start to finish, and gives one a capital idea of the fashions of the times. They were published on the 1st o March, 1899. A peculiar point of interest is that the race was run by moonlight, and the novelty of this, the first steeple-chase, is well depicted on the faces of those looking out of bedroom windows, evidently, in many cases, the country-folk having been aroused from sleep by the thundering hoofs of horses. This set of pictures was brought from England many years ago by the late Mr. W. Chamberlain.

Many newcomers to Canada attended and gave short accounts of themselves and impressions of the country.

The choral Evensong was exceedingly well sung by the very large choir, all the service being chanted. Barnby's anthem, "Rejoice Ye with Jerusalem," was the offertory selection and it was well rendered. Mr George Chandler was quite at home with the very difficult tenor solo, "I will extend peace," one of his best efforts in St. John's. Mr. H. Rush very kindly defrayed all the expenses of the Brotherhood tea.

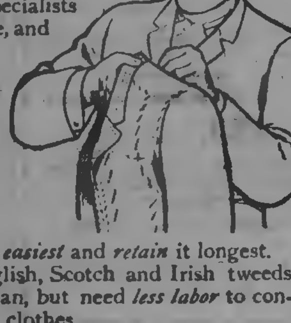
A System of Units



SEMI-READY system of specialized tailoring—a sleeve expert for sleeves—a collar specialist on collars alone, etc., economizes heavily on cost.

Because, such specialists will thus turn out more, and better finished garments, at a given salary, than the same number of tailors would if each made a whole coat in the usual Custom way.

Another practical economy is the use of cloths that take shape easiest and retain it longest.

Such cloths as English, Scotch and Irish tweeds cost more than Canadian, but need less labor to convert into perfect fitting clothes.

In 1816 There Was no Summer

Ice Was Common in July and Many Suffered Hardships

The coldness and backwardness of the season so far has been the theme of many serious conversations "wherever men do congregate" and the typical "oldest inhabitant" has been much in demand for comparisons of cold seasons in former years. Ninety-one years ago—1816 — the northern parts of this continent, and also Europe, had a visitation of cold which caused that year to be known as "the year without a summer," and as "the year of the frost." The following interesting facts are to be found in Rev. Dr. Patterson's "History of the County of Pictou, N.S." published in 18887;

"In the northern states frost, ice and snow were common in June. Snow fell to the depth of ten inches in Vermont, seven in Maine and three in Central New York. On the 5th July, ice was formed of the thickness of common window glass throughout New England, New York and some parts of Pennsylvania. In August ice was formed half an inch thick Indian corn was so frozen that the greater part was cut down for fodder. Indeed, almost every green thing was destroyed. A similar state of things existed in England During the whole season the sun's rays seemed to be destitute of heat. All nature seemed to be clad in a sable hue. The average wholesale price of flour during the year in Philadelphia was $13 per barrel. The average price of wheat in England was 97s per quarter.

"Here (in Pictou County) the frost was hard in the woods in the month of June, provisions were high, and from the destruction of crops the previous year (1815) by the mice, many were suffering and nearly all the farmers were put to some inconvenience for want of food for their families. Alexander Grant, miller, of the East River, went to Halifax to obtain a supply. He there bought 70 barrels of flour, for which he had to pay £3 per barrel. On his way back on the 5th of June, he stayed all night at a tavern between Halifax and Truro, and in the morning the ground was frozen so hard that it carried his horse. The flour came round by water and he went down to town (Pictou) to bring up the East River which he did on a coal lighter. On his way up on the 16th he saw a man trying to harrow his ground where he had sowed some grain, and wearing a great coat in consequence of the cold.

"That night being Saturday he put the flour into a barn owned by the late James Carmichael— father of the late Senator Carmichael—who had shortly before begun to do business where New Glasgow now stands. On Monday morning, before he reached the spot, there were as many assembled as there were barrels of flour, and no sooner was the door opened than a rush was made, and each man seized a barrel asking no questions as to price, and it was with some difficulty that he saved one for his own family."

Normal School Site a Good One

Excellent Locality and Close to Street Cars—Work is Progressing

It will be remembered that when the Dixon Park was selected as a site for the Normal School, a large number of people complained that no one knew where the park was, and that not one person in a hundred would ever see it. The excavation for the foundation has just been nicely started and some of the trees on top of the hill have been removed and yesterday, scores of citizens, some of them from the southern part of the city, visited the site to see how the contractor was getting on. Dixon Park is not nearly as far away from the centre of the city as Jackson Park is, and is only a five minute walk from the street car track at Smith street. It is a quiet spot and there are still many fine trees left for shade, and the students attending will find it an ideal place. After the basement is taken out there will be sufficient material to fill up the hollow and instead of the low boggy place that it is now it can be easily turned into beautiful level tennis court. When the sewer and waterworks are extended to the school and the drain run through the park everything which could be desired will have been furnished.

So far there has been nothing made public of anyone intending to erect houses in the neighborhood for the accommodation of the students. Several large boarding houses will be required, and before land advances too much it would be a profitable investment to get hold of one or two of those excellent building lots across the road, or anywhere in that locality. The students will nearly all have to board, and they would prefer to have rooms as close to the school as possible, especially in the winter.

The neighborhood surrounding the Normal School is a most desirable one in which to live, especially when the modern conveniences have been furnished. There are now a large number of very fine residences there and there is a great deal of excellent property still vacant and it is not out of the way as far as the centre of the city is concerned. In fact the northwestern section should, before long, be one of the very best residential districts.

Work on Angling Club's New Cottage to Start This Week

The Canadian General Electric Angling Club have secured the site for their cottage, which is to be built on the lower Otonabee. It will be situated on the Kylie property on the east shore of the river, just opposite the forks. A ten year lease of one acre has been secured from Mr Kylie, and work on the club's new summer home will be commenced this week Although the plans for the cottage are not yet quite complete it has been decided that it will be 24 feet square and high enough to give an upstairs for sleeping quarters. The outside of the walls and the roof will be finished with metallic sheeting. Ald. Tovey and Messrs J. G. M. Wilson, Cuncannon and Trombley, prominent members of the club, drove down the river on Saturday, and completed arrangements with Mr. Kylie regarding the site. The property secured is about a quarter of a mile from Rice Lake and is ideally situated for the purpose acquired by the club.

Work on the construction of the cottage will be commenced this week. A couple of carpenters will be engaged and assistance will be given by the members of the club.

Absolutely False Insinuations Made in the Press by Fair Play

Mayor McWilliams States the Facts Concerning the Application to Run an Ocean Wave on the Market Square—Market Clerk Has no Right to Rent Space

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—In your issue of Saturday appears a letter over the inaptly chosen signature of "Fair Play" with regard to the application for the Ocean Wave to run on the market square, and with an altogether unfair insinuation against one of the aldermen. The facts are these;

Mr Heffernan, the owner of the Ocean Wave and Mr. Mcllmoyle, the market clerk, had negotiations for the use of the market square, and before closing the deal, Mr. Heffernan came to get my consent. I informed him that there was a license fee covering such amusements wherever shown within the city limit. In consequence of this he made inquiries, and found that there was a bylaw with a license fee, which in his case was absolutely prohibitive. He appealed to me to have a modification made in the bylaw and I advised him to apply to the council, which he did. Mr. Mcllmoyle, the market clerk, also wrote the council. The application came up in open council last Monday night and the matter was discussed in the presence of both gentlemen as well as others.

It was agreed that the license fee was extremely high and had not been intended to cover such a case as Mr. Heffernan's and the finance committee was given authority to reduce the license. At a subsequent meeting the committee reduced the license to $40 for the season.

With regard to Mr. Mcllmoyle's rights he was informed in the presence of all parties present, exactly what his rights were, viz., that on a matter of contract, he had no right to make use of the market for any other than market purposes but that his predecessors, having been allowed to sell space on the market square, without interference so long as it did not conflict with the market, he could do the same. There was therefore, no interference with the market clerk's rights. On the contrary, he was allowed to exceed his legal rights and he has nothing whatever to complain of.

The bylaw fixing the licenses was passed months ago, without any regard to the market clerk or any other property holder, and the application for the reduction from the license, was dealt with as soon as made

The insinuation that any influence was used to have the application changed to a lot owned by one of the aldermen, is absolutely false. The alderman was not even one of those particularly favorable to a low license, and no member of the council, or of the finance committee, knew or cared where the amusement was carried on.

I make it a rule, Mr. Editor, especially as mayor, to take no notice of anonymous communications to the press. But I cannot permit to pass such an insinuation against one of the most efficient members of the council.

Yours truly,
R. F. McWILLIAMS,
Mayor.

MERCHANT HITS BACK

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—A writer in your issue of Saturday who styles himself "common sense"—so common that it might be termed "selfishness", the besetting sin of the age, in trying to belittle the nuisance of burning rubbish in the back yards of the congested district of the city, calls it "nothing" and because "there have been comparatively few cases of children having been seriously burned," such suffering and destruction of human life do not, in his estimation, counterbalance the few cents or dollars he can save for having his garbage carted away according to law. He further tries to justify his contravention of the bylaw by saying that no harm can come of it, "if proper precautions are taken." But does he take any precaution? Before starting the fire does he go around notifying the scores that are affected by his flagrant disregard of their rights so that they can at least for the time being, close their doors and windows, and thus exclude the smoke and obnoxious fumes? The city has frequently narrowly escaped conflagration in the past from just such causes as "Common Sense" is guilty of. It is up to the mayor to see that this nuisance fraught with such serious risks, shall be stopped at once.

Yours, etc.,
MERCHANT.

SENT IN FALSE ALARM OF FIRE

If Offenders are Caught They Will be Severely Punished

Some one sent in a false alarm of fire from box 41, at the corner of London and Park streets, at 1.15 o'clock this morning and gave the brigade a fruitless chase.

The false alarm fiend was evidently a man as the glass was broken and the one who opened the box knew exactly how to manipulate it. Chief Rutherford was indignant today and he had good cause to be. If the offender is caught he will be given the full penalty of the law which is a fine of $50 and a term of imprisonment in gaol. The firemen and police are keeping a sharp outlook for the offender who sends in a false alarm, and if apprehended he will be dealt with.

The St. Pallis Hotel in Hull was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by fire yesterday.

Company Increases Its Capital Stock

Shareholders of Colonial Weaving Co. Will Also Erect New Buildings

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Colonial Weaving Company, held on Saturday afternoon, the action of the directors in deciding to issue $50,000 seven per cent. preference stock was ratified. This will result in the capital of the company being increased from $60,000 to $110,000. Of the new issue of $50,000 preference stock, only $25,000 will be underwritten at present.

The company is rushed with orders, and the matter of selecting a suitable site and erecting new and large buildings in order to meet the rapidly growing business of the company, was discussed but nothing definite was decided upon. The question will be settled in a few days, it is expected. and with the erection of a bigger factory, several additional looms will also be installed.

Boating Season Opened Saturday

Many Little Picnics Down the River After the Thunder Storm

Saturday afternoon was the opening of the boating season on the Otonabee, so far as pleasure only is concerned. Several young people ordered boats for early in the afternoon but the heavy thunder storm put a stop to all thoughts of a paddle in a little canoe, built for two. After the storm however, the sky cleared and the sun shone forth brighter and warmer than ever, and at four o'clock the telephone at Rye's boathouse began to get busy and a dozen boats were run down the slide into the water. In a short time the little parties arrived with the lunches, cushions and coats, and a dozen little picnics were enjoyed on the banks, green with the young grass and wet with the May shower. It was the first of the season and was thoroughly enjoyed. The sun was warm and the breeze was not too cool and the trip down was indeed pleasant. But coming home the high water and stiff current were not so agreeable. Still the boats were all home early, and as they did not go down far, the difficulties were easily surmounted.

The neat little steam yacht, Tootsie, owned by Mr. Allan, made its initial trip Saturday afternoon. It took some time to get everything in shape, but once it was ready, it ran like a charm.

A large number of private boats plied up and down the river Saturday afternoon, but very few were able to make the grade up to the slide at the locks. There was a great volume of water coming over the dam and the rapids were very strong. Still this will not last for long and then navigation will increase

Mr. Harold Rye has completed his boat-house and wharf and everything is ready for the summer. He has dockage sufficient to accommodate ten power boats, and they have all been engaged. The docks are better this year than ever and the boat owners will find everything very convenient. The gasoline tank which holds about 100 gallons of the power-giving fluid, has been planted for the summer and is ready for use. This is one of the best features of yachting. No supplies whatever, have to be carted down to the docks. The main wharf for canoes and skiffs is a great improvement over the old slides used in previous years. It is made of rough sheeting and covers the whole of the front of the boathouse, thus doing away with the little stairs down the bank. It is supported by heavy scantlings and timbers, and there is not the least danger of any kind of an accident. Then at the foot of the main wharf is a floating wharf for convenience in getting in and out of the boats.

The improvements at the Otonabee boat-house should make boating more popular this year than ever.

New permanent cavalry corps are to be established in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

INCREASING TAXATION

Le Soleil of Quebec seeks to obtain credit for the Laurier administration by saying: "From 1897 to 1907 the Liberal government has had surpluses amounting to $90,000 000. This is the decisive argument in reply to the jeremiads of the Bleus, denouncing the extravagance of the Liberal administration because of the growth of expenditure."

Replying to this the Montreal Gazette says: "The figures for 1907 are not yet obtainable, but these for 1906 show that in addition to spending all of this $96,000 000, the Government had added $8,500 000 to the debt of the country. But this is not all. From customs and excise, the direct taxation of the people, in the last ten years the Laurier Government has taken no less than $142,000 000 more than was collected in the preceding ten years by a Conservative administration denounced as extravagant by Le Soleil. Of that $142,000 000 Le Soleil admits that $64,000 000 has been spent. The public accounts go a little further than the Quebec organ, and show that the whole $142,000 000 has gone and in addition about a million a year of borrowed money. A government which has in ten years increased the taxation of the people by more than 100 per cent., and even then found its revenues insufficient, can hardly be defended from the charge of extravagance by means of a paper surplus."

ENFORCING LABOR ARBITRATION

(New York Times.)

The industrial arbitration law of New Zealand has been watched by the world as one of the most interesting experiments in the adjudication of disputes between labor and capital. It may still be too soon to pass final judgment on its beneficience, and it may be that opinions concerning its general effect thus far upon trade and industry differ widely. But one point on which there was at first much doubt appears, according to the High Commissioner for New Zealand in London, to be pretty well settled. That is, the practicability of enforcing the provisions of the law upon workingmen as well as upon their employers. Under the law disputes as to wages, etc., which cannot be settled by direct negotiation are required to be submitted to a court of arbitration, the decree of which are binding on both parties—that is to say, on all who have registered for the purpose of being subject to the act. It was recognized that it would be easy to enforce obedience upon capitalists and employers, but it was widely supposed that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to do so upon workingmen. Thus if men demanded higher wages and the court refused to grant them, they might go on and strike, and it would be impossible for the court to compel them to resume work at the old rates.

As a matter of fact, however, that very thing which was regarded as impossible, has proved to be not only possible, but easy. A little time ago, the High Commissioner related, about two hundred butchers in the slaughter houses of Canterbury, demanded an increase of five shillings for each 100 sheep slaughtered. The arbitration court decided that they should have an increase of only three shillings. This award the employers accepted. The men rejected it and went on strike. Thereupon the court fined them £5 apiece for striking in contempt of court. They refused to pay the fines or to resume work. Then the court issued warrants for their arrest and imprisonment for a considerable time unless they at once complied with its decree. That brought them to terms. They went back to work at the three shillings advance decreed by the court and paid their fines, the court generously permitting some of them to do so in instalments of £1 a week. In several other places men who attempted to evade the decree of the court were brought to book in the same summary fashion. "In this way," concluded the High Commissioner, "the act was vindicated."

Whether such a system will prove permanently satisfactory remains to be determined by experience. We can imagine some men regarding it as little better than slavery. To fine a man heavily for voluntarily quitting work and to compel him under pain of imprisonment to work for lower wages than he wants may seem sheer despotism. Yet, after all, it is a matter of keeping or breaking contracts. When men in New Zealand engage to work they enter into a contract to continue work, and in case of dispute, to abide by the decision of the court. If they quit work and refuse to accept the court's decision they violate the contract. Certainly if an employer is to be held to his side of the contract under penalty it is only fair that employees should be held to their side of it; and seeing that the New Zealand system was adopted chiefly by the device and at the demand of the workingmen, there should be no complaint from them against its impartial enforcement.

PEN POINTS

In Toronto some boys have been fined for shooting robins and their air guns have been confiscated. Peterborough boys will please take warning.

A clause embodied in the Ontario statute law amendment act in the Legislature, settles the vexed question as to the maintenance of High School pupils from outside municipalities. The clause provides that this cost must be borne by municipalities whence the pupils come. This will be tried for one year, and if it does not work out satisfactorily, may be subjected to still further amendment. The question has caused a great deal of trouble. Judges have given different interpretations of the present law, and municipalities and trustee boards have quarrelled about it.

Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland, denies that he created a scene in the Imperial Conference, but says that the report of the proceedings in the London Daily Mail, are substantially correct. Winston Churchill, on the other hand, describes the story as an impudent falsification. So far one of the first notes of criticism in Canada of Sir Robert Bond's attitude, is found in the Montreal Gazette, which says; "Sir Robert Bond, the premier of Newfoundland, seems to be among the dissatisfied members of the Imperial Conference. He failed to get in London the support of his position in regard to the fisheries of the colony that he desired. Perhaps the fact that by the enactment of laws gravely interfering with the proper liberty of British subjects, he is seeking to use these fisheries to secure foreign trade advantages, has something to do with the attitude of the British authorities. There is a belief in some quarters also that Sir Robert Bond is thinking quite as much of domestic politics as of the island's dignity. The French Shore question used to become acute about election times, till the British Government settled it by buying out the French treaty claims for the colony.

Canada's banking system is radically different from that of the United States, and while originally founded on Scotch and English plans, has developed independently into a distinct system in harmony with the Dominion's peculiar needs. As a proof of its efficiency, the pending liquidation of the Ontario Bank may be referred to. The liabilities of that institution totalled $15,000,000, yet its affairs are being administered without disorganizing business in any form, or without the loss of a dollar to either note holder or depositor. In 25 years not more than $750,000 has been lost to depositors, and nothing to note holders in failures of banks, which could be organized under the present system. When our neighbors across the border can furnish such evidences of efficiency and security in banking, it makes us blush to contemplate the shortcomings and glaring defects of our State and National systems. Receiverships and assignments drag along for interminable lengths with us, and it rarely, if ever, happens that they are successfully closed up without loss to the depositors and creditors. We could well afford to take a leaf out of Canada's book on banking, particularly a section of its general law, which visits upon faithless bank officers, severe penalties personally. Directors, under Canada's banking law, "direct."—Wall Street Journal, New York.

"There is considerable dissatisfaction on the part of representatives of the liquor interest, with the policy of the Ontario Government to the effect that no licenses should be granted in municipalities which carried local option by a three-fifths vote but where the bylaw was set aside on technical grounds.

"This arises from the fact that the liquor people have been so used to getting special favors, that they don't know fair play to the temperance people when they see it.

"Take a couple of instances cited in an evening paper last week; that of the township of Asphodel, in Peterborough County, where the returning officer changed one polling-place, without advertising it, to a place quite contiguous. It is not alleged, so far as I can learn that any voter was misled or failed to record his vote by reason of this change. Is it fair play that the temperance people, who put up a splendid fight, should lose the fruits of victory upon a petty issue of that sort, which would not even remotely affect the result! Or take the case of Midland, which was also cited. The Council passed the bylaw to the third reading a week too soon to comply with the statute. There is no evidence that the local liquor dealers or their friends would have thought of appeal if they had not been stirred up by outside influence. They were satisfied that they were fairly beaten when the vote stood more than two to one against them. The town council, to make assurance doubly sure, tried to rectify their mistake by subsequently giving the bylaw a third reading. Why, then, should the will of the people be thwarted and the liquor trade forced upon them!"

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Close the Churches Just for One Year

Every Sacred Edifice Would Then be Used for a Court House or a Gaol

In the course of his sermon in George street Methodist church last evening Rev. Dr. Crothers, preaching from Ezekiel, 47th chapter and 9th verse, took occasion to refer to the churches and the great work that they were doing today. He said; "Many persons seem to think that the churches are of very little use, that the world could get along very well without them. In fact, there are several who are perfectly willing that others should bear the expense of maintaining the churches. Remove the church and every institution connected directly or indirectly with it, and what would become of Christianity? Suppose you closed all church doors just for a year, and set the able-bodied preachers at some other calling than proclaiming the Gospel. What would happen? What would result? Why, every sacred edifice could be turned into a court house or a gaol and every policeman could very soon become a constable. You would have to go a long way in ancient Athens, and Rome before you would find a hospital or an orphanage. The ancients did not recognize charity as a virtue. Close all the churches for a year, and the world would travel farther back in wickedness, vice and sin than it has ever done. Shut down the printing presses. Do not let the Bible and Christian literature flow therefrom and you immediately stop the progress of the Gospel, the enlightenment of our universities, and the world, intellectually would soon revert to the darkness of the middle ages. Who is there today that would care to see all the churches and the doors of all institutions connected with them directly, or indirectly closed—our hospitals, our refuges, our orphanages and other homes. The great trouble is the tendency of today not to recognize sin and wickedness as existing in the world, and to think that there is no devil, but the great majority do not have to go very far before they find out that there is a real devil and that sin is everywhere present. Cling fast to Christ, hold on to Him. Let Him be your guide, your helper and your friend, and you will have joy and peace, and comfort."

Ordination of Rev. A. Bright

Impressive Ceremony Conducted in St. Paul's Church Ingersoll

The Ingersoll Chronicle of Friday last contains a complete report of the ordination and induction of Rev Alfred Bright, B.A., formerly of Peterborough, to the pastorate of St. Paul's church, Ingersoll.

The Chronicle, in part, says;

In the presence of one of the largest congregations that ever assembled in the spacious edifice, the ordination and induction of Rev. Alfred Bright, into the pastorate of St. Paul's church, took place yesterday afternoon. Important as the occasion was to Mr. Bright, marking, as it did, a great day in his career, it was also of much interest and importance to the members and adherents of St. Paul's church who have been without a pastor for several months.

Prior to the induction ceremony, Mr Bright was duly examined by the Paris Presbytery, and the announcement made to the congregation that if anyone had any objections to make them known at once.

Rev. Dr Dickie, pastor of Chalmer's church, Woodstock, narrated the steps leading up to the call being extended to Mr. Bright. He mentioned that several able and eloquent preachers had been heard by the congregation, and that the call was a unanimous one.

Rev Mr. Booth, moderator of the Paris Presbytery, presided, and an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev R. B. Cochrane, pastor of Knox church, Woodstock.

At the close of the services Mr. Bright shook hands and exchanged greeting with the congregation as they passed out of the church.

On Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock, a reception will be tendered Rev Mr Bright in the lecture room of the church.

Omemee Won First Game Of Intermediate Series

Defeated Quaker's Second Team, 1—0, at Exhibition Grounds on Saturday—Home Team Showed Poor Form and Need Practice Badly.

The intermediate series of the Midland Football League was opened on Saturday, when the Omemee kickers defeated the Quakers' second team at the Exhibition Grounds, 1—0. The home team showed lack of practice, and the line-up of the team was in doubt until the whistle had blown for the players to line up. The fact that the men were new to each other, was plainly evident when the play started. The forward line, with one or two exceptions, was all to the bad and seldom proved dangerous. Unless the boys get out and have more practice and the team is better handled it does not look as if the intermediate honors would come this way. The Quakers' defence was good, Laing, Sullivan and Donaldson beating off many attacks. The two backs killed well, and used good judgment in close quarters. Crough did fine work down the field but was not given proper support. Without assistance he was not able to negotiate the strong Omemee defence, although he tried hard, time and again.

For Omemee, Hayes and MacPherson were conspicuous on the back division and booted the leather long and high. The forward line was also good and only the skilled work of Donaldson and Sullivan prevented them from scoring more than once. Jardine played a fine game on the forward line and negotiated many dangerous rushes. The visitors had the advantage of the Quakers in weight and used their bodies to good advantage.

There was no scoring in the first half. The home team had a strong breeze in their favor, but were unable to show themselves dangerous. Omemee got the only goal scored during the match, about ten minutes before time was called. The forward line rushed nicely and beat out Laing who played a fine game throughout.

The game was late in starting, owing to several Omemee players being detained by the rain storm, and a fire along the road on their way to the city. It was after five o'clock when Mr. B. T. Huston, who refereed the contest in a satisfactory manner, lined up the teams as follows,—

Omemee		Quakers II.
	Goal.
Ingram		E. Laing
	Backs.
Hayes		Donaldson
MacPherson		Sullivan
	Halves.
Graham		Hamilton
Sisson		Archibald.
McGee		Jones
	Forwards.
M. McGee		Greer
Mitchell		Crough
Jardine		Hayes
Nugent		Roe

The match was free from roughness and the referee had not much to do. The Omemee boys were greatly elated with their victory and are hopeful of landing the intermediate honors.

ROLLER HOCKEY FRIDAY NIGHT

Will be Big Time at Charlotte St. Rink—Skating From Seven to Nine

There will be big doings at the roller rink on Friday evening, May 24th. Arrangements have been made for an evening of rare entertainment and it is expected that there will be a big crowd in attendance. The feature of the evening will be a roller hockey match between two fast local teams the Kenoras and Victorias. Practices have been held regularly during the past ten days and the Review representative had the privilege of seeing the teams workout one evening last week. The boys have improved 100 per cent. since the match was played a week ago Friday night and the majority of them now handle themselves as well on the rollers as on ice. In the practices the other night the forwards played fine combination and end to end rushes with the ball were frequent. There were very few falls and it was seldom that the players collided. Practices will be held regularly this week and the teams will go on the floor in fine shape on Friday night.

There will be skating between seven and nine o'clock and the hockey match will be played between nine and ten. The band will be present all evening and will play at half time during the hockey match. The general admission will be 15c, while 25c will cover admission to the rink and skates. Everything is being done to assure an evening of rare sport.

To attend the roller rink at night will be the proper way to wind up Victoria Day.

Saturday's Race an Exciting One

Silver Queen Ran a Quarter of Mile in the Third Heat and Lost the Race

The matched race Saturday afternoon between Bert McCollum's black pacer and Wm. Whittom's Silver Queen, was won by the former. Great interest was displayed by many local horsemen in this event and considerable cash changed hands. The race was announced for two o'clock and horses were at the track ready for the start. The threatening storm of the early afternoon scared many from going down and the heavy rain stopped many more who thought the race would be called off. However, about a hundred sports were at the track and the first heat, which was won by Silver Queen, had been run. Then the rain came down in buckets full, but the amateur racers went out with their steeds and the judges got them off to a good start. The mud and water flew in all directions and the drivers were plastered beyond recognition. Still they raced on and were making pretty good time considering the circumstances. The heat was all in favor of the black pacer. He struck a good steady gait and he won out easily. The grey mare made a couple of nasty breaks and her driver could not steady her in time to do an effective work. In the first heat McCollum's horse was hooked to a low bike which struck its hind legs and caused him to break. The next two heats, however, he was hitched to a higher bike and he travelled like an old timer.

When the third heat started the rain was about over, but the mud was worse if anything. This started out as if it would be a game fight. But half away around Bert thought his horse was going off its feet and in an effort to steady him Silver Queen pulled ahead, and then broke and ran all the rest of the way home, while the black horse kept a good steady pace and finished a couple of lengths behind. The heat and race, however, was given to McCollum on account of the gray mare's running.

Mr. Whittom was not satisfied with the race and he at once offered to put up $200 that he could beat McCollum's horse on Monday afternoon in mile heats.

KELVIN WINS KING'S PLATE.

Enormous Crowd Witness Great Event At Toronto Spring Meeting.

Toronto, May 20.—Never before in the history of the Ontario Jockey Club has there been a larger attendance than that which characterized the opening day of the Spring meet on Saturday. Society was strongly represented in the arena devoted to members of the club, while the lawn was crowded so that those in attendance found it difficult to move about. Fully 12,000 were present.

Shortly after one o'clock those whose devotion to this form of pastime is keenest commenced to arrive, and long before the first race was called the success of the opening day, from the standpoint of attendance, was abundantly assured.

The racing was good, the surprise of the day being the victory of Mr. Ambrose Wood's horse Kelvin, in the King's Plate, at 15 to 1. Hon. Adam Beck's Photographer, around which so many hopes had gathered was hopelessly left, while the Seagram stable had to be content with second place, although with Half A Crown, the popular president nearly captured the King's guineas. The weather was ideal for racing. Following were the results:

First Race, 6 furlongs—1 Purslane; 2 Boanerges; 3 Temeraire. Time 1.13 3-5.

Third race—1 Earl Rogers; 2 Sir Ralph; 3 Thistle Do. Time 1.49.

Fourth race, Steeplechase, mile and three-quarters—1 J. G. C.; 2 Toots; 3 Carola. Time 3.26 4-5.

Fifth race, the King's Plate—1 Kelvin (Foley); 2 Half a Crown (Nicol); 3 Bilberry. Time 2.12 1-2.

Sixth race, Carlton purse—1 Cobmosa; 2 Suzanne Rocomora; 3 Picaroon. Time 1.47.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

New York, May 20. — The stock market suffered severely from active liquidation today, and bear hammering, losing from one to five points all around. There was nothing more than a scale down support to be had, and the bears had no trouble in breaking prices through these limits, to catch stop-orders in lower down. The only buying was from shorts and this in very limited quality. The tone was weak throughout and many long stocks were thrown over by tired holders. The greatest weakness was shown in Reading, the Hill issues, Harrimans and some specialties like Colorado Fuel, Distillers and Smelting. The one strong feature was Consolidated Gas, which advanced from 132 to 137 1 2, while the others were going down.

Wheat opened strong and advanced about three cents from Saturday's closing and then fluctuated within a range of two cents, finally closing from one to one and three-quarters cents above Saturday's close. Corn was firm at 1 4 advance, while the strength in oats was the feature of the pit.

The stock market exhibited decided weakness in the last half hour and closed at about the low for the day.

COULD NOT GET HOUSES TO RENT

So English Immigrants Left for Hastings This Morning.

An immigrant train passed through Peterborough over the C. P.R., early this morning. About twenty of the newcomers got off at Peterborough, and the majority of them will likely remain here. Mr. Chas Noyes ,G.T.R. brakeman, succeeded in getting two of them jobs on the G.T.R. section force. Two families, of six members each, went to Hastings on the G.T.R. They would have remained in Peterborough only they found that they would have had difficulty in securing houses here at moderate rent. This morning's arrivals should make good citizens.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOS. McCLELLAND.

The death occurred in Toronto on Sunday of Mrs. Jos. McClelland. The deceased's maiden name was Ella Tallon, and she was formerly of this city.

The funeral will take place from the C.P.R. station on the arrival of the noon train from Toronto, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Tolstoi, Jr., Acquitted.

St. Petersburg, May 20.—Count Leo Leonovitch Tolstoi, son of the famous author, who was arrested in February last, charged with high treason in publishing his father's latest political pamphlet, has been acquitted.

The court decided that the count had no criminal intent in republishing the pamphlet, which was printed abroad, but ordered the Russian edition to be burned and the plates destroyed.

Jumped From Window.

New York, May 20.—Emilio Balari a Spanish music instructor, aged 69 years, committed suicide Saturday by jumping from a window of his room on the seventh floor of an apartment house on West 57th street. He was instantly killed.

Balari formerly enjoyed the patronage of many prominent New Yorkers, but lately has been suffering from nervous prostration, which is believed to be the cause of his suicide.

BREWING AND MALTING CO.

Of Port Hope Again Before the Courts in Toronto.

Osgoode Hall notes contains the following item today;—

Port Hope Brewing and Malting Co. vs. Cavanagh.—Judgment (L) on motion, to set aside praecipe order changing solicitor taken out by one of two plaintiffs. Held that plaintiffs, however numerous, can have only one solicitor and must act jointly in order to effect a valid change. Praecipe order set aside with costs. See re Matthews (1905) 2 ch. p. 463 and cases there cited, also 8 ch. p. 717. D. O'Connell, (Peterborough) for plaintiff, and solicitor on record, A. B. Morine, for new solicitor.

STOPPED THE HENS FROM SCRATCHING

A citizen who resides in the south end of the city, and who is a poultry fancier of considerable repute, had a rather unpleasant experience one day last week. Unable to keep his hens from scratching in his garden he at last hit upon a plan of cutting off a portion of their claws, to see if that would prevent them from scratching. It did, and in a most effective manner. Unfortunately he cut their claws a little bit too close and the fowls bled to death. Needless to say they will not scratch any more, although their owner will now have to scratch harder than ever to make up for his loss.

GETTING AFTER "MERCHANT"

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I notice by a letter in Saturday's Review that "Merchant" has joined the crusade against bonfires, along with "Enquirer," and "Caution," who had taken up the cudgels previously. The trio are trying desperately to stir up a tempest in a teapot, and they would do more good to the community if they would take the stuff they are writing and pile it on one of the bon-fires along with the other rubbish that is being consumed.

I would like to inform "Inquirer," "Merchant" et al, that Chief Roszel is a genial, obliging fellow and if they call at the police station and lodge a complaint, it will be given careful attention and acted upon, if it is well founded. The police would be foolish to pay attention to anonymous communications in the press. Judging by the extravagant language used by merchant, he is getting as hot as some of the bon-fires that are causing him such annoyance.

Yours, etc.
COMMON SENSE.

At a meeting of Toronto barbers it was decided to charge fifteen cents for shaves.

The rates of express companies will be investigated by Railway Commission next week.

FIRST DRIVE OF LOGS ARE DOWN

The first drive of logs this year, arrived in the city this morning. They are for the Campbellford Lumber Company, and came down the river from Lakefield. They will all likely be in the Little Lake by the morning, and by the first of the week, should be on their way down the river. There are 15,000 logs in the drive and the most of them will make up into good lumber. Driving at this time of the year is very favorable, as the water is high and the current is swift. The logs travel themselves about as fast, as the men can keep up with them.

SIR WILFRID'S POSITION

Favors Preference, But Sees Difficulties in the Way.

Britain Cannot Tax Food, Colonies Cannot Grant Free Trade—Improve Imperial Communication—Question of Publicity—Times Criticizes Canadian Position—Economic Laws Will Drive Her From Empire.

London, May 21.—Laurier authorizes The Chronicle to say that he is perfectly satisfied with the work and results of the conference. Great progress has been made, and the way has been prepared for good work in the future. The Chronicle adds that the Canadian Premier advocates preference, but it not disappointed because preference has not been obtained. He sees the difficulties in connection with applying the preference and the impossibility of the colonies offering the Mother Country free trade.

"We depend," he says, "on our custom duties for our national revenues, they could be lowered, but not extinguished. As it is impossible for us to find other sources of revenue. We could not introduce the income tax nor the land tax, which would check the development of our resources."

Sir Wilfrid's alternative for preference is a scheme for providing quicker and better means of communication between Great Britain and the colonies. He hopes by the time he returns in July the Government will have arrived at a decision of the question, as it is important that there should be no delay.

As the reports of the conference will show Laurier is opposed to having the reports of the proceedings published, his fear being that publicity would turn the conference, which should be a serious businesslike assembly, into a parliamentary debating society.

DEAKIN ON CONFERENCE.

Did Not Come Up to Australian Premier's Expectations.

London, May 21.—Premier Deakin, interviewed prior to his departure yesterday for Australia, was asked whether the result of the conference had come up to his expectations.

He replied: "If you mean by results the resolutions which have been unanimously passed at the conference, I should be obliged to say 'no,' because on several most important subjects we not only failed to induce acceptance of our proposals, but even to receive definite approach towards them.

"Something, I trust, was done in nearly every case, but that something could have been accomplished by correspondence. Whatever friction may have occurred during our visit was but individual and transitory; it is forgotten already, and will not be recalled."

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY.

Postoffice Department Busy Organizing Extensions.

Ottawa, May 21.—The Postoffice Department is organizing the extension of the free delivery system upon the lines announced by Hon. Mr. Lemieux last session. These were that cities or towns which had a population of 12,000 and a postal revenue of $20,000 should be entitled to the privilege.

The first places to be given the free delivery will be Calgary and Edmonton, and plans to that end are now under way. When this is done other cities and towns will be attended to, but it is laid down as a principle that the two conditions must coexist.

For instance, a place of 12,000 population cannot claim free delivery unless it comes up to the revenue standard, neither can a place with the revenue of $20,000, but with less than 12,000 population, be given the privilege.

WRECK ON N. Y. CENTRAL.

Several Passengers Badly Bruised By Crash.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—Westbound passenger train No. 385 on the Falls branch of the New York Central Railroad, due at Lockport at 6.50 o'clock, with a train of four coaches, crashed into the rear of a freight train east of Vine street crossing at Lockport, telescoping the caboose and piling freight cars in pyramid shape on the tracks and blocking traffic.

The wreck, it is said, was caused by members of the freight crew not flagging the passenger train. The train was running 40 miles an hour.

Several residents of Lockport, who were on the passenger train, were badly bruised by being tossed from their seats when the crash came.

HUMMEL GOES TO PEN.

Will Work In Jail As Baker For Next Year.

New York, May 21.—In a handsome touring car Abraham Hummel left his home in East 72nd street yesterday, to go to Blackwell's Island to serve a year in the penitentiary for conspiracy in the celebrated Dodge-Morse divorce case.

A few years ago Hummel enjoyed an extensive practice as a lawyer, having as clients some of the best-known actors and actresses in the country, but his conduct of the now famous divorce case resulted in his disbarment, and the humiliation he suffered yesterday.

His method of going to the penitentiary was almost on a par with his farewell dinner given a few night ago, at which he bade farewell to about a dozen friends, prior to his imprisonment. About 100 curious spectators and reporters were gathered in front of his residence at 11 yesterday, when Mr. Hummel endeavored to depart for Blackwell's Island without observation.

An automobile had been standing at the curb for several hours. One of Mr. Hummel's friends left the house, and entering the machine, was whisked away in it. The spectators followed it a short distance and returned to the house as it drew up to the curb again. Then Hummel, holding a handkerchief before his face to prevent a snapshot picture being taken of him, ran from the basement door, jumped into the tonneau and it dashed away.

For about three hours he took a ride around the city, and then surrendered himself to a deputy sheriff, who took him by an unfrequented route to Blackwell's Island. He will be put at work in the bakery.

FOUND OFFICER WITH WIFE.

Queer Story of Alleged Embezzlement of Mess Funds.

Kingston, May 21.—It has now become public that a man named Jeffrys, who was caterer of the officers' mess at the barracks, left for parts unknown the other day with, it is said, $400 of the mess funds. His previous conduct was invariably good.

The explanation of his escapade, as learned yesterday afternoon, is as follows:

On the day of the theft Jeffreys went to his home earlier than expected by his wife and there found an officer in her company. Jeffreys took in the situation and reasoned with himself that there was nothing to be gained by protesting, and that he would probably lose his position. He then packed up his belongings, went over to the mess room, found $400 of the mess funds, put it in his pocket and left, feeling assured that he was immune from arrest and punishment.

MATTIE PERKINS SUES.

Libel Suits Arising Out of Recent Trial at Cayuga.

Toronto, May 21.—Mattie Perkins of Cayuga has issued a writ against The Stratford Herald Printing Co., claiming $10,000 damages for alleged libel. Similar actions have been begun by Ralph Currie of Cayuga and Thomas A. McDonald of Canfield.

The Hamilton Spectator has also been served with writs for damages totalling $30,000.

Each of the parties have likewise issued writs against The Star Printing and Publishing Co. of Toronto, claiming $10,000.

Another writ has also been issued by Mattie Perkins against W. M O'Beirne, publisher of The Stratford Beacon.

The actions arise out of the recent trial of Mrs. Perkins on a charge of murder.

MURDERED FOR INSURANCE.

Doctor Arrested On Serious Charge With Wife As Accessory.

Raleigh, N. C., May 21.—Dr. D. S. Rowland, a prominent physician here, was arrested yesterday on a warrant from Henderson, Vance County, charging him with the murder of his 11-year-old son near Kittrell, in Vance County, to obtain $900 insurance money and property left to the boy.

The boy died two weeks ago after taking a walk in the woods with his father, and it is alleged that the lad said his father had given him an orange which tasted bitter. The warrant charged murder by poison.

Rowland's wife, to whom he was married last week, was arrested as an accessory.

Shoulder Admits Guilt.

Toronto, May 21.—George McGrath and Michael Burns were convicted in the general sessions yesterday on a charge of robbing J. Oxborough, alias Charles Shoulder, of Massilon, Ohio, of $235 on April 20.

Shoulder, it is alleged, came to Toronto with $300, which he had stolen from his employer in Massilon. With the prisoners he went out to see the town and when in a lonely spot they jumped on him and took his money. When Shoulder complained to the police, they took him in on a charge of stealing the self-same day in Ohio. At court yesterday Oxborough admitted his guilt. He will go back to Ohio to stand trial.

A shortage in the brick supply has retarded building in Hamilton.

POLICE KILLED BY BOMB.

Terrorists Boldly Place Infernal Machine In Police Bureau.

Odessa, May 21.—The Superintendent of Police of Odessa and the two chief detectives of this city were shockingly dismembered and killed and seven other persons were seriously injured by the explosion of an infernal machine in the central police bureau yesterday.

The machine was deposited in the bureau just before it exploded by two men and a girl. The police captured the men, but the girl escaped.

The two detectives were bitterly hated by the terrorists, one of them for participating in inciting the outbreak of 1905 here, and the other, who was nicknamed "The Hangman," because he had tortured political prisoners.

"Black Hundreds" Riot.

Following the assassination of three police officials here yesterday, serious rioting occurred, and at 8 o'clock last evening the black hundreds were running wild through the streets, mercilessly beating people, particularly Jews, more than a hundred of whom were seriously injured, the police apparently remaining passive spectators of the disorders.

Warrant Issued For Member.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Nikolai Lenin, alias Vladimir, leader of the majority faction now attending the social democratic congress in London, on the charge of high treason. He will be taken into custody if he returns to Russia.

It is said that the police have identified him as a noted radical leader of the early nineties, and a brother of Ulianoff, who, with four comrades, all armed with bombs, was arrested in 1887 while lying in wait for the carriage of Emperor Alexander II., and was condemned to death and executed.

Douma Is Glad.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—The Lower House of Parliament yesterday passed a resolution expressing the great joy of the House at His Majesty's escape from the danger and deepest indignation at the criminal conspiracy, so fortunately frustrated, was unanimously adopted.

The Social Democrats, also revolutionists, part of the group of toil and others, were absent.

JURY NOT YET FORMED.

Much Delay In Haywood Trial—General Wells to Testify.

Boise, Idaho, May 21.—The number of talesmen to fill the constantly occurring vacancies in the jury that is being formed to try William D. Haywood for the alleged murder of Frank Steunenberg, continues to shrink and it now seems certain that another special venire of 50 or 100 talesmen must be issued early this week.

Looking For Revenge.

Among the witnesses who have arrived here is Gen. Bulkley Wells, who has been a picturesque figure connected with the story of difficulties between the Western Federation of Miners and the mine owners. Gen. Wells is now prominently connected with the Mine Owners' organization. He is a wealthy mine owner himself, and it was at his mine—the Smuggler Union Mine of Telluride, Col., that Arthur Collins, the manager, was killed during the latest trouble in that section.

Gen. Wells, since that time, has been unremitting in his determination to hunt down the men concerned in the assassination of Collins. He was in command of the train which brought Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone from Colorado to Idaho, at the time they were arrested in Denver under extradition warrants.

He will be one of the witnesses for the state.

WHITES AND BLACKS FIGHT.

Two Men May Be Fatally Injured—Charge of Ill Treatment.

St. John, N. B., May 21.—A riot which broke out Sunday night between white and black members of the crew on board the West India liner Olenda resulted in several men being laid out and serious, if not fatal, injuries to two. Brass knuckles, knives and iron bars were freely used.

Trouble had been brewing since the ship left West Indies and the blacks in the forecastle began to get saucy with the whites. About midnight the first officer, chief, second and third engineers went aboard and after the mate had given an order to a negro watchman, the latter called to his companion, who rushed on the officers and would have murdered the second engineer, whom they had down, if the whites in the forecastle had not come to the officers' assistance.

A bloody struggle ensued, with the result that the leaders of the blacks were overpowered and put in irons, but only after one of their number had his face pounded almost to a jelly. He was simply a bleeding mass when taken to the police station yesterday morning.

The blacks charge the officers with ill-treatment, while the charge of assault has been laid against them.

The whole matter will go into the police court.

Two Years For Breaking Jail.

Woodstock, May 21.—Frederick Forbes, who escaped from the local jail on March 12 last, and was captured a few weeks ago in Pontiac, Mich., was yesterday morning sentenced to two years for escaping. Forbes is a Tillsonburg man of good family, and was serving time for theft.

Lad Drowned In Canal.

St. Catharines, May 21.—A lad named George Wedemeyer, son of John Wedemeyer, Decotah street, was drowned in the new canal near the Niagara street bridge, Sunday evening.

His hat blew into the canal and in endeavoring to secure it he fell in.

Released From Jail.

St. John, N. B., May 21.—Fred Goodspeed, one of the Doherty murderers, was released from the penitentiary yesterday after serving five years.

Senator L. O. David, City Clerk of Montreal, is suing La Patrie, for $10,000 damages.

UNDER THE LABOR ACT

Longshoremen Taken Into Custody and Remanded.

Strike at Montreal Has Collapsed—Men Are Returning to Work—Companies Have Abundance of Labor Offered—Federation Take Proceedings Against Strikers—Other Warrants Have Been Issued.

Montreal, May 21.—The longshoremen's strike has collapsed. Yesterday the companies had more men offering than they could give work to, the workers being made up by strikers who wanted to go to work and outsiders.

There are a thousand men at work and it looks as if the whole lot will bow to the inevitable to-day.

As a matter of fact the meeting of strikers called last evening to discuss the situation had to be abandoned owing to a lack of attendance. Over a hundred men returned to work on the Manchester liners, and this appeared to be a signal for a general break up of the strikers.

At eight o'clock this morning there was a meeting of those who had not returned to work, and it is expected that by noon to-day the strikers will be past history.

At noon yesterday warrants were issued by Recorder Weir for the arrest of the following longshoremen: J. Crichton, T. Waterson, H. Cunningham, J. Smith, J. Traill, A. McKenzie, W. Redpath, W. Anson, W. Monagh, J. Rudie, A. Scott, R. Forbes. These men were found and taken to the lockup about 12 o'clock, awaiting arraignment. It is understood that warrants are out for others, who have not yet been arrested.

The proceedings were taken by Messrs. Ferns and Ives, stevedores, through Messrs. Meredith and Holden, the complaint being that the defendants, having been engaged by contract, in March last, were now violating the law governing the relations between masters and servants by quitting work.

The men were allowed out on bail.

FREIGHT HANDLERS QUIT.

Two Thousand Go Out On Strike At Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—Two thousand freight handlers on the docks quit work yesterday morning, demanding an increase of wages from 17 1-2 cents to 20 cents an hour. The freight house of the New York Central was the principal one affected.

It is said that the strike affects all the transportation companies having freight houses along the docks, and that the strike was in the nature of a surprise to many of the leading officials of the freight houses.

It has been known for some time that the men were dissatisfied, but it is said that there was a general belief that all difficulties had been smoothed out, and that there would be no strike. The strikers are what are known as inside men, and are mostly Italians. They are said to be well organized.

Neither the longshoremen nor outside freight handlers are involved in the strike. It is stated that the Anchor Line is not affected, as they began some time ago paying the 20-cent scale.

At the Erie transfer house all of the men did not strike, while others went out reluctantly. The officials there say they do not believe that the strike will continue long.

Horseshoers Now Strike.

Winnipeg, May 21.—City horseshoers to the number of 50 went on strike yesterday for more pay and shorter hours.

BLOWS HIS HEAD OFF.

Retired Lumberman Ends Life In a Horrible Fashion.

St. Stephen, N. B., May 21.—Benjamin Anderson, a wealthy retired lumberman and farmer, committed suicide yesterday.

He had been acting strangely some time, and Sunday told his son he intended to shoot himself. His son talked to his father, who promised to give up such thoughts. Yesterday, however, Anderson took a gun and fired a charge into the side of his head, blowing it completely off the body.

He was about 50 years of age and at one time actively engaged in lumbering business.

ABANDONED BY CREW.

Iron-Laden Steamer Bound for Toronto With Pig Iron.

St. John's, Nfld., May 21.—The crew of the steamer Morena, which went on a reef off Cape Race Saturday abandoned the vessel at sundown Sunday night, her bottom having been beaten out by pounding on the rocks.

The Morena is a total wreck and will break to pieces probably in the first storm. She was a new vessel, bound from Liverpool for Toronto with a cargo of pig iron and stranded during a heavy fog.

REDMOND ANTAGONISTIC.

Will Move Resolution Opposing Irish Bill.

London, May 21.—The correspondent at Dublin of The Morning Post says he understands that at the Irish Nationalist convention next Tuesday John Redmond will move a resolution hostile to Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell's Irish bill. The correspondent adds:

"This will be a conspicuous victory for the priests, against whose local influence over education the bill is secretly aimed."

Lineman's Fall.

Belleville, May 21.—John Munro, foreman of linemen employed by the Trenton Electric and Water Co., was shocked and fell 30 feet yesterday, and was probably fatally hurt. Some seven years ago he met with an accident in a similar way.

Mrs. Geo. Renton, whose husband was killed in the G.T.R. yards at London, has begun suit for $10,000 damages.

SEVEN MINERS KILLED

Burned or Suffocated in Disaster at Engleville Pit.

Fire Breaks Out and Shuts Off Only Exit Offered Them—Swept Across Incline Tunnel—Bodies Recovered After Considerable Trouble—Superintendent Jacobs Was Amongst Those Who Were Killed.

Trinidad, Col., May 21.—Seven miners, including Superintendent Alexander Jacobs, were burned or suffocated Sunday night at the Engleville mine, at Engleville, Col.

The bodies were recovered yesterday. The men went to work Sunday night, and when they did not come out yesterday morning an investigation was started. It was discovered that fire, which broke out in the mine a year ago, suddenly spread and swept across the incline tunnel preventing the men from reaching the outside.

The point where the flames crossed the tunnel is three miles from the opening, and it was necessary to dig a temporary tunnel around to reach the dead bodies.

JAPS' VISIT PAYS.

Orders Amounting to $12,000,000 Placed With U. S. Firms.

New York, May 21.—Simultaneous with the presence of Gen. Kuroki in New York City, comes the announcement that the Tokio Government has placed in this country, mostly through New York City agencies, $12,000,000 in orders for equipment for the South Manchuria Railway.

The line, which traverses 1,500 miles of sparsely settled territory, is to be completed in the next two years, which will be record-breaking time.

To ensure quick delivery, Japan has bought 50,000 tons of rails at the Carnegie mills for $28.50—considerably above the market price. Another order of 13,000 tons was placed at $29.

Other orders are pushed aside to rush the rails to the Japanese. One car concern has received an order for 1,000 freight trucks. The bodies of the cars will be built in Dalny.

Over $2,000,000 has been spent for American locomotives, of which 200 have been sold for the South Manchuria Line. From Dalny to Mukden the traveler will ride in American cars, pulled by Yankee locomotives over United States Steel Trust rails.

Fire Works Exploded.

Newton, Mass., May 21.—One person was killed and four others injured by an explosion in the fire works factory of Masten and Wells at Newton upper falls yesterday.

Cow Testing Associations Are Successful in Peterborough

A Few Comparisons Given as a Result of the First Month's Testing—The Unprofitable Cow Cannot Hide Any Longer—More Associations Are Wanted

The dairy industry of Ontario is receiving a great deal of attention and inspectors are working with their assistants in every part of the province. Mr. N. G. Somerville, of Brockville, is the inspector for the Peterborough district. He is in the city for a couple of days and will visit several of the factories in the neighborhood. He is an enthusiastic worker and is alive to the importance of his work.

At the present time Mr. Somerville is boosting the cow testing associations. He has organized five in Peterborough county and they are all doing good work and he would like to get five or ten more organizations going. He has expressed his willingness to take up the work of testing in any factory where six or more farmers will agree to weigh the milk from the individual cows about three days a month and to keep samples of the milk on days of weighing for testing. He will furnish all interested parties with blank forms for recording the weights and will do all the testing and compiling of reports free of charge. Anyone in the county desirous of taking up the work are requested to correspond with Mr. N. G. Somerville, Brockville, or with Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, Peterborough.

Mr. Somerville is now endeavoring to stir up a little more enthusiasm among the farmers and get a few more organizations going. When this has been accomplished it is likely that Mr. Benuie, of the Guelph Agricultural College, will be given charge of the testing work here.

RESULTS OFF TESTS.

At this time it might be of interest to the farmers to give a few figures obtained from a couple of the associations in the county to show the value of cow testing.

First will be the Keene Association. One herd for the month ending April 25th, averaged 660 lbs of milk per cow per day; average test 3.2, average production of butter fat 21.6.

The highest individual production of any one cow in the herd was 855 lbs. of milk, testing 3.1.

The lowest individual production of any one cow in that herd was 340 lbs of milk, testing 3.3.

The difference between the best and the poorest cow is therefore 515 lbs. of milk, which is over $5.00 per day at the present time. These cows were all treated the same and given the same quantity of feed. They have all been milking about the same length of time so that it is very easy for the farmer to pick out his unprofitable cows.

Another herd in the same association averaged 779 lbs. of milk testing 3.1, with a production of butter fat of 24.6. The highest individual cow gave 1120 lbs. of milk, testing 3.4. The lowest individual cow gave 425 lbs. of milk, testing 3.3. It will be seen here that the cow giving the most milk also gave the best milk, and 695 lbs. more.

SHEARER ASSOCIATION.

The average production for the herd was 605 lbs. of milk, testing 3.0, with butter fat production 18.3.

The highest individual cow gave 755 lbs of milk, testing 3.0.

The lowest individual cow gave 310 lbs. of milk, testing 2.8.

The cow testing associations in Peterborough county are at Warsaw, Pine Grove, Central Smith, Keene and Shearer.

PRIZE LIST FOR TORONTO SHOW

The prize list of the Canadian National Exhibition of Toronto is just out. Many changes are made, making it more convenient for reference by exhibitors. The regulations are changed so that all animals exhibited in the live stock sections must be registered in the Canadian Herd Book registers.

In the horse section the Canadian breeder is put on a fair footing with the importer. The directors have endeavored in every way to protect and encourage Canadian-bred horses. The prize in the breeding classes of the horse section have been increased over $600. Several new classes have been added, especially the one for strings of ten horses, which is expected to be one of the features of this year's exhibit. In the harness, hunter and jumping classes the prize list remains the same as last year, including the King Edward Hotel Cup, which is again being given for the best horse in the running class.

In the speed division the prizes have been increased by $1,000. A new class has been added providing for horses that are not fast enough for the "free-for-all," but that are too speedy for the 2.30 class. The conditions are the same.

In the cattle section A. T. Gordon of Combscauseway, Scotland, has consented to judge the Shorthorns, which is the largest class in this section. The prizes in the Herefords and the Holsteins have been considerably increased.

The general arrangement throughout the prize list this year is alphabetical, so that the finding of any section is made easy. The aggregate amount of the prizes is $39,000, not including the $3,600 given in the speed department. This is the largest purely agricultural prize list on the American Continent.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 82, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

How the Betting is Carried on

The Toronto Star says;

Great curiosity as to the new system of betting was the feature of the day outside of the horses themselves, and the bookies certainly did a roaring business. Many who probably would otherwise have failed to tempt fortune, tried a little whirl just to see how the thing looked. As far as could be learned "the thing worked." Very much in the same old way, only rather better from the bookies' standpoint, for apparently only the difference of importance was that owing to the fact of not being able to be in close touch with one another, as of old the bookies were not quite so sure of how the odds were going. As they naturally kept them on the conservative side, the public got the worst of it.

There was not the slightest difficulty in getting your money up, however, for there were any number of "crews" doing business, a "crew" consisting of five men, one of whom carried a bag, supposed to contain unlimited wealth. He acted as cashier, and paid out the money. Another had a stall station at which the odds were marked. This individual was obliging enough to take the money in, a ticket was handed to the bettor, and an entry made in a big ledger by the bookkeeper of the concern. Another issued tickets in the same old way, though the tickets were of thin paper instead of cardboard.

"How will I know where to find you if I win?" was the constant question."

"Oi, I'll be right here after the race," was the regular reply, some of the bookies supplementing it with the further remark, "Or you can find me at the King Edward, even, if that will suit you," and if there was still any further hesitation, he would add, "In any event, if you have any difficulty just go to Mr. Cavanagh at the booth over there in the corner."

Mr. Cavanagh, with his "bureau of advance information," was the rock foundation upon which the whole edifice appeared to be built, and so far as could be learned, his magic name went every time.

"Cavanagh is all right. You are safe as a church," was continually overheard. Mart. Mahoney, one of Mr. Cavanagh's right-hand men, was in charge of the ring. Some 50 odd book-makers did business on the lawn in the glare of the sun. Each bookmaker had his name conspicuously displayed on his cash bag, on his coat lapel, on his hand slate upon which the odds were displayed, and also on the tickets which bettors received as a receipt for his money.

After the second race the crush around the bookies was simply stifling, although there were not a great many to be paid off, as the guessing appears to have been in most cases wrong, but everyone seemed to think it was time to get busy. Then the extra time which seemed to be required to carry out each transaction with the endless questions of the newcomers, hampered the crowd and there were many who were unable to get the necessary chance to lose their money. The bookies, however did their best, and toiled and sweated in their earnest endeavors to rake in as much as possible, and in all probability most of those left out were the small bettors.

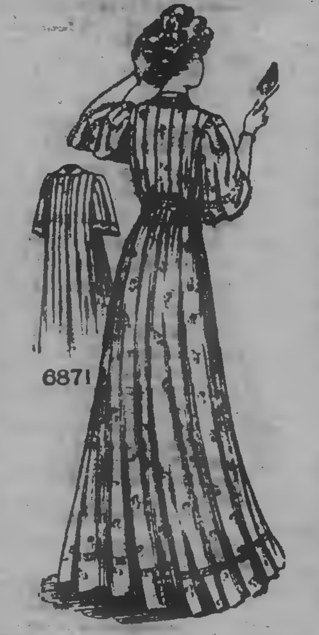
LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



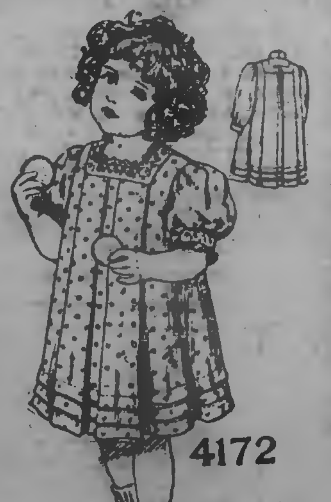
6871.—AN ATTRACTIVE NEGLIGEE.

It is during the warm days that a woman takes keenest delight in her negligees and these are therefore a part of her wardrobe which she does not fail to provide. A very restful and pleasing gown which suggests the kimono in style, is sketched and will prove most charming for the home sewer to fashion. It is box pleated front and back to yoke depth so that plenty of fulness is provided for the skirt portion. The gown falls free from the shoulders and may be slipped on easily for lounging or as a bath robe. The Japanese fabrics are best suited to the making of this gown, but any soft silk or tub fabric would serve. For the medium size 6 1-4 yards of 44 inch goods are needed.

6871.—8 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail



4172.—A CHARMING LITTLE FROCK OF MUCH SIMPLICITY.

For little maids there is no prettier style of dress than that of one piece and a pleasing example is shown in the accompanying sketch. Two box pleats in front and back relieve any tendency to plainness and prove more attractive than gathers or tucks. The tucks near the hem assist the flare and are quite in keeping with the fashion of the day. A square yoke and standing collar may finish the neck or it may be in Dutch square outline as shown. Sleeves in full or short puff length are provided for so that a dressy or plain frock may be realized with this pattern. A tub fabric or light weight cloth may serve as material, of which 2 1-8 yds. 36 inches wide are needed for the medium size.

4172.—Sizes, 1-2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Regulations as to Western Coal Lands

Condition of Government's New Policy of 21 Year Basis

An Ottawa despatch says; The new regulations respecting the disposal of all the Crown's coal mining rights in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and the Yukon, and Dominion land generally, have been made public. The Government's policy now is not to alienate any more coal lands in the west from the possession of the Crown, but to grant twenty-one year leases, at an annual rental of $1 per acre, payable in advance, no applicant being allowed to lease more than 2,560 acres. The tracts leased must be contiguous. The lessee may be permitted to purchase at $10 an acre whatever area of the available surface rights is granted in the lease. He must begin operations within one year from the date of his being notified to do so, and cannot assign his rights without leave of the Minister. Actual settlers shall be entitled to buy sufficient coal for their needs at the pit's mouth, at a price not to exceed $1.75 a ton, but not for barter or sale.

Canadian Politicians in Ancient Rome

Eternal City is Now the Mecca of Many Statesmen

Facetious in tone, a letter which appeared in the last issue of Le Nationaliste, describes Rome as now being the Mecca of Canadian politicians, even going to the length of asserting that the Hon. Mr. Fielding is to go there to make amends for his past position relative to school matters.

The letter, which is dated from Quebec, and which has the appearance of having been indited by Mr. Asselin himself, begins by saying that the visit to Rome, of Premier Gouin was for the purpose of conferring with Vatican authorities about a proposed new publication presently to appear in the city of Quebec. The paper will come out under the auspices of the recently formed society in the Ancient Capital called the Catholic Social Action, which, being under the distinguished patronage of the Archbishop of Quebec, has created a great deal of interest amongst the politicians of the province. The new association will, it is said, wage war against "stupid partizanship," whatever that means, and will also denounce electoral corruption in all its forms.

Le Nationaliste says that the Premier of Quebec went to Rome to oppose the founding of such a newspaper, and the same article announces that the Papal Secretary of State has experienced grave doubts as to the sincerity of Canadian public men.

"Rome," says the same letter, "is at present the Mecca of Canadian politicians. Sir Wilfrid will repair there before he returns to Canada, and he will also be joined in the Eternal City by Hon. Mr. Fielding. One does not have to be exceedingly far-seeing to guess the mission of Hon. Mr. Fielding to the Holy See. The Finance Minister has, by his conduct in the Manitoba school question, strongly alienated the sympathies of the Roman Catholic clergy, but as Sir Wilfrid wants to make him his successor, the present trip to Rome is quite in order.

"As a matter of fact our present day Radicals can, on the question of playing with the influence of the clericals, give pointers to Sir Hector Langevin in his most palmy days. Mr. Fielding will, however, have to go to Rome several times before he is able to carry off the prize, because Hon. Mr. Aylesworth is on his track. It has been noticed since the Minister of Justice entered Parliament that he has been paying court to the French-Canadian members. In the first place he passed a law abolishing the French version of the statutes, and then he proceeded to No. "16" to smoke French tobacco with Mr. Eloi Archambault. In fact he finds Mr. Charles Gauvreau's speeches on the lighting of lighthouses admirable, and never fails to ask Dr. Bourbonnais, the member for Soulanges, if there are always a lot of children coming into the world in his county."

After alluding to other mannerisms of the present Minister of Justice, the Nationaliste writer declares that of all the Ministers of the present Cabinet, the only one acceptable to the French-Canadians for Prime Minister would be Hon. Sydney Fisher, whom he describes as an able and honest administrator, and a much more sagacious politician than would have ever been supposed. As a pointer, the writer nominates Hon. Mr. Fisher on the spot as leader of the party and successor to Sir Wilfrid and expresses surprise that the French members never thought of him before.

THIS CHILD IS A MENTAL WONDER

New York, May 20.—The Herald has received the following despatch from St. Francisville, Ill.:—At the age of three years and three months Charles Ross Buchanan, son of a farmer at St. Francisville, reads books that the majority of children do not read until ten years older.

"I have just finished reading Shakespeare's "As You Like It," but I like Charles Dickens much better," said the youngster today. "The railroad business appeals to me. The railroad monopolies will soon control almost everything."

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 20.—(Special.)—Cable advices from Liverpool and London on Canadian cattle were stronger and prices show a slight advance over last week's, with sales at 12¼c to 12½c. Exports for last week were 2263 cattle. Longshoremen's strike delaying vessels and in consequence the demand for space is quiet. At the Montreal stock yards' west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 18 were 4682 cattle, 92 sheep and lambs, 2846 hogs and 1654 calves, while the offerings to-day for local consumption were 1200 cattle, 1085 hogs and 100 calves. Choice beeves sold at 5½c to 5¾c; good at 5c to 5¼c; fair, at 4½c to 4¾c; and lower grades at 3½c to 4¼c per lb. The firmer feeling which prevailed in the market for hogs early last week has since developed into strength and prices to-day advanced 15c to 25c per cwt. This is to some extent due to the continued strong and encouraging advices from European sources on Canadian bacon, which on Saturday noted a further advance in prices of 2c to 4c per cwt., which tended to increase the demand for hogs this morning, and the competition between buyers for supplies was keener than it has been for some weeks past, consequently an active trade was done and sales of selected lots were made at $7.25 to $7.40 per cwt., weighed off the cars. The market for sheep and lambs was quiet, owing to the continued small supplies coming forward, for which the demand is keen from the leading butchers and prices are firmly maintained, with sales of sheep at 5½c to 6c, and lambs, at 6½c to 7c per lb. A few spring lambs were on the market, which sold at $4 to $6 each. Receipts of calves are decreasing some, but supplies are still ample to fill all requirements and a fair trade was done at prices ranging from $5 to $6 each, as to size and quality.

House Problem in Peterborough

And Other Cities is Demanding Instant Attention

"More houses for the laborer and the artizan," is one cry that comes from almost every city and town in Ontario says a Toronto paper. The urban population of Ontario was never so great as it is to-day. While the West has drained the rural communities of many thousands of its best young men and women, the cities and towns grow steadily. The bond of blood and sentiment between the east and the west has strengthened old business relationships and created new ones. Spurred on by a laudable ambition, cities and towns have striven to enlarge existing industries and to bring others into being. The Province felt the pulsation of expanding business. Prosperous people erected new houses for themselves, and contractors erected new houses to sell to prosperous people. Only the welfare of the laborer, clerk, artizan and small-salaried employee has been overlooked.

It is the fly in that ointment and in many respects a disastrous circumstance Without houses for workingmen the labor supply became scarce and industrial development was to a great extent hampered. If causes and effects were traced, the lack of housing accommodation for labor would be found to account for the insufficient rolling stock on the railroads of Canada, the consequences of which have been so serious.

Real estate men, excepting a very few—and they are the leaders—have given but little attention to the renting of cheap houses. While the country is riding on the crest of a wave of prosperity, it is the sales that pay the real estate agent best, and he bends his energies in that direction for results.

Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Berlin, Galt, Stratford, Peterborough, Owen Sound, Guelph, Woodstock—in fact, almost every industrial and shipping centre of Ontario—need more homes of the $1500 type for workmen. It is one of the great problems that must be faced if people are to live in hygenic surroundings, and a supply of competent labor is to be assured.

MAY'S MANNER IS VERY COOL

Sent Flurry of Snow for Variety Yesterday

Snow in these parts on May 20th is somewhat of a rarity, but any old kind of weather can be expected this season and no one was surprised when there was a slight fall of "the beautiful" yesterday afternoon. True, there wasn't much snow fell, but it was snow all the same and don't you forget it. There was a slight flurry about 5.30 o'clock and the flakes came drifting down for about ten minutes. There was not enough fell to make sleighing however, and wheeling is still general.

Serious Charge Against a Father

Jos. Young Arraigned in Police Court on Complaint of His Daughter

Jos. Young, who resides at Auburn, appeared in police court this morning before His Worship Magistrate Dumble, charged with having made threats to have revenge on his daughter, Mary Young. He pleaded not guilty, but his daughter's story was told in such a truthful manner that there seemed to be no doubt as to his committing the deed he was charged with. He was convicted and sentenced to six months in the county gaol, or he will be allowed his freedom on two sureties being bound over that he will keep the peace. Young is an old grey-haired man and it is past believing that a father would be guilty of such an offence towards his child. Evidence was given by Frank Scott, and by the daughter of the accused.

The prisoner had no remarks to make. He claimed it was all lies, that his daughter had told. His Worship then imposed the above mentioned sentence.

Lightning Struck a Tree in Douro

And Shattered it into Splinters —Severe Storm

During the thunderstorm on Saturday lightning struck a large tree on the farm of Mr. Wm. Connors, who resides about half a mile from Douro post office, and shattered it to splinters. This tree was not far from the farm house and there was a loud shock when the lightning struck. The trunk of the tree was shattered into matchwood.

The storm was very severe in Douro, and the farmers feel satisfied that more damage was not done.

The Ladies Return Sincere Thanks

To Those Who Contributed Towards Muskoka Hospital Scheme

The ladies who have in charge the collection of old rubber, wish to thank the school children, who so generously helped them to collect. Owing to recent bereavement in Mr. Robert Neills' family, and his absence from the city for a day or two, the sale of the collection will be left over until the latter part of the week. Mr. Neill has kindly offered to take charge of the sale of the collection.

This delay will afford an opportunity to anyone, who has not contributed to do so. Any parcel left at the Metropolitan grocery will be added to the already large collection. Several donations of money for the Free Consumptive Hospital have been handed in, some from the schools. A list of the donors will be published, when the results of the sale are known.

Development of the South End ; New Pork Store to be Erected

Rumour States That the Geo. Matthews Co. Has Purchased Lot at the Corner of Sherbrooke and Park Streets and Will Build This Year.

The growth and development of the south end of the city, and especially the south western quarter, knows no limit. There are scores of new dwellings, including terraces, double houses, small single houses, and large single houses. It seems that the people all want to go south and west. This is no doubt due to the presence of most of the big factories in that neighborhood. Then land is reasonably cheap, and the soil is the very finest for a garden or lawn, and with a large majority of people that is a consideration. There is only one advantage to the south end, and that is the low grade and presence of so much water, which gets into the cellars. This, however, is being overcome by the extensions to the sewer system.

Not only are dwellings being erected in the south end, but stores are cropping up all over. Several new ones have been built during the past year or two, and according to rumor another is to be built this year. It was stated on the street yesterday, that Mr. T. F. Matthews had purchased the vacant lot at the north-west corner of Park and Sherbrooke streets, for the purpose of erecting a branch of the Geo. Matthews Co.'s retail pork stores.

The Matthews Co. are now operating two stores on George street, and they are all doing a big business. With the increase in the population of the southwest part of the city, the business of the retail pork and cooked meats is also increasing, and the company intend to get into the very heart of this trade, and thus save the people the long trip up town. It is understood that the new store will be furnished with all the modern sanitary improvements and conveniences for keeping, displaying and serving the meats and the people of the south end may rest assured that they will get the very best that can be produced.

Train Was Snow-Bound for Several Days in the West

Mr. Cecil Succee, Who Left Peterborough in Charge of a Carload of Settlers' Effects on March 19th, Has Returned From the West and Tells of Conditions There.

Mr. Cecil Succee, who left about two months ago in charge of a carload of settlers effects for Rosthern, Sask., returned to the city last Friday and will remain here, while his father, Mr. Jos. Succee and the other members of the family will reside in Rosthern. Mr. Jos. Succee is so optimistic over the prospects of the west that he has taken up half a section of land in the vicinity of Rosthern.

Mr. C. Succee left here on March 19th, and did not reach his destination for 24 days. They were snowbound for several days and during that time they put up with many trying hardships. They were blocked fully three weeks over the time it should have taken to go. Having only provided for a week's journey both people and cattle had to eat very sparingly of what they had.

In speaking of the seeding operations Mr. Succee said they were very backward in Saskatchewan. Very little seeding had been done as yet It is fully six weeks later than other seasons. Mr. Succee, jr., said that his father was going to commence seeding on his land next Thursday. On the return journey the snow was still be seen lying all along the tracks. In Daine, Sask., where Mr. Succee stopped on his way home there was six inches of snow fall last Wednesday. The crops wil be exceedingly late this year.

Rosthern is a thriving, busy little town and is going ahead in leaps and bounds. Mr. Cecil Succee prefers to live in Ontario, but the rest of the family are delighted with western life and intend to reside there in future.

Petition for the Release of Alex Sharpe From Kingston

He Was Committed to the Penitentiary in 1901 for Shooting the Man Who Stole His Wife--He is Nearly Seventy Years of Age--Has Nine Years to Serve Yet.

The following appeal explains itself and would seem worthy of support. ;

To the Citizens of the City and County of Peterborough;

In the interest of Alex. Sharpe, who since March, 1901, is serving a fifteen years' sentence in the Kingston penitentiary, I am appealing for assistance in having him pardoned

The facts of the lamentable incident will be remembered by a great many. His wife was enticed, by threats and persuasion, to leave him and live with another man.

The prisoner, frantic with grief searched widely the countryside, before he found his wife's whereabouts. He also sought aid of the Chief Constable of the County, as well as legal advice, thinking the law offered him some protection, but of course found that the only recourse was a civil suit for damages against a man who was worthless.

At last, learning the abode of his wife, he went to the place, where he discovered her, and the deceased, sitting close together in the kitchen. Not knowing what he was doing, and with a sudden rush of madness, he fired his rifle and killed the man. The man who was shot, everyone admits, had no enviable reputation. He was twenty years younger than the prisoner, and had been known to have made frequent threats against him.

The evidence of all at the trial, showed that Sharpe was always a most kindly disposed man, who would not willingly hurt anyone, and who had never been before the courts for any offence, or even been charged with any.

For over six years he has suffered imprisonment. He is now nearly seventy years of age, his right leg was amputated, and he stands probably very near his grave. I saw him and spoke to him the other day at the penitentiary ,and he most pitifully requested me to help him, and to get others to help him, obtain his liberty, so that he might be permitted to spend the remaining time of his life as a free man. His son has promised to look after him. While in no way trying to belittle the crime, yet I submit that regard and consideration must be given to the circumstances which led to the offence. His domestic life and happiness were ruined, his wife, and through her, he and his family, disgraced.

Fifteen years imprisonment for a man advanced in years, means much more than the mere period of time would indicate. More than six years imprisonment has been served, and I think the time has come when one may justly do what one can to secure this aged man his liberty, for what must be the short remainder of his life. The chaplain and other prison officials tell me that Sharpe is an exemplary prisoner, and they all expressed the hope that he would be pardoned.

A petition to the Minister of Justice on behalf of this man may be signed at the office of Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr. Those who live in the country district, can receive, upon application, blank forms for circulation and signature.

I appeal to our citizens to aid in this effort to procure liberty for Alex. Sharpe. "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

Faithfully yours,
E. A. LANGFELDT,
St. Luke's Rectory, Peterborough.

It will be remembered that Sharpe lived in Methuen township, and the murder was committed in the township of Belmont. The prisoner was tried in the city before the late Judge Lount, and although the jury brought in a recommendation of mercy, His Lordship thought a severe penalty was necessary. The defence was looked after by Mr. F. D. Kerr, of Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr

Peterborough Will Get No Free Mail Delivery This Year

Despatches From Ottawa Have Never Included This City—Much Smaller Places Will Get it--Arrangements Being Made.

There is no free delivery of the mails for Peterborough. This city is evidently not large enough nor busy enough, and probably the Government of the Dominion has to contribute too much already for that very inconvenient, old-fashioned and unattractive post office building. In spite of the fact that the public has been assured by local politicians that Peterborough was included in the list of cities for free delivery not one despatch from Ottawa has ever mentioned this city, although several smaller cities are included.

The latest despatch is as follows;

Ottawa, May 20. — Arrangements are being made for the establishment of the free postal delivery system in a number of Canadian cities which have never enjoyed that great postal convenience. Hon. Mr. Lemieux intimated some time ago that free delivery would be given in all cities of 12,000 population, where the annual postal revenue is $20,000 or more. It is understood that the revenue rule will be not too rigidly adhered to in granting delivery, as the revenue of most of the offices is growing very fast.

The list of cities in which the free delivery system will be established has not been made up yet, but a beginning is to be made in Windsor, Stratford, Sherbooke, Guelph, Charlottetown, Edmonton, and Calgary.

Weather is Hard on the Farmers

Vegetable Growth Greatly Retarded by Cold Winds and Frost

Advices from the country today state that the cold weather is having a most detrimental effect on the crops There was a slight frost last night and while it did some damage, those who are in a position to know state that the cold winds which have been so frequent of late are proving more of a drawback than the touches of frost. When the weather is as cold as it is at present, there is practically no growth. The ground is cold and the cold winds, especially at night, have a damaging effect on the young and tender shoots of grain.

Mr Chas. Kitney, market gardener, informed the Review today, that the cold weather was having a most injurious effect on vegetable growth. Everything will be later than in former years, many lines being a month behind the usual time. Mr. Kitney said that no appreciable damage was done by the unusually severe cold last night.

The Review communicated with several points in the country around and was informed that the cold weather was having a very detrimental effect in connection with farming operations.

NEW CROSSINGS WERE STARTED

The engineering department has started men to work on two new crossings at the corner of Water and Simcoe streets. One crossing Water street from the Bank of Montreal to the city buildings, and the other crosses Simcoe street from the bank to the north side. These are the first concrete crossings to be started this year, but from now on this branch of the work will be pushed forward. Nearly all the city's work is backward this year on account of the weather and the teamsters' strike

SNOW STORM IN BUCKHORN

Several Inches of the Beautiful Covered the Ground This Morning

A telephone message from Buckhorn this morning conveyed the news of a heavy snow storm there last night. For several hours the snow fell heavily, and this morning the ground was covered with a white blanket several inches thick. About five o'clock last night, a few flakes fell in the city, and it was so cold that many feared a storm, but it cleared away and the worst was a heavy frost. Mr. Jas. Storey is in Buckhorn on business, and he telephoned Mr. R. H. Leary this morning about the snow storm.

Canada Will Not Handle Second Class Mail Matter by Express

Special to the Review.

Washington, May 21.—The Government of Canada has notified the Post Office Department that it will be impossible for the Canada Postal Department to handle second-class mail matter sent to that country from the United States, by their express or freight and mailed there. The American second-class rate is lower than the second-class rate of that country.

Postmaster-General Meyer explained today that, as soon as a special case of refusal on the part of the Canadian Government to handle Canadian second-class is called to his attention, he will be forced into circumstances to issue an order that Canadian publications in this country cannot be handled at the second-class rate.

Those who gave them were Mrs. Lewis and Miss Crafts, and the much valuable information contained in the papers proved very helpful. Poison From a Tin of Tomatoes

Ex-Ald. W. T. Stewart and Three Others Suffered

Ex-Ald Wm. T. Stewart, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Walter Stewart and Miss Marion Killmaster were made exceedingly ill from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, the result of eating canned tomatoes for luncheon on Saturday at Ex-Ald. Stewart's residence, says the Toronto Star.

Immediately after luncheon Mr. Stewart left to attend the funeral of the late Ald. Wilson, out by the time he arrived at the house on Gerrard street he was so ill that he immediately started for home, feeling deadly sick. He was seized on the car with a severe attack of vomiting, which fortunately relieved him considerably.

Mrs. William Stewart and Miss Killmaster became so ill immediately after luncheon that they took to their beds. Mrs. Walter Stewart was not quite so bad at first, and went down town, but became seriously ill while in a store, and fainted while waiting for a car. She was unconscious for some time, and was removed to her home, but after a time recovered. Last night all were reported out of danger.

Unearthed Coffin in Central Park

A few days ago whilst Mr. Jos. Ryder, who is employed at the new armouries, was digging, he came across a coffin. This is the first one that has been found either on the sites of the new collegiate or armouries. Heretofore bones have usually been found lying in the earth, but the coffins had decayed. This one was in good state of preservation, but of course it was not of the style and finish of the ones that are used at the present time. It was of rougher design and resembled more the rough box which is now used in which to place the casket. Mr. Ryder notified Mr. McFadden, the undertaker, soon after his discovery and the contents of the box were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery. The coffin was so firmly placed in the ground that it wasn't removed and only the remains of its occupant were taken away.

Safest Medicine for Women's Complaints

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.

Most cases of female trouble start when the bowels become inactive—the kidneys strained—and the skin not cared for. Poisons, which should leave the system by these organs, are taken up by the blood and inflame the delicate female organs.

Fruit-a-tives

remove the CAUSE of these diseases. "Fruit-a-tives" sweeten the stomach—make the bowels move regularly every day — strengthen the kidneys—improve the action of the skin—and thus purify the blood.

"Fruit-a-tives" take away those distressing headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains, and make women well and strong. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices, intensified, with tonics and antiseptics added. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all druggists'—or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"PLAY THE GAME"

On the coffin of the late Dr. W. H. Drummond, the widely known and beloved Canadian poet, who died recently, were the words, "Play the Game." Dr. J. W. T. Patton, writes as follows to the Montreal Star from Truro, N.B.;

Accompanying is a copy of "Play the Game," by Henry Newbolt. The poem I believe, was a favorite one of the late Dr. Drummond. Until I saw the poem in the last (May) number of the Educational Review, published in St. John, N.B., I was not familiar with the name of the author—Henry Newbolt.

PLAY THE GAME

There's a breathless hush in the close tonight—
Ten to one and the match to win—
A bumping pitch and a blinding light
An hour to play and the last man in.
And it is not for the sake of a ribboned coat,
Or the selfish hope of a season's fame,
But his captain's hand on his shoulder smote—
"Play up, play up! and play the game!"

The sand of the desert is sodden red
Red with the wreck of the square that broke—
The Gatling's jammed and the colonel dead,
And the regiment blind with dust and smoke.
The river of Death has brimmed its banks,
And England's far, and Honor a name;
But the voice of a schoolboy rallies the ranks;
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

This is the word that year by year,
While in her place the school is set;
Every one of her sons must hear,
And none that hear it dare forget.
This they all with joyful mind,
Bear through life like a torch in flame,
And falling fling to the host behind;
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

—Henry Newbolt.

Drink Creates a New Tuberculosis

Paris, May 19.— Prof Lancereaux, a member of the Academy of Medicine, and one of the greatest authorities in France on Alcoholism, declares that the abuse of spirituous liquors is responsible for a new variety of tuberculosis.

"This is an undeniable fact," says Prof. Lancereux, "and whereas a century ago it was universally recognized that tuberculosis began at the left top and in the front part of the lung, it is now quite the contrary in a majority of cases. Manmy legislative measures have been taken to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, but the only efficacious one would be to check the march of alcoholism."

In connection with this Prof. Herthalemy, a professor of the Sorbonne, has gathered statistics showing that the number of wine shops in France has increased since 1880 from 355,000 to 475,000 and the amount of alcohol consumed has proportionately increased from 1,500,000 hectoliters to 3,600,000. Prof. Berthelemy considers that a direct outcome of this was the increase in the number of insane from 47,000 in 1880 to 70,000 ten years later, the increase of suicides from 6,400 to 9,000 and the increase of murders from 160 to 300.

British Officer Struck by Stone

While Standing in a Doorway of a Montreal Hotel

A Montreal despatch says; A carter by the name of Mederic Cadorette was arraigned today before Magistrate Lafontaine to answer a charge of aggravated assault. Cadorette pleaded not guilty to the accusation and was remanded until next Wednesday. The complainant, a lieutenant in the British army, alleges that, while standing with a few soldiers at the door of the Place Viger Hotel, he was struck on the head by a stone, inflicting a nasty wound. The soldiers, having noticed who had thrown the stone, gave chase and after a lively run of a couple of blocks, they managed to catch Cadorette.

Constable Drothers, who was in the vicinity, took the man in charge Cadorette was locked up in the central police station cells. The complainant stated that he could not explain the reason of the assault, as the accused was entirely unknown to him.

Sues for Wife's Burial at Sea

Chicago Doctor Wants $250,000 From Company

New York, May 19.—Dr. Chalmers Prentice, of Chicago, announced to the press last night that he had instituted suit against the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, demanding damages in the sum of $250,000 because the master of the Koenigen Louise, of that line, caused the burial at sea of the body of the plaintiff's wife. The papers in the case, Dr. Prentice said, had been served on the agents of the steamship company.

Mrs. Prentice, who was in ill health was a passenger, homeward bound from Naples, in the Koenigen Louise when she was stricken with a fatal illness and died on April 27. Against the advice of her daughter, who accompanied her the body of Mrs. Prentice was buried at sea. Later the captain explained that such immediate disposition of the body was imperative because of sanitary reasons.

Much Farm Help Needed in Ontario

Official States That Eighteen Hundred Men are Wanted in the Province

At the Ontario Government's immigration quarters, Toronto, on Saturday, there was scarcely a new comer in sight. The present week has been a very great one so far as arrivals are concerned.

The latest party to put in an appearance, was one comprising fifty Italians, who came over on the Sicilian. They were looked after by Prof. Sutro, and were almost immediately distributed to various points where such labor is required.

A contingent of 158 for Toronto and 26 for the west, ex the SS. Victorian, left Quebec at an early hour Saturday morning on a special train and have arrived in the city.

There has been no difficulty whatever in getting work for any of the immigrants. Applications for farm hands are coming in so fast that notwithstanding the hundreds that have been placed during the last two months, there still remain fully 1800 requests to be filled.

So keen has been the competition for farm hands that not a few of the immigrants who have hired with one farmer and received their ticket, later on have changed their allegiance and gone with another as a result of offers of a higher rate of wages.

Mr. H. J. Tutt, the government's immigration officer, says that the quality of the immigration this year is much superior to that of last.

Russian Made an Attempt for Freedom in a Barrel of Krout

How Leader of Fighting Organization Left Russia—Fastened in by His Fellows—Provided With a Revolver and Loaf of Bread and Ether in Case He Could Not Breathe.

Gregory Gershuni, first leader of the "fighting organization," of the Russian Social Revolutionary Party, has for some time been in America. How he escaped from exile and imprisonment to which his beliefs condemned him, makes an interesting serio-comic tale. It is taken from the New York "Charities and Commons," and is the story of an interview with the intrepid agitator.

The prison was fast, he tells you with his quick gestures, so fast that the prisoners were left by themselves in the strong room, where they were kept at work on provisions for the garrison. Opposite were the houses where the officials lived, and the storehouse to which the prisoners carried the provisions under guard. Everything that passed was examined by the officials, but a chance in the barrels of sauerkraut filled from cabbages cut up in the prison room. When the day of the trial came, Gershuni doubled up in a cask and his fellows fastened in above him a false head or partition fashioned from leather found in the workroom. It was crude, but it kept up most of the cabbage, and trickle that they filled into the barrels brim. Two rubber tubes had been smuggled into them, and these they fixed to two breathing holes inside the bottom of the barrel. Gershuni had a revolver, a little bread, and a little ether in case he could not breathe. And, yes, another weapon of defence. The keepers had a bad habit of examining barrels by running their sabres through them. Here was a danger—but how to be met? By an iron sauce pan jammed down over the ears. As he tells the story Gershuni conveys inimitably the patriotic discomfort of his position. Did ever adventurer set forth for his cause in such wise—with a sauerkraut barricade, with a saucepan helmet, curled up like a seedling in a cask?

What followed was rather indistinct to him. Whether from lack of air or the discomfort of his position his head was dull and full, and he could bear little or nothing. Things moved slowly there in the barrel. He knew that his fellow prisoners had selected the strongest of them to handle it, to place it on the waggon, with a little block under the edge to let the air in; thence to be taken to the storage building, escorted by the guard. "What have you?" "A barrel of sauerkraut" — they had practiced how they would say it.

They feared new dangers would be in waiting there—not the least of them the rampant appetities of the officers for fresh sauerkraut. As a precaution, the prison workers were to urge that they lower the barrel through to the sub-cellar, where it was colder for the sauerkraut. They were allowed to do this, but in mid-air the ropes cracked and the barrel turned. Other than to add quick pains to the misery of the man inside no damage was done, and he was rolled at length on the floor of the sub-cellar. Even then there was an interminable interval before the last foot had shuffled out and the key turned. With his knife Gershuni slit the leather partition was doused with sauerkraut, an allopathic mess provocative of eternal dyspepsia. Down it came over his saucepan and into his eyes, and mouth and neck. Then he felt the wrench of a stout pair of hands the barrel head gave way, and his nose was in free air again.

His rescuer was one of the revolutionists who had been planning the escape from without the prison and who had dug a narrow tunnel from the courtyard, back of the storage house to the sub-cellar. The two of them crawled into the tunnel and waited for a signal. It was a long wait. They thought twice that they were discovered. All of the officers houses faced the court. Some children were playing in the yard. "Catch him, catch him," they cried, and a dog came running to the mouth of the tunnel. Gershuni had once read, that if you fix your eyes steadily enough on an animal, he will turn and go. This he tried. The dog stopped and looked, and then with an air of "It's none of my business," trotted off. Later a solider came with two buckets of water. He was sure to have seen them, when, of a sudden, he turned his back squarely on the opening and went about his business.—"Not very polite, you may say, but I thought it the height of courtesy."

The signal came; by skirting the houses the two men reached the outside of the village, and across some rough hills to where a horse and waggon were in waiting for them. Gershuni had had a razor and in the sub-cellar had shaved his beard and changed his clothes. He was a workingman now instead of a prisoner. They drove for two days and two nights without a stop, reaching Manchuria, and thereafter he went on in the guise of a Russian tramp, directed by friends of the revolution at each point to the man to look for at the next stopping place. When you ask for more particulars as to his long flight to the coast, and how he reached Japan, you get a shrug of the shoulders and a terse "They are my friends." Nagaski, Tokio, Yokohama, Honolulu, and San Francisco, December 5. Since then Gershuni has been addressing Yiddish and Russian mass meetings in Chicago, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

Peterborough Orange Lodges To Celebrate at Millbrook

The Orange Lodges in Peterborough, will this year, celebrate the "glorious twelfth," at Millbrook. A monster demonstration is being held there and arrangements are being made to accommodate a great gathering of the followers of William. All the lodges in the Peterborough district will celebrate at Millbrook, and Peterborough city will likely send a larger contingent this year, than to any celebration in previous years. A new Orange lodge has been organized in this city, since last 12th of July, and they will add strength to the orange bedecked host that will go forth to join in the festivities to keep green the memory of the Prince of Orange.

The Peterborough lodges decided some time ago, to celebrate at Millbrook, and arrangements are already being made for the event. The only other celebration in this district will be at Havelock, where the lodges from the east, and also those from the north, Dummer, Asphodel, and the other townships, will celebrate. Havelock also expects a big crowd and is preparing accordingly.

Five New Members Will Soon be Added to Band

Local Corps of Salvation Army Now Has One of the Best Bands in Canada—More Musicians Coming.

In the Salvation Army band Peterborough has one of the best musical organizations of its kind in Canada. It is generally conceded that outside of Montreal and Toronto there are no Army bands in the Dominion that are equal to the local organization. The Salvation Army band in Peterborough has been constantly improving and this spring is playing better than ever before. Citizens are heard daily to comment upon the excellence of the band, and the fact that the music furnished is of a high order is evidenced by the crowds that congregate wherever the band plays in the open air. A great improvement in tone has been noticeable lately, and Bandmaster Greene deserves much credit for the progress that has been made by this popular musical body. The bandsmen are also most faithful in their duty, and it is seldom that the band appears on the street with less than thirty musicians in line. The present strength of the band is about thirty-five.

It will be pleasing news to the public of Peterborough to learn that the strength of the band will shortly be increased to forty. Five new instruments are being added, and the membership will be increased by a similar number of bandsmen. They are coming out from England, and will arrive here shortly. Their additions will add greatly to the band and better music than ever can be expected before the summer is over.

New Steamer Otonabee is Almost Ready to Launch

The new steamer "Otonabee" will most likely be launched to-morrow evening so says Mr. Breen, who has charge of the rebuilding of the boat. The boiler for the steamer is at the C.P.R. siding. The boat is now ready for the machinery and the reason for launching it before it is finished is to take it over to the Peterborough wharf to have the boiler placed in it. The steamer "Water Lily" will tow her over and it will likely remain at the Peterborough wharf for a day and then be brought back and the work continued. Mr. Breen will superintend the installation of the machinery. There will be no ceremony in connection with the launching of the "Otonabee." The Navigation Co. consider they already are very late with the completion of the boat and all formalities will have to be dispensed with.

Mr. Breen says that it will be completed by the first of the month. The lower deck is about completed, but the promenade deck and the hurricane deck have both yet to be built.

The "Otonabee" when completed will be the finest and most commodious steamer that plies the waters around this city. She is 115 1-2 feet in length and 25 1-2 in width. The depth of the hold is 5 feet 6 inches. It will be fitted with all the latest improvements.

This new and up-to-date steamer has already been chartered for several excursions both on the upper as well as the lower waters.

Pretty Wives for Western Bachelors

Twenty Young English Women Sail for Canada

A Montreal despatch says;—Among the first and second class passengers landed this week at Montreal were quite a number of young ladies, who, in groups were bound for the Northwest. It may be remembered that some years ago Miss Flora Shaw, the special correspondent of The London Times who was commissioned to write a series of articles descriptive of the life of Great Britain's colonies, recommended with respect to our Northwest, that the chief need was the refining influence of educated women. "We have an over-abundance of women in the old country," Miss Shaw remarked, "and especially have we an excess of single women of education and refinment, and these are the sort of women who should go to the Northwest to keep house, in the first instance, for her brother, and in the second to become the wife of some man who is living alone and who needs, as the whole Northwest needs, the delicate touch of a woman, especially a gentlewoman."

The hint has been taken, and number of such women have come out. The party, which went forward this week numbered twenty. They were nominally in charge of a middle-aged lady who acted as a chaperon, although they appeared quite self-contained and seemed to need very little protection.

An Indication of City's Progress

Old High Wooden Platform on Water St. Opposite Goose Island to be Replaced by Concrete Walk

The residents on the west side of Water street have petitioned for a granolithic walk from Dublin to Antrim streets, to be built outside the tree line. This will be necessary to conform with the walk south of Dublin street and north of Antrim. It means that the present high board walk on the west side, opposite the goose pond, is soon to be replaced, and with it a rather historic structure will disappear. The land west of Water street, and on the east of George street, where there was a big gully, was a commons, or uneven, open space for years. It was owned by the late T. G. Hazlitt, but the population of Peterborough was not growing fast enough, neither were houses so scarce, that it was necessary to build on the property in order to have centrally located homes. Edinburgh street only ran to George, and three years ago there was not a house on the vacant lots mentioned. Messrs. Ruth and Middleton bought the land and started the work of building houses. Others followed their good example and a fine class of dwellings now adorns this hitherto unattractive and neglected spot. The time came when the property was needed for residential purposes and this is now one of Peterborough's rapidly growing spots. Edinburgh street has been opened through to Water, and a new, permanent sidewalk is to be built on the west side of Water street to replace the present wooden one, which was erected on posts.

SOME REMINISCENCES.

"Yes," remarked Major William Langford today, when asked about the old sidewalk, "I was chairman of the Board of Works when it was built twenty-two years ago. Water street at this point—opposite Goose Island— which island, by the way, has disappeared, since the construction of the new concrete dam by the Peterborough Light & Power Co., was very low and, for some years, previous it was impossible to continue up the street with a heavy vehicle, owing to the soft and marshy nature of the ground, the water coming across the street at one time, before the walk was built. Vehicles used to then drive on the lots behind the Menzies school—now built up with houses,—and made a detour across the property of Mr. Hazlitt—in order to continue up Water-st. Well! to make a long story short as already stated, the present board walk was built 22 years ago. There was then a big depression on Water street, opposite Goose Island, and the council wanted me, as chairman of the Board of Works, to build the walk down on the ground and have a slanting descent to get down to it. I was for building it on cedar posts, and keeping it level with the street, south and north of this point. The council made an appropriation and told me that I could carry out my own ideas as to construction, providing that I did not exceed the allowance made to me as chairman of the Board. I constructed the walk on cedar posts, within the amount given me, and of late years the roadway was gradually elevated up to the level of the walk, by filling in with ashes and scrapings of one kind and another. Two years after the sidewalk was built, a crib-work was made along the east side of Water street, and for the past few years the street has been gradually widened and raised, until now it is pretty near level with the plank platform. Where there was formerly a dip or depression of several feet, there is at present practically a level roadbed. I think there will be plenty of room for the sidewalk outside the tree line while, by the use of ashes and street scrapings, the roadway can be further widened. Yes, The present improvements on the former vacant property opposite Goose Island, and the opening of Edinburgh street, through to Water street are indications of the rapid growth, development and improvement of the city of late years.

A New York publishing house has sent out this rather one-sided notice to its Canadian subscribers:—

"Kindly note the extra charge of 85 cents per year for postage. This is in excess of what you have heretofore paid, and represents the exact additional amount that we must pay the Canadian Government on and after May 8th, 1907, on each Canadian subscription. Heretofore, under the reciprocal arrangements in force for several years, second class matter passed between the two countries for domestic matter, that is, at the rate of one cent per pound, without the necessity of affixing stamps. The Canadian Government now requires that this rate be greatly increased.

Years ago, by persistent agitation in the United States, the one cent per pound rate on current literature became a law. The agitation was based upon what was believed, and is still believed here, to be a wise principle, namely, that the general diffusion of literature is educational, and that whatever is educational is fundamentally beneficial to a government, and should be encouraged by being freed from taxation burdens, as far as possible. The provision for a low rate of postage was adopted between the Canadian and the United States Governments, and has been enforced up to this present change—a change that we greatly regret on this side of the boundary line.

We regret to be compelled to make this extra charge for postage, and we trust that our Canadian subscribers will remember that the whole amount of the increase we charge goes to the Canadian Government, not a cent of it goes into our own pockets."

What a woeful complaint! It is all right for selfish United States publishers to make a howl, but happily very few objections have been raised by Canadian publishers to the new postal convention. They realize that Uncle Sam was getting the long end of the bargain and this country was being inundated with literature, good and bad, and cheap publications of all kinds from across the border.

The Yankees were getting altogether too much the better of the arrangement entered into many years ago. In other words, Canada was doing all the work and Uncle Sam getting all the benefit. This state of affairs could not go on forever. It could not be renewed. An admirable article on the lop-sidedness of the old order of things is given in Saturday Night, which says:—

"When the arrangement that has been cancelled went into effect thirty years ago it was apparent that we were to carry through our postal service a great deal more mail matter than they were able to carry for us. As time went on this disparity grew and grew. Some years ago it was found that Canada was carrying—and receiving no postal revenue thereon—fifty bags of second class mail matter for every one bag that was sent to them for free carriage and delivery. Five years ago Canada was carrying one hundred bags to one. This year we were carrying two hundred bags to one. Where was it to stop? Out of the immense volume of mail matter Canada got for carrying 199 bags out of every 200 no return whatever either in the way of like service or in any way of postal revenue." Should the Canadian post office go on handling 199 bags of mail for nothing, in order that our publishers should get one bag handled for nothing across the border? Surely those publishers who assert that the old deal should have been continued because it served their convenience and reduced their postage bills, could make some more reasonable demand on Ottawa than that the government should agree to go on carrying two, and presently, three and four hundred bags of mail for nothing in order that our publishers could get one bag carried free in the United States. Whatever sound argument there may be against the new postal treaty it in no way concerns the handful of mail that our publishers got carried and distributed for nothing in the neighboring public."

No wonder that Uncle Sam is displeased. He knew a good thing when he saw it, but Canada could not with any self-respect or dignity be a servant to United States publishing houses any longer. Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster General of Canada, in a recent interview stated that the Postmaster-General of the United States, in view of the advantages which the United States has been reaping ever since the inception of the convention, was naturally in favor of continuing this. It was because of this one-sidedness, however, that Canada abrogated the treaty, and the same reasons that led her to abrogate the treaty also led her to wish the amendment to go into immediate effect.

Replying to the contention that a postponement should have been made to January, Mr. Lemieux points out that this would be as unjust to those whose subscriptions ended in the other months of the year as the present arrangement is to those whose subscriptions end in January.

There has been a substantial reduction of postage on British publications, and it is hoped that many more of them will circulate in Canada instead of the trashy productions of the U.S. publishers. By the arrangement made the postal rate on such publications from the United States has been increased by three cents per pound, while that on such publications from England has been reduced by six cents per pound. The net effect, therefore, of the new postal arrangements is to give Canadian readers access to the best publications of both Great Britain and the United States at, not an increase, but a reduction of three cents per pound. That is to say, a man who was receiving a high-class New York journal for $4 per year and a high-class London journal for $6 per year, will now pay one dollar more for the one from New York and two dollars less for the one from London, and get both papers for one dollar less than before. Regarding the letter quoted at the outset of the article as to the whole extra amount of 85 cents on each subscription going to the Canadian Government, and not to the U.S. publisher in question, the average Canadian reader will have no objection, and will be glad to learn that a fair arrangement has now been made where this country will receive a quid pro quo in postal rates from the land across the line. The Dominion will not be made a dumping ground for gushing American literature, while our excellent, instructive and well edited publications and periodicals will be more widely circulated and patronized by Canadians, who will learn to appreciate more Canadian merit, thought, brains and enterprise.

NO SIGNS ACROSS STREET

While the city council, a few weeks ago, was so abnormally active about the sign and the box bylaws there is one measure that seems to have escaped attention in Peterborough, and that is the stringing of banners of an advertising nature across the streets. This is all right on gala days, or on occasions of public demonstration or historic celebration, but why should George street be rarely, if ever, free from some torn, unattractive advertising banner stretched between two poles. These cotton announcements are not artistic. They convey no information or facts that the public is not already acquainted with, either through hand-bills or the newspapers, and yet these cotton signs are allowed to flap overhead and stay up for weeks at a time. They are not allowed in the larger cities and many strangers have expressed surprise that such village enterprise is permissible in Peterborough.

Citizens object to these signs, in the first place, because they are seldom, if ever, artistic, and are allowed to remain up, flapping in the wind, for weeks at a time. Again, there is great danger of them breaking loose in these high gales and badly frightening horses. Many a steed has run away in other cities owing to these dangerous, across-the-street, cotton signs. It was owing to the number of serious accidents caused thereby that the city engineer of Ottawa, a few years ago, declared that no more such banners should go up and a bylaw was passed to that effect. Is it not time that such a measure was passed in Peterborough. These cotton announcements are not permanent in character, are cheap, unsightly, and dangerous, and it is high time that the last of them was seen on George, Hunter and other public thoroughfares.

FALSE ALARM FOOL

There are many fools in the world—and some imagine they are "wise" in what they do and say. The most foolish sort of a fool, outside of the one who rocks a boat is, perhaps, the one who sends in a false alarm of fire. He bobs up every now and then, and all cities are more or less troubled by this specimen of mankind, who thinks it clever to pull an alarm box, and call out the brigade in the dead of night. He sees a box on a certain street corner, and believes that it would be a right smart caper to send in a call, just to see the department turn out and give the boys a run. On Monday morning at 1.15 o'clock, some one sent in a false alarm from box 41, at the corner of London and Park streets, and the firemen had a fruitless chase. The members of the department are always willing and ready to answer the call of duty but to be summoned for a so-called lark, or a joke, or a fake, call is lark, or fake—call it what you please—arouses their ire, and well it might. The police and firemen will keep a sharp scrutiny for offenders, and if anyone is apprehended he will be given the full benefit of the law. He will not be let off on suspended sentence, nor will mere repentance or the first offence plea, save him. These plausible excuses will serve as no palliation for misdemeanour. The extreme penalty of the law will be visited on the culprit, which is a fine of $50 and imprisonment. If an example is made of one or two parties there will not likely be a repetition of false alarms. Not only, in case of a fake summons in the dead of night, are all the firemen aroused, but also a large number of citizens. If an alarm is sounded, the citizens and firemen want to feel that there is just and plausible cause for it.

Peterborough's new fire alarm telegraph is now installed, and is working perfectly. This great civic convenience must not be abused, or meddled with. It is not for ornamental or display purposes, but is for use and the sooner all classes recognize this fact, the better for all concerned.

PEN POINTS

Already committees are at work changing the programme of summer sports arranged for Victoria Day, into winter pastimes.

In the year 1816 there was no summer; ice and frost were common in July and many persons suffered hardship. The season of 1907 May be something like that sixty-one years ago. The attempt so far is a very fair one.

The only satisfaction about this cold raw weather, and the many complaints heard relating thereto, is that the other fellows have to stand it as well as yourself. It is an illustration of the truism that misery likes company and a large number will often endure what to a lone individual would be simply unbearable.

Bobcaygeon Independent; A Winnipeg magistrate has sent a burglar to jail for 20 years and a sneak thief for 24 years. Those two misguided men should have engineered a land deal or a stock boom. Common sneak thieving is so horribly vulgar—— And the other day an Ontario judge allowed to go on suspended sentence, a man convicted of having procured noxious drugs, which brought about the death of a sister-in-law whom he had got into trouble. Something wrong with our legal machinery.

WHAT A PROMINENT SALVATIONIST OWES TO ZAM-BUK

Mr. R. C. Blurton, a prominent Salvation Army worker, who occupies the proud position of Deputy Band-Master at the Temple Toronto, has just proved how wonderfully beneficial Zam-Buk is in cases of skin eruptions, pustules, etc. He says:—

"Pimples and sores broke out all over my face and neck, and notwithstanding all I did to try and remove them, they continued to increase. They were not only very unsightly but very painful, and I was sadly troubled how to get rid of them. I was advised to try Zam-Buk, and for several days I applied it to the neck and face, gently anointing the sore places. In a few days I noticed a marked improvement. The sores were not so angry, and some of the inflamed patches became lighter in color. I persevered with Zam-Buk, after noting this satisfactory state of affairs and it did not take long before the balm demonstrated its healing powers. I found it a splendid remedy, and it cleared both my face and neck in fine form. I would strongly recommend Zam-Buk to all who suffer from any skin eruption whatever, and I trust the publication of my experience will lead others to prove how beneficial Zam-Buk is."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for eczema, itch, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, ringworm, children's rash, etc. It also cures cuts, burns, bruises, chapped hands, enlarged veins, piles and all diseased or injured conditions of the skin and subjacent tissues. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or post free, from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes sent for $2.50. Send one cent for dainty trial box.

An Ottawa Man Secures Contract

For the Erection of the New Armouries in Belleville

The military men of this city, says the Belleville Intelligencer, will learn with all sorts of pleasure that work on the new armories will probably be started this week. We have been informed that the successful tenderer is Mr. William Stuart, of Ottawa, and that he, in company with Mr. Fuller, the architect, will be here on Monday or Tuesday. Measurements will be taken, levels found, and other details attended to, and the work of construction, it is said, will probably be proceeded with at once.

The building, a despatch says, will cost between eight and ninety thousand dollars.

Potatoes Sold By Advertising

Advertising is the most profitable proposition ever put before the commercial world, especially newspaper advertising. There is no medium which goes directly into the home, where it is read, digested and acted upon, as the newspaper. Every successful merchant will state that this is the best way to gain the ear of the public, and make a favorable impression. Messrs. Storey & Leary, the flour, feed and provision merchants on Water street, enthusiastically tell of the good results of a small advertisement in this paper.

Last February, they purchased a couple of cars of potatoes, and all winter they were disposed of very slowly. A couple of weeks ago, the merchants found they had about 485 bags left, and they were afraid that they would get caught with them on hand. A small advertisement was inserted in the papers and today Messrs. Storey & Leary sold the last bag.

AN ODE TO EMPIRE

(By Peter McArthur).

Under a night of dim and alien stars,
With homeless heart and angry tears I cried;
"Is this the land of immemorial pride?
Of sainted chivalry and heroic wars?
Of happy vales and glooms of witchery?
My farborn boyhood's land of dream and song?
Of manhood's faith and sternest loyalty,
Britannia the just and strong?
O heart defrauded, what is here to cherish?
And what to hope amid this wide disgrace,
Where hunger stalks and where the faithful perish,
While sullen sluggards crowd the market-place?
Britannia's sons across the seas are calling,
Joyous and strong from many a fruitful plain;
On heedless ears their love and cheer are falling,
Their birthright bartered for a cold disdain.
But they of British sires were born,
And they shall answer scorn for scorn;
Nor long shall fools their youth deride,
Sons of the proud are born to pride."

"O, for an hour of ampler stainless spaces
That breathe the health of nations, where the sun
Spreads his wide tent upon the hallowed places
That toil's long battle from the waste has won.
Give me my birthland, still unknown to glory,
Dearer than dream, remember from afar,
Where love and plenty yield a golden glory,
That shames the cruel, barren pomp of war.
And O ye spirits of that world unsung,
That serve the god of solitude, once more
Send me the vision though with faltering tongue
I voice your music on a friendless shore.
Strike your wide harp, and to Aeolian numbers
Marshal the legions of the patient dead
From noteless field whereon their lives were sped,
Where harvest winds and birdsong lull their slumbers:
Call them again that men may see
Heroes of bloodless victory;
May see and learn to love and bless
The silent vanguard of the wilderness."

A rousing wind among the wintry trees
Made ancient murmuring and the huddling night
Thrilled with the fear of whispered mysteries:
When lo, around me, fell the olden light
And rank on rank I saw them marching by,
With cloudless brow and dreadless eye,
The heroes of my eager youth,
Druid and saint and kings of chivalry;
Fierce plunderers of the uncharted sea,
Unknown alike to fear and ruth:
Warriors and minstrels and the lords of truth,
All memory's roster of idolatry.
And not from guarded graves they came,
But from the lands where honor leads,
Where still they serve and by their fame
Urge humble hearts to mighty deeds,
And through that vision at their side
My brothers marched with fearless stride
And voiced with that heroic throng
The choral music of prophetic song.

Fool, to be wroth with but a noteless day,
To heed its spawn or have their scorn in mind,
The dead are all imperial and their sway
Not islanded and to no shore confined.
Once more my soul puts out to ports of daring
With all the lordly comrades of my choice,
The soaring wind is master of our faring,
The sea's wide freedom bids our heart's rejoice.
Far as the day span our adventure urges
A dateless voyage through the reach of time,
The past goes down behind oblivious surges,
The future rises with a dawn sublime.
Fronting the world with calm and level vision,
New sons of Empire, heirs to all its pride,
Smile back their answer to a rull derision,
Serving and building where their fathers died.
Theirs is the strength and not the boastful seeming,
Theirs is the deed and not the foolish dreaming,
Theirs is the harvest of life's proudest pages,
And theirs the empire that shall awe the ages.

NO MATCH ON VICTORIA DAY

There will be no lacrosse match on May 24th. The local club was in communication with Brampton yesterday, but it was decided to let negotiations drop, as the baseball club have secured Riverside Park for their game with the Arctics on Friday afternoon and the lacrosse people felt that it would not be well to clash with the baseball team. The latter offered to let the lacrosse match be played during the early part of the afternoon, and then have the baseball game afterwards, the receipts to be divided between the lacrosse and baseball clubs, but it was not felt that this would be satisfactory. As a result there will be no lacrosse match.

The local team has declined John C. Miller's invitation to play the Australian tourists in Orillia on June 3rd, as it has been found that all the Peterborough players cannot get away on that day.

ROLLER TEAMS AT PRACTICE

The roller hockey players had a good workout at the Charlotte street rink last night, and showed fine form. Much rivalry of a friendly nature exists between the two teams, the Victorias and Kenoras, who will meet on Friday night, and a fast and exciting contest is assured. Each team will be uniformed and nothing is being left undone to make the match a crackerjack. There will be skating from seven to nine and the game will be played between nine and ten. The band will be present all evening.

Much Interest in Coming Games

Great interest centres in the three baseball games on May 24th and 25th, between the local team and the Arctics, of Toronto. The homesters will be in good shape and should be able to land the handsome trophy which has been donated by Mrs Melbourne, of Toronto. The nine which will represent Peterborough will be picked after the practice tomorrow night. The Arctics are bringing down a strong team and expect to pull out with the long end of the stick. They have been beating everything around Toronto, and expect to keep up their record. There will no doubt be big crowds in attendance at all the games.

TENNIS

The courts of the Nicholls Oval Tennis Club will likely be ready for playing tomorrow night, if the weather is favorable. The first tea will be held on Monday evening, May 27. The club has a membership of forty and the prospects for a most enjoyable season are bright. A meeting was held last night and arrangements for the opening of the season were completed.

BASEBALL

GAME TOMORROW NIGHT.

The Strathconas and Karnots will play an exhibition game tomorrow evening at 6.30 o'clock on Nicholls Oval. An interesting practice match was played last evening on the Oval between the Strathconas and Excelsiors. The former won by a big score. The batteries were: Strathconas, Shaw and Wilson; Excelsiors, H. Belleghem and Billington. The Umpire was W. Bryant.

Pulpit Attacks the Horse Races

Rev. J. E. Starr expressed some very strong opinions on racetracks in general, and the Woodbine in particular during his sermon in Berkeley Street Methodist Church, Sunday night, says the Toronto Star.

Christian principles, he declared, affirmed the horse to be for man's good and he charged the jockey clubs with having turned it to his injury. In their defence the clubs had stated that racing was an old English sport well worthy of perpetuating.

"There is nothing in common," declared Mr. Starr, "between the sport as carried on years ago, and the present conditions of the turf, either here or across the water."

Another plea had been that horse racing encouraged breeding of good stock, but this was not true, inasmuch as the English Government did not look to the racing stables for its cavalry and service horses, but rather to the farms and fairs.

It had been stated further that the press supports horse-racing. "The press is a discredited witness. Its attitude is influenced by money considerations. You Christians do not pay for your advertising and the other fellows do, so I don't blame the press for supporting the Woodbine events," commented the speaker.

Mr. Starr's charges against racing were that it brought about a feeling of excitement all over the country tempting young men to leave their work to attend; that it got together a lot of confidence men; that lying was resorted to in order to be present; and there were many people ruined every year.

"The white gamblers and the Chinese fan-tan players may be placed in contrast. The one is clothed in the garb of respectibility, and allowed by law, while the other is under the ban and those playing are hailed before the police. Why? Because the white man has a pull and the Chinaman has not. The whole thing is a carnival of dissipation and gambling, which is provocative of dissipation and gambling all over the land."

These Twins Will be Wedded to Twins

New York, May 20. — The Herald has received the following despatch from Omaha,—Gertrude and Agnes Lynch, twins of Omaha, and Albert and Walter Lynch, twins, of Sioux City, Iowa, have met and rumor has it that there is to be a double wedding. Double weddings are not uncommon and wedding of twins have been heard of, also marriages of people of the same name, but a double wedding of twin sisters and twin brothers, without a single surname being changed in the operation probably is unprecedented.

The situation is perplexing, however, and there are those who say that the resemblance of one brother to the other, and one sister to the other is so strong that neither brother and neither sister, is quite sure which of the other twins he loves. So it is probable they will have to get better acquainted before there is a wedding.

AN OLD PLAN.

Paul Decases, of the educational department, Quebec, brother-in-law of the late Premier Mercier, who has just returned from Paris, recently discovered in that city an old plan of the city of Quebec, hitherto unknown, showing that the tomb of Champlain, about which there has been so many disputes, was situated in a small chapel attached to the old Chateau St. Louis, on the site now occupied by a portion of the Chateau Frontenac, so that the founder of Quebec was buried either directly under or close to the monument erected a few years ago, to his memory.

MR ALEXANDER ARRIVES.

Chas. M. Alexander, one of the most famous evangelists in the world, was a passenger on the steamer Manuka, from Australia, arriving in Victoria this week. Mr. Alexander, accompanied by his wife, is on a visit to England, Mrs. Alexander's former home. Mr. Alexander formerly worked in conjunction with Dr. Torrey, with whom he had travelled almost all over the world. The ill health of Mrs. Alexander, which made his life of the sea imperative, necessitated her husband severing his connection with Dr Torrey and for the past two years their paths led to different directions. In Melbourne for three months, the town hall was packed two or three times a day and every night 50,000 people turned out to hear Mr. Alexander's beautiful baritone voice. Mrs. Alexander is a daughter of Mr Cadbury, the millionaire chocolate manufacturer.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Linen Gowns are Now the Vogue

"There are so many different styles in the linen gowns this summer that this fact may be regarded as an important new feature of the season's modes," writes Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for June. "There are linen gowns suitable for almost every occasion, and some of them, with their combinations of Irish lace and artistic embroideries, are quite as elaborate as the silk frocks. The linen frock with the jumper waist having the large armhole, and the skirt with fan plaits, is a very charming model and will look well made up in any of the fancy linens. A scalloped edge finishes both the opening of the waist and the skirt which is in the front.

"Many of the most fashionable of the hot-weather gowns are made of linen in dark shades. A dark blue linen is used for the gown, which has the waist band trimmed and made with a vest, and the skirt plaited and cut in seven gores. Lawn tucking in white on pale tan is used for the vest and the cuffs. The linen bands which trim the gown may match the tucking or be introduced in a shade darker."

Sudden Death of Respected Lady

Demise of Miss Isabel Roger Will be Mourned by Many Citizens

The sad intelligence of the death of one of Peterborough's most prominent ladies, in the person of Miss Isabel Roger, was received throughout the city yesterday afternoon with the profoundest regret.

The late Miss Roger had been ill only three days, and her death came quite unexpectedly. While she had not been in the best of health for some time, she returned a week ago last Saturday from Preston Springs, feeling much improved in health. Last Sunday she had a stroke of paralysis, and gradually grew worse, until the end came yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, at "Cordach," the family residence.

The deceased was a life-long resident of this city, having been born at "Cordach" seventy years ago. She was the eldest daughter of the late Rev J. M. Roger, the pioneer pastor of St. Paul's church. The late Miss Roger was prominently identified with all good works in the city. She was a woman of many beautiful characteristics, and was noted for her many acts of love and kindness to those who were in need. She always lent a helping hand to homes where sickness or death had visited. For many years she was treasurer, and latterly president of the Peterborough Protestant Home. She was a faithful supporter of St. Paul's Presbyterian church and a sincere worker in all good causes.

The death of Miss Roger yesterday was the third in the family within the past year. Rev. W. M. Roger, was drowned a little less than a year ago at Bancroft and the late Mrs Fairbairn, sister of the deceased, passed away last December in Chicago, while on a visit to her daughter. Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger is the last one left of a large family, and he has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in his bereavement. Miss Roger's sudden death will cause a great shock to Mr. G. M. Roger, who, in company with Messrs E. H. D. Hall and J. C. Crook, left last week on an extended trip to California and British Columbia.

The funeral of the late Miss Isabel Roger will take place tomorrow afternoon at three p.m., from the family residence, "Cordach," 561 Park st. to Little Lake Cemetery for interment.

Guelph Banks Were all Done up

Forger Worked the Trick by a Clever Ruse

Guelph, May 20.—The six local banks here have been done up to the tune of about $1,400 by an unknown man, who forged the name of Mr. John Gillies, a well known farmer of Marden. On the 28th of February the forger interviewed Mr. G. B. Morris, manager of the Royal Bank, representing himself as John Gillies, and stating that he required money to buy some horses at an auction sale. Mr. Gillies' rating was all right. Morris thought the price the man proposed to pay for the horses rather high, but on being assured on this point, agreed to advance it on a note, and also, if it were not used and returned at once, to charge little or nothing for the loan. The forger next visited Mr. C. L. Nelles, manager of the Metropolitan Bank, told a similar story and got another advance. Mr. Nelles also was very obliging in the matter of arranging a nominal charge in the event of so prompt a return. "You know," said the stranger, "I could get it from my sisters, but would rather be independent and borrow it from the bank." He looked like a farmer, but more like the hired man, tall of figure, and apparently about forty-five years of age. The signature turns out to be an exact fac-simile of that of Mr. John Gillies, and was made in the presence of each of the managers. Some twenty days afterwards the spurious Mr. Gillies paid a visit to the Traders' Bank, the Bank of Montreal and the Bank of Commerce. In the latter the genuine Mr. Gillies keeps his current account, and in the former two he has savings accounts. In all three of them banks the fictititous Mr. Gillies was again successful. A fortnight or more later, in the absence of Mr. Schofield, the manager, he had tried the Dominion Bank, but the accountant, who was in charge, did not feel like taking the risk, and declined a loan. So far there are two cases of forgery awaiting the identification of the perpetrator. The crime was discovered when the notes in the Royal and Metropolitan Banks matured, and when it was found that Mr Gillies, of Marden, knew nothing about them. Those in the other four banks are not yet due, so that Mr. Gillies has not been called upon to settle them. Not until these are due will these banks have his pronouncement upon them. In the meantime the banks are following up an active chase in a laudable effort to locate the fictitious Mr. Gillies.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

ANOTHER FROM "MERCHANT"

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I see by yesterday's Review that "Common Sense" is again at his common non-sense talk, in defence of his proclivities for burning everything in sight that stands in his way. I do not wonder at the malodorous emanations of his rubbish, after reading his effusions. Having no argument in defence of his misconduct, he essays the role of a smart Aleck, but with ill-success. He announces with considerable unction and apparent satisfaction "that Chief Roszel is a genial and obliging fellow," which presumably he thinks will save him from the consequences of his illegal acts. The qualities he attributes to the Chief of Police are not those that constitute a good officer. What we want is one who will of his own volition, promptly and rigorously enforce the laws, without fear, favor or affection. "Common Sense," in his eulogy of the Chief, makes a poor attempt at concealing his misgivings of him, when he impliedly accuses him of Rip Van Winkleism, and declaration of duty, by intimating that if we want him to act, it will be necessary for us to lay the information ourselves (although we pay him for performing such duties) thus showing his indifference to the performance of his duty. The Chief might well exclaim, "Save me from my friends."

Yours, etc.,
MERCHANT.

Peterborough,

"COMMON SENSE" HITS BACK

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—There is much rubbish in the city at the present time, and a considerable portion of it is appearing in the Review over the signature of a self-styled "Merchant." He has another budget yesterday replete with words of "learned length and thundering sound," and sentences so long that you might well, Mr. Editor, continue some of them in the next day's issue of your paper. Why don't he say what he means in plain English, so that plain people may understand plainly what he means! Really now, unless the chief of police is a man of exceptional education he cannot understand what "Merchant" is trying to unload himself. of. It looks to me as if a considerable amount of the smoke that is troubling "Merchant" comes from the hot air pipe he himself is smoking.

But to come to the point. "Merchant" has a grievance. There is a cause for this grievance, and he claims it is the duty of the police to eliminate this cause. Therefore, it follows that the chief of police is the man with whom he should lodge his complaint. Perhaps the chief does not read the Review and how is he to know that "Merchant" is writhing in the agony of smoke and vile odors emanating from bon-fires in back-yards! The walking is good on Water street, the door of the police station is usually open, and an appointment with Chief Roszel can be easily arranged. The head of the police force will soon take action if affairs are as serious as 'Merchant' would have us believe. Let your correspondent strike the asphalt on Water street, go to the police station and lodge his complaint with the proper parties. When he has done this and no heed is paid to his request for action, let him then go to the newspapers with his wailing. Until he has done this, no attention should be paid to his letters. For "Merchant's" information, the writer will state that he has no backyard and no rubbish to burn except that which "Merchant" is daily supplying to the public press.

Yours, etc.,
COMMON SENSE.

This "Miracle" Failed to Work

An Ottawa despatch says,—As a special attraction for the afternoon service of the Holiness Movement camp meeting at Stittsville, Carleton county, yesterday afternoon, it was announced that Rev. Mr. Johnston, one of the younger brethren of the church at Pendleton, would perform a miracle. The beneficiary was to be John Green, a well-known cripple of Ottawa, who would be made to walk. A large crowd from the surrounding neighborhood gathered to see the miracle worked. Mr. Johnston made a preliminary address, announcing that he had been called to be an apostle, and was gifted with power to heal the sick. Then he turned to Mr. Green, who was seated on the platform, took him by the hand and commanded him to walk, but Mr. Green did not walk, much to the disappointment of the crowd. Mr. Johnston explained that he must have been mistaken in the time or mode of healing, but he declared his faith was still strong, and he would yet be a miracle worker.

Six Girls Crossed Ocean as Freight

Port Townsend, Wash., May 20.—Six Japanese girls, each nailed in a pine box, were nearly killed by sulphur fumigation on board the steamer Canfa at Victoria. The girls were consigned to K. Sesookien, a steerage passenger, alleged to be Taki Kaljoro, who was deported from San Francisco two years ago as a result of a crusade by Christian societies.

Through exchange of courtesies between British and American authorities the six women and Sesookien were brought here last night and will be sent back to Japan on the Canfa, which is scheduled to leave to-morrow.

Empire Day Was Duly Observed

Thursday will be Empire Day but, owing to the convention of city teachers there will be no school. The children were dismissed yesterday afternoon and will have holidays until Monday next. The Teachers' Convention is meeting today and tomorrow, and Friday will be Victoria Day, a public holiday. Yesterday in several city schools there were Empire Day celebrations. Addresses on the greatness, power, influence and development of the Empire were delivered by teachers. Patriotic songs were sung and several recitations contributed in many of the rooms. The exercises were all interesting and instructive and could not fail to inspire all with a spirit of loyalty and devotion.

Tag Was Pinned on Small Boy

Directions to be Taken to Sick Children's Hospital

Toronto, May 21.—With a tag carefully pinned on the shoulder of his little coat, on which was written, "JAMES BLACK, HOPETOWN, ONT., TO THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN. PLEASE TAKE GOOD CARE OF HIM," a little 7 year old boy arrived at the Union station this morning.

All the way down the little chap had been amusing himself playing with coppers given to him by sympathetic passengers. Apparently unconcerned at being tagged like an article of merchandise, the boy enjoyed his trip down, and was sorry when he had to leave the train and go to the hospital.

Word had been sent to the police officials that the lad was to arrive this morning, and the ambulance was in waiting for him. He was taken to the Hospital for Sick Children, to be treated for a skin disease.

One Lone Drunk in Police Court

Thomas McGinty had the prisoner's box all to himself this morning in the police court. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was kicking up a racket last evening and disturbing his father, who is ill. McGinty pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars and costs, amounting to $5.75, to be paid forthwith, or ten days in gaol. It looked as if he would have to spend the ten days on the hill, as he had not the necessary, but shortly after court had adjourned, a generous hearted friend came along and handed out a ten to pay the fine, and McGinty was allowed his freedom.

DOG CASE.

T. H. Brooks was charged with keeping a dog without a tag. Mr. Brooks swore that he had not had a dog for over a year, and that the chief had been wrongly informed. The case was dismissed.

Mrs Sarah Wilson, wife of Nicholas Wilson, of London, the veteran school teacher, is dead.

BRITISH CONSOLS

Investment of Royal Bank of Canada, in Them Valued at 80.

A despatch from London, England, refers to the Royal Bank of Canada, in its annual statement of assets, valuing its investments in British consols at 80. The Royal Bank has about $1,250,000 invested in British consols, which are worth 85. The fact that the Royal Bank values its investment in them at 80, shows the conservative policy of the bank, and it is said that several monetary institutions in Great Britain will value their holdings in British consols at a like figure.

Royal Arcanun Rates

Proposition to Place all Members or Flat Rate Defeated in Supreme Council at Boston

A Boston despatch says, — Some important propositions were defeated at yesterday's session of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanium. The first sought to abrogate the regular rates and place all of the 243,000 members of the Order upon rates known as option 'A. This rate provides a constant rate during membership. The committee to which this proposition was submitted opposed it vigorously, and the plan was unanimously defeated.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse monthly periods, accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chesnut Street Bradford, Pa.

New York, May 22.—Following an autopsy performed on the body of Dr. Charles A. Foster, who was found dead in a police cell, announcement was made that death was due to uraemia, and heart trouble.

Dr. Foster was in the station, charged with intoxication.

The coroner declares that he will immediately offer a bill in the state Legislature calling for the placing of physicians at various police stations to examine all men and women charged with intoxication.

PROCEEDS AGAINST C. P. R.

Accused of Violating Lord's Day Act In the West.

Calgary, Alta., May 22.—Fred English, local agent of the C. P. R., has been served with four notices of infringement of the Lord's Day Act by the C. P. R.

This is the first action in Alberta arising out of the Lord's Day Act, and probably the first case against the C. P. R.

It is said that work similar to that done in the places complained of is done every Sunday in Calgary. The alleged offence occurred on March 31.

Cadet Lost No Marks.

Kingston, May 22.—The authorities at the Royal Military College say that the alleged reduction of a cadet sergeant to the ranks for shaving his lips so that a speedier growth might follow, is unfounded.

True, a reduction has been made of the Montrealer, but the shaving of his lip was only a culminating episode which led to the taking way of the stripes. He loses no marks by the reduction. The despatch to the outside papers, alleged to have been sent from Kingston, did not emanate here.

Sent Back to Ontario.

Halifax, N. S., May 22.—F. E. Todd, chief of police of Turks' Island, arrived on the steamer Beta yesterday, having in charge W. Hartley of Ontario, who was deported from the island on account of being of unsound mind. Hartley arrived on Turks' Island three months ago from New York. He has been handed over to the immigration authorities here, who will have him sent to his native place in Ontario.

Charged With Criminal Libel.

WILL DISCUSS TARIFF

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Goes to Paris With That Object.

France May Now Get Favorable Terms From Canada—Winston Churchill's Speech—Forfeits Good Opinion of Colonies — All-Red Fast Service Scheme Is In Good Condition—Clifford Sifton Prophesies Success.

London, May 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, started yesterday for Paris, where it is understood he will discuss the proposals for a new Franco-Canadian tariff.

The failure of the imperial colonial conference to arrange a preferential tariff within the British empire is supposed to enable France to obtain more favorable terms from Canada.

Churchill Loses By It.

London, May 22.—The Australian press comments on Winston Churchill's Edinburgh speech, and says it may help Churchill with a section of his party, but not with the colonies, the good opinion of which from the day he took office he has been doing his best to forfeit.

The Canadian Associated Press is informed that colonials may be brought here to assist in educating the electorate in the doctrine of preference, and fiscal missionaries despatched to the colonies to preach the same gospel.

All Red Service.

London, May 22.—Hon Clifford Sifton, who, with Mrs. Sifton, sailed for Canada yesterday per Cunarder Caronia, was seen prior to his departure. He says the all-red fast service scheme is in such condition that a successful termination can be expected.

HAYWOOD TRIAL CONTINUES.

Challenges of Jurors Exhausted Panel Yesterday Morning.

Boise, Idaho, May 22.—Court in the Haywood murder case opened at 8.30 yesterday morning. This was the ninth day of the hearing. At 9.35 a. m. the defence peremptorily challanged John Fusher, in the tenth chair, the examination of John Witlock, in the sixth chair, having passed temporarily.

After this challenge both sides had four left, with only nine members of the special venire of 100 to draw upon.

One after another the remaining talesmen were excused because of opinions, until Levi Smith, the 92nd member of the special venire, was reached. Smith said he was a railroad employe, and declared he had never formed opinions regarding the case. He was finally accepted by both sides.

Juror Orrie Cole, at No. 9, was excused on account of illness.

John A. Lawrence, a farmer, declared he was opposed to capital punishment, and was excused.

The panel was exhausted at 10.45, and a new special venire of 60 persons was ordered. The trial was adjourned until to-morrow.

Two Negroes Lynched

Reidsville, Ga., May 22.—Two negroes were lynched and four other persons are dead and six others injured, as the net result of an attempted criminal assault made Monday night on Mrs. Loma Lorro, white, a widow, about six miles from here, by Flem Padget, a negro.

Padget and a negro woman are the ones lynched, and the death or injury of the others followed the efforts of a posse to capture Padget.

It is reported that the mob is on its way here and the sheriff has moved the other prisoners to a place which he will not reveal.

Trainmen's Case Adjourned.

Whitby, Ont., May 22.—The trial of the three C. P. R. employes inplicated in the wreck on that road near Myrtle, March 25, set for yesterday, before Police Magistrate Harper, has been postponed to the 28th.

This is to enable Crown Attorney Farewell to secure some documentary evidence necessary to the profession. The three defendants are: Hugh Kyle, engineer freight train, which ran beyond Myrtle causing the accident; J. J. Cook, conductor and Geo. H. Wilkinson, train despatcher.

Handy Saw-Offs.

Winnipeg, May 22.—The election petition against W. J. Roche, M. P. for Marquette, was yesterday dismissed.

This makes seven Dominion election petitions similarly treated in Manitoba, saw-offs having been arranged by both parties.

Princess Victoria Ill.

Naples, May 22.—The British Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, her daughter, on board, arrived here unexpectedly yesterday.

The yacht left Messina Monday, and put in here owing to the illness of the princess.

Broke Through Ranks.

Winnipeg, May 22.—J. B. Gunn, who tried to force his way in an auto through a regiment on parade, was yesterday fined $150.

Hon. Mr. McFadden, former Provincial Secretary, may succeed W. E. Luxton as inspector of public institutions.

Grain Case Dismissed.

Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—Judge Phippen yesterday gave judgment in the famous grain case in which Messrs. Love, Gage and McHugh, members of the Grain Exchange, were charged with restraint of trade. His lordship dismissed the case.

Collision Kills.

Pittsburg, May 22.—A laborer killed, seven others fatally injured and 19 received minor hurts and bruises yesterday in a wreck near Stubenville, Ohio. A freight had stopped on a curve and a work train, backing, ran into the rear of it.

John Wilson, seventy years old, of Windsor, was committed for trail yesterday on a charge of libelling David Clarke.

HINTS ON HOME BUILDING.

The man who is thinking of building a home (and who is not, in these prosperous times) must have prominently in mind, economy, durability and appearance.

The wise builder will select materials that are good and inexpensive, as well as handsome in appearance. Take the roof, for instance. It should be proof against lightning, fire and water, and should also possess a handsome appearance.

Wood shingles have had their day. As now manufactured, they soon rot and crack, thus making it necessary to reshingle.

"Safe Lock" Galvanized Steel Shingles solve the problem in every way. They lock at the top, bottom and both sides, so that they are absolutely proof against every element. Being heavily galvanized, they cannot rust and are practically indestructible. Moreover, the smooth surface of the shingle will not permit dust or dirt to lodge on the roof, and defile the rain water.

The Metal Shingle & Siding Co., Limited, of Preston, Ont., offer to send you, free, their literature containing names of those who have used "Safe Lock" Shingles in your own locality. 47

STEAMER NAOMI BURNED.

Four Lives Lost — Fifty Passengers Successfully Taken Off.

Grand Haven, Mich., May 22.—The steamer Naomi of the Crosby Transportation Co. was burned to the water's edge yesterday morning while on her way from Grand Haven to Milwaukee. Fifty passengers were taken off by the steamer Stratford and transferred to the steamer Kansas of the same line. Four members of the crew were burned to death. Among the injured is J. M. Rhodes of Detroit who is in a hospital badly burned, and probably will die. Those rescued were taken off in small boats. The dead men were all coal passers.

The loss on the Naomi, which was in command of Capt. Thomas Traill, is estimated at $225,000. After the passengers and crew were rescued a barge put a line on the burning hulk and is towing her into this port.

The fire started near the kitchen, between decks, and spread so rapidly that the whole ship was a seething furnace before the crew could get out the fire apparatus. Fire swept the whole length of the ship, and the upper works burned like tinder. It is considered miraculous that the passengers all escaped. Many of them were taken off in their night clothing, while scarcely any one was more than partially clad.

The fire was not discovered by any of the Naomi's crew, but was first seen by the lookout on the steamer Kansas, which was proceeding in the opposite direction from Milwaukee to Grand Haven. The Kansas made directly for the Naomi and in the meantime the passengers of the ill-fated boat were awakened.

Capt. Thomas Traill was the last man to leave the steamer alive, and his clothing was almost burned off.

The coal passers who perished were below in their bunks, and are believed to have been penned down there by the flames. They are believed to have shipped from Milwaukee.

It is said by the passengers that the screams of the dying men in the hold were heard, but that it was impossible to reach them.

BANKER IN IRONS.

Closely Guarded for Fear of the Poor People's Violence.

New York, May 22.—Shackled in irons and closely guarded by detectives, Joseph Deutsche, the Perth Ambey, N.J., banker, who is alleged to have defaulted with $17,000 belonging to his clients, eight weeks ago, was brought back to the United States yesterday on board the Holland-American steamship New Amsterdam.

Deutsche was captured in Holland, and fearing that he might commit suicide, he was kept in irons during the entire voyage. The manacles on his hands and feet were only removed at meal times.

Numerous threats have been made against Deutsche by the poor people whom he is charged with robbing, and to prevent any attempts on his life, Deutsche was secretly taken to Perth Ambey. A double guard has been thrown around the jail where Deutsche is confined.

Extradition of Deutsche was the quickest ever affected with an European country.

BETRAYED BY A SNEEZE.

Jap Girls Were Being Smuggled to America As Freight.

Port Townsend, Wash., May 22.—Six Japanese girls, each nailed in a pine box, were nearly killed by sulphur fumigation on board the steamer Canfa at Victoria. A sneeze betrayed them. The girls were consigned to K. Sesookein, a steerage passenger, alleged to be Taki Kaijoro, who was deported from San Francisco two years ago as a result of a crusade by Christian societies.

Food and water supply was ingeniously placed in each box, which was fitted like a toy room.

Shortage In Wheat Crop.

Ottawa, May 23.—Reports from the Northwest, at Ottawa, indicate that there will be a shortage in the wheat crops amounting to about 50 per cent., and with that great wheat-growing area producing but 45,000,000 bushels, as against 90,000,000 bushels last year. There is almost certain to be a still further advance in price.

At all events the present advance will be indefinitely maintained.

It is stated that the leading milling companies are now buying wheat at $1.50 per bushel. Partly the backward spring and partly the short stocks are given as the cause.

Strikers Now Meek!

Montreal, May 22.—Seeing their ranks depleted by desertion, the union and non-union longshoremen held a meeting yesterday and resolved to return to work, deciding at the same time that they would apply to-day to have the 21-2 cents arbitrated upon.

They go back for 27 1-2 cents and the shipping federation declares they cannot break faith with those already engaged, hence their inability to take all the strikers back before ten days.

POLICE ARMED RIOTERS

Black Hundreds Turned Loose in Streets of Odessa.

Jewish Pedestrians, Men, Women and Children, Brutally Beaten With Clubs and Rubber Sticks — Fifty-Three Persons Taken to Hospitals With Broken Heads or Limbs—Many Dangerously Injured.

Odessa, May 22.—Fifty-three persons were taken to the hospitals suffering from broken heads or limbs, or otherwise dangerously injured as a result of the outbreak of the Black Hundreds here Monday, following the assassination of three police officers.

In addition about a hundred persons were less seriously injured. The victims included women, children and students.

It is alleged that, out of revenge for the assassination of the three officers, whom the Jews had nicknamed the "heroes of the anti-Jewish riots," the police turned the Black Hundreds loose, armed with clubs and rubber sticks.

Jewish pedestrians were brutally beaten and many houses in the Jewish quarters were looted and their occupants assaulted. Disorder lasted for some hours, the police making no attempt to suppress it.

Further outrages are expected.

Reign of Terror.

Odessa, May 22. The Black Hundreds took advantage of the funeral yesterday of the three police officials, assassinated Monday, to renew their attacks on the Jews.

The whole Jewish population became terror-stricken, all the stores were closed and the streets were almost deserted.

REVISION OF VULGATE.

Pope Will Leave the Work to the Benedictines.

London, May 22.—In a despatch from Rome, the correspondent of The Times says he learns the Pope has issued a decree entrusting the entire revision of the Vulgate to the Benedictine Order.

This is the most important decision yet announced, the correspondent continues, as an outcome of the Biblical commission appointed towards the end of the pontificate of Leo XIII.

In an editorial article, The Times says it is difficult to overestimate the importance of this step.

"No book," the paper declares, "has exercised a wider and more powerful influence in molding the faith, morals, thought, and traditions of the literature of the European world than the Latin version of the Scriptures, which we know as the Vulgate. For 1,500 years it has been setting its impress upon the whole mental heritage of countless millions of men."

The paper adds the step is a bold one, but it will be hailed with satisfaction by many within as well as without the Church of Rome.

NO BEER, NO WORK.

New Foreman Cuts Out Practice and Men Strike.

Paterson, N.J., May 22.—Because they have been denied the privilege of bringing beer into the shops during working hours and also because the company refused their demands that George Browne, a foreman, be removed, 250 men walked out of the Rogers Locomotive Works of the American Locomotive Company here yesterday.

Browne a few weeks ago assumed charge of the blacksmithing department. One of his first acts was to order that no beer be brought into the works and that the men were not to leave the shops during working hours to get beer.

Item Increased Revenue.

Quebec, May 22. In the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon Mr. Dufault, Deputy Minister of Mines, was questioned as to the taxation of the rich mining companies, and stated no tax nor rayolty was imposed on them and that they practically paid no taxes.

Since the publication of the article in The Nationaliste, a classification of the mining lands had been made and fees for permits of exploration and for letters patent or mining lands had been increased so that the revenues for the province were on an average 50 per cent. larger.

Perjury and Forgery.

New York, May 22.—Ten indictments, three charging perjury and seven forgery, were found by the grand jury yesterday against John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of this city.

The charges grew out of the year-end statements of the company, in which it is alleged that items were improperly charged off.

Bridge Gives Way Under Load.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., May 22.—While Joseph and Ovila Tetreault were driving across a bridge here yesterday on a large oil tank, the bridge gave way. The horses, wagon and men fell in the river.

The men escaped with injuries, but the two horses were killed and the wagon and oil tank wrecked.

Molten Metal Kills.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Five men were killed and four fatally injured about six o'clock last night at Laughlin Steel Co.

Molten metal was thrown over the men, almost cremating them.

Last January fifteen men were killed.

King Will Give Cup.

London, May 22.—The King will give a hundred-pound cup for the artillery competition of British and Canadian teams in Canada in July.

Threaten to Strike.

St. John, N.B., May 22.—Mill hands are preparing for a general strike if a ten per cent. wage increase is not granted.

Mrs. Geo. Renton, whose husband was killed in the G.T.R. yards at London, has begun suit for $10,000 damages.

Condemnation of Birrell Bill; Provisions Are Not Acceptable

Irish Nationalists Adopt J. E. Redmond's Resolution.

Nothing But Home Rule Will Satisfy—Other Scheme Not Logical or Workable—Convention Declares for Complete Control of Irish Domestic Affairs—Clergy Are Opposed—Government Will Drop the Measure.

Dublin, May 22.—The Nationalist convention, called to decide whether the Irish Bill, introduced in the House of Commons, May 7, by the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell, was acceptable to the people of Ireland, yesterday unanimously accepted John Redmond's resolution condemning the bill.

The resolution was as follows: "That this convention, representative of National opinion, emphatically places on record its profound conviction that nothing can satisfy the national aspirations of Ireland or bring peace and contentment to our people but a measure of self-government which will give the Irish people complete control of their domestic affairs.

"That while we have never wavered in our belief that it is impossible to produce any logical or workable scheme for the extension and development of popular power and responsibility in Ireland short of the concession of Home Rule, at the same time, in accordance with the resolution of the National Directory of the 5th of February, 1907, and with the public declarations made from time to time on our behalf, we have been willing to give fair consideration to any scheme prepared by the British Ministers which, in their opinion, would be 'consistent with and lead up to larger policy' to which they were pledged.

Will Let Bill Drop.

London, May 22.—The Nationalist convention at Dublin, having rejected Mr. Birrell's Irish bill, it is understood that the Government will drop it for this session at least, and will proceed with the other reforms.

That the Government cannot grant any wider measure of self-government to Ireland without causing dissension in the Cabinet is not denied.

Mr. Redmond's action in moving the rejection of the measure, although anticipated in some quarters, generally caused surprise, as it is understood that he had agreed, after a conference with his colleagues, to accept what the Government offered as a partial concession to the demands of Ireland. With the majority of his party, including the clergy, opposed to it, however, there was no other course for him to pursue, in the opinion of the politicians here.

The Marathon Mystery

A Story of Manhattan

By BURTON E. STEVENSON
Author of "The Holladay Case"

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt and Company

"All right. Go ahead," I said.

"Tremaine writes the note and leaves it in Drysdale's room," continued Godfrey. "Then he opens the trunk and [illegible] the revolver. Perhaps he knew the revolver was there and perhaps he didn't. If he hadn't found it he'd probably have taken something else belonging to Drysdale for a weapon.

"Having secured the revolver, he returns to his room by way of the balcony. What passed in the early part of the evening you already know. Drysdale goes to keep the rendezvous at the pergola, starting early, because the house with Tremaine in it has become unbearable to him. He stops for a chat with Graham, which the latter's son overhears, and then goes on to the pergola, which is quite at the other end of the grounds from the boathouse.

"Meanwhile Tremaine has spent the early part of the evening talking with Delroy and Miss Croydon. At last he goes to his room on the pretense of writing letters, gets the revolver, lets himself down by the vine and starts for the pier. He enters the boathouse softly, feels his way to the cot, whose position he has already seen, and carefully administers the chloroform. The dose was no doubt nicely calculated, and the boy would probably have awakened naturally in a few hours.

"That done, Tremaine walks boldly out upon the pier. Old Graham sees him, perhaps challenges him, but of course allows him to approach as soon as he recognises him. They talk together for a moment. Then Tremaine, swift as lightning, knocks the other down. Graham probably fell without crying out. I fancy I can see Tremaine pausing to make sure his victim is dead before he goes on to the end of the pier to get the necklace."

I shivered. I could see him, too, bending over in the darkness, with a horrible calmness.

"That throwing of the pistol into the boat," continued Godfrey, "was one of those flashes of inspiration which come to a man sometimes. It was superb! It proves that our friend is really an artist. Not one man in a thousand would have thought of it. He must have laughed with sheer satisfaction when he heard it clatter safely into the boat."

He paused for a moment to think of it, to turn it over, to taste it.

"Well," he continued at last, "he secures the necklace, throws away the bottle and probably goes down to the water's edge to wash his hands."

"Did he take the necklace with him to the house?" I asked.

"No," said Godfrey decidedly. "There was no reason whatever for him to run that risk. He had doubtless picked out a safe hiding place for it in the afternoon. The necklace once deposited there, he hurries back to the house, climbs up to the balcony and re-enters his room. He assures himself that there are no blood stains on him anywhere, then he moves his table near the window and sits down to wait for Drysdale's return.

"As soon as he hears him enter his room he gathers up the letters which he had, of course, written during the afternoon and goes downstairs. And it is here that he makes his most serious mistake. He fancies, perhaps, that he is to have only the country police to deal with—only your Heffelbowers—that he must clinch the nail, that he cannot make the evidence against his victim too strong. So when he places his letters in the bag on the hall rack he also tears off the top button of Drysdale's raincoat.

"He returns to the hall, talks with Delroy; the storm comes up, and young Graham rushes in. They run down to the pier, kneel beside the body, try to discover signs of life—and Tremaine adroitly shuts the button within the dead man's hand. That, my dear Lester, is, I fancy, the whole story."

I smoked on for a moment in silence, turning it over in my mind with a certain sense of disappointment.

"It may be true," I said. "It seems to hold together, but, after all, there isn't a bit of positive evidence in it. How are we to convince a jury that Tremaine really did all these things?"

Godfrey blew a great smoke ring out over the seat in front of us.

"I agree," he said, "that we haven't as yet any direct evidence against Tremaine. It may be that this whole structure will fall to pieces about my ears, but I don't believe it. I believe within an hour we'll be in possession of the one piece of positive, indisputable evidence that will outweigh all the rest."

"After all, there isn't a bit of positive evidence in it."

"What is that?" I asked.

He turned to me with that bright light in his eyes that I had seen there once or twice before.

"The necklace," he answered.

Pray Every Night for Warm Weather

Athletics are Backward Because of Cold Spring

An early spring, but one which has stretched itself over a record length of days until now the people are beginning to wonder if summer will ever come, says the Kingston Whig. Such has characterized the spring of 1907, and the alternating cold, dreary, autumn-like days, and the warm, attractive ones, keep things in suspense. This is particularly noticeable along the lines of sport. Here things are hanging in the balance as it were. Take tennis for example. The young enthusiasts have their courts in shape and marked, several new ones being noticeable, both in the city parks and on private property. But things end there, for who cares to be tempted into game unless the sky is bright over head, and the sun shining forth in all its glory. The cricket club started out with the biggest of hopes and happiest of prospects. Doubtless they will yet be realized. A couple of good practices were indulged in on the campus when the cold winds proved too much to keep the awakened interest kindled. Now, two or three of the club members still hold the goal each evening, but the rank and file are awaiting the pleasure of the weather man before donning white flannels, and entering the sport with some show of spirit.

In baseball the slow advent of summer has made itself least felt. The youthful enthusiasts cannot be chilled, and they are hard at it. However, with the older and senior organizations, the effect of the temperature is particularly noticeable in the play, and until the mercury rises more than it shows much intention of doing, the work of the handlers of the willow may be expected to continue very ragged.

About the harbor the amateur sailors are putting in many anxious moments. They have their craft all fitted out and ready for sailing, but it would take a pretty warm skipper to enjoy many spins over the cool waters these days and as for the owners of small craft, like skiffs and canoes, they are even worse off and can only live in hope.

So in every line of athletics is the weather making itself felt to a greater or less degree, and it is safe to say that many a prayer goes up to heaven each night that the good old summer tide may be hastened on its way.

THE POSTAL WAR.

U. S. May Refuse Canadian Second-Class Matter.

Washington, May 22.—Through Postmaster-General Lemieux, the Government of Canada has notified the postoffice department here that it will be impossible for the Canadian postal department to handle second-class mail matter sent to that country from the United States by either express or freight, and mailed there.

Some time ago a commission was sent to Canada to adjust, if possible, the differences between the two countries respecting the handling of second-class mail. The result of the commission's work was indecisive. Afterwards United States publishers suggested that they might send their publications from the United States to Canada, either by express or freight, and hae them mailed in Canada at the second-class rate, one cent for four ounces.

Postmaster-General Meyer took up the matter with the Canadian officials, urging strongly that the suggested arrangement be made. The Canadian Postal Department, however, replied that their facilities and equipment would not admit of it.

The Canadian second-class rate is lower than the second-class rate of this country. Postmaster-General Meyer explained yesterday that as soon as a specific case of refusal on the part of the Canadian Government to handle United States second-class matter is called to his attention, he will be forced in the circumstances, to issue an order that Canadian publications in the United States cannot be handled at the second-class rate.

OPPOSITION LEADER SPEAKS.

Both Parties Have Views In Common on Subsidy.

Ottawa, May 22.—J. A. Macdonald, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, is in the city.

Interviewed regarding the claims of the province for a larger federal subsidy, he replied that the two parties had some views in common on that issue. Both parties had always contended for larger federal subsidy. As to the method employed by the Premier to get an increase he would not commit himself.

Mr. Macdonald affirmed that the present state of prosperity surpassed that of any previous period in the history of British Columbia. He attributes this to the big price of copper and other metals and to the exceptional demand for lumber in the northwest and all over the world

Besides the fruit growing industry had received a wonderful impetus lately.

MEXICANS ON THE MOVE.

Getting to Guatemalan Frontier on Pan-American Roads.

Mexico City, May 22.—Mexican troops are moving to the Guatemalan frontier, according to information received in a private telegram. The troops are traveling over the Pan-American Railroad. In what numbers or what purpose these soldiers are moving southward is not known, outside of official circles.

It is said that the transfer of these troops may simply be the carrying out of previous orders issued by the War Department, in pursuance of a plan of mobilization, which carries with it no special significance.

At the State Department nothing could be learned of the situation. Meantime it has been learned that the scene of the greatest activity has been divided between Guatemala City and San Salvador.

Norwood Will Celebrate on the 24th—Local News Items

Special to the Review.
Norwood, May 22.

There passed away in Norwood on Sunday about midnight, after a long illness, one of the most esteemed and respected citizens, Mrs. W. H. Tucker. For several weeks past Mrs. Tucker has been hovering between time and eternity. Deceased was in her lifetime a dutiful and loving wife and mother, and a kind and true friend. She has for many years been a faithful member of the Methodist church, where she was always, when health permitted, to be seen in her place among the worshipers. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and four children, Miss Beatrice, of Norwood; Mr. Ivison, of Toronto; Mr. Cecil, of Winnipeg, and Master Basil, of Norwood. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon to the Norwood cemetery.

Sunday last was League Sunday in the Methodist church. In the evening the service was conducted by the League, several members of which read papers on the different phases of League work. The choir furnished special music. The large congregation gave an inspiration to those engaged in the work of the Leau

TWENTY-FOURTH OF MAY.

A fine programme of sports has been arranged for the celebration here on the 24th. All that is required to make the day a huge success is the weather. If we have a nice day we will certainly have a good day.

Hurrah for Norwood on Empire Day.

The district meeting of the Methodist churches was held in Norwood on Tuesday in the Methodist church.

Miss Vida Wilkins, of Hamilton, is visiting at the home of her parents, Peterborough street.

Mrs. C. J. Searight is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ira Moore, of Peterborough.

Mr. E. J. Laing received word on Saturday that his brother, Mr. J. R. Laing, of Toronto, was caught in a shaft and seriously injured, but that hopes are entertained for his recovery

WILL DOUBLE THE CAPACITY

Of the Peterborough Cereal Co's Flour Mill—Orders Increasing Rapidly

The demand for the flour made by the Peterborough Cereal Co. has increased so rapidly that it is impossible for the company to manufacture enough. They have been running night and day for some time and cannot begin to keep up with orders. It is now proposed to double the capacity of the mill. This will mean an expenditure of considerable money, but the management will take the matter up with the directors immediately. To carry out the scheme will not require any more floor space, although some of the machines may have to be shifted around.

General Manager Stewart Resigns

Montreal, May 21.—It is announced that Mr. D. M. Stewart, Joint Manager of the Sovereign Bank, has resigned from that institution. Mr. F. G Gemmett was recently appointed associate General Manager. It is probably that he will now be appointed General Manager.

PLAYING PARTY POLITICS

Prime Minister Denies Statement in Reference to Orangeville Case.

Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Prime Minister of Ontario, who is also acting as Attorney-General, made a few remarks yesterday in reference to the continued exploitation of the Jackson case at Orangeville. He said, when spoken to in regard to the matter:—"I have no further explanations to give as to the Orangeville matter. While the Globe is of course at liberty to play party politics with a case of this description, if it so chooses, I distinctly repudiate its suggestion that personal of political considerations have intervened or will intervene."

The Improvements Along Trent Canal This Year are Numerous

Lift Lock Ready to Open by Monday—New Tug First Boat to Go Over—It Will Go to Kirkfield—Despatches From Campbellford and Young's Point—Dredging the Lake.

The new Government tug which was launched from Point St. Charles ship yards is now completed and ready to go over the lift lock as soon as that big hoist is ready to operate. It was given a short trial trip in the lake the other day and everything was found most satisfactory. It is likely this tug will be the first boat to go up the canal and it will go right through to Kirkfield, where it will be used as a supply boat on the Gamebridge branch of the canal.

The lift lock will likely be ready to open on Friday, but not later than Monday. The upper reach has been repaired and the water let in. The repairs this year were very extensive. A gang of about forty men were engaged for about two months digging up the bank and filling it in again. It is likely that this will have to be done every year for several years, before the bank is perfectly solid and water tight.

The lock gates and lock master's house at No. 6 have been painted for the season and are now ready for navigation. The painters have moved down to the lower locks and will treat the woodwork there in a similar manner.

The Trent Canal, from one end to the other, is being greatly improved this year. Between the painters, carpenters, masons, dredges, scows, laborers, and mechanics of various kinds, the government is spending a lot of money. Many new piers and wharves are being built, and channels are being deepened, while one or two dams are being replaced. Navigation should be good this year.

Special to the Review.

Campbellford, May 21.— The engineering staff here are making great progress. They are under Messrs. Reid, Spence and Brophy, and their work is to complete in detail the surveys made by the department's engineers last year. This is being rushed, and when completed the specifications and plans will be prepared, and tenders called, for the dredging and building of the Trent Canal from Rice Lake to Trenton. There are three engineering staffs, consisting of some twenty men, on the job, with headquarters, at Campbellford, Healy Falls and Trenton.

Special to the Review.

Young's Point, May 21.— When the tourists come up this summer they will not know where they are when they reach Young's Point Last year many improvements were started at the locks here and were carried on all summer. This was principally dredging the channel, and building the new concrete pier. This has all been completed, the gates have been repainted, and have been fitted with modern opening apparatus, and the general appearance of the neighborhood has been greatly improved. This point has, in fact, been made one of the prettiest spots along the canal and the residents here are very proud of it.

The dredge, which has been working here for the past year, has completed its work, and is now operating below the locks towards Lakefield. There is a lot of work to be done on this stretch of the canal to guard against shallow water in the summer.

Great improvements have also been made around the canal and locks at Burleigh and it looks almost like a new place. Modern opening fixtures have also been placed on these locks.

Teachers of Peterborough Are in Annual Convention

Opened This Morning in Central School—Principal Auden of Upper Canada College Will Give an Address To-night.

The annual convention of the teachers of Peterborough opened this morning in the Central School. There was a large attendance and the session was a most profitable one. The president of the City Teachers' Institute, Mr. Kelly, presided, and the meeting opened with the reading of the minutes by the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Kerr. His statement showed the Teachers' Institute to be in excellent condition financially.

The president, Mr. Kelly, in his opening address, thanked the institute for the honor conferred upon him in electing him to the presidency He referred to the fact that Peterborough was becoming an important educational centre, and alluded to the value of Teachers' Institutes They developed the teachers and in this connection he stated that papers prepared by teachers were often of more benefit than those given by outsiders.

Miss McCarthy, of St. Peter's T. A. S., gave an interesting talk on water colors, in which she furnished much valuable information. She illustrated by means of crayons, some of the points brought out.

It was moved by Mr. McDonnell, and seconded by Mr. Hodgson, that a vote of thanks be tendered Miss McCarthy.—Carried.

"Composition" was the subject dealt with by Mr. T. J. Wallace. He pointed out that composition should be taught informally, and in a conversational way. Definitions were deadening, if taught in a formal way. The child expects approbation of his composition. Continual fault finding on the part of the teacher will have a discouraging effect. Mr. Wallace illustrated his remarks by means of a composition.

An interesting discussion followed in which a large number of those present took part.

In speaking of "Cardboard Modelling," Mr. F. E. Kerr dealt with the importance of the subject in character training, especially in promoting the qualities of accuracy and method He declared that these are taught in all subjects, so that it scarcely seemed necessary to have one subject for promoting these features. He showed some models and dealt on the necessity of accuracy in the drawings preceding the models In this work proper tools must be used or inaccurate work must be the result.

The convention is in session this afternoon at St. Peter's school. To-night an open meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall, when Prof. H. W. Auden, principal of Upper Canada College, will give an address. It is expected that there will be a large number in attendance as Principal Auden is an interesting speaker. His subject will be "Tendencies in Education."

The convention will be in session all day tomorrow.

Sugar Goes Up in Price; 30c Per Cwt. in Three Weeks

If the price of sugar continues to advance at the rate it has been bounding upward during the past three weeks, the saccharine product will be almost as dear as rubies by the time green apples are ready for cooking, that is if weather will even allow the fruit of the old apple tree to get started on the way to maturity.

During the past three weeks the price of sugar has advanced thirty cents per hundred. This was the information given the Review yesterday by a local wholesale man. He stated that prices had advanced 10c last week, 10c. the week before, and 10c. the week before that. Asked if another ten cent advance was likely this week he replied that it was quite probable, although he hoped that such would not be the case. These prices refer to the cost of sugar to the wholesaler, and of course the advances will soon effect the retailer and in a short time the consumer will be called upon to pay higher prices.

MYRTLE WRECK ENQUIRY

ONTARIO BANK REAL ESTATE

Valuers Appointed to Ascertain Work of Properties of Defunct Bank.

It is understood that Messrs. Pearson Bros., real estate agents, of Adelaide street east, Toronto, have been appointed by the Bank of Montreal and the liquidators of the Ontario Bank, to adjust all the real estate properties of the defunct Ontario Bank, which the Bank of Montreal are taking over. The adjustment includes the ascertaining of the values of all properties, whether freehold, or only on lease, and, as the Ontario Bank had property in a great many places throughout Canada, the work of valuing will probably be an extensive one.

OBITUARY

MRS. WM. DOBBIN.

The death, which occurred at the Nicholls Hospital this morning, of Mrs. Wm. Dobbin, removes an old resident of the city, at the advanced age of 84 years. Deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. Jos. Ford, and came to Canada in 1856. A few weeks ago she had a very serious fall, resulting in a fracture of the hip. It was felt by the physicians in attendance that at her advanced age very little hope could be held of even partial recovery, and gradually growing weaker, she passed away today.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, from the residence of her step-son, Mr. F. H. Dobbin, 622 George street, and will be private.

PASSED AWAY IN ROCHESTER

Fred Logan, Formerly of Peterborough, Died Last Night

The sad intelligence was received in the city this morning by Mr Wm Logan Brock street, of the sudden death of his son, Mr. Fred Logan, which occurred last night in Rochester The deceased was widely known in this city, having lived here for many years. He was employed by Mr. H. LeBrun and was an enthusiastic lacrosse player. He was also a member of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O.F.

Besides his parents four sisters are left to mourn his loss. They are Misses Venie, Norma, Winnifred and Rae, all residing at home. Miss M. Logan, of this city, is a half-sister.

A Rochester despatch says,—Fred Logan, forty years old, died on Main street tonight. His home is at Peterborough, where he has wealthy parents. He spoke of feeling cold and sat down in a chair to rest. Two minutes after, he was found dead.

No arrangements have as yet been made regarding the funeral.

CANADA FLAKES ENGLISH MARKET

Mr. Sutcliffe, of Manchester, Eng., Was in the City on Business

Arrangements are on foot for introducing the products of the Peterborough Cereal Co., on the English market. So far this year no export business has been done, owing largely to the increasing demand in Canada, for Canada Flakes. But Mr Sutcliffe, of Manchester, Eng., a large manufacturer of powder jellies, etc., was in the city a few days ago, trying to make a proposition with Mr W H Meldrum. The scheme is that the Peterborough Cereal Co. handle the goods made by Mr. Sutcliffe, and his firm will handle the Canada Flakes and other cereals, in England. The Cereal Co. has been handling Kkovah Jellies for the past year, but the Old Country firm makes some 25 different specialties used in every household. Mr. Sutcliffe is now in Toronto and it is quite possible that Canada Flakes will be put on the English market by him. He will return to the city in a few days.

INSPECTOR WAS IN PETERBORO'

REVIEW LETTER BOX

WHAT IS HIS GAME?

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The daily knocker, otherwise known as the Examiner, publishes an editorial with a big headline on Mr. Kendry, saying that he uses his position in the commissionship of licenses, for politics as he intends to become a candidate. Well if he does, Mr. Examiner, he'll get there and don't you forget it. When Hon. J. R. Stratton gets through with R. R. Hall, and John Finlay, which of them is it has to go? It's Stratton for the west, Stratton for the east, Stratton for any port in a storm. It will be Stratton for nowhere. When the Examiner next publishes the resolution of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church Board endorsing highly and completely the license commissioners, it might be as well for it to report it like a man, and not try to mislead their subscription list with false headlines. Mr. Stratton will never sit for Peterborough W., you may be sure of that. Kendry can have the nomination of the Conservative Party if he will take it and he could lick J. R. hands down, so go on with your insinuations.

Yours,
ONLOOKER.

"MERCHANT" REPLIES.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The verbosity of "Common Sense" has again found vent in a long-winded letter— a veritable wind bag, and a reflex of its author. His braying betrays his true identity. He says nothing that is germane to the subject, but concedes his defective understanding of the English language and places the Chief of Police on a par with himself. He craves for the language of his mother tongue—the vernacular of the gutter, with which he has adorned his letters. He again damns the Chief with faint praise and reiterates what he said before about his lethargy in the performance of his duties and repeats his proposal that private citizens be their own policemen. He cannot understand how the Chief should know of anything going on, except, perchance, he should read the Review. Having been aroused to a sense of his asininity by the unpleasant fix into which he has placed himself, he tries to sneak out of it at the eleventh hour by denying that he has any backyard or rubbish to burn, or for that matter anything else, even a particle of "Common Sense," which he has been parading before the public. If there were any truth in his death-bed repentance, why did he make himself so officious in a matter that did not concern him, and gratuitously assume the self-imposed task of advocating the defence of others, who tacitly pleaded guilty by their silence. It is another case of "and fools rush in," etc. In other words, that may appeal to his limited understanding, let him mind his own business.

Yours, etc.,
MERCHANT.

May 22nd, 1907.

HE RESTS HIS CASE

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Having no rubbish to burn and no yard in which to burn it, permit me to state that the matter I have contributed in reply to the effusions of "Merchant" has been furnished simply for the purpose of taking a round out of a citizen who apparently has no more idea of what he is writing about than a South Sea Islander has about higher theology. If "Merchant" had a real grievance instead of an imaginary one, he would go to the police station with his complaint, instead of to a newspaper office. If he is as anxious to see the city protected as he would lead one to believe, he would take the proper course, instead of using up newspaper space which I am sure the editor of the Review could devote to a better purpose. "Merchant," whoever he is, apparently has little to do and a lot of time in which to do it. His articles to the press show a painful lack of gray matter, and it is to be hoped he is through harping on the rubbish question. Any ability he possesses can be devoted to other purposes, with more good to the community. He is a knocker of the approved type, and it is too bad that he does not throw away his little hammer and cease his pounding. This is my last letter on this subject. I would like to know the opinion of Review readers as to "Merchant." His letters are a good index of his nature and worth as a citizen. Here's hoping that "Merchant" will contribute no more rubbish—at least until another season.

Yours, etc.,
COMMON SENSE.

STREET CARS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—The conductors on the street railway after ten o'clock p.m., run at intervals to suit themselves, apparently. The 10.30 p.m. cars, due at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets last evening, left seven minutes ahead of schedule time. Two ladies had to run a hundred yards, having first sent ahead an old-time sprinter, who chased and climbed the steps of the moving car. The ladies were going to the extreme westerly limit of the line. Cars at night after 10 p.m., especially to be of use to ladies who are out spending the evening without escorts, should be very careful to leave on time. Our streets being tramped by toughs, ladies do not care to stand unprotected for fifteen minutes on the corners.

Yours, etc.,
SPRINTER.

They Hurt You. Use Zutoo.

Don't think because the drug cures for headache do not make your heart palpitate, dull your nerves or upset your stomach just when you take them, that they are not hurting you, for they are.

The magazine "Health" speaks truly when it says: "Every dose of such drugs is at the expense of vitality, and sooner or later the penalty for outraging nature will be exacted."

You can avoid this penalty and cure your headaches just as quickly by taking the vegetable cure, Zutoo.

Beautify Little Lake Cemetery Is Watchword of the Directors

Annual Spring Meeting Held Yesterday—Grounds Are in Excellent Condition—Repairs Will be Made—Thousands of Flowering Plants Ready to go Out—Population is Now 6000.

Many improvements will be made and are being made to the Little Lake cemetery this year. The annual spring meeting of the directors of the company was held on the grounds yesterday afternoon, when the programme was mapped out. The principal undertakings will be draining the springy land on the hill fronting the river, and below the vault, so that when a grave is dug to a depth of six feet, the bottom will be found perfectly dry. The system of drainage is very complete, where it has been put in and the surface water, instead of soaking into the ground, runs directly into the lake and river.

Road-making and repairing will be another big item. At the present time the roads are in excellent condition and are very creditable to the company and to the city and district. They are the best made roads to be found anywhere. Only the best material is used, and it is properly laid and rolled, so that the driveways are almost like pavement. Still there are a few patches which will be torn up and rebuilt this spring. Last fall there were about 250 cubic yards of the best gravel drawn onto the roads, which was thoroughly rolled this spring. In this connection it might be mentioned that Crescent street, which was put in such excellent condition last year, requires a little attention this spring. If the city spent a few dollars on it, it would be as good as last year, when everyone commented favorably upon it.

The fountain, which has been out of commission for the past two years will be repaired and used again. The vault suffered from frost during the winter and it will also undergo repairs.

The directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company have adopted an extensive programme for the general improvement and betterment of the cemetery. The idea before them is to have a beautiful open park, free of fences, railings, hedges and rough spots. They have been working towards this end for several years and that they have succeeded remarkably well is known to all. The work this year was started some five or six weeks ago by Superintendent Frank Wise, who has had a large staff of men on, and notwithstanding the backward season, the cemetery looks remarkably well.

The conservatory, which was extended last year, and which will probably be further extended this year plays a very important part in the beautifying of the cemetery grounds. All winter Superintendent Wise has worked hard on the flowers for the spring planting, and there is no doubt but that this thickly populated city of the dead, will be a bower of beauty. There are thousands of flowering plants, all ready for putting out, either in the beds made by the directors, or for disposal to those having plots. None of these flowers can be sold to anyone, except for decorating the graves, thus preventing any trouble which would arise otherwise.

A number of the plots have suffered considerably through the heavy rains, especially the downpour a few days ago. There are many holes in the ground and some of the graves require attention. The directors hereby request all owners to attend to this matter at once, as they are particularly anxious to have everything in excellent condition before Decoration Day. The majority of the lots could be made right by an expenditure of about $1.00 or $1.50, and the directors will have the work done if the owners so instruct them.

The population of the Little Lake cemetery is now nearly 6,000 or about half as large as the whole city of Peterborough. The first person buried there was the late James F. Albro, who died in May 1851.

The directors present at the meeting were President W. H. Moore, Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, B. Shortly, J. J. Lundy, W. G. Morrow, and Sec.-Treas. E. A. Peck.

Two Bicycles Have Been Stolen

No less than two bicycles have been reported stolen within the past few days. It is apparently not safe for owners of wheels to leave them outside a building, as they are in danger of being taken. It is a rather serious loss for anyone to lose a bicycle, as they are rather expensive articles. Last Friday evening about 9.30 o'clock, a "Planet" bicycle was stolen. The number of it was 4135. Anyone knowing anything of its whereabouts will please communicate with Chief Renzel.

Last evening a black frame Cleveland wheel was taken from in front of the T.A.S. rooms, between eight and ten o'clock.

Bicycle owners had better be careful where they leave their wheels in the future, or they will find they have to walk when they want to go home.

Guild Will Have One More Meeting

The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church held a regular meeting last night, at which there was a fair attendance. The President, Mr. W. Richardson, occupied the chair, and the meeting proved interesting and profitable. One more more meeting will be held before the close of the season.

The Guild is making active preparations for its annual excursion on June 20th. The outing promises to be the best ever held.

COUNTY POLICE COURT CASES

Gusty Dundas' Case Fell Through—North Monaghan Youths Let Off.

County Magistrate Edmison held court yesterday afternoon and disposed of two cases. Gustavus Dundas, better known as "Gusty," had a charge of theft laid against George Stevens of Ashburnham, the allegation being that Stevens had stolen some goods from Gusty's house in North Monaghan, while the owner was in jail last winter. Gusty has been after the county officials for some time asking them to lay a complaint against Stevens, and at last it was done, although it was felt, that the case would not amount to much. Gusty's star witness was an old man, whom he insisted should be brought in from the House of Refuge, at Lakefield, but when the fellow was put on the stand he swore that he knew nothing about the matter. He was the only witness for the prosecution, and of course the charge could not be pressed without evidence and the Magistrate dismissed the case. The Crown was put to considerable expense by Gusty insisting that the charge against Stevens be pressed.

The other case was that of the two boys, Harry Bestard and Manson Giles, charged with stealing some tools from James Arnott, a North Monaghan farmer, who resides a short distance from the city. The boys admitted stealing the goods, but stated that they did not carry them away. In view of the fact, that the two youths had never been in trouble before, they were allowed to go free by paying the cost of the court.

WARNING TO DOG OWNERS

Little Dog Frightened Horse and Accident Was Narrowly Averted

What might have been a very serious accident, occurred Sunday afternoon, as Mr. and Mrs. W. Jackson, Albert street, were driving up Rubidge, near the corner of Sherbrooke street. A little dog jumped at the horse, and as it is a very spirited colt, it made a bolt, breaking the shafts. Mr. Jackson, being a good man with the reins, held onto them. A young man passing at the time, caught the animal by the bridle and held on until the occupants got out of the buggy.

Heavy Fine in This School Case

Tyendinaga Farmer Used Abusive Language to Lady Teacher

A case of considerable interest was before the Magistrate this morning, and from the array of witnesses present it looked very much as if it would last the day, but such proved not to be the case, says the Belleville Intelligencer. It appears that a man named John McDonald recently moved into Tyendinago township, and his children were sent to a school which is in school section No. 4, the teacher being Miss Bishop, of this city. Some trouble arose, and the result was the case in court.

Mr McDonald was charged with using abusive language towards Miss Bishop, and Ernest McDonald, a son of the accused, was charged with assaulting Fred Bennett and Harry Sime, two scholars of the said school, by striking them with a whip, not only on the school grounds, but in the school. To these charges the defendants pleaded guilty, but alleged that they were provoked by the teacher and scholars. Magistrate Mason stated that was no justification for their offence. The matter was settled by a fine and costs being imposed upon McDonald, which amounted to $43.06. The money was paid in court. The trouble occurred on Thursday, the 2nd inst.

Mr. Carnew appeared for the teacher and school trustees, and the defendants were not represented by counsel. A number of the scholars were brought to the city as witnesses, but were not required to give evidence.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

A VAGUE INSINUATION

The Examiner last night, commenting on the administration of the License Act, took occasion to make some very vague insinuations regarding Mr. James Kendry, a respected member of the Board.

The Grit sheet remarks:

"Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., was appointed and still remains a License Commissioner for the West Riding of Peterborough, and seems to have lost none of his rabid political bias, or none of his activity as a politician, in the process * * * * * Mr. Kendry, as License Commissioner, and Mr. Kendry as a practical and active politician, may think he can play the double role without mixing the parts but it cannot be denied that he exposes himself to the temptation of making his official position, as a servant of the public, subservient to the promotion of his political plans. It is probable that he is not likely to resist the temptation very strenuously, in fact it is stated that the place is not a thousand miles distant from Peterborough, nor the time a quarter of a century from the present year, when he made the office and influence of James Kendry, License Commissioner, play into the hands of James Kendry, the politician."

Will the Examiner please say what are its charges? Be definite; do not indulge in mean and nasty insinuations. Name one specific instance, where Mr. Kendry has, as you allege, sought to advance or influence his own interests, political or otherwise, by means of his connection or association with the License Board in West Peterborough.

Anyone can hurl contemptible slurs, make broad, non-committal charges, or indulge in double-entendre statements.

Make an assertion of fact, furnish one specific instance or cease such miserable practices.

Make good your veiled insinuations. It would be refreshing to hear from you, after your long connection with the administration of the license department in West Peterborough during the Ross regime.

Do not speak in riddles or enigmas. If you have anything to say, any complaint to make against Mr. Kendry or the Board, any hidden grievance to air, or any "sensation" to explode come on.

You have made a veiled threat, some sort of a charge, probably with a hidden meaning, or one having a motive, personal or otherwise behind it all.

Speak out. Either be a man or a mouse.

THE SPIRIT OF SELFISHNESS

There are many kinds of selfishness exhibited by people of all ranks. In Toronto passengers on street cars are complaining bitterly of the "end seat hog." He plants himself down at the end of a seat in an open car and will not move over. All who enter have to brush by him. He impedes their passage.

The "end seat hog" is found in every city. Still another class that might be referred to, is the church seat manipulator. He does not desire anyone, stranger or visitor, to sit in his pew. He wants it all for himself, although he may occupy only a small portion of it. Anyone who is placed in his pew by the ushers is looked at askance, and made to feel, to a certain extent, that he is not welcome. Happily this condition of affairs does not exist in Peterborough, so far as the Review can learn and in nearly all the city churches, the pews at the evening services are free and unappropriated. But unpleasant incidents have arisen in other places. On Sunday last in Kingston, according to the News a stranger visited a city church and was shown by an usher to a seat. He had just got comfortably seated when two "ladies" who move in Kingston's best society, walked down the aisle, till they arrived at the door of the pew he was sitting in, looked at him, and then sat in the seat behind. Shortly after the gentleman felt a touch on his shoulder and he heard a sharp disagreeable voice say, "Do you know you are in our pew, and have no right there; the best thing you can do is get up and get out." Needless to say, the man was dumbfounded upon hearing the above, but as soon as he got over his surprise he calmly picked up his hat and coat and left the church.

Many of the people sitting near were shocked to think that such a thing could happen in a Christian city, observes the News. Before the gentleman left our city, he was sought out by members of the congregation and made to understand that it was not a case of the congregation being that way, but just a case of individual ignorance upon the part of people who knew no better, although they were expected to. Such occurrences as this give our city a bad name among people who are continually travelling about from one place to another, and on account of one or two people of that stamp, the whole congregation will bear the name of not being courteous to strangers who wish to attend service in their church.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Although Sanitary Inspector Ball is on his rounds inspecting all the yards and premises of Peterborough, it will take him several weeks, before he can complete his tour, and bring all those to time, who are negligent in the matter of cleaning up. Peterborough has many natural advantages, and all citizens should take a just pride in having well-kept lawns and gardens, sanitary yards and wholesome surroundings. Cleanliness tends to make any city beautiful.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society has done much to instil a love of the artistic and attractive by donating bulbs for planting and instituting a competition each year for the prettiest and neatest lawns. This has had a good effect, and has proved a splendid incentive to many, but there are still several delinquents.

Now every householder and property holder should engage in the cleaning up and beautifying process. We might well follow the example of Watertown in New York State. That place had a great cleaning up recently. Its mayor and executive, catching the spirit of other cities and profiting by their experience, appointed a day on which the people were invited to be tidy, by raking lawns and removing from their premises everything that contributed to unsightliness. The city led in the movement. It undertook to remove its scrapings from the roadside, if deposited there on a certain date, which was fixed some time in advance, and towards which the citizens looked with deepening interest.

The occasion was made much of by civic proclamation, and by the meetings and doings of the civic committees. The mayor led in the preparations for the most unusual event. He has as his first lieutenant, the city clerk, a man of detail, who cast himself into the work with great energy. The city was divided into districts, and the clerk made assignments of supervisors to each and so arranged that the renovation would be rigorously prosecuted and made complete.

"Mayor Hugo, says that Watertown has great reason to rejoice over the May day transformation. The city is now clean, perfectly clean, and its air was never sweeter than it is at present. The invitation to clean up was generally accepted. Yards and alley ways and lawns were gone over in a surprising way. The stimulus given by the city, and above all the offer to cart away the refuse, worked wonders and the expense was not so great—$800. There never before was so much accomplished for so little money."

It may be too late to inaugurate such an organized movement in this city this year, but it is not too late to clean up lawns, and yards, and vacant lots, and keep them clean, for the owners own satisfaction and the credit of the city.

PEN POINTS

A Toronto paper says that "moral reformers are training their guns at the Woodbine." The query arises, where could a better training ground be found?

Is the present trouble along the docks in Montreal settled? Go-long-shoreman! it was all over on Monday.

Still 1,800 farm hands are needed by the farmers of Ontario. If the weather does not moderate soon, these men can get out the usual winter supply of cordwood, leaving the harvest for another year.

There is a small village near Ottawa called Stittsville. A clergyman tried to perform a miracle there by placing his hands on and bidding a cripple arise and walk but the expected failed to happen. The exponent of holiness should first try his skill on some politicians in parliament, and see how quickly they respond to the "sense of touch."

Because a young cadet, at the Royal Military College, Kingston, shaved off his moustache, and thus violated a regulation of the Commandant, he was reduced to the ranks and will not be allowed to try his examinations. Surely this is discipline with a vengeance, a Czar-like decree that savours of mediaeval times. Talk about hair splitting disputes this ukase that every man must wear a capillary adornment on his upper lip, has anything in the line of modern decrees, easily "beaten to mile."

The petition in circulation for the release of Alex. Shairpe from the Kingston penitentiary, where he has served six years of a fifteen-year sentence, is evidently worthy of general support. The man, who is now nearly 70 years of age, has surely atoned for the crime, which he committed in a moment of anger and weakness, and under strong provocative circumstances. Shairpe has been a model prisoner, and has, surely after six year's confinement in a penal institution, paid sufficient penalty for his rash act. He is in a poor state of health and desires to spend the few remaining years of his life a free man. The jury at the time Shairpe was convicted in Peterborough brought in a strong recommendation to mercy, and the sentence of fifteen years was generally regarded, as unduly severe. The petition for the release of Shairpe, may be found at the office of Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, and anyone signing it will in no way interfere with the administration of justice. All those having full knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the affair, feel that the prisoner should be reprieved.

THIS LADY HAD A LIVELY DRIVE

Mrs. Stevenson, wife of Mr. R. Stevenson of Ops, had an experience with a runaway horse on Saturday last. She was driving home from Lindsay, with her little son, when the animal took fright at a large sign, beside the G.T.R. tracks, on the Little Britain road. It galloped at a headlong pace for about three miles. Mrs. Stevenson bravely held onto the lines and the horse was finally brought to a standstill.

GOOD TURNOUT AT WEEKLY DRILL

57th Regiment is Rounding into Shape Rapidly—Last Night's Orders

The 57th Regiment had one of the best drills of the season at Central Park last night. The men are rounding into shape rapidly and a few more drills like the one last evening will greatly improve the regiment. The total parade strength was 213. The weather was a little too cold to make drilling pleasant, but the men were kept on the move, and did not seem to mind it. The regiment should be in shape to make a good impression in St. Catharines, when they visit that city on July 1st, but in order to be in the best condition, it is necessary that the drills should be well attended, during the coming month. Company, squad and battalion drill were practiced last night.

The following orders were read,—

THE ENGINEER SAID THINGS

On Friday last the crew of the Bobcaygeon train had an experience with cows, and they declare them to be the most obstinate creatures on earth. The train was coming along on the other side of Dunsford, when three cows passed over the cow-catchers and ran along in front of the engine. The engine was stopped and the whistle was tooted numerous times but to no avail. Finally the crew got off and drove the frightened animals away, though not without difficulty.

Dance Was Most Enjoyable Event

A most enjoyable dance was held in the Foresters' Hall last night, when the "old maids" of the city entertained their bachelor friends to a jolly hop. About a hundred were in attendance and a delightful time was spent. The ladies had made splendid arrangements and are to be congratulated on the success of the event. Music was furnished by a pianist from Toronto, who supplied excellent music. Dainty refreshments were served at midnight and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AGRICULTURE TO BE TAUGHT

New Subject in the Lindsay Collegiate Institute

The Lindsay Board of Education has decided to accept the offer of the Ontario Government, and will establish a department for the teaching of scientific agriculture, at the Collegiate Institute. That there would be some little risk in entering into the scheme, seemed to be the general opinion of the members, but they also felt that, if successful, the venture would greatly benefit Victoria County. The hearty support of the County Council is, however, necessary to ensure the success of the project.—Lindsay Post.

BLAMES HEALER FOR HER DEATH

Woman Died From Lack of Proper Medical Treatment

New York, May 20.—Following an inquest into the death of Mrs. Corinne McBride while under treatment by two Christian Science healers, the coroner's jury found the woman might not have died had proper medical attendance been furnished.

The verdict censured the woman's husband, Robert C. McBride, for failing to furnish such medical attendance as a sister of the dead woman demanded. The jury also censured Margaret Duncan and Mrs. Ann C. Crowley, the healers who attended Mrs. McBride.

"We had a number of medical doctors in New York City," the verdict added, "who make it a practice to furnish death certificates for persons who died under the so-called Christian Science treatment, thus enabling Christian Science practitioners to evade the laws of the State of New York with their so-called treatment. We respectfully call the attention of the department of health of the city of New York, the district attorney of New York county, and the medical society of New York county, to the practice of such physicians and request them to take all the necessary steps required by law to put a stop to such practices and punish the perpetrators thereof.

The inquest brought out some interesting facts about the practice of Christian Science healing in this city. One of the witnesses examined was Miss Margaret Duncan, the healer who treated Mrs. McBride from the beginning of her illness. Miss Duncan is a good looking woman, about 30 years old. Her eyes are large and blue, and every little while she gazed skyward in a most impressive manner. She told how she had cured a severe cut on a negress' foot by Christian Science treatment.

HEALER'S EXPLANATION OF DEATH.

Regarding Mrs. McBride, she said: "I think the shock of asking her in her weakened condition if she would have a doctor caused the reaction which resulted in her death. I know she was on the way to recovery when I left her. She died two hours after the question was put to her."

The coroner wanted to know why it was Miss Duncan had summoned Mrs. Sarah Bailey, a regular physician, at the last minute.

"Well," said Miss Duncan, "it was because Mr. McBride said Mrs. McBride was dying, and I felt it necessary to have a physician. We have to have a physician when they die."

Miss Duncan said there are about twenty Christian Science healers in the church to which she belongs—the First Church of Christ.—About 4,000 cases were treated by healers last year. The price is $1 a visit at the healer's office; $2 or more when the healer visited a patient at his or her home.

"Then," said one of the jurors, "the prayer is paid for at $1 a visit or more."

"No," said Miss Duncan, "the prayer is not paid for; the time of the healer is paid for."

SISTER CALLS IT MURDER.

Mrs. Alice Chism, a sister of Mrs. McBride, testified that she suggested medical attention from the beginning of her sister's illness. Mrs. Chism couldn't say exactly what the nature of the Christian Science treatment was.

"It was putting hands over Mrs. McBride's eyes, giving a science," she thought.

"Mrs McBride," said the witness, "died with my name on her lips, calling for me. I told Mr. McBride it was a case of murder. Mr. McBride told me to please change my thought, but I said, 'I can't change my thought like you can your menu.'"

Dr. Alfred E. Wesson, coroner's physician, who granted the death certificate, and then failed to report the case to the coroner's physician, also was examined. Dr. Wesson was asked:

"Had a drug been administered and had she received medical attendance would Mrs. McBride have recovered?"

"I think she would," said Dr. Wesson. "If I had been called in I certainly would not have regarded the case as hopeless."

Mr. McBride in his testimony said: "Saturday afternoon Mrs. Chism said she wanted a physician called. I told Mrs. Chism if Mrs. McBride wanted a physician she would have one. I went to my wife and said: 'Alice, are you not satisfied with the way you are getting on? Do you want a physician?' Her answer was emphatically 'No, nothing between God and His idea.'"

"PE-RU-NA WAS SUCCESSFUL WHERE DOCTORS FAILED,"

Writes Mr. Cholette After Taking Pe-ru-na.

MR. MENESIPPE CHOLETTE.

Mr. Menesippe Cholette, Ste. Therese de Blairville, P. Q., writes:

"I shall never be able to speak in terms high enough to express the entire confidence I have in Peruna.

"There is nothing better to restore health. I took eight bottles.

"All the pains I had in the head and bowels, also the catarrh of the nose and stomach, as well as all other symptoms disappeared after I had taken the third bottle.

"Peruna was successful where two doctors had failed.

"Were I the first to testify in favor of this remedy, it might be thought that I exaggerate, but many testimonials before mine have pointed out the great virtue of this effective tonic.

"It would be unreasonable to undervalue a remedy which has snatched from premature death poor human beings who were beyond rescue by the doctors.

"This remedy has restored many a victim of incipient consumption and other diseases.

"Peruna is the best remedy for all catarrhal diseases."

WHEN the catarrh has become systemic,—that is, when it has been allowed to spread through the entire system, it is a difficult disease to cure.

Physicians do not always understand it and some of them do not care to treat it. Hence the inability of a great many patients to find a cure.

The correct thing to do for these cases is to make use of some internal, systemic catarrh remedy,—one that will reach every internal organ of the body and exercise a healing, strengthening and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes lining these various organs.

Such a remedy has been found in Peruna.

As Mr. Cholette states, his testimonial is not the first one written in behalf of Peruna, the remedy which brings permanent relief in all cases of systemic catarrh.

Woman's Missionary Society Of Charlotte Street Church

Encouraging Reports Presented at the Annual Meeting—Progress of Olive Mission Band—Instructive Address by Mrs. Morrow.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Charlotte Street Church was held last night in the Sunday school room There was an encouraging attendance showing an increased interest in mission work, proving that the ladies are doing their share in spreading God's Word among the unenlightened heathen. Mrs. (Rev.) Kilgour, president of the Society, occupied the chair, and led in the usual opening exercises.

Mrs. Morrison gave a reading that was in taste and was well received. Mrs. H. B. Collier favored the assemblage with a vocal solo, after which, Mrs. Morrow, late of Victoria, B. C., gave an interesting address on the increased missionary work in China. In late years, the speaker said the doors of that country have become opened to missionaries, which is a matter for thankfulness. She gave instances of Chinese girls who became Christians and who worked a great change in the home life of the family. The address was an excellent one and brought home to the members of the society the actual work being accomplished.

GREETINGS FROM VISITORS.

Following Mrs. Morrow's address the representatives from the missionary societies of other churches spoke, referring to the general progress being made in the movement.

Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter of Murray Street Baptist Church, addressed a few words to the gathering, thanking the ladies of Charlotte Street Church for their kind invitation. She mentioned the wonderful work that has been done in China, in the past few years and expressed the hope that it would continue. Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Lewis gave a greeting from Mark Street Society on behalf of the president, Mrs. Speer, who was unavoidably absent.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mrs. Allum, treasurer of the Society, presented the report, as follows,—

In presenting our annual financial report, we are glad to tell of an increase of nearly $12 over the previous year's income.

For last year we had annual members	32
Honorary	f
Life	3
Total	46

Our income was as follows,—

Balance in treasury from previous year	$ 2.70
Annual members' fees	43.00
Missionary sermon	5.56
Mite boxes	6.63
Donations from Auxiliary members	29.20
Easter thank-offering	30.00
Bank interest	.22
Total	$112.31

EXPENDITURE.

Sent to branch treasurer	$104.19
Treasurer's receipt book	.14
Delegate's expenses	6.00
Life members, pin and certificate	3.25
Postage and money orders	.68
Balance in treasury	2.45
Total	$112.31

We notice among our members a growing interest in the mission work This has been evidenced in a very practical way, for while during the year 1906, we had received nearly $30 from public meetings, last year we had only one collection, $5.56, so that with that exception our whole revenue was contributed in straight giving by the ladies of our auxiliary.

OLIVE MISSION BAND.

Miss Sophia Elliott read the report of the Olive Mission Band, showing that considerable progress has been enjoyed by this society of young ladies. The report was as follows,—

In reviewing the past year, we are thankful to be able to report progress and an increasing interest in the Mission Band and we appreciate very highly the interest shown by the mothers, and the practical assistance given us by many friends.

During the year we have quilted two quilts, kindly donated by Mrs. Rawley. We have now three quilts on hand, and if any of the congregation know of a needy case, we would be delighted to dispose of the quilts in this way.

Our Easter thankoffering amounted to $8.03. In June a picnic was held at Jackson Park, and although the weather was unfavorable an enjoyable time was spent. Our "Sock Social" in November, was well patronized. Proceeds $12.68, a larger amount realized than at last year's social, as some of our friends had such generous big feet.

During Christmas week, the girls prepared and sent a box of fruit, candy and nuts to the Indian children at Hiawatha.

Our total receipts for the year amounts to $105.02. Of this amount $25.00 have been donated for the Chentu School, China.

Membership 72; average attendance 31.

It is with regret that we report the loss of one of our brightest members by death, little Gladys Irvie.

We hope that the interest in our work, will broaden during the coming year, as we have added to our officers, Mrs. (Dr.) Neal, as Assistant President, and Mrs. John Williams, as overseer of the sewing department.

We again ask the hearty co-operation and help of the mothers and friends, who have been kind to us in the past.

SOPHIE ELLIOTT,
Rec.-Sec.

The membership is not as large as last year, owing to the organization of a Mission Circle of the older girls of the church. Thirty have enrolled their names already, and it is hoped that many others will make use of this opportunity of co-operating in the great missionary work.

Mrs. Kilgour, on behalf of the Society, expressed her gratitude to all those who had lent assistance at any time. The meeting was brought to a close by singing "God be with you till we meet again."

Mrs. (Rev.) Campbell lead the meeting in the closing prayer.

MISSION CIRCLE OF PARK ST. CHURCH

Annual Meeting Held Yesterday—Interesting Address.

The president, Miss M. Mann, occupied the chair. The friends rallied well, while a large delegation from the Murray street Circle were present. A long table, the whole length of the church, was tempitingly spread with refreshments. The president, in introducing Rev. J. R. Webb, referred to the fact that 11 years tomorrow the Circle was organized. Miss Walton, of Gilmour Memorial church, who was present and gave an address, was at that historic meeting. The Circle had done splendid work, and the motto for this year was that taken by the World's Sunday School Convention now in session at Rome, viz., it is the whole business of the church, and it is the business of the whole church to give the whole gospel to the whole world.

Rev Mr. Webb's address was a complete pronouncement on missions, from Acts first chapter, "Ye shall be witness unto me in Jerusalem." He said here the kingdom of God should be extended and established. He spoke of the new church enterprise, and believed that every man, woman and child would make a real sacrifice to accomplish the building of the new church. "Judea" was home missions "Samaria" was Grand Ligue work among the Roman Catholics of Quebec. The uttermost parts of the earth was our foreign mission work in India and Bolivia, especially in charge of our Canadian Board.

The choir mustered in good force. Miss Lee and Mr. Jas. Tranter sang a duet, most effectively, "There is no Love Like His Love to Me."

GOOD REPORT.

The secretary, Mrs. Jas. Johnston, read the following report;—

We have a successful year's work to report for our Circle. Two meetings have been held during the year and two new members will be added to our roll. On May 8th the annual meeting for the election of officers was held; in December the entertainment with thankoffering and social. The proceeds were divided between Home and Foreign Missions. We are entering upon another year with every prospect of still greater success for our Circle. There are twenty members on the roll. Subscribers to "The Link," 14; subscribers to "The Visitor," 34.

The following is the Treasurer's report;—

Circle members	$17 20
Thank offering	5 00
Huntsville church	2 00
	$24 20

The ladies worked hard to make the evening profitable. Mrs. Brace and Mrs Mowry welcomed the visitors. There was a liberal offering. A short congratulatory address was given by the pastor, and afterwards refreshments were served.

LAID TO REST

Funeral of the Late Isabel Roger Took Place This Afternoon

The funeral of the late Miss Isabel Roger, whose death occurred on Monday, took place this afternoon at three o'clock, from the family residence "Cordach," to Little Lake Cemetery. It was very largely attended, many people turning out to pay their last token of respect to the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The pallbearers were Messrs. Sheriff Hall, T. A. S. Hay, J. D. Collins, W. W. Johnston, H. Bertram, and Robert Innis. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance of St. Paul's church. Rev. Mr. Duncan, of Toronto gave an address at the house.

Mr. G. M. Roger was unable to be present at the funeral, it being impossible to locate him by wire.

EXPLANATION AS TO THE WEATHER

Prof. Wiggins Tells About the Present Cold Snap.

The Ottawa Journal says,—Yesterday morning the thermometer at the Experimental Farm, registered 29 degrees, 3 degrees of frost. This is the coldest 21st of May for many years, and many Ottawans awoke this morning to the unpleasant realization that Jack Frost was still with them.

Prof. E Stone Wiggins, of Ottawa, a well-known meteorologist, has a good explanation for the prevailing cold weather. Cyclones, he says, start about this time in the year and travel in one of two courses. They may go up the course of the Mississippi River, and cross, north of Ottawa to connect with the Gulf of St. Lawrence, or they may cut across the continent, and passing south of Ottawa, find the gulf by that route. As is well known the action of the cyclones is such that it has a strong attraction for winds, and pulls them to it. from all sides. Prof. Wiggins says that this year the cyclone has taken the course south of Ottawa, and is attracting the cooler breezes to blow across the Capital.

"OTONABEE" WAS LAUNCHED TO-DAY

Big Twin Screw Steamer Slid Into the Water Like a Duck

Soon after two o'clock this afternoon the props were knocked from under the new twin screw steamer, Otonabee and the big boat slid down the timbers into Little Lake. It took to water like a duck and floated about as if in full knowledge of the many happy crowds it was to carry down the river this summer.

After the launching ceremonies were over the Otonabee was towed over to the Wolfe street wharf where the big boilers will be put in and the finishing touches put on.

Freddie Graydon, of the Tecumsehs, will likely be played on the home in the holiday game at the Island.

Big Rolls Have Been Received

Peterborough Cereal Co. Will Start Making Korn Flakes June 1st.

After waiting for several weeks the Peterborough Cereal Co., yesterday received the two big rolls which will be used in manufacturing the new cereal known as Korn Flakes. The rolls are the first of the kind made in Canada and special patterns had to be made for them. But they were well made and should give every satisfaction. There are two rolls which are 24 inches in diameter and 24 inches long, while the journals are 6 inches in diameter. Both the rolls and journals are water cooled. The rolls weigh one ton each while the whole machine weighs six tons and is capable of exerting a pressure of thirty tons. The machine cost $1,500, and will be installed the first of the week.

Korn Flakes will be manufactured on the second floor of the mill at the south end of the building. But before the new machine can be put in, the floor has to be greatly strengthened, and a number of alterations and changes will be made in the machinery now running. To do this will necessitate closing down the entire mill for a couple of days although it will take a week to complete the installation.

The Peterborough Cereal Co. is now working on a car-load order for Vancouver, and as this must be completed before the end of the week, the mill cannot be closed down until then.

SUGAR IS GOING UP IN PRICE

It will not be pleasant news to many housewives that sugar is increasing in price. A well-known grocer told the Review today that within the past few days, sugar had gone up thirty cents per hundred, all grades, and that it would likely go still higher. There is no immediate prospect of the price falling.

Old Fire Hall as Show Room

Fred Darcy Wants it for His Automobiles—Committee Could Not Hear

Mr. Fred. Darcy, agent for several makes of automobiles, made application to the Property Committee last night for the use of the old fire hall as an automobile show room. The Property Committee has already approved of the plans for converting these premises into offices for the city officials, and intend recommending the same to the Council. There is no doubt they would be good for Mr. Darcy, but it is a question whether he would care to pay sufficient rent for them to reimburse the city. No action was taken by the committee last night.

ALWAYS GET AHEAD

Another of the 79 Reasons for "Semi-ready" Tailoring Keeping at the Top.

The Semi-ready store has just received another large shipment of the Semi-ready tailoring, and they are very much pleased with them. As usual, the Semi-ready coats have those distinctive touches which were so highly commended at the recent Tailor's Convention held in Chicago.

"The remarkable thing about the Semi-ready tailoring," said the salesman, "is that they always seem to get ahead of the custom tailors in their designs. The old-style, ready-made garments never amounted to much at any stage, by reason of their being always a season behind the merchant tailor in their styles.

TRAPPER'S VIEWS ON THE WEATHER

Says the Summer Will be Extremely Warm This Year

Havelock, May 22nd.—An old trapper and hunter of the northern part of Peterborough county, visited Havelock on Saturday last. He has successfully predicted the weather of former years, and last fall told exactly what kind of a winter we were to have. When asked what kind of a summer we would have he said that it would remain cool as during the past month, until about the first of July, when it will become extremely warm and continue thus until late into the fall, thus allowing plenty of time for a good crop this year.

Father Fitzpatrick, the popular pastor of St. Martin's church, says that they expect a great crowd from far and near.

ALL RUN DOWN

Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Leduc of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

FERROZONE

It makes the weak strong, the sick well, and assures lasting good health.

WARNING—Beware of any substitute for Ferrozone; it alone can cure you. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine, only in 50c boxes containing 50 chocolate-coated tablets. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

FOUND ONLY THE BONES

Explosion in Pittsburg Mill Takes Five Lives.

Unfortunate Men Were Cremated by Outburst of Gas While at Work—Flames Shot Out Great Distance—Hands Were Unable to Escape—Few Charred Bones All That Was Left.

Pittsburg, May 23.—Two Americans, well-known millmen and three foreigners were cremated and four foreigners seriously burned Tuesday night when an explosion occurred at the Eliza Furnace No. 1, of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company. Of a crew of ten men at the furnace when the accident happened only one, a foreigner, escaped unhurt.

The dead are E. B. Williard, assistant furnace superintendent; John A. West, head blower; and three unknown foreigners.

The names of the four foreigners who were injured are not known. They were hurried to a hospital horribly burned. The accident occurred without a moment's warning. The ten men were about ready to draw off the molten metal when the ore slipped, falling to the bottom of the furnace. The heavy weight of the ore forced the gas with terrific pressure through the first dust catcher which was unable to stand the strain and therefore burst. Williard, West and the three foreigners were directly in front of the furnace. The five other men were back several yards.

For fully ten minutes the flames shot out of the furnace for a great distance and when finally the gas was turned off only a few bones of the five men were found.

RADICALS OR REDS.

Refusal to Be Glad Over Czar's Escape Is Significant.

St. Petersburg, May 23.—The concerted absence from the Lower House of Parliament of the four Radical groups during the formal announcement May 30 of the discovery of the plot against the life of Emperor Nicholas and their frank refusal to congratulate the Emperor on his escape, has made a deep impression in court and Government circles.

The Rossia in three editorials characterizes the action of the Radicals as being openly revolutionary.

The police have made further arrests at Tsarskoe-Selo in connection with the conspiracy against the Emperor and have found among the correspondence seized letters from American anarchists and Russian deserters in the United States.

Premier Stolypin has refused the request of the city council of St. Petersburg to appear before the committee on the unemployed of the Lower House of Parliament.

HINDUS ARE PUNISHED.

One Gets Two Years for Spreading a False Report.

Lahore, British India, May 23.—A Hindu revolutionist, who aroused the fanatics of the Punjab into a state of great excitement by circulating the fantastic statement that the alleged plague did not exist and that the 100,000 deaths weekly attributed to it were really caused by the poisoning of drinking wells by Government emissaries, was sentenced yesterday to two years' rigorous imprisonment.

An accomplice, who dropped harmless balls into the wells, alleging that he did so by order of the Government, was condemned to 18 months' imprisonment.

Million Dollar Furnace.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 23.—Because they cannot get pig iron fast enough to supply the plant without buying in the American market at exorbitant prices, the Algoma Steel Co. will at once commence the erection of a $1,000,000 blast furnace.

Supt. Lewis says it will be the largest furnace in Canada, and its erection will be followed at once with a big coke plant to supply the steel plant.

The child was found at the home of Tilden's mother-in-law in Detroit.

TRAGEDY OF PASSION

Shocking Crime on Farm Near Killarney, Man.

Young Lady Brutally Murdered—Died In Defence of Her Honor—Lawrence Gowland, Farm Hand, Assaults and Kills His Employer's Sister—Afterwards Attempts Suicide—He Will Probably Recover.

Killarney, Man., May 23.—A horrible tragedy occurred shortly after noon yesterday on the farm of John Brown, about three miles from town, when his sister, Georgina, was murdered and her murderer is seriously wounded by his own hand.

When John Brown left his home after dinner yesterday to come to Killarney he left his sister, who keeps house for him, dressing, getting ready to go to a neighbor's, and his hired man, Lawrence Gowland, sitting outside the house. When he came back about three o'clock he found him in his room with his throat cut. Thinking his sister had gone to the neighbor's, he went for her, but, not finding her there, his suspicions were aroused, and, returning with one of his neighbors, they discovered her in her bedroom with her throat cut and dead.

Indications point to the fact that Gowland criminally assaulted the girl before committing the murder. It is also evident that she fought for her life, as there are gashes on her hands and face other than the fatal wounds. The murderer's hands are also badly cut, and the razor used in the dreadful deed was broken, the blade being found on the bureau in the girl's room, and the handle downstairs.

The murderer, after committing the deed, wandered all over the house in search of some instrument to end his own life, for blood stains from his wounded hands were found in every room. At last, securing the butcher knife, he attempted his own life, as this was discovered behind the bed on which he was lying when found. He only succeeded in partly severing his windpipe.

Coroner McKee and Dr. Whyte dressed his wound, and it is quite probable he will recover. Gowland is said to be a Barnardo boy, having spent a year on a farm at Russell. Afterwards he worked for a farmer north of Manitou, and has been with Mr. Brown nearly two years. He was considered by those who knew him to be rather intelligent, but possessed of a violent temper.

An inquest is being held on the body. The murder was committed in the girl's room upstairs. The murderer had taken off his shoes and noiselessly crept up to the room and overpowered the girl while in the act of dressing.

T. D. Brown, barrister, of Moosomin, is a brother of the murdered girl, and Mrs. A. A. Cummings, Rosthern, a sister.

CANADA'S TRADE POLICY.

First to Maintain Preference Given British Goods.

London, May 23.—(C. A. P.)—The Paris correspondent of The Express says Sir Wilfrid Laurier has enabled him to state that it is proposed to negotiate treaties with certain countries, including France, Italy and Switzerland. The policy of the Canadian Government, which is thoroughly understood and appreciated by Downing street, may be said to be the maintenance of the preference given Britain and the development of trade with Britain's least dangerous competitors under the intermediate tariff.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier believes that the idea of colonial preference is growing very fast in England. He entertains a hope that it is being put into practice. For that reason it is unlikely that he will consent to any scheme which might prevent Canada at some future date from joining in a commercial union of the empire.

The Standard's Paris correspondent, confirming the statement in The Express, says he was struck by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's perfect confidence in the future of Canada, his loyalty to Great Britain and the British Government, and the practical philosophy with which he accepted its decision on preferences, but as to the soundness and wisdom of which he had great doubts. It is evident that he regrets sincerely the Government's refusal to take it up. It appears certain that his attitude towards the preference proposals at the Conference was dictated by the necessity of admitting the fact that Britain must judge what suits her best.

WANTED FOR PERJURY.

Extradition Proceedings Against Millionaire Brewer.

Welland, May 23.—The extradition case of Herman Bartles, the millionaire brewer, wanted in New York State on a charge of perjury, was resumed yesterday morning before Judge Wells. Crown Attorney Cowper appeared for New York State, and H. H. Dewart, K. C., Toronto, for the defendant. Bartles' wife and son were in court.

Albert H. Clarke, assistant district attorney at Cayuga County, New York, identified a certified copy of an indictment by the New York grand jury, charging Bartles with an attempt to burn one of his breweries in Auburn, N. Y., in 1904. He also identified Bartles as the man who was accused.

The indictment for perjury against Bartles, in that he had sworn falsely while giving evidence in his trial for arson, was also identified by the witness. Clarke stated that Bartles was in the witness box for over two days.

The hearing was enlarged until May 29, on the understanding that a further adjournment until June 6 will take place, when argument will be heard.

Found Dead In Creek.

Brighton, May 23.—Grand Trunk section foreman Griffin found the body of a man lying face downward, in a small creek about three miles west of Brighton yesterday morning.

There was nothing whatever by which he could be identified, but he was a man about 60 years of age, hair and whiskers half grey, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in height, and weighed about 160 pounds.

He had every appearance of being a tramp.

Coroner Sanford of Brighton, viewed the remains. He found no marks of the man having been struck by a train, or of violence, and deemed an inquest unnecessary. The supposition is that the man either committed suicide or had a fit and fell into the creek and drowned.

Ex-Alderman's Confession.

Buffalo, May 23.—A special to The News from Lockport, N. J., says former Ald. William J. Fredericks was arrested on the charge of bribery in connection with the granting of contracts for the new $500,000 water supply from Niagara River, and released on $2,000 bail furnished by his wife.

Fredericks in a statement is alleged to have said that a pool of $32,000 was divided among members of the city council by a pool of contractors, who put in bids for the construction of the plant.

Fredericks' time expired last December. He is in bad health and in his statement he says he doesn't expect to live more than six months or a year.

To Ensure Pure Wines.

Paris, May 23.—The Cabinet yesterday agreed on the text of a bill which will be introduced in the Chamber of Deputies providing for the suppression of fraudulent and adulterated wines, in the interest of the distressed French growers in all sections of the country.

It will increase the tax and control the sale of sugar used in the adulteration of wines, restrict the number of wine shop licenses and close those which make a practice of selling spurious wines.

The Marathon Mystery

A Story of Manhattan

CHAPTER XXXI.

THE necklace! Of course the necklace!

"But, then," I objected after a moment, "if your theory's correct we're going right away from the necklace. You said that Tremaine had hidden it at Edgemere."

"Yes, but he's no such fool as to come away and leave it hidden there. He's not the man to make the mistake Miss Croydon made—to conceal a thing in a place where he can't get it again without exciting suspicion. No, no; he took the necklace with him to New York. He ran no risk in doing that. Everything had happened just as he hoped it would. There was absolutely no suspicion against him."

"He may have hidden it somewhere else in the meantime," I observed.

"Yes, he may have done that," admitted Godfrey, "and yet why should he? He has no reason to believe that any such suspicion attaches to him. He'll naturally wish to keep the pearls by him until he has a chance to sell them, one by one. He can't do that yet. He'll probably arrange a trip to Europe to get rid of them. If the necklace is concealed at all it's concealed somewhere in his rooms. And if it's there we'll find it!"

"Long Island City!" yelled the guard, slamming open the door. "Change for New York!"

We took the Thirty-fourth street ferry and ten minutes later were in a cab hurrying downtown.

"We'll get Simmonds first," said Godfrey. "I've a sort of reciprocity treaty with him. Besides, we've got to have an officer to make the arrest. Here we are."

He jumped out, paid the driver and hastened up the steps, I after him. As we entered the room I saw that a clock registered half past 10.

"Hello, Simmonds," said Godfrey to a grizzled, stockily built man who had sprung to his feet as we entered. "All alone?"

"Yes. The other boys have turned in."

"That's good. I've got something big for you."

Simmonds' face flushed with sudden emotion.

"Really?" he stammered. "Have you really?"

"The biggest catch that's been made in many a day. But remember our agreement—yours the glory, mine the scoop. Not a word of this to anybody before daybreak."

"Of course not; of course not," assented Simmonds, rubbing his hands together eagerly. "What is it?"

"You've read about that murder and robbery at the [illegible] place near Babylon."

"Yes, certainly. They've got the murderer in jail down there."

"No, they haven't," retorted Godfrey sharply. "We're going to have him in jail inside of twenty minutes."

Simmonds' eyes began to glisten.

"That would be a big thing," he said. "Are you sure of the man?"

"Dead sure. But see here, Simmonds, I haven't time to tell you the whole story now; only I assure you, on my word, that I've evidence against the man which will convict him of one murder and perhaps of two. Is that enough?"

"Yes," said Simmonds instantly, and he opened a drawer from which he took a pistol and a pair of handcuffs. "All right," he added, turning back to us.

"That's good. Better have a lantern, too, though."

"Think so?"

He took down a little dark lantern, lighted it, tested it and put it in his pocket.

"Now I'm ready. Have we far to go?"

"Oh, no; just across the street."

Simmonds started with astonishment.

"You don't mean the Marathon?" he said.

"Just that."

"But who is it we're going after?"

"A fellow named Tremaine."

"Tremaine!" Simmonds' face grew blanker and blanker. "Why, I know him. He's been in here to see me. He doesn't seem at all the kind of fellow who would"—

"So ho!" cried Godfrey. "It was you who told him about the clippings?"

Simmonds colored to the eyes.

"Who told you that?" he stammered.

"No matter; it didn't do any harm; played right into our hands, in fact. But you didn't show your usual perspicacity there, Simmonds. That fellow is the most remarkable scoundrel I've ever run across. Perhaps it's just as well I never met him, or he'd have hypnotized me too. Come along."

Higgins was just shutting the inner doors.

"Do you know whether or not Mr. Tremaine is in his rooms?" asked Godfrey.

"Yes, sir; he went up about an hour ago."

"You have a key to his door?"

"Yes, sir."

"We want you to go up with us and open the door."

"Oh, come!" protested Higgins. "That's going it pretty strong. What's Mr. Tremaine done?"

"No matter. There's no use holding off, Higgins. Simmonds here can place you under arrest and force you to go."

"Well, see here," said Higgins, turning a little pale, "if you break in on him like that there's apt to be some bullets flyin' around. He's hotheaded, he is. I wish you'd excuse me. Here's the key. Why can't you open the door yourself?"

"That'll do," assented Godfrey and took the key.

We went softly up the stairs and down the dimly lighted corridor to Tremaine's door. We could see by the transom that the room was dark.

"I want to surprise him," whispered Godfrey. "If he has two or three minutes' warning he may be able to get rid of some evidence. He's probably in bed, and we must get to the bedroom door without his hearing us. How does the bedroom door lie, Lester, with reference to this one?"

"Straight ahead," I answered hoarsely.

"All right," said Godfrey. And he threw back the bolt and opened the door.

The room was in absolute darkness save for the dim stream of light from the hall. We entered cautiously, Godfrey in the lead.

"Have your lantern ready, Simmonds," he whispered. And I caught the odor of heated metal as Simmonds obeyed the order.

Two, three, four steps we advanced, feeling our way; then I heard a startled cry from Godfrey; an instant's pause.

"Quick, Simmonds, quick!" he cried in a stifled voice. "The lantern!"

Instantly a brilliant band of light shot across the room, wavered, wagged to and fro, then settled upon Godfrey bending above some shapeless object on the floor.

"What is it?" I cried, running to him, shivering with horror.

"It's Tremaine." And he knelt on the floor and stripped back the clothing from the breast. "He's dead," he added after a moment.

"Dead? But why? How?"

He was in pajamas—I can see them yet—striped blue and white.

Then I heard Godfrey's voice again.

"My God!" he was saying, with an accent of utter horror. "My God! Bring the light closer, Simmonds!"

I looked down too. The face was in bright relief now—but was it Tremaine? Could it be Tremaine, that staring, distorted thing, with wide open mouth? Then my eyes fell on the band, clasped across the breast.

"What is it?" I asked again inarticulately, frozen with dread. "What has happened?"

I saw Godfrey stand erect with a sudden movement of loathing.

"It's the fer-de-lance!" he said hoarsely. "He's been bitten by it. And it's still loose in the room somewhere!"

CHAPTER XXXII.

IT strikes a chill through me even yet to recall the awful horror of that instant. The fer-de-lance—death in a few heart beats, and such a death! A death that melts a man into an abomination! For a moment none of us dared move, scarcely dared breathe, and I saw the band of light from Simmonds' lantern waving uncertainly across the floor, the walls, the ceiling—evidently poor Simmonds did not understand the exact nature of the danger, but only that it was a terrible one. I had a mad impulse to jump, shrieking, for the door, and should probably have done it had that quivering silence endured a moment longer.

"Simmonds, give me your lantern," said Godfrey, with an admirable calmness. "Lester, have your cane ready."

He threw a broad band of light upon the carpet and, keeping carefully within this path, approached the door, felt for the electric button and switched on the lights.

Dock Workers May Strike.

Halifax, N.S., May 23.—The longshoremen of Halifax will demand from the steamship agents an increase in pay from 20 cents per hour for day work and 25 cents per hour for night work to 25 cents and 30 cents.

Unless granted by 12 o'clock Sunday night, the men will strike work. Some 1,000 men will be affected.

There is no union.

Killed By Bear.

Dauphin, Man., May 23.—On Sunday, while John May, the cook of camp No. 4 of the Red Deer Lumber Company at Etiomami, was taking a stroll, he came across a black bear, which pursued him.

He was struck down and instantly killed, his vitals being torn out and the body partly eaten.

Two Years With Lashes.

Petrolea, May 23.—Lorne Brydges and T. D. Brown appeared before Magistrate McKenzie yesterday morning at the police court on a charge of criminal assault.

Brydges was sentenced to two years and twenty lashes, and Brown got six months with hard labor.

Disastrous Fire.

Rochester, N. Y., May 23.—A. L. Edwards, a merchant of Mecklenburg, was burned to death yesterday. The fire burned his store, over which he has living rooms. The fire destroyed the store, Presbyterian Church and hotel and barber shop.

Grape Crop Ruined.

Messina, Sicily, May 23.—Frank Alvord Perret of Brooklyn, N. Y., assistant director of the royal observatory on Mount Vesuvius, telegraphed yesterday from Stromboli, saying that the grape crop had been entirely ruined by showers of wet ashes from the volcano, and adding that the explosive force of the eruption was diminishing.

Lighthouse Destroyed.

Bordeaux, France, May 23.—The lighthouse on Pointe de la Coubre, at the entrance of the Garonne, which was 100 feet high, and had a light which was among the most powerful in France, was so undermined by the sea that it fell Tuesday. No one was injured.

LUNATIC LEAPS FROM TRAIN.

Was Handcuffed But Escaped Guard and Got Away.

Moncton, N. B., May 23.—With the train running 30 miles per hour, a French lunatic, handcuffed, jumped through the open window of the Maritime Express late yesterday, and before the train could be brought back he disappeared in the woods and has not been found.

He had been walking up and down the car aisle, moaning as if in pain, while his guard kept close watch.

Suddenly he made a dash for an open window in the smoking compartment, and, with almost inconceivable rapidity, wriggled his way through. He was all but out when the keeper clutched him by the foot. He clung desperately for a few minutes, but the lunatic kicked and tore himself clear, and before the passengers could come to the guard's assistance, the man dropped to the gravel roadbed below.

Later he was seen to get up and run away.

Kuroki Tips Hotel Officials.

New York, May 23.—General Baron Tamemoto Kuroki at 1 o'clock yesterday took his departure for Boston. His suite were engaged early yesterday in the onerous task of packing baggage.

Each bell-boy, waiter, clerk or other employe who contributed to his comfort received some money, the total bounty amounting to nearly $500.

To the hotel proprietor he gave a gold cigarette case incrusted with dragons, and similar cases of silver to other hotel officials.

BIRRELL'S BILL DEAD

Irish Measure to Be Withdrawn in House of Commons.

Second Fiasco For the Irish Secretary—Will Be End of Half-Way Measures—New Bills Will Deal With Evicted Tenants and Irish University Questions—What T. P. O'Connor Says.

London, May 23.—It is the opinion of all the London morning papers that Mr. Birrell's Irish bill already is dead, and the Government organs bitterly lament the misfortune of the Irish secretary, in seeing two important Government measures, the education bill and the Irish council bill, miscarry in his hands.

There is keen disappointment felt at the discredit thrown upon the Government, specially as John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, himself moved the rejection of the bill and, as the Liberal papers remark, "thus closing the door upon any future half-way measure to home rule."

It is believed that Premier Campbell-Bannerman will withdraw the bill and substitute measures dealing with evicted tenants and the Irish university question.

A Sterner Struggle.

Dublin, May 23.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P., in a speech before the United Irish League of Great Britain, which met here yesterday, said that the political situation created by the convention's rejection of the Irish bill Tuesday, imposed upon all new and large duties, and may necessitate some change of policy. He added:

"Instead of reaching the end of the chapter of Irish misgovernment, we have to open a new chapter. I believe the House of Lords was determined to destroy the Irish bill in any case; but if it had been satisfactory, the bill would have marked the close of a certain chapter in Irish history. Now we have to recommence the work, as we have done many times before.

"There is now imposed on the Irish race the obligation of making a stronger, sterner and more energetic struggle than it has ever made before. I believe that the rejection of the bill has not retarded for a single hour the erection in Ireland of a great assembly to make the laws of Ireland on Irish soil."

Mr. O'Connor was re-elected president of the league.

CONFLICT OF PRIESTS.

Church Doors Locked—May Be No Services Held.

Woodstock, May 23.—The doors of St. Mary's Church were locked yesterday, and it is said that when they are opened again a new pastor will be in charge.

Two priests from London were at the church in the morning. The doors had been open daily before their arrival, they were closed and locked up on their departure.

It is stated emphatically in the church circles that next Sunday there will be no service of the church, or else Father Stanley, the appointee to the position, will be in charge.

Last spring, Father Cook, who had been in charge in Woodstock parish for some time, was transferred to Raleigh, a country parish in the neighborhood of Chatham. Father Stanley was appointed to Woodstock.

Father Cook was to have taken the new charge in June, but he appealed from the decision, and it is understood that the appeal was carried to Rome. The result of the appeal is not known.

According to prominent Catholics, Father Stanley is expected in the city immediately to take over the work of the parish, and is expected to conduct his first service on Sunday.

CUT THE ELECTRIC WIRES.

Nervy Thieves Stole Copper Wire While Current Was On.

Hamilton, May 23.—The police announced a theft last evening, which they think takes the cake. One night last week an enterprising and cheeky gang of thieves stole several hundred feet of copper wire that is used to convey the electric current for the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Railway. The gang cut the wire right off the poles about three miles east of the city, while it was carrying a heavy current. How it was done is a mystery to the police.

Last night they arrested a man, who gives his name as Harry Smith, and locked him up on the charge of having had a hand in the theft.

For the "All-Red" Line.

London, May 23.—Sir Charles Cayzer of the Clan line says he is prepared to tender for an all-red route with the speed quite obtainable if England and the colonies were prepared to pay for it.

Mr. Williams, manager of the R. M. C. Co., says the Pacific route is too monotonous for passengers to try more than once. The scheme would require very heavy subsidies.

Looking for Eskimo.

London, May 23.—A Copenhagen wire says Herr Knud Rasmussen and his sister, Wilhelmina Rasmussen, have started for Smith's Sound to find a tribe of Eskimo who are said never to have had communication with the civilized world. They will ultimately make for the Canadian mainland, which they hope to reach next year.

Two Hundred Lives Lost.

New York, May 23.—A despatch from Sydney, N. S. W., says:

It is reported that a hurricane and tidal wave swept over the Caroline Islands April 30.

Two hundred persons are said to have been killed and immense damage done to property.

Two Steamers Burned.

Giollopis, Ohio., May 23.—The Ohio River packet Chevalier and the transfer steamer City of Huntington were burned to the water's edge near Huntington yesterday.

The crews narrowly escaped with their lives.

W. G. Armstrong, M.A., of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute was severely injured by a runaway horse.

DEVILISH WORK OF WRECKERS.

Night Flyer Thrown Off the Track—Many Injured.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 23.—Train No. 20, one of the Southern Pacific's coast line flyers, due at nine o'clock Tuesday night, was wrecked at West Glendale, near here, at 12.30 o'clock yesterday. The wreck was the deliberate work of train-wreckers. One man who was stealing a ride was killed, and 22 other persons injured, three probably fatally.

In accomplishing the wreck of the train, which was the Coast Line Limited, a devilish ingenuity had been exercised. At a point on a trestle over the Arroyo Seco, the fish-plates and bolts of two connecting rails on the south-bound track had been removed, and in the apertures whence the bolts were taken, strands of heavy wire were fastened at the end of each rail. From the appearance of the track after the wreck, it was evident that some persons hidden on a hill-side close to the trestle, had pulled the wire as the train approached and spread the rails outwards towards the edge of the trestle.

The train, three hours late, was traveling at a rate of between 35 and 40 miles. The engine wheels were first to leave the rails, and the engine took to the ties, traveling near 100 yards before it was brought to a standstill. The tender, the diner, two Pullmans, the buffet, mail and baggage cars plunged over the edge of the trestle, falling a distance of 16 feet.

The buffet car, the express car and one of the Pullmans were turned completely upside down, and the others landed on their sides. All were badly crushed and splintered.

Finger Ingured While Coupling

E. Curry Met With Painful Accident at G. T. R. Station To-day

Whilst coupling the engine to the flyer at the G.T.R. station this morning about eight o'clock Mr. Elzie Curry, who resides at 273 McDonnel street, met with an accident which will prevent him from working for awhile. In some way the little finger of his right hand got caught while making the coupling and the bone in the finger was broken while the digit was badly cut. Dr. Bradd was called and attended to the injured hand. It was found necessary to put five stitches in the finger.

Gave Address On Torrey Revival

There was a large attendance at George street Methodist church last evening. Mr. R. J. Winch, who was just returned from spending several weeks in Montreal, where he attended the revival conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrey, the noted evangelist, gave an address on his impression of the meetings. Mr. Winch's words were closely followed as he told of the great spiritual awakening in the metropolis and the vast crowds that flocked to hear Dr. Torrey, of the numerous persons who sought regeneration and how Christians had been stirred and aroused as never before. Mr. Winch spoke for over an hour and gave a graphic word picture of many of the scenes that he had witnessed. Mr. Winch announced that he might have something to say at a later meeting as he was not able to review all the incidents and impressions formed in one short evening's talk.

TROUBLE OVER G.T. R. CROSSING

Company Objects to City Crossing its Tracks Without Permission

When the Board of Works ordered work to be commenced on the extension of George street the other day, it was taken for granted that the council last year had arranged with the Grand Trunk for a crossing near Romaine street. Such, however, was not the case, and the G. T.R. took exception to the city crossing. The divisional superintendent notified the Mayor of his objection, and the Mayor replied that no further action would be taken for a few days, and asked Mr. Tiffin to visit the city and make some arrangement with the Council.

STRIKERS RELEASED.

Shipping Federation Were Complainants, But Not Employers.

Montreal, May 23.—Recorder Weir yesterday discharged Robert Forbes and J. White, two of the striking longshoremen on trial for breach of contract. Mr. Meredith, who is acting for the shipping federation in the matter, stated that every possible steps had been taken to prove the signatures of these men to the alleged contracts, but without result. As he could not put the accused in the box to give evidence, he would therefore ask for their discharge.

After the discharge of their two men Recorder Weir heard the concluding evidence against the other ten accused.

At the close of the case he stated that he had no hesitancy in dismissing the charge against all, as the civic bylaw did not apply, since the shipping federation was not the actual employer of the men. He therefore ordered the release of all the accused.

Morning Session of the Teachers

Several Able Papers on Geography—Mr. Merritt Spoke on Arithmetic

The Teachers' Institute will conclude its two days' convention this afternoon.

At the morning session today several more interesting papers were read.

Mr McDonnell, of the Separate School staff, spoke on "Geography." He said that geography was poorly taught. The subject is good if properly taught. Geography develops the features of imagination from the various elements the child grasps in the world and the universe.

The teacher must know the subject and have self-confidence and broadmindedness. He thus stimulates the pupil. Constant study is always necessary on the part of the teacher. Fresh preparations are always required as the subject changes continually.

Pupils should not have to recite from the book to learn; not by definition, but by studying the thing or representation of it, as pictures, maps, etc.

We must teach so that the pupil can make use of his information in after life. An excellent example of how to teach was illustrated by means of a river. The child learns by observing it, and thus discusses the characteristics of a river.

The duty of teachers is to guide and direct the pupil to make accurate observations. This is the key to all geography study. Pictures are good as an aid. In observing have the child view the whole scene so as to see relation of parts. It is a good thing to study large regions at once, hence the map is useful. Get the general characteristics of the country from the map first. Then go into more details. A child may be asked as a drill to write a composition and he will see what he has missed. Too much detail is also harmful.

In drawing maps do not use construction lines. It is very valuable to use moulding boards, as they show clearly the surface and evolution of the earth's formation. Globes are most necessary. Every lesson must be summarized. It is wise to have samples of iron, tea, etc., when teaching these subjects. The pupil will help in making collections of the various things. Lantern slides and views are good for illustration.

Do not use a text book too soon. Only when the child can understand the matter. Do not teach words, but the ideas in the text.

Reviews must be frequent. Distinguish between what is important, and what is unimportant.

COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY.

Mr. J. C. Smythe took up the subject of Commercial Geography. He said, This is a commercial age. Everywhere this is evident. Commerce is not local, but involves the world. Commerce depends on productions of country. Hence we must study the physical conditions that tend to produce the produce. Methods of transportation are required, so railways, canals, etc., must be studied. In teaching, the teacher must have an object in view, preparation to develop the subject. Everything should tend towards the design in view. A pupil must have as a basis a fair influence of the new Normal-schools and particularly of the school of education in connection with Toronto University, knowledge of the products based on the physical conditions of the country. He must know the facilities for manufacturing and transportation. He should have some idea of the country's trade relations, tariff, etc.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY

Mr Walkey took the subject of Physical Geography. He discussed the limit table to a certain extent. The young child must start this subject. He has already considerable information on this subject. The teacher must build upon what the child knows—to proceed from the known to the unknown. The early lessons may be taken up from stories. The child's imagination must be made active. This must be kept in reason. A child's curiosity must be aroused. A child's observation must be aroused. A child observes very early. It is a good idea for the teacher to take the class out into the fields and thus study the subject.

Maps are excellent to teach physical geography. Map drawing is a great aid. A map should represent some part of the earth and the child must be able to see the real living features in map. A limit should be more or less elastic; it should not be fixed. A black globe is most useful, and the various features of a country can be thus represented on it. In physical geography the basis is position, climate and slope.

ARITHMETIC.

Mr R. N. Merritt spoke on the history and development of the science of arithmetic, especially regarding the modern tendencies.

We learn the teaching of a subject by reviewing the mistakes of others found in history. He started at the old Roman methods of manipulating beads to represent numbers and showed their peculiar methods of adding. On system the Hindoo made things much simpler but the result was a more manipulation without having much meaning attached. Rules began to be made in rhymes. The method was mechanical—the symbol came first, not the idea. Pestalozzi changed this system. He made the work objective. The idea came first, the symbol later. He emphasized oral arithmetic before symbols were used.

A later idea in education was that a child must know all the different manipulations of a number before a new number was taught. This was stultifying. Children can grasp addition more readily than multiplication or ratio. The child's progress was thus slow.

Now we aim to get at the psychical natures of numbers. We aim first to get the quantitative relation of objects of a similar nature. We go from the sensuous objects to the abstract idea of number.

How did number first arise? Man, in his primitive state found quantity or number necessary, although in an elementary way. There was an end or purpose in view.

The process required a whole, then an idea of unit, and the ratio is number. The unit may not be necessarily one, but must be some standard.

The person is thus unconsciously multiplying or dividing. Subtraction is the same process as addition, but inverted. They thus should go together and thus we have a basis for starting subtraction. Multiplication contains the element of times or ratio. That is where it differs from addition. It is a higher idea than that of addition. Multiplication is delayed until the child has some idea of multiplicity but may be assisted by the teacher using similar addend in addition and thus develops the idea. Division is the same process as multiplication. It has the idea of ratio, which distinguishes it from subtraction.

Fractions is generally delayed too long in our teaching. They should come on early while we use objects in illustration. They can be begun in the counting stage and this will make the subject easier when the subject is thoroughly taken up.

The learner must gather the facts and then make generalization. This is the scientific method of teaching. Induction and deduction are thus required. The learner must do work when the process is used in taking up a branch of study before he may know the process.

Few understand the proper methods—first, the informal use, then formal use of symbols, drill and application. Few teachers really know the fundamental processes. They do not understand the basic principles, and need awakening in the psychology of the subject.

Mr. Merritt stated with some enthusiasm, that methods will be much improved in the near future by the

SMITH FALL'S COOK EATEN

By a Bear in Manitoba—Was With Red Deer Lumber Co.

Dauphin, Man., May 22.—On Sunday while John May, the cook of Camp No. 4, of the Red Deer Lumber Company, at Etomami, was taking a stroll, he came across a black bear. The animal showed a vicious disposition, and May fled for the camp with the bear in close pursuit. He was struck down and instantly killed, his vitals being torn out and the body partly eaten before the alarm was given.

May came from Smith's Falls in December.

Several Changes Must be Made To Make Fire Hall Satisfactory

Tap Bells on Fire Alarm Systems to be Made Right by the Contractor—Fire, Water and Light Committee in Session—Several Small Matters Up.

A short session of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was held last night, when a number of small matters were taken up and disposed of. All the members were present, viz., Ald. W. J. Johnston in the chair, Ald. Bradburn, Duncan and Morgan.

The committee authorized the Water Commissioners to put hydrants at the corner of Hazlitt and Concession streets, at the corner of Conger and Barnardo and at a point between London and Edinburgh streets on Stewart streets.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Morgan, that a hydrant be placed on Hunter street at the corner of Concession street. There was no seconder and the motion stands over.

A communication was received stating that the arc light at the corner of Dennistoun Avenue and Smith street was out. The clerk was instructed to write the Company of the complaint.

The next proposition which came up was to purchase coal. The price is away down just now. The Property Committee was taking up the same question, and Chairman Johnston asked the chairman of the Property Committee to buy twelve tons of coal for the new fire hall. This was consented to.

On motion of Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, that the chairman be authorized to have a sign placed on the new fire hall. The lettering on the sign will be "Fire Station," and it will be looked after at once.

TAP BELLS WRONG.

In reference to the tap bells in the firemen's houses which are connected with the new fire alarm system, the chairman stated that he had communicated with Mr. Dean, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Dean wrote Mr. Murdock, of the Northern Electric Co., of Montreal, who will be here as soon as possible to investigate the trouble and make it right.

It appears that some of the tap bells are not working properly, and the firemen claim that they do not hear them. Whether this fault can be remedied or whether larger bells will have to be put in will be ascertained when Mr. Murdoch arrives.

NEW FIRE HALL.

There was a long discussion over the new fire hall, which, it is claimed, was not built according to the plans and specifications. Ald. Johnston, chairman of this year's committee, is not at all responsible, although he has to bear the brunt of the complaints. He had nothing to do with the erection of the building, but he had done all he could this year to straighten matters out.

The committee is inclined to hold the architect responsible and the probability is he will be called upon to make matters right. Several changes will have to be made, and the committee will meet at the hall some night soon.

NEW ARC LAMPS.

The matter of the new arc lamps on street corners, for which several applications have been received, was left over for the time being. The committee will go for a drive some dark night and decide on the best places for the new lamps.

China Hall Re-opened With A Larger and Better Stock

Mr. McFarlane Wilson in His New Premises—The Most Valuable Stock in Any Store in Ontario—Dinner Sets From $5 to $125—Tea Sets From $3 to $100.

China Hall is now fully settled in its new quarters on George street near the corner of Hunter street and Mr. McFarlane Wilson is a proud and happy man. He has in his new premises a handsome place. It is double the size of the old stand at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, and he considers it is an all-round better stand. The place has just undergone a thorough cleaning and has been very artistically decorated by the Peterborough Decorating Co. Its appearance alone is attractive and is bound to draw customers.

The stock in China Hall is entirely new from the basement to the third floor, and it is the largest, best assorted, and most valuable to be found in any store in Ontario except, probably one or two stores in Toronto. Anything that one wants in the way of dishes, fancy china, crockery, cut glass, etc. can be found there and at prices which are bound to sell them.

The ground floor, which has two front entrances, is a very fine place. It is devoted to fancy chinas, tea sets, cut glass, chamber sets, vases, jardinieres, etc. In the show window will be found a display of Royal Crown Darby china, which are the most expensive goods on the market. The smallest article there costs $3 and one jardiniere is priced at $25.

In the front of the store are four silent salesmen of the latest design. They contain cut glass, Copeland's china, Royal Vienna, Royal Saxony, Moriage, Cloisance, and several other very valuable fancy wares. Then there are tea sets from $3 up to $100, which are Crown Darby. At the rear of the store is a very large heavy plate mirror, which reflects the whole store, giving a very fine effect.

On the second floor will be found dinner sets only. Mr. Wilson took great pains in selecting these goods and he has got the very best. The collection includes over 100 distinct patterns worth from $5 up to $125. A number of full sets are displayed on tables and all around the walls are hung sample plates of the other sets. The room is decorated in crimson and green, and is very attractive.

The third floor and basement are devoted entirely to storage and are well filled. At the rear of the main floor is a good sized packing room which is provided with an elevator. This is very convenient and is an important feature.

"Mr. Glass was born in Port Hope 59 years ago, and for many years conducted a retail grocery business in that town. Removing to Toronto, he was appointed three years ago, to the position of Inspector of Concrete Roads. Mr. Glass was a fine strapping fellow, and extremely well liked at the City Hall.

He leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters. In religion Mr. Glass was a Methodist, and member of Sherbourne Street Church. He was also a member of Toronto Chapter of the A.O.U.W.

"The funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of the deceased's son from Chicago."

MONTREAL BANK CLERKS HAPPY

They Are to Get 17½ Per Cent of Their Salaries as a Gift

Toronto, May 22.—A despatch from Montreal says that at yesterday's meeting the directors of the Bank of Montreal voted a general bonus of 17 1-2 per cent. to its staff.

The bonus system is regarded as more equitable than an annual increase, in that it distinguishes between the lean years and the fat ones. A profitable year, for instance, results in a gratuity. A less satisfactory year does not warrant the grant, and as it's a bonus, and not a permanent increase, it need not be made.

The backward spring will reduce the western wheat crop by half, it is predicted. Mills are buying wheat at $1.50 a bushel.

HEAVY TRAFFIC ON RAILWAYS

The Cheap Fares Result in Many People Travelling

The single fare return trips which prevail on the railways for three or four days, have resulted in heavy passenger traffic on both the G.T.R. and C.P.R. Every outgoing train was crowded today, and it is expected that the trains tomorrow will be even more liberally patronized.

The cheap rate tickets are good to return until Monday.

Many persons left today for Toronto, Hamilton, Havelock, Norwood, Millbrook, Port Hope and other points to spend Victoria day.

"MERCHANT'S" LAST

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—And so, after many days and much travel "Common Sense" has given to the world his valedictory, but not without a murmur. The mellifluent strains of his Aeolian harp

"Falling at intervals upon the ear
In cadence sweet, now dying all away," shall never more greet the musical ear of his once familiar friend, the Chief of Police. He still whines about the modus operandi for the redress of public nuisances. He feels sore and kindly rebukes you for allowing me to use any of your valuable space for cause, while he without cause has used up more space without compunction. I merely cite this as a mere specimen of his fairness throughout. The fact of the matter is he feels sore from the unmerciful trouncing he has received for meddling with other people's affairs. He thinks that because I have written to the press about a real public grievance, I must have a lot of spare time, while he has nothing to say about himself for the prolixity of his windy productions, without any grievance. Not being able to stand any more punishment, he expresses a hope, if not a prayer, that I will write no more. His whole attitude is pathetic and calls for commiseration. He says he only intended to take a round out of me, but his conceit tricked him into more than one round, which resulted in his undoing. He will now know what it is to be the under dog. His invitation to the readers of the Review to take up the cudgels for him reveals a mean and cowardly nature, but, I presume, misery likes company. The toast he offers in winding up his valedictory is an indication of his bibulousness, which may account for his mental aberration. Alas! poor fellow, he had his day and passed away. We shall not cremate him on the rubbish heap in his own back yard, but let us consign what is left of his battered remains to the potters field, "requiescat in pace."

Yours,
MERCHANT.

Many Instructive Papers Were Read Before the City Teachers

Mrs. Morrow Spoke on Voice Culture, Mr. O'Brien on Questioning and Mr. Kenner on a Liberal Education—Numerous Valuable Suggestions and Splendid Ideas Presented to the Pedagogues.

At the Wednesday afternoon session of the City Teachers' Institute in St. Peter's school, Mrs. W J Morrow gave an address on Voice Culture She was assisted by Mrs. Archer, Miss Simpson and Mr. King.

The first topic which Mrs. Morrow took up was breathing. Breathing she said, was not full enough; the lower muscles are not brought into play. The whole body should more or less be used in breathing. Breath through the nostrils; the air is heated and purified here before passing to the lungs; hence, do not breathe through the mouth. A large majority of people have foreign growth in the nostrils, often without knowing it. This interferes with the process of breathing. Correct breathing depends largely on the condition of the nose, and imperfect breathing produces caturrh, etc. and these troubles can often be removed by corrections in breathing. A good test to find out the condition of the nose is made by causing pupils to hum through the nose. The diaphragm must be strengthened to produce good breathing and a system of panting will strengthen this muscle.

Singing must be partially the result of thought. A beautiful mind makes a good singer. A man sings according to the features of character The mind controls the singing. A singer must be sympathetic must be able to produce the gladness or sadness of the solo.

Mrs. Morrow quoted from Mrs. North's book, and stated that a poor voice can be trained to be even excellent by proper training. Any person can cultivate the voice so that it is not really a gift to be a singer. Singing is the birthright of all.

The Institute much appreciated Mrs Morrow's address and the singing of those who assisted her.

QUESTIONING

Mr M. O'Brien, Separate School Inspector, gave a paper on "Questioning." Mr. O'Brien said that the capable questioner is the capable teacher. A question compels pupils to compare, judge and draw conclusions. It develops our higher knowledge.

The qualifications of a questioner are;

1. He must know fully and accurately the knowledge, the facts.
2. He must be able to break up the subject to analyze it so that pupils get hold of it.
3. He must know his pupils so as to suit the questions to the class; he must be able to give variety and know where to stop.
4. He must have tact to know how to accept answers; he must also have good judgment; he must be sympathetic with the pupils; he must be able to frame direct questions.

Questioning need not be used at all times. You must tell sometimes. It is only a means, not an end; there must be some point aimed at and questions asked should approach towards that point. The teacher must use other methods besides questioning at times.

Questioning, if good, is a means of discipline; the careless, thoughtless pupil is exposed, the dull pupil aroused, and the forward restrained.

Questions may be divided into two classes, those that appeal to the pupil's memory, and those that aid the pupil to get new knowledge. The first are test questions; the second are instructive; Use the first in opening up a subject to ascertain what knowledge the pupils have, also to ascertain how the pupils are grasping the points taken up during the lesson; and also as a test to find out what the pupils have grasped after the lesson is over. These questions are used in discipline.

The more important questions are the instructive and these are the kind that mark the good teacher. These lead out the pupils to the grasp of new knowledge, based on his old knowledge. There must be a relation between these questions; they should be a series in a unit. These should not be too suggestive and must be suited to the child, not too difficult nor yet too easy.

Questions must not be wandering, must not be vague or ambiguous, must not be open to guess work, must be clear, short and pointed. They must be difficult enough to require some thought. They must be suited to your class and must possess variety.

The entire class must be questioned. Have the class raise hands and call one to answer, or perhaps ask more than one. This is the best method of class questioning.

A LIBERAL EDUCATION

Mr. H R H Kenner gave an able paper on "A Liberal Education." He said that the early Reformers were Extremists. Reformers make fads out of subjects. They tend to make work too easy, so that no effort is needed. All subjects cannot be taught in school. Pupils must study the general subjects of life. We do not teach pupils trades. Education must be suited to universal wants and subjects must be given that develop the pupils.

Many of our institutions of today started from Rome, Greece and Judea. In order to understand them we must go back to those from whom our institutions came. We must gather up the past and make preparations for the future, to promote our civilization. We aim to introduce the young to our civilization that each can find a place in the grand organization. The studies that go farthest in explaining our civilization, are the most important for a liberal education. People do not need to be taught all subjects to be liberally educated.

Studies are moral, intellectual and physical. The first is greatest.

The habits formed in school aid in moral education more than formal lessons in divinity. Physical education was the kind of the early ages our education has become nearly altogether mental. We must combine these; both body and mind must be cared for. A person must be a good animal as a basis for mind The mind is affected by the good or ill-health of the body. Gymnastics are neglected, but should be used to adapt the body for its purpose in life. Games are essential, They produce unselfishness; they are a relief from the pressure of excitement of life. Military training is economic and valuable as well as disciplinary. The body can only be properly trained physically when the person is young.

Some knowledge of mathematics is necessary for nearly all functions of life. The chief processes of learning are inductive and deductive. Mathematics are exact and disciplinary. A training in them is necessary to understand other matters; they are a basis for other thought.

Inductive sciences are based on facts The pupil reasons and passes from the facts to general conclusions. Pupils must distinguish between the abnormal facts and the real true ones.

Science develops a knowledge of nature and her laws. We develop a love for nature and it develops a love for the beautiful and the grand.

Culture originates in the love of perfection. History is one of the greatest subjects on developing character It is excellent to train for citizenship. Language is the centre about which all subjects should correlate Literature is the highest of all studies. Language corresponds to the development of man. The study of language is the study of humanity. Words are things including facts. What languages should we study? Study French, German, Latin and Greek, as our language is perhaps the result of these four influences. We study language as a key to literature, to learn the thoughts, etc., that produce culture. Literature is not books, but is life producing the grandest effects of character.

Latin and Greek are not dead. They are thoroughly alive. The fact that they have endured so long shews forth their vitality. These develop the mind and the heart, which is the greatest result that can be had. They may not be as utilitarian as some others, but they affect all our thoughts and give a relish that none others can produce They express, or are a means of expression for the highest thought and the greatest culture. They all aid in the understanding of English literature. In fact, we cannot understand it without them.

Mr Kenner's edifying address was closely followed and concluded the business of the afternoon session.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

Qualifications of Ideal Teacher

The Province of Ontario Has Nearly 10,000 Instructors

In our last issue, we published an article on "The Ideal Teacher," which has created considerable discussion, some considering the standard demanded to be too high, says the Bowmanville Statesman. But we do not so think, for there is no other office under Government control and regulations, which tends more directly to produce the social well-being of the people, than that of the public school teacher. "A well-conducted school is an excellent preventative of wrong-doing, hence adds to the value and security of property and forms beneficially the manners and character of the people of the section. A true teacher has it in his power to cultivate allegiance to the King, obedience to God, respect for your country's laws, and respect for our fellow man, or the very reverse influence may be exerted by the unfaithful teacher. The teacher, therefore, who has so much in his power for good or evil and chooses the right course is deserving of the the highest respect of his fellows—respect in proportion to the power he possesses without abusing it.

Regrettable it is, that so many assuming the office of school teaching are not more keenly sensible of the tremendous responsibility attached to the calling. It is just possible that the course of instruction has too direct a bearing on the literary examinations to fit young men and women for conducting a school successfully. Teachers are like poets born. The profession of teaching is not suited to a young man, of an adventurous, stirring or flippant character. It is a life, requiring a quiet, even temper, patience, sympathy, fondness for children, habitual cheerfulness, and withal strong will-power and force of character, and sound common sense. "Perhaps good judgment and fair intelligence rather than a very inquisitive mind or very brilliant talents are essential to the successful teacher.

The really successful teacher," invariably commands respect. Ordinary people respect the man, rather than the office, they value the teacher, more than his teaching, or rather they confer upon the office, the respect they have for the man. The ideal teacher, therefore, should live an upright, honorable, Godly life, so as to deserve and gain the good-will of the people amongst whom he is called to labor and strive continually to set an example before his pupils, worthy of their imitation, and to encourage them to worthy, courageous and helpful actions. Teacher, you can wield a powerful influence for good if you are properly fitted for your noble calling.

DIES FROM TOO MUCH DANCING

Wonderful Young Performer With Fritzi Scheff Overdoes it and Gets Spinal Affection

A New York despatch says: "La Mora," the wonderful young dancer who appeared with Fritzi Scheff in "Mlle Modiste," is dead, the victim of her passion for dancing. Her body was taken from the home of her mother, Mrs. Emily Hannbeck, 201 West 132nd street, to Fresh Pond, L. I., and cremated, in accordance with her last wish.

Dr. Lee Cooke, brotherinlaw of the dancer, who in private life was Helen Hannbeck, said that her dancing caused her death.

"She was the most wonderful toe dancer in America," said Dr Cooke. "In her work she made no effort to save herself. The terrible strain caused spinal affection, which developed into cerebro-spinal meningitis, resulting in her death."

Shortly before she died Miss La Mora became delirious and broke into Fritzi Scheff's song, "The Kiss" She died with the last words of the refrain on her lips.

Miss Scheff was fond of the young dancer, and cabled her regrets from Europe, together with an order for a floral wreath.

The young dancer was born in Vienna twenty years ago. She made her debut in St. Louis, where Henry W. Blossom, who was then writing "Mlle Modiste" saw her, and incorporated a part for her in the opera

"Tendencies in Education" Subject of Able Lecture

By Principal Auden of Upper Canada College at Y.M.C.A. Hall Last Night—All Round Education is What the Nation Needs—Many Strong Points Brought Out.

"Some Tendencies in Education," was the subject of an able address by Mr. H. W. Auden, principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, at the opening meeting of the Teachers' Institute in the Y.M.C.A. hall last night. Mr. Auden's remarks were replete with valuable information and were greatly appreciated by the large number who were in attendance. Made up as it was of all the school teachers in the city, and prominent citizens from various walks of life, the audience was one that could enjoy a lecture such as that given by Mr. Auden and the closest attention was paid throughout.

The president of the Institute, Mr. Kelly occupied the chair, and the lecture was preceded by a short musical programme. A violin duet by Miss Burnett and Miss Wallis, was given in an artistic and finished manner and was enthusiastically received. Mr. F. C. Freeland was heard to advantage in a bass solo, "The Bugler." This is a selection of more than average merit and lost nothing in it's rendition by Mr. Freeland.

Mrs. Greenslade acted as accompanist for Mr. Freeland in a most pleasing manner.

Principal Auden was then introduced and before commencing his lecture proper, bespoke the pleasure afforded him to address a Peterborough audience, especially one in which there were so many school teachers. The Teachers' Institutes were splendid organizations, the teachers could not fraternize in this way, too much. Getting down to his subject, Mr. Auden said that some people in judging an educational question think it must be decided by the criterion of how many votes will be gained or lost by such and such a measure. Many regard education as a mere question of stepping up the social ladder; others want education because it gives them a feeling of intellectual superiority to others, a sort of intellectual pride, which sets us above the other man. Another viewpoint too is that professional education is a sort of temporary employment, taken up until something better turns up or even that it is a sort of refuge of the destitute, as the Greeks used to say in one of their proverbs. And again a very general opinion, and one of great influence is that all educational questions must be considered according to the number of dollars to be gained or lost. The question he considered was a complicated one, but he did not think a clear crystallized idea is wanted of what education is, but that what we do want is to consider the modern tendencies of educational thought and consider whether they are right or wrong. We should discuss as thinking people these tendencies and the results that they produce.

UTILITARIAN VIEW.

The first tendency, he thought, was a tendency towards a utilitarian view of education, that what is practical and what pays was of the greatest importance. Canada like Scotland, was anxious to obtain education. Education is not a question of amassing knowledge, but rather an understanding of the principles of attack, the power to use ones knowledge, quickly, accurately and economically. Putting it briefly, he said, education consists in teaching how to think. Some subjects are educative in the proper sense, and do really train and strengthen the mind, others are matters of mere technical adroitness, and every subject of education, has got to be judged by its merit, not its market.

Plato points out that education is training. He has told us long ago how it is music for the soul, and gymnastic for the body, both for the benefit of the soul. Education is training and unless that belief underlies all our theories, our estimate of educational values, is always likely to go astray.

"Not many things, but much" was a maxim we are prone to forget. University matriculation is the education upon which all secondary education centres, and what it prescribes, the schools must follow. The number of subjects prescribed ought to be limited, and it should be the duty of all to impress upon University authorities that it is the aim of education to produce scholars, not smatterers, and to teach subjects not text books.

Public opinion should be persuaded that cultural studies and idealism are of the greatest importance to a nation in education. We want to maintain high ideals, as the necessity of idealism in a commercial age is very great. Prof. Wm. Osler, in a recent address stated that there was too little idealism and too little intellectuality in Canada, that there was a large number of vigorous hard-headed pushing men, but too few, such as Hurley, Emerson, Tennyson or Ruskin, who left the world better than they found it, as regards its ideals.

COMPLETENESS.

Mr Auden strongly believed that the educational ladder should be complete; that a boy of ability should be able to make his way by his own efforts from a kindergarten to a university, yet he believed that a judicious system of scholarships or bursaries were of the greatest service in assisting the able boy to go to a university, whereas if the steps of the ladder were too easy and the cost too little, there is the risk of having too many students entering the professional life, who would have done better otherwise.

DAY VS. BOARDING SCHOOLS.

"The question of day schools versus boarding schools," he continued "is as old as Quintillian who argued the point at considerable length. One might even go further — Confucius in 550 B.C., decreed that no father should educate his son, as he held that a father's love for his son naturally warped a man's judgment and prevented him from dispensing justice with an even hand, when his son was in question. Originally it was the duty of fathers to instruct each other's sons. This may have been the origin of residential schools. The same question is still argued. Here is a criticism by one who was for many years, headmaster at Clifton." The boarding school is deemed to excel in turning out strong, self-reliant, sociable, practical men of affairs, men who have learned by early experience not to make too much of small injustices, to rough it if need be with equanamity and cheer, and to count it a man's part to endure hardship in a manly spirit."

ENGLISH IDEALS.

Continuing Mr. Auden said, "One or two points with reference to ideals of schoolmasters in English public schools, I thought might be interesting. The first aim is to make boys honorable, high-minded, I might almost say spiritually minded. The public school man, should be a man who always takes the highest line, who is straight in everything, who shows a generous spirit, and loathes as poison anything that is low, sordid, mean or sneaking. The second aim of a public school master is to produce a well disciplined boy. Every teacher knows what we call the ill-conditioned boy, and no worse title can be given to a boy. In England very great stress is laid on this discipline and the consciousness of strength, which developes out of it. An English school is full of it, and yet I do not think it is ever irksome. The discipline of the boarding house, of the playing fields, of the class room, the discipline exercised so strongly by public schools, of the boys on small matters of good form and manners, are to my mind simply invaluable in giving a boy a right estimate of himself, and teaching him his proper position as a member of any community in relation to his fellowmen. A boy learns to obey, and so to rule. Religion plays a very important but most unobtrusive part in public school life. In after life an old public school boy looks back to the quiet hours spent in the chapel as some of the fondest memories of his school times."

CHARACTER.

"A man's education in character, certainly continues until he is fifty, consequently it would be rather hard to judge of definite results when a boy is sixteen, yet the seeds of good character are sown during school time, though they may germinate but slowly. More intercourse between teacher and pupil helps to keep boys young, and this is to my mind an important point. During boyhood, a boy should be a plain, healthy-minded boy, and not a young man, or a cheap imitation of one. Life is not a play ground, but a school room."

THREE VIEWS.

"We want to lay stress on three views, the broad view, the big view and the clear view in matters educational. We want a broad view, we want teachers and the public to work together. We want the public to appreciate the difficulties of the teaching profession, and to get a sound idea of educational values. Again we want the big view in education. I mean the avoidance of what we may call the parochial attitude. We want the public at large to really appreciate that in education lies some of the largest issues of state welfare, that true patriotism demands that a state should make the teacher's position a really satisfactory one. The teacher should have every support, support of society, support of sentiment, and the support of salary."

"Lastly we want the clear point of view, we want to know our own minds, to be quite certain what our real aim and ideal in education is. Nothing is worse than experimenting in education. Education is a serious thing and requires very definite views. The tinkering policy cannot amount to anything. Public opinion must be taught to adopt a clear view."

In conclusion Prof. Auden spoke as follows,—"We want to lead public opinion and influence the community at large, so that in educational matters it may act sensibly, scientifically and without prejudice. We want to preach to all and sundry, the view that the whole man must be educated, an all-round education is what the nation needs, and we must preach high ideals. If we were to apply the doctrine of evolution to educational ideals I think we may say that if we add together the Greek idea of culture and the Roman idea of thoroughness, the Hebrew idea of moral goodness, the medieval idea of studentship and the modern ideal of work in the service of mankind we have a composite ideal to which none of us could refuse allegiance as good citizens; and as citizens in all our thoughts we must lay to heart the truth of the words of the kingly poet of three thousand years ago, "righteousness exalteth a nation," which is very much the sentiment expressed by a poet of our own day, Rudyard Kipling.

"The tumult and the shouting die
The captain and the kings depart.
Still stands thine ancient sacrifice,
A humble and a contrite heart.
Lord, God of hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget."

VOTE OF THANKS.

At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Principal Auden. The resolution was moved by Mr. S. J. Stubbs, and seconded by Principal Fessenden, and Mr. D. W. Dumble also spoke a few words in this connection. He made a plea for the intellectual training of the boys and girls in order that they might learn to appreciate good literature, music and intellectual subjects. There was too much reading of trash at the present time, he said. "This country is flooded with American trash," said Mr. Dumble. "Magazines with beautiful pictures of beautiful actresses and other stuff of that sort. Their influence is not for the best and we should try and get our children to read better literature. Educate them so that they will have a desire to read books of the great authors and enjoy the companionship of the men, who have left their good deeds and good work behind them and have made the world richer, better, because they have lived."

It might be mentioned in connection with the lecture, that Principal Auden is a native of Scotland and has been in Canada for the past five years.

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1907.

VICTORIA DAY

Tomorrow will be Victoria Day—a day of precious memory, filled with reverence and pride, loyalty and devotion—but, not unmixed with sorrow. Why? Because May 24th was the birthday of our late beloved Queen, Victoria the Good. Her memory, her influence, the ennobling qualities of her life and reign still live and will ever remain green in the memory of millions upon millions of true and loyal subjects.

Tomorrow is also the day officially set apart for the public recognition of the birthday of our present King, Edward VII.

Victoria Day has thus a double significance. While it binds us to the past by ties of love and admiration, and it symbolizes the feelings of attachment and loyalty of the present day—to our King and country.

Edward, the son, has followed worthily, wisely and well in the footsteps of his illustrious mother queen, and has, by his tact, his diplomacy, his influence and peace-making propensities, won the admiration and confidence of all his subjects, even to the farthermost quarters of the Empire. His reign has been characterized by development, power and progress. He has, while never exhibiting his hand, been a strong yet unseen factor in preserving the peace of Europe and preventing international embroglios.

Victoria Day, 1907, sees all parts of the great British Empire more closely knit together than ever by his kinship and affection. Victoria Day, 1907, sees happy auguries all around, a welding together of the different parts of the empire, the conclusion of the Imperial Conference and peace and prosperity at home and abroad—wherever the British flag is unfurled.

True, there is some dissatisfaction in certain portions of India, but the threatened trouble is likely to be adjusted amicably by a strong hand.

The great progress of empire building goes steadily on, and Canadians one and all rejoice in hope and spirit. With no black cloud to darken the horizon, we can tomorrow sing with intense earnestness and renewed loyalty, "God Save the King. Long may he reign."

AMBITION AT ALL COSTS

The Examiner nearly every day has something to say about the so-called un-British three-fifths clause in connection with local option and the administration of the license law.

It has suddenly become a sycophantic apostle of temperance and moral reform and is plainly trimming for some fresh tack on the political sea. Which is it, East or West Peterborough? If the East cannot be secured a little knifing process will do no harm in the West. So long as political ambitions are attained it matters not who suffers, friend or foe. In the meantime some shouting about the license laws is designed to help the thing along with a certain few whose support may be won over.

Great idea! Make all sorts of vague charges against a commissioner or commissioners and against officials. Berate and misrepresent them on every possible occasion. It is good political capital just now—even if there is nothing in the charges—because Mr. Stratton wants the nomination in East Peterborough. He must have it and all others must give way. The probable "delegates" from each polling subdivision to the next party convention in the East riding are already being interviewed; the ground is being carefully cultivated and the necessary "pipes" laid. But alas! there are obstacles in the way. Ex-Warden Thomas Johnston has his eye on the federal nomination in that constituency; so has ex-Warden Buck, and then there is Mr. John Finlay, the present representative to displace. He has not yet found that snug government berth—a good office—to retire to and therefore is not going to give over the reins in East Peterborough to Mr. Stratton or any one else without a struggle. In fact, he is said to have declared that he will be a candidate in East Peterborough no matter what other Liberal or Liberals may essay to carry the mud-stained banner of the party. It does not require a shrewd political guesser to see through the whole game. Things will be so manipulated that the East Peterborough "delegated" convention will be pulled off first and, if Mr. Stratton's vaulting aspiration for federal honors does not result in his securing the position of standard-bearer in the adjoining riding he will at once, not to be outdone, travel back to West Peterborough. Then what about Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.? Past associations and services are liable to be forgotten and in the fight it matters not if he goes under. Of course, R. R. will not give up without a desperate struggle. He has always had J. R. as a supporter and friend in years gone by, but that was when the latter was satisfied with provincial pastures and had an idea that he would fill the shoes of the then premier—G. W. Ross—at no distant date. But fate and an aroused public conscience swept this all aside. The coming storm was scented and Mr. Stratton withdrew into the ark of private life before the deluge came and the time serving and pledge breaking Grit aggregation at Toronto was ignominiously hurled from power. But once having tasted the sweets of office and revelled in a cabinet portfolio private life has apparently become irksome and as there is not a ghost of a chance at Toronto, Mr. Stratton is casting his longing eyes Ottawawards. A Senatorship seems out of the question. The pull is not strong enough and the Liberal party in East and West Peterborough would scarcely stand for any such preferment.

Well, to make a long story short the only opening seemingly available is, if the nomination in East Peterborough cannot be secured by fair means or otherwise, Mr. Stratton must fall back on West Peterborough. It matters not if Mr. Hall is in the way. Aspirations must be satisfied at all costs.

In the meantime, as lookers-on see most of the game they can view with equanimity the result of vaulting ambition and see the knifing process in connection with Mr. Finlay, M.P., or Mr. Hall, M.P., go on. The play is daily growing more interesting and is ever and anon brightened with new features from the standpoint of the spectator.

HOW THE MONEY GOES

Hon. Mr. Brodeur has been telling the people abroad how much had been done to improve the navigation of the St. Lawrence gulf and river by lights, buoys and telegraph lines ensuring greater safety to shipping in Canadian waters.

It is true that a vast deal of money has been spent on this account. In the last ten years the outlay has been increased by $2,000,000 a year. In 1896-7 the lighthouse and coast service cost the Dominion $445,742. In 1906-7 this service cost $2,530,337.

That the cost should increase is reasonable enough. In the expressive western saying, "pervisions has riz." But it is remarkable that the enormous increase stated coincides with a deplorable decrease in Canadian shipping.

Nor does the amount of increased traffic by this route correspond with the vast increase of outlay. Neither have the improvements so called lessened to any appreciable extent the accidents and disasters by this route.

Very much of the increase is to be accounted for in such extravagances as were pointed out in the debate on the item of $25,000 for a change in the mode of bookkeeping.

The outrageous expenditures brought before the Public Accounts Committee showed that the Department of Marine was not only short in its bookkeeping, but utterly reckless in the waste of money which no defects in bookkeeping could shield or excuse.

The expenses in connection with the boats employed furnish a fair sample of how the money goes. The sailors on board the "Kestrel" and "Canada" lived like guests at any first-class hotel. Asparagus at $9 a case; grapes 25 cents a pound; fowl $1.75 a pair; oysters by the barrel; English Stilton cheese at 50 cents a pound (the Canadian product was too cheap); candy 40 cents a pound; Radnor splits (whatever they are) at $3 a case; quilts at $65 apiece; ginger ale at $1.40 a dozen; spittoons $2; maple sugar, and other luxuries in lavish quantity, are only a few of the items set down. Other items included cucumbers at $1 a dozen; partridges at $1.00 a pair; new potatoes at $4.50 a barrel; strawberries at 50 cents a box; oranges, when out of season, at 60 cents a dozen.

All these things were purchased at the expense of the Government for the gold-laced gentlemen who cruise up and down the St. Lawrence looking after the lighthouses and buoys and incidentally warning off fish poachers from the three-mile limit!

No one can object to any proper provision for the men so employed in the country's service, but the plain-living people of Canada must surely think it is carrying things with a high hand when luxuries such as Radnor splits, partridges and strawberries when they first come in, hothouse peaches, hothouse grapes, and such luxuries which no farmer or mechanic can afford in his household, are allowed to these gentlemen who have a very good time at worst in cruising up and down.

Is it any marvel that the cost of the service has increased in ten years by $2,000,000 a year?

Will the people of Canada stand for that kind of thing?

PEN POINTS

Spend the holiday in the city. There is a good field of attractions at home.

To-morrow being Victoria Day, and a public holiday, there will be no issue of the Review.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General, has stated that the free postal delivery system will be given only in cities where the population is 12,000, and the annual postal revenue $20,000 a year, or more. It is said that the revenue rule will be rigidly adhered to. Windsor, Stratford, Guelph and other places are mentioned in Ottawa despatches as having been already selected for the system but so far Peterborough appears to have been mentioned only by local politicians. Is the matter of free street delivery here just a fairy tale? Peterborough certainly fills the requirements more than Stratford, Windsor or Guelph. The population here is 15,000, and the postal revenue over $30,000 a year. This city has 3,000 more inhabitants and over $10,000 more revenue than is required to secure street delivery, and how is it that cities in the West like Calgary and Edmonton, and other places in Ontario are on "the list," while this centre is apparently left out in the cold—and that, too, in the face of a largely signed petition, sent to Ottawa by the citizens many months ago. Got busy, Mr. Hall, get busy!

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"Gusty" Dundas in Police Court

May be Sent to House of Refuge —H. Raymond Allowed Out

Gusty Dundas, of North Monaghan was in the police court this morning. Gusty is having hard luck these days. After having all his belongings stolen from his house, and then getting poor satisfaction in taking the matter to court, he tried to get satisfaction by becoming drunk yesterday. After he had sobered up he was quite surprised to find himself in the police station, and could not understand why he was there. He told His Worship that he had rented his place and he wanted to go to the Northwest next week. His wife and son were living out there and they were going to send him the money.

"They wouldn't let you cross the border into Manitoba," said the magistrate.

"I wasn't drinking," said Gusty. "I only took a little whiskey and some salt-petre. I have to take it."

"The salt-petre did it then," replied His Worship.

Gusty was remanded until next Wednesday and in the meantime Chief Rossel will see if the county authorities cannot get him into the House of Refuge.

Robt. Coleman was fined two dollars for being drunk in a public place. He paid his fine and was allowed to go.

ASSAULT CASE.

Harry Raymond, who was remanded a week ago, charged with having assaulted Charlie Stevens and thus inflicting serious bodily harm, appeared. He pleaded not guilty a week ago. Mr. Kerr asked that, as the young man had a wife depending on him, that he be allowed his freedom, so that he might get to work. The Crown would not be ready for some time to go on with the case. He understood the two were just wrestling when the accident occurred. It was nothing more than an ordinary, common assault, and he would ask that Raymond be allowed his freedom.

The accused was allowed to go, on promising to appear next Wednesday. In case he does not appear he will have to pay $100 bail.

Collecting of Garbage in the City is a Warm Subject

Ald. Johnston Wrote to St. Thomas for Information, and Ald. Roche Returned a Newspaper Article on the Subject—Many Good Suggestions.

For some time past the City Council and the Property committee has been wrestling with the proposed garbage system. It is an ideal scheme and one which every citizen will back the Council up in. Every up-to-date city is adopting it and at the present time several cities smaller than Peterborough are taking up the question up.

Ald. Johnston communicated with Ald. Roche, of St. Thomas, who is very active along this line. His views were solicited and in return the following interview he gave the St. Thomas Times was sent him. The clipping is given below and is worth reading:—

The method which Ald. Roche has been investigating is known as the "High Temperature English Destructor," and is highly recommended by the New York Engineering Record, which devotes considerable space to descriptions and illustrations of the system. There are over 300 of these plants in operation in the old country, 91 per cent. of which are located in the residential districts, and no complaint whatever has ever been made that their presence is offensive in any way. The city of Cleveland, as well as one of the boroughs adjoining New York city, are considering the adoption of this system, and discarding the American incinerator, which does not give the same satisfactory results. Richmond borough has already installed the English plant.

But to come nearer home. This system has been in operation for about two years in the suburban city of Westmount, Quebec, a suburb of Montreal, and about the same population as St. Thomas. There it has given the very best of satisfaction. No separation of ashes, rubbish and garbage is necessary. It burns everything—ashes, straw, leaves, paper, decayed vegetable matter, and odds, ends and scraps of all sorts and materials. The residium from the burning of this refuse forms a vitreous clinker, of a hard, glassy nature, which may be utilized for roadways, crossings, sidewalks, etc. The clinker from 20 tons of garbage at 20 per cent would be four tons. In Liverpool paving flags are made from this material at 38 cents per square yard, including all costs, wear well and have an excellent appearance.

The garbage destructor at Westmount is utilized to generate electric power, and has reduced the cost of public lighting 33 per cent. It has saved that department over 1100 tons of coal annually, which means a saving of $3,410 per year in coal alone. The plant disposes of 50 tons of garbage every 24 hours, or 23 tons in 10 hours. Sixty tons of garbage will generate 325 horsepower every 24 hours. Westmount, being a residential suburb, necessarily has not the quantity of refuse that would be collected in a city like St. Thomas, with its numerous hotels, grocery stores, restaurants, etc.

The cost of operating the plant would be no greater than what it costs now to operate the electric light plant, with the exception of the additional cost of collecting the garbage.

COST OF COLLECTING GARBAGE.

The cost of collecting the garbage by contract would be less than 10 cents per month to each household, assuming it costs $4,000 annually to collect the garbage. If the city did the work of collecting, the cost to each household per month would be about 7 cents.

THE COLLECTING EQUIPMENT.

The cost of equipment for collection of garbage by the city would be: Eight horses, at $150, $1,200; eight carts, $10 each, $320; eight sets harness, $20 each, $160; total $1,680. Eight men would be required to make the collections twice a week in summer, and four men once a week in winter. In St. Thomas there are 3,480 houses; at 10 cents a month (collected by contract) that would be $1.20 for each household per year or a total of $4,176. At 7 cents per household, collected by the city, $2,436. It must be remembered that these are high estimates. Ald. Roche says the experience at Westmount goes to indicate that the expense would probably be considerably less. The cost of the collecting of garbage would be included in the taxation, which 1-4 mill would fully cover, amounting to 25 cents on every $1,000 assessment, if the whole cost of collection was paid by taxation.

The plant is absolutely sanitary. There is no smoke, no offensive odor. It can be installed anywhere without creating a nuisance or lowering the value of adjoining property. All gases and matter are subjected to a temperature of 2,000 to 2,500 degrees of heat Fr.

The plant in question is endorsed by Lord Kelvin, Sir Douglas Fox, W. Brockman, H. A. Priestly, W. F. Goodrich, pre-eminently the best informed authorities in England; also Col. Wm. F. Morse and Rudolph Hering, consulting engineers of New York city. Ross & Holgate say this combined electricity and refuse disposal plant is a model in design, construction and operation, and an object lesson of the greatest value to other communities now looking for practical information on this subject.

The project is well worth consideration, and before the City Council turns it down, it might be well to have a deputation visit the Westmount plant, see exactly how it operates, and whether after a two years' trial the people are satisfied with the experiment.

S. A. Oke's Wholesale Fruit Business is Developing

The Canadian Grocer this week contains the following reference to one of the local fruit firms, and its progress;

"S. A. Oke, fish and fruit dealer, who carries on the largest exclusive fruit business in the city, has secured a lease of large premises along the G.T.R. track, which will be used as a wholesale storehouse. For some time past Mr. Oke has done a wholesale business, but the past couple of years has seen such a development that he cannot possibly handle it from the retail store. The new premises are situated at the corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets, and a railway siding runs right into the building. The premises are very large and well built, having been used years ago as a grain elevator. One great feature about the building is that there is a ripening room in the basement large enough to hold 300 bunches of bananas at one time. Then, the foundations are so thick that frost cannot possibly penetrate in the winter. The firm, at the present time, is handling a carload of bananas a week, and the business is just getting nicely started.

"Associated with Mr. S. A. Oke is his brother, Mr. Walter Oke, who spent eleven years in the wholesale fruit houses in Toronto. He is, therefore, a first-class man, and the boys are making a big success.

"Besides the city trade, which is by no means small, Oke Bros., cover a very large outside country, including such places as Cannington, Lakefield, Havelock, Omemee, Lindsay, Norwood, Bobcaygeon, Millbrook, Campbellford and several other places. A little later in the season there will be the very heavy business from the summer residents, and tourists, up around the Kawartha Lakes, Chemong Park and Rice Lake. All the summer resorts help very largely in increasing the total of Oke Bros.' business. The new storehouse will enable them to handle their fruit and fish more easily and more quickly this year than ever before."

Elect Committees to Conference

District Meeting is Over—Rev. J. G. Lewis is New Chairman

The open session of the Peterborough district of the Methodist Church was held yesterday afternoon at half-past one in the Mark street church. In addition to the ministers who were present at the morning session, the following laymen were present:—Messrs. Wm. Yelland, A. W. Cressman, Jos. Batten, Thos. Johnston, R. W. Clarke, R. S. Staples, R. J. Strong, John Hall, R. C. Hurd, J. D. Foster, T. R. Graham, W. J. Northey, W. Jakeman and J. L. Hughes.

Rev. Dr. Crothers occupied the chair, and the meeting was opened with a hymn and prayer.

The first business was the election of a new chairman. Owing to Rev. Dr. Crothers moving to St. Catharines and being transferred to the Hamilton Conference, it necessitated the election of a new chairman. Rev. J. G. Lewis was unanimously chosen to succeed Dr. Crothers. Other officers elected were:—

Financial Secretary—Rev. Dr. Metzler, Bridgenorth.

Statistical Secretary—Rev. J. F. Chapman, Pontypool.

The following committees were appointed to represent the district at Conference on the following different subjects:—

Stationing Committee—Rev. G. R. Clare and Mr. M. E. Sexsmith.

Sunday School Committee—Rev. H. M. Manning and Mr. John Hull.

Epworth League Committee—Rev. J. F. Chapman and Mr. R. C. Hurd.

Contingent Committee—Rev. Geo. Nickle and Mr. Thomas Johnston.

Sustentation Fund Committee—Rev. J. Bidford and Mr. R. S. Staples.

Temperance and Moral Reform—Rev. J. E. Wetherell and Mr. T. R. Graham.

Memorial Committee—Rev. H. M. Manning and Mr. Wm. Yelland.

Sabbath Observance—Rev. Dr. Metzler and Mr. W. J. Northey.

Church Property Committee—Rev. G. R. Clare and Mr. R. W. Clarke.

State of Work Committee—Rev. M. E. Sexsmith and Mr. R. J. Strong.

Nominating Committee—Rev. J. G. Lewis and Mr. J. D. Foster.

Education Committee—Rev. Dr. Marvin and Mr. A. W. Cressman.

Class Leaders—Rev. Dr. Marvin and Mr. Jos. Batten.

ENCOURAGING STATISTICS.

The statistical report of the district showed an increase in the membership of the churches. There was a large increase in the missionary contributions. The funds of the different churches were all in a most satisfactory condition. The ministers' salaries had all been paid, with the exception of two cases.

This concluded the business of the Peterborough district for the year.

ROLLER HOCKEY ON THE HOLIDAY

There Will be Big Time at Charlotte Street Rink Tomorrow Night

A fitting way to wind up the holiday will be to attend the roller hockey match at the Charlotte street rink to-morrow night. Acting together, the rink management and roller hockey club have arranged an evening of rare entertainment and there will no doubt be a record-breaking crowd in attendance. There will be skating between seven and nine o'clock, and the hockey match will be played between nine and ten. The band will be present all evening, and the admission is 25 cents for skaters and the privilege of seeing the hockey match, or 15 cents for admission without skates.

The hockey match will be played five man aside. This will give the players more scope for work, as it was found that the Charlotte street rink was not large enough to give fourteen men a fair showing. The boys had their final practice last night, and travelled at a lively clip. One would not recognize the players as the same ones who took part in the last match a couple of weeks ago, so greatly have they improved. The teams to play tomorrow night are the Victorias and Kenoras, and a fast, scientific contest is assured. They will line up as follows:—

Kenoras.		Victorias
	Goal
B Fortune		Thorp
	Point
J Seymour		Gibbs
	Forward
McDonald		Clancy
Staunton		Agnew
Deforge		J Miller

Referee—S. J. Sheridan.

The rink is in fine condition for skating and most complete arrangements have been made for the hockey match. The boys should have a bumper crowd.

CRICKET

The Cricket Club will practice at Nicholls Oval tonight immediately after six o'clock, when the team will be picked to go to Warkworth tomorrow for the first game this season. Mr. Harry Lovekin has been elected captain of the eleven, and the following are asked to be at the crease tonight; Messrs. C. Hill F Rowe, Reaston, H Clarke. R. Cameron, Duggan, W Edwards, C Moore, Coleman, E Wood, G Greer and H Hall. Mr. Chas Seymour has been chosen as official scorer.

County Teachers In Convention

Principal Merchant of London Normal School Addresses Gathering

Special to the Review.

Norwood, May 22.—The annual convention of the Teachers' Association of Peterborough County, met in Norwood yesterday. The president was in the chair.

After the minutes were approved, the chairman made a few appropriate remarks. He referred to the recent departmental regulations.

Inspectors Lees and Brown, Misses Oliver and Carter, and Mr. Gordon, were appointed a nominating committee.

Dr. Merchant, principal of London Normal school next took up the subject. "Some essentials of method in their application to the teaching of Public school subjects." He spoke of the necessity of "meaning" in everything we teach. Teachers were urged to give children an opportunity to develop their senses. Proceed from the concrete to the abstract. Children often give confused expressions to ideas because they have not received a proper conception. See that the child sees a "meaning" in what you do. If the meaning is not there, then the child has not fully understood the subject. Present your subject in such a way as to arouse the child's interest. Less words, less things, but the art of expressing the connection between words and things should be the aim of the true teacher. The address was very profitable to the teachers, as shown by the attention given to the speaker.

Mr. Brown, public school inspector, spoke on "Nineteenth Century Progress." He referred to the enlarged facilities of communication, such as submarine cables, telephones, telegraphs, etc. Mr. Brown urged the teachers to keep pace with the times and progress of the century and have the pupils up to the mark in the different studies in the school curriculum.

The convention adjourned until tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Dr. Merchant will speak Thursday night on "The Man of To-morrow."

Joseph Bamford was sentenced at Hamilton to six months for stealing brass.

Great Ball is Assured For Local Fans To-morrow

Peterborough and the Arctics of Toronto Meet at Riverside Park, 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.—How the Teams Will Line Up—"Yebbie" Flaherty Will Pitch One Game for Locals.

For the first time in several years the Peterborough baseball fans will have an opportunity of seeing a first-class article of their favorite game served up tomorrow and on Saturday, when the Peterborough team and the Arctics of Toronto, champions of the Don Valley League will meet in a three game series at Riverside Park. A handsome silver cup has been donated for the series of games by Mrs. Melbourne of Toronto, and the trophy is now on view in Lang and Maher's window. Two games will be played tomorrow, one at ten o'clock, and the other at three and if the weather continues fine there should be record crowds in attendance at each game. The third game will be played on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock.

The locals finished their training last night and are in great shape to stack up against the Toronto aggregation. The whole team was out and the players worked together like clock work. "Yebbie" Flaherty who did the twirling for the Galt team in the Canadian league last season, will be on the rubber for the locals in one game, and his appearance on the local diamond will be watched with interest by scores of admirers. "Yebbie" is showing fine form, and should be able to keep the Arctics' guessing. "Corney" Burns will pitch one of the games of the series and Quinlan will do the twirling for the third. Either Burns or Flaherty will pitch the opening game tomorrow. Quinlan will do the twirling in Saturday's game. Harry Burridge will do the receiving for the three games and in the practices has been doing great work in that position. "Mike" Belleghem will hold down the initial cushion for the locals, Callaghan will be at second and Sheridan at third. Percy Johnson, a former Toronto boy, who is now making Peterborough his home will be at short stop and should be able to fill that position to a nicety. He is a brother of Manager Johnson and is quick and certain and also handles the willow well. The field will be picked from Quinlan, Connors, Flaherty and Parnell and will be strong.

The Arctics are carrying four pitchers, and every one of them is an artist on the delivery end of the rubber. The team has been cleaning up everything in Toronto, and are bringing a strong nine to Peterborough. The teams will line up as follows,—

PETERBOROUGH.

Burridge, c.; Burns, Flaherty, and Quinlan, pitchers; Belleghem, 1b.; Callaghan, 2b.; Johnson, s.s.; Sheridan, 3b.; Flaherty, Connors, Parnell Quinlan and Graham, are available for the field.

ARCTICS.

Moran, c.; Greer, Austy, Harding and Biffin, pitchers; Lawson, 1b.; Clewlo, 2b.; Poulter, s.s.; Haliburton, 3b.; Gibson, l.f.; Cowle, c.f.; Avison, r.f.

Barnes, who is umpiring in the Don Valley Senior series will officiate for the three games.

The Arctics will bring down a large number of rooters and expect to win.

Knights of Columbus Will Have a Big Day Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be a big day for the Knights of Columbus. There will be several hundred delegates in the city from all parts of Ontario, and especially from Toronto and Belleville district. Both of these cities are running special trains. Toronto's delegates will be here at 12.30 tonight via the C.P.R., and the Belleville train will arrive early tomorrow morning over the G. T. R. All the regular trains today, tonight and tomorrow morning will bring in the various contingents and when the ceremony starts there will likely be several hundred here.

At nine o'clock in the morning, the Knights of Columbus and the candidates will gather at the new rooms on George street, which were formerly occupied by the Elks, and parade to mass at St. Peter's Cathedral. Afterwards they will march back to headquarters, where the ceremony of conferring the exemplification of degrees will be put on. There are a large number of candiadtes, and the grand officers of the order will have a heavy day.

In the evening, a luncheon will be served in the rooms by Caterer, Thos. Hooper, and this will bring the day to a close. The delegates are being looked after by the Oriental, National, Snowdon and White House.

Many Spending the Holiday At Cottages at the Lakes

It was "all aboard" for Stony Lake today. The 24th of May always sees the first big rush to the lake regions and this year is no exception to the rule. It is expected that hundreds will answer the call of the wild tomorrow, but the advance parties got away today and they made quite a contingent as they gathered at the G.T.R. station at noon waiting for the Lakefield train. Over fifty passengers boarded the train here, all bound for the lakes, and there was a great hustle getting the baggage on board. And a lot of baggage there was too, and the variety was amazing. One man had a cat in a box with a "handle with care" sign pasted on top. There were trunks, boxes, tables, strange looking bundles, coal oil cans, and numerous other household articles that will add comfort to the lives of the cottagers during their sojourn in the summer resort country. Below will be found the names of some of those who went to the lakes today;

Mr A. L. Davis, of Toronto, will spend the holiday at his magnificent new cottage, upon which the carpenters have been working for some time. It is nearing completion and will be the finest cottage of the lakes.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Stock left to spend the week-end at their cottage "Ivanhoe."

Mr John Nugent was another who left to open his cottage for the season.

Mr W. J. Morrow and two sons, are spending the holliday and week-end at "Belle Chase," Mr. H. LeBrun's cottage.

Messrs. Sutherland, Acton and Henderson, of Toronto, with their families, went up to the lakes today to open their cottages for the season

Mr C. H. Routley and family were among those who left to spend the holiday at Stony Lake.

Mr and Mrs. J. J. McBain, Mr. Hubert, and Mr and Mrs. Thompson, have gone to "Bona Vista," their summer home, to spend the holiday.

Mr and Mrs. Jas. Hamilton also left at noon for the lake regions.

Mr W. G. Ferguson is taking advantage of Victoria Day to open his cottage. He left at noon today.

Mr. George Cochrane was a passenger on the Lakefield train at noon; also Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., They will open their cottages for the season.

Mr John Crane, and Mr. Bullen-Yeats, have gone to the lakes to spend the holiday.

Mr and Mrs. D. W. Dumble and Mr. Oscar Dumble left for their summer home on Stony lake today.

Mr W J. Thompson was among those who left for Stony Lake today

Mr and Mrs. Alex. Gibson and daughter, have gone to their cottage to spend the holiday.

GOLF

Lively Runaway In Havelock

Cordova Man Severely Injured—Rev. A. E. Camp's Departure Regretted

Havelock, May 22nd.—A fiery team of three year old colts owned by Mr. John Wilson of Cordova, frightened by a small girl's hat being blown in front of them, ran away here on Tuesday evening, throwing the occupant of the rig out, and severely bruising his limbs and inflicting a deep gash on his head. After throwing Mr. Wilson out, the horses crashed into the buggy of Mr. Pearson at old Havelock, throwing him out and dividing the two rigs into several pieces. The horses then separated, one being caught, while the other made its way eastward, down the railroad track, followed by a freight train. After running about half a mile, it jumped the fence and escaped into a field. Mr. Wilson was carried into the nearest house where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Holdcroft, and then he was removed to his home at Cordova.

ACCEPTS CALL.

Rev. A. E. Camp, B. A., who for the past three years has been pastor of the Presbyterian church here, has accepted the call extended to him by the congregation of St. Andrew's church, Sault Ste. Marie, and will leave for that place in a short time. The people of Havelock will indeed regret the departure of Mr. Camp from town, but all will join in wishing him every success in his new surroundings.

Mrs. E. Fitzsimmons and son, Master Ralph, of Toronto Junction, formerly of Havelock, are in town renewing old acquaintances. They will leave on Thursday for Farnham, New York, and other places east.

FOOTBALL MATCH.

The Havelock Football Team journeyed to Marmora on Friday last to play the return match with that town. The local eleven were greatly in need of practice and owing to having junior men &c, they were defeated by a score of 3—0. The following are the names of those representing the Havelock team,—

Goal—R. Graham.

Backs—Chas. Robinson, Wm. Watson.

Half-Backs—E. Bennett, Wm. Andrews, K. Morris.

Centre forward—M. Neil.

Right Wing—K. McKay, Wm. McBurney.

Mrs. J W. Bryans and daughter, Bertha, returned from visiting friends in Peterborough on Saturday.

Mr. James E. Fowler is in Toronto on business.

Confirmation services were held in St. John's church on Tuesday, May 21st, by His Grace, The Archbishop of Toronto, assisted by Rev. Mr. Pickford of Norwood, and Rev. H Caplan of town, when a large number were confirmed.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Muir of Toronto, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Barlow.

Miss Timmerman, of Ivanhoe, spent Sunday, the guest of Miss Claudia Richards.

Reeve James Thompson returned to Havelock on Monday. Mr. Thompson visited Vancouver and San Francisco, returning home by way of Chicago and Buffalo.

Miss E. Wright on doctor's advice has been obliged to give up her position as bookkeeper in A. E. Barrett's store.

Mrs. E. Oldrey, and Miss K. Chambers are visiting friends in Toronto for a few weeks.

Mr. John Henry Pethick, a middle-aged and very much respected farmer of Belmont, died at his home about five miles east of here, on Tuesday, May 21st, after a short illness.

Rev. H Caplan assisted in the confirmation services at Norwood on Monday night.

Mr. J. L. Squire of Norwood, has purchased the C.P.R. grain elevator at the west end of the town.

There Was Big Slump in Wheat

Declined Six Cents But a Rally Took Place

Chicago, May 23.—There was a big slump in wheat this morning. It looked for a time as though the bottom would fall out of it, but after declining six cents, a rally of moderate proportions took place. The break started in the last fifteen minutes yesterday, but this morning when Liverpool cables came in over 2 cents up and the curb market was 1 1-4 up it looked like higher prices, but right from the tap of the gong in the pit there was heavy unloading of long wheat by some one, probably some of the big professionals getting out. Stop-loss orders in abundance were caught as the decline went on, accelerating the break. The pit was in a panicky state for an hour, but new buyers came in and the price steadied. Later a rally carried prices back up, regaining half the loss. Corn and oats sympathized with the break in wheat and sold off at about two cents

Potatoes Were Short in Weight

Two Persons Fined in Police Court

Chief Roszel and P. C. Newball made a raid on the market this morning. They took into their possession a number of bags of potatoes and brought them to the scales and had them weighed. Some of them were short of the standard weight of a bag of potatoes. Ninety-one pounds is the standard weight

Two parties were in police court this morning charged with not having the correct weight according to the market bylaw.

Johnson Murphy, of South Monaghan was one of the victims of the investigation. He had a load of potatoes One bag weighed 82 pounds, another one 81 pounds and two more weighed 85 1-2 and 84 lbs. Mr. Murphy's "murphies" were of an exceptionally good species and were very large. He did not weigh them before leaving home, but filled the bags up well. He said that he never had the least intention of cheating the public.

Miss Murphy was with her brother and seemed depressed about being in police court. She said she would sooner the police had confiscated all the potatoes than have to appear in police court.

Alexander Dawson, of this city, also had bags of potatoes not up to the correct weight. He claimed that while his bags were well filled, potatoes at this time of year do not weigh as much as in the fall. The moisture goes out of them, and when dry they do not weigh as much

His Worship fined them each two dollars to be paid in ten days. He said that he would have to fine them. To let them go would only encourage other farmers to bring potatoes to the market, under standard weight.

Wm Hammond and Wm. Drummond were each fined two dollars this morning for being drunk and disorderly yesterday.

Chas. Greatrix was charged with assaulting his wife yesterday. His wife was present and withdrew the charge. Greatrix had to pay the costs of the court, amounting to $3.75.

Over 170 Candidates Received Into the Knights of Columbus

Four Hundred and Fifty Visiting Knights in the City—Attended Nine O'clock Mass in a Body—Exemplification of Degrees Started at Eleven O'clock and Lasted Until Ten at Night

Over four hundred strangers were in the city yesterday attending the Knights of Columbus gathering. It was a big day for them, and a long, hard day. The delegates came from all parts of the Province, including a special train, with a hundred on board from Toronto, and a special from Belleville with seventy-five on board, besides about 120 from Lindsay, and near by points. The first to arrive got here Thursday evening, and the majority left last night, although some had to stay over. All the local hotels were filled, but the visitors were given the very best of accommodation.

The occasion was the exemplification of degrees upon about 170 candidates. Early Friday morning the visitors met in the Knights of Columbus Hall, on George street, and, together with the local lodge, paraded in a body to mass at St. Peter's Cathedral, where mass was celebrated at nine o'clock by Rev. Father McColl. Father F. O'Sullivan was deacon and Father Galvin sub-deacon. Father Kelly was master of ceremonies. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was on his throne, and he was assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Lindsay, and Very Rev. Father Zinger, president of St. Jerome's College, Berlin, Ont. Ven. Archdeacon Casey preached the sermon, which was most impressive and appropriate.

The Knights of Columbus, over 500 strong, reached the cathedral about nine o'clock, and occupied the centre of the church. The spectacle was a noteworthy one, for it is not often that so large and fine a body of men are seen at public worship.

After the services at the cathedral the Knights marched back to their hall, and at eleven o'clock the ceremony of the exemplification of degrees was started by the grand Officers of the Order. The 170 candidates were all received into the Order and made Knights of Columbus This part of the day was very hard on those taking part, although extremely interesting. It was not completed until ten o'clock last night. Then light luncheon was served by Mr. Thomas Hooper in the rooms, and the gathering broke up in time for those who wished to go away on the midnight train.

The day was a decided success in every way, and, while the visitors had very little time to get around the city, or to take in any of the attractions, they all had a thoroughly enjoyable time, and will be glad to return to this city.

Rev. Geo. W. Henderson Accepts Call to Charlotte Street Church

Dr. M. A. Morrison, recording steward of Charlotte street Methodist church, received word this morning from Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, pastor of the Port Hope Methodist church, that he had accepted the invitation of Charlotte street congregation to become their pastor in 1908, subject to the sanction of the Stationing Committee of the Conference.

Mr. Henderson will succeed Rev. H. M. Manning, whose term expires in June, 1908. The Charlotte street church is to be congratulated on the success in securing such an able, talented and eloquent pastor as Rev. Mr. Henderson, who is highly thought of. Mr. Henderson entered the ministry in 1875, and labored faithfully for some years in the London Conference, having charge of two different churches in London. He was also stationed at Sarnia, Windsor and St. Mary's Some years ago he was transferred to the Bay of Quinte Conference. He was pastor of Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, and nearly three years ago was called to Port Hope. In June, 1908, he will have completed four years pastorate in the lakeside town. In 1891, Mr. Henderson was president of the London Conference, and in the same year he was a delegate to the Ecumenical Conference in London, Eng. Mr. Henderson has preached in Peterborough and is a man of deep piety, great energy and force of character, as well as a clear and most instructive speaker. His sermons are marked by originality, breadth of thought and intense earnestness.

STRIKE AT RAND MINES

Boer Minister Has to Call in Imperial Troops.

White Workers In Forty-Three Mines Quit Work—Refused to Accept Reduction In Pay For Contract Piece Work—Struggle Is Bitter One—Government Commission Enquiring—Strikers Break Barricades.

Johannesburg, May 25.—The new Transvaal Government has met with its first serious trouble in connection with a big strike of the white miners on the Rand. The workers in 46 of the leading mines are out, and the work is with difficulty being carried on by poor Dutch, who, however, may in the long run benefit at the expense of the strikers, who the magnates declare will not be reinstated.

Rioting, arising from the strikers attacking the strike-breakers, has broken out at the Ferreira Mine and others. There has been some revolver shooting but little injury has been done. The situation has become sufficiently serious however, to induce the Government to summon regular troops. J. W. Smutz, Colonial Secretary in the new Government, and who held a Ministerial position under the Boers, has accordingly had the novel experience of calling British troops into action. Seven hundred cavalry and infantry have arrived.

There is much bitterness between the magnates and the miners and their supporters. The trouble began by the British miners refusing to accept a reduction in pay for contract piece work. The owners say that the men were earning an average of $3,000 each annually, and that a reduction was necessary. The miners and their sympathizers construe the employers' action as an attempt to increase the cheap labor of the Chinese and Dutch, and to augment their own profits. The disputed questions were recently submitted to Government commissioners, and many of the public condemn the miners for not awaiting the commission's decision before striking. Business here is seriously checked. The citizens are nervous and disposed to panic.

Johannesburg, May 25.—The strike situation reached a critical stage Thursday, and the men have been isolated. The white workers in 43 mines went out Wednesday because of the demand by the proprietors that they worked three drills a day instead of two, and the men from the mines in the east and central rand areas are joining the movement.

When the strikers left the Ferreira deep mine Thursday night they marched to the Robinson deep, tore down the barricades, and assaulted the men who had not gone on strike. A general riot ensued.

About one thousand imperial troops have arrived here, and will be sent along the reef.

The strikers do not appear to know that a Government commission is even now conducting an enquiry into the question of underground work generally.

WAS CAPTAIN'S MISTAKE.

Admiralty Court Fixes Blame For Loss of Steamer.

Hamburg, May 25.—The admiralty court has decided that the wreck of the Hamburg-American line steamer Prinzessin Victoria Luise near Kingston, Jamaica, Dec. 16 last, was due to Captain Brunswig's mistaking one light for another and maintaining full steam at a time when he should not have done so.

The decision of the court concludes with saying that Captain Brunswig neglected his duties as commander of the vessel by locking himself in his cabin and committing suicide after she ran on the rocks, instead of trying to save the ship and passengers, who, however, were all safely landed.

AMMONIA TANK EXPLODES.

Five Men Killed and Many Others Injured.

Chicago, Ill., May 25.—Five men were killed and at least a dozen overcome by the explosion of an ammonia tank in one of Armour & Co.'s warehouses on Thursday night.

The building was full of workmen, and the deadly fumes, escaping from under high pressure, penetrated through every department in the building in such a short time that twenty of the men were overcome.

It was not until six hours after the explosion that the first body was recovered.

All of the dead and injured were foreigners.

Demand for Flour Increase.

Winnipeg, Man., May 25.—The demand from the Far East for our Canadian flour is still on the increase. The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. has closed a further contract for ten thousand sacks for July shipment from their Winnipeg mill to China. Recent sales have been made at advancing prices, and additional offers are under consideration.

CZAR THANKS COUNCIL.

Appreciates Resolution of Congratulations at Escape.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—Emperor Nicholas, in reply to the message of the Council of the Empire, expressing its congratulations on his escape from death as a result of the recent terrorist plot, has telegraphed to that body as follows:

"I heartily thank the Council of the Empire for the expression of its sentiments. I am convinced that the council will be of real assistance to me in all its works. As for my life, it is not precious to me, provided Russia lives in glory, peace and prosperity."

Postoffice for Cobalt.

Cobalt, May 25.—Minister of Customs Patterson, Postmaster Coulter and C. A. McCool, M. P., arrived in town yesterday to look over Cobalt with a view to selecting a site for a new postoffice and giving Cobalt the much-needed improved postal service, which the demand of the camp and of the entire north country calls for.

A customs office will be opened in Cobalt within two weeks. At present business has to be done in North Bay.

Shaughnessy's Advice.

London, May 25.—(C. A. P.)—The correspondent of The Mail has received a letter from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, which contains the following: "See what can be done toward enabling intending investors to purchase small quantities of C. P. R. stock, open market, without paying undue price for splitting certificates."

Tornado in Oklahoma.

Snyder, Okla., May 25.—A tornado of small proportions here yesterday caused more or less damage to property and destroyed communication with the outside world for several hours, the wind tearing down telephone and telegraph wires and poles. No casualties have been reported here or elsewhere.

LAURIER VISITS PARIS

Will Be Received by President Fallieres To-Day.

Sir Wilfrid is Seeking to Negotiate Tariff Arrangements With France, Italy and Belgium—Will First Proceed to Rome—On Return Will Submit Formal Proposals—Waiting For Colleagues.

Paris, May 25.—The Canadian Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has arrived here from London, and is paying official visits. He called on Premier Clemenceau, Foreign Minister Pichon, and the British ambassador, Sir Francis Bertie, and was received in audience by President Fallieres yesterday.

The purpose of Sir Wilfrid's visit to the continent is to see if it is possible to negotiate and make mutually more advantageous tariff arrangements between Canada and France, Italy and Belgium. The subject, however, has not yet been broached at the French Foreign Office, as Sir Wilfrid desires the presence of Hon. W. S. Fielding, the Canadian Minister of Finance, and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, the Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who arrive here to-day. The plan is to proceed to Rome May 28, and see what can be accomplished there, returning to Paris about June 13, when formal propositions will be submitted to France and Belgium.

London, May 25.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons Winston Churchill stated that no definite scheme was laid before the conference for a proposed subsidized "all-red" mail route. The contracts would have to be examined in minute detail.

He also stated that a verbatim report of the conference would be issued at the end of this month.

Anxious for Arrangement.

London, May 25.—(C. A. P.)—The Mail says the steel and iron industry in Germany is especially anxious for a fiscal arrangement with Canada, which the press generally advocates.

SUBSIDY A SURE THING.

Sir W. Lyne Thinks All-Red Scheme Should Go Through.

London, May 25.—(C. A. P.)—Sir W. Lyne, regarding the all-red service, demands steamers running 23 to 25 knots an hour.

"We should be able to provide a sufficient subsidy," he says, "to accomplish the object. Canada is prepared to pay over £200,000 and New Zealand at least £100,000, although Deakin did not commit himself as to any particular amount, but we will also be ready with our contribution, as at present we pay an oriental company £120,000 yearly and we are looking forward to having two good routes to Australia and two services weekly, one via Suez and the other via Canada."

Removal of Embargo.

London, May 25.—In the debate on the importation of cattle Sir Edward Strachey, of the board of agriculture, said that the time might come when the embargo might be removed, but he could hold out no hope at present. It is not a question of protection versus free trade, but protection from disease.

BRITAIN AND GERMANY.

Arrangements Between Two Nations Best For All Concerned.

London, May 25.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons last night as to whether the most favored nation treatment did not entitle Great Britain to the concessions recently obtained by Germany from the United States, Foreign Secretary Grey said the concession relating to the work of special and secret agents, the policy of affording open hearings in reappraisement cases, and the recognition of certificates of chambers of commerce will be for the benefit of all countries.

TOO MUCH LAXITY.

Crown Attorneys Neglect Cases Against Railway Employes.

Ottawa, May 25.—Dr. Mills of the railway commission expresses the opinion that crown attorneys are, as a rule, entirely too lax in neglecting to formulate and prosecute charges of manslaughter against railway employes or officials responsible for fatalities.

The prosecution in all cases depends upon the provincial authorities, the duties of the board ending after the facts have been brought to the attention of those whose duty it is to enforce the criminal code.

Many Buildings Collapse.

Mexico City, Mex., May 25.—Six persons have been killed and seven injured in this city within the past 24 hours by collapsing buildings.

Thursday two children were buried under the ruins of a house on Constancia street. Thursday a building in course of construction in Sabine street fell, killing four workmen and injuring seven.

Brave Veteran Dead.

St. John, N. B., May 25.—Hiram Wetmore, a veteran of the Crimean war, dropped dead here yesterday. During the war he saved the ship which he was on by picking up a live shell and throwing it overboard.

For this act of bravery the British Government awarded him a pension of £2 per month. He was of unusual physique.

Curzon In Demand.

HONOR BRAVE CANADIANS.

Monument to South African Heroes Unveiled In Montreal.

Montreal, May 25.—Strathcona and Soldiers' Monument, erected in memory of Strathcona Horse and Canadians who perished in South Africa, was unveiled here yesterday by Chief Justice Fitzpatrick, administrator of Canada, acting in the absence from the country of Lord Grey, before a vast concourse of people, it being estimated that 100,000 either saw the ceremony or the subsequent march past, the reviewing point of three thousand soldiers.

A more imposing military display has never been witnessed in Montreal. Troops were drawn up in hollow square surrounding the monument. Judge Fitzpatrick's arrival was received by Principal Peterson of McGill, chairman of monument committee, and Col. Buchan, who commanded the troops.

Principal Peterson opened the proceedings by a short speech, in which he quoted an extract from a letter received from Lord Grey when he found that his visit to England would prevent his attendance at the unveiling of the monument: "Had I been at your unveiling ceremony I should, of course, have dwelt upon the fact that we went to war and had to go to war to obtain equal rights for Britain and Boer, and that having won, we were not afraid to achieve our ideals. Result—Botha."

ARE MENTAL DYSPEPTICS.

No Little Englanders in Canada Says Premier Whitney.

Toronto, May 25.—Speaking yesterday at the Victoria Day celebration of the Little England party in the old country, Premier Whitney expressed the opinion that they were suffering from mental dyspepsia. There were no such people in Canada and he believed that very few people in the country would listen for a moment to a proposal to separate from the old land. The people were ready as one man, he thought, to turn out in defence of the country, though fortunately such a sacrifice was not required at present.

"We must remember, however," he continued, "that we have on our boundaries a nation which is not friendly." The people of the United States, he added, had been taught from youth up to dislike everything British and there was little love for Britain or British institutions in that country.

Referring to the future of the Empire, the Premier said there was a great deal of speculation. The outlying portions were calling out for closer relations, but the difficulty was that Imperial statesmen did not seem to understand that Imperial questions must be considered in their relation to the whole Empire and not merely from the narrow home point of view.

CHEAPER SCHOOL BOOKS.

Reduction of Prices for Readers—New Contract Awarded.

Toronto, May 25.—The Canada Publishing Co., Ltd., was awarded the tender for the publication of school books by the Provincial Government Thursday, the prices for the set of five readers being in all 49 cents, as compared with $1.15 for the old issue.

In addition, 25 per cent. is allowed off all books, one or more, when bought direct from the publishers, and an extra ten per cent. on quantities of $250 worth and upwards.

It is estimated that should each child purchase one book a year in the schools the saving over the old prices will be $60,000 a year to the parents.

It is stated on excellent authority that this reduction is only the beginning of slashing reductions all along the line.

The Minister of Education is said to have a definite policy in this direction. The plan is to cheapen the cost of all the textbooks used in the schools and colleges of the province.

BLACK HAND CASE OVER.

One of Accused Suicides and Other Pleads Guilty.

New York, May 25.—The trial of three alleged "black hand" men on the charge of murdering Gaetano Costa, a Brooklyn butcher, was abruptly closed yesterday. Rocco Panagiro, one of the men, committed suicide at the Raymond street jail by hanging.

Immediately after the opening of the Supreme Court, Genaro Esposito, another of the trio, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. Then, upon recommendation of District Attorney Clark, Francesco Como, on trial jointly with the other two, was discharged for want of evidence.

CROSS FOR BABY PRINCE.

Traditional Ceremony Takes Place At Spanish Court.

Madrid, May 25.—The traditional ceremony conferring the Cross of Pelayo upon the Prince of the Asturias, the newly born heir to the throne of Spain took place in the palace Thursday in the presence of the members of the royal family and a gathering of Government officials. The baby was invested with the cross by his father, the King.

After this ceremony a delegation from the Principality of the Asturias was received at the palace, and delivered a gift for the royal baby, consisting of one thousand golden doubloons, equal in value to $8,000.

Railway Fireman Killed.

Belleville, May 25.—Jacob Hennessay, a fireman on the C. O. Railway, was cut in two by a train near Bancroft. The train broke apart, and the shock is supposed to have thrown him under the wheels. Hennessay was 30 years old and unmarried. His home was in Trenton.

Litigation Is Dropped.

Winnipeg, May 25.—The West Kootenay Power and Light Co. and Lebon Corporation have settled all pending litigation. The company's appeal to the Privy Council is dropped, each party paying its own costs.

New shops will be erected by the G.T.R. at Stratford and contracts for the structural steel have been let.

The trouble arose from rivalries engendered during the recent election.

The Marathon Mystery

A Story of Manhattan

By BURTON E. STEVENSON
Author of "The Holladay Case"

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt and Company

Half blinded for an instant, we stood staring at each other, at the door.

"For God's sake!" gasped Simmonds, mopping the sweat from his face. "What is it?"

"It's a snake," said Godfrey tersely, "the deadliest in the world. If you don't believe me look yonder!" And he pointed to the huddled mass on the floor.

I did not look; I was afraid to; I had already seen too much. I was grateful when Godfrey jerked down a curtain and threw it over the body. Then he gave Simmonds the lantern and closed the door, which we had left open when we entered.

"Now," he continued sharply, "there's no use in giving way to our nerves. We're in no danger, but that snake is hid around here somewhere and the first thing for us to do is to find it. Were there two snakes, Lester?"

"No," I answered, as articulately as I could, "I think not. I never saw but one."

"I thought you said Cecily took that one with her."

"So she did—wait; I didn't see it. She had a cover over the cage."

Godfrey's face paled suddenly.

"Good God!" he murmured.

A giddiness seized me. I clutched at a chair for support.

It had been no accident. She had left Fe-Fe behind to avenge her—and what a vengeance! She had not laughed and forgotten!

Then in a flash I understood that last strange scene—the change in Cecily as she stood watching us from the deck of the receding boat, the pressing against the rail, the frantic effort to shout a message to Tremaine. She had relented, she did not wish to kill him, she loved him yet! But of that warning he had caught only a single word.

"The bed!" I cried. "The bed!"

"Right!" agreed Godfrey incisively, and walked to the bedroom door. In an instant the inner room was ablaze with light. He armed himself with one of Tremaine's canes, and together we approached the bed.

"Ready, now," he said, and with a sudden movement stripped back the covers. But there was nothing under them.

"The pillow, perhaps," he said, and turned it over.

There was a quick movement, a soft hissing, a vicious head raised itself, two eyes of orange fire glared at us.

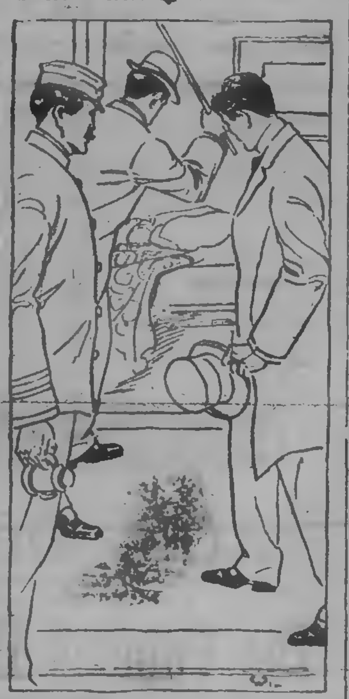
I heard the swish of Godfrey's cane, and the head fell. Fe-Fe would work no more evil.

And then as I looked more closely at the coils I perceived something else there—something bright, iridescent, glowing.

Godfrey lifted the mangled body with the end of his cane and threw it into the middle of the bed. Then he bent over and picked up—the necklace.

"I was sure we should find it here," he said. "But look at it. Isn't it beautiful?"

It was more than that—it was superb; not dead white now, but warm, full of life. Was it the salt bath, or was it that the cloud had been removed forever from its owner's life? As



"I heard the swish of Godfrey's cane."

I looked at it there seemed to be something unearthly in its beauty. It seemed to be rejoicing.

"The snake bit him probably," added Godfrey thoughtfully, "as he thrust the necklace under the pillow. It was a fitting punishment."

"It was greater than he deserved," I protested hoarsely. "He was not the man to meet a death like that."

"A man! He was a vampire!" said Godfrey sternly. "He lived on the lives of others. Don't let your sentimentalism blind you, Lester."

"Oh, you didn't know him!" I cried. A hot resentment of fate was sweeping over me. I realized that, down at the bottom of my heart, I had never really believed in Tremaine's guilt. Even now I hardly believed in it.

Godfrey turned to Simmonds, who stood contemplating the scene with staring eyes, his lantern still open in his hand.

"It's hard luck, Simmonds," he said. "You're not going to get the glory, after all. But who could have foreseen a thing like this?"

Simmonds opened his mouth and shut it again without uttering a sound.

"You'd better notify the coroner," continued Godfrey, "and, I suppose, to be strictly regular, I'll have to turn this necklace over to you for the night. Guard it well, Simmonds. It's worth a hundred thousand dollars."

"What?" stammered Simmonds. "Is it the—the—the"—

"Yes, it's the Delroy necklace. You'll have to go with us to Babylon in the morning to attend the inquest. I fancy there'll be something of a sensation when we produce the necklace there—eh, Lester?" And he laughed a grim little laugh of anticipatory triumph.

Then he glanced at his watch.

"I must be going," he said. "I've got to fire this story down to the office. What a scoop it will be! Till tomorrow, gentlemen."

I heard his footsteps die out along the hall; then a sudden horror of the place seized me, a deadly loathing, and I groped my way blindly from the room.

DR. LEWIS DIES SUDDENLY.

Member for Dufferin Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Toronto, May 25.—With startling suddenness death came by heart disease to Dr. Lewis, M. P. P. for Dufferin County, at the Queen's Hotel yesterday morning about 4 o'clock.

Dr. Lewis had been in town for the week attending the races, and was accompanied by Mrs. Lewis. On Thursday evening he did not feel very well, and abandoned a visit to the theatre, which he had intended, with his wife and brother. He urged them to go, and retired. When they returned he was asleep.

About 4 o'clock his brother went into his room to see how he was, and found him just breathing, and in a few seconds he expired. Dr. Winnett, Sherbourne street, was hastily sent for, but found life extinct. He said it was plainly a case of heart failure.

The body was removed to Orangeville by the 5.15 train yesterday afternoon.

Frederick William Lewis was the son of Wellington and Ordelen Lewis, both of whom were English. Dr. Lewis was born March 30, 1855, and was educated at Athens High School, and at the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Kingston. He was married Dec. 27, 1882, to Margaret Aifen of Orangeville.

Dr. Lewis unsuccessfully contested Wellington County for the House of Commons at the general election in 1896. He was elected to the Legislature in Dufferin in 1905, and has made himself well known in the three sessions held since. He was a ready speaker, somewhat bluff in style, and thoroughly outspoken.

Candidates For Vacancy.

Orangeville, May 25.—There will doubtless be a contest for the vacant seat for Dufferin in the Legislature, though the county is regarded as a Conservative stronghold. The main fight, however, will be in the Conservative convention. Mayor McKeown and J. L. Island of Orangeville, W. A. Wansborough of Amaranth and John Best of Mulmur are the probable Conservative aspirants.

The Liberals will probably select from among the following: D. B. Brown, former license inspector, Orangeville; Fred Silk, president of the Liberal Association; Alexander Richardson, Grand Valley; John Park, Mono, and J. L. Williamson, Mulmur.

SPENT SOCIETY MONEY.

Young Lady Pleads Guilty to Forgery and Goes to Penitentiary.

Chicago, May 25.—A despatch to The Tribune from Bloomington, Ill., says:

Dismissing her lawyer, Helen Dixon Thursday walked before the bar of the Circuit Court and pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement of $3,100 from the organ fund of the Gleaner Society of the Second Presbyterian Church and also the forgery of a note of $500.

The prisoner's demeanor was cool and self-possessed and there was no change when Judge Myers sentenced her to the penitentiary for an indeterminate term. She was taken to prison yesterday.

Miss Dixon was treasurer of the Gleaner Society and, it is understood, spent the money for clothes.

TWO KILLED, FIVE INJURED.

Cars Collide With Fatal Result—Injured Man May Die.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 25.—Two men were killed in a collision between two cars on the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon Interurban Railway near Muskegon yesterday morning.

The Interurban is a single track road operated under a telephone despatching system. The regular passenger car left Muskegon for Grand Rapids shortly after five o'clock. At Celery Farm at 5.25 it met a westbound baggage and express car head on. Both cars were wrecked and the two motormen, enclosed in their narrow vestibules, were instantly killed.

Five passengers were injured, Stephen Worden perhaps fatally.

FREIGHT IS PILING UP

Railways in Montreal Cannot Keep Docks Clear.

Yards and Wharves Are Full—Several Vessels Sent to Hochelaga to Find Room to Unload—Shippers At Their Wit's Ends—Situation Is Assuming Serious Aspect—Is Almost a Blockade.

Montreal, May 25.—Congestion of freight is a condition of serious aspect in Montreal at the present time. The congestion is in the yards of the railway companies and along its wharves affecting ocean and local goods. While the strike had some effect upon the situation the condition of congestion is largely due to the rapid increase of business, present facilities being inadequate to clear things.

The wharf is lined with freight to such an extent that some of the ships have been sent to Hochelaga in order to find room to unload. Meanwhile the freight is accumulating and shippers are at their wits' ends to keep some movement and prevent the matter from assuming the proportions of a blockade.

The congestion is a result of the troubles that existed lest autumn when the companies found themselves without sufficient rolling stock to handle all that was offered. Now there is so much offering that the railway companies are wary of accepting perishable freight and there has been a noticeable decrease in produce received in Montreal although the canal carriers have gained through this, receipts from this cource being heavier than usual.

PRISONER'S ORDEAL.

Breaks Down When Confronted With the Body of Murdered Girl.

New York, May 25.—On being confronted last night with the corpse of Amelia Staffeldt, Henry Brecker, who was arrested Thursday on suspicion, broke down, according to the police, and confessed that he had witnessed the assault that preceded the murder of the 15-year-old Elmhurst girl.

The crime was done by a companion, the prisoner said. He asserted his own innocence.

Brecker's admission followed a "third degree" examination that proved his undoing. He had been taken to the undertaker's, where the body has lain since it was found in a little-frequented field adjoining the farm of the girl's father. There he was ordered first to look at the girl's dead body and then to place his right hand upon the cold forehead. Brecker shudderingly obeyed and the next moment collapsed.

Dragged to his feet and supported on either side by a detective, he was asked, "Did you kill the girl?" His reply, according to his captors, was: "Oh, my God, I did not do it, but the man who was with me did it. He killed the girl, and I ran down to the woods."

Chauffeur Is Indicted.

Ballston, N. Y., May 25.—Nicholas Moore, a chauffeur, was indicted yesterday for manslaughter in the second degree for having run down and killed James R. McDonnell with an automobile at Mechanicsville. Moore was running the machine of Charles P. Boland, a contractor, of Troy, when it killed McDonnell.

Drowned While Fishing.

St. John, N. B., May 25.—George Bolton was drowned yesterday while fishing on the lake a few miles out of town. With a companion, he had gone out in an old boat, which sank. His companion managed to swim ashore, but was unable to keep Bolton afloat.

W. G. Armstrong, M.A., of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute was severely injured by a runaway horse.

A Proven Cure For Indigestion

A healthy stomach does two things.

1st—gives up enough gastric juice to digest food—and —2nd—churns food, by means of its muscular action, until digestive juice and food are thoroughly mixed.

An unhealthy stomach is either too weak to properly churn the food or it does not give up enough gastric juice to make digestion complete.

Then you have Indigestion—Heartburn—Distress after Eating—Sour Stomach—Headaches—and finally chronic Dyspepsia.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia because they give you a healthy stomach.

"Fruit-a-tives" actually strengthen the muscles of the stomach—increase the power of the churning movement—and also enable the stomach to excrete sufficient gastric juice to completely digest every meal.

"Fruit-a-tives" also cure the Constipation and Biliousness with which so many Dyspeptics suffer.

Thousands have been cured of Indigestion and Dyspepsia by "Fruit-a-tives" alone.

"Fruit-a-tives" are intensified fruit juices, combined with tonics and antiseptics—and are an infallible cure for all Stomach Troubles. Try them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers or from

4092.—A USEFUL KIMONO FOR A GIRL.

The young girl appreciates the value of a restful kimono quite as much as older women and here is shown a pretty model for such. The yoke is in deep pointed outline and supports the full skirt portion. The choice of two sleeves is given, the flowing kimono sleeve and bishop sleeve with its trim cuff. The kimono may be in full length or sack length as desired. Tub fabrics are most practical for these negligees though the light weight cloths and silks are much used. The medium size calls for 3 5-8 yards of 44-inch material for the long gown and 1 3-4 for the sack style.

Until the small person is several years old, she wears caps of soft silk and mull which are not only cosy but becoming as well. One of silk which may be made at home quite as well as purchased ready-made is sketched and will prove most pleasing for small wearers. The side is gathered on front and back edges and the frill is shirred so as to lie correctly away from the face. Pretty bows of ribbon may trim it at top and sides or a simple edging of pleated ribbon or lace. A surah, peau de cygne or China silk may serve while a daintier one may be of chiffon, interlined with a silk and flannel. The cap requires 5-8 yard of 20 inch material in the medium size.

New Pastor Was Duly Inducted

Rev. P. W. Currie in Charge of Warsaw Presbyterian Church

Special to the Review.

Warsaw, May 24.—Rev. P. W. Currie, late of Port Colborne, was duly inducted as pastor of the Presbyterian church congregations of Warsaw and Cottesloe yesterday afternoon. He succeeds Rev. W. L. Aickson, who resigned some months ago. There was a large congregation in attendance, and the ceremony was a very impressive one. Rev. S. S. Burns, of Lakefield, interim moderator of session, presided.

The sermon—an excellent and thoughtful one—was preached by Rev. H. J. Keith, pastor of Knox church, Peterborough. Rev. G. A. MacLennan, of Norwood, delivered the charge to the pastor, while Rev. D. A. Thomson of Hastings, addressed the people.

Afterwards short addresses and encouraging greetings to the new pastor were made by Rev. Geo. Nickle, of the Warsaw Methodist church, and Rev. Steedman, Baptist pastor. An adjournment was then made to the town hall, where a splendid supper was served by the ladies of the church, to which full justice was done.

In the evening a delightful concert was held, when local and visiting talent rendered a splendid programme, and Rev. P. W. Currie, the new pastor, was tendered a reception. He created a decidedly favorable impression, and will deliver his initial sermons to the congregations of Warsaw and Cottesloe on Sunday next.

THE SEASON IS VERY BACKWARD

Mr Robert Tufts informed the News on Monday that he had been looking through some records made by his father, the late Robt. Tufts, in regard to the seasons. As a result of his search he found that during the past 16 years the earliest that plum trees were in full bloom in this district was May 3rd and the latest May 17th. This year is still later, as they were not yet in bloom on Monday, the 20th.—Tweed News.

The Channel Was Blocked by Logs

Cottagers Delayed Four Hours at Lakefield on Thursday

The Stony Lake cottagers going up to their summer homes at the Lakes on Thursday, had an experience they will not forget for some time. Those who left here on the noon train on Thursday had a wait in Lakefield of about four hours and as a result many of the cottagers did not reach their destination until nearly midnight. The delay was unavoidable and the passengers on the steamer had to exercise a little patience. A large boom of logs was in the Narrows just above the village. Unfortunately the rope holding the boom together broke and all the logs got loose and started down toward the wharf. There were so many logs that there was a great jam. There was no passage for the steamer, and the water at the Lakefield wharf was lowered fully two feet on account of the jam. This unfortunate occurrence happened just as the steamer Stony Lake was about to start out on her trip. Immediate action had to be taken to prevent the logs from going down the river and over the dam. The river-men had to use great skill in separating the jam, and they deserve great credit for the quickness that they exercised in preventing them from running over the dam.

There was no damage done; only the inconvenience the cottagers were put to. It was four o'clock before they left the Lakefield wharf. It was a most extraordinary occurrence and one which does not happen frequently.

The cottagers found their summer residences in good condition. They had stood the winter well. The woods in the vicinity of the lakes looked very pretty. In another week the trees will be still more beautiful as they will be then in full leaf.

WHEAT INCH HIGH AT MEDICINE HAT

All Seeding Completed—Yield Will be as Large as Last Year

Medicine Hat, Alta., May 25.—Nearly all the seeding is completed here now, both oats and wheat. Your representative was credibly informed today that the wheat on many farms in the district is an inch high.

The weather today is warm, thus accelerating growth. There is a great deal of moisture in the ground and this aided by a heavy shower which fell this morning will bring the crops along rapidly, should the warm weather continue. As the acreage sown is in excess of last year, old timers are predicting as large a return as in any former year.

CANAL OFFICIALS VISITED OMEMEE

That Village Formally Declared to be Port of Call

Omemee, was, on Victoria Day, declared to be a port of call on the Trent Canal system. The event was marked by much enthusiasm and pride. Superintendent J. H. McClellan and several canal officials left Bobcaygeon on the steamer Sovereign and sailed up Pigeon Creek, but were unable to get any further with the boat than Cowan's bridge, three miles from Omemee as the structure is not high enough being only eighteen feet above the water, whereas an overhead bridge should be thirty. The bridge will have to be raised before boats can sail up the stream. At the floating bridge, nine miles from Omemee the party was met in a gasoline launch by Reeve Beattie, of the village, Reeve Wm. Lowes of Emily and many others.

As the Sovereign could not get under Cowan's bridge, Mr. McClellan and party proceeded by the gasoline launch to the village, where they were tendered a luncheon.

Reeve Beattie presided and the canal superintendent formally declared the village a port of call on the Trent Canal system. Speeches were made by Reeve Beattie, Reeve Lowes, Mr. J. D. Thornton and others, and there was great rejoicing.

Mr. McClellan stated that with very little dredging a six foot channel could be had. The channel will be marked out by buoys, and piers, and cleared of weeds. The expense will not be heavy and the work will likely be done this year. Omemee will then be able to get in its supplies of coal, cement, tan bark, etc., by water, which will mean much to the village and its business interests.

The Charges Are Now Excessive

The Old Arrangement Should be Reverted to

Some time ago the Board of Trade discussed the new interswitching charges, and was of the opinion that the present rates were excessive and burdensome. The matter was referred to the railway and canals committee of the Board, with power to act. That committee met on Tuesday night and passed the following resolution;

Whereas the interswitching charges now being collected in Peterborough by the railway companies, are deemed excessive, and have the effect of restraining trade;

Resolved, that it is the judgment of the Peterborough Board of Trade that the Board of Railway Commissioners should be petitioned to in sioners should be petitioned to instruct the railway companies to reinstate the arrangement that was in force prior to March 1st, 1907.

Shamrocks Drop the First Game

The junior Shamrock lacrosse team journeyed to Millbrook yesterday, where they played an exhibition game with the home team and were defeated by a score of 2 goals to nil.

The contest was fast and very rough as is evidenced by some of the marks which the local boys are today wearing. Tucker and Doris were badly cut about the head. A couple of mix-ups took place and to make things worse the crowd surged in on the field and threatened to clean the visiting team up.

The Shamrocks put up a most creditable game considering the practice they have had and with a little coaching should develop into a most formidable aggregation, as they have the material and all it needs is to develop it.

The Shamrocks lined up as follows: Goal, Hoyle; point, White; Cover, Devlin; 1st defence, Cameron; 2nd defence Doris; 3rd defence, Kelly; centre, Tucker; 3rd home, Long; 2nd home, McNichol; 1st home, Saunders; outside home, Dobson; inside home, Barber.

Mr. Coombes, of Millbrook, made a satisfactory referee.

There was a big celebration in the village in honor of Victoria day and the events all passed off successfully.

PETERBOROUGH WON CRICKET MATCH

The Peterborough Cricket team journeyed down to Warkworth yesterday to play the team of that place. The village was reached about 11.30 and play commenced at 12 with Warkworth batting. Two wickets went down in short order, for two runs, due to Hill's fine bowling and by the time an adjournment was made for lunch, he had secured three more. Play was resumed at 2 p.m., and the side was retired after an hour's play for a total of 59 runs Marsland and B. Thompson sharing the honors for the highest score, 9.

Peterborough then went to bat and chalked up a total of 103 runs 62 of which were contributed by Hill, whose magnificent batting won applause from the spectators, time and again. The next score was made by Roe who was the only other man to reach double figures.

Warkworth went in to bat again and were retired easily for 47 runs. Roe did fine bowling this innings, getting 8 wickets for 13 runs.

Peterborough now lacked 4 runs to win with an innings to spare, so Roe and Hall went in to bat, making the required runs and one over.

The team speak in the highest terms of the treatment accorded them by the Warkworth club.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, May 25.—The stock market was highly professional, and showed a weak tone throughout. The features were declines in Erie and Southern Ry to new low records for the year, the reason given being the financial requirements of these roads. The general market was weak in sympathy, although Copper and Union Pac. showed strength during the first hour, and only sold back when the decline elsewhere became pronounced.

The London market was weak and about a point lower for Americans. Wheat was strong and higher and there seemed a lack of support to the market. Steel common was again under pressure and New York Central sold down very easily.

VICTORIA DAY AT NORWOOD

Big Celebration Held—Many Athletic Events

The Victoria day celebration at Norwood yesterday was a decided success. An athletic programme, which included a football match between Norwood and Hastings in the morning, was run off, the homesters winning quite handily, the score at the end of the hour being 4-1 in their favor. There was a big crowd in the village.

In the afternoon the attraction was a ball game between Hastings and Norwood, two old time rivals of the Trent Valley League, the latter team winning 15 runs to 3. The feature of the game was the pitching of "Chumps" Pilling for the winners in four innings. He caused nine of the batsmen for the roundhouse village to fan besides himself having a home run to his credit.

Dan McCorry was in the box for Havelock, but did not perform in anything like his old time form. The batteries were:—Norwood—Ryan, Pilling and Sherry; Havelock—McCorry and Darecotte.

McLaughlin, of Havelock, won the one mile foot race, while Victor Lee, of Peterborough, was close second.

In the tug of war contest the Peterborough team defeated the Norwood aggregation of heavers, but for some reason, which the judge would not state he awarded the prize a box of cigars to the losers.

Gave Able Lecture In Lakefield

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Spoke on "Success" to Appreciative Gathering

The Grove Chronicle, published in Lakefield, says:—

An extremely able and intelligent lecture was given by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt at the "Grove," on Tuesday evening. The subject, "Success" being specially addressed to boys and young men, found an attentive and appreciative audience. The key note struck by the lecturer throughout gave character as the basis of success in life. After touching on the mistake often made of supposing success to be dependent upon exceptional talent or genius, and giving a definition of genius as "2 per cent. genius, 98 per cent. hard work," and quoting Edison's saying to the effect that "genius is not inspiration, it is perspiration," the lecturer said success in any direction is always based upon hard work, tenacity of purpose, honesty and sacrifice. Hard work, he said, was good for everyone and never killed, as it was supposed to do. The fact that one man was successful in his particular bent, did not deter another from succeeding in some other direction. In this connection the importance of love and aptitude for the work undertaken was dwelt upon. Many men failed in life through not taking up the business or profession to which they were suited, the result being that lack of enthusiasm, and the friction consequent on trying to "fit round pegs into square holes."

AT INVERLEA PARK.

BOILER PLACED IN POSITION.
On Thursday the huge new boiler was successfully placed aboard the new steamer Otonabee. The 12 ton boiler has, for some days been awaiting the new boat at the Wolfe street wharf, on the top of a pile of railroad ties. On Thursday this immense mass of iron and steel slid from the ties down several railroad steel rails into the hull of the new boat. Yesterday it was placed in exact position and dumped down.

A DECIDED RUSH.
It would appear as if nearly every man in the city, young and old, had a suit pressed for Victoria day at "My Valet," Charlotte street. The energetic proprietors, Wesley Bros., were compelled to work all night on Wednesday and until a very late hour on Thursday getting suits in shape for the holiday, but they have the proud satisfaction of knowing that not one of their numerous customers was disappointed.

These two pictures can be seen for the one price of admission, 5 cts. Matinees 2 to 5. Evenings 7 to 10. Complete change of programme Monday.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women
Make Healthy Women.

Whether you believe it or not, this incontrovertible fact remains. These tablets will change weak and diseased organs into strong, healthy organs; fast with some, more slowly with others, but sure and absolutely certain with all who persist in their use, except the few beyond the help of medicine.

Disease, even chronic, will then disappear as these organs are restored to their normal conditions.

These tablets are now recognized beyond doubt or question as best adapted to the special needs of women.

Peterborough People Know How to Celebrate a Holiday

Victoria Day, May 24th, 1907, was a day which will long be remembered by the fifteen thousand people of Peterborough. It was a holiday in every sense of the word and everyone took a holiday and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The entire population went in for a good time and they had it.

There were scores of attractions and they were all well patronized. For this the weather man is no doubt largely responsible. He furnished an ideal day and so delighted were the people that they could not help being happy. From the first break of day the sky gave promise of fine weather and that promise was fulfilled to the letter. The sun was very bright and delightfully warm. There was hardly a breeze at all and the ground was dry and comparatively warm. There was not a sign of a cloud all day and the evening was just as pleasant, although a little cooler.

The baseball games at Riverside Park drew large crowds both morning and afternoon; the horse races at the exhibition grounds attracted another good crowd; hundreds of young people went driving and a livery horse could not be had at any price. Hundreds of small parties took their lunch baskets and went down the river in skiffs, canoes and motor boats. Every small craft in the city was out and Rye's boat house was deserted. The majority of the young people left early in the morning and did not return until about dark, or a little after, so that they had a good, long day on the water.

The Lakefield train took a big crowd to that village, where the steamer was taken and a trip up the lakes enjoyed. The majority of the passengers have cottages on the islands in Stony Lake and this was the first visit to them since last fall. Naturally the day for those people was a busy one. There is always a lot of work connected with getting a cottage ready for opening, but the anticipation of the many pleasant weeks to come, made labor fun.

Another large crowd visited Toronto where they saw the horse races, baseball match, or others of the numerous attractions, while hundreds of citizens took advantage of the cheap rates and visited their old homes throughout the province, many taking in the celebrations at Omemee, Norwood and Millbrook.

The Y.M.C.A. athletic events at the Oval in the morning, were largely patronized, while in the afternoon several tennis courts were busy. Other attractions were the golf links and the ladies' tea in the afternoon, the Grand Opera House, afternoon and evening, and the roller rink, the Ocean Wave and the city parks.

The day was a holiday thoroughly enjoyed. To make up for the two or three thousand who left the city, as many more came in, so that the streets were crowded all day, and the restaurants, hotels, fruit stores, etc., all had a big day.

Happy Day at Idyl Wild With The Salvation Army and Band

Three Hundred People Boarded the Water Lily and Barge—First Excursion and Picnic Down the River—Lots of Music and Lots of Fun Were the Features.

Bright and early yesterday morning the members of the Salvation Army and their friends were up and around getting ready for the big excursion. The bright, warm sunshine and cloudless sky, filled the people with energy and parents with their children, young ladies and young men, all carrying their lunch baskets started for Wolfe street wharf, shortly after seven o'clock.

It was the first excursion down the river in 1907, and it was a decidedly successful one in every respect. The steamer Water Lily, with the barge attached, were chartered for the day, and room was at a premium on board. Over three hundred Salvationists with friends, took advantage of the holiday and treated themselves to a good big day's fun. They had it too. The Salvation Army band which has become so popular during the past couple of years was on board and furnished lots of good lively music, the people sang, laughed, and talked, and the little tots skipped about with delight.

The boat pulled away from the wharf at eight o'clock, and made a good trip down the Otonabee to Idyl Wyld, arriving there at twelve o'clock. The river banks bright with young grass and the budding trees seemed more beautiful than ever and the exhilarating breath of spring filled everyone with joy.

As soon as the landing was made at the park, the lunch baskets were opened and scores of little parties gathered on the green, and feasted in the open for the first time. The hotel was opened, but the manager, Mr. Londerville, was not prepared for such a crowd, and the accommodation was not what it will be later.

After dinner the young people indulged in games of different kinds until about four o'clock, when preparations were made for the homeward journey.

During the afternoon the band rendered an open air concert, which added greatly to the pleasure and success of the day. Coming home a meeting was held on board, in which everyone joined heartily. The band again took a prominent part and everything was lovely. The Water Lily reached the street car line about eight o'clock, and everyone were home, tired, but happy.

Teachers Conclude Interesting Meeting

Officers Elected for the Coming Year—More Valuable Papers

The City of Peterborough Teachers' Institute, which was in session two days, concluded its business on Thursday afternoon.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Pres.—J. E. Hodgson.
First Vice-President—M. J. McDonnell.
Second Vice-Pres.—Miss Hall.
Secretary—S. J. Stubbs.
Auditors—E. R. Scrigley and J. C. Smyth.
Executive Committee—Miss Coleman, Miss Locheed, Mr. W. H. Walkey.

During the afternoon a paper on "Literature" was given by Mr. Wm. Smith. He said that literature is perhaps the greatest subject as a medium of expression. We should aim to have pupils read wholesome literature suitable to the intellect and development of the child mind. We must make the proper preparation before coming before the class. Do not assign it as homework nor yet take up too much at a time. The questions must be suitable—clear.

Pupils in fourth class should be able to discover the author's mood. Examples from the Psalm of Life and The Prairies were taken to illustrate this point.

The character of the teacher makes much difference to the pupil. Literature develops toward the motives and the teacher must be one to bring out these.

We must be able to make a clear analysis of what the poet wished to impart—the lesson he wished to teach. We must be able to grasp the thought of each sentence. We must also make comparison between similar thought or ideas. We must also distinguish between synonyms, and thus develop the value of particular words in their connection. We must grasp the application of similar statements in their separate environment. The implied meaning of passages must be grasped. We must understand all the various words and phrases in a literary selection. We must teach a few of the more ordinary figures of speech. We should commit the beautiful passages or literary gems to memory, as they have a value in bearing on life.

LITERATURE.

Intermediate Literature was taken by Miss O'Connell. Literature is a great character producing subject. It produces culture of the highest quality. Each person takes out what he desires in literature that adapted to his needs. Literature should begin early and develop to higher forms. Fill the child's memory with the choicest. The subject is not grammar, but a criticism of life. The meaning of the words must be taken up. A child may not grasp all the fine points, but they will appreciate them later.

In taking up a subject have the class read the extract as a whole. Have the stanzas read in a similar way. Get the meaning of the words or phrases; then get the main thoughts. The class should now tell the story of the stanza, and later give the subject. Proceed through the poem this way. Miss O'Connell illustrated from the Village Blacksmith. From the stanzas the lesson of the whole poem can thus be developed. Have the pupils write a composition as a synopsis. The teacher must be in love with the subject of literature in order to teach it. We aim to have the pupils get a desire for the best reading.

CLOSING PAPER.

"Primary Literature" was taken by Miss Thomas, who said that literature starts early. In language lessons we have the first stages of literature. Expression is one of the main features of handling literature at this stage. A child can fairly well express his ideas, and here the teacher must be careful what is placed upon. Language will be developed by the use of phonics. Tell the pupils stories. These must be simple and such as to arouse the child. The child likes to be like the ideal in the story. Stories should be reproduced by the child. Conversations are valuable on the different things that affect child life.

The results are better the nearer the child's life we can come, such as weather, climate, plants, animals, etc. Praise the pupils for good efforts. Pictures are good also in developing language and producing ideals. The child must learn many useful lessons, as truthfulness, etc., from little incidents and from stories. Poetry affects children; let him learn many gems. They have a powerful effect on his character. They give a desire for the best things. When these languages are well handled, they give a basis for future development in good literature.

Inspector Walker spoke on "Ethics in the School Room," and gave an able address.

The convention, after receiving the report of the Nomination Committee, adjourned.

Popularity Contest For Trip Abroad

Toronto World's Free Trip Offered the Ladies of Ontario

The Toronto World is sending eleven of the most popular Ontario ladies on a free trip to London and Paris, which will occupy a month of sight-seeing, travel and entertainment from Aug. 1.

Each day of the stay will be one continuous round of pleasure and amusement, to include morning shopping expeditions, daily visits to places of historic interest, evening luncheon, dinners at the famous London and Paris restaurants, and nightly box-theatre parties. Every official courtesy will be extended the fair visitors, who will be chaperoned by two cabinet ministers' wives from Ottawa and Toronto.

Four ladies will be elected from towns outside Toronto and Hamilton, chosen by popularity vote, by ballot published daily in the Toronto World, until July 23rd.

A year's subscription, either new or renewal, will represent a special ballot of 3,000 votes, and shorter terms in proportion.

Mr. W. N. Robertson, from the official staff of that paper, is now in Peterborough to receive nominations, and as the country contest is just beginning, there should be no reason to doubt that Peterborough can and will easily elect a fair candidate to represent the civic pride and social importance of this city, for inclusion in this unique and unequalled trip in the history of the Dominion.

All expense, even tips to waiters, and other gratuities, will be borne by the World.

AMUSEMENTS

HOTEST COON IN DIXIE.

Large crowds took in the matinee and night performance at the Grand opera house, of the "Hottest Coon in Dixie." In the evening the place was crowded, including many family parties. The show was an average Coon Show, but it was late in starting. It was half past eight before the curtain went up and as usual, there was no orchestra to entertain the people in the meantime. The piano was not even hammered. The performance consisted of songs and dances, which were put on in fair style.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MASS MEETING

Will be Held in St. Paul's Church Tomorrow Afternoon at 4.15 o'Clock

Tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock there will be a mass meeting of all the Sunday schools of the city in St. Paul's church. At this meeting, Rev. B. W. Merrill, general Superintendent of Baptist Sunday Schools for Ontario and Quebec, will give an address. An interesting and profitable time is assured, as Mr. Merrill is an able and instructive speaker and was heard with pleasure during the recent Baptist convention in this city.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Patriotic Services in the Churches

The service St. Luke's church tomorrow morning will be of a special patriotic character when the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will preach a sermon on the greatness of the British Empire.

In George street church at eight the regular monthly song service will be held, Rev. Dr. Crothers will deliver a patriotic address making special reference to Victoria and Empire Days.

NEAR AT HAND.

Cheer up! The Sunday School picnic season is only just round the corner.

PRINCIPLE PRIDDLE RESIGNS.

Mr. George Priddle, principal of the Havelock school, has resigned his position, sending in his resignation to the School Board last week.

DIVISION COURT

The next sitting of the First Division Court will be held next Friday, May 31st, before His Honor Judge Weller.

INTERIOR DECORATIONS.

The fourteen "Stations of the Cross," have recently been installed in St. Michael's church, and are very beautiful, adding much to the interior appearance of that sacred edifice. —Belleville Intelligencer.

LOCAL OPTION IN LINDSAY.

A local option campaign is a possibility in Lindsay. Mr. A. Allen, of Toronto, spent part of this week in town interviewing the leading temperance workers, and went away satisfied. He made the Simpson House his stopping place while in town.—Lindsay Post.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of the late Fred W. Logan, who passed away in Rochester, N.Y., will take place from the family residence, 221 Brock street, tomorrow, Sunday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral will be held under the auspices of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, Independent Order of Oddfellows;

WOULD BE INTERESTING.

A judge in Toronto has held that a restaurant keeper can sell candy as well as ice cream on Sunday and not break the Lord's Day Act. It would be interesting to know why, if candy and ice cream can be sold on a Sunday, butchers and grocers should be compelled to close their places of business on a Sunday.

A NEW TRANSCONTIENTAL.

The C.P.R. have decided to add a new fast train to their transcontinental service, making three instead of two trains on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The new train will be faster by twelve hours than either of the Imperial trains that now leave Montreal morning and evening for the west. It will cover the distance from Montreal to Vancover in eighty-five hours.

EARLY CLOSING.

The early closing arrangement which has been in operation here for some years is threatened with disruption. It would be a pity after the measure has worked so well for such a long period to have it broken up, and we hope that the parties who are causing the trouble will come to some satisfactory understanding with the others so that the arrangement will be kept.—Norwood Register.

STOCKING THE PONDS.

Mr. John Finlay, M.P., this week received notice from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries that another lot of trout fry would arrive on Thursday, 23rd inst., to be disposited in the Norwood ponds—speckled trout for one and lake trout for the other pond. This completes the stocking of these waters and will give our anglers lots of trout in another year.—Norwood Register.

CAVAN SWAMP DRAIN.

A Mount Pleasant correspondent says:—The prospect of the Cavan swamp drain being made is brightening, the steam digger being nearly ready for work. With the opening of roads and the canal the distance will be shortened to our market city of Peterborough. If this city were the terminus of Peterborough's street cars it would add greatly to our convenience.

WAS FINED.

At a session of the police court on Victoria day Wm. Jobe was fined $2 for being drunk and disorderly on Thursday night on George street.

STILL POISONING DOG.

The dog poisoner is still at work. The carcass of a fine black and white hound was lying on Brock street yesterday opposite Central park. The animal met death by poisoning.

A BIG POPULATION

Under the supervision of Keeper R. G. Robertson, the most of the planting and seeding at the House of Refuge farm has been done. There are ten women at the House of Refuge and thirty-seven men, making a total of forty-eight. The number is exceptionally large.—Lindsay Post.

AN OBSTREPEROUS INMATE.

The Orono News says. — William Lang has been transferred from the House of Refuge at Cobourg to Mimico. He had become difficult to handle of late, and quarrelsome. On one occasion, in an altercation with John James Floody, of Port Hope, a fellow inmate, he floored him with a right hander between the eyes. It settled John James and "Dummy" as well, who was transferred to another boarding house.

LOCAL OPTION.

The Orono News says; Mr. John McIndoo, of Pontypool, was in town Tuesday. William reports that the local option bylaw is working very favorably, with plenty of accommodation. For a time, however, horses were boarded in the Methodist church shed, while wayfarers, took meals at G. Coulter's and slept at Tom Hill's but now the Coulter House is open again and William is catering with tona cola, lemon sour and other leading drinks.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the city of Peterborough Sunday School Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. There will be election of officers, and other necessary business. Rev. B. W. Merrill, general superintendent of Baptist Sunday Schools for Ontario and Quebec, will give an address. All teachers and workers are urged to be present, and the general public are also cordially invited.

THE APPEAL STANDS

Is Outfall Sewer Shallow? Wm. Langford Claims it is

Board of Works Heard First Complaint—City Engineer's Opinion Differs—R. Hicks & Co. Will Supply Sewer Pipe—Other Business.

The Board of Works held a meeting on Thursday night. There were present Mayor McWilliams, chairman; Ald. Duncan, McIntyre, Johnston and Morgan.

Dr. Gray asked the Board for two nine-inch sewer pipes, three feet long at cost price to the city. This was granted.

Dr. Gray also asked for the sidewalk on Sherbrooke street, from Aylmer to the bridge, to be built outside the trees; if constructed inside it would run through the lawns of a couple of residents. The Board will consider this matter before laying the walk two months hence.

Mr Reger addressed the Board and complained that spring water runs down alongside the sewer pipe and floods his garden to the destruction thereof. The engineer was instructed to report on this matter.

TRUNK SEWER TOO SHALLOW

Mr Wm. Langford complained that the new trunk sewer from Smith to Aylmer, along G.T.R. track is laid too shallow; it is so low that he cannot get connection with his small house to the east of the track. The sewer, he said, should have been laid three feet lower, in order to connect with his property and three or four other dwellings that might be built. The engineer reported that there was only one house,—Mr. Langford's— along the route, which cannot be connected with the sewer. He also offered that there are serious physical difficulties in the way of placing the sewer three feet deeper.

Mr Langford claimed that the engineer had erred in his levels; he should be entitled to the same sanitary privileges as any other citizen, besides the difference in cost for laying the sewer three feet deeper would have been a mere bagatelle, and his house and others in prospect, would have been served. The engineer's mistake was, continued Mr. Langford, that he did not go far enough south to get a fall. He ridiculed the engineer's excuse that there was not sufficient room to throw the earth excavated had the sewer been laid deeper, owing to the close proximity of the railway track, and that he was afraid of said track caving in. Had the fall of the sewer been struck from the manhole near V. Eastwood's residence, it would have been deep enough to provide sanitary accommodation for the property east of the track between Antrim and Edinburgh streets. The people would not have voted money for this work, concluded Mr. Langford, had they thought any property along the route would have been ignored.

The Board promised to look into this matter.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

Street Commissioner Evans reported that he would like to have the sidewalk on Mark street, south of Robertson, east side, laid inside the trees, owing to a big ditch in this locality. It was decided to run this pavement inside the trees from Robertson to James street.

SEWER PIPE.

R. Hicks & Co., offered to supply the city with sewer pipe at 69 per cent off list price, laid down on the streets as required. This figures to the city's advantage over what they have been paying, when cost of freight, cartage and loss by breakage, which the city now assures, is considered.

Ald Johnston moved, seconded by the mayor, that R. Hicks & Co.'s offer be accepted.—Carried.

CHANGE OF RAILWAY CURVE

Mr Larmonth, of the Radial Railway Company asked that a change be made in the curve north side of Charlotte, off George, from seven feet to within four feet of the curve. This, he claimed, would lessen the noise engendered by cars taking so short a curve as at present.

The committee did not think it wise to grant this privilege.

SIDING ASKED FOR.

Mr Larmonth also asked for permission to run a street railway siding into the Central Milling Company's property off George street, so as to connect with the C.P.R. for freight purposes.

The committee did not look favorably on this proposition, and decided to leave the matter to the whole council.

Jas Brown asked for two crossings to his two houses to be built on Sherbrooke street.—Granted.

The clerk was authorized to write the commissioners, and ask permission to widen Water street, near the Colonial Weaving Co.'s property for a distance of 522 feet, 10 feet 4 inches at its deepest point.

GARBAGE BY-LAW MONDAY NIGHT

Committee of the Whole to Consider the Different Clauses

The Property Committee has completed its labors on the garbage bylaw. The most important feature to be settled now is how will the first year's accounts be settled. This required a great deal of discussion. It is almost too late now to put them on this year's collector's roll. It is likely that the committee will decide to send out bills, the same as the water commissioners do, and make them payable to the tax collector at the same time the second installment of taxes are due. The committee of the whole will meet on Monday night mainly to consider this bylaw before it is passed by the council.

London non-jury assizes began Monday afternoon.

SATURDAY MARKET LARGELY ATTENDED

Today's market was not a very large one. There were a great number of buyers, but the sellers were not in large number. The prices were high today and those who were fortunate enough to be present, realized good money for the farm produce. On the outside market potatoes sold at 90c and $1.00 per bag. There was scarcely any green stuff, but what there was, consisting of onions and lettuce, sold at 5c per bunch.

Eggs were 17c and 18c per dozen while butter brought 25c, 26c and 27c per lb.

Turkeys sold at $2.50 and $3 and chickens from 60c to 80c. There was very little of chickens or turkeys.

Very little meat was offered for sale.

Railway Traffic Was Very Heavy

Many Holiday Passengers on All the Trains

Traffic on the C.P.R. on Victoria day was very heavy. So great was the rush that No. 5 train which reaches the city every morning at 5.18 from the east passed through in three sections. Each section was crowded.

In fact all the outgoing and incoming trains on the G.T.R. and C.P.R. yesterday did a record business for Victoria day. The weather was delightful and hundreds took advantage of the cheap fares.

Peterboro' Broke Even in Double Header at Riverside

Two Splendid Games of Ball Witnessed—Morning Score Was 7 to 4 in Arctics' Favor—Afternoon Tally Stood 17 to 10 for the Locals.

Without any preliminary functions the local baseball season was formally opened at the Riverside ball yards yesterday, when the Arctics, champions of the Don Valley League of Toronto, broke even with the locals in a double bill, which is the first two of a series of three games, to be played by these two teams for the beautiful silver trophy, which was donated by Mrs. Melbourne of Toronto.

The contests were both witnessed by two large audiences.

The boys decked in the blue and white uniforms lost a pitcher's battle in the morning encounter, through their inability to successfully swat at opportune times, the saliva soaked slants served up by Mr. Biffin, but principally by weird base running and rank coaching on the lines the enemy garnered seven runs, while the homesters registered on four occasions. "Corney" Burns, the locals new twirler occupied the mound and pitched magnificent ball. He caused no less than fifteen of the opposing bitsmiths to dent holes in the atmosphere and allowed only four safties, but he issued three passes to the initial ottoman, which proved extremely costly, as each of the dead heads crossed the counting station. Besides his great work on the hill, he was all to the mustard with the ash, leaning against one of Mr. Biffin's choicest benders for a four-sacker to the raceway.

Biffin twirled in clever fashion for the Arctics. He allowed five scattered hits, fanned four and issued transportation to six, but none of his charities proved costly.

It was in the seventh chapter of the morning's entertainment that the Arctics forged ahead and packed away the game as safely as a fur coat in moth balls. Biffin drew four wide ones, Moran singled, both runner's advanced a cushion on Avison's out, and scored on W. Cowle's single to centre. Cowle pilfered second, and scored when Johnston booted Clewlo's grounder. Lawson grounded out and Poulter ozoned. Haliburton annexed another counter in the eighth.

AFTERNOON GAME.

In the second contest the locals took revenge for their morning's defeat, and it was sweet and satisfying revenge, for they whaled the benders dished up by Mr. Anstey, the crack twirler of the visitors to the uttermost parts of the yard, registering in all seventeen safe clouts, but excellence in the matter of leaning on the leather for safe swipes did not constitute the only pleasing feature of the locals play. "Prunes" Quinlan occupied the box, and was never in serious trouble, considering the lead the locals had. Twice the visitors managed to group hits on the youngster, but a couple of errors were largely responsible for their tallies. Moran, Haliburton and Lawson met with the greatest success in solving "Quiny's" slants getting eight of the eleven hits, these safties furnishing much of the propelling power for all the Arctic's runs. Quinlan had fourteen strike outs to his credit, and allowed three to stroll. Besides pitching a clever game, Quinlan also cinched his own game, by his great work with the willow. Out of five times at bat he smote the Spalding for a triple, a double and a single, driving in seven runs, besides himself also recording two more.

Anstey, although hammered most unmercifully, remained on the firing line to the finish, and was getting off quite easily, until the fatal sixth when after the smoke had cleared away and the scorers had figured up their books it was found that the locals had crossed the rubber, no less than ten occasions in the one innings, but that was not all, for in the next session, they accumulated another trio of counters.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETIC EVENTS ATTRACTED LARGE CROWD

Mr. Leonard Dobson Captured the Howden Cup, While Mr. Ernest Wilson Was Second—Results in Other Competitions—Mile Running Race Was a Feature

The annual Y.M.C.A. meet held at Nicholls Oval Friday morning was one of the best Victoria Day attractions. A large number of those interested in the field day were present and enjoyed a good morning's sport.

Mr. J. J. Howden, who takes a great interest in the work of the Y.M.C.A., has donated a handsome silver trophy to be competed for each year. The events are open to any amateur sport in the city, and the winner holds the cup for one year. First place in an event counts three points, second place counts two, and third place counts one. Mr. Leonard Dobson obtained the highest number of points in the events, and will have the Howden silverware for the next year. Mr. Ernie Wilson got the second highest number of points.

Mr. E. Dingman, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., had charge of the events, and Messrs. Ed. Gray, R. Dobson and McLaren acted as judges. Mr. Percy Redgreave was the official timekeeper.

There was not as much interest taken in the annual meet as in previous years, and consequently, not as many entries. The following are the names of those who entered;—Messrs. Ray Best, Trude, E. Wilson, A. Elliott, P. Wallace, Wm. Baillie, E. Bruce, J. Watt, L. Dobson and R. Baker. These gentlemen competed in all events.

The first event was the 100 yards dash. This was one of the most interesting on the programme. The winners were R. Baker, first; L. Dobson, second, and E. Wilson, third. The time was 11 3-4 seconds.

Putting the shot was next. Out of a large number of competitors "Art" Elliott put it the farthest, throwing it 33 feet, 6 inches. L. Dobson was almost a foot behind Elliott, putting it 32 feet 5 inches, and E. Bruce came third, seven inches behind Dobson.

In the hop, step and jump Ernie Bruce led, making 31 feet 2 inches. L. Dobson was again second, making a good jump at 32 feet 9 inches, and Trude was next, eight inches behind Dobson.

The quarter-mile run was an exciting event. At the start Baillie led by a considerable distance, but he soon played out, and Ernie Wilson came to the front and won out. The time was 59 seconds. Ray Best came in second and Dobson got in third.

The running broad jump and the high jump were interesting to watch. In the broad jump Dobson was easily the best. He made one of the nicest bounds of the day. The distance was 16 feet 5 1-2 inches. Ernie Bruce also made a good jump of 16 feet 1 1-2 inches, and Ernie Wilson was third, jumping 15 feet.

In the high jump Wm. Baillie jumped the highest, 4 feet 4 inches. Ray Best came second at 4 feet 8 inches, and L. Dobson third, jumping four feet two inches.

The mile run was the last, but best event. A large number entered and great interest was manifested. A little over three times around the bicycle track at the Oval constitutes the mile. All the runners finished within very little distance of each other. Baillie again led in this race, followed closely by Ray Best and Ernie Wilson, who kept pretty much together, until within 100 yards of the finishing point, when Wilson broke away and finished a few feet ahead of Best, who came second, followed closely by Dobson. The time of the race was 5 minutes 41 seconds. This closed the Y.M.C.A. meet for 1907, which was a great success.

Good Races at Driving Park; Indian Won the Marathon

Ben Howard Did Five Miles in 29 Mins. and 16 Secs.—Big Crowd to See Horse Races—Hazel Bell Beat Harry Direct in Free-for-All.

It was a good sized crowd which attended the matinee, at the driving park yesterday afternoon. The fine weather induced the lovers of horse races to journey down to the exhibition grounds. They were well repaid for their trouble too. The Turf Club put on three races, and they were all filled, although the Named Race did not fill until the last minute.

It was half-past two before starter Pat Clunan called the first heat of the free-for-all, the road race having kept the horses late. Three horses scored up and after a couple of trials got away to a good start. The winners were,—

Hazel Bell, owned by Dr. Johnston	1	1	1
Harry Direct, owned by J. J. Cottingham	2	2	2
Lady Gothard, owned by M. Connors	3	3	3

Time, 1.11, 1.12 1-2, 1.11.

2.30 CLASS

Only three horses faced the starter in the 2.30 class, but every heat was a race and the spectators took more fun out of this than any other event. In the second heat, Billy C., cut his left front foot, very badly and had to withdraw from the race. The winners were,—

City Queen, owned by George Lipsett	1	1	1
Little Girl, owned by J. Elmhirst	2	2	2
Billy C., owned by W. Leitch	3	3

Time, 1.10 3-4, 1.11, 1.09.

NAMED RACE.

A large number of horses were entered in the Named Race, but only two were ready to face the start, and Mr. Wm Leahy put his handsome driver in to fill the race out. The winners were,—

Godfrey's Pride	1	1	1
Black Mac	2	2	2
Leahy's black horse	3	3	3

Time, 1.17 1-2, 1.18, 1.16.

MARATHON RACE.

The Indian Ben Howard of Hiawatha, won with ease the five mile Marathon race, and he did it in 29 minutes and 16 seconds. The Canadian Amateur Record is 27 minutes and 17 seconds. Had Howard had anyone running near him, he could have beaten his time by several minutes. He has done five miles in 25 and 26 minutes and by the time the Thanksgiving Day race comes round he will make the best of them move.

There were four starters in the road race as follows,—

E. WOOD.
B. HOWARD.
H. QUINLAN.
GEO. FOWLER.

Only the first two named finished race. Fowler quit after a mile and a half and Quinlan dropped out at the end of three miles. At the start Wood took the lead and paced the bunch for a mile. Howard then by easy running put nearly a quarter of a mile between him and Wood, and kept the same distance ahead until the last quarter when he sprinted and won by fifty yards over the quarter mile. He was given a warm reception when he passed under the wire.

Omemee Defeated Peterboro' Quakers

A fast game of Association football was played on the Omemee grounds yesterday afternoon, when the Peterborough Quakers intermediate team met the Omemee team in an exhibition game. The team left here on the 11.45, and did not arrive in Omemee till 2.45. The game was begun about 4.15 and Omemee started things going by scoring in about fifteen seconds. Then the Quakers took the game in their hands and pushed their opponents hard, and just before half time tied the score on a pretty shot. The second half opened with a rush by the Quakers, but they fell down on the shot. Omemee secured the next goal which was disputed as it clearly went over the top of the string but was allowed. Then the Quakers scored two and put themselves in the lead, but Omemee came back with two, winning the game by 4-3 after a hard struggle. The game was a good one and was very closely contested the Quakers having somewhat the better of it.

LACROSSE

Hamilton won the Senior C. L. A. fixture in that city from Buffalo yesterday, by a score of 7 goals to 3.

Beaverton defeated the Maitlands of Toronto, in an exhibition game yesterday, in the former place by 5 goals to 3.

O'Brien and "Mickey" O'Connor, two former Orillia players, are wearing Hamilton uniforms this season.

St. Catharines defeated Brantford, in the senior C.L.A. series yesterday in the latter place by 5 goals to 3.

Victorias Won in Roller Hockey

Defeated the Kenoras by Score 3 Goals to 2

There was a large crowd gathered at the roller rink last night to enjoy an evening's skate and also to witness a fast and exciting game of roller hockey between two city teams, who played under the names of Kenoras and Victorias. The match was keenly contested, the half time score being 2—2, but when full time was called the score stood 3—2 in favor of the Victorias.

After an hour's skating, the game commenced with the teams lined up as follows;

Kenoras		Victorias

B Fortune		C Little

A Seymour		S Gibbs

Staunton		Agnew
J Seymour		J Miller.

The game started off fast and both teams worked hard, rushing from end to end. The Victorias were the first to score, Clancy doing the trick. There was not much combination displayed by either team. The Vics. had the advantage over the Kenoras, of a stronger defence. Staunton scored the next goal for the Kenoras, making a tie. Agnew next rushed down the floor and succeeded in putting it through, making it 2—1. Before half time was called McDonald tallied for the Kenoras.

Twenty minute halves were played. In the second half Clancy scored the only goal and the Victorias were the winners.

The large audience seemed to enjoy the contest, and while there were not so many falls as in the initial game, some of the players did stunts which created much amusement.

Mr. S. J. Sheridan made a satisfactory referee.

BASEBALL

WILL ORGANIZE.

A meeting has been called for the Oriental tonight at 7.45 for the purpose of organizing a Senior City Baseball League. It is hoped that all teams wishing to enter will be on deck tonight.

A PRACTICE MATCH.

Victoria Day morning at Nicholls Oval the Lakeviews and Karnots teams, of the Intermediate Baseball League, met in a practice game prior to the opening of the League this afternoon, when the Strathconas and Excelsiors play the first match. Friday's game was not the best exhibition of ball by any means, and both teams play better ball than was displayed in their practice match. The contest was a seven innings game and the Karnots were leading by a good score until the last innings, when the Lakeviews scored a number of runs owing to a lot of errors on the part of the Karnots. The Lakeviews tallied five runs in the last innings, winning the battle by the score of 17 runs to 13. For the winning team Holland, Menzies and Theobald each got three runs. Laing and Ray got the most runs for the Karnots.

Both teams play pretty fair ball, and stand equally good chances to win the Intermediate League. The match yesterday was satisfactorily umpired by Mr. Patrick Gorman.

The teams were as follows:—

Karnots—Long, p; Primeau, c; Craig, 2b; Laing, 1b; Ray, 3b; Borradaile, cf; Gale, ss; Johnston, rf.; Ferguson, lf.

"Bill" Cinnamon's Wideawakes, defeated the Sellers-Gough nine of Toronto in Lindsay on the holiday by the close score of 2 runs to 1.

Toronto and Providence broke even in a double-header yesterday, the Leafs winning the first contest 9 to 1, while the grave-diggers annexed the second fixture by a score of 5 to 2. The attendance for the both games was over 18,000.

TENNIS

A GOOD TURNOUT.

The Nicholls Oval Tennis club held its first practice of the season at the Oval yesterday. About fifteen members turned out and spent an enjoyable time with the racket, nets and balls. The opening of the court yesterday was favored by fine weather while the players are enthusiastic at the bright prospects of the season.

The first tennis tea of the season will be held on Monday afternoon next at six o'clock. It is expected that all the members of the Club will be present.

Education for the Labor Men

Mr. T. J. Begley Elected Third Vice-President of the Association

Mr. T. J. Begley has returned from attending the fifth annual meeting of the Labor Education Association of Ontario, in Hamilton. Mr. Begley represented the Trades and Labor Council of Peterborough. He was elected third vice-president of the association.

The next annual meeting will be held in Kingston. Peterborough and Ottawa, also extended invitations.

President Waldren occupied the chair, and after the opening, Gordon L. Nelson, president of the Hamilton Trades and Labor Council, in a short address, gave the visitors a hearty welcome to the city, says the Hamilton Spectator.

A feature of the gathering was the presence of Mrs. Darwin, a delegate from the Women's Label League, who during the afternoon gave a brief but interesting address on the label.

President Waldren submitted the report of the Executive Committee, which reviewed very fully the work accomplished by the association, during the year. A number of recommendations were also made, and it was these that occupied the attention of the meeting for the major part of the afternoon. The first of these was a suggestion to appoint an advisory committee to confer with the executive committee as to what might be the most satisfactory way of publishing the Toronto and Hamilton editions of the Industrial Banner. The question was discussed at some length and finally approved of. a proposition to publish quarterly, for free distribution, a "labor" edition, was left over for next year's consideration. A suggestion to place the subscription of the Industrial Banner at 15c and 18c per year, where it goes to all the members of any organization, was approved of.

It was recommended that an advisory board, consisting of a representative from each town and city be appointed to look after business of any kind whatsoever, in the interests of the Banner.

The fifth recommendation of the report suggested that an offer be made to the trade unionists of Montreal to supply matters for publication in French of a labor paper there. It was added, in view of the amount of work, already undertaken by the association that this might better be left over for further consideration.

A recommendation That the executive committee have the constitution revised and amended, and published in available form, was adopted.

It was reported that the increase in subscriptions to the Industrial Banner for the year had been $1,500.

Race for Stores On George Street

Amusement Companies Trying Hard to Get a Stand

Mr. W. A. Edwards of Brantford, is in the city again, endeavoring to secure a location for his theatorium. He wants to get on the main street or as near it as possible. But stores are at a premium, and money will hardly get one. Mr. Edwards wants to start immediately, as the longer he is delayed the greater the chance of another amusement company getting in. In fact there are two companies now looking for a stand, and Scott's Colloseum, has to move out of its quarters within the next week or two.

Mr. Edwards has tried to get the old fire hall, which the city proposed turning into offices for the city officials. This morning he was around with one of the aldermen and the chairman of the City Trust Commission, but whether anything will be done or not is hard to say.

Mr. Edwards has also made an offer of $200 a year more rent than is being paid now, for Mr. Schneider's store, which is occupied by Mrs. Noyes. The present lease, however, is good for three months longer, and the store cannot be had till then.

The amusement companies on the other side are becoming quite popular and fortunes are being made out of them. The moving picture men are now endeavoring to get into the larger cities in Canada, and where they have succeeded they have made money.

Peterboro' Boys Accused of Theft

The Lindsay Post says:—A gang of about 20 youths from Peterborough came up to Lindsay for "a time" yesterday. One of their frolics was the theft of a quantity of souvenirs and other goods from Mr. J. Riggs' store. Mr. Riggs noticed the loss of his goods immediately after the boys had gone. He informed County Constables Foster and Nelson, who followed the gang. Pieces of the stolen articles were picked up along Lindsay street opposite the Academy, and on York and Kent streets. Some of the boys were apprehended, and taken to the chief's office, where they were asked to turn out the stolen property. None being forthcoming, they were allowed to go. They returned to Peterborough last evening.

Old Man Struck by Freight Train; Left Leg Cut Off Above the Knee

Was Walking on the Track About Two Miles This Side of Omemee—Engine Passed Over His Leg—He Was Brought to the City.

A very serious and unfortunate accident occurred Sunday, about noon on the Grand Trunk tracks, about two miles this side of Omemee, when an old man, Charles Sellers had a leg taken off. Sellers is about seventy years of age, and makes his living by selling small pictures. He was walking on the track towards Peterborough, when a freight train coming around the curve behind him, struck him, and the engine passed over his left leg taking it off clean, just above the knee.

The freight was a double header, in charge of Conductor Bowher of Lindsay, and Engineer Bounistiel of Lindsay, was on the front engine. As they came round the curve the whistle blew, and it blew again, when they noticed the man walking the track. Whether the fellow was deaf or not is hard to say, but he did not get out of the way, and before the engineer had time to stop his train, Sellers was run down. Almost as soon as the engine struck him, the brakeman on the front engine jumped off and picked the injured man up. As quickly as possible he secured a small rope, and tied up the lower part of the leg preventing to a great extent the flow of blood.

The front engine, No. 277, was uncoupled from the train, the man put on board, and brought to the city with all speed. Dr. Bradd, the G.T.R. physician was notified, the Dan Spence ambulance was called and the injured man removed to Nicholls hospital. There Dr. Bradd performed the operation, and was assisted by Dr. Young and Dr. Marshall. Sellers was in a very low condition when the doctors started to work on him, and they had little hopes of him coming through. But the wounded leg was dressed and wound up and the patient survived all right. But even then it was doubtful if he would recover.

Several pieces of paper were found in the man's pockets, giving his name as Sellers. It was also learned that he had a sister in Arnprior, Ont., named Mrs. Prinzley but nothing else of the man's business or relatives could be learned.

It was learned from the hospital today that Charles Sellers was doing very nicely. He is still very weak, but his condition is not nearly so serious as might be.

Sellers is very deaf, and that is, no doubt, why he did not hear the train. In his pocket was a note, signed by his daughter in Arnprior, which states, "Please take care of the old man as he is very deaf."

In the report above it is stated that Sellers sister lived in Arnprior. It has since been learned that his daughter, Mrs. Prinzley lives in Arnprior, and his sister lives in Toronto. Dr. Bradd communicated with the daugther by phone yesterday, and informed her of her father's misfortune.

The J. C. Turnbull Co. announce that Miss M. Schaefer, the expert demonstrator, will begin their store all this week and will be pleased to demonstrate the many excellent features of the popular C. B. C. Corsets. Consultation and fitting free. No obligation to buy.

LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Fred Logan whose death occurred in Rochester on Tuesday last, took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, Brock street, to Little Lake cemetery. It was largely attended, the members of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O.F., of which deceased was a member, attending in a body. The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. Roberts, L. S. Jackson, Wm. Batten, W. McCarthy, J Johnson and Webber.

FOUND BODY IN TRUNK

Was Left as Security For Rent by Two Strangers.

Landlady Opens Trunk of Lodgers Who Had Not Paid Up—Discovers Badly Decomposed Corpse—Bound Together In Kneeling Posture With Leather Strap—Believed to Be Priest of Greek Church.

New York, May 27.—Three weeks ago Mrs. Annia Sherer rented one of her six rooms in a West 37th street tenement to two strangers. Last Wednesday the rent was not forthcoming, but her lodgers, two Greeks, told her that she was amply secured by their well-filled trunks. Next morning the men disappeared and yesterday the trunk was broken open. To the horror of Mrs. Sherer, it was found to contain the badly decomposed body of a man, believed to have been a priest of the Greek Church.

The body was in a kneeling position, with the head bound against the knees by a heavy strap. The murdered man must have been about 60 years of age. A long flowing beard he wore was streaked with grey, but his bushy hair was black.

An undershirt and a cuff were all the body had on, but on top of it had been thrown three coats of clerical cut, and several other articles of clothing. The police think it possible that the body was shipped here by express from Chicago.

HALF A MILLION IN BAIL.

Millionaires Charged With Bribery Pay for Release.

San Francisco, May 27.—The grand jury on Saturday indicted six millionaires, on charges of bribery and attempted bribery, and returned additional indictments against Abraham Ruef and Mayor E. E. Schmitz.

Frank C. Drum, Eugent De Sabia, John Martin, Abraham Ruef and Mayor Schmitz were indicted on 14 counts each, charging that they jointly bribed 14 of the 18 supervisory in the sum of $750 each, to fix the gas rate for 1906 at 85 cents instead of 75 cents.

C. H. Umbson, C. E. Green, W. I. Brobeck and Ruef, were indicted on 14 counts, each charging that they jointly attempted to bribe 14 supervisers in the sum of $1,000 each, to vote a trolley franchise to the Parkside Transit Co.

Judge Coffey fixed bail at $1,000 on each of the 126 counts contained in the second indictments.

The grand jury adjourned until June 10, when investigation of alleged bribery by officers of the Nome Telephone Co., and by other persons, will be resumed.

Broken Wheel Causes Wreck.

Guelph, May 27.—As an eastbound freight was passing Mosboro at four o'clock yesterday morning a wheel broke on a coal car next the tender. The result was that the car spread the rail, and seven cars following left the track. After some hours' work the cars were replaced on the track by auxiliaries from Stratford and Toronto.

AGAINST CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

But Juror Is Accepted In Hayweed Murder Trial.

Boise, Idaho, May 27.—The unusual spectacle of accepting a juror opposed to capital punishment except as an extreme measure for the protection of society, against war and anarchism, came Saturday in the Steunenberg murder trial, and his retention, after he had shown that he was disqualified, raises a question as to the regularity of the proceedings.

J. E. Tourtellotte, a Boise architect, is the juror, and his retention seemed to be clearly due to a willingness of both sides to risk his views when the jury reaches the supreme solution of the case. But it is thought probable that when it comes the time the swear the jury, Tourtellotte will refuse the oath, and compel the court to excuse him from serving.

Besides Tourtellotte, two other talesmen qualified.

Accident at Funeral.

New York, May 27.—The funeral of Amelia Staffeldt, the girl, who was brutally assaulted and murdered at Elmhurst, L. I., Wednesday night, was held yesterday. Nearly a thousand persons attended, and it came near resulting in another tragedy. A throng of men and women crowded the porch of the Staffeldt home, and under their weight the boards gave way, precipitating many in a heap among splintered timbers. Several persons were seriously injured.

Funeral of Geo. T. Marks.

Port Arthur, May 27.—The funeral of the late George T. Marks took place Saturday afternoon, and was one of the largest ever held here. At least 100 carriages followed the hearse from the City Hall, where the body had laid in state from nine o'clock in the morning, to the church and cemetery.

Dr. Fred T. Coghlan's residence at Guelph was looted by burglars yesterday morning and valuables worth [illegible] taken.

OPPOSE THE ENTENTE.

United Labor to Make Effort Against Russian Tyranny.

London, May 27.—The Social Democrats of Great Britain on Saturday welcomed their Russian comrades, who have come o London for the purpose of holding a congress free of official interference at the Holborn Town Hall.

The surging crowds inside and outside the building soon resolved themselves into a great demonstration against an Anglo-Russian entente, and nearly all the delegates spoke in opposition to an entente between the two Governments and in favor of an understanding between the two peoples against the "common foe of despotism and repression."

One of the Russian delegates, M. Mishkovsky, made the speech of the evening. He appealed to the British Socialists to start an agitation against the attempt that Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, is now making to bring about an entente between Russia and Great Britain, which would enable English capital further to oppress the people of Russia.

"By the help of your trades unions," said M. Mishkovsky, "you will be able to force your Government to refuse to Russia the gold with which to crush what is the beginning of the social revolution of the world."

FINLAND'S NEW DIET.

Three Languages Employed In Ceremonies—Socialists Are Silent.

Helsingfors, Finland, May 27.—The first single-chamber Diet of Finland, the members of which were elected under the new constitution, was formally opened in this city on Saturday.

Governor-General Gerhard, representing Emperor Nicholas, read the speech from the throne, which merely exhorted the new Parliament to labor diligently in the interests of the grand duchy.

In reply, the president of the Diet, Judge Svinhufvud, delivered an address, in which, after alluding to the passage of the Haled Bobrikoff regime, he declared the Diet always would be guided by the principle of respect for the rights of Finland and the full restoration of the ancient and legal status of the duchy.

Three languages—Finnish, Swedish and Russian—were employed in the ceremonies of Saturday, but the place of honor was given to Finnish.

At the conclusion of the president's speech, the Governor-General gave notice of a series of measures to be submitted to the Diet, and the proceedings came to an end with hearty cheers for the Emperor.

The Socialist members remained silent during this demonstration.

LIMITATION OF ARMAMENT.

None of the Powers Anxious to Discuss the Project.

Rome, May 27.—Insomuch as no power has yet presented a concrete proposition regarding additional subjects to be discussed at The Hague conference, the program of the conference probably will be as set forth in the Russian note of Feb. 21, 1906.

Neither is it believed that Great Britain will bring forward a proposal to discuss the question of the limitation of armaments, and according to the status of the negotiations concerning this matter, it will not be taken up by either the United States or Spain. There is reason to believe the latter country will not broach this subject, in spite of the fact that the Russian note of April 3, 1907, made it clear that Madrid had expressed a desire to discuss the limitation of armaments at The Hague.

It is thought here that Foreign Minister Tittoni was aware of Great Britain's decision not to bring up the matter when, in his speech ten days ago, he said: "Premier Campbell-Bannerman, in his speech at Manchester, pronounced the last word on this question, and it agrees that the limitation of armament is a problem that must be reserved for further solution."

SECRETARY ROOT INVESTIGATES

Complaints as to Treatment of Japs in San Francisco.

Washington, May 27.—Information that Japanese have been subjected to ill-treatment and indignities in San Francisco, came to the State Department Saturday from two sources, and Secretary Root has taken measures for their protection through two channels.

Ambassador Wright of Tokio cabled that he had learned through Japanese channels that a Japanese restaurant and a Japanese bath house in San Francisco had been demolished by a mob, and Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador here, laid before Secretary Root despatches from the Japanese consul-general at San Francisco relating to the same occurrences.

Secretary Root at once requested Attorney-General Bonaparte that the United States district attorney in San Francisco be directed to immediately investigate the complaints. Mr. Bonaparte thereupon telegraphed both the United States district attorney and the United States marshal at San Francisco to make prompt and thorough enquiry, and to forward their reports by telegraph to the Department of Justice.

The Bank of Scotland directors have declared a dividend for the year to Feb. 28, of 18 per cent.

MAY HASTEN THE ELECTIONS.

Sensational Evidence Likely In Emmerson Libel Suit.

Montreal, May 27.—Hon. H. R. Emmerson spent yesterday at the Windsor, and returned last evening to Ottawa. He intends to be in Fredericton, N. B., in time to prosecute his criminal libel suit against J. H. Crockett of The Gleaner, which is set for Wednesday next.

B. F. Pearson, David Russell, Premier Pugsley and several prominent New Brunswick Liberal politicians and promoters have been in consultation with the ex-Minister. Mr. Crockett, the defendant, has also been at the Windsor for some days past.

It is said that he is gathering testimony, and that the preliminary hearing on Wednesday will develop some sensational testimony, and that some men high in Canadian public life will be implicated.

Another criminal libel suit that is attracting no little attention in Montreal is the one brought by Hon. J. Prevost, Minister of Colonization and Mines, against Oliver Asselin, editor of Le Nationaliste. The disclosures already made and anticipated will undoubtedly cause Messrs. Prevost and Turgeon to tender their resignations. It is claimed, moreover, that Baron Lepine's testimony to-day will bring about a crisis that will force Premier Gouin to appeal to the country.

In this connection, it may be of interest that Rodolphe Boudeau, at present chief clerk with the Privy Council, and for many years Sir Wilfrid Laurier's private secretary, is following the Asselin trial at Quebec as the personal representative of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and has stated that, in the event of the jury acquitting Asselin, not only will the provincial, but that also the Federal elections will speedily follow.

THE ORANGEVILLE VACANCY.

Contest Very Unlikely—Conservative Will Go by Acclamation.

Orangeville, May 27.—It is not expected that there will be any contest to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Lewis.

The riding is a safe seat, and the nominee of the Liberal-Conservative Association will undoubtedly be elected by acclamation. In the last election, although there was two Conservatives in the field, and the party divided, the Liberals let matters go by the board, although most of them supported the defeated candidate Wandboro, who was snowed under. With the lesson thus afforded, it is not likely there will be any "bucking," the choice of the delegates. The election must be held on or before Aug. 24, as by statute, "if the writ is not issued within three months after a vacancy occurs, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the crown in chancery to issue the writ forthwith" (4 Edw. vii., cap. 10, sec. 5). This law was enacted by Premier Whitney, to prevent the disgraceful recurrence of the Renfrew scandal.

RIDDLED WITH STONES.

Fourteen Injured by Premature Blast —Some Fatally.

New York, May 27.—Fourteen persons were injured, some of them probably fatally, by an explosion in the cut of the new Pennsylvania station at 31st street on Saturday. Several of the injured were pedestrians in surrounding streets, who were caught in the shower of stones which were hurled hundreds of feet by the fierce explosions. The others were laborers who were working in the cut and who were struck by flying stones or thrown down by the concussion.

Officials of the New York Contracting and Trucking Co. declare that the trouble was caused by the premature setting off of a blast.

An investigation will be made, however, to determine whether one of the smaller storage magazines was not exploded by accident.

All the houses about the cut were riddled with fragments of stone, and many of the tenants who escaped injury were given a bad fright.

West York Nominations.

Weston, May 27.—When Returning Officer Joseph Keefler called for nominations to fill the vacancy in West York at Dufferin Hall on Saturday, less than a dozen electors were in attendance. Before the hour for receiving nominations had expired the room contained a fair sprinkling.

The nominations were:

Frederick J. Peel, patternmaker, Toronto Junction; Esten Williams of the Township of Etobicoke, fruiterer, and Forbes Godfrey, physician, of the Township of Etobicoke.

Machinists Return to Work.

Guelph, May 27.—The strike committee of the local I. M. U. held a conference with the Grundy Stove Co. Saturday, with the result that the men's demand for an increase of five per cent. was conceded, and they will go back to work on Monday.

The Guelph Stove Co. will try the open shop, and are bringing in nonunion men for that purpose, while the union men are determined to fight to the end.

C. E. Kaulbach Dead.

Halifax, N. S., May 27.—Charles Edwin Kaulbach, ex-M. P. for Lunenburg, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of heart failure, 74 years of age. He represented Lunenburg in the Dominion Parliament, with the exception of one term, from 1878 to 1904. He was the richest man in Lunenburg County, being extensively interested in shipping.

Sultan of Morocco Yields.

Paris, May 27.—A despatch was received at the Foreign Office yesterday from the French Minister at Tangier, M. Regiault, announcing that the representative of the Sultan of Morocco had promised to accede to all the French demands for satisfaction in connection with the recent murder of Dr. Mauchamp.

They Strike.

Halifax, May 27.—The longshoremen closed work at midnight last night. This action will affect about 500 men.

The Japanese Foreign Office is said to have asked the United States for assurances that Japanese in the U.S. will be protected.

TORNADO SWEPT TEXAS

Twelve People Are Killed and Scores Severely Injured.

Path of the Storm Strewn With Wrecked Buildings—Dead Horses and Cattle—Cyclone Cellars Prevented Appalling Loss of Life—Blizzard At Sturgis—Bridges Washed Away—Impossible to Travel.

Willispoint, Texas, May 27.—A tornado struck the eastern portion of Willispoint on Saturday, cutting a swath 200 yards wide, killing three persons and injuring many others. Everything is confusion and everybody is engaged in aiding the injured and clearing the debris.

The storm came from the southwest. Dead horses, cattle and fowls are scattered along its path.

The reason so few were killed is attributed to the timely use of storm cellars. In many cases houses were torn to kindling wood, while the owners escaped harm in cellars.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 27.—A severe rain and electrical storm swept over northern Texas Saturday night, causing much damage to property and some loss of life.

Near Denton, eight members of the Wardlaw family were injured, one fatally, when the home was overturned by the wind. Scores of barns and other small buildings were destroyed. Many farm animals were killed.

Six Killed, Many Injured.

Emory, Texas, May 27.—A tornado bore down on Emory Saturday evening from the southwest, but suddenly veered to the west, circled the town, killing six persons and injuring 40 or 50.

Emory is well provided with stone cellars, and to this fact is due the small number of dead.

Every building on the county poor farm was demolished, as well as several residences. The greatest destruction, however, occurred in the negro settlement. Many of those injured may die.

Twenty-Five Houses Wrecked.

Gainsville, Texas, May 27.—A tornado struck Gribble Springs Saturday, wrecking 25 houses, killing two persons, and injuring a score.

The tornado devastated growing land about two miles wide and several miles long.

Travel Impossible

Sturgis, S. D., May 27.—After three days and nights of steady rain, snow fell Saturday afternoon, culminating in a blizzard last night.

The Black Hills country is thoroughly drenched, streams are overflowing. Many bridges are gone and travel through the country is almost impossible.

Terrific Storm at Nixon.

London, May 27.—A report reached here last night that heavy windstorm last evening done considerable damage at the Village of Nixon, 11 miles from Simcoe.

Houses were unroofed, trees blown down and fences scattered, but no one was injured.

A heavy thunderstorm followed.

Communication with the place could not be obtained, the wires probably being down.

INVESTIGATE EXPRESS RATES.

Railway Commission to Make a Searching Enquiry.

Ottawa, May 27.—The railway commission will take up the readjustment of the express rates some time during the next month. The same procedure will be followed in the case of the express companies as has been followed in connection with the telephone rates. The companies will be required to file their schedules of charges with the commission, and then come before the board to justify them.

The telephone companies notified the commissioners, after they had filed their rates, that they were prepared to meet any objections which might be made to any or all of them. The commission, however, decided that the Bell Company, which was the one involved, should undertake to convince the commissioners that all of their charges were fair and just.

The enquiry into the express charges will be very searching.

CANADIAN FISH FOR BRITAIN.

Can Be Imported From B. C. to England Very Cheaply.

London, May 27.—It is understood a scheme is in preparation for the importation of fresh fish from British Columbia into the United Kingdom. According to the ideas of the promoters, it is possible to put untinned B. C. salmon and halibut on the table here at less cost than Yarmouth bloaters in the glut season.

Competent authorities here and in Canada have pronounced the scheme feasible. Three powerful firms in England, Scotland and Ireland have stated their willingness to engage in the task of distributing to British consumers, Kaien Island is to be the fishing headquarters. It is believed a British steamship company will also provide a cold storage service between Vancouver and New Zealand.

Many Injured In Riot.

New York, May 27.—A dozen or more persons were injured yesterday in a serious riot of longshoremen on strike. The trouble started outside the South Brooklyn docks.

A number of negro strikebreakers, as they left their work, marched through the Italian quarter, singing. Shots were fired at them from a window, and then scores of Italian strikers rushed from saloons and houses.

Four negroes were arrested, two in a serious condition from stab wounds.

Chicago Forger Caught.

Montreal, May 27.—John R. Wilmot, a native of Chicago, was arrested on a charge of forging a note for $5,500 which he passed on a Chicago bank. He admitted his guilt.

A large sum of money was found on him.

Helen Dixon, of Bloomington, Ill., admitted embezzling $1,300 of church funds and was sentenced to an indeterminate term.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

CHAPTER I.

It was on the 15th of September. I am particular as to the date, for it marked the cruelest tragedy that ever darkened a young girl's life. The night was stormy and intensely dark, save for the vivid flashes of lightning that lit up the wild mountain scene with a white, awful glare for an instant, at intervals, then died out, leaving the rugged slopes to the darkness and the terrible storm.

The oldest inhabitant of Virginia never remembered having witnessed such a storm before.

The little rivulets, leaping from crag to crag down the mountain gorges, were swollen into mighty cataracts, carrying death and destruction in their path as they dashed on to the valley below—on this night which was to be made so memorable. In a weather-beaten abode situated about midway between the summit and the base of the mountain, and around the comfortably fire that blazed fitfully, and spluttered in the open fireplace, sat three persons: Abel Moore, the old mail-carrier, who drove the mail-stage between Dover and Allendale; Dorothy, his wife; and Theressa, their daughter.

As they sat there, listening to the fierce storm, and the wind that howled like a demon through the mountain gorge, the old clock on the three-cornered shelf in the angle of the wall slowly struck nine.

Abel Moore sprung quickly to his feet.

"It's time I was starting off, Dorothy," he said, turning briskly to his wife. "Where's my heavy coat?"

"Don't go to-night, Abel," pleaded his wife. "Abide at home just this once," and she came a step nearer him, laying a detaining hand on his arm. "I have a strange premonition that something will happen if you go. You know it was just such a night as this, years ago, that you had that desperate encounter in the mountain pass; you carried a large package of money then, just as you will to-night."

"Didn't I come out victorious in that affair?" demanded Abel triumphantly. "When they stopped my horses, didn't I cut down the whole crowd of them with the stout old hickory cudgel I carried? Wasn't there blood all about the place when morning came, showing I had put in some pretty good work?"

"They vowed vengeance against you, Abel," answered his wife solemnly, "and sooner or later it will come."

"That was years ago, and nothing ever came of it—or ever will," retorted Abel. "That's only a woman's whim."

"I wish you wouldn't go, Abel," she persisted, standing with clasped hands before him. "It wouldn't hurt any of the village folk on the other side of the mountain to wait a few hours longer for their letters."

"Now there's no use in talking," he retorted, drawing on his heavy boots and stamping them down, then proceeding to button up his great coat. "I sha'n't neglect my duty for a woman's whim, so there's the end on it. I've carried the mail for twenty odd years and never once neglected my duty, and I ain't going to commence now. A public office is a public trust. It's a man's duty, Dorothy, to be faithful." And with these words he passed out of the house and into the teeth of the terrible storm; a little later they heard the sound of his horses' hoofs and the rumbling of the heavy wheels as they turned slowly into the mountain road.

"Somehow I don't feel just right about your father going to-night, Theressa," said Mrs. Moore, throwing more logs on the fire. "I hope to the Lord he will come back to us safe."

"Father knows how to take care of himself, I reckon," replied the girl. "It's all nonsense to worry so, mother, he's neither sugar nor salt,—he won't melt. It's a bad night for the great reception they're having up at Waldron Towers," she went on, in the hope of diverting her mother's mind; "but I suppose everyone hereabouts who was lucky enough to be invited will go, even though it reins pitchforks, to get a sight of the bride; they say she's young and very fair, and a stranger in these parts."

Theressa succeeded in her object of diverting her mother's thoughts, for she answered quickly:

"You can depend upon it, the young girl is a stranger or she would never have married the heir of Waldron Towers. I wonder that he dared bring a young wife there of all places in the world—where so much has happened. Of course some one of the neighbors will tell her all sooner or later, then there will be a fine time of it."

"They say that the poor little thing is very fond of him," said Theressa, "and that she clung to him all the way going up the steep mountain pass, like a frightened schoolgirl."

"Heaven pity her if she loves him," replied Dorothy.

"That would not be hard to do," said Theressa. "He is young, handsome, and rich, and has just the knack about him of winning women's hearts."

"I would rather see you dead than know you had given your heart to such a man," said Dorothy Moore with asperity, turning suddenly upon her daughter.

"Never fear, mother," replied the girl; "I would as soon think of caring for Satan himself. I'd go a mile out of my way any day rather than meet the young master of Waldron Towers. I say with you, mother, heaven pity the fair young bride he has brought home."

"Carriage after carriage, heavily laden, have passed here since early morning. It almost seems as if all of Virginia were to be at Waldron Towers to-night."

"It's for no love of the master of the Towers they come, but out of curiosity to see the young wife. Ah well, as the old saying goes, Theressa—

" 'He that is false to one will never prove true to another.'

"The old housekeeper came down here, when she heard that the master was coming back with a bride, and was to have a grand reception, and begged me to go up with her and help decorate the place; but I said no. I'd as soon think of stepping into a charnel house as to step over that threshold.

"It would be a blessing if the race of Waldrons would die out with the present heir of the Towers. But oh, child, I cannot think of him; my thoughts go back to your father. I wish he was safe at home; I cannot shake off the impression, somehow, of impending evil."

"You are only a little nervous to-night," said Theressa, soothingly.

"It's enough to make anyone nervous," replied Mrs. Moore, "see how the house rocks. I've always said that some day one of these fierce winds would shake it from its foundation, and we would go crashing down the mountain side. I shall not rest easy until your father returns; somehow I never felt like this before. He's only about half way down the mountain, now. Oh, Theressa, do listen to the mad storm!"

Meanwhile, through the storm and the darkness, the Allendale mail-stage was slowly making its way toward the cross-roads, seven miles distant, to meet the night express train. The steep serpentine road was well-nigh washed out; but the horses had traversed that route for twenty years, and picked their way with almost human intelligence. But at a sharp turn in the road they stumbled, and, as the descent was almost perpendicular here, Abel concluded that the best plan would be to lead the beasts, and, getting out of the stage and grasping their bridles, with a few words of encouragement, he proceeded forward with great caution.

Suddenly his foot slipped upon a huge stone that had become dislodged and rolled down into the path, and the next instant, he lay groaning with pain from a severely sprained ankle under the horses' feet. They stopped short, seeming instinctively to realize that there was something amiss, and, there quite motionless they stood in the midst of the terrible storm an half hour or more. Soon after a mountaineer toiling homeward on foot, found Abel, and insisted upon taking him home.

"There is only one way you can serve me, friend," returned Abel; "help me reach the light down yonder. It's the home of a neighbor. I shall do well enough there, and take my place on the stage, to meet the express train, you can just about make it."

This was how it happened that the mountaineer—a stranger almost in those parts, knowing few of the people thereabouts—chanced to take old Abel's place.

The stage-driver drew rein at his destination with a sigh of relief, and at that instant the shriek of the on-coming train sounded shrill and clear above the wild roaring of the storm in the distance. Another instant and it had rounded the curve of the mountain and stood still.

The mail-bag was handed out, and he saw a slight, girlish figure alight from a rear coach; and as he gazed, the train thundered on again.

She advanced with a quick, firm step toward him, inquiring if that was the stage to Dover.

The old driver looked at the slender creature, who was so heavily veiled, and all alone, in dismay.

"To Dover?" he exclaimed, in astonishment. "Why, no. This is the mail-stage which goes to Allendale, just the opposite direction. No stage will be along this way going to Dover until to-morrow afternoon."

Was it his imagination, or did he really hear a low cry issuing from the folds of the thick veil the young stranger wore, and hear the words:

"Oh, Heaven, have pity! have mercy!"

"Can I get a conveyance anywhere around here to take me there? I must get there, if I have to walk every step of the way."

"There's no team but this within five good miles of here," he returned; "you couldn't get there."

"I must! Oh, I must!" cried the sweet young voice, distractedly.

Suddenly she tore off one of the dark gloves from her little white hands, and drew from her finger a massive ring, set with a flashing diamond, and held it out to the man.

"Take this, and drive me as far as Dover; it is worth twenty times my fare. Oh, sir, for the love of Heaven, do not refuse me!" she cried, wildly. "I must get to Waldron Towers before day breaks. I cannot tell you why; but if you only knew, you would not refuse to help me."

In vain the old driver remonstrated, declaring "he was sorry, but it couldn't be thought of. He must take the mail on to Allendale."

In the agony of despair, the beautiful stranger pleaded.

When he looked back to that night in after years—trembling as he thought of that scene, and the tragedy that followed on the heels of it—he remembered that he very unwillingly allowed himself, against his better judgment, to become persuaded to take the young girl to the gates of Waldron Towers.

And an hour from the time she had first made her appearance, they were making their way through the terrible storm toward Dover.

Once he thought he heard a cry issuing from the interior of the coach. The reins almost fell from his nerveless grasp, and his heart almost ceased to beat. He listened intently. The sound was not repeated.

"It must have been my fancy," he muttered. "No doubt it was the wind, shrieking and howling, with demon-like fury, down the mountain gorge, dying away like a deep sob of one in bitter pain."

Again he assured himself "it was only the wind," as he urged the poor horses up the steep, slippery pass by applying the whip.

At last the turrets of Waldron Towers, ablaze with lights, loomed up in the distance. A few moments more, and the entrance gate was reached. The terrible journey was ended.

As the driver assisted her to alight from the vehicle the wind for an instant raised the heavy folds of the veil she wore, from her face. A sharp exclamation of dismay rose to her lips as she quickly drew it down to its place.

In that one brief instant, the flickering light of the gate lamps revealed to the man the most beautiful face he had ever beheld; but over the lovely face lay a death-white pallor. He caught a glimpse of two dark-blue eyes and a halo of golden hair. In that face lay the elements of a tragedy.

He watched the slender, muffled figure curiously as she disappeared up the broad, gravelled path; then he turned to his stage again with a thoughtful face.

"I would know that young woman anywhere again," he muttered. "Ah, what a face! what beautiful eyes!"

Meanwhile, the young girl had crept up the marble porch, close to the long French window, peering in through the lace-draped window, with wide, distended, horror-stricken eyes.

The interior of the apartment into which she gazed was ablaze with light, and thronged with guests.

In their midst stood a young man with a debonair, handsome face. A fair young girl in spotless white, with pale blossoms on her breast and in her clustering curls, clung to his arm.

With bated breath, two burning eyes of the figure crouching outside in the terrible storm and darkness rested upon them. She had pushed back the heavy veil, and the sportive breeze tossed the pale-gold hair wantonly about her lovely childish face. The wild winds around her sung a requiem—the dash of the down-pouring rain a dirge.

So young and gloriously fair, yet life had gone all wrong with her. Her strange secret, and her pitiful story, would startle the world on the morrow, as it had never been startled before, steeped, as it is, in misery, suffering, crime and sin.

There was a quick shuddering cry as she gazed on the young man's handsome face.

"It is quite true," she muttered. "The paragraph in the paper spoke truly. It is he!"

"Heaven forgive me," she gasped, faintly, as she drew something from the folds of her cloak with her trembling right hand. "Heaven forgive me! I am driven to it."

The next moment there was a clear, ringing report of a revolver. The plate-glass window was shivered into a thousand fragments. The fatal bullet had sped on its course.

Who this young girl was, who had attempted this terrible deed, from whence she came, whether deserving our deepest scorn or our heartfelt pity—and what claim she had upon the young and handsome man we have mentioned, the after pages of our story will tell!

Be not hasty in your judgment of her. Remember, love makes or mars a woman's life. It brings with it a blessing—or a curse.

Yet, young hearts will still sigh for love, even though they weep tears of pity over our beautiful heroine's folly.

CHAPTER II.

Some months previous to the date mentioned in the opening of our story, in an old-fashioned garden scarcely a stone's throw from Waldron Towers, two persons were standing in the June sunshine, which touched with a glint of gold the features of the woman, plain and comely, and that of her companion a tall, commanding gentleman, with a fine, benevolent face, and the military bearing of a soldier.

He had been a soldier, a general in the army, and Virginia had never known a braver one. His name was enrolled among those of the heroes of Harpers Ferry, during that time so famous in our nation's history.

Where flowers now bloomed; in the garden of Fairlawn Villa, and fountains tossed their white spray to the sunshine, not many years since those same grounds had blossomed with waving cotton, which greeted the eye as far as it could reach, like a field of snow. It had been one of the most prosperous plantations in all Virginia.

General Hastings, the owner of Fairlawn, loved to recall reminiscences of those eventful days.

On this particular June morning the general was pacing the grounds to and fro, hurriedly, an unmistakable frown on his fine old face. Stopping abruptly, he turned to his companion, saying thoughtfully, "So the rumors that Waldron Towers is to be tenanted by the young heir is true is it? I had hoped it was mere hearsay."

Mrs. Dent, the housekeeper of Fairlawn courtesied. "It is quite true, sir," she responded, "at the village they tell me that Mr. Waldemar Waldron has been domiciled at the Towers a fortnight or more, and that he has come to stay."

The frown of annoyance grew darker on the old general's face. "Mr Waldemar Waldron, the heir of the Towers, must never be referred to in any way in the presence of my daughter Reine," he said. "She has never heard the story of the Waldrons, and I hope she never will. She is impulsive—girls of sixteen usually are—and would imagine it highly romantic; especially when a young and handsome man is the hero of it. There never was a man more hospitable than myself—or inclined to be neighborly—but I would sooner see the devil himself enter my door than this Waldemar Waldron: understand, I am never at home to him if he should take it upon himself to call."

General Hastings had spoken rapidly and energetically, bringing his cane down heavily on the gravelled walk by way of emphasis to his remark.

"I understand you, sir," she said. "I shall see that your wishes are strictly carried out. I shall see that a Waldron of Waldron Towers never crosses this threshold if I can prevent it. I am inclined to think, though, that he will not be likely to trouble us, for he has the reputation hereabouts of being a sort of recluse."

"I never knew a Waldron but what was a villain to the heart's core," declared the general hotly; "depend upon it, this one is no exception. Evil parents cannot bring forth righteous offspring; the race of Waldrons for generations back has demonstrated this; I repeat again, never let the name be mentioned in my daughter Reine's presence," and the old general's voice sunk to a whisper as he espied at that moment Reine herself advancing down the serpentine path, the skirt of her blue velvet riding-habit thrown over her arm, leading her prancing black pony by the bridle.

The grand old soldier's eyes grew moist as he looked at her. If there was one being on earth whom he idolized, it was his dainty, beautiful, wilful young daughter. She gave promise of magnificent womanhood; her slender girlish figure was admirably graceful; every unstudied pose was statuesque. Her face bright with a beauty all its own, was crowned in fair golden rings over her forehead, falling in a tumbled mass of golden curls to her waist; her eyes were a beautiful blue that deepened with every phase of feeling, that flashed with scorn or gleamed with tenderness, or shone with pride. She was not without fault, even as the fairest rose has the cruelest thorns. There was some little degree of temper in the bright, proud eyes, just as there was something of independence and hauteur in the curved lips. She was imperious, quick tempered, proud; but was quick to forget and forgive a wrong committed. It was not wonderful that everyone loved the fair young heiress of Fairlawn; she was well worth loving. She was the very light of the old general's eyes, his pride, his delight.

Her fair young mother had died in her infancy, leaving the care of their child to the old soldier. He was much puzzled to know what to do with her; then came the happy thought of sending Reine to school when she was old enough.

This plan had met with disaster; she refused to go. And the old soldier, who had faced the enemy on an hundred battle fields and led his followers on to victory, looked helplessly at the mutinous little rebel.

"If she had been born a boy," he said, in consulting with the housekeeper, "I should have known what to do with her; but I do not understand small girls."

Mrs. Dent suggested a governess, and the general hailed the idea eagerly, declaring it was certainly stupid of him that he had not thought of that before.

A long line of suffering governesses had tried their best to cram knowledge into the little curly, golden head of pretty Reine: but each in turn retired vanquished from the field, leaving the spoiled little heiress of Fairlawn the victor. She had caricatured them, mimicked them, caressed them, defied them; did everything in short but obey them.

At length by dint of persuasion, where he should have had but to command, the general had coaxed her to go to boarding-school.

It so happened that the principal understood just such natures as Reine's, and the result was, Reine stayed at boarding-school, coming back to Fairlawn only during the vacations of each year.

And the long yellow days of the present vacation were but just commenced on this bright June morning on which the second part of our story opens.

Reine was not alone as she came down the path, leading her pony; a young man was walking beside her, or rather endeavoring to keep pace with the girl's flying footsteps as best he could.

The pretty young face, half hid by the dancing snowy plumes of her hat and the tossing golden curls, was turned from him in vexation and the keenest disappointment; the saucy red lips were quivering grievously.

Suddenly she stopped short in the path and faced her companion, tearing the flowering lilac blooms ruthlessly aside that dared to kiss the glowing roses in her flushed, dimpled cheeks.

Two very blue and angry eyes met the young man's grave, dark ones.

"You simply refuse to go because you have found out that I have set my heart upon going," she declared. "Now what possible reason can you have for objecting to the lawn fete to be held in the grove back of the old ruined Towers? Every one will be there."

Bernard Chesleigh's dark, grave face flushed a little as he met the angry, defiant glance of the imperious little beauty's flashing blue eyes.

"Your last remark, Miss Reine, is the best answer I can give you as to my objection in going—'Every one will be there,' " he answered, calmly. "Many, perhaps, whom it would be best for you not to meet or know."

Reine Hastings turned away from him impatiently.

"That is a mere subterfuge," she retorted. "Let me tell you why you do not care to go to the lawn fete. It is because you are too old to enjoy such things. Just that, and nothing else. Yet you should not wish to restrain me from the pleasure of it," she went on, with reckless bitterness. "I could not endure the dull life that suits you so well. I want something different—something brighter."

Bernard Chesleigh stood quite still in the path. Not a muscle of his calm face betrayed how deeply the girl's words had hurt him. They were a revelation to him—those words spoken in the spur of the momentary anger which laid bare her secret thoughts. Old! Did nine-and-twenty seem so old to this bright, laughing girl of sweet sixteen? The words chilled him to the heart.

"You are unkind and unjust, Miss Reine," returned Bernard haughtily. "I would rather add to your pleasures than diminish them. You ought to know that."

"Then let me persuade you to think better of it and consent to take me," coaxed Reine, giving him an irresistible smile and a pleading glance. "You know I cannot go alone. I am sure the gathering will be very select."

He shook his head resolutely.

"I know of one who will be there, whom I would not care to have a sister of mine, if I had one, be brought in contact socially with; for that reason I declined taking you."

"Who is the person?" demanded Reine, curiously.

"He is a stranger here. I met him once, some time since," replied Bernard Chesleigh, a sudden fire at some old recollection aroused creeping into his dark eyes.

"Thank you for the very lucid explanation," said Reine, ironically. "I knew a great deal more about him now than I did before."

"The less you know of him the better," said Bernard, gravely.

Again the blue eyes flashed resentfully.

"What a cross uncivil bear he is," thought the girl angrily; and, disdaining his proffered assistance, she placed her tiny foot on the block unaided, and was seated in the saddle, and off like the wind, in a single instant.

Bernard Chesleigh gazed after her in alarm. Was the girl mad to give the animal free rein to dash headlong down the road like that?

With a sigh he turned and walked slowly back to the house.

When Reine was quite out of sight of Fairlawn Villa, and the tall figure that she knew was watching gravely after her, she slackened her mad pace.

"To think that I must stay away from the lawn fete for such a silly reason as that—some stranger will be there whom Bernard Chesleigh don't like! It's perfectly absurd!" Then, girl-like, her thoughts turned directly into the channel Bernard might have foreseen that they would drift into, had he been wise.

THE INSPECTOR WAS FOOLED

Fishery Inspector Watt does not find it all sunshine trying to protect the fish from the poor sports who cannot wait until the season opens. He is doing his best to enforce the law, but sometimes he gets fooled. One day last week Mr. Watt came upon a man fishing, and he asked what was in the bag. "Suckers," replied the man with fish. The inspector examined them and found everything all right. But just before that the fellow claims that he caught a fine lunge, and that when he saw the inspector coming he slipped the lunge up his pant leg, where it remained concealed until all danger was past.

ARCHIE FROWDE HOME ON A VISIT

Has Been on a Cattle Ranch in British Columbia for About Two Years

Mr Archie Frowde, who has been west for the past three or four years, arrived home last week to visit his parents for the summer. Archie is well known in Peterborough and his many friends are glad to see him. He is a printer, having learned his trade in the Review office, where he spent five years. From here he went to Edmonton and took a position in the advertising department of the Journal there. About two years ago, however, he retired from the printing business and took up ranching. He secured a position on a big cattle ranch just north of Kamloops, B.C. It is owned by Mr. J. McConnell, and he owns over 1000 head of cattle and 100 head of horses. That part of the country is great for grazing, and thousands of cattle are shipped yearly to the east and west.

Mr. Frowde started for home on the 1st of May, but stopped at Revelstoke, Calgary, Moosejaw, Regina and Winnipeg. At Moosejaw he met two old Peterborough boys, Mr. A. W. Irwin and Rev. W. W. Wagg, who are both doing well in the real estate business.

Since his return to the city Archie says he has noticed a wonderful growth, especially in the south and south-west parts of the city. He had no idea that Peterborough was growing so rapidly. He will be around the city until fall, when he will return to the west.

BUSY MORNING IN POLICE COURT

Assault Case Heard—Young Men Fined for Riding Wheels on Walk

There was an exceptionally large docket at the police court this morning.

Cicero LaPlante was charged with assaulting E. Goselin on Friday, May 24th. Mr. Gordon appeared for Mr. Goselin, and Mr. Ozias de LaPlante for the defendant, and pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Goselin stated that on Friday last he had his horse grazing on a piece of property situated between the railroad track and the new part of George street. Mr. N. LaPlante owns this property, but Mr. F. Arnsby has it rented. Goselin got permission to pasture his horse there. La Plante came to him and told him his horse was on their property and to take it off. An argument followed, and a scuffle, in which witness claims he was struck on the back of the neck with a stick, and LaPlante also stuck his teeth into his hand.

Mr. Arnsby was sworn and said he had rented the property in question from Mr. LaPlante, and he had given Mr. Goselin permission to pasture his horse on it.

Mr. W. Lavery testified to having seen a lump on Mr. Goselin's head. His hand was also black and blue.

Mr. N. LaPlante, owner of the property, stated that where the horse was grazing was not rented to Mr. Arnsby. There was a small corner staked off, which was not included in Mr. Arnsby's rental.

Mr. Arnsby further stated that he understood the whole piece of ground was to have been his for garden purposes.

The defendant also told his story. He had told Goselin to take his horse off and he wouldn't. He then proceeded to do so himself. Goselin hit witness and he struck back.

His Worship in giving judgment dismissed the case, although it was strictly proven. He thought the little corner of property was rented along with the rest. Mr. Goselin would have saved a lot of trouble by taking his horse away. He was older than LaPlante and should have more sense. It was a pity neighbors couldn't live beside each other without fighting.

OTHER CASES.

Wm. Jobe was fined two dollars for being drunk on Saturday. He paid his fine.

Wm Gad and Wm. Clancy were each fined two dollars for riding their bicycles on the sidewalk.

The diagram of parlor car, which is attached to local Canadian Pacific Train leaving Peterboro' at 8 a.m. for Toronto, is now held by W. McIlroy, City Passenger Agent. Seats in the parlor car can be reserved on application to him.

Life Belts Have Wide Reputation

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons have received an inquiry from the Government inspector of vessels at Victoria, B.C., asking them to send out samples of their famous life belts.

Messrs. Turner & Sons have just sold 1,000 of these life belts to a steamboat company at Gravenhurst. The belts certainly have a wide reputation throughout the Dominion.

Fire at Peter Hamilton Co's Doing About $10,000 Damage

Started in the Roof of the South Half of the Foundry—Paint Shop With Large Quantity of Material Destroyed—Company Will Not be Crippled—Will Turn Machines Out on Time—To Rebuild at Once

The Peter Hamilton Co's farm implement factory was visited by fire early Saturday evening and damage to the extent of $10,000 was done. The fire started in the roof of the south half of the building, but just how no one can tell, unless it was from a spark from the chimney. The men had all quit work some time before when everything was apparently all right. But about a quarter to six o'clock smoke was noticed coming through the roof in volumes. The new fire alarm system was at once given its first practical test. Box No 21, which is just at the corner of the company's office, was used, and the system worked very satisfactorily. The general alarm on the market hall, the gong in the fire hall, and the tappers in the firemen's houses all gave the alarm, and in a short time the whole brigade was on the move.

As soon as the alarm was sounded the crowds of people on the street gathered at the scene of the fire, and were there ahead of the brigade. It could be plainly seen that the flames had a good start, and were gaining ground, and when the firemen arrived there was what promised to be a very nasty fire. Two lengths of hose were soon laid, and the men attempted to carry the hose up through the factory to the top floor. This, however, was of no avail, as the fire was above the ceiling and under the roof and there was no way to get at it. Some minutes were lost in getting out of the building and getting water on in another place.

Another attempt was made to reach the flames by using the elevator on the outside of the building. This also failed, and the men had to come down and do the best they could from the ground, the roof of the shed at the south end and the roofs of the buildings on the east with six streams of water were put on to the flames, which had by this time burned through the wooden roof and were making good headway.

Chief Rutherford sized up the situation and realized that four streams were not as effective as three, and he combined two. A difference was noticed at once. For half an hour the men fought bravely and well. The building is one of the oldest in the city, and large quantities of wood was used in its construction. The roof was of wood and was old, and the intense heat of the flames turned the water into steam almost as fast as it was thrown on. But the brigade fought on and prevented the flames spreading. They confined them to the top storey, and did excellent work in this way, and by half-past six the fire began to die away, and the men had it under control.

The fire started over the paint shop, which was three storeys high, and was filled up with the woodwork for self-binders. The material was perfectly dry and excellent stuff for the flames, which licked themselves around it and defied the best efforts of any brigade. But as soon as the roof fell in the men were able to get in much better service and the flames were soon drowned. By seven o'clock there was very little fire to be seen anywhere, and it was not long after that before it was black out. The brigade, however, was on duty all night to prevent it starting again.

WORK GOES ON.

Mr Hamilton, when seen by the Review, said that the fire could not have come at a more inopportune time. The factory was working full force on self-binders for the season, the paint shop was filled to the ceiling with woodwork, nearly ready for the assembling room. The loss there will be very heavy.

"We expected," he said, "to start shipping in another week or two, and we would ship every day from that on."

"Will this cripple the works in any way?" was asked.

"Not in the least. We will start immediately in the morning to make up for the parts that were burned and, while we may be a few days late in starting to ship, every order will be filled. A paint shop will be fitted up and a big staff put on."

NO MEN LAID OFF.

Continuing, Mr. Hamilton said that they employed from 130 to 140 men, but not one of them will be laid off. The season's make of mowers were nearly all in the storehouse, which was not touched, and it is not expected that any material damage was done to those still in the factory. It is not expected, either, that any serious damage was done to the iron work on the binders, unless it is through water and dirt, and that can be easily overcome. The firm will start at once to clean up and rebuild. The loss is estimated at about $10,000 on building and stock, and it is covered by insurance in the Phoenix Co., of London; the Millers and Manufacturers' Co., of Toronto, and the Metropolitan Co.

PRAISES FIREMEN.

Mr. Peter Hamilton and Mr. Jas. Hamilton both speak very highly of the work of the brigade. "They did nobly, and considering the circumstances, they worked wonders," is how both gentlemen expressed themselves. They realized that it was a most difficult fire to get at, and they are delighted that the men confined it to such a small area.

In the building are stored several tanks containing turpentine and japan. These are fire-proof, but had the fire reached them there would have been "doings" on George street.

ALDERMEN THERE.

The fire Saturday evening was of considerable importance, as it was the first big fire which has visited the city for several years. The entire Council was on the scene soon after the alarm was sent in, and they were interested spectators. For two or three years Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, advocated better fire fighting appliances. He succeeded in getting the bylaw through and the greater part of the apparatus has been purchased. But there are still several places where improvement can be made, and there was no argument so forceful as that fire. The brigade is all right, the water supply is all right, and the the material they have is al right, but they have not enough. They are away short on ladders, and the new truck which has been ordered cannot get here too soon. It has a 50 foot extension ladder, and several other ladders. The chief has also asked for more hose, and he will likely get it. The Fire, Water and Light Committee will at its next meeting have a talk about the fire and the equipment.

MEN HURT.

Fireman Art Wringer sprained his ankle when he jumped off the hook and ladder truck, and Fireman F. W. Metharal received a cut on the head. The injuries in all these cases, however, were not serious.

Will Start Hauling Clay From Drummond Station Next Week

Lakefield Portland Cement Co. Had to Abandon Lily Lake on Account of Gravel—Purchase 230 Acres at the New Point.

This week will likely see the Grand Trunk Railway starting to draw clay from the new beds at Drummond Station, to the Lakefield Portland Cement Co. For years the clay has been taken from Lily Lake, the farm being known as the Middleton farm. It was thought at that time that there was enough clay at Lily Lake to last for 50 years. But after the company had taken out considerable clay they struck gravel mixed with clay. This was not satisfactory and that portion of the farm had to be abandoned. An effort was made to purchase more of the farm, but the owner refused to sell. After the clay is removed the property is good to no one except as a frog pond.

The company then moved to Drummond station, where another clay belt was found. Here the Drummond farm of 100 acres, the Francis farm of 100 acres, and 30 acres of the Cooney farm were purchased, making a total of 230 acres. On one of the farms is a large quantity of wood which will be sold off, and the two big farms are being rented. The revenue from these two sources will help reimburse the company for the price of the property, and also help pay the cost of getting at the clay. It is stated that on the Drummond farm there are eight feet of earth before the clay is reached. This will all have to be taken off and disposed of.

The company has a large number of men at work at Drummond station getting the plant into shape and it is expected that the first train load will go through the city this week. The haul from Drummond Station is three miles further than from Lily Lake, but the G.T.R. will shortly start to lower the grade of the track between this city and Nassau, so that only one engine will be required on a train, instead of two as at present. This will make up for the extra cost entailed in the longer haul.

Change Location Of T.A.S. Park

It Will be Put in Good Shape for the Picnic

At the meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. held yesterday eight new candidates were received into membership. Further arrangements were made for the annual picnic, which will be held on July 1st, down the river to T.A.S. park. It has been decided to change the location of the park, which is now situated on the east side of the river, opposite the Kincaid farm, to the west side of the river. The park will be in the grove on the Kincaid farm, about a quarter of a mile further down than the former park.

Men will be sent down tomorrow to put the grounds in proper shape and give them a thorough cleaning. The ladies of the Sodality will serve meals at the park this year and the T.A.S. excursion and picnic on July 1st promises to be greater and grander than ever.

Endless Prayer Again to Front

The following prayer is being sent through the Peterborough mails to several persons in Peterborough. Those who receive a copy should consign it to the waste paper basket. As far as can be learned, no one has authorized the sending out of the prayer, and the manner in which it is being bandied about savors more of sacrilege than reverence. Here is a copy of the document;

Oh Lord Jesus Christ, we implore the Eternal God to have mercy on all mankind and keep us from all sin by the Precious Blood, and take us to dwell with Thee, eternally, Amen.

This prayer was written by Bishop ——— requesting it to be rewritten and sent to nine persons, commencing the day received and write each day for nine days.

It is said that whosoever will write this will, after nine days, experience some great joy and be delivered from some great calamity.

He who will not, will be overtaken by misfortune.

Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence

Magistrate However Orders Jas. Belleghem to Make Restitution.

Jas. Belleghem, corner of Stewart and Brock streets, who pleaded not guilty last Monday in the police court, to the charge of snatching the purse of Miss Haggarty, on Saturday night, May 18, at the corner of Park and Hunter streets, was found guilty by His Worship, Magistrate Dumble this morning. Belleghem having never appeared before in police court was allowed to go on suspended sentence. He also had to pay the costs of the court, amounting to $11. He remained in custody until the amount was paid.

The following is His Worship's judgment.—

The prisoner is charged with having robbed from the person of Miss Haggarty, a satchel containing a sum of money, some rosaries, etc.

The robbery took place at the corner of Hunter and Park Streets, Peterborough, about 9.45 p.m. on Saturday night, May 18th, '07. Miss Haggarty, an aged lady, states that as she was returning home, she heard footsteps behind her, then they ceased, but she looked around, but saw no one. In a moment a man passed her, and turned bluntly around, faced her, and snatched her satchel, leaving the chain in her hand. She, greatly excited, ran after him shouting "Stop thief!"; that the man at the corner of Park and Hunter streets, turned and ran east on the south side of Hunter street. She says that the man was tall, thin, had dark clothes and a dark Christy hat. As Miss Haggarty was shouting a Mrs. Melville and her daughter, coming down on the north side of Hunter street, saw a man running east on the south side of Hunter street, and saw Miss Haggarty, and asked her what was the matter. She told them and they phoned the fact and the description of the thief to the police station. Constable Newhall made for the locality and near the corner of Hunter and Stewart streets, saw a man loitering. The man, while walking west, twice turned to look at the constable, and when he reached the corner of Stewart and Hunter streets he turned up Hunter street, and ran very fast. The constable pursued him, calling on him to stop. He overtook him and arrested him. The man said quickly, "Belleghem, Belleghem, I did nothing wrong." The constable took him to the station and searched him, but found nothing on him.

At the trial prisoner elected summary trial, and pleaded not guilty. Miss Haggarty at the trial, looked at the prisoner, and said he was the man, judging from his general appearance, but stated that she had not seen his face.

At this stage the evidence of identity was not strong, but prisoner went into witness box and by his evidence did what almost invariably guilty people do—they complete the evidence necessary to convict them.

Belleghem stated that that night he left his home at a quarter past nine and walked about a number of blocks in the neighborhood, that at the time Miss Haggarty was robbed he was at the corner of Park and Hunter street, that he did run east on the south side of Hunter street and that he heard a woman shout. When asked why he ran from the constable at the corner of Hunter and Stewart streets, he said that just at that moment he remembered that before going out, he had told his wife that he would go out walking with her, and that it was past the time appointed, so he ran.

It seemed unaccountable that he should be walking alone about a number of blocks, when he had promised to go out presently with his wife for a walk, and that the mother of three children should on Saturday night, near ten o'clock want to go out with her husband for a walk, and unnatural that a man who had been loitering should run so fast to keep an appointment with his wife. The explanation did not help him.

Miss Haggarty described the man correctly and identified him, but he proved that at the very time of the robbery he was at the very spot and that he did exactly what Miss Haggarty stated the thief did — he ran on the south side of Hunter st. in the direction she stated—that he heard the voice, but fled from it instead of going to help.

I have tried to allow myself to come to a conclusion, consistent with the prisoner's innocence, but I cannot. The proof is conclusive and I find him guilty.

As prisoner has never been convicted and has a wife and three small children and is respectably connected, I adjudge that he must make restitution to Miss Haggarty, and pay all costs of prosecution. On doing this, I will allow him to go on suspended sentence, in the hope that this may be the only criminal offence he will ever commit.

Linen Gowns are Now the Vogue

"There are so many different styles in the linen gowns this summer that this fact may be regarded as an important new feature of the season's modes," writes Grace Margaret Gould in Woman's Home Companion for June. "There are linen gowns suitable for almost every occasion, and some of them, with their combinations of Irish lace and artistic embroideries, are quite as elaborate as the silk frocks. The linen frock with the jumper waist having the large armhole, and the skirt with fan plaits, is a very charming model and will look well made up in any of the fancy linens. A scalloped edge finishes both the opening of the waist and the skirt which is in the front.

"Many of the most fashionable of the hot-weather gowns are made of linen in dark shades. A dark blue linen is used for the gown, which has the waist band trimmed and made with a vest, and the skirt plaited and cut in seven gores. Lawn tucking in white on pale tan is used for the vest and the cuffs. The linen bands which trim the gown may match the tucking or be introduced in a shade darker."

NO QUORUM.

There was no quorum of the Board of Health this morning and the meeting was postponed. The most important matter to come up was a complaint about several large terraces in the city which have neither water nor sewer connections, and still both pass on the street in front of them. Vaults and pits are used at the back, and from these come a very foul odor, which is injurious to the health of the city.

DOG POISONED.

Mr. Louis Meehan, who resides at 203 Rink street, is mourning the loss of his fine collie dog. The poisoner is still on his rounds, and Mr. Meehan's canine was a victim of the deadly dope this forenoon. Everything possible was done to save the animal's life, but it was of little use. The collie was a great favorite and Mr. Meehan feels the loss of it keenly.

A FINE LAUNCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowry Bates of New York are in town. Mr. Bates has had his fine gasoline launch overhauled during the past winter, new glass windows being fitted in the bow by Mr. Jessie Perrin, and the engines repaired by the Sylvester Manufacturing Co. Mr. Bates expects to set sail on Monday for his cottage on Pigeon Lake. — Lindsay Post.

Y.M.C.A. MEETING.

Rev Dr. Sinclair was unable to give the address at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday and two members of the Evangelistic Band spoke on the subject. "Natural and Spiritual Growth." Those present listened with deep interest to the addresses. Mr. Roger Manning, of Victoria University, sang "My Mother's Prayer," in a very impressive manner. Mr. John Laing presided at the piano. Rev. Dr. Sinclair will give the address next Sunday.

ST. MARY'S ANNIVERSARY

A Hamilton despatch says:—The first anniversary of the consecration of St. Mary's Cathedral was celebrated to-day. Rev. Father Galvin, of the Redemptionist Order of Eastern Pennsylvania, preached at High Mass and Rev. Father Teefey, of Toronto, was to have spoken tonight, but was unable to be present, and Bishop Dowling, formerly of Peterborough preached. The ceremony was impressive at the morning service, when the school children marched through the cathedral in procession, carrying banners and singing hymns. This evening forty young ladies were received into the Ladies' Sodality of the Blessed Virgin.

The offices are beautifully fitted up, and the company is fully equipped to take care of a percentage of the rapidly growing growing traffic. A large number of visitors were in attendance between the hours of one o'clock in the afternoon and ten in the evening. Cigars for the gentlemen and American beauty roses for the ladies were the order of the day, and the representatives of the company were the recipients of many congratulations. Regrets Disinclination of Young to Become Homemakers

Rev. Canon Davidson Delivered an Excellent Address to Sons of England on "The Home"—Increase in Homes Not in Proportion to the Population

Lansdowne Lodge No 25, Sons of England held their annual church parade last night and over one hundred sons of the greatest empire the world has ever known, walked in a body, headed by Marshall R. Tivey, to St. John's church. This handsome old edifice was filled with a congregation which could not help but have received much benefit by their presence. The Sons of England occupied the centre pews and they made an inspiring spectacle, and the hearty manner in which they took part in the simple and impressive service of the church, was admirable. The service from beginning to end was beautiful, the sermon which was delivered by the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, was excellent, and the music was familiar and hearty.

Rev. Canon Davidson took as his subject "The Home" and his discourse was one of the most interesting and impressive that has ever been delivered to a fraternal society. "The Home" is a subject which touches the heart of every man, woman and child, and too much cannot be said about it or for it."

His text was "Learn First to Show Piety in the Home.". He took those words as a motto on which to speak to Englishmen and the sons of Englishmen, of one of the greatest institutions of England, 'The Home.' It is the duty of men, according to the Apostle Paul, to learn to show piety at home. Piety does not refer only to the church, although that is of great importance, but there are other spheres, one of which is the home That is the divine institution which God gives us to grow up in, and no matter what our estate may be, high or low, there is always to be found there an everlasting comfort, if it is a proper home. The home is the place where we go when tired and wearied of the day's labors ,and when we are discouraged, and heavy laden with the cares of the world, it is there we find comfort and a loving sympathy from those surrounding us. But the home must be founded on true religious principles, and some time during the day, if only while repeating the Lord's Prayer together in the morning, before going out into the world, every member of the family should come before God.

Speaking of one's duty in the home, referring especially to the men, the reverend gentleman said there was much to learn. Men going into the home very often do not think enough of those who have labored hard all day there, with far less variation of work than they themselves have. There is often a great lack of that loving appreciation of the noble work done by the wives and daughters for the comfort of men.

Continuing Canon Davidson spoke of the amusements of today which are wearing upon the sweet, innocent pleasures of the home. Even many churches are drawing people away from their homes. He urged parents to give their children a happy time at home. Furnish them with music ,be kind to them, and make home so attractive that the worldly life and pleasures will be repelling rather than attractive to them. Keep them in the home and teach them the proper respect for it and for their parents.

The homes today are not in proportion to the population. Boarding houses and hotels are being filled more and more each year, and conditions existing today are serious He regretted to see the rapidly increasing disinclination of young men and women to become home makers, and the increasing inclination to banish childhood from the homes. Man was not put on the earth to lead an easy, selfish life, but he is here for a purpose, and one of his greatest duties is in his home The empire's life depends on the home-maker, far more than upon a few brilliant leaders. It is those who are plodding along day after day, making a happy home, and bringing up a good and contented family, who are doing the most for their country and for their God.

MASS MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

Of the Sunday Schools at St. Paul's Church

An interesting and helpful mass meeting of all the Sunday schools of the city was held yesterday afternoon at 4.15 in St. Paul's church. A large number of the Sunday school teachers of the city were present, but there were not as many scholars present as there should have been. Rev. B. W. Merrell, general superintendent of Baptist Sunday Schools for Ontario and Quebec was the special speaker. Mr. Rich. Lees, president of the City Teachers' Association, presided, and the meeting was opened with a hymn, and prayer by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

Miss Helen Davies then sang a solo in her usual excellent voice, after which Mr. Lees introduced the speaker.

Rev. Mr. Merrell gave an interesting, practical talk, in which he asked the children several questions. In opening his remarks he said it gave him great pleasure to see so many Sunday school workers and scholars present. He asked the scholars to repeat with him, the following verse,—

"Jesus take this heart of mine,
Make it pure and wholly thine:
Thou that bled and died for me,
I will henceforth live for Thee."

The speaker next questioned them concerning the eight lessons in the present Sunday School quarter. He urged the scholars, to trust, love, obey and serve their Saviour. He then told them three reasons why they should do these things. First, it is the right thing to do, and secondly and thirdly it is the safe and easy thing to do. The speaker urged the young people to give their hearts to Jesus. It is easier to forsake sin when young.

Mr. Lees then announced that the annual meeting would be held tonight of the City Teachers' Association. Rev. Mr. Merrell will give an address. He also referred to the forward movement of the Ontario Sunday School Association. He said as yet only one donation had been made to this work. He urged those present to give something to this movement.

The meeting was closed with a hymn and the benediction was offered by Rev. J. R. Webb.

Westmoreland Liberals endorsed their member, Hon. H. R. Emmerson.

The Pulpit To-day Must Speak Out

Rev. Dr. Crothers Says Some Ministers are Cowards

In George street church last evening Rev. Dr. Crothers preached a patriotic sermon from Romans 8th chapter, 31st verse, "What shall we say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us."

The speaker said that as Empire Day and Victoria Day had just passed it was but fitting that some reference should be made to these occasions. It was not guns, arsenals, or warships, riches or resources, that made a country great. It was rather the character of its men and women. The British Empire was the greatest since the world began. It contained 400,000,000 souls, or over one-quarter of the population of the entire globe. It embraced 11,000,000 square miles of territory, which was nearly one-quarter of the globe. Its total trade was that of a third of the world. It controlled one-sixth of the wheat yield, and one-third of the coal output. The revenue of the Empire, was equal to one-half that of the world. Many other interesting figures were quoted, all showing the greatness of the Empire. The fact was announced that out of the entire population, only 56,000,000 were whites, who controlled the destinies of this mighty Empire.

There were dangers in the way—the danger of lowering the moral tone of the churches, of intemperance, of infidelity, of a too sudden desire to get rich, of political impurity and a weakness on the part of the press and pulpit in not speaking out. Political impurity was rampant in the land. We had it brought to our attention time and time again by the reports of election trials in the papers telling how men were bought and sold like cattle. We ask can this thing be? . There it is! Where is it going to end? Is there no remedy for it? Are the pulpit and press afraid to speak out? The press was generally what the people made it, or demanded of it. If the people desired a high moral tone, they would get it from the daily prints. What about the pulpit? It had not spoken out as it should, because some of the men behind it were cowardly in spirit. They were evidently afraid to speak out because it would make them unpopular with certain ones in their congregation. Dr. Crothers said that no minister should talk politics from the sacred desk, as that would be taking a dishonest and dishonorable advantage of those seated in the pews who were not in a position to reply. But the great moral issues, where the welfare of the people and the standard of public and private life were concerned, the pulpit should speak out. It was their duty to do so. Dr. Crothers added that a public man might step aside from the path of purity, rectitude and honesty for a time and manage to have a following but it would sooner or later desert him. He believed that the great majority of our public men and parliamentarians were honest and well intentioned. It was the multitude that followed them, which often made them corrupt, and caused them to wander from the path of right.

The speaker referred to the greatness of many other nations, and told how they had fallen into decay. He believed that the British nation would endure, so long as it recognized Christ as the corner stone. The reverend gentleman paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Queen Victoria, the Good, and to the reign of her worthy and exalted son, Edward, who would be called in succeeding ages, "the peacemaker."

In the matter of respect, there was grave danger in this country of lack of respect for the judicial authority. We had always had confidence in our judiciary, and it was desirable that this should continue, but the judges themselves should be a party to the contract. Some remarkably light sentences had been passed of late, and, in some instances, it looked as if there had been a miscarriage of justice. The feeling of the people was being aroused, and it would be well for judges to act in a judicial capacity only, and not sit on commissions and other bodies. They should not leave the bench. We had able professional and university men, who could sit on commissions. It was most important that our hitherto unbounded respect and confidence in the judiciary should be maintained.

Another danger that threatened Canada was Mormonism, and the character of some of the immigrants in the west. We did not want any sanctioning of the loosening of the marriage ties, or of polygamy. We wanted no use of the pistol or the stiletto, or the vendetta. Even if a dozen who made use of such had to be hanged in order to stamp out lawlessness and disorder, far better for Canada, than that respect for our laws and authority should suffer. We wanted Canada to be a God-fearing, law-abiding, and righteous country and should never cease to raise high the standard of morality and righteousness and Christian citizenship.

The following excellent musical programme was rendered,—

Solo, "Abide With Me" by Hutchins.—Mr. Barber.

ITS' MERIT IS PROVED

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

A Prominent Montreal Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

Mrs. M. O. C. Letellier

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Soon after my marriage my health began to decline, My appetite failed me: I was unable to sleep, and I became very nervous and had shooting pains through the abdomen and pelvic organs, with bearing-down pains and constant headaches, causing me much misery. The monthly periods became more and more painful, and I became a burden and expense to my family instead of a help and pleasure. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. Soon after I began using it I felt a change for the better, and at the time of my next period I noticed a great difference, and the pain gradually diminished until I was well. I am stronger and look better than I did before I was married, and there is great rejoicing in the house over the wonders your medicine worked." Mrs. M. A. O. Letellier, 732 Cadieux St., Montreal, Quebec.

If you have suppressed or painful periods, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, pelvic catarrh, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, or some derangement of the organs. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eloquent Sermon On British Empire

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Touched Upon Necessity of Good Citizenship

Yesterday at the morning service in St Luke's church, great prominence was given to the significance of the Empire Day movement, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt preached an inspiring sermon on the greatness of the British Empire, and on the necessity of good citizenship. The pulpit and prayer desks were decorated with two large Canadian flags to signify the patriotic character of the service. The Sunday school children attended the service and listened with marked attention to the sermon. A special service had been prepared by the rector, and special hymns were sung. The special lessons were read by Mr. J. J. Turner, jr.

The sermon dealt exclusively with the true elements of patriotism. Referring to the long and beneficient reign of the late beloved Queen Victoria, whose life and work Empire Day was constituted to commemorate, Mr. Langfeldt defined the word "patriot" as meaning "one whose ruling passion is the love of this country" and "patriotism" is "love and zeal for one's country." To impart to the youth of the British Empire these sentiments, Empire Day was instituted, combined with the giving of thanks to Almighty God for His goodness toward the British nation, and the fervent prayer that He may bestow upon its citizens strength and wisdom to be enabled to fulfill their destinies aright.

In the Empire Day celebration is involved the subordination of selfish or class interests to those of the State and of the community, and the inculcation on the minds of all British subjects of the honorable obligation resting upon them of preparing themselves, each in his or her sphere, for the due fulfillment of the duties and responsibilities attached to the high privilege of being subjects of the mightiest Empire the world has ever known.

True citizenship, Mr. Langfeldt said, depends upon the moral character of the people, and this determines the position which such nation shall occupy in the world. It would be useless to increase the army and navy and to give them the best appliances of war, if the men are ignorant of the meaning of the terms loyalty, obedience, self-sacrifice, courage and devotion to duty. The same thing applies to the avocations of peace. The country may possess richly endowed universities, colleges and schools; its factories may be supplied with the best machinery, but if its citizens in all walks of life are self-seekers, devoid of honesty, careless of the general weal, idle and profligate, ruin will soon overtake such a country.

Empire Day endeavors to instill into the minds of the people a higher standard of private and public conduct, and a more quickened sense of the calls of civic duty, a fuller understanding of Nelson's famous battle signal, "England expects that every man will do his duty." Therefore this day deserves the support of the people. The only hope lies in the education of the young. A higher sense of public duty can only take possession of the nation, through the teaching received by the rising generation in their school days, and such patriotic teaching Empire Day endeavors to give.

The objects of Empire Day can be best accomplished by the support of parents and teachers to instil into the minds of the young the importance of certain virtues, which in the past have been neglected, namely, unselfishness, respect and obedience to lawful authority. Without these virtues no people can become permanently great.

There is a lamentable lack, not only of the sense of civic duty, but of discipline abroad amongst all classes Lack of discipline in youth leads to self-indulgence in later years creating idle, selfish pleasure seekers amongst the rich, and tramps loafers and corner-boys, amongst the poor classes. No nation can be strong which declines to be united by the fortifying cement of discipline.

The modern mother and the modern instructor of youth, are not without blame in this matter. Discipline is the foundation upon which must be built the virtues which distinguish a great race; the fear of God, industry, self-reliance, obedience to legitimate authority, self-sacrifice, respect, endurance, courage, unselfish regard for the right and needs of others.

Liberty and freedom are indispensable in the building up of the character of such a people, but let the liberty and freedom never degenerate into indiscipline and license.

We cannot hope to engraft the civic virtues on an undisciplined race. Let our first endeavors be to restore a reasonable discipline to the home and the school, and then we may hope to instill that sensible loyalty to King and country, that sense of duty to the state and the community, that love for our fellow creatures, which will enable the subjects of King Edward VII., to think not only imperially, but nobly and intelligently, thus rendering them worthy of the vast privileges and responsibilities to which, in the providence of God, they have been called

Magazines Have Been Advanced

Local Readers of American Fiction Must Pay More

As a result of the new postal rates between Canada and the United States which come into effect on May 8, the price of all American magazines has been advanced. Notice to this effect has been received from the publishers by all local dealers, and the increase will go into effect immediately.

As a result of the increase the price of every American magazine will be increased by five cents. In the case of Argosy, the price henceforth will be 15 cents, Ainslee's will be 20 cents, and so on along the line. The five cent magazines will be increased to ten cents.

The above information will not be exactly welcome to Peterborough readers of American fiction.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WILL CELEBRATE DOMINION DAY

A public meeting of the Park Board, the Town Council, and the citizens of Havelock, will be held in the town hall, on Monday night of next week, 27th inst., to arrange for a celebration on July 1st, says the Havelock Standard.

Every citizen who takes a pride in the village and has its interests at heart, should make an effort to be present, and help along the movement, the result of which will go towards improving their own property —the town park.

FOR OVER 60 YEARS

An old and well tried remedy. — Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by all druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other. Guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906. Serial Number 1098.

A CLOSE CALL.

A fatal accident was narrowly averted at Jack's Creek last Wednesday as Mr. Sawyer's men were breaking a jam of logs on one of the high banks. Mr. David Drain, Jr., was in front of the jam trying to start some of the logs, when the jam gave away suddenly and the logs came down on Drain and he had to take into the water. About fifty logs went over him and he had to dive three times to save himself, and only for Thomas Puffer being an expert with his peevy, there was a big log coming right on Drain that would have killed him, but Puffer seeing the danger, sprang with his peevy and caught the log and stopped it. He received some bad bruises, but is now able to walk about.

MAKING A BALLOON.

Precautions Taken to Keep the Gas Bag From Destruction.

It may interest the reader to hear something about the construction of a big modern balloon and its equipments. It is made of what is known as balloon cloth, which sometimes is of silk and is sewed in small sections of about a yard square, so that if one of the sections should burst the whole balloon would not collapse and destroy the aeronaut.

At the top of the bag is the valve to let the gas out when one wishes to descend. A rope for opening it runs from this valve through the center of the balloon to the operator in the basket. The balloon is filled through the neck, and this is left always open, so that when the gas expands from the heat of the sun or the lesser pressure of high altitudes the gas may escape and not burst the envelope.

As soon as the balloon is sewed together it is blown full of air and given three coats of varnish. Each coat must be allowed to dry thoroughly before the next is applied, or else they would never become perfectly dry, and the balloon would be likely to be destroyed at any minute from spontaneous combustion. This spontaneous combustion is not a bursting into flame, but a kind of exceedingly quick dry rot. I myself have lost three balloons through it. Once in my factory we were looking at a beauty when some one sniffed the air and remarked, "Thomas' balloon is gone." And so it proved to be. Five minutes saw it destroyed—rotten so that you could poke your finger through it.

Sometimes the balloon is so affected in only a few sections, and a man may make an ascension thinking his balloon is all right. Protected by the fine netting which envelops the balloon itself, he may even get up to some height before discovering his danger. In former times there were many fatal accidents from this cause.

When a balloon is packed, talcum or some other powder is sprinkled over the folds to keep them from adhering to each other. If this is neglected the balloon will be ruined, especially in hot weather.

As I said, a fine netting covers the balloon proper both to strengthen it and to carry the weight of the basket and its contents. All the strands of the netting come together in the "concentrating ring," just above the basket, in which the aeronaut stands. The anchor and guide ropes as well as the basket are fastened to this concentrating ring.

All modern balloons, besides the valve, have a rip cord fastened to a long patch sewed in the envelope, by means of which the balloon can be cut in two and brought to earth instantly. This is never used except in case of extreme emergency and where the basket is within ten or fifteen feet of the ground.—Dr. J. P. Thomas in Appleton's.

The Old Bedlam.

Bethlehem (pronounced Bedlam) is the London lunatic asylum. It was originally founded in 1247 as a priory, but is spoken of as a hospital for lunatics in 1472, and when the church was despoiled it was granted to the city of London as such an asylum. At one time the wretched inmates were exhibited to the public like so many wild beasts, as Pepys notes in his diary and Hogarth shows in one of his sketches. Patients that were harmless or half cured were given badges and released to beg in the streets. Edgar in "King Lear" impersonates one of these wandering Tom-o'-Bedlams.

What Chance Had He?

A physician tells of two young friends in his city who entered simultaneously upon their respective careers of physician and lawyer. Late one afternoon the newly made medico dashed into the room of his legal friend, exclaiming:

"Great luck, old man! Congratulate me! Got a patient at last! On my way to see him now!"

Whereupon the legal light to be clapped his friend on the back saying, "Delighted, old chap!" Then, after a slight pause, he added, with a sly grin:

"Say, let me go with you. Perhaps he hasn't made his will."

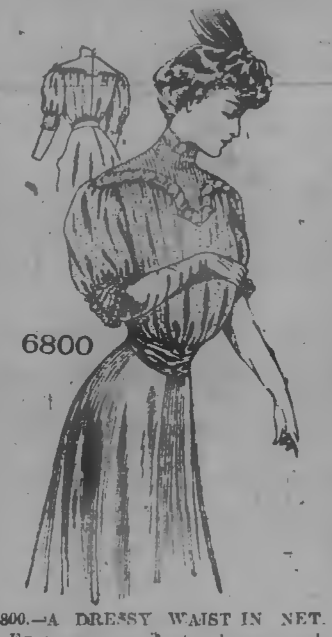
LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



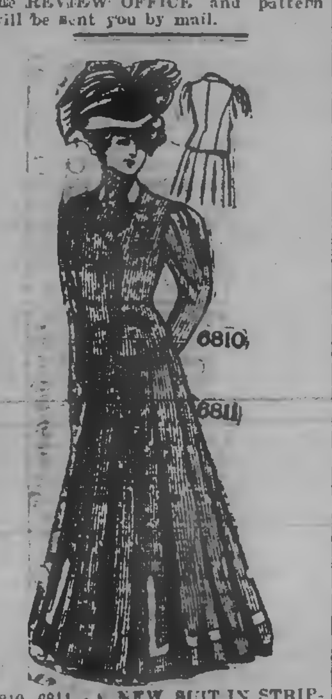
6800.—A DRESSY WAIST IN NET.

Every woman who touches so much as the hem of society life needs a dainty waist which she may don with the suit of another skirt and be presentable for any sort of afternoon or evening function. The woman of moderate means will find the simple waist of embroidered net or crepe de chine in some delicate color like champagne, pink or blue exceedingly becoming and very serviceable, not to mention its inexpensiveness. A suggestion for such a waist is shown but any number of variations may be added. The yoke which extends out a bit over the shoulders, giving that broad effect so much sought for this season, may be of tucked chiffon or silk or even tucked organdie with a simple lace galon as finishing. No other trimming material for the waist is needed except a girdle of velvet if desired. The sleeves are pleasing with their soft fulness shirred in to arm size above the elbow. The long cuff may be attached and the sleeves finished to the wrist. A veiling, chiffon, soft silk or Swiss may be developed in this way, the medium size calling for 2 3-4 yards of 27 inch goods.

6800.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6810, 6811.—A NEW SUIT IN STRIPED MOHAIR.

The newest models in street suits show many striped effects and one which is exceedingly smart is sketched. The material is striped mohair, but the same would be charming in flannel or serge. The jacket is double breasted, but short and natty with pockets for convenience and effect. The fronts are rounded at the lower edge to suggest the cutaway styles and the whole has a trig tailored look. The skirt is a seven gored one with under fulness at the lower part of the side seams to insure a pretty flare about the feet, while the top fits smoothly over the hips. The suit is one which would be neat in any of the new materials, cheviot and English suiting being a favorite choice for such models. The medium size calls for 7 yards of 54 inch material.

Two Patterns.—6810.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6811.—Sizes 20 to 32 inches waist.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

A PRETTY COAT.

School Readers Reduced by Half

Whitney Government Makes a New Contract—Big Saving

	New Price	Old Price
First Reader, Part I.	.05	.10
First Reader, Part II.	.07	.15
Second Reader	.08	.20
Third Reader	.13	.30
Fourth Reader	.15	.40
Cost of Set	.49	$1.15

Reduction on set, 66 cents.

Such is the saving effected to every pupil in the public schools of the province on one set of books alone by a tender just accepted by the Whitney Government.

The Canada Publishing Co., of which Mr. S. G. Beatty is president, is the firm, whose tender offer these prices.

Having shown that the high prices for school books was due to the school book ring, the Whitney Government proceeded to vest all copyrights in the Crown, and call for tenders for a new set of readers.

UNION JACK COVER DESIGN.

Nine firms tendered and the prices submitted gladdened the hearts of the Ministers, who had been making extensive promises about cheaper school books. The Canada Publishing Co., undertake that the quality of the books under the new control will be the same exactly as those now in use, with the exception of a cover design, which will embody a union jack. During the term of the contract a new series of readers will be compiled. The Government has not yet decided as to who will select the subject matter, but it is thought that expert educationists of high standing will be entrusted with the work, under the supervision, of course, of the Education Department, and that the Advisory Council of Education will also assist to some extent.

The Canada Publishing Company is one of three firms now publishing the readers, the other two being the Copp Clark Company, and W. J. Gage & Company. The successful tenderers accept the legislation of last session, vesting in the Minister of Education copyrights used in the readers.

MEANS A BIG SAVING.

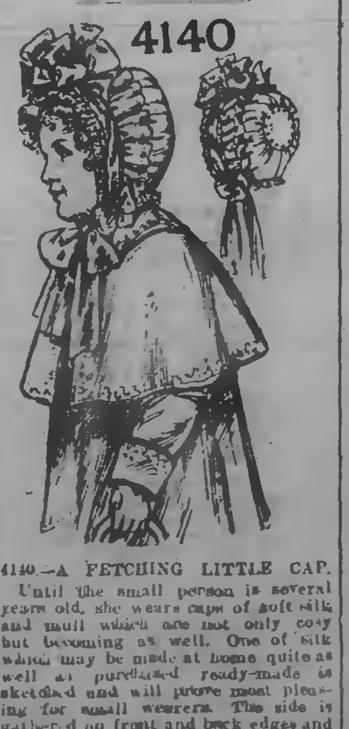
The tender covers a period of eighteen months from June 30th next. In addition to the prices quoted there is a discount of 25 per cent. on one or more copies bought direct from the publishers, and an extra discount of ten per cent. on all quantities purchased of the value of $250 and upwards.

On the basis of the official reports of last year's attendances, it was figured out by one Cabinet Minister that if only one reader is purchased by every pupil in the respective forms there will be an actual aggregate cash saving to the parents, who, of course, provide the money for the books, of $60,000 a year. A similar reduction in other lines of school books may be expected in the near future.

THE BOOK IS FREE

And the Welcome to Call for a Copy is Sincere

What a well known society lady of London, Eng., has to say about men and men's dress is given in the summer book, "Dress and Address," published by the Semi-ready Company. The chart on "Dress Ethics," is another part of the book which will be of interest, and the clear reproductions of the new "Semi-ready" tailoring styles will be worth attention. A copy of the book will be mailed to anyone asking for it, or to any friend whom the reader would like to have it sent. Just step into Cressman's and get a copy for yourself.



4140.—A FETCHING LITTLE CAP.

Until the small person is several years old, she wears caps of soft silk and mull which are not only cosy but becoming as well. One of silk which may be made at home quite as well as purchased ready-made is sketched and will prove most pleasing for small wearers. The side is gathered on front and back edges and the frill is shirred so as to lie correctly away from the face. Pretty bows of ribbon may trim it at top and sides or a simple edging of pleated ribbon or lace. A surah, peau de cygne or China silk may serve, while a daintier one may be of chiffon, interlined with a silk and flannel. The cap requires 5-8 yard of 20 inch material in the medium size.

4140.—Sizes, 1, 3, and 5 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

SEVERAL FIRES CAUSE DAMAGE

Historic Church at Truro Gone —New Brunswick Taxidermist Burned Out

Black Bear Burnt.

Fredericton, N. B., May 27.—Emack Bros., taxidermists, lost their factory at St. Mary's Ferry Saturday. It was burned to the ground. A strong northwest wind carried the sparks towards the river, otherwise the whole village would have probably been wiped out, as it is practically without fire protection. The loss is $5,000 to $6,000. Among the mounted game specimens destroyed was a large black bear belonging to the Crown Lands Office museum.

Church Destroyed.

Truro, N. S., May 27.—A building with a history closely connected with Presbyterianism in Nova Scotia was destroyed by fire yesterday. Fifty years ago there was erected in Truro a rectangular structure devoted to instruction in theology by the pioneers of the Presbyterian Church. Last night the building was a wreck, and a property loss of upwards of $20,000 is the result. The fire caught in the roof near the kitchen chimney.

Whole Building Destroyed.

Redvers, Sask., May 27.—Fire broke out Saturday in Groff's Building. The building comprised large general store, rented and occupied by R. Curle, and 13 rooms upstairs rented by two families. The building was totally destroyed, and the loss will be $14,000.

THREE LIVES LOST.

Disastrous Fire In Boston Woodworking District.

Boston, May 27.—Three men lost their lives in a fire which broke out in the heart of the woodworking district along the east Boston waterfront Saturday afternoon. They were Patrick Rourke, a member of the firm of Johnson & Rourke; James Varaso and Tony Rose. The loss is placed at $10,000.

Two Firemen Injured.

New York, May 27.—Fire in the four-storey building of the Manhattan Brass Co., at 332 East 28th street, resulted in the injury of two firemen, and caused damages estimated at $100,000.

Eight Burned to Death.

San Jose, Calif., May 27.—At least eight persons were burned to death Saturday by a fire that destroyed the Union Lodging house.

Firemen are now digging out the bodies as rapidly as the still smouldering ruins will permit.

BOY DROWNED AT CHATHAM.

Mother Was on Way to Spot Having Had Presentment.

Chatham, May 27.—Robert Jermyn, aged 11 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jermyn, East Park street, was drowned in the Thames River here some time between 4.30 and 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon while fishing from a rowboat.

His mother, before being made aware of the death of her son, had a presentment of evil, and was on the way to the scene in a buggy, and arrived there as the body was recovered.

Bricklayers' Strike Ends.

Ottawa, May 27.—The strike of bricklayers and masons ended Saturday, and a two-year agreement was signed, by which the men undertake to work for 47 cents an hour for the first year, and after that for 50 cents.

On the House of Commons job, for which William McGillivray has charge of, and the museum one, under George Goodwin, the men will go back at 45 cents an hour until those buildings are finished. This is, of course, due to the fact that these jobs were tendered on much sooner than others, and the contract prices would not allow the increases. After they are through, the rule as elsewhere, for 47 cents, will, of course, prevail.

Chamberlain Better.

Saint Raphael, France, May 29.—Hon. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, who have been sojourning here for some time past, are returning to England in a few days. Mr. Chamberlain is much improved in health, but it is probable that a considerable time must elapse before he will be able to re-enter public life.

Found Skeleton In Woods.

Montreal, May 27.—A farmer Saturday found the skeleton of a man in the bush near St. Leonard's Park. Some clothing was nearby. It is supposed to be the remains of an escaped patient of the Long Point Asylum.

Arthur Davis, a colored Pullman porter, arrested by Clarence Gist at Columbia S.C., in revenge shot Gist's brother, William, president of the Bank of Carlisle.

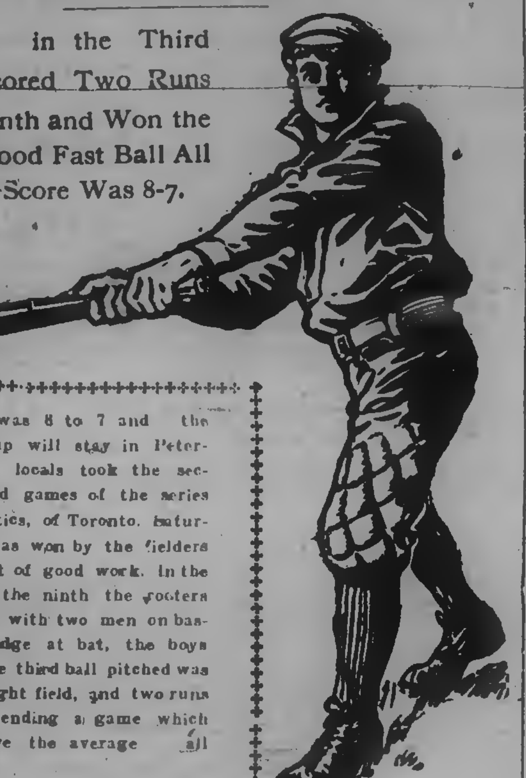
Grand Finish in the Third Game—Scored Two Runs in the Ninth and Won the Game—Good Fast Ball All Through—Score Was 8-7.



The score was 8 to 7 and the Melbourne Cup will stay in Peterborough. The locals took the second and third games of the series with the Arctics, of Toronto. Saturday's game was won by the fielders who did a lot of good work. In the last half of the ninth the rooters got busy and with two men on bases and Burridge at bat, the boys went wild. The third ball pitched was hit safe to right field, and two runs were scored, ending a game which was far above the average all through.

Baseball, always a game of surprises, did not go back on its reputation in Saturday's game at Riverside Park, when the Arctics and the local nine clashed in the final struggle to decide the ownership of the Melbourne trophy. The team, with the frigid name, mooching along with the ease of a well oiled machine, with an advantage over the homesters, seemed to have the first and last games of the series, and also the silverware packed away safely in their bat bags. But Harry Burridge came up in the ninth, with two men on the cushions and leaned against one of Harding's shoots for a swipe that buried the invaders as effectually as if under a landslide.

Arctic ice wouldn't have melted at the ball grounds Saturday, but despite the arctic air, neither aggregation played ball of the refrigerator variety. Fast, snappy work, with one or two stunts generally considered indigenous to the dog-days, featured the play of both clubs. Perhaps, if Harding had thought it worth while to walk Burridge in the fatal ninth, and take a chance on Quinlan, the outcome would have been different.

In every respect Saturday's matinee was the most interesting of the series. There was something doing nearly all the time, which kept the audience of about 400 on their feet.

"Yebbie" Flaherty was on the elevation for the locals and twirled a fine game. It was his first appearance in the box for Peterborough for some time and his work was watched with interest.

Six safe hits was the total of the Arctics stick work, but the "Don" boys are no half-hearted wielders of the willow and they caressed the horse-hide for a number of hard drives, but good fielding set most of their efforts at naught. "Yebbie" allowed no one to walk and struck out twelve.

Harding, the shut-out twirler of the Arctics, was on the slab for the visitors and pitched a good game. While the locals did not find it hard to connect with his slants, they had difficulty in getting them safe, as is evidenced by the fact that they secured only six hits. He issued three charities and fanned four.

Manager Johnston changed the batting order Saturday and perhaps that helped some. Burridge, who leads under the revised order, started the doings first by boosting a two-bagger to centre. Quinlan got first on a fielder's choice. Then both runners advanced a cushion by a twin steal, and Burridge recorded the first counter. Burns, the next batter up doubled toright, while Quinlan crossed the plate with counter No. 2. Burns went to third when Clewlo allowed Moran's throw to get away from him. Parnell gracefully made three indentations in the atmosphere, while Flaherty went out via the Clewlo-Lawson route. Sheridan singled to centre and Burns scored. Graham ended the first session of the entertainment by grounding out to Clewlo.

There was nothing more doing for the locals until the fifth chapter, when through the efforts of Burridge and Quinlan they annexed another brace of tallies. Burridge was first up and he being quite indisposed, waited and drew four wide ones. Quinlan, encouraged by the liberality Harding had shown his team mate, also tarried and received a complimentary ticket to first. With two down and men on the bases, Burns came to the front and smote the spalding into the centre garden, scoring Burridge and Quinlan. A moment later Burns was tagged between first and second and the fun was over.

Again in the eighth Quinlan added another counter. He was given life at first through Haliburton's generosity and stole second. Burns skied to centre and Parnell ozoned. Flaherty got to first on a fielder's choice. Sheridan singled, while Quinlan crossed the glad gum. Sheridan was forced at second and thus ended the eighth.

In the ninth when the locals were one to the bad and runs were quoted at a premium, Johnston started the boys in the blue and white on the path to victory, by banging a hot one towards Haliburton, who lined the ball across to Lawson, who dropped it. Johnston was safe and stole second. Callaghan got first on a fielder's miss, advancing Johnston, then "Jeems" corraled the middle station. Then, with two men on the hassocks, Burridge the sterling back stop, strolled up to the plate and peeled off a Texas-leaguer down the first base line, scoring Johnston and Callaghan, and incidentally winning the game and the silverware.

The Arctics tallied three in the second on a hit, a stolen base and three errors.

In the second they collected four more on two doubles by Moran and Lawson and singles by W Cole and Harding, assisted by fielding slip-ups by Burridge and Sheridan.

The batting honors of the day were carried off by Burridge, Burns, Sheridan, Moran and Lawson, while the fielding features were the work of Clewlo around the middle cushion, and two running catches by Burns in right garden.

Wm Wareham gave entire satisfaction as umpire.

NOTES

Corney Burns is a warm favorite with the fans. He is a fine all-round player and a great sticker.

"Chris" Graham made his first appearance on Saturday. He covered first most creditably.

"Yebbie" Flaherty was not in shape to do himself justice. He had a lame shoulder and was unable to see out of one eye as the result of getting hit with pitched balls in the holiday games.

The Arctics have a great infield. Every man is a star performer. Moran had eight hits in the three games. He struck out once, and that was Saturday, when he fell a victim to "Yebbie's" slants.

Harry Burridge is about the best back-stop ever seen in these parts. He receives well and his throwing to bases could hardly be improved on

"Wallie" Parnell tore one of the cleats of his boots in the preliminary practice, which no doubt had considerable to do with the three misplays credited against him.

The Arctics are a gentlemanly bunch of fellows and took their defeat in the proper way.

Strathconas Won From Excelsiors

The intermediate league, recently organized, was opened Saturday afternoon at the Nicholls Oval, when the Strathconas and Excelsiors played the initial game. The weather was fine for baseball, and the match at all stages was interesting to watch. The Strathconas always had lead and until the eighth innings, it looked as if it would be a whitewash for the Excelsiors. The final score was 5—2 in favor of the Straths. A nine innings match was played. The battery on both teams was the same throughout. For the winners Parnell pitched a good game, but he did not have much over Belleghem of the Excelsiors. Very few had an opportunity to walk. Wilson did the receiving for the Straths, and not many passed him. He threw to second well, and he is also good at the batting, and scored the first two runs. Kendry made a nice three bagger in the fifth session and succeeded in crossing the home plate. Weatherstone and E. Parnell brought in the other two runs for the winners.

Although the losers made several nice hits it was not until the eighth chapter that they registered a run "Mack" Guerin whacked a two bagger to left field and brought Belleghem in and also made the round himself. The Straths men in the field did good work, and in this respect had a slight advantage over the Excelsiors. Both teams made several costly fumbles, letting the ball go by them, and on two occasions, three players ran to catch a fly and missed it.

"Bill" Shaw umpired the game satisfactorily.

The teams were as follows,—

Excelsiors—Clancy, 2b.; Billington, c.; Tobin, f.f.; O'Shea, s.s.; Coughlin, 1b.; Fallen, c.f.; Russell, r.f.; Guerin, 3b.; Belleghem, p.

Two games will be played tonight. The Lillies and Karenots will clash, and the Lakeviews and West Ends will also play. These games will be confirmed Wednesday evening.

Great interest is being taken in the intermediate league, and there promises to be an exciting struggle for the Review silverware.

Tug of war, Norwood vs. Asphodel R. T. Scott, captain for Norwood; Joe Grady, captain for Asphodel, very keenly contested, but after about one and a half minutes Norwood pulled their opponents across the line, thus winning the box of cigars.

Ideal weather brought out a great crowd, and the sports were well contested, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves.

The football match in the morning between Norwood and Hastings resulted in a victory for Norwood by a score of 4 to 1. The football match in the afternoon between Keene and Norwood did not materialize, Keene failing to put in an appearance.

The most interesting feature of the day's sports was the mile race, when young Lees, of Peterborough, finished second, very close to McBurney. Lees led for the first half mile, and for a boy of his age ran a magnificent race.

BASEBALL

NO SENIOR LEAGUE.

The meeting called at the Oriental hotel on Saturday evening to consider the advisability of forming a senior city league was a failure so far as attendance was concerned, and there will be no senior city league this year. Mr. C. Wilson represented the Strathconas and Mr. Ab Quinlan the Shamrocks. They were the only representatives present

TWO GAMES TONIGHT

There will be two intermediate City Baseball League games this evening. The Karenots and Lillies will play the first four innings of a contest at Nicholls Oval at seven o'clock, while the West Ends and Lakeviews will do battle in a similar number of innings at the fair grounds These games should draw large crowds.

PROTEST ENTERED.

A meeting of the City Intermediate Baseball League will be held at the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow, Tuesday evening, when the different clubs are expected to hand in their fees.

The Excelsiors have entered a protest against the Strathconas. This will also be considered. The Excelsiors have protested Saturday's game on the ground that Kendry, short stop, and Weatherstone, 2nd base, of the Strathconas, were not eligible to play, claiming that they had been barred by the league executive.

Mr Joseph Picard will umpire the baseball game on Nicholls Oval this evening between the Karnots and the Lillies. Mr. Fred Craig will officiate as umpire at the game between the Lakeviews and the West Ends at the driving park. Both games will begin at seven o'clock sharp.

FOOTBALL

A GREAT GAME.

The Fall River team, champions of New England for seven years will be here on Wednesday night next, and will play the Quakers, champions of the Midland League on Riverside Park. The game will begin at 6.45 o'clock sharp, and it is expected that a large crowd will turn out to see the match.

Waked Him Up.

"Fare!"

The passenger gave no heed.

"Fare, please!"

Still was the passenger oblivious.

"By the ejaculatory term 'fare,'" said the conductor, "I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blond you observe in the contiguous seat, nor even to the quality of service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely allude in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car and suggest that, without contempering your celerity with cunctation, you liquidate."

At this point the passenger emerged from his trance.

Tree Fountain.

An extraordinary curiosity is to be seen in the Swiss village of Gunten, on Lake Thun. It takes the form of a natural tree fountain, the water flowing continuously from a spout high up in the tree. About twenty years ago the water from a spring was conducted through a shaft, and the supply pipe was directed through the cut trunk of a young poplar tree which was rammed in the ground. After a short time the trunk rooted, branches followed, and now there is a splendid top growth.

Friendship.

Friendship is a vase which when it is flawed by heat or violence or accident may as well be broken at once. It never can be trusted after. The more graceful and ornamental it was the more clearly do we discern the hopelessness of restoring it to its former state. Coarse stones, if they are fractured, may be cemented again; precious ones, never.—Landor.

Great Laughers.

The giant laughers have been men—Shakespeare and Rabelais. I do not regard Cervantes and Sterne as laughers. They are smilers. They are not jolly roarers and guffawers. They are not fat, rotund, jovial hilarities. They are thin, lean, ironic smiles. A smile is a diluted laugh. Sterne is a diluted Rabelais.—James Douglas in M. A. P.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

The regular Christian Endeavor meeting will be held this evening.

The regular weekly prayer service will be held on Wednesday evening.

Rev Dr. Sinclair preached most acceptably in St. Andrew's church yesterday evening. Rev. Dr. Crothers delivered an able address in the morning on Sunday school work.

Steamship Company, in connection with the collision off Vancouver, between the Princess Victoria and the tug Chehalis and aggregating $200,000, have been dismissed.

An Ancient Irish Custom.

In the district known as "the barony of Forth," in County Wexford, Ireland, is to be found a race of hardworking, industrious peasants living in thatched cottages with clean, whitewashed walls which by their perfect whiteness at once arrest the attention of the visitor. These people differ in many respects from the inhabitants of the other parts of the same county and have habits and customs peculiar to themselves. When a funeral takes place two wooden crosses are provided. On the way to the cemetery a halt is made at a certain spot by the side of the road. Here prayers are said for the deceased, after which one cross is deposited in a hawthorn bush or under it. The procession then goes on its way, and after the interment the other cross is fixed at the head of the grave. This strange custom dates from time immemorial, as the great pile of crosses by the roadside indicates.

How to Stop Runaways.

The policeman had stopped the runaway very neatly. Now, though puffing a little, he was quite calm.

"It's nothing to stop a runaway," he said as he wiped his foam covered hands. "It is like jumping on or off a moving car—dead easy when you know how. What you want to do when you see a runaway tearing toward you is not to stand still, but to run all your might in the same way the nag's a-going. Then, when it catches up to you, you grab the bridle and keep a-running. Then you are not thrown, you are not trampled on, and in a minute or two the horse slows down. I've stopped a dozen runaways without an accident. It's part of our training, and the policeman who would refuse to take a chance would be disgraced the same as a soldier who would refuse to fight."

SON MURDERED MOTHER

William McKie Kills His Aged Parent and Then Suicides.

Village of Bright, Near Woodstock, Shocked by Double Tragedy—Michigan Druggist Goes Home for Awful Crime — Feared His Suicide Would Mean Mother's Death—Victim Was Chloroformed.

Woodstock, May 28.—A double tragedy, which occurred on Friday evening last in the Village of Bright, 16 miles northeast of here, has been discovered, involving the lives of Miss Jennie McKie, aged 71, and her son, William McKie, aged 47, formerly a well-known school teacher of Oxford County. The lifeless bodies were found in Miss McKie's home, in the village, while a half-filled bottle of chloroform revealed the means employed.

The facts, as known, are as follows: William McKie, for the last 15 years a successful druggist of Kalamazoo, Michigan, reached home for the only time since first leaving it, Friday evening last at 5 p.m., via the G.T.R. He was seen to go to his home, and John McKie, a brother of the murdered woman, and his wife were at the house, staying for supper. They noticed nothing peculiar in his manner or appearance. Neither he nor his mother were seen alive again.

Miss McKie was found in bed, evidently having been drugged while asleep. William McKie, the murderer, was found in a half-dressed condition, with a handkerchief, which had been soaked with the liquid, in one hand, and a six-ounce bottle of chloroform half-empty in the other.

The discovery was made late Saturday afternoon by David Waugh, a baker, who called at the house on his rounds. He immediately told others, who notified the authorities. Coroner Dr. Hotson of Innerkip and Crown Attorney Ball of this city investigated the affair, and deemed an inquest unnecessary, in view of the circumstances.

No motive has been established whatsoever. Miss McKie, the mother, was never married. The father of the murderer is said to have been a Russian military deserter. Little is known of him, however.

The funeral takes place to-day to Chesterfield Cemetery.

CONDUCTOR GETS FIVE YEARS.

C. P. R. Officials Aid Prosecution In Assault Case.

Ottawa, May 28.—William C. McComb of Montreal, aged 33, a C. P. R. Pullman and tourist car conductor, was sentenced at the Pembroke assizes to five years in the penitentiary by Chief Justice Falconbridge for an assault committed on Jan. 29 on Gerda Anderson, a young Swedish girl, who was traveling on his train.

A feature of the trial was the commendable work of the C. P. R. Co. in aiding the prosecution to have the charge thoroughly investigated. Realizing to the full the necessity that young women traveling under care of their officers must have absolute protection, the authorities brought to Pembroke, at the expense of the road, all the witnesses from a distance.

They brought the sister and brother-in-law from Seattle with the complainant and Dr. Blanchard and an interpreter from Winnipeg, as well as bringing other passengers who were on the train from points in the west.

They gave the crown all the assistance in their power.

Douglass To Go Free?

Orangeville, May 28.—The Douglass case is fixed for preliminary hearing to-morrow before Police Magistrate Pattullo. The crown attorney is somewhat reticent as to whether he is going ahead or not, but there is reason to believe that no evidence will be offered, and that Douglass will never be prosecuted.

No witnesses have been subpoenaed, nor is there any subpoenas issued. It remains to be seen what reason will be given for the course.

Woman and Son Arrested.

Halifax, May 28.—Mrs. Wentzell, widow of Henry Wentzell, who died under very suspicious circumstances a week ago, was arrested yesterday at her home in Auburndale, Lunenburg County, charge with slaying her husband.

A son is also in jail awaiting a hearing on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the father's death.

The dead man was 72, his wife 50, the son 18.

President Diaz of Mexico, accuses the president of Guatemala of attempting to incite the Yaquis, to rebellion.

POLICE AFTER DEPUTIES.

Delegates to London Conference May Be Kept Out of Russia.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—Searches of the lodging of Social-Democratic deputies are now of almost daily occurrence here. The authorities have clues to several branches of the Social-Democratic organisation, which have been conducting a special propaganda.

Officials of the secret police Sunday visited the apartments of Deputy Prikodko, Constitutional Democrat of Tchernigoff, and found documents showing that a railroad men's organization is making preparations for another general transportation strike at the proper moment. As soon as the investigation is completed the public prosecutor will demand the suspension of M. Prikodko, who is a railroad worker, in order to place him on trial.

A number of Socialist Democratic deputies who have been holding congress in London have arrived at Helsingfors to prepare for the return of the other deputies to Russia by way of Finland. They found that the Finnish police, under instructions from the Senate, were everywhere demanding the passports of those bound for the Russian frontier, making the repatriation of deputies most difficult.

WELCOMED IN FRANCE.

King and Queen of Norway Get Great Reception.

Paris, May 28.—The City of Paris was in holiday attire yesterday, in honor of the visit of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway, who arrived here on their way to England to visit the Queen's parents. All the public buildings and hotels, and many private residences, flew the Norwegian flag, intertwined with the tri-color of France.

They were received in state at the Bois de Boulogne railroad station by President Fallieres, the presidents of the Senate and of the Chamber of Deputies, the Cabinet Ministers, the military governor of Paris, prefect of police and others, while massed bands played the Norwegian national anthem and the "Marseillaise."

Their Majesties were accorded a most cordial reception, the sight of little Prince Olaf arousing special enthusiasm.

Queen Maud afterwards took Prince Olaf to the Hotel Bristol, to see her mother, Queen Alexandra, who arrived here Sunday night, incognito.

President Fallieres last night gave a dinner of 300 covers at the Elysee Palace, in honor of the Norwegian King.

BOTH CREWS ARE SAFE.

Barge Total Loss But Steamer May Be Saved.

Detroit, May 28.—The steamer C. F. Bielman and her consort, the barge McLachlan, bound from Duluth to Cleveland with iron ore, ran on a reef in Lake Huron a mile and a half off Port Austin early yesterday in a heavy snowstorm.

The Post Austin life-savers succeeded in bringing ashore the crews, their last trip being made yesterday afternoon in a danegrous sea. There are hopes of saving the steamer, but the barge is thought to be a total wreck.

Steamer Ashore—Crew Saved.

Sydney, N. S., May 28.—The steamer Bericasia, from St. John's, Nfld., for Bridgewater, N. S., went ashore at Louisburg Sunday night. The crew were saved.

Eleven of Crew Drowned.

Montevideo, May 28.—The Norwegian barque Nagpere, 1,177 tons, Captain Gjeruldson, has been wrecked in a storm, and is a total loss. Eleven members of her crew were drowned.

The Nagpere had cleared from River Platte for Kaipara. She left Pensocola March 22 for South American ports.

JAPANESE WAR CAUSED IT.

Victory Over Russians Started Unrest in India.

Lahore, British India, May 28.—Those who have been attributing the unrest in India to the victory of the Japanese over the Russians find confirmation in their belief in documents found in the possession of a Hindoo lawyer and a companion, arrested here in connection with the recent riot at Rawalpindi.

The documents show that the men taken into custody were on their way to Tokio to solicit intervention in behalf of a native revolt against British rule.

PACKERS GETTING EVEN.

Threaten to Raise Prices On Account of Inspection.

Chicago, May 28.—Meat prices in Chicago may jump skyward this week. The packers notified the commission firms that beginning yesterday they no longer would stand the loss on condemned cattle, and in order to protect themselves they had found it necessary to refuse payment on "cow stuff" until it had passed the Government inspectors.

Commission men declare it is the intention of the packers to enforce the rule with regard to "cow stuff" now in the hope that similar action may be taken later with reference to their purchases of sheep and hogs.

Some of the leading commission firms and shippers have communicated with the secretary of agriculture at Washington with regard to the new action on the part of the packers, and it is said assurances have been given that any attempt to delay payments on live stock, as threatened by the packers, would result in the withdrawal of the inspection service.

FUNERAL OF DR. LEWIS.

Many Evidences of Respect to Memory of Late M.P.P.

Orangeville, May 28.—The funeral of the late Frederick W. Lewis, M. P.P., took place yesterday. The town had been crowded with distinguished visitors to pay their last respects to the late member and business was entirely suspended during the afternoon.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the Orange order. The town and county councils attended in a body and the Masonic fraternity was also largely represented.

The Ontario Government was represented by Dr. Pyne and Hon. Speaker Thomas Crawford. Other members of the Legislature present included: John Fisher, M.P.P., Brant; James Tucker, West Wellington; James S. Duff, West Simcoe; John Smith, M. P.P. for Peel, and his late opponent, Samuel Charters; Richard Bedin, M. P. for Peel. The medical men were represented by Dr. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector.

CANADIAN CHEESE SUFFERS.

Canadian Agent at Manchester Reports Low Prices.

Ottawa, May 28.—F. B. McNamara, commercial agent at Manchester, in a report to the Department of Trade and Commerce, notes the prevalence of low prices for cheese sales of Canadian product, having been made at sixpence. He observes that the reputation of Canadian cheese suffered somewhat last year from being shipped too green, and warns exporters that it is necessary that cheese should be adequately ripened before shipment.

Dr. Ruddick, the dairy commissioner, has been impressing the same fact upon Canadian cheesemakers.

Mr. McNamara also reports that the severe frosts of May have killed the damson crop in Cheshire and that the outlook for fruit throughout the United Kingdom is very poor indeed.

DUNSMUIR'S CLOSE CALL.

British Columbia Governor's Long Journey in an Open Boat.

Vancouver, B. C., May 28.—Lieut.-Governor Dunsmuir narrowly escaped death on Friday through the burning of his yacht in Queen Charlotte Sound. Mr. Dunsmuir was returning from a fishing expedition with his son-in-law, Major Audain, and three guests, when the yacht, the Thistle, was discovered to be on fire. Those on board, including a crew of thirteen, all took to the boats, and the yacht burned to the water's edge. Five hundred gallons of gasoline in the hold exploded. After traveling 32 miles in the boats the shipwrecked party were sighted by a southbound steamer, which landed them at Vancouver at noon Sunday. The Thistle was valued at $50,000.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.

Dastardly Attempt to Throw the Erie Express Off the Track.

Buffalo, N.Y., May 28.—An attempt was made to wreck Erie passenger train No. 6 at a point a mile and a half east of Alden. This is the Erie's fast night train from Buffalo to New York, and it had a full load of passengers. A heavy 40 foot rail was placed across the eastbound track and bolstered up by huge stones.

The train was composed of Pullman sleeping cars and heavy day coaches, and could not have been going more than 25 or 35 miles an hour when the headlight showed the rail lying directly across the track. Engineer Wolfe shut off steam and applied the emergency brakes.

The engine pilot was smashed to pieces.

VICTIMS OF VESUVIUS.

One Dead and Several Others Unconscious From Gas.

Naples, May 28.—At Boscotresasse, on the southern declivity of Mount Vesuvius, a fissure suddenly opened Sunday, from which a flow of poisonous gas escaped.

A peasant, who imprudently approached the fissure, was killed, and nine others, who rushed to his rescue and fell asphyxiated, were saved with difficulty.

Eight Inches of Snow.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 28.—All points in the upper peninsula and Northern Ontario report a heavy fall of snow. Up to yesterday afternoon a fall of eight inches had been recorded, with no sign of abating. Shipping is tied up and it is impossible to see any distance. A high northwest wind is blowing from Lake Superior.

Laurier In Paris.

Paris, May 28.—Premier Laurier, received a deputation from the British Chamber of Commerce, and expressed pleasure at the foundation of a Canadian section by the chamber. Laurier will be entertained unofficially by the chamber on his return from Italy in June.

Russian delegates to the socialistic congress in England, urge labor unions to agitate for the refusal to Russia of British capital.

REBELLIONS IN CHINA

Civil and Military Officials at Wongtung Assassinated.

Residences Set on Fire After Murders—Revolutionists Joined by Natives of Other Provinces—Troops Rushing to the Scene—German Mission Station Destroyed—Rioting at Lieuchow—Europeans in Danger.

Swatow, Province of Kwantung, China, May 28.—A rebellion has broken out at Wongtung, in the Uping district of the Chinchu Prefecture. All the civil and military officials at Wongtung have been assassinated and their yamens burned. The local revolutionists, who were joined by natives of the neighboring provinces, concentrated for their attack on the officials without being molested by the populace.

The military commander here has mustered the station guards and started for the scene of the outbreak.

Steps are being taken by the police here to prevent excesses. The Chinese bankers have organized a steam launch patrol of the coast to prevent piratical attacks on the part of the marauders from the seaward.

Admiral Li Going to the Scene.

Canton, China, May 28—Admiral Li, with the Kwantaih and Meefoo, on board which are detachments of troops, is proceeding to the scene of the rising in the Uping district.

German Mission Station Destroyed.

Berlin, May 28.—According to despatches received here from Shanghai and Hong Kong, native rioters have destroyed the German mission station at Lienchow, near Pakhoi. The missionaries escaped. The German gunboat Iltis, reinforced by twenty marines from the gunboat Tsing Tau, has left Hong Kong for Pakhoi, and it is expected that a British gunboat will also be sent to that port.

According to advices received by the German Cable Co. from Shanghai, disturbances have also broken out at Pakhoi, and the situation there, as well as at Lienchow, is apparently serious.

Chinchu, or Tsinenchu, is a maritime district of China, comprising parts of the Provinces of Kwangtung and Fokien on the southeast coast. It is inhabited by a hardy and industrious people, who furnish the majority of the men who form the crews of the Chinese Imperial and commercial navies. Swatow, from which the news of the rebellion comes, is situated in about the centre of the Chinchu district and is a treaty port of China on the Hangkiang River, about five miles from the open sea and 225 miles from Canton.

Inquiries at the foreign missionary departments of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches here yesterday morning elicited the information that they had no Canadian missionaries stationed within hundreds of miles of the district in which the rebellion has broken out.

SCOTTISH CHURCH UNION.

Story of Canadian Financial Support of Holy See Is Denied.

London, May 28.—(C. A. P.)—The general assembly of the Church of Scotland, in view of the many difficulties, has decided to refer the question of the union of Scottish churches to a committee. It complained that Scotland only contributed £3 per parish to mission work in Canada.

Ed. McLaren addressed the United Free Church Assembly.

The statement regarding the provision of new revenue for the Holy See by Canada and the United States is authoritatively denied. It is stated the story is one of many designed to persuade Catholics in the old world that the Holy See does not need their support.

ATTACKED BY A MAD BULL.

Two Men Owe Their Lives to Collie Dog.

Wallaceburg, May 28.—S. L. Mann, liveryman, of this place, was seriously injured yesterday. He was milking some cows on his farm about a mile out of town, when he was attacked by a bull.

He struggled with the infuriated animal until John Hall, from an adjoining farm, arrived on the scene. The bull then turned on Hall, and would likely have killed both men were it not for a collie dog that Mr. Hall brought with him.

Mann is terribly bruised, but may recover, while Hall's injuries are not serious.

Ian MacLaren Buried.

Liverpool, May 28.—An immense crowd attended the funeral yesterday of Dr. John Watson (Ian MacLaren) who died at Mount Pleasant May 3. There was an impressive service at the Sefton Park Presbyterian church, where the embalmed body had rested since its arrival here May 21 from the United States.

The Rev. Alexander Connell, Dr. Sykes, and the Bishop of Liverpool, Dr. Chavasse, participated in the services. The church was crowded with representatives of all denominations and the route to the Smithdown road cemetery was lined with thousands of people, who uncovered their heads as the procession passed.

Mill Hands Go Out.

St. John, N.B., May 28.—All the men of the Miramichi lumber mills struck yesterday when the owners refused to increase their pay to $2 per day.

There were no unions, but the men agreed to stand firm. The mills here were tied up several hours and some owners gave in and the men returned. Others are still out.

Fire Bug Arrested.

Ogdensburg, May 28—Julius Dishaw of Raymondville, was locked up in the St. Lawrence State Insane Asylum yesterday, charged with having poured oil through his house and barns and then setting them on fire several nights ago while his family slept.

Mgr. Sbaretti, the papal ablegate, sails for Canada from Cherbourg, France, on June 5th.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"I wonder who the stranger is," she thought, curiously: "and why I ought not to know him. I should think any one whom Gertie Traverse invites to her fete must be very nice indeed. I do not believe he is such an ogre as Bernard Chesleigh would have him appear.— I will go to the ——"

Her thoughts were brought to a sudden terminus; the sky and earth seemed to clash together with one mighty swirl. Reine felt herself dashing headlong through space—then chaotic darkness reigned.

When Reine opened her eyes she found herself lying upon the green sward; some one was bending over her, laving her face with cooling water. She opened her blue eyes in bewildered surprise, meeting the glance of a young man, a stranger; quite the handsomest young man Reine had ever beheld, standing bareheaded before her.

"You fell from your horse," he said, in answer to her look of bewildered surprise. "I must confess that I was the cause of the accident. I stepped out from among the trees just as your horse turned a bend in the road. You did not see me; you were looking in just the opposite direction. Your horse took umbrage at the sudden apparition, reared, and threw you. I was fortunate enough to catch you in my arms and save you from an ugly fall, but not fortunate enough to prevent you from fainting. But you are not hurt?" he said inquiringly.

"No," answered Reine, blushing; "thanks to you. But oh!" she exclaimed, with a little sharp breath, "you have ruined your hat bringing water from the brook in it for me."

The young man laughed. "What was the loss of a hat to rendering you the slightest of services!" he answered.

Reine blushed more furiously than ever when he told her so. She sprang to her feet.

"I thank you for the service you have rendered me. I suppose my pony has left me to make my way home on foot the best I can," she said.

"I am pleased to inform you that you are agreeably mistaken," laughed her companion. "After throwing you so mercilessly, the beast galloped a little way, then stopped stock still in the road, looking back to see how much mischief he had accomplished. After attending to you, it was an easy matter to capture him. I could scarcely refrain from administering to him a sound thrashing. There he stands among the grass yonder, tethered to a tree looking this way, the very picture of injured innocence."

"Had you not better remain a few moments longer," he added, "until you are fully recovered from the shock?"

"Perhaps it would be best," said Reine, re-seating herself and leaning against the trunk of a chestnut tree, for, in truth, her head did feel slightly dizzy yet; and again her eyes fell upon the ruined white straw hat, with its ruined, dripping band of blue ribbon, and wandered ruefully back to the fair curling head of its debonair owner. A rosy blush suffused her face as she met his glance.

How handsome he looked in his light summer suit! how brown were his eyes! and how white the aristocratic hands that toyed so negligently with the charm on his watch chain.

"I trust you will permit me to introduce myself; I haven't a card about me; one never does have when they're needed. I never thought of meeting any one in the wilds of Southern Virginia. I am Waldemar Waldron, and I have taken up my abode for the present at Waldron Towers—a rakish old pile of ruins to the right of us. If you live in this vicinity you're probably better acquainted with them than I am."

"I do live near here; that is, when I am home from school, which is only about two months out of the year, but I do not know much of Waldron Towers, although I have always had the desire to sketch it."

"Come and sketch, by all means. I, the master of the pile of ruins, give you carte blanche to explore every portion of it, that is, if you are not a timid young lady."

"What is there to fear about the place?" asked Reine, smiling.

His eyes shifted uneasily beneath her glance, and he laughed immoderately as he answered:

"The owls and all the uncanny attaches of a ruined, moss overgrown abode."

"I am not very easily frightened," said Reine.

"Then I presume I may expect you, portfolio in hand, any bright morning?" he asked questioningly and curiously.

"I am not so sure about that," she answered, thanking him all the same for the kind permission. "There was a stern papa at home, who would be likely to decide what she might or might not accept.

"Am I not to know whom I have had the great pleasure of meeting—so romantically—this sunlit morning?" he asked, with a bow that was certainly charming and wholly irresistible.

"I am Reine Hastings," she answered. "I live at Fairlawn Villa; that white stone house with the porches and pillars around it, on the brow of yonder hill."

"Surely you couldn't be the daughter of General Hastings!—the old millionaire," he was about to add, but he checked the last three words on his lips just in time, substituting the words—"of Fairlawn."

A laugh broke from the girl's red lips, the words sounded so ludicrous to her, as he had expressed them.

"Why couldn't I be his daughter?" said Reine, with a saucy twinkle in her eye, adding in the next breath: "That's just who I am—General Hastings' daughter."

Again Waldemar Waldron suppressed the low, incredulous whistle of astonishment that sprang to the lips under the fair moustache.

It was wonderful to see, after that announcement, how his indifference gave place to the most intense interest.

"Was it fate that threw the lovely young daughter of the old millionaire in his path?" he asked himself. "I am surprised," he repeated at length, "living so near Waldron Towers, you should know so little of it."

"It is not so strange when you remember that, although Fairlawn is my home, I spend very little time here. I am doomed to remain at Vassar College ten months out of the year; and it scarcely seems a week from the time papa sends Bernard Chesleigh to fetch me home until I am obliged to go back again."

"Bernard Chesleigh!" repeated the young man, a strange gleam firing up his brown eyes. "He is a friend of your family, then?"

"He is my father's law-partner, although papa is almost twice as old as he is," answered Reine. "He generally spends the summer months with us at Fairlawn."

"I see," returned Waldemar Waldron, turning his brilliant eyes keenly upon the girl's fair young face, "there is an especial attraction for him at your home, I can well understand why it should be so."

Reine did not in the least comprehend the drift of what he meant.

"There is a great attraction for him at Fairlawn," assented Reine, serenely. "We have one of the finest law libraries in Virginia there, and Mr. Chesleigh is a veritable bookworm. Do you know him?" she asked, suddenly. "Almost everybody does."

"I met him once," returned Waldemar Waldron, carelessly, but there was a bitterness in his voice that did not quite escape Reine's wondering ears. "We are hardly acquaintances, however."

Reine had risen to her feet, picking up her gloves and riding-whip again.

"There is one request I should like to ask of you, Mr.—Mr. Waldron," she said timidly, and with another blush.

"Consider it granted beforehand," he replied gallantly.

"And that is," pursued Reine, "that you will not mention how very unkindly my pony has behaved to me to-day, lest it should get to papa's ears, and he should forbid me to go out unattended."

"Consider your wish my law. I shall not mention it," he replied. And the look which accompanied the words made Reine's girlish heart flutter strangely.

How gracefully he assisted her to alight—placing the gold-mounted whip in her little gauntleted hand—expressing the hope very earnestly the while that they would meet again.

They were destined to meet sooner than either of them knew.

Long after the blue waving riding-habit and dancing plume were out of sight, Waldemar Waldron stood motionless where she had left him, leaning against a gnarled chestnut tree.

He knew better than to ever venture to call at Fairlawn—for within these walls dwelt his merciless foe. He turned white to the lips as the grave, stern face of Bernard Chesleigh rose before his mental vision. In the rustling of the leaves about him he could almost fancy that he heard again the seathing rebuke Bernard Chesleigh hurled at him as he pointed with commanding dignity to the door.

He recalled, as he stood there, the answer he had made the young lawyer:

"It is your turn now to triumph over my downfall and disgrace, Chesleigh—but for you I should never have been found out; but the time may come when I can avenge myself. If it ever does—beware!"

"Had that time come now?" Waldemar Waldron asked himself. "Could it be possible that the haughty young lawyer had fallen in love with General Hastings' pretty daughter?" It was not only possible, but very probable. What else could be the attraction at this dull place? Yet it was equally evident that pretty Reine was certainly heart-whole and fancy-free, for all that. He would see for himself how matters stood before he laid any plans for the future. The girl was certainly pretty as a picture—and heiress to a cool million. What a temptation!

Waldron turned on his heel walking slowly down the daisy bordered high road, with a strange smile on his lips—yet the thoughts in his brain were far from pleasant ones.

CHAPTER III.

Reine Hastings was not one to brook a refusal, if she had made up her mind on any subject; and she certainly had set her heart upon going to the lawn fete which was to be held in Waldron grove.

At first the general had sternly refused her, but he was not proof against her pretty, coaxing blandishments, and it ended the way she knew it would.

"Cease teasing me," cried the general. "Yes, you can go; but mind, I put in the proviso, if you can get Chesleigh to take you," he added, unwinding the two soft, white arms that had twined themselves around his neck.

"You are a darling papa," cried Reine, giving him a kiss, and in another moment the triumphant young beauty had sought Bernard Chesleigh in the library; she knew she would find him there, buried deep in the mysterious pages of some law book.

A low, silvery, triumphant laugh, that fell upon the summer air like the chiming of a bell, startled him. Reine was standing before him; her face was flushed with excitement.

"I am to go after all, Mr. Chesleigh," she said, "and if you do not accompany me, I suppose I shall have to set out alone. If you really do not wish to go, I can accompany Gertie Traverse and her escort," she added, tossing back her golden curls impatiently.

Bernard Chesleigh laid down his book.

"What if I should tell you that I have changed my mind—that I so wish to go! I did object slightly at first, but now I yield, and shall be most happy to offer my escort," he said, smilingly and wistfully.

Reine looked at him incredulously with her merry blue eyes.

"I thought when you once made up your mind you never changed it, Mr. Chesleigh; I must confess I am just a little surprised," she said, mischievously.

"Circumstances alter cases," he said, flushing slightly. "I want to show you, Miss Reine, that I do enjoy lawn fetes still."

The girl looked at him wonderingly, scarcely crediting her own senses. What! Grave Mr. Chesleigh like dancing, mirth and frivolity? Oh, impossible! It was quite droll to even imagine such a thing, and again an amused laugh fell from her lips.

Reine flew hurriedly out of the library and up to her own room, to don her hat and mantle.

Bernard Chesleigh watched the airy, graceful figure as she flitted away, with wistful, earnest eyes.

"She shall go," he ruminated. "It would be cruel to deprive her of gayety and pleasure. But no harm shall reach her, for I shall be there to take care of her."

Like the general, against his better judgment, he had given way to Reine's pleadings, and in all his after-life he bitterly reproached himself for it.

AMUSEMENTS

A ROYAL SLAVE

It may be of interest to our readers to know that an actual incident furnished the author of "A Royal Slave" with the initial idea out of which this great play was evolved. The little item of news appeared in the daily papers at that time. It is as follows;

"A wealthy Mexican gentleman, who was known to possess a vast hidden estate, suddenly disappeared, and was finally given up by his family. Several years later a gang of celebrated bandits was surprised and captured in their stronghold, and a poor, insane man rescued. He was taken to a hospital in the city of Mexico, where an operation of trepanning the skull was performed on him, his reason returning. He proved to be the long-lost gentleman who had been captured by the bandits, who, in trying to force him to tell the hiding place of his fortune, had struck him a severe blow on the head which dented the skull and rendered him insane. He had been a captive for years, the bandits hoping that he might remember, in his half-lucid moments, the much coveted secret hiding place, and reveal it."

Knowing this actual incident, it will be all the more interesting to the public to follow the play itself, and to observe how much of this charmingly dramatic story is due also to the splendid imaginative and creative powers of the author.

No play has appeared in this country for years of which the press speaks in such unstinted and unqualified praise. This is one of the surest and best tests of a really great play and "A Royal Slave" is a great play in every sense of the word. This is the attraction at the "Grand" Friday May 31st.

4092.—A USEFUL KIMONO FOR A GIRL.

The young girl appreciates the value of a restful kimono quite as much as older women and here is shown a pretty model for such. The yoke is in deep pointed outline and supports the full skirt portion. The choice of two sleeves is given, the flowing kimono sleeve and bishop sleeve with its trim cuff. The kimono may be in full length or sack length as desired. Tub fabrics are most practical for these negligees though the light weight cloths and silks are much used. The medium size calls for 3 5-8 yards of 44 inch material for the long gown and 1 3-4 for the sack style.

4092.—7 sizes, 4 to 16 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Property Belonging to J. F. Cairns Stocked With Costly Merchandise Completely Destroyed—Loss Forty or Fifty Thousand Dollars With Small Insurance — Spark From C. N. R. Engine Supposed Cause.

Saskatoon, May 28.—The warehouse on First avenue, belonging to J. F. Cairns, and stocked with merchandise of all kinds, to the value of $40,000 to $50,000, was wiped out completely yesterday afternoon, together with its contents. A spark from a C. N. R. engine is accepted as the cause. A big crowd watched the greedy flames eat up the costly fuel that has been piling away since the break of the freight blockade. The building was filled to the limit, and this morning G. E. Mayne, in charge, sent word not to send anything more, as he had no room for it. The building and contents were only partly covered by insurance. At the most the insurance will not be over $15,000, and may not be more than $10,000.

It is estimated at the store that nearly 20 cars of goods were in the burned building. Albert Cudney, teamster for G. W. A. Potter, was in the yard when the flames started, and he declared that if he had had a little assistance he could easily have mastered the fire. The flames spread very rapidly, and were soon beyond control. There were a lot of sparks from the engine, he said, for the grass was set on fire on both sides of the storehouse.

Arnprior Block Destroyed.

Arnprior, May 28.—About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the Tierney Block was partially destroyed by fire which started in B. F. Hoag's grocery store, and spread to P. T. Deganai's tailoring establishment and the C. P. R. telegraph and ticket office.

$100,000 Fire at Rochester.

Rochester, May 28.—Fire, which did at least $100,000 damage, broke out in the top floor of the building occupied by Oaks and Calhoun, at 107 Main street east, yesterday morning. Every fire company in Rochester was called out to fight the flames.

TIGER KILLED GIRL.

Youngster Fatally Mauled By One That Escaped From Circus.

Twin Falls, Idaho, May 28.—The funeral of four-year-old Ruth Rosell, who was killed by a Royal Bengal tiger, which escaped from its cage at the performance of the Sells-Floto circus here Saturday afternoon, will be held to-day. Mrs. Rosell, the mother of the child, who was knocked down and badly shaken by the tiger, is overcome with grief and the shock of her experience.

The tiger charged into the crowd, killing the little girl and a Shetland pony, and mauled several other spectators and ponies before it was shot and killed by a man in the audience. For a few moments there was a panic in the menagerie, and women screamed and fainted. The elephants tugged at their chains and trumpeted wildly, and there was great commotion until the tiger rolled over dead in front of the main entrance.

A MOTHER'S STORY

How Zam-Buk Brought a Blessing to Her Home

Mrs J. J. Wilson, of 53 Wickson Avenue, Toronto, tells mothers of the benefits her home has derived from her habit of keeping a box of Zam-Buk, the great healing balm, always handy. She says: "My little girl, five years old, had an abscess on her knee. The knee was very much swollen and inflamed, and very painful. We put on some Zam-Buk and it quite cured her. I have also used it for cuts and bruises sustained by both my children, and it is wonderful how quickly it gave the little ones relief. Zam-Buk is so pure that a mother need not fear using it even on very young children.

My husband had his eye badly burned with hot lime. The eye was swollen and the agony was terrible. We applied Zam-Buk and the pain was speedily relieved. In three days time the eye was quite cured. We have also found Zam-Buk a fine remedy for piles, and I believe it to be the finest household balm obtainable."

Zam-Buk is purely herbal, and may be used by mothers even for skin of children of very tender years. It cures rashes, tetter, baby's skin troubles, chafing sores, etc. It also cures eczema, itch, pustules, blood poison, scalp sores, sore feet, sore nipples, ulcers, abscesses, chronic wounds, bad leg, running sores, varicose ulcers, etc. For piles it is absolutely unequalled.

All druggists and stores at 50c. a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price; 6 boxes for $2.50. Send 1c. stamp for trial box.

John Irwin Fatally Injured at Peter Hamilton Co's. Works

Was Working on Third Storey When Fire Wall Fell in Carrying Him Through to the Second Floor—Skull Was Badly Fractured and He Died Shortly Afterwards at Nicholls Hospital.

John Irwin was fatally injured at the Peter Hamilton Co.'s works last night about five o'clock. He was working with Mr. Wm. Lang on the floor of the third storey, cleaning out the debris, after Saturday night's fire, when the fire wall between the south half and north half of the building fell in. The two men had worked there all day and were about finished. Without a moment's warning the hundreds of bricks weakened and loosened by the fire, crashed down upon the men, and carried them through the floor to the floor of the second storey. So great was the weight and force of the falling bricks, that the beams on the second floor were cracked.

Irwin was unfortunate enough to be in closer contact with the falling wall and he was so seriously injured that he died an hour and a half afterwards without regaining consciousness. Both men went through the floor and struck the lower floor just at the feet of Mr. Milne Hamilton and several other men who were working there. Irwin was immediately picked up and taken downstairs. Dr. Greer was called and also Comstock's ambulance, which removed him to Nicholls hospital. Everything possible was done, but the injured man's skull was fractured, causing a hemorrhage of the brain, which resulted in death. There were several other scalp wounds, although they were not serious. Later in the evening Coroner Dr. Gray was notified, but when he heard the particulars and learned that it was purely accidental, he decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. Wm. Lang was severely shaken up and bruised somewhat, but except for a slight injury to one of his arms, he escaped remarkably well. He required no medical attendance and was able to go home alone.

The late John Irwin was forty-six years of age. He was born in Smith and was the second son of Mrs Thos Irwin, now residing in Buffalo. The deceased, after having worked for eleven years with the Peter Hamilton Co., left their employ about nine years ago and took up farming near Lakefield, where he remained for a few years and then moved to Cavendish township, where he continued farming. Last September he again came to the city and went to work for the Peter Hamilton Co.

Twenty-four years ago he was married to Mary Irvine, of Port Hope, who with two sons and three daughters are left to mourn his loss. The sons are John J., of Welland and Norman at home. The daughters are Mrs. W. Kennedy, of this city, and Myrtle and Violet at home. His mother and three sisters and two brothers also survive him.

The funeral of the late Mr. Irwin, will take place from the family residence, corner of King and Bethune streets, tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon, May 29th, at 3.30 o'clock and proceed to Little Lake cemetery.

Oldest Resident of County Mrs. James Sage Passed Away

Attained the Advanced Age of 98 Years—Was the Representative of Five Generations—Leaves Large Family, Oldest Son Being 74 Years of Age—A Life Filled With Many Historic Incidents.

Lakefield, May 28.—The oldest resident of Peterborough county passed away yesterday morning, in the person of Mrs. James Sage, at an advanced age. She had been ill about two weeks. The deceased was widely known and highly respected, and would have been 99 years old in September next. She was a great-great-grandmother.

Mr. Thomas Sage, of Huron County, who is 74 years of age, is her eldest son. He is still hale and hearty, and is apparently good for many more years. Mr. Sage has a daughter married and living at Treherne, Man. Her name is Mrs. Thompson, and she has a family of three, one of her daughters being married to a Mr. Lee, and resides in Manitoba also. Mrs. Lee has three children, the eldest being ten years of age. This made five generations, and it is worthy of note that the five generations have existed in this family for ten years.

The late Mrs. Sage, the great, great grandmother, resided in this place with her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Robinson. Her maiden name was Eleanor Adams and she was born in Kingston, in September, 1808. Early in life she was married to Mr. James Sage, and for a brief space after they were married, they resided in Cobourg, but about eighty years ago they settled on lot 22, in the 13th concession of Smith—the homestead of the Sage family. They purchased the land without ever seeing it, the sale taking place at Cobourg, and when they moved to their home in the mighty forest that then enveloped this part of the province, they found that they were ten miles from the nearest settler.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sage was born a family of seven sons and five daughters, and of these six sons and two daughters now survive. Mr. Thos. Sage is the fourth member of the family, there being one son and two daughters older than he, but they have passed away. The sons who still survive are Thomas, of Wroxeter, Huron County; Henry, of Smith township; Wm., of Michigan; George, of Clinton, Huron County, and John, of the Canadian Northwest. The daughters living at present are Mrs. McCulloch, of Seaforth, and Mrs. Robinson, of Lakefield, with whom the venerable great, great grandmother resided. Several other members of the first Sage family are great, great grandparents, so that the five generations existed in more than one branch of the family.

The deceased, who had all her faculties till she died, despite the fact that near a century of years had whitened her hair, was a remarkable old lady. She had a vivid recollection of the pioneer days of Peterborough county and she died perhaps the oldest of the early settlers. All the friends of her girlhood days and of her early married life have passed to their last reward, but the passing of the years found her still alert and active.

When Mr. Sage settled in Smith township, the country was one vast forest. The settlers' axe had not yet left its impression and the wolves and bears were more plentiful than deer in the north country is at the present time. Where the flourishing city of Peterborough now stands, there were then two log shanties, and the sound of a human voice seldom echoed through the primeval forest. A visit from a white man was a rare event in those days. The Indians were there, however, and played an important part in the early history of Peterborough county.

The late Mrs. Sage had several scores of grand-children and great-grand-children, and a family reunion would have been an interesting event. They are scattered throughout Canada and the United States, and have done well in many walks of life.

Chas. Sellers Died This Morning Result of Sunday's Accident

Chas. Sellers, the old man who had his leg taken off by the G.T.R. train on Sunday, died in Nicholls Hospital this morning about five o'clock. His remains will be sent to Eganville on the midnight C.P.R. tonight for burial.

The deceased was a man about 70 years of age, and was very deaf. He was walking on the track from Omemee, and about two miles this side of that village the engine on a freight train struck him. The left leg was severed above the knee. He was taken to Nicholls hospital, where Dr. Brade performed the operation. Sellers came through all right and rested very quietly Sunday night. On Monday he was some better, and those attending began to have hopes of his recovery. But during the night he had a bad spell, and being so very weak from loss of blood and from old age, he was unable to resist it, and about five o'clock he passed away.

To-night at the Grand Opera House Mons. F. X. Mercier one of the world's greatest tenors appears. He is assisted by Mrs. Morrow, piano soloist and accompanist, Miss Levina Halligham, soprano, Mr. John King, basso; and the celebrated violinist, Mr. Jas. Tretheway.

Christian Science Sets up the Claim

That it Cures Larger Percentage of Cases Than Any Other System

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Your issue of the 22nd inst. contains an account of the inquest into the death of Mrs. McBride, of New York, and the verdict of the coroner's jury, in which they condemn Christian Science as being responsible for her death. Will you kindly publish the following statement issued by the Christian Science Committee on Publication for New York State, which was published in the New York Journal of May 16th, and which throws a different light on the circumstances of this case;

A coroner's jury, composed principally of doctors, in the case of Mrs. Corinna McBride, who died of pneumonia, has returned a verdict censuring everybody connected with the case because Mrs. McBride had Christian Science treatment instead of a doctor. This verdict is remarkable because the uncontradicted evidence shows that Mrs. McBride herself refused to have a doctor, although her husband offered to call one.

Why then should her husband be censured? People are free, in this country at least, to select whatever method of treatment for sickness they prefer. The law does not tell a person what kind of treatment he shall have, any more than it tells him to what church he shall belong.

Doctors do not agree among themselves as to the proper method of treating disease, and practically all the better class of doctors at present unite in saying that there are many diseases that cannot be cured or even benefitted by drugs.

In cases of pneumonia it is generally conceded that drugs are positively injurious. Dr. William Osler, now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford University, and commonly recognized as one of the highest authorities in the medical profession, says in his "Textbook of the Theory and Practice of Medicine";

"Pneumonia is a self-limited disease which can neither be aborted nor cut short by any known means at our command. There is not specific treatment for pneumonia. The young practitioner may bear in mind that patients are more often damaged than helped by the promiscuous drugging which is still only too prevalent."

Why should Mr. McBride be censured then for not calling a doctor when doctors themselves admit that the administration of drugs could not possibly have helped his wife, and would most certainly have proved injurious.

There are many different schools of medicine that are antagonistic to one another, and if any of them could guarantee cures there would be no need to pass laws to compel the people to employ doctors of that school. Neither would it be necessary to resort to coroners' inquests or other devices to intimidate people from employing some other school.

Since no school of medicine is able to cure all cases, the public is interested to find out the best system and the one able to produce cures in the largest percentage of cases. Christian Science does not claim at this time to cure every case, but it does claim to cure a larger percentage of cases than any other known curative system.

The public cannot fail to be interested in the results of Christian Science practice in the State of New York. There are not less than 30,000 people in the State who rely wholly upon Christian Science treatment for sickness. It is probable that the number exceeds this figure. Since the first of January, 1907, there have been less than ten deaths in the entire State under Christian Science treatment. Whenever one occurs it always gets into the papers and there is usually a coroner's inquest. The average annual death rate in the State of New York for the year 1906 was over 8 per thousand inhabitants while among the Christian Science population the death rate thus far this year, has been an average of 1 in each 3,000.

During the year from September 1905, to September 1906, there were thirty-four deaths in the State of New York under Christian Science treatment. Almost one-third of this number were cases that turned to Christian Science in the last extremity, after the patients had been given up to die by the doctors. It will therefore be seen that the average death rate for the year, among the Christian Science population, even including those who were not Christian Scientists, and who only turned to it after the doctors had given them up was only 1.04 per 1,000, as against the average death rate of over 8 per thousand inhabitants, for the entire State.

These figures are most portentious, and in them can be found the reason why Christian Scientists and many others, who have not yet identified themselves with the Christian Science Church, have more faith in Christian Science than they have in any other system.

It is not true that there is any conspiracy between Christian Science practitioners and doctors whereby Christian Scientists turn over their patients, in extreme cases, to the doctors. It is true in Christian Science the same as it is with the doctors, that the patient has the right to change the method of treatment whenever he pleases. If, at any stage of the case, the patient wishes to give up Christian Science treatment and call a doctor, such wish is always respected and the doctor is in every such case called immediately. Christian Science practitioners are exceedingly scrupulous in this matter.

The wishes of patients and their friends are always respected in this regard. There is, therefore, no need for any such connivance as has been suggested, between Christian Science practitioners and doctors, and such a thing is absurd.

Every person in the State of New York desires to employ the system of treatment for sickness which he believes is most certain to bring good results, and the merits of a particular system must be determined by the results rather than by what prejudiced critics may say about it.

Christian Scientists are of at least average intelligence and when one of them gets sick he wants to get well as much as anyone else, and when he employs a Christian Science practitioner, he is doing the thing, which, in his honest, deliberate judgment, will make him well quicker than anything else.

Thanking you for your courtesy in giving space to this reply,

I am,
Yours respectfully,
O. R. MUNRO,

Peterborough Lady is Nominated

For Toronto World's Free Trip to London and Paris

Miss Birdie Thompson of R. T. Soden's bookstore, has been chosen as the candidate for popular ballot in the Toronto World's free trip to London and Paris.

Miss Thompsons' well-known popularity with the Peterborough public will without doubt secure her a successful vote to be one of the famous party of Ontario ladies to visit England and the continent, in August.

Peterborough is considered one of the "sure constituencies," for the four ladies to be elected outside of Toronto and Hamilton.

The balloting will close on July 23rd, and as Peterborough will not have the vote divided, the desired majority is inevitable.

River and Lake Were Very Rough

Not for many years were the waters of Little Lake and the Otonabee River in such a state of commotion as yesterday afternoon. The strong gale from the south west, seemed to strike the river and lake squarely and the waters were very rough. Mr. H. B. Rye, who owns the boat house at the end of the street car line says that he never saw the river any rougher. Several boats moored at the wharf, nearly broke away, some of the ropes holding them breaking as if they were cord. Several venturesome ones tried to go out in gasoline launches but had to beat a hasty retreat, as the waves were splashing high in the air.

Lift Lock Was Opened To-day

The Tug Bob Hall Was First Boat to Pass Over

The Peterborough Hydraulic Lift Lock which has been put in good shape for the season's operation, was opened this afternoon. The first boat to pass over, was the new Government tug, the Bob Hall, which will proceed on its way up to Gamebridge, where it will be used in towing supplies, etc., in that section of the canal.

RECOVERED HIS WHEEL

Mr. Ed. LeBar, an employee of Wm Lech & Sons, had his wheel taken from the front of the store between nine and ten o'clock on Saturday night. Mr. LeBar recovered his missing property on Sunday in Gohern's lane, at the south end of the city. Some one had evidently taken the bicycle, had a ride and then left it in the lane.

TAKING THEIR DIPS

The swimming contingent have commenced taking their daily dips at the Yacht Club. A young banker says the water is so cold that it is like diving in a snow bank. It makes one feel like getting out again much faster than the swimmer got in. As the days get warmer, the number of swimmers will increase.— Kingston News.

BUY LUCKY BOYS

REMEMBER we sold 2,500,000 shares of Blue Bell in 25 days at 10 cents per share. We have 1,000,000 shares of Lucky Boys at 6 cents per share. It won't last long.

LARDER LAKE.
6 CENTS PER SHARE.

This will probably be the last opportunity to purchase Larder Lake shares of inside properties at such a low price.

We recently made a most successful flotation of the wonderful Blue Bell Gold Mines, Limited. We offered to investors half of the capital stock, amounting to 2,500,000 shares, at 10 cents per share. We stated to our clients and investors in general that the shares of Blue Bell were a great purchase, and that the amount offered would be fully subscribed. Our predictions in this respect were fulfilled—the full amount of shares offered have been subscribed for. We have had to return money and turn back many applications. Some of our clients and many investors were very much disappointed at not being able to obtain these shares.

We now offer what we believe to be an investment equally as inviting and one that also is as good an investment and which we believe will prove equally as profitable. The LUCKY BOYS shares at 6 cents per share will come within the reach of many more investors on account of the price and also on account of not so large an amount of money being required to be invested therein in order to obtain some of the shares. We will say with every confidence that the One Million shares of Lucky Boys which we now offer will be largely over-subscribed.

We want to serve every investor the same and advise all who want to make a safe, profitable investment, and one that will make you many times the amount that you invest, to PLACE YOUR RESERVATIONS AT ONCE. We will file all reservations in the order received, whether received by mail, telephone or telegraph, and will hold all such reservations for a sufficient length of time to enable the remittance for same to reach us.

The Lucky Boys claims were staked last summer and were well selected. Gold-bearing quartz is found upon each and every claim. Some of the claims adjoin the famous Reddick claims; others adjoin the well-known Proprietary Gold Fields Company, and others adjoin the wonderful Blue Bell properties. We can advise investors truthfully that there are no better claims in the Larder Lake gold fields than those of the Lucky Boys. We do not believe it is necessary for us to go into as much detail regarding Larder Lake, its possibilities and resources, as we have heretofore done in our advertisements pertaining thereto. All Canada must have heard of Larder Lake—the new Eldorado of northern Ontario—and of its wonderful gold deposits.

Our own expert miners and mining engineers who are now in the field are sending out reports to us almost daily of the great gold finds that are being made and of the wonderful extent of the gold veins and their remarkable widths. Mining men of experience and mining engineers of reputation and standing declare that there is nothing in the world that has ever been known to excel what is found there in the great lodes that lie open and are exposed to the surface, many feet in width and extending for miles.

The gold which is found at Larder Lake is most marvellously and equally distributed throughout the quartz. Of course it is only guess work at this time for anyone to say what quantity of gold will be taken out within the next year or two, but it is safe, from present indications, to count upon many millions. Cobalt is a wonder and has made a number of millionaires in the past three or four years, but the number of millionaires that will be made in Larder Lake gold district within the next year will be many times that which Cobalt has produced. There are many men to-day who have not more than several hundred dollars, or perhaps less, who will possess within the next year as many hundred thousands as they have hundreds of dollars to-day. The production of gold last year exceeded FOUR HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS. Somebody got this money. Most of it went to the people in ordinary circumstances. By investors placing their money in Larder Lake NOW, they will reap great profits. Many millions will be returned to those who have the courage and the judgment to invest their money now in Larder Lake. The secret of profitable investment in mining is the careful selection of a brokerage house which will first go to the pains and expense of finding out for an absolute certainty if the proposition they offer is reliable and has merit, and LAW & COMPANY HAVE DONE THIS and our facilities are such as to keep in close touch and know the actual conditions surrounding the properties which we advertise and recommend. We do not claim to have the only gold property in the Larder Lake district, or the only one that has merit. We do not claim that we are the only brokerage firm that is honest and reliable. We do not caution you not to buy other shares or of other brokers. We are not trying to build up our own reputation upon the ruination of others, but by upright, straight-forward business methods.

WE DO CLAIM, however, that we are sincere in what we offer—that we are honest and reliable, and that we have used every method and have obtained reliable information from the Larder Lake district as to its being a substantial gold field. We are satisfied that the Lucky Boys property is a good, safe investment, and one that will prove highly profitable. We know that the gold is on the Lucky Boys property, and we know that it is a very easy and a very simple matter to extract the same—that it is free milling ore, and that all that will be required is to place the machinery upon the properties, and we believe the results therefrom will pay millions of dollars in dividends to stockholders.

6 CENTS PER SHARE

Remember that we have but ONE MILLION shares of the Lucky Boys to offer at 6 cents per share. This is not half the number we offered in Blue Bell, and does not represent a total investment of one-fourth the amount to bring about an over-subscription.

We therefore urge IMMEDIATE ACTION by all those that failed to be in time to secure Blue Bell, and we further advise that investors should have no hesitation whatever; that Lucky Boys is absolutely as good an investment in every way as any Larder Lake mining company, regardless of price, location or results obtained.

The Directors, Officers and Management of the Lucky Boys are among the most successful mining men in Northern Ontario—men whose standing and reputation are beyond reproach—and every investor may feel assured that their interests will be looked after by these gentlemen properly and in a thorough and businesslike manner.

The entire country is waking up to the wonderful opportunities offered in the Larder Lake gold district. The opportunities offered now to make safe and enormously profitable investments will have passed within a very short time. Men representing millions are in the field looking over properties and purchasing. The opportunity offered now of buying Lucky Boys at six cents per share will undoubtedly be the last chance that investors will have of getting in on the very rock bottom, in the very heart of the wonderful Larder Lake district. It should be remembered that these properties are just as valuable and have just as good showing and with as much gold in sight, and are in every other way as good as the properties of other companies whose shares are selling to-day at $1.00 and $1.50 per share. We sincerely believe, and have every reason to make the assertion that Lucky Boys, which can be purchased to-day at six cents, will in a very short time be selling at $1.00 or more.

Peterborough's Garbage System Ready to be Passed by Council

Committee of the Whole Discussed Each Clause Separately—Public Asked to Express an Opinion on it—Will be Put Through Next Monday Night.

For about three hours last night the committee of the whole council wrestled with the garbage bylaw, over which the property committee had spent so much time in gathering information and getting it into the shape of a bylaw. There were eighteen clauses and each was taken up and discussed separately. A few amendments were made and one clause was struck out. The committee then decided to have the bylaw appear in the local papers so that the citizens would have an opportunity to discuss it before it is passed next Monday night.

The bylaw is as follows;

A bylaw to provide for establishing, maintaining and regulating a system for the collection and disposal of ashes, refuse and garbage.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, hereby enacts as follows;

1. Upon approval by resolution of the Council the mayor and clerk are hereby authorized to enter into a contract under the seal of the corporation, for the collection, removal and disposal of ashes, garbage, crockery, tins and metals, grass, weeds, branches of trees, boots and shoes, waste paper, and all kinds of refuse, except manure, night soil and building material.

2. The person firm or corporation with whom such contract is entered into—hereinafter called the contractor—shall remove all such ashes, garbage and refuse, at the time and in the manner herein provided for and shall dispose of the same at such places as may be designated in the contract or at such places as may be designated by the Sanitary Inspector.

3. The contractor shall furnish the number of waggons, horses and men specified in the contract and keep the same constantly employed in the work and shall carry out all the work under the direction of the Sanitary Inspector. In case the number of men, horses or waggons furnished by the contractor under the terms of the contract, is found by the Sanitary Inspector to be insufficient for the work, the corporation shall furnish such additional assistance as may be found necessary.

4. Collections shall be made from all premises within the city limits according to the following schedule;

a.—From all factories, hotels, hospitals and fruit stores, three times each week.

b.—From all stores and shops within the fire limits, twice each week.

c.—From all residences, rooms, offices stores and other premises not otherwise provided for, once each week.

d.—From all residences in outlying districts, as hereinafter defined, once each fortnight.

5. Outlying districts shall include the following portions of the city;

a.—All east of Concession street.

b.—All north of Smith street and east of the river.

c.—All south of Romaine street.

d.—All north of Smith street and north and west of the Lakefield branch of the Grand Trunk Railway.

6. Every owner, lessee or occupant of premises herein referred to shall provide boxes or barrels of convenient dimensions and shall place therein from day to day, all ashes, garbage and refuse, and shall keep the same conveniently placed for collection, but not upon the public highway.

7. In case the occupant of any premises has neglected to place the boxes or barrels which he is required to provide for the ashes, garbage and refuse, in a proper place on the day appointed, the contractor or his employees shall call at such house while on their route and shall warn the occupants, and if the neglect is repeated, the contractor shall report the same to the inspector.

8. The waggons or carts to be supplied by the contractor, shall be single horse dump carts, constructed in such a manner as to be secure against leakage and securely covered, and to be of at least, sufficient size, to contain a cubic yard. All horses used in the work shall be strong and in good condition.

SOME CHANGES IN THE MINISTRY

What Port Hope Paper Says of Charlotte Street Church

The Port Hope Methodist Church has extended a call to Rev. J. J. Rae of Picton, formerly pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist Church Peterborough, to become pastor of the Port Hope congregation in June 1908.

Mr. Rae will succeed Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, who has accepted an invitation to become pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist Church, Peterborough, in June, 1908. Speaking of the latter church, the Port Hope Guide says,—

"The Charlotte Street Methodist Church, of which Mr. Henderson will have charge is located in a part of city, into which a large number of new families are coming, and as a consequence, the congregation is growing rapidly. During the past year, according to the report of the pastor, submitted at the closing meeting of the Quarterly Board, the membership increased by 33, and the total membership now stands at 441. There are a great many young persons connected with this church, and they take an active interest in the work of the church, the Epworth League and Young Men's Guild being especially active and have large memberships. From a financial standpoint the church is in a healthy condition, the givings during the last year having been the largest in the history of the church. During the pastorate of Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, the debt on the building was gradually reduced until the congregation had the proud satisfaction of seeing the mortgage burned a short time before his departure, and though, since that time an addition has been built to the Sunday school, at a cost of several thousand dollars, it is practically all provided for. The growth of the congregation during the last few years is so great, that at the last meeting of the Quarterly Board, the question of the erection of a new church was discussed, and a committee was appointed to collect data and have plans for the new building prepared. The congregation is, with one exception, the most wealthy in the city, and the prospects for the future progress and prosperity of the church, are considered excellent."

Sunday School Workers in Session

Annual Meeting Held—Officers Elected—Rev. Mr. Merrill's Address

The annual meeting of the City Sunday School Teachers' Association was held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

A large number attended. The chair was occupied by Mr. Richard Lees, president of the Association. After the singing of a hymn and prayer by Rev. J. R. Webb, the business of the evening was proceeded with. Revs. J. G. Lewis, and A. H. Brace, and Sheriff Hall were appointed a nominating committee. They then retired to make their nominations. While the committee were out, Mr. Richard Lees addressed the audience. In his opening remarks he referred to the work of the association, during the past year. There had been two or three matters arise which he wished to speak about. Here in this city, he said, the teachers do not take enough interest in the Provincial Sunday school convention. There should have been at least thirty representatives at the convention at Kingston last fall, instead of three or four. Money would have been well spent if they had given it to send delegates to it. Next year the convention would be held at Brampton, and it is to be hoped more will attend. During the winter teachers had taken up the study of a book on teachers' instruction. At the first meeting there was a large attendance, but it gradually got smaller as the season progressed and the interest was not kept up.

The nominating committee then came in and reported the following officers as their selection for the coming year,—

President—Mr. R. Lees.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. T. G. Gillespie
2nd Vice-Pres.—Dr. Morrison.
Secretary,—Mr. M. W. Matchett.
Treasurer.—Mr. A. J. Johnston.
Executive — Superintendents and Pastors of the different churches.

Mr. Lees referred to the forward movement of the Ontario Association $4,000 was needed for the work and donations would be gratefully received by the treasurer, Mr. A. J. Johnston.

Rev. B. W. Merrell, superintendent of Baptist Sunday schools, gave an eloquent address, followed by a conference on Sunday school work in which those present asked questions and discussed different Sunday school topics. He was glad to see so many Sunday school workers. The speaker was once asked why Sunday schools were not called Bible schools. Sunday school was the name used most at the present time, but he was going to give a few reasons why he preferred the name of Bible schools. The name characterizes the kind of school. In some places the Sunday schools were abandoned and more attention paid to the preaching services. Very often congregations calling a pastor do not care whether he is a Sunday school worker or not, as long as he is a good preacher. This was a great mistake. The Sunday school is the hope of the church, and ought to receive first attention.

A Bible school requires qualified teachers and approved methods. Talking is not teaching, said the speaker. A teacher might talk a lot but never teach anything. Teaching is causing another to know. There must be a mental reaction on the part of the scholar as to the thing being taught. The Bible school is the institution of the church. It is the school studying the Bible with a definite end in view. It is a place for character building. Until man and women are conformed to the life of Christ, there is still a place for them in the Sunday school. Every member of every family ought to be enrolled in the school. There is no bigger work in this world than Sunday school work." It is the moulding of the lives of the future men of the church.

An interesting time was next spent in a Sunday School conference and much instruction and information gained by those present on the different Sunday school questions.

AN EXCURSION DOWN THE RIVER

Will be Held by St. Luke's Guild —Moonlight Trip

The Young Men's Guild of St. Luke's church met last evening and discussed several things of importance to the Guild. A large number attended and the president, Mr. H. Potter was in the chair. Some time ago, the Guild proposed having a moonlight excursion down the Otonabee. They have the privilege of having the new steamer "Otonabee"

Last night it was unanimously decided to hold the excursion about the middle of June. No doubt a moonlight trip on the new steamer would be a very enjoyable event, and would be largely patronized.

THE GARBAGE BY-LAW

It is gratifying to learn that the city council is now taking up the garbage or scavenging bylaw, and that there is an excellent prospect of the measure being adopted.

In Brantford, after which the Peterborough system is being modelled the scheme has worked most satisfactorily and, whereas only one district in the Telephone City was at first served, the entire population has demanded its general adoption.

A good scavenging system is almost as necessary as a good drainage system. There is scarcely a citizen who will not appreciate the advantages of having a regular collection of garbage, and who will not be willing to pay the small tax imposed for the convenience of such a service. It is one of the best methods possible to preserve the cleanliness and general health of the community and add to the pleasure and comfort of living.

There is nothing that tends to make any centre attractive, more than sweet, wholesome surroundings, and, under the terms of the bylaw, which are now being considered, there will be provision made for the collection, removal and disposal of all ashes, garbage, crockery, tins, metal, weeds, boots and shoes, waste paper, and all kinds of refuse, except manure, night soil, and building material.

The provisions of this excellent measure are published in another column of today's Review and should be carefully studied.

Public criticism has been invited on the conditions set forth therein, and if there are any objections on the part of residents, now is the time to raise them, and not next week, when it will be too late, as the bylaw will come up for consideration at the council meeting on Monday night.

There will be a thrice a week collection from all factories, hotels, hospitals and fruit stores; twice a week from all shops and stores, in the fire limits; and from all residences, offices, etc., once a week, except in the outlying districts, which are defined in the bylaw, and from these the collection will be made once a fortnight.

Each occupant will be informed of the day and hour at which the waggon will regularly call, and occupants will know exactly at what time their premises will be visited.

For each hotel, fruit store, factory and hospital, the cost will be 45 cents per month to the owners, and the collection will be three times a week throughout the entire year; for each store and shop within the fire limits the cost will be 30 cents per month and the collection will be twice a week.

For each dwelling in the central part of the city, where there will be a weekly collection, the outlay will be 15 cents per month, or $1.80 a year. This sum is certainly not excessive, considering the benefits and convenience of such a service.

The residence charge in outlying districts, where the garbage waggon will call once a fortnight is 10 cents per month. There are some exceptions to the former schedule, as defined in the bylaw. On the whole the measure appears to have been well thought out. It would seem to meet every instance that may arise in a satisfactory manner.

The sanitary inspector will be responsible for the proper carrying out of the system.

The tax will be collected the same as local improvement rates. There will be a special tax placed on each ratepayer's slip, the expense to be met under the same conditions as other levies.

It is hoped that the bylaw will be duly passed and the garbage system instituted as soon as possible. The service is urgently needed and cannot be carried into effect too speedily to meet the sanitary requirements, good health and cleanliness of the city.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

PEN POINTS.

Are you reading the Review's new story, "A Forbidden Marriage."

The straw hats that appeared on the city streets last week have been speedily called in.

On the cover of the new issue of school books there will be a Union Jack. The idea is a good one.

The Examiner has not yet made any specific charge against Mr Jas. Kendry, who, it alleged some time ago, had used his position as a license commissioner to advance his political interests. The up-town exponent of Gritism is a great bluffer and mud slinger.

Hon. G. P. Graham, Opposition leader, says the people are becoming more independent in their views. Can it be possible that some of Mr. Graham's followers have been laying the law down to him already as to what he should do?

Put this down in your diary—snow fell in Peterborough on Monday night May 27th. In the years to come you can tell your children and grand children about the cold, cold weather, frost and snow storms, in the usually "merry month of May," in the year 1907.

The school book monopoly, which flourished under the Ross regime is now a thing of the past. The parents who have long helped to make publishers rich, will be glad to learn that, under the terms of the new contract, a full set of readers may be obtained for 49 cents, whereas the former cost was $1.15. This is a reduction of 66 cents and the books will be better bound and printed than the former ones. If only one reader is purchased by every pupil in each form, there will be a cash saving to the parents of the province of $60,000 a year. This will be welcome news to the people of Ontario for which they can thank the Whitney government.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by Catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Committee of Whole Council Took up Matters of Importance

Bell Telephone Wires to go Underground—Street Railway's Application to Put a Switch to Connect With C.P.R.—Gates at C.P.R. Crossing on Aylmer Street.

The Committee of the Whole Council took up several matters of more or less importance and put them through in good order last night. Among other things was a motion to ascertain whether or not, the Bell Telephone Company desired to put their wires underground, as was intended last year.

Those present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Phelan, Tovey, Morrow, Bradburn, Stevenson, Johnston, Morgan, Wilson, McIntyre, Elliott, Duncan and Leary.

Moved by Ald. W. G. Morrow, seconded by Ald. W. H. Bradburn, that the Bell Telephone Co. be notified that it is the intention of the council to lay a permanent pavement on George street, and that the council wish to know whether they desire to proceed with the application of last year to place their wires underground before such work is undertaken.—Carried.

STREET RAILWAY SIDING.

The Committee of the Whole took up the application of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company to put a siding on George street, to connect with the siding back of the Central Milling Company. It is the intention of the Street Railway Company to go into the freight business but to what extent, it is not known.

Ald. Bradburn said that he heard it was proposed to extend to Lakefield and to handle the freight for that village from the C.P.R. If that was the real intention he would be in favor of it. But if it was for the purpose of getting a siding into Kinnear's, another into McDonald's mills and another down Simcoe street to the Gas House he would oppose it.

The Mayor read over the different clauses in the company's franchise, which referred to the company doing a freight business. They all contemplated a freight business being done, but there were several fine legal points which would require much discussion.

Moved by Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Leary that the matter be referred to the City Solicitor for his opinion. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. Wilson that the C.P.R. be asked to place gates where the road crosses Aylmer street. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Wilson that the City Solicitor be instructed to write the Railway Commission, and secure an order for the crossing of George street over the G.T.R. Railway. Carried.

Mr Fred Darcy appeared before the committee and again asked for the privilege of renting the ground floor of the old fire hall for an automobile wareroom. The committee will take the matter up next week.

The Board of Health will be requested to attend the Council meeting next Monday night and place before the board their arguments, as to why the city should build an isolation hospital.

Brakeman Showed Great Pluck Though Injured

Ability to stand physical pain of an unusual degree of severity, was shown on Thursday night of last week by Harry O'Neil, a C.P.R. brakeman on the Toronto-Ottawa line. O'Neill was making the run Thursday night on the train which passes through Peterborough going east and when some distance west of this city, met with a painful accident. One of the lamps in the first class car had gone out of order and in endeavoring to repair it O'Neill's right hand came in contact with some broken glass and the thumb was almost severed at the first joint. There did not happen to be a doctor on the train so the injury was bound up with a handkerchief, and after a time the bleeding which had been quite profuse, stopped. The young man continued to perform his duties until Ottawa was reached. As soon as the train arrived at the Capital O'Neill went to a doctor and had the injury looked after.

The plucky young brakeman travelled over 200 miles from the time he was injured until the almost severed thumb was attended to.

The cut pained him considerably, but he continued to perform his duties.

Oranges and Lemons Slightly Higher in Price

Mr. Tom Minicolo returned from Montreal this morning, having spent the past two weeks in that city attending the large fruit sales. He purchased two carloads of oranges and lemons, and one of them has already arrived here. The other car will be shipped shortly and the fruit will be kept in cold storage during the summer.

The fruit sales were delayed about a week by the strike of the longshoremen. The ships that arrived in port loaded with oranges, lemons and other tropical fruit had to remain several days before being unloaded as there was no one to do the work. The men are now back at work, however, and no further trouble in this line is expected for some time. Mr. Minicolo would only have had to remain in Montreal for one week, if the fruit sales had not been delayed.

Oranges and lemons cost the wholesale men considerably more money this year than last season, and as a result the retail price of the two lines of fruit will be slightly higher than last year. However, Mr. Minicolo secured the two carloads he purchased at reasonable prices, and the quality of the fruit is said to be above the average.

"BLOWN FROM THE GUNS"

First Shipment of "Quaker Wheat Berries" the New Food Placed in the Market by the Quaker Oats Co.—How the Nutritious Product is Manufactured.

"Blown from the guns" was the penalty inflicted on the rebels who took part in the fearful massacres of the Indian Mutiny. But here we have the phrase in connection with a manufacturing industry, and the making of a product to furnish the breakfast tables of the nation.

The Quaker Oats Company, in addition to their manufacture of flour, Quaker Oats, Corn Meal feeds had recently added that of Puffed Rice. It proved a popular innovation, and one that was ad is appreciated. A further development along the same line resulted in placing on the market "Quaker Wheat Berries," a light, wholesome and delicious food, one thoroughly cooked, delicately and nicely prepared, and retaining a nutty flavor that will make it a favorite. The advertising to introduce the new food is being liberally put out, and the first shipment was made yesterday.

The making of the "Wheat Berries" is an interesting process. It is made from selected grain, only the best being made use of. After being thoroughly screened, cleaned out, and the bran removed, the kernels of wheat are poured into the "Gun," of which there is a battery of ten standing ready. The gun is a cast iron cylinder, about five feet long by ten inches in diameter. It is massive and strong, for it has to stand immense pressure and intense heat. It is closed up absolutely tight, under a very severe pressure and run into a section of the oven, where it is caught by a holder that revolves, and turned over and over, while the heat from burning jets of gas play on the cylinder, raising the temperature on the cylinder to about 400 degrees. As air is excluded the contents do not burn.

After being subject to the heat for fully half an hour, a jet of steam at about 200 pounds pressure to the square inch is forced into the cylinder, saturating the wheat and raising the pressure to a very high point. The gun is then withdrawn from the oven, pushed into a holder, an opening in which gives access to a chamber, lined with wire netting and steel screens. When the gun is opened—"fired" the men call it—the contents of the cylinder are driven, by the enormous pressure out into the air of the chamber and fall to the floor, each grain swelled or puffed to thrice its normal size. The report accompanying the discharge of the gun is something startling, and forms a very respectable cannonade. The process is continuous, the battery being loaded and fired in succession. The samples of the new food placed on the market found quick favor, and the plant will be run at high pressure to supply the demand. While the standard and old reliable "Quaker Oats" is always and ever a favorite, the new food will catch the attention of those who look for something new, and certainly they have it.

One detail of the manufacture is its absolute cleanliness. The product, from the time the wheat leaves the elevator until it is packed in the cases as a finished product, is never touched by human hand. It is handled, carried, cleaned, made and packed by machinery, each detail being watched with the utmost care and attention.

The new food will be on the local market in a few days, when our people can have the opportunity of sampling it, and the general verdict will be one of hearty approval.

IS FILLING IN MASON'S CREEK

Mr. Jas. Bogue Sprung a Surprise on the City Officials

It was a big surprise to the city officials to learn this morning that Mr. Jas. Bogue was filling in the creek that is running through his property. This drain or creek is known as Mason's creek and has passed through Mr. Bogue's property for a great many years. Originally it cut right across his lot, but some three years ago an arrangement was made whereby the creek was straightened out and runs alongside the Grand Trunk right-of-way and connects with the Aylmer street drain at the corner.

The Mason Creek is one for which the people voted money to divert. But it has not yet been decided whether this diversion will be carried on this year. In any event the drain passing through Mr. Bogue's property could not be done away with entirely.

GOSELIN VS LAPLANTE

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—In your issue last night you had an account of the trial of I. Goselin vs. Cicero LaPlante, heard at the police court that morning, in which LaPlante was charged with assaulting me. In giving his judgment Magistrate Dumble made use of the statements that I should have more sense than LaPlante, because I am older. I wish to take exception to His Worship's remarks. I do not think he has a right to make remarks of that nature. The amount of sense I have was not the question he was asked to decide. If he does his duty that is all the people will expect from him, and his duty is certainly not to reflect upon the plaintiff's character. I think I have as much sense as the plaintiff, and as much as the majority of people, too.

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper,

Yours truly,

GOSELIN.

Non-Jury Sittings of the High Court Open To-morrow

Several Complicated Cases That Chancellor Boyd Will Have to Untangle--Hill Versus Gow Action Again to the Fore.

The non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice for the County of Peterborough, open tomorrow at one o'clock at the Court House. His Lordship Chancellor Boyd will preside. The docket is an unusually heavy one, and considerable time will likely be required to dispose of the various cases. The Hill-Gow case, an aftermath of the Dummer tragedy, and which has been before the public for some time, is again on the docket, as Hill is taking proceedings to set aside the conveyance of some land by Chas. Gow to John F. Gow, it being alleged that the land was conveyed to John F. Gow, in order that Hill could not realize a judgment he had obtained against Chas. Gow.

Below will be found a brief summary of the different cases.—

HILL VS. GOW.

In this case the plaintiff is Robert D. Hill and the defendants, Charles and John F. Gow, and also Charles Gow, Christopher John Darling, and Wm. John Moore, executors of the last will and testament of John F. Gow.

The plaintiff states that on or about the eighth day of April, 1906, he recovered a judgment against the defendant, Charles Gow, in the High Court of Justice, for the sum $653.52 damages and costs, and on the same day a writ of execution against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the defendant was issued, upon the said judgment, and placed in the hands of the Sheriff of Peterborough County for execution. The said writ of fieri facias has ever since been in the hands of the sheriff for execution. At this time the defendant resided in Dummer township. The action was entered for trial at a sitting of the High Court held in Peterborough in April 1906, when a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff, with a stay of proceedings for 30 days.

The plaintiff claims that at the time the action was entered, the defendant was the owner of the east half of lot No. 13, in the 4th concession of Dummer. The plaintiff charges the defendant with having for the alleged and pretended consideration of $1,500, executed a deed whereby he purported to convey the lands above referred to to John F. Gow. The deed was dated April 14, 1906. The lot in question is valued at $2,500 or thereabouts. The plaintiff claims that by this fraudulent conveyance he is unable to realize the judgment he obtained, and as a result is being defeated and delayed, and defrauded in collecting his claim against the defendant.

John F. Gow died July 21st, 1906, having first made his last will and testament, having first made his last will and testament, whereof he appointed the said defendants, Christopher John Darling, and Wm. John Moore, executors. The plaintiff charges that the above conveyance was fraudulent and void and should be set aside.

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE.

The defendants, Christopher John Darling and Wm. John Moore, admit the judgment of plaintiff against Charles Gow, and also admit the conveyance by Charles Gow, to the late John F. Gow, but claim that they had no knowledge of any facts that would tend to throw any doubt on teh validity of the said conveyance.

R. E. Wood, solicitor for plaintiff, and Roger, Bennett & Goodwill, for the defendants.

CANADIAN CORDAGE CO. VS. C. A. CORE.

This action arises out of the sale of a 1,600 foot 3 1-2 inch cable by the plaintiffs to the defendant, who is an oil driller in Ontario. The amount for the cable is $466.55. The defendant has refused to pay this amount or any part thereof, although repeatedly requested to do so. The plaintiffs claim the above sum and the costs of the action.

The defendant states that the cable was defective and did not fulfil the conditions given when it was purchased. Hall, Medd and Davidson are the solicitors for the plaintiffs, and A. T. Bowles, Leamington, for the defendant.

ONTARIO BANK VS. McDONALD.

In this case the defendant is a hotelkeeper, residing in the village of Hanmer, Nipissing District, and it is alleged that he was indebted to Alexander Elliott of Peterborough, to the extent of $308.08 for liquors purchased from Mr. Elliott. On Feb. 13th, 1907, Alex. Elliott assigned to the plaintiffs the sum of $305.08, and the plaintiffs claim this amount from the defendants.

The defendant claims that any indebtedness to Alex. Elliott was settled by the giving of notes, one of which for $113.83 was paid in March 1907, the second will be paid as soon as presented for payment, and the third will be paid, as soon as it matures. The defendant asks that the action be dismissed with costs. Hall & Hayes, solicitors for plaintiff, Clarry & Buchanan, Sudbury, for the defendant.

PETEROBOUGH HYDRAULIC POWER CO. VS. C. R. AND JANE B. McALLISTER.

The plaintiffs claim that in September, 1902, an indenture of lease was executed with the defendants in which the power company leased the Otonabee mills in Ashburnham to the defendants for a term of ten years from Jan. 1st, 1903, at the rent of $3,000 per annum, payable quarterly in advance. It is further claimed that in December, 1906, the defendants notified the plaintiffs as follows, "We have already sent you a check for $750 rent due to date for the Otonabee mills and now hand you the keys of the buildings and give up the possession of the premises as arranged." The plaintiffs refused to accept the keys claiming that they knew of no arrangement as referred to above. They ask for $750 rent due the first day of January, 1907, and interest until judgment.

The defendants deny the allegations of the plaintiffs in toto. The Ontario Bank is a third party in the case. Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, solicitors for the plaintiffs, and O'Connell & Gordon for the defendants.

CITY COFFERS WERE ENRICHED

Several Young Men Fined for Riding Wheels on Sidewalk

There were big doings in the police court today and His Worship had a busy morning. The city coffers were considerably enriched as a result of the session. Chief Roszel has commenced to gather in all those who ride bicycles on the sidewalk and three more had to put up two dollars each. Harry Wood, Kenneth Shook, and Geo. Minorgan were the offenders and have all paid their fines. Bicycle riders will do well to keep to the road as the police are keeping a vigilant eye on them

CASE DISMISSED.

A young man of this city was charged with getting a number of carpenters' tools from the Kingan Hardware Co. under false pretences on April 24th. Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for the defendant and his client pleaded not guilty. The case was dismissed after the hearing of the evidence of the prosecution. His Worship said that there was no proof to make a conviction.

THREE MONTHS FOR GUSTY

"Gusty" Dundas appeared again this morning. His Worship asked him if he would not go to the House of Refuge. Gusty answered in a determined manner that he would not. He was given three months in the county gaol.

Robt. C. Newman was charged with vagrancy. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for eight days.

Geo. Moffat paid two dollars for being drunk last night. Chief Roszel got so much money this morning that he was kept busy making change

Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow; Winter Still Refuses to Go

More of the Beautiful Fell Last Night But it Soon Disappeared—The Coldest Spring on Record.

May is becoming more naughty than ever. Last night her manner was more freezing than ever, and those who went forth too woo her charms were almost given an opportunity to skate home.

A big bundle of cold weather blew into the city last evening and is still working over-time around the burg. Where it came from nobody seems to know, but the officials declare that it did not come in through the post office or the Customs House. It looks as if the cold spell got in without paying duty, but apparently the weather man cares naught for the Fielding tariff.

Yesterday afternoon a strong wind began to blow and before night it had developed into a gale and was bitterly cold. Between ten and eleven o'clock last night considerable snow fell and this morning the ground was covered with about half an inch of the beautiful. The sun soon chased it away, however, and only the early risers saw the snow on May 28th. In conjunction with the snow there was a severe frost and the temperature took a sudden drop. The mercury took a big shift in positions during ten hours, and was away down in the glass last night.

As far as can be learned no damage was done by the snow and frost. The snow made a protector for young vegetation and prevented the frost from causing any damage worth speaking of.

Mr. Chas. Kitney informed the Review today that no injury was done to vegetables and fruits. Currants, gooseberries, strawberries, raspberries, etc., would not be damaged at all. Grain will not be injured either, although growth is slow.

When asked about the unusually cold weather today, Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, informed the Review that there was nothing abnormal revealed by astronomy, that might be responsible for the weather. The doctor expects fine weather in the near future.

COLDEST ON RECORD.

Regarding the weather, a Toronto despatch says;

"This has been the coldest spring on record," was the statement made from the Meteorological Observatory last night. "For continuance of cold weather and delay in the arrival of summer, there has been nothing on the records to equal it since the Observatory was established—and that is 65 years ago."

Whether the antics of the Gulf stream are at fault or not, the fact remains that the past spring has certainly been the most uncomfortable and least seasonable in the recollection of most persons. Yesterday the climax was reached, when the wind blew at a hurricane rate all day, and ended with a display of snow flurries late in the afternoon. Pedestrians went home with blue faces and coat collars turned up to the ears. Winter overcoats made their appearance in the evening.

But Toronto got off lightly in that respect. The snow flurries, which seemed so very extraordinary here, took the form of a heavy snowstorm on the northern lakes. Three inches of snow fell on Lake Huron and at ten o'clock last night the Observatory reported "still snowing." Around Georgian Bay two inches of snow fell, and at the same hour the snow had not ceased in that district.

The mean temperature for the month of May up to date has been 44 degrees. The nearest approach to this on record was in 1865, when the average for the full month was 46. However, it is not a very unusual thing to find snow in May. There are records on hand where snow has fallen in June several times within the past half-century.

However, there is no need to despair. There are good times ahead, and warm weather can be expected soon say the prophets of Queen's Park. "From all reports," was the statement made last night, "we expect warm weather to set in at once now. There should be an immediate change for the better." When the summer does come, it is going to come with a vengeance. An intensely hot month can be expected in June.

The backward weather is having a deterrent effect on crops, flowers, and all other natural products of spring.

It is stated at the Observatory that the buds on the trees are being hurt to some extent but that the chief danger is to the fruit trees. There is no chance for fertilization, and the fruit crops may suffer.

Fall River Football Team Has Arrived in the City

Will Play the Quakers at Riverside Park To-morrow Evening—There are 24 in the Touring Party—How the Teams Will Line up.

The touring Fall River Football Team, champions of the New England States, arrived in Peterborough at noon today, and are staying at the Oriental. They came in from Toronto on the C.P.R. train, and will remain here until after their game with the Quakers tomorrow night. The match will be played at Riverside Park, and will commence at 6.45 sharp. It should be a great contest, and everyone who can possibly do so should turn out and assist in giving the visitors an enthusiastic reception. The Quakers will have on a strong eleven to meet the Pan-Americans and while they have a big proposition ahead of them, they hope to keep up the good work that has been done by other Canadian teams who have met the tourists.

There are twenty-four in the Fall River party, the team being accompanied by a number of supporters. There are over fifteen players in the party the spare men being carried so that the team would not be handicapped in case of accident to any of the players. The tourists appear to be a husky aggregation and it will be a great struggle when they go up against the Midland league champions.

The teams will line-up as follows,—

Fall River		Quakers.
	Goal.
Healey		McFadden
	Backs.
Donnelly		Doris
Mercer or Greenwood		Evans
	Halves.
Cyr, captain		Deforge
Dalton		Fitzgerald
Greenwood		Archibald
	Forwards.
Ford		R. Best
Hamilton		Doherty
G. Gauthier		Huston
Adams		Crough, captain
L. Gauthier		Baker

A referee has not yet been decided upon, but this matter will be settled at a meeting tonight. It is not expected that there will be any difficulty in agreeing upon a satisfactory referee.

Manager Murphy of the Fall River team states that his men are in fine shape for their match against Peterborough's best at Riverside tomorrow night and is looking forward to a victory. The Quakers are not doing much but can be depended upon to put up an interesting argument. The admission to the game is 25c and the lover of good sport in Peterborough, should turn out en masse.

The following are the members of the Fall River party.

C. C. Murphy, jr., manager; H. Crook, A. Cyr, C. Donnally, J. Adams, D. Mercer, J. Turner, J. Dalton, A. Sutherland, J. McNeil, J. McDermott, W. Bannister, E. Cumming, J. Ford, M. Riley, P. Lough, P. Greenwood, G. Gauther, L. Gauther, J. Greenwood, W. Healey, E. Bowdin, and E. Ashworth.

The visitors are spending the day visiting the various points of interest about the city.

BASEBALL GAMES LAST EVENING

In the first three innings of the Karenows and Lillies baseball game in the intermediate series at the Nicholls Oval last evening, the Karenows defeated the Lillies by the one-sided score of six goals to one. The Lillies failed to hit Long's splendidly pitched balls, while the Karenow's got a good many hits off Barclay. Long, Geale, Lang, Camon and Ray all brought in runs for their team, while J. Simmons had the honor of registering the only run for the Lily aggregation.

The Karenows at the end of their first innings had 3 runs tallied, and in the third session they jotted down the other three.

The Lillies will have an opportunity to come back at their conquerors tomorrow night, when the balance of the game will be played.

The teams were as follows:—

Lillies—Hillier, c; Barclay, p; Price, 3b; C. Simmons, 2b; Fairy, 1b; J Simmons, ss; Ryan, rf; Connors, cf; Pilling, lf.

Mr Joe Picard made a satisfactory umpire.

BROKE EVEN.

The Lakeviews and West Ends broke even in their contest at the Driving Park. They played four innings, at the conclusion of which the score was two all. The concluding three innings will also be played on Wednesday evening.

The teams were;—

West Ends—W. Butcher, p; J. McNern, c; L. Dobson, 1b; B. Halpin, 2b; Rose, ss; Max Cameron, 3b; Grange, lf; C. Dobson, cf; N. Moore, rf.

LITTLE CHILD HAD CLOSE CALL

Daughter of Aylmer Street Resident Evidently Poisoned by Eating Salmon

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Fair, who reside at 558 Aylmer street, had a narrow escape from death by poisoning last week. One night the family had canned salmon for tea, and the child was given some of it, although very little. About half an hour after she had partaken of the food she became very ill, and her body became rigid. A doctor was at once sent for and soon arrived. The little one was in a critical condition, and after the physician had worked with her for some time, she began to vomit and was out of danger. The child is now getting along nicely and will soon be all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Fair had both eaten the salmon, but evidently it wasn't strong enough to affect them. Mrs. Fair cannot understand how the fish became poisoned, as it had been removed from the tin when opened.

Young Man Forged His Uncle's Name

To Note for $400 Which Wa Cashed at Cobourg Bank

Special to the Review.

Toronto, May 28.—James H. Drinkwater, of Centreton, whose arrest was ordered by Judge Winchester in open court last week, on the charge of having forged the name of his uncle, Frederick Wait, to a note for $400, which was discounted by the Dominion Bank at Cobourg, was today handed over to the police magistrate at Cobourg.

The manager of the Dominion Bank at Cobourg, Mr. E. H. Osler, appeared in court and stated that the note had been discounted at the bank but he had no idea it was a forgery.

The magistrate at Cobourg will deal with the case.

The foregoing despatch read that the note had been discounted at the Dominion Bank in Peterborough, but Mr Crane, the local manager, today said that the reference to Peterborough was a mistake, and should read Cobourg.

FLORISTS NOW ARE VERY BUSY

Jordan Bros. Have Many Thousands of Plants Ready for the Garden

Although the spring season is very backward, Messrs. Jordan Bros. florists, are all ready for it, and have been for some time. During the present year they have added two new greenhouses to their establishment, making a total of seven. Every one of these is now full to its utmost capacity with flowering plants, vines, tomato plants, etc., ready for the garden. Some of the things which might be mentioned are 75,000 tomato plants; 5,000 boxes of flowering plants; 6,000 geraniums, in bloom ready for the garden. 3,000 silver leaf geraniums for boardering; 10,000 vines for hanging baskets and urns; 500 cannas and caladiums for lawn and park decorations; 20,000 plants and bulbs for planting in the Central and Victoria parks this year; large quantities of salvias, fuschias and foliage plants; many hanging baskets and urns already made up; 4,000 carnations and 4,000 chrysanthemums, and 500 violet plants started for next winter's flowers; 6,000 carnations blooming now, and many other flowers, all of which make a most attractive appearance.

Messrs. Jordan Bros. have been in business only a few years, and every year a new greenhouse or two has been added, and now the firm has had to purchase more land for the accommodation of the garden plants.

House of Refuge is Doing Well

Board of Management Met on the Farm Yesterday—Grain Looks Fine

The Board of Management of the County House of Refuge at Lakefield, met in the building yesterday afternoon for the purpose of transacting general business and looking over the farm. The board decided to make several changes in the lay-out of the farm, among which are a new wire fence along the front of the farm, and to complete the system of sewers started last fall. This work will be proceeded with at once and will be done as cheaply as possible. It is intended to use the county's teams and employees to do the work in spare time.

There are now sixteen inmates in the Home and all are in good spirits and perfectly contented, except one old man and one old woman, whose very great age causes them to be more or less restless. All the men are willing and glad to work. They do not accomplish very much but it keeps them occupied, and every little helps. Then the work is done thoroughly even though it is slow.

The farm is looking the very picture of good husbandry and the members of the Board were most emphatic in their praise of the superintendent and matron. There are ten acres of fall wheat up and looking fine. The 35 acres of spring grain is nearly all up and is doing exceptionally well considering the weather. The superintendent is now busy with the ground for the roots and vegetables, and has it about ready for sowing. The potatoes are now all planted.

On the farm are eight good cows, five of which are milking and three are fresh milch. There are also a number of little pigs, and several settings of turkey eggs are expected to hatch in a few days.

Investigating the Myrtle Wreck; Conductor Cook Goes to Assizes

High Court to Fix Responsibility For Myrtle Railway Disaster.

Charge Against Engineer Kyle Dismissed—Counsel Says C.P.R. Should Be Prosecuted—Train Order On Which Case Turns Is Missing—Was Burnt In Hotel Furnace—Cook Released On Bail.

Whitby, May 29.—The trial of Conductor J. F. Cook and Engineer Kyle, implicated in the recent Myrtle accident, when two trainmen were killed, began before Police Magistrate Harper yesterday morning.

Objection was taken by Mr. Robinette against the whole proceedings, in that under section 252 of the criminal code there is ample provision to prosecute the Canadian Pacific railway, instead of their employes.

Coroner Dr. Mellow, examined, admitted that train order which was put in as exhibit at inquest, could not be found.

After adjournment Mr. Birney of the Hotel Myrtle, where the inquest was held, told of the burning of some papers in the furnace after the concluding sessions of the coroner's inquest, amongst which probably was the missing train order.

Under objection the magistrate had Conductor Cook's evidence at the inquest read.

Station Agent Harrison told how he was busy trimming lamps and turning switches during the precious time before the fateful arrival of Cook's train, so that the despatcher did not get time to copy the order that would have avoided the accident.

On hearing the engine driver Hugh Kyle's evidence was read under the same objections as in Cook's case, Magistrate Harper dismissed Kyle, but committed Cook for trial at the fall sessions, accepting $500 bail.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 62, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

TRIAL TO BE OPPOSED

Counsel Will Object to Indictment of Douglas.

Public Feeling in Province Still at Fever Heat—It Is Said Douglas Will Go Free—Was Witness for Crown—Counsel Says It Would Be Breach of Honor—Case to Be Called To-day.

Orangeville, May 29.—The Douglas case will go on to-day at 10 o'clock, with E. F. B. Johnston of Toronto chief counsel for the accomplice of Jackson. He will arrive this morning, and it is understood will at once go to the court house, where he will fight tooth and nail the crown's evident purpose of bringing Douglas to trial.

Public feeling is still at fever heat, but it is generally understood that despite all protests from the citizens and the country at large, Douglas will go free, in fact, it is openly stated that the trial will not last half an hour.

Mr. Johnston stated that he had been retained in the case from the first, and that he intended to take the stand that Douglas should not, nor could not, come to trial after he had been used as a material witness against Jackson, first at the inquest, again at the extradition, and again before the grand jury.

"Never," said the lawyer, "in the whole history of the crown has such a course been pursued. Why, it would be a great breach of honor on the part of the crown to hear and use a man's statement against him. It has never been done in any case before where an accomplice was afterwards tried on his own story. I don't believe the crown will attempt to bring Douglas to trial, and I certainly will object to any trial at all.

"I have too much confidence in Mr. Whitney as Attorney-General of this province to think that he would go against all precedents in this country and in England, by ordering a trial. It would be a great breach of honor on his part, and I am sure that he will not listen to the clamor of public opinion. He is too shrewd a man to use a statement given in confidence to the crown against a man in Douglas' position.

"If it were not for Douglas the crown would have had no case against Jackson."

DOCTOR GETS BOMB.

New York, May 29.—Detectives are trying to obtain a clue to the sender of a dangerous infernal machine, which was received yesterday by Dr. D. D. Dargian, a local physician.

When the machine was opened at police headquarters, it was found to contain three shells, loaded with shot, arranged to explode when the lid of the box was opened. On the inside of the box was drawn a crude skull and crossbones, with the following scrawl: "We hope this will kill you. If it does not, we will get you yet. (Signed) Blackhand."

EDITOR'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Slashed by Italian Who Was Looking For Revenge.

Pittsburg, May 29.—An unknown Italian made an attempt yesterday to assassinate M. Cancelliere, proprietor and editor of The La Trinacria, an Italian paper. The man had slashed Cancelliere across the right side of the face with a small stiletto.

Cancelliere had been vigorous in his denunciation of several Italians who had been swindling their countrymen.

Will Protect the Japs.

Washington, May 29.—Secretary Root yesterday received from the Governor of California a wire stating that he would call the attention of the chief of police of San Francisco at once to the matter and request him to use every effort to protect these people. He thinks the assaults were due largely to uncertain conditions existing in San Francisco by reason of the labor troubles.

The State Department has taken notice of their action in the matter, but undoubtedly will communicate Governor Gillett's telegram to the Japanese embassy, and belief is expressed that it will satisfactorily meet their complaint.

Japs Look For Revenge.

San Francisco, May 29.—For a murderous assault committed by Japanese armed with knives on Horace Hazell a young dentist, and Randolph Merriweather, an electrician, Monday the police have taken M. Tugimova, Niki Keipiro and S. Hamada into custody. They are held pending the outcome of the victim's injuries.

The theory of the detectives is that the Japanese believed Randolph Merriweather was Richard Merriweather, who was arrested a week ago for assaulting a Japanese.

Resolution Condemning Terrorism.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—Advantage was taken yesterday of the absence of Conservative leaders from the Lower House of Parliament to bring up the resolution condemning terrorism, and the House decided, by 219 to 146 votes, to table indefinitely the whole discussion, which is one of the most burning questions before Parliament.

Czar Again Congratulated.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—About 20 Conservative members of the Lower House of Parliament, headed by Count Borinsky, were received in audience by Emperor Nicholas yesterday at Tsarskoe-Selo and congratulated him on his escape from the recent plot against his life.

Attack Wealthy Towns.

Swatow, China, May 29.—The revolutionists are now attacking Chunglung and Tungchang, wealthy towns in the Chinghai district.

Many of the inhabitants have fled to this city.

The rising is attributed to excessive taxation.

Mr. James Henry, one of the oldest residents of Simcoe county, is dead at his residence near Thornton at the age of 82 years.

CAGED THE BURGLAR.

Montreal Woman Locks Him in Room Upstairs.

Montreal, May 29.—Oscar Berube, laborer, 18 years of age, 130 Chatham street, appeared before Judge Lafontaine yesterday, charged with breaking into the house of J. B. Mack, 1 Seymour avenue. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was remanded for enquete.

In the afternoon Mrs. Mack had been out making a call, and on her return found her parlor and kitchen in a wonderful state of confusion. Ornaments had been taken from their places and the contents of the dresser and cupboards scattered about the floor. Hearing a noise upstairs, she crept up on tiptoe and observed a man in the front room. With great presence of mind she pulled the door of the room shut and turned the key in the lock. Knowing that she had the man safe, unless he broke open the door or jumped forty feet to the ground, she hurried to a neighbor's house and telephoned for the police. Captain Baker of No. 10 station, with several constables, responded to the call and took Berube in charge. The prisoner had packed up quite a quantity of valuables, in addition to having a bundle of stuff with him when he entered the house. He at first gave his name as John Brown, and said he had thought the house was his own. Three years ago, on June 19, Berube was sentenced for breaking into the same house, which at that time was occupied by another tenant.

Mr. Schell's nomination was unopposed, while four nominees, Dr. McKay, M. L. Buchanan of Ingersoll, Allan Kneal of East Oxford, and Roger Hopkins of Dereham, contested for the honors of being the candidate for the local House. Dr. McKay, on the first ballot, secured 128 out of 287 votes cast.

Hon. George P. Graham, F. G. Inwood and Hal. B. Donley of Simcoe spoke briefly.

Deserted On Street.

Hamilton, May 29.—A case of child desertion was yesterday called to the attention of the police. A youngster in a baby carriage was left in front of a store near the corner of King and Hughson streets. The outfit stood there from three o'clock to six o'clock, and when it came to closing time the police were sent for. The constable who responded, had to make friends with a dog that stood guard over the child, before he was allowed to touch the carriage. Then he wheeled the outfit down the street with a large crowd tagging on behind.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

By the time Bernard had replaced the book upon the shelf Reine had reappeared. He understood nothing of the details of dress. The effect he saw was something marvellous. To him she was like a delicate, dainty, fairy vision. He saw only her lovely face flushed with excitement, and what seemed to him clouds of lace, snowy white, draped in graceful folds about the slender figure. A pink silk sash was girdled about the small waist, and pink blush roses nestled on her breast and were twined among the fluffy golden curls.

Reine was in gay spirits as they started off. They found a large party assembled The grove was fairly ringing with merry young voices and peals of laughter, while the scene presented was an animated one. Colored lanterns swung from the branches of the trees; gorgeous tinted bunting, rivalling the hues of the rainbow, fluttered in the breeze. The grove seemed literally packed with lovely young girls and gallant cavaliers.

Reine was warmly welcomed, for she was a general favorite, as was also Bernard Chesleigh.

Twice he had spoken to Reine, but she had not even heard him. She was wondering curiously whether Waldemar Waldron would be present. Surely Gertie Traverse had had the grace to invite him, especially as the lawn fete was to be held in the grove.

Ah!—Reine Hastings' heart gave a quick throb. She had walked to the end of a shady path, and there she saw him, the centre of an admiring group, looking handsomer, if possible, than he had appeared the day before.

He was talking to Gertie Traverse, Reine's dearest friend and boon companion. How different he looked from any young man Reine had ever seen—more lively, more animated, with gayer smiles.

She saw him start as he caught sight of her, and her lovely, childlike face flushed with pleasure.

She stood quite still, expecting that he would come up to her; but instead, he turned carelessly, nonchalantly away, giving her no opportunity to bow to him.

How was she to know that he would not have dared presume upon her acquaintance while Bernard Chesleigh walked beside her? The girl's heart sank with wounded pride and pique. In that one instantaneous glance, Waldron had discovered the secret that Bernard Chesleigh had believed no one in the world knew, and which was locked securely in his own breast—that he loved the general's daughter. He had only surmised that it might be so, before; but in that hasty glance he had taken at Bernard Chesleigh's face the surmise was reduced to a certainty.

A strange smile crept up to the lips beneath the fair moustache. He saw a way to pay Bernard Chesleigh back for that which had happened in the past with double interest.

Bernard was standing by Reine's side, doing his best to interest her, wondering why, amongst the gay throng, she had suddenly seemed to lose all heart. She was impatient, and answered him petulantly. She longed for him to go away, so that the handsome Waldemar Waldron might come up and talk to her.

It was quite a wonder among many of the young ladies to see Bernard Chesleigh present, he was such a recluse, and there were those who seized the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with him; for he was handsome, talented, and had more wealth at his command than half a dozen of the wealthiest men of Harpers Ferry put together. He was considered a great parti.

Reine answered his questions so abruptly that perhaps he quite understood her desire to be rid of him; for when Gertie Traverse came up, laughingly, and led him away, he did not demur.

An hour passed. Chesleigh kept his eyes carefully upon Reine, from whatever part of the grove he happened to be in. He smiled gravely to himself. Any forebodings that Reine and Waldemar Waldron might take a fancy to each other were groundless, he thought; they were not even attracted toward each other, and a great sigh of relief trembled over his lips, and, thrown off his guard, he grew less watchful, and wandered off by himself to enjoy the quiet luxury of a cigar.

Reine was surrounded by admirers, but, for all that, the gay lawn fete seemed anything but enjoyable to her Something was wanting. At last she saw Waldron coming toward her. Poor, petted, spoiled beauty! she felt nothing but wonder that he had not sought her sooner. Miss Traverse was with him, she introduced him to Reine, then flitted away.

He held out his white hand with the charming grace he had such perfect mastery of, and the dazzling brown eyes that looked down into her own told her more eloquently than any words could have done how pleased he was to see her again.

"How little I dreamed, when I reluctantly promised myself to come here to-day, what a pleasure was in store for me. I have met you again," he said. "I have tried to bear in mind your command of yesterday—that no one was to know of your adventure—consequently no one must know of our meeting I longed to come to you when I first saw you entering the grounds; prudence forbade. Everyone must believe us strangers; that was yesterday's command. I asked Miss Traverse to introduce us."

Reine breathed easier. Ah, that was why he had avoided her.

"You were kind to be so considerate," she faltered, blushing rosily under the fire of his magnetic eyes.

How the moments flitted by as he stood there talking to her. Reine never remembered time to have passed so quickly before—or—so pleasantly. Mr. Waldron was certainly a delightful companion.

"Did you come with a chaperone?" he inquired at length.

"Mr. Chesleigh escorted me here," she answered.

She could not define the expression that flittered over his face, but it seemed very like annoyance. He murmured some reply which she did not quite catch—she would have been shocked had she but known that it was a fierce imprecation he crushed back from his moustached lips.

"I did not know but what your father brought you here," he said quietly. "I should like to meet General Hastings; I have heard so much of him."

"Have you?" said Reine, her face brightening pleasedly.

"My father was in the same regiment with him," returned Waldron, "and I have often heard him recount incidents of the general's bravery. He used to say that the country needed such men, that he was made a general after a brilliant action in which he had shown great personal valor and had saved the troops from a crushing disaster. There was not a man on the field who would not have risked his life for the brave commander who led them into the thickest of the battle, himself in the foreground to the last."

REVIEW LETTER BOX

IS BADLY NEEDED

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I see that the City Council is inviting criticism on the proposed scavenging bylaw. Now I regard this as one of the very best measures that the civic fathers have ever introduced. Its adoption will mark another progressive step in Peterborough and all classes should favor it. I do not see where the bylaw could be improved upon and every public spirited citizen should give it his endorsation.

For each hotel, fruit store, factory, and hospital, the cost will be only 45 cents per month to the owners and the collection will be three times a week throughout the year; for each store and shop within the fire limits the cost will be 30 cents per month and the collection will be twice a week.

For each dwelling in the central part of the city, where there will be weekly collection, the outlay will be 15 cents per month or $1.80 a year.

Surely the foregoing schedule is reasonable and fair, and should commend itself to all who love cleanliness and prize health as one of the greatest blessings of life.

Yours, etc.,
RATEPAYER.

Peterborough,
May 29th, 1907.

GOOD LEGISLATION

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Although I do not always agree with the legislation of the city council, I am free to join with hundreds of other citizens in commending our civic fathers for the good work they have done in bringing in the garbage bylaw. By all means let the measure pass through the council and be put in force as soon as possible. It is just what Peterborough needs and I am sure that every man who has a house will deeply appreciate what is being done. The cost of having garbage removed under the new bylaw, is so small, and benefits to be derived so great, that it is hard to see where any fault can be found. I have looked over the bylaw carefully and it appears to be drawn up in a manner leaving no room for criticism. Here's hoping that the bylaw may soon be in force, and that citizens generally will not fail to give credit to those responsible for it.

More Bicycles Have Been Stolen

Bicycles must be in great demand these days. Those, who cannot afford to buy them seem to get them by stealing. Two more thefts have been reported to Chief Roszel.

One was from in front of the G.N.W. telegraph office about a quarter to nine last evening. The bicycle is a Brantford red bird with a coaster brake and mud guard on hind wheel. It has reversible handle bars and Dunlop tires.

The other bicycle was taken from in front of the Examiner office but the owner was fortunate enough to get it back. It was found on Mr. A Dunn's lawn at 459 Downie street and was brought to the police station, where the owner got it.

By-law Was Carried in Campbellford

The ratepayers of Campbellford, on Monday voted upon and carried a bylaw, granting a bonus of $15,000 to Dickson Bros., bridge manufacturers to extend their works.

Lou Campbell, Bradford; J. M. Kearns, Arthur; Wm Hanley, Stratford; Tom Hanley, Midland; Harry Camplin, Toronto Junction; Frank Grace, Arnprior, Jack Curran, Orillia; F Coombs, Bradford; Paddy Ramore, Fergus; Gordon Macdonald, Port Arthur; Victor Graham, Bradford; Robt Gilbert, Toronto Junction.

Besides these players, Don Hogarth, of Port Arthur, one of the very best lacrosse players in northern Ontario, and W. J. Findlay, of Winnipeg, who has played several years on Vancouver and New Westminster teams, will accompany the team.

The first game takes place on Monday next in Orillia, against the Checkers, of Beaverton, who always send the very best home players obtainable when they appear at Orillia.

Harry Raymond Again Remanded

There was not much doing in the police court this morning. The only case was that of Harry Raymond, who was remanded some few days ago, charged with assaulting Charles Stevens and breaking his leg. Young Stevens is still confined to his bed and it will be a few weeks yet before he is able to come to court. The case had to be again enlarged. Raymond was allowed to go on promising to appear when called upon.

STREET CAR BLOWN UP.

Torpedo Placed on Track to Kill Gamblers.

Chicago, May 29.—Two men were badly injured by broken glass and a score of others sustained slight injuries yesterday when a street car on the Calumet Electric Railway was blown from the tracks by a torpedo at 93rd street and South Chicago avenue.

The explosion lifted the car from the tracks throwing it into the roadway.

A rumor which found considerable credence was that the torpedo was planted with the original design of blowing up prospective passengers on the gambling boat City of Traverse, whose landing place is about a block away, the theory advanced being that it was planted either by religious fanatics or by rivals of the City of Traverse crowd.

UNDER NOSE OF POLICE.

Art Gallery Is Robbed of Its Masterpieces.

London, May 29.—Almost under the noses of the police who were guarding the Royal Academy pictures now on exhibition in Burlington House, one of the private galleries in Bond street, just around the corner, was swept clean of its pictures during the night. The thieves got away with 55 canvasses without leaving a clue to their identity.

The pictures belonged to an artist who was to have opened an exhibition of them yesterday.

MILK MUST BE PURE.

Dairyman's Association on Track of Dishonest Farmers.

Toronto, May 29.—Thomas Ballantyne of Stratford, and J. Paget of Camboro, representing the Western Dairymen's Association, waited on the Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday afternoon, to request that the Government inspectors of cheese factories should not only inspect the milk coming in, but should institute prosecutions against those found supplying milk which might not be up to the standard.

The Minister could not promise that the inspectors would undertake those duties, but willingly gave his sanction to the suggestion of the deputation that the association should engage men both to test the milk and press cases against delinquents. The duties of these officials will, of course, not conflict in any way with those of the Government inspectors.

FRANCE AND JAPAN.

Signatures to Be Attached to Convention This Week.

Paris, May 29.—The accord on the Franco-Japanese convention is complete. The Japanese Minister, M. Kurino, and Foreign Minister Pichon will exchange signatures before the week-end. In order to prevent the possibility of a misunderstanding France has formally communicated the terms of the agreement to Washington, with assurances that it is in no way directed against the United States. The American Government after an examination of the terms replied that it had absolutely no objection to the convention.

The impression prevails in diplomatic circles here that despite the Monroe doctrine the United States diplomats are negotiating a treaty with Japan along lines similar to those of the Franco-Japanese agreement.

MRS. CADBURY SUICIDES.

Wife of Chocolate King Takes Life At Sea.

Vancouver, B. C., May 29.—Mrs. Richard Cadbury, widow of the famous chocolate king, committed suicide on board the steamer Empress of China on her way from Yokohama to Vancouver on May 21. She and her daughter had been traveling in Palestine.

Mrs. Cadbury suffered greatly from sea sickness and general depression on the way out from Yokohama, and when a few days from port jumped from the promenade deck to the after deck, where Chinese passengers were quartered. She sustained injuries from which she died in a few hours and the same day was buried at sea.

FISHING SCHOONERS LOST.

Cruiser Sent Out Returns With No News.

Sydney, N.S., May 29.—The French cruiser Distress has arrived at St. Pierre and reports having failed to find any trace of the two fishing schooners, the Blanche and Laflemme, which sailed for the banks about two months ago.

The warship on her return picked up the French barque Hardonelle, hailing from Granville, France, which was badly damaged in a collision at sea with the brig Anna Maria. The collision occurred during a heavy fog on the banks and both vessels were badly damaged.

The warships report considerable ice on the banks and very little fish.

Alarm Has Subsided.

Winnipeg, Man., May 29.—Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, arrived in Winnipeg from the West yesterday morning.

He said that throughout the western provinces the seeding is now well advanced, and in many sections is practically completed. The alarm that was first raised regarding the unseasonable weather conditions, because of the lateness of the spring, has now subsided.

Cook's Hard Experience.

Port Huron, Mich., May 29.—Margaret Kelly, a marine cook, lost both her feet through amputation here yesterday. Mrs. Kelly was cook on the barge Lilly Smith, which was beached in Georgian Bay last Friday. When the boat struck a rock a tank of boiling water was thrown over the woman, which scalded her feet and legs.

She lay for several hours in the small boat in which the crew made their escape

Date for Picnic Has Been Fixed

Ennismore Will Gather at Tara Grove on June 18th

Ennismore picnic will be held on June 18th. It was at first decided to hold this great annual outing on June 20th, but since then it has been found advisable to change the date to June 18th. The picnic will be held in Tara Grove, and arrangements are under way to make it the most successful event of its kind ever held in that part of Peterborough county.

It is interesting to note that Tuesday, June 18th, 1907, will be the 92nd anniversary of the battle of Waterloo, where the Victorious British troops were commanded by that great Irishman, the Duke of Wellington.

No doubt scores of Peterborough people will be in attendance at the great Ennismore picnic.

Mr. Ashton Lillie, of Peterborough, at his home here.

According to a report in the Saturday Review, re Norwood 24th of May sports, several things happened which eye witnesses failed to see.

The tug of war was between Norwood and the County, and was a straight victory for Norwood, to which team the prize was awarded. The mile race was won by Mr. McBurney, of Havelock. The baseball match was played between Norwood and Havelock, and not Hastings and Norwood.

The district Sunday school convention will be held at South Dummer church, on Thursday afternoon and evening this week. Several representatives from Norwood will attend.

The Methodist Sunday School intend holding their annual excursion to Idy Wyld, via Peterborough, on June 19th. Civic holiday will likely be on the above date, thus giving every person an opportunity of taking in a delightful trip.

Mr. A. Davidson is preparing to go to Stony Lake, where he intends putting in the summer at the building trade.

During the offertory at the Methodist church on Sunday night, Miss May Laing, of Peterborough, sang the beautiful sacred solo, "The Gentle Shepherd."

Will Commence Regular Trips

The steamer Stony Lake will commence her regular trips for the season on Monday, June 3rd. She will leave Lakefield on arrival of the morning train from Peterborough and returning will leave the lake in time to connect with the 4.40 train for Peterborough.

Sees Many Changes After Twenty Three Years Absence

Mr. Jos. Giroux of Kansas is Here on Visit After Being Away Many Years—Is Brother of Mr G. H. Giroux

After an absence of twenty-three years from Peterborough, Mr. Jos. Giroux has arrived in the city and is the guest of his brother, Mr. G. H. Giroux. He will remain in Peterborough about a month before returning to his home at Kensington, Kansas. Mr. Giroux is being warmly greeted by the friends of his boyhood, for although many changes have taken place since he left Peterborough almost a quarter of a century ago, there are still numerous citizens who remember, and are remembered by, the visitor from Kansas. Many of the friends of his boyhood days in Peterborough are gone, however—some have moved away, and others have been called to their last home. Needless to say, Mr. Giroux sees many changes in Peterborough since he last was here. Twenty-three years is a long time in the life of mankind and time has had its effect on the town and the residents thereof. The commercial activity of the city and its rapid growth were surprises to Mr. Giroux—pleasant surprises, however, for he is pleased to see his old town coming to the front and enjoying prosperity.

Since going to Uncle Sam's domains, Mr Giroux was engaged in railroading for eighteen years, but of late he has been occupied chiefly in looking after real estate in and around Kensington. He will spend about a month in Peterborough before returning to the Sun-Flower State.

Mr Giroux was a member of the old Peterborough lacrosse team when he resided in Peterborough, and will be remembered by the boys who handled the gutted stick in those days.

Fire Chief Rutherford and Men Praised for Saturday's Work

Insurance Inspector Congratulated the Brigade Upon its Efficiency—City Needs More Ladders—Adjusted the Loss by the Fire at $9,500.

Fire insurance inspectors, representing the Phoenix Co., and Millers and Manufacturers Co. were in the city yesterday, adjusting the loss to the Peter Hamilton Co., by the fire on Saturday night. The companies were represented by Mr. G. D. Cory of Toronto, and Mr. Arthur Barry of Montreal, and they estimated the loss at $9,500, which is only $500 less than the estimate published in the Review on Monday.

In an interview with the above mentioned gentlemen, Mr. Cory said to the Review last night that he considered the work of the local brigade to be very commendable under the existing circumstances.

The firemen, he stated, must have had a most difficult task in conquering the flames.

From his inspection Mr. Cory considered that the fire must have been an unusually hot one, as it consumed a great deal of hardwood. He complimented Chief Rutherford on his skill in confining the blaze to the southern and upper portion of the building.

Mr. Cory was informed that the brigade was short of ladders, and he hoped the city would from an economical point of view provide the proper equipment in ladders for such an excellent brigade.

The interruption in business, said the inspector, was worse than the fire, and especially at this season of the year, when the building was most needed for manufacturing purposes.

Mr. Cory could not state exactly the origin of the fire, but believes it must have originated either from a spark blowing in an open window, or among the combustibles in the paint shop. He strongly recommended the use of tin-sheeted doors, which, if properly made, and not painted, could not be improved upon as a fire check. The bright tin radiates the heat and will not expand like metal.

Mr. Barry of the Phoenix Assurance Company, also added words of praise for the work of the local brigade, which he considered to be a skilful one. The two gentlemen left the city this morning for their homes.

Suggestion for Firemen in Reference to Opening Fire Hall

There has been some talk for several weeks about a formal opening of the new fire hall. A well known citizen who has always taken considerable interest in public affairs makes a suggestion on this subject. He is thoroughly in favor of the public opening and would like to see the brigade given ample means to entertain their friends and the public in a proper manner. His idea is that the firemen wait awhile until all the new apparatus has been put in and the hall is completed in every respect and then have a big demonstration. The City Council will no doubt stand behind the boys in the matter. They should, at least, said the citizen, as the brigade is worthy of every consideration. The firemen can go ahead and arrange their programme and decide on just the nature of the demonstration they would like, and submit it to the committee.

In the meantime the Fire, Water and Light Committee should make all haste in getting the hall finished in every particular, and to hurry the manufacturers with the new hook and ladder truck and the new hose waggon. It will be easily seen how much greater and how much more favorable an impression would be made upon the public if the fire fighting apparatus was shown complete.

The programme should also include an exhibition of the new fire alarm system in operation, harnessing the horses and a run down Aylmer street, of the entire outfit, including the new hose waggon, new hook and ladder truck, the new fire engine, and a return to the fire hall of one team for the old hose waggon, which will be kept in reserve.

At a point on Aylmer street, a mock fire could be fought. The steam engine attached to one of the hydrants and as many streams thrown as possible and all the ladders pulled off the truck, and thrown against a building. Give the people a thorough demonstration of what the brigade can do, and show the difference between the old apparatus and the new.

Summer Coal Will be Same Price As Last Year in Peterborough

Although it is Advancing in Toronto and Hamilton—Local Dealers Doing Business at Less Profit Than Toronto Dealers.

The Toronto Star says,—The Star was informed today by a leading coal dealer that the price of coal, which was lowered as usual on May 1st, will be raised again, the beginning of the month, instead of remaining at the lower level till Sept. 1st, as has been the custom in the past, to encourage people to put in their supply early.

"At the present time coal is selling in Hamilton at $6.75 and here at 6.50, although the freight to Hamilton is less," said he.

"You haven't heard anything definite about this cold spell being the beginning of next winter, have you?" asked the Star with the chills chasing one another down his backbone.

"No, the cold weather has nothing to do with it," was the reply. "The increasing cost of production is the cause entirely. Wages and everything else have gone up, and the price of coal is simply following suit."

"Is it likely that the price will be raised again in September?"

"We can't say as to that. The price is fixed entirely from the other side, and we have to follow suit as we only buy from month to month," was the reply.

"How much will the raise be," was the final question.

"We can't say whether it will be 25 or 50 cents a ton, or, in fact, whether it will take place at all, but" and there the dealer looked wise, "people that wish to make sure of getting their coal at $6.50, had better order it before June 1st."

Several other prominent dealers when spoken to, told the same story.

The price of coal in Peterborough is now $6.95, which is 45c higher than in Toronto, but the dealers here are really selling at 20c less than in Toronto. The dealers in both cities pay the same price for coal as far as the International bridge. From the bridge to Toronto, the freight rate by rail is 60c a ton. From the bridge to Peterborough, the freight rate is $1.25, a difference of 65c a ton, which the retail men here in selling make only a difference of 45c. In the summer months when coal is carried by water, the Toronto freight rate is reduced by another 20c.

Asked as to whether the price of coal is going to be raised here, one of the largest dealers said, "No. The summer coal will be the same price this year as last. Of course, the wholesale price is raised 10c. a month from April to September, and the retail price will be raised accordingly, the same as last year. Just what the winter price will be he could not say. He thought it should go up to $7.50 as expenses of all kinds have gone up the past year or two.

DAY LABOR IS SAVING MONEY

For Toronto People—City Architect Saved $1,100 on Small Fire Hall

Day labor is rapidly increasing in popularity, and now the city of Toronto has adopted it in building operations, as well as on sewers and sidewalks. The following item will be of considerable interest:—

"The city saved $1,100 by having the brick work at the Rose Avenue fire hall done by day labor under City Architect McCallum instead of by contract.

"Controller Hubbard called the attention of the Board of Control to this this morning. The lowest tender was $3,675, and the city architect declined to accept the tender. He will complete the work himself for $2,500.

"Having made such a saving on this work, he applied to the Board of Control today for permission to go ahead with the improvements to the Cowan Avenue fire hall by day labor. The hose station will be built at a cost of something less than $5,000."

"Loaf Elsewhere Just for Change"

Is the Way a Sign Reaps in a George Street Hallway

An effort is being made to freeze out the loafers who make a practice of loitering in the doorway and hall just south of Wm. Madill's drug store at the corner of George and Hunter streets. A member of the Review staff was passing along the doorway in question this morning, when he noticed a card with the words:—"See sign on other side of hall" on it placed upon the south wall. He looked at the opposite wall and read the following:—

"KINDLY LOAF SOMEWHERE ELSE FOR A CHANGE: THIS PLACE IS MEANT FOR A PASSAGE WAY. WHAT WITH BABY CARRIAGES, BICYCLES, BAD TOBACCO SMOKE AND EXPECTORATING THIS PLACE HAS BECOME AN INTOLERABLE NUISANCE. BY ORDER OF THE LADIES OF THE BUILDING AND THOSE DOING BUSINESS HERE."

This should prove a death blow to loafing at this particular spot. It has always been a gathering spot for the more or less rough element, but the above sign should have some effect.

My terms are in same proportion. Both prices and terms will be advanced again June first and will stand many more advances as streets are opened, houses built and other improvements made. Plans Discussed for Annual Camp

Y.M.C.A. Boys Will Have Fine Time at Sandy Point Next Month

At a meeting of the Boys' Committee of the Y.M.C.A., held last evening, plans were outlined for the tenth annual boy's camp to be held at Sandy Point, Clear Lake, from July 11th to 25th. The arrangement for the comfort and convenience of the boys, have steadily improved from year to year, and this year these will well nigh reach perfection.

Many new features of interest will be introduced, which will be referred to in the announcement, soon to be issued. The cost of the two weeks outing will be $4.00, or $4.00 for a single week—this will include transportation, food, boats, etc., also the tour on the Stoney Lake before the close of the camp. To add to the sleeping accommodation, all the tents will have wooden floors to keep off the dampness.

The camp will be in charge of Messrs. Dingman and Williamson, assisted by a group of capable leaders. Mr. Dingman will be a tower of strength to the camp, as it is three years since a physical director has been in attendance.

The confidence the parents have in the leaders was voiced by a prominent business man yesterday, whose son attends the camp this year for the third time, when he said, "I do not worry about him, because you give him better care than I could."

The boys are making a special effort just now to secure funds for the camp lot, and ask the co-operation of friends in the plans they have suggested to attain this desired object. The tenth camp will no doubt be the best ever held.
